VOL XXXIV NO. 159 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, RRIDAY JULY 14 1911 PRICE TWO CENTS

A VICTIM EVERY WEEK POLICE ARE BAFFLED

Atlanta, Ga., July 12.—With the entire negro quarter in a state of abject terror and its inhabitants utterly refusing to venture on the streets at night, as the result of eight "ripper" murders within as many weeks, the police to-day adopted a new theory to solve the crime. Heretofore, they have been searching for a "gigantic, black negro, with great powerful arms and hands and a monkey face." Every negro of more than ordinary stature has been given a merciless "third degree" with result.

To-day the police think the work may be that of a white degenerate, who disguises himself as a negro. In this way, they say, he might accomplish his bloody crimes and by utilizing a nearby hiding place remove the disguise and hoodwink the police.

The murders have been of a similar character to those that terrorized the Whitechapel district of London some years ago.

With one exception Saturday night has been the time of the crime. A negro woman, walking a deserted street, hears a low-toned growl. Huge hands grasp her throat. There is a flash of steel, a gurgle and she drops to the sidewalk with her head almost severed from her body. The body is then dragged to a nearby hiding place and further mutilated.

Eight weeks ago the first killing took place and with the exception of last Saturday there has been a victim a week. When the fateful day passed without a murder, it was thought the crime wave was over. But yesterday another body was found in a vacant lot. It bore the marks of the "ripper."

One woman, Emmy Lou Sharpe, met the murderer and lived. She was with her mother, when the latter was killed. Emmy escaped, but her story has been of little help to the police, as she is nearly insane from her experience and her description would have fitted a hundred negroes.

LINDSAY MAN FATALLY INJURED WHILE INTOXICATED

Lindsay, July 13.—Mr. Wm. Lepage was killed last night by falling down the steps of the Grand Union Hotel of this place. The deceased was the worse of liquor, and when put out by the bartender, fell head long to the pavement, sustaining a fracture of the skull. It was not thought that he was seriously injured and he was carried into the sitting room and afterwards left sitting on the steps in the back hall, where he was found dead this morning. No inquest will be held.

GRAIN CONCERN HAS SUSPENDED

Chicago, July 11.—The Peavey Grain Company, of which James Pettit, who was drowned in Lake Michigan last week, was president, announced last night that the concern had decided to suspend operations on the Chicago Board of Trade.

An officer of the Corn Exchange National Bank, in a official statement, places the amount involved in the suspension of the Peavey Company, at $1,000,000. He declared that the banks would be secured by the warehouse certificates put up as collateral, and also by the Peavey interests in Minnesota.

THE CRESSMAN STAFF FOURTH YEARLY OUTING

The fourth annual outing of the employees and staff of Cressman's departmental store, took place yesterday afternoon, per steamer Rainbow to Highland Park, where the afternoon was spent in games and athletic sports. A full orchestra discoursed sweet music to the 75 or more pleasure seekers on board. After disembarking the following programme was disposed of, the winners' names being given in each event:

1.—Baseball match, 2nd and 3rd floors defeated the main floor.
2.—50 Yard dash—Won by Mr. Patterson.
3.—Running long jump—Mr. Dean.
4.—Water race—Miss Brunnell.
5.—Three-legged race—Miss Phillips and Miss Stellman.
6.—Boot and shoe race—Miss Long.
7\)—Fat Man's race—Max Schuleter.
9.—Henderson Challenge race—Mr. Henderson.
10.—Supper.
11.—Tug-of-war—Main floor.
12.—Football match—Main floor.

The events were hotly contested throughout, number 10 being especially keen, in this event the judges themselves took a leading part, wielding the knife and fork with an agility and grace that was beautiful to behold.

A pleasing incident of the outing, was the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Henderson, of Norwich, father and mother of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Cressman, who thoroughly enjoyed themselves. Mr. Henderson presented the prizes to the winners at the conclusion of the sports. The trip home was a delightful one, vocal and instrumental music adding to the pleasure of the occasion.

CHILD'S BODY FOUND IN CANAL

Yesterday morning at 8.47, the employees of the Lift Lock made a most horrible discovery, when part of the body of an infant was found floating in the canal; the head and part of one arm alone remaining, so that it was impossible to tell what sex the child was.

The body was found just after several boats had passed by one of the canal employees, and he notified the superintendent. Coroner Greer was notified, but as the body was so badly decomposed it was decided not to hold an inquest, though there is almost a certainty that the child was murdered.

Dr. Greer, when seen by The Times said that there was no way to tell how old the child was. The authorities have no clue whatever to work on. The body of the child was buried on the banks of the canal.

500 MAY HAVE PERISHED IN SOUTHERN PORCUPINE—HUNDREDS OF MINERS MISSING

THE NUMBER OF MEN WHO DIED IN THE FOREST FIRES MAY NEVER BE KNOWN

Foreigners Tried to Rush the Boats but were Held in Check Until Women and Children were Rescued

Toronto, July 13.—"When they call the roll of that great northern forest, they'll sure find five hundred missing.

"It's hard to tell you my impressions. A fellow can never get that thing off his memory—the rush of a wall of flame twenty-five miles wide, crumpling and crisping an unnumbered army of prospectors and laborers; whipping up villages and mine shacks as though they were shavings in a roaring furnace.

"If a fellow lost his nerve in that maelstrom of destruction it is no wonder. When death comes that close, when your chums lie beneath the waters of a northern lake or blackened, and scattered with the ashes of the forest, I hardly feel that descriptions come anywhere near the actual fact."

With his hair singed and dressed in a suit of borrowed clothes Mr. George Green, one of the best known mining men in Northern Ontario, gave a thrilling description of the fire.

"A forest fire such as swept twenty-five miles across the Porcupine country gives no one much warning. It came down upon South Porcupine with the speed of a railway train, gaining in fury as it passed and throwing off clouds of fiery embers that swirled in advance of the flames and ignited the town buildings almost simultaneously.

THE LAKE WAS THE FIRST HOPE.

"I heard the cries of fire on every hand. We had of course been forewarned and were beginning preparations for safety. The lake was our first hope. As the flames took hold of the dried timbers, the whole population was headed for the shore and hundreds were already in boats and making for Pottsville or Golden City on the other side.

PLACED WOMEN ON THE RAFTS.

"Seeing scores of women standing on the shore, some of them wailing and crying piteously, it suddenly struck me that nobody was doing anything to help them. With a couple of the other boys, I hustled up to the hardware store and came back with some pails of nails and hammers. Then we got them at making rafts with the boards and logs lying nearby. With plenty of helpers we soon had a dozen rafts floating on the lake, which by this time was rising into white caps. We placed the women and children aboard; and with someone to pole them across to Golden City, they were pushed off from the shore."

SAVED THE WOMEN FIRST.

"Keeping order gave us no trouble even with the wind howling like angry wolves and the air too sickening an hot to breathe, the men of South Porcupine worked hard to get the women to safety. As the gasoline boats came up to the dock the miners formed a double line and allowed only the women and young folks to pass through. Once about a dozen foreigners terrified I suppose, with fear that they would be burned alive, made a rush for the passage.

"'Look sharp,' one of the boys cried, 'don't let them through.'

With that the miners turned upon them and with fists doubled drove them back foot by foot until they turned and ran for the woods. No doubt, poor fellows, they expected to pass through the burning strip and reach safety, but not one of them managed to do so. Everyone of them was caught in the swirl of heat and gave up his life.

"That was the only act of cowardice as far as I know in the whole fire. I believe, however, that some of the owners of gasoline boats deliberately sank them sooner than attempt to take passengers on board. Perhaps they feared a stampede.

"By this time, with the women all gone, the men were anxious to look out for themselves. I went up town and brought down a boat that was lying inland and some of them got off in that. While I was busy in this way, Jack McMurrich was burying our suit cases about a foot deep in the sand. However, I don't expect to find anything left of them when I go back. The heat will have worked its way into them.

AWFUL SIGHTS AND SOUNDS.

"And now the rush of the heat driven wind had fallen upon us with terrific force. Standing on the shore, arms faces and legs were blistered frightfully. I heard men about me groaning and crying pitifully with the pain. The sights and sounds were awful. The boats without oars were pushed off from the shore and five minutes later were tossing about bottom side up, the occupants all drowned. Determined to make an attempt at all costs, I with McMurrich, Brock, Billy Moore and the man they called "Mert," set out in a canoe with only a board to keep us head to the waves." A gale had lifted the waves ten feet high. Rafts and canoes tossed about like chips on the ocean, only the fear of a worse death keeping the occupants from returning Golden City and Pottsville lay just ahead of us. There, we felt sure, lay safety. I told every one to take off their boots. All but Billy Moore and "Mert" obeyed. Moore was wearing heavy prospectors boots, a fearful handicap for a swimmer. We were only a dozen yards out when a wave struck us and over we went. 'Twas rather confused for a few minutes, but I distinctly remember seeing Moore, who was resting on the board saddle, toss his board to McMurrich who was sinking. Two minutes after that all I could see was Moore's hat floating on the surface."

"Presently as we struggled in the water a launch came along. I grabbed the bow and McMurrich took the stern. Lying that way we managed to hang on till shore was reached.

Cobalt, July 13.—The greatest holocaust that has ever been enacted in Northern Ontario and even in the more settled parts, occurred on Tuesday afternoon, when, fanned by a hurricane, bush fires did tremendous damage throughout the Porcupine camp, entailing the loss of 300 lives and many millions of dollars. Early yesterday morning when news first came down that the towns of South Porcupine and Pottsville had been destroyed by fire, with the loss of several lives, skeptical people thought the matter was greatly exaggerated. About noon, when the telegram came through, stating that a hundred coffins were needed at once, people began to show anxiety for news from relatives and friends in the camp. When about 4 p.m., when the train from the north pulled in, bringing over three hundred people from Porcupine and many others from Cochrane, including for the most part women and children, each and every station along the line was packed with eager enquirers.

PUBLIC OPINION

The Times does not hold itself responsible for opinions of its correspondents.

EAST PETERBOROUGH AND THE ROMISH CHURCH.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—More news comes from different parts of the East riding, where the feeling against the bilingual policy and general public school policy in rural districts, of the Whitney Government, is showing itself. It is said that there will be a third candidate in the field there for the legislature. So far the names most generally mentioned are those of Reeve Knox, of Havelock, Mr. Dave Johnston, of Otonabee, and Mr. Smithson of the same township. I understand from what may be regarded as fairly reliable source, that this is no idle talk.

The cause of the sudden burst of unrest throughout Ontario over the Whitney public school policy is not far to seek. The public school statute is "wide open" and in some rural districts there is no denying it that the religious principles and preference of the majority are freely inculcated. This is leading to "trouble" and will lead to more of it. It is absolutely necessary that some strong determined and capable men should be sent to parliament, particularly now, and East Peterborough is not going to lag at the tail of the waggon in that respect.

The worst enemies the people have however, are in their own ranks. Notwithstanding the fact that all England is discussing the "nationalism" of Laurier, these creatures shake their heads at the mention of such a fact in Peterborough. It might offend the French, although every paper of importance in Canada and elsewhere is full of the new Romanism and its new relation to the State, these victims of circumstances hasten to express their craven fear of the ultimate result. They say that we even now are "dependent" upon the Catholic vote, that nothing can be done except by the grace of the Catholic Church. In most cases it will be found that these croakers themselves are in some way financially dependent upon the Catholic Church and propose to sacrifice the opinions of the whole world and of every Protestant Church in it, rather than that they themselves should be sacrificed. This all may be natural enough under the circumstances, but LOOK OUT FOR THEM all the same.

The Catholic Church in the British Empire offered the most elaborate prayers for the King on Coronation day. It already sees England once more Catholic. Its press is continually boasting of it. And by the way the powers-that-be are forcing bilingualism and a rotten subterfuge called the Public School Act upon the people of Ontario, it begins to look as if the boast was working. Certainly the Church is triumphant in Canada as a whole. The Pope has condemned modern liberty and denounced the rule of the people. "He is restoring all things in Christ," as he says. He is succeeding rapidly. Surely the people are getting warning enough. Are we free, independent men any more? Are we Protestants or poltroons and politicians? Certainly, we are weak—but evidently not in the East riding. Are we strong enough to be free or is it too late? Are we already once again the victims of the opposing forces which know no politics and no mercy, or shall we show the Catholic Church that it has waked up the wrong passenger when it issues decrees like the Ne Temere. It is true, Protestantism is divided, sorely split up both denominationally and religiously, but Protestants are alive to the danger of their own extremely weak condition—just as much so as "the others" are. We are not beaten yet.

REMOVAL OF HATS AND COATS.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I see that one of the leading Toronto clergymen informed his congregation that ladies of his congregation are permitted to appear in his church minus their hats, and men are also authorized to remove their coats. This is a most sensible and proper thing to do. If our local ministers would follow this example, it would, I am sure, result in increased attendance, and afford comfort to those who attend in any case. It is monstrous to compel people, for the sake of appearance, to wrap themselves up in heavy coats and cover their heads with hats, that are frequently too heavy for comfort. I hope the Ministerial Association will take the matter up and agree to the above change.

SACRED HEART GARDEN PARTY

The Sacred Heart Church garden party, which was held last night, was a brilliant success. There was a large crowd which thronged the grounds and did full justice to the excellent supper which the ladies of the parish had provided. A very good refreshment booth was located on the grounds.

The members of the parish are to be complimented on the interest they take in the church matters. In this they are led by Dr. O'Brien pastor of the church, who is well seconded by Father McCauley, the popular young curate.

The grounds were well lighted and in excellent condition. The night was propitious to just such a gathering—cool enough so that the people could enjoy themselves, but warm enough for summer attire. A part of the 57th Regimental Band was in attendance and furnished some excellent music.

The Times was told that the gate receipts alone amounted to over $1000. This sum is to go to the Building Fund for the new church.

Two drawings were also furnished though at the time of going to press results could not be obtained, but it is estimated that about $800 had been taken in, making a rough estimate of $2000 for the entertainment. All funds were to be applied to the Building Fund.

As usually treated a sprained ankle will disable a man for three or four weeks, but by applying Chamberlain's Liniment freely as soon as the injury is received, and observing the directions with each bottle, a cure can be effected in from two to four days. For sale by all dealers.

THE CANADIAN SOLDIERS GIVEN PLACES OF HONOR.

Military Men in England Maintain They Have No Reason to Complain.

London, July 13.—Anent the Canadian contingent's alleged dissatisfaction over their share in the Coronation processions, high military men have stated to the Canadian Press that such dissatisfaction is entirely unwarranted. They point out that on Coronation day the Canadians were posted at Buckingham Palace thus being the first to give the Sovereign a salute on starting his journey, the Foot Guards being dislodged from their usual position in order to give Canadians this unique honor. There was actually a representative of the overseas as an escort in the procession while on the second day's procession Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Premier Fisher rode in the van of the procession surrounded by overseas military.

These facts declares the Canadian Press' informant, effectually disposes of any complaint.

INDICTS EDITOR JONES FOR LIBEL

Judge Constantineau Objected to the Pointed Comments on His Speech.

Vankleek Hill, Ont., July 13.—Mr. Albert Constantineau, Judge of the United Counties of Prescott and Russell, has issued an indictment against H. C. Jones, editor of The Review, Vankleek Hill, charging him with criminal libel. The Review published some pointed comments on the speech of Judge Constantineau, delivered at the St. Jean Baptiste celebration in Montreal recently, in which he said he was living in the Province of Ontario in peace, but that it was a species of armed peace. The case is called for to-day at 11 o'clock, before Magistrate Gauthier, of L'Orignal. An adjournment will likely be made to allow the editor to prepare his defence, as it is generally believed that he will put in a plea of justification in the interests of the public and fight the case out on its merits. Some interesting revelations are promised before the case is finally disposed of.

Farmer's Wife's Story

FOOD LACKS VARIETY — ILL HEALTH FREQUENT.

Everything one eats in town comes from the country, yet the farmer's table shows the least variety and his wife undoubtedly works the hardest. In this sweeping arraignment Mrs. J. V. Tate gives the cause of her ill-health. "I lost my appetite, gas formed in the stomach and caused great distress. A sense of fullness or distension, with aching pains in the left shoulder blade and back, inflicted further suffering upon me. My system was sluggish, and with other troubles incident to woman, my state was miserable. I used to wish for this and that to eat, but a farmer's table is mostly for well folks. It was a good thing I heard of Dr. Hamilton's Pills—they fixed up the stomach some, and then I could eat. By acting splendidly upon the system my blood was made pure, and I got color and strength. In a few weeks I had no more gas, nor the full feeling—everything seemed to get right all at once. I can eat anything now, do my own work and feel life is worth living."

Don't fail to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills—they are the right medicine to make and keep you well. At all dealers, in 25c boxes, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

POLES USED IN CANADA 1910.

The Forestry Branch of the Department of the Interior has compiled statistics dealing with the poles purchased in Canada during 1910. The total number of poles purchased was 782,841 or an increase of 118 per cent. over 1909. The total value of these poles at point of purchase was $1,043,874 and the average price of poles was $1.33 or less by 6 cents than the price per pole in 1909. Steam Railroads, Telephone and Telegraph Companies used 95 per cent. of these poles, the remaining 5 per cent. being used by Electric Roads, Power and Light Companies; 97 per cent of the total consumption were cedar poles, which for their cost give better service than any other wood. At present none of these poles are treated or preserved by any method, in which respect we are far behind the United States. The United States using in 1909, 3,736,740 poles at an average cost of $1.69 or at 50 cents more per pole than in Canada, found that it paid them to use preservative methods. During the last three years the treatment of poles has advanced rapidly, so that in 1909 15 per cent. of the total number were treated by the creosote or other methods. This is an increase of 67 per cent. over the number treated in 1908. At present the United States have 87 timber treating plants, while Canada has none. It is to be hoped that this great inequality will soon be done away with, and that pole users in Canada may take up this cheap and rational method of securing greater service from the poles used and thus lessen the drain on the forest.

COURT ROOM FLOOR BEGAN TO SAG

Beamsville, Ont., July 12.—Evidence in a tangled and mysterious case was given by the principal witnesses in the Comfort inquest last night. What the whole will result in can hardly be determined, but the evidence of Dr. McMann, of St. Catharines, who was called in to aid the local physicians at the exhumation of Edna Comfort's body on Monday substantiated the previous post-mortem that the girl came to her death from drowning.

So great is the interest in the case that the court had to be cleared at one time, as the weight of the mass of people in the hall was causing the floor to give way, threatening a serious disaster.

WHAT TUFFORD SAID.

Roland Tufford, in the box, admitted seeing the dead girl on the previous Friday morning on the road leading to the reservoir, and this was the last time he ever saw her. He had made a date with her for that night but did not keep it. He admitted he was the father of the child that was drowned, and also of a previous one. Tufford explained his actions on Monday, July 3rd, said that he had been working with his team near the lake and came home about seven o'clock and shortly after came down town, a distance of three quarters of a mile for bread. He had not been away from the farm after returning. He gave the Crown Attorney the name of a person from St. Catharines who had been to see Edna Comfort a couple of years ago.

Tufford admitted that he had spoken to the girl about two weeks ago and asked her if she would not like to take a trip as he did not want her and the youngster around town babbling about him being the baby's father.

THE MOTHER'S STORY.

Mrs. Ephriam Comfort, the girl's mother, told of Edna making different dates to meet Roland Tufford, said she identified the body of the little boy as the son of her daughter. The boy was three years old and Edna was 25 years of age. She said that her daughter had worked amongst the farmers of that district and generally came home home at nights. On the evening of Monday, previous to the night on which the bodies were found, Mrs. Comfort said that Edna while coming up the hill on her way home from work, was overtaken by a man on a bicycle, who stopped and talked to her for about fifteen minutes. They then walked together for a little distance, and this was the last seen of the girl.

Andrew Comfort, the girl's nine-year-old nephew, said he was with his aunt all day and was sent home alone that Monday night. He knew of a person by the name of Harry Barnes from St. Catharines, who came to see Edna.

Mrs. David McPherson saw a man on the wheel talking to the girl the night she disappeared, but could not recognize him because of the distance.

AFRAID OF HER LIFE.

Mrs. Edward Konkle swore that Edna Comfort had said that she would go to the end of the earth with Tufford if he would only make it right with her, but she was afraid if she went away with him she might be found like the woman in the Barton murder. She had told Mrs. Geo. Hitchman that Tufford wanted her to take so much money and get out.

Dr. McMann said that there might be a chance for a doubt on external violence, but his theory was that any marks came from decomposition. The court then adjourned until next Tuesday afternoon to give the Crown Attorney time to make further investigations.

Tufford is a farmer's son with a good reputation. Rumor say he was to marry the girl near Grimsby today.

Edna Comfort was a fairly well-balanced girl mentally, but her home life was not the happiest.

Twentieth Babe Welcomed.

Wakefield, Mass., July 12.—Mr. and Mrs. John White of this town are receiving congratulations from far and near upon the birth of their twentieth child. The latest arrival in the White family is a girl weighing eight pounds. Mr. and Mrs. White have been married twenty-four years and plan to have a celebration when the silver wedding milestone is reached. Included in their family are three pairs of twins. Mr. White and his wife are of French extraction.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. The Grand Trunk Pacific.

Hon. Frank Oliver, Minister of Interior, and Mr. Howard Douglass, Commissioner Dominion Parks returned to Edmonton, June 27th from a trip over the Grand Trunk Pacific Ry. to the Rocky Mountains and an inspection of Jasper Park, the new five thousand square mile National Bank. He expressed himself as highly pleased with the reserve which embraces some of the finest of the magnificent scenery for which the Canadian Rockies are famous throughout the world. Speaking of Jasper Park Mr. Oliver stated that the scenery was of a grandeur and ruggedness similar to that of Banff, the only difference being that it is on a larger scale. The valley of the Athabaska is very wide and compared with the Bow River at Banff, and the mountains are higher, and from a tourist point of view there is everything to attract. The rails of the Grand Trunk Pacific have now reached the confines of the Park.

SIX DAYS TO LONDON

BUY

ROYAL PORCUPINE

Quoted at 32 to 33 Cents

The stock of the Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co., we believe, will prove to be one of the greatest money makers in the wonderful Porcupine district.

Every day brings forth further evidence that the Porcupine Camp is destined to become the richest gold region in the world, and Royal Porcupine should soon take its place at the head of the great producing mines in this section.

Porcupine has the indorsement of the world's greatest authorities in gold mining, who concur in the opinion that never before have such rich showings been seen covering so great an area.

The Property

is located in the township of Tisdale and consists of eight full claims, embracing 320 acres. It is particularly well located, being only one-quarter mile south of the Porcupine Gold Mines, Ltd., and one-half mile south of the Hollinger mine, for which it is claimed there is $10,000,000 in sight. Engineers report that the Royal Porcupine property is in the famous ore zone, being on the same ledge as Hollinger and having the same formation.

A telegram from the engineer in charge of the property bears out this statement. It is as follows:—

"Porcupine, Ont., June 19, 1911.

"Vein uncovered twelve feet in width. Excellent ore body. Shaft being sunk on this vein. Progressing in every way most favorable.

(Signed) "JULIUS MESSER, M. E.,
"Engineer in charge of property."

Thirty men are now employed, and work on the shaft will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Four veins, varying from 12 to 100 feet in width, have already been uncovered. Assays have been made which show $50 a ton.

Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co.

is capitalized for $3,000,000 par value of shares $1.00. Full paid and non-assessable. No personal liability.

A glance at the list of directors will show the class of men who are putting in their money and time to make this one of the greatest mines in the Porcupine Camp. The directors are:—

THE STANDING ALIBI OF
H. STANLEIGH STORME
(Copyright by Publishers Press Ltd).
(By Wm. Hamilton Osborne).

Suddenly she came to herself.

What was it that had startled her again? She looked hastily around and tried to collect her thoughts. The air had become chill, and she shivered.

But she did not move. She did not dare — she could not stir. For there, at the northern window, was a human hand, carefully, stealthily, noiselessly raising the screen that retarded entrance.

Miss Dumont would have spoken if she could, but her voice failed her. She would have sprung to the door, but her limbs seemed paralyzed.

For at the window, that which had been a hand became an arm, and the arm lengthened rapidly into the figure of a man, who leaped silently, subtly, stealthily, into the room—the figure of a man in a long black cloak, with a black mask—a man who seemed part and parcel of the night itself.

Suddenly across the blackness of the room there shot a gleam of light. It issued from a lantern in the hand of this silent figure.

Stupidly she watched it play across the bed. Then there was darkness once again.

The dark figure moved silently away from her, and towards the chiffonier.

"This room," it muttered to itself, strange. I thought—"

The man had not flashed his light in the corner where the girl was sitting. He had thought to find a sleeper on the bed.

He must now have concluded that the room was empty, for he became less stealthy in his movements.

The man moved her and there with certainty and rapidity, and never slipped or stumbled.

Assured apparently that he was alone, he raised his hands to his head and with a little click unfastened the mask which concealed his features.

The girl sat speechless and motionless. She did not stir.

The man once more flatshed his light but this time directly upon the chiffonier.

He was looking for valuables—that was clear. He first stripped the top of evrything that lay in plain sight—among them the jewels that Miss Dumont had removed that very night. Then he opened each drawer, and with deft fingers examined the contents.

And as he worked, each jewel that he appropriated in turn sparkled in the strong light from his lantern. Every jewel that Miss Dumont possessed was in that chiffonier, and the burglar made a rich haul.

But still she did not move.

Suddenly he turned to the dressing table. He opened a drawer. His light fell upon three letters lying loose within it.

They were the three letters written in the handwriting of H. Stanleigh Storme.

He glanced over the first two carelessly, and laughed as he read them.

"They were wise precautions,' he remarked to himself.

He started when he saw the third.

"Great Scott!" he exclaimed, "what a fool—what an idiot—to leave that here." He placed it with a quick movement in an inside pocket of his clothes. And then he turned once more to his work.

But as he did so, the light from his antern shone full into the mirror that stood reflection shone full into his face.

"Henry!" gasped a faint voice, issuing from the gloom.

The man turned in the direction of the voice. He flashed his light upon the girl, and for the first time saw her.

He started in surprise. But he recovered himself.

"You called some one," he said in a well modulated voice. "Is there anybody else in the room?"

The girl did not answer his question.

"Henry!" she exclaimed again, in an agonized voice.

The man took a step towards her.

"Whom do you call?" he demanded sternly, but in a low voice.

The girl, by a heroic effort, regained full possession of her faculties. She stepped quickly to the wall and turned a button. The room was flooded with electric light.

"I called you," she replied, facing him. "I called Henry Stanleigh Storme."

The man looked at her stupidly. He ...ed widely.

He looked as a man does who steps from darkness into light. He stood there gazing at the girl uncertain.

"My name," he responded, "is not Henry Stanleigh Storme."

He said it in a nonplussed sort of way, as though he were confronted by a novel situation.

And the girl kept looking at his eyes. What was there about them that made them look so peculiar — that made the man look as though he had just wakened out of sleep.

An ordinary observer would have said that he was dazzled by the sudden light. Perhaps that was all there was to it—that was more than likely so.

But the girl, agitated as she was, jumped to another conclusion. She said to herself that the man before her was asleep — fast asleep. That explained all.

The man did not move. He still stood regarding her stupidly.

She sprang to the table and picked up the photograph of H. Stanleigh Storme. The man watched her for an instant, saw what she was doing, and then suddenly readjusted his mask to his face, leaped toward the electric bulb and smashed it.

Then all was dark. He moved stealthily toward the window.

He made no attempt to touch the girl. He half suspected what was in her thoughts, and knew perhaps that he was safe.

He reached the window and placed one foot outside. But as quickly he withdrew it.

For there, dimly outlined in the darkness, he saw the head of a uniformed policeman peeping carefully above the roof.

The burglar, once more within the room, and now regardless of the presence of the girl, stepped hastily to the inner door. He would make his exit by another way.

He hastily unlocked it, and tried to throw it open. But he was foiled by his own petard.

His rope outside was fastened to the knob, and the door would not yield. He stepped to the eastern window and looked out.

On the lawn below was another officer standing motionless with something glinting in his hand.

The burglar swore beneath his breath. He halted for a moment and debated with himself.

Then stepping to the foremost of the eastern windows, he put out his head and let forth a blood-curdling scream — a scream that might have been a woman's, so shrill was it in its intensity.

The attention of the officer below was attracted to that window. The burglar immediately dashed out through the northern window upon the extension roof, and brushed aside the officer who was prepared to make an entrance there.

He leaped and sprang to an arbor at the back and jumped to the ground.

The officer fired a shot in the air.

"Halt!" he cried in a loud voice.

The burglar laughed a mocking laugh and sprang upon the low wall, cleared it, an disappeared. But as he did so the officer took aim and fired.

The shot was followed by the shriek of a man in agony. The bullet had reached its mark.

But the burglar, though he shrieked with pain, never halted for an instant. He sped on his way.

The officer kept on firing. Then he was startled by the faint scream of a woman.

"Don't — don't shoot that man," pleaded th girl in the window. "Don't hoot him. He's not himself. He's not awake. He's fast asleep. Don't hoot.'

Fortunately for her, the officer eard but little of this. His duty was pursuit.

His fellow officer was already peeding after the culprit, and the man on the roof lost no time in following.

The girl's voice trailed off into inoherency, and she slipped down, ainting to the floor. The household was aroused, only to find that each of he occupants was imprisoned in his or her room.

The neighborhod was aroused, and came to their relief. The butler was found just waking from his stupor. Everybody was scared to death.

Away down the street the burglar made good use of his heels. If he had been asleep, he certainly had woken up, for he flew like the wind.

For a while the officers kept sight of him, but finally they lost him. They heard his footsteps, however, and followed on.

He dashed up one street and down the next, and often doubled on his tracks. Suddenly he dashed around a corner. Then everything was still. They rushed around the corner in turn and found — nothing. He had completely disappeared.

They ransacked the neighborhood, and searched all the houses, but without avail. The burglar had escaped.

By the time they had finished their search, a man, footsore and weary, was walking in security some two miles away on the other side of town, his steps bent toward the Iroquois Club.

And as he walked he shook blood from his finger. "Good heavens," he said to himself, "how that bullet hurt!"

Of times in battle men are shot through their limbs, or even through the body, almost without pain. Sometimes they never know that they have been hit.

On the other hand, a stray bullet may clip a piece of ear or chop a finger off and cause excruciating pain.

(To Be Continued.)

A School Record.

Winnipeg, July 12.—It has been Saskatchewan's proud boast that for some years past new school districts have been organized in the province at the rate of one for every day of the year. This year all records have been broken and new schools have been organized at the rate of more than one and a half every day, excluding Sundays. Newcomers to the province need have little fear that their educational requirements will be overlooked.

From the Pittsburg Gazette-Times.

There is no better time to recall Bill Nye's advice: "If you have a mad dog, sell him for whatever you can get. He will never be any good."

Boyhood has no monopoly of all the pleasures. Even a full grown man who ought to know better can sunburn his neck to a blister.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

FOOD COLORS.

If You Like Brown Victuals You Are a Person of Refinement!

An extraordinary food theory has been brought forward by Dr. J. S. Goodall, lecturer to the Middlesex Hospital Medical School. He declares that when you enter a restaurant and select a chocolate-colored food you unconsciously show yourself a man of taste and refinement; but if, on the contrary, you show a partiality for yellow-colored foods, your taste is most probably low and vulgar.

Dr. Goodall, in explaining his strange theory, says that he first made experiments with animals. "A cat, for instance, appears very much attracted by the color of its food. In my experiment I placed a number of pieces of meat, each tinted a different color, before a cat. The animal passed it from piece carefully, and then selected the red-colored piece. Dogs, on the other hand, do not appear to use their visual sense like cats. They select meals all right without seeing anything.

"Human beings are very sensitive as to the effect of their food by making experiments among ourselves I found that chocolate-colored foods were the most popular among the educated classes. The poorer classes were looking for yellow. One of the reasons of this may be that they think such foods are richer than others.

Pink is by far the most popular color with children. If a child is offered the choice of a pink and a yellow sweet, the pink variety will invariably be selected. Curiously enough, however, foods artificially colored green appear to be avoided by all.

Dr. G. Norman Meachen, the well-known dietetic specialist, upholds the view that diners-out are largely influenced in their appetites by the color of the foods which are brought before them.

"Certain colors," he says, "stimulate the appetite and digestion, while others have the reverse effect. White foods, such as white fish, are stimulants to the appetite.

"Personally, my appetite has often been stimulated by certain colors. I have entered a restaurant with very feeble appetite and ordered a steak. The steak has come up a crisp, reddish chocolate-brown in color. I look at it, and immediately begin to feel hungry. Brown baked potatoes have also this effect on me.

"It is my theory that brown and blue are not conducive to a healthy appetite, and to sit down to dinner in a green-papered room often destroys one's desire for food at all."

Love, Honor and Obey.

The controversy about including the word "obey" in the marriage vow is probably as old as the marriage ceremony itself. When Marion Harland's parents were married in 1825 (as she tells us in her autobiography) the bride had "laughingly threatened that she would not promise to 'obey' and that a scene would follow the use of the obnoxious word in the marriage service. The young divine, with this in mind or in a fit of absentmindedness or of stage fright, actually blundered out, 'Love, honor—and obey in all things consistent!'" The costumes worn on this occasion were hardly as modern as the unfortunate amendment. "The bride wore a soft sheer india muslin a veil falling to the hem of the gown and white brocade slippers embroidered with faint blue flowers. The bridegroom's suit was of fine blue cloth with real silver buttons. His feet were clad in white stockings and low shoes with wrought silver buckles."

This tract known as Keith Park, D. L. 676, lies at the junction of the Pipe line Road, (owned by the city of Vancouver) and the Keith Road and is the junction point for North side traffic.

The Second Narrows Bridge, which is to connect Vancouver and North Vancouver will be constructed so that Keith Park will be in the line of its nort ern end.

It is confidentially expected that a new town will be created at this point. Dominion, Provincial and Municipal subsidies to the extent of several hundred thousand dollars have already been secured for the bridge project and plans are now being drawn for the bridge. It is expected that actual work will be started within the next ninety days.

Keith Park presents the best chance to cash in ahead of the important municipal and government projects that are planned for the North Side. It will stand the most critical investigation.

Full information and maps supplied upon request. Lots range in price from $200 upwards. Terms one-quarter cash, balance in six equal quarterly payments.

The Vampire Bat.

The true vampire bat is a quite insignificant creature, not unlike our noctule bat in general appearance and size, but with a small "nose leaf" and no web between the hind legs. The really remarkable thing about it is its perfect adaptation for secret and painless bloodletting. Most bats have teeth very like those of the carnivora, with long canines and small incisors, but in the true bloodsucking vampire bat the incisors are very large and broad and exceedingly sharp edged, thus being able to inflict a shaving surface cut which causes no pain, but a great deal of bleeding. Indeed, not only does the sleeper very rarely wake under the winged bloodletter's attentions, but a bite may be inflicted unfelt on a person who is awake at the time.—London Graphic.

Rossetti Liked Odd Words.

Dante Rossetti, like Signor d'Annunzio, took infinite pains to extend his vocabulary, says the London Chronicle. W. M. Rossetti relates that his brother used to hunt "through all manner of old romaunts to pitch upon stunning words for poetry" and make lists of them. The words thus noted were of a miscellaneous character, such as ecophrasy, fat-kidneyed, fat-witted, flesh-quake, fy happy, gorbellish, grogram, lase lone, lustral, primerole, recreandise, sygaldry, cherrisance, trifoliate, laureole, novelries, sexuous, cumbe-world and jobbernowl." Some of these explain themselves, but how many people could say offhand what "gorbellish" means? It does not figure in the English Historical Dictionary. And yet a good mouth filling epithet surely deserves to live.

Instead of attending aviation races persons who take a delight in bloody deeds should devote an equal period to fly swatting.

UNIVERSITY OF FRANCE.

Essentially the Same Today as When Established by Napoleon.

In the United States there are many universities which are free from state control, but in France there is only one university, and it is an absolute instrument of the state. It is true that there are schools of higher learning, which were founded in 1870 as universities, but five years afterward the title was withdrawn, and they are now called "instituts." They are five in number and are located in Paris, Lille, Lyons, Toulouse and Angers.

But the University of France is an entirely different organization. It is the official school. It is centralized in Paris and has under it a vast multitude of establishments, faculties, college and primary schools, distributed over the whole surface of the country. Directly or indirectly they all depend on the government.

The university was established by Napoleon, and in spite of certain modifications which it has undergone during years it is the same today in its essential elements as the day he founded it. Just as he established the entire civil administration, with its prefects, subprefects, judges, ministers of finance, so he created in 1808 this vast educational organization, with its countless professors, who control the entire intellectual training of France.—America.

RAILWAYS AND DOGS.

Alike in One Respect in Sardinia, That Both Are Perils.

Sardinia is an island of many perils. One of them, we gather from the experience of Mr. Crawford Flitch, the author of "Mediterranean Moods," is the railways. "The engine," he says, is continually making frantic dashes for the scenery. On the line to Tortoli I made four journeys and had three accidents. On one occasion, after a car had been wrecked, the various employees gathered round the wreckage and spent the remainder of a sultry afternoon in bitterly disputing the proper apportionment of blame for the accident. As it was impossible to proceed that evening I spent the night at the railway station and enjoyed a comfort that I found nowhere else in the island."

Another peril is the dogs, who do not hesitate to attack a stranger, even when he is walking peaceably upon the highroad. "The breed is particularly ferocious, and it is said that the peasants have a way of stimulating their ferocity by tying a bladder filled with blood to the neck of a dummy man and encouraging the animal to spring at the neck and tear open the bladder."

WHY ARE THE LARGE INVESTORS ALL OVER CANADA AND THE UNITED STATES BUYING MONTREAL REAL ESTATE?

If Western land or speculative stocks were considered better,—is it reasonable to suppose that these careful financiers whose knowledge of Canadian conditions is beyond a doubt—would buy Montreal Real Estate?

To the men of good judgment,—these questions do not require an answer.

YOU KNOW Montreal is the largest City in the Dominion.

YOU KNOW that the population is increasing yearly at the rate of about 50,000.

YOU KNOW these people have to have homes.

Taking the above facts into consideration, what do you consider, looking in the most conservative way possible, ANGUS PARK LOTS will be worth in four years' time?

Taking the past advances in MONTREAL REAL ESTATE as an example, these lots will be worth over a hundred per cent. (100 per cent.) more in that time.

We have a limited number of lots situated on ANGUS PARK BOULEVARD, which we can offer you at to-day's low prices, and on terms that will not cripple your finances, and by the time your lots are fully paid for you will have saved not only the cost of the land but the increase in value, thereby making your investment many hundred per cent. (100 per cent.) better than a Savings Bank account and much safer.

Do not delay till this opportunity has escaped you, but call in and see us, or drop us a line and we will send you full particulars together with our application forms. The prices range from $100 per lot upwards and the terms 10 per cent. cash, and the balance 10 per cent. every three months without interest.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

WHY GO TO ALASKA TO INVEST IN OIL?

During the past month we have beenpresenting to the readers of The Morning Times, and the public in general, an offer which for SAFETY and CERTAINTY OF RESULTS in the form of DIVIDENDS and ENORMOUS PROFITS is well nigh UNPRECEDENTED.

In Southwest Colorado, in Mountezuma County, near Mancos, nature has placed RICH OIL FIELDS which promise to be the cause of the MOST STUPENDOUS BOOM COLORADO HAS HAD SINCE THE EARLY GOLD DAYS.

We own and control 8,500 acres of land in this section which experts assure us are positively gusher producing properties,

We have bought and paid for all the machinery necessary for drilling. We do not owe one cent. If you invest with us you have behind your investment not only enormous land values but machinery the value of which is fully $8,000.

For the ordinary investor this would be security enough but we have made the safest investment proposition that ever was offered, for, besides these rich Mancos Oil Fields we also own 2,560 acres in the proven oil field of San Juan, Utah; also 1,920 acres in the Great Montezuma District of Colorado, and fifty acres of rich mining ground in the La Plata District, for which we have been offered Ten Thousand Dollars spot cash.

Investments in the stock of our Company participate in the profits of all these properties. The Mancos Oil and Development Company promises to and will give the public a "square deal." Every acre of oil land and mining property which it owns or will acquire belongs to its stockholders.

MR. BURT H. MASON, the president and organizer of the Company, is a mining engineer of enviable reputation the officers of the Company are well-known business men and bankers of Southwestern Colorado. If any misrepresentation has been made we guarantee to return every dollar you pay us and all expenses to which you may have been put for investigation.

The price of stock is Twenty-five Cents a share, which can be paid on monthly installments if desired. If further information be desired it will be cheerfully given.

QUEEN CHARLOTTE

The Capital City of the Islands

THE LAST WEST

The only town on Graham Island that has a monthly pay roll, and the only sawmill shipping lumber to foreign ports.

The only town having a railway gazetted to its very doors on the island.

The only city on Graham Island having electric light, city water, miles of sidewalks, churches, school, hospital, postoffice, first-class drug store billiard hall, city hall, hotels, boarding house, barber shop and other general stores, and the only newspaper published on the Island, the Queen Charlotte News.

We are positively the centre of all the vast wealth of the entire Islands, including farm lands, timber lands, coal and metalliferous mines. These products must come out at Queen Charlotte City, through the Honna River Valley, and through which the Island Railway must run according to charters already granted.

The combined townsite interests cover one thousand acres, of which five hundred are practically level alluvial soil with no rocks.

A fine water power from the Honna River, good drainage and the best harbor on the entire Islands.

Our lots are all 50 feet by 120 feet, ranging in price from $150 to $300; one-third cash, balance on time at 6 per cent., or deeds can be had at once if desired.

Fully 200,000 acres of farm lands, suitable for mixed farming, only await the hand of man, a large portion of which is already located.

The verdure clad mountains are vast treasure vaults of gold, copper, silver and other precious metals, while our valleys are underlaid with a wealth of the finest coal and covered with a vast forest of spruce, hemlock and yellow cedar. These, coupled with our fisheries, are at the very doors and within sight of Queen Charlotte City.

Taking all these facts into consideration, and with the present progress being made in developing our resources, which are at the gateways of transportation both by water and railway, with the advent of the completion of the Grand Trunk Railroad, Queen Charlotte City is destined to be one of the province's most prosperous cities.

It is owned largely by the wealthiest and most honorable men of our province, who would not be a party in misrepresenting facts and are prepared to endorse every statement herein made.

The townsite company are now offering a further 75 lots on Second avenue at a very low price and on easy terms, if taken at once, and under conditions that will make you a 100 per cent. on your investment in 90 days, for 20 per cent. of the gross proceeds will be used by letting a contract for the clearing and grading of Second avenue from Third street west. The company guarantees to advance the remaining 75 unsold lots on Second avenue from $150 to $225 as soon as the first 75 have been sold. The company is making this effort in order to join with the government in making Second avenue the trunk road through the townsite from the Wilson-Robinson coal fields, Honna River Valley, Lawn Hill and Miller Creek districts. Now you can secure any unsold lot on Second avenue, including fourteen in Keith's addition, to-day for $150, except corners, on easy terms, 1-4 cash, balance 6, 12 and 18 months at 6 per cent. This will positively be your last chance for a cheap lot in Queen Charlotte City, for every lot in the townsite will surely go from $500 to $1000 when the public realize that in the Island River railroad from Queen Charlotte to the head of Massett Inlet is to be started this summer, in addition to the present work already outlined, thus giving work to an army of men. There are at least 5000 citizens of Vancouver who have invested in the various resources of the islands. Conclusive evidence of these facts, a landscape drawing of the townsite and a portion of Graham Island coupled with an illustrated edition of the resources of the islands can be seen at the office of J. J. Miller, 82 Hastings street, Vancouver, B. C., Agent for Vancouver, and plans at office of "Times", Peterboro'.

Deathly Cramps, Stomach was Bloated

A Bad Case That Proves Cramps and Stomach Disorders are Cured Fast by Nerviline.

"The distress I suffered from cramps last summer, was so severe I thought it meant death," writes P. R. Emerson, of Guys Hill, P. O. "I was doubled up with pain and in such bad shape I couldn't walk a hundred feet. I remembered having Nerviline on hand and took half a teaspoonful in sweetened water. In five minutes I was well and my stomach derangements disappeared entirely."

For cramps, flatulence, diarrhoea and disorders of the stomach and bowels, Nerviline knows no equal—one million bottles used every year—fifty years on the market, that's proof enough of its merit. Large 25c bottles, five for $1.00. All dealers or the Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

Many foreigners have left Peterborough for their own countries on the trains which left this city yesterday. The Times understands that most of these people intend to return to this city after they have visited their relatives in their own land.

Man Painfully Injured.

Herbert Dicks, while working on a new building yesterday on George street, tripped over a board and twisted his knee. He was taken to his home at 599 Patterson street in a buggy.

Examination Results Here.

The Times learns that the results of the High School Entrance papers have been received in the city and will be ready for publication in the near future. Many boys of this city wrote on this examination and therefore are anxiously awaiting the results.

NOTICE TO PROPERTY HOLDERS.

Any property holders who may be leaving the city are requested to leave their addresses with Chief of Police Thompson, in order to insure that proper Police protection will be given to their houses. The police have no way of knowing if the houses are vacated unless so advised by the owners.

Sunday School Excursion.

Yesterday the St. John's Sunday school annual picnic was a marked success. The children were taken to South Beach in the "Geneva." The rector, Rev. Canon Davidson and the church officers all exerted themselves to their utmost for the good of the picnic. All had a most enjoyable time.

Total Abstinance Society.

A large number of the members of the T.A.S. met in their rooms last night and paraded to the home of the late William O'Brien. A prayer was offered for the repose of the soul of the departed in which all took part. Much sympathy is felt in the T.A.S. for the bereaved relatives of the deceased who was a most popular member of the society. All who can do so are requested to be at the funeral to-day.

Peterborough Officer to Go.

There is only one officer of the local militia who is to go to the Ontario Rifle Association meeting in Toronto on August 14th, namely, Lieut. Ackerman of the 57th Regiment. Mr. Ackerman, when seen by The Times, said that he was not sure if any other officer would go or not. The Lieutenant proposes to use the Ross Rifle if he can find a suitable arm. He is very much impressed with this weapon, but has not used it enough yet to be sure as to its reliability in a hard match.

Owls Attract Attention.

Outside the Montreal House there are two owls which attract much attention from passers by. Mr. Head, the owner, told a Times man that he was offered a good sum for them, by a woman who was with a recent show, but he refused. The birds eat raw meat or rats. Mr. Head claims that they will not eat tainted meat. He has also in his possession a number of natural curios.

Runaway on Hunter Street.

A team of horses belonging to the Calcutt Brewing Company, when being turned in front of the American House on Hunter street yesterday upset the wagon and bolted. Frank McGee, the driver, received a cut on his face. He was removed to a physician. The helper, Robt. Graham, managed to hang to the tongue until he had stopped the horses. The wagon was badly damaged, but the horses escaped serious injury.

Orangemen at Havelock.

The East Peterborough Orangemen spent the 12th at Havelock. Visit crowds flocked to the town, which presented a gala appearance. Among the speakers were Reeve Knox, of Havelock, Mr. Sexsmith, M.P., for East Peterborough, the Hon. J. R. Stratton, M.P., and Mr. Thompson, the Rev. B. Oliel and others. The speakers were heartily applauded by the citizens. The Orangemen were fortunate in having a fine day for their parade.

Complimentary to The Times.

Our esteemed fellow citizen, Mr. William Snowden, dropped into The Times office yesterday to say a few words in praise of this great family journal. He assured us that we had the other papers of the city and district "beaten a mile," and hoped that The Times would long continue to grow in power and usefulness. It is needless to say that these words of encouragement are appreciated. This g.f.j. will always endeavour to merit not only Mr. Snowden's good will, but also the good will of all citizens and others who believe in the motto: "Equal Rights to All—Special Privileges to None."

WEDDING BELLS.

Barnes—Marshall.

Mr. Ernest Barnes, late of Geurnsey, England, and Miss Annie Marshall, formerly of Belfast, Ireland, were united in matrimony at Mr. Steinway's residence, Stewart street, the Rev. Robt. Pogue, St. Paul's Presbyterian church, officiating. The young couple met while crossing the ocean two years ago.

LITTLE LOCAL LINES

There were no cases in the Police Court yesterday morning.

The G.T.R. had the busiest day of the year on the 12th.

Thirteen pigs owned by Messrs. Burt and Robertson, Norwood, died as a result of the heat.

Some suspicious characters have been noticed in Kingston. Probably some members of the Wild West show recently held here.

Lieut. Ackerman, with Sergts. Succee and Brightman, spent the afternoon at the butts. The Ross rifle was tried. Some good scores were made.

At the recent convention of the Knights of Pythias, at Sarnia, Mr. C. M. Blewett, of Peterborough, was elected Grand Inner Guard. Representatives of many other societies were present to whom was extended a hearty welcome.

Two alleged vagrants were run in by the police last night, one of whom had 25c and the other had nothing. They had been discharged from the Wild West Show, but had been working for a farmer until the rain put them out of work.

The Belleville outfit are also said to be in great shape, so there is a certainty of an A1 game. FOOTBALL.

C.G.E. Whitewashed All Saints in the Midland League.

Last night at the Exhibition grounds, the Canadian General Electric cleared any doubt in the minds of Peterborough citizens, when they defeated the All Saints team most decisively. The kick off was at 7.20 and the C.G.E. forced the pace right from the start. From the first the Saints did not have a look in. The game was fairly clean with but few violations of the rules.

The first goal was an accident as Moriaty of the Saints kicked it into his own goal through a fluke. B. Dawson sent in two pretty ones in succession right after the first goal.

The All Saints' goal was in danger right throughout, but they did good work. The Saints' back, Gamble, sent a long shot to his forwards, who dribbled it up but lost the pigskin in the scrimmage. There was a lot of high work right through the game. Dawson sent one close, but too high. Hooper got in the way of a life sized bunt and the ball went out. Dawson again came close, but missed.

Mason sent a close one, but it was stopped.

Hull, C.G.E. back, was always there when needed.

The half ended in 3—0 in favour of the C.G.E.

The crowd was loath to leave the field.

The second half opened strong. The play was fast and a little rough. The C.G.E. boys had all kinds of nerve and confidence. B. Dawson was laid out but came right in again.

Hooper jumped and caught Gash from behind, laying the Saints' boy out. It took some heroic treatment to bring him to. A penalty was given. A foul might have been claimed from the throw up, but it was let go.

Both the goals were in danger by turns. The Saints' goal keeper won applause by his clever stopping.

Collingf, C.G.E., sent one between posts on the ground.

Dawson was offside, which spoiled a pretty play.

Pagett was laid out and had to be carried off the field. He was game enough to come back though. Hiller kicked two goals in succession, with but six minutes to play, the Saints lost heart so Dawson had no trouble in getting another, making it 7—0. The crowd were on the field in some

VOL XXXIV NO. 169 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, SATURDAY JULY 15 1911 PRICE TWO CENTS

MANY PEOPLE WENT MAD DURING HOLOCAUST

BODY OF WILLIAM MOORE RECOVERED, SWELLING LIST IDENTIFIED DEAD TO 52

Alarming Reports From Outside Points—Attempt Made to Burn the Railway Station at Kelso.

Porcupine, July 14.—The Porcupine Relief Committee has been toiling since midnight and this morning are sending parties in every direction in search of bodies. One man reported seven bodies near the Vipond, and a party has gone there to investigate.

Delegations have been sent out to other townships, including Deloro, where the loss of life is reported to be very large. The body of Billy Moore was recovered from the lake this morning.

At this writing there are no official additions to the list of identified dead, which now totals 52. The situation here has greatly improved. A heavy exodus of sufferers has relieved those engaged in distributing supplies, which are ample, though more tents are urgently required. No one is going hungry. The chief trouble is lack of sleeping accommodations.

RAILWAY MEN SAFE.

It now develops that all the T. & N.O. employees escaped though three camps were destroyed. Seventy-five men were saved at Camp Seven by taking refuge in a Creek. Twenty-five other nearby fought the fire from a small trench, and all escaped with severe burns.

When the fire was at its height wild animals ran from the bush and they sought companionship with human beings in the creeks and mud holes. Two well authenticated stories are told of bears walking into the water with humans while rabbits, squirrels and other small animals burrowed into the mud in the crowded swamps, seemingly taking comfort in the companionship of men.

BLIND-PIGGERS HOIST TENTS.

No time has been lost by the residents of the south end who have erected tents on the hot, smoking ashes, blind-piggers being among the first. The police have kept splendid order under Inspector Caldbeck. No thieving has been reported except at Pottsville, and no arrests, except two for drunkenness. All hotels were closed on Tuesday night and were not reopened until yesterday.

MANY WENT MAD.

Many people went mad during the holocaust. One man was found floating down Porcupine Lake on an upturned canoe, singing joyfully. He could give no account of how many were lost when the canoe overturned. He has since recovered his reason.

A well fifteen feet deep containing eight feet of water was dried up completely by the intense heat. The whole population particularly the fire sufferers, are still laboring under great nervous strain.

Three men were hurt here last night by jumping out of a car window at the station when the train was pulling out. The car scraped against a loose plank on the platform and they thought the train was wrecked and jumped from the window in fright.

SOME CARRIED INSURANCE.

Considerable insurance was carried by the merchants and mining companies, though in the majority of cases the loss will be complete.

When the fire was at its height in Kelso two men tried to burn down the station while crowds were engaged in the other end of the town. Provincial constable Junston gave chase, but fell in a ditch in the darkness and injured his leg. The miscreants emptied their revolvers at him and he returned the fire, but with what result is not known.

CONNECTING THE TWO CITIES.

The Great Bridge Which Will Span Burrah Inlet Joining Vancouver and North Vancouver Closely Together.

Just at present probably the most important project in British Columbia is the great bridge which is to be built over Burrard inlet at the second Narrows connecting the city to Vancouver with the north side of the Inlet and bringing this wonderful city site into close connection with Vancouver by means of a bridge which will provide for rail, tram, vehicular and pedestrian traffic. The bridge is free except for rail traffic. Substantial assistance has been provided by both the Dominion and Provincial Governments as well as the adjacent municipalities so that the financing of the project has been covered. All other details are well in hand and actual construction of the bridge will probably be started by early fall. The opening of this bridge will bring within twenty minutes tram ride of the business centre of Vancouver a large amount of very fine property suitable for both residential and business purposes. One of the sub-divisions which will undoubtedly receive largest benefits from the construction of the bridge is that very choice property Keith Park, which is considered the finest lying tract on the north shore. The situation of Keith Park at the Junction of the Keith and Pipe Line Roads makes it at present the junction spot of traffic on the Northside both east and west, as well as north and south through Seymour Valley. The opening of the bridge seems destined to build up a new town at Keith Park as it lies so that it will receive the full force of the traffic going over the bridge. The owners of Keith Park are now offering a portion of this property at prices which will be rapidly advanced when work is started on the bridge. To investors who realize the advantages of buying ahead of important developments this offer merits investigating.

The present low prices and liberal terms makes it possible to make an investment that has every promise of making an early and very satisfactory return. Full information and maps may be had by addressing Keith Park Land Co., Ltd., 724 Hastings Street West, Vancouver, B.C.

PROVED HIMSELF CLEVER THIEF

ALLEGED CAMORRIST ROBBED DETECTIVE IN PRESENCE OF THIRD PARTY.

And Won a Wager—Thus Proved that He Could Obtain a Livelihood Without Taking Human Life.

Viterbo, Italy, July 14.—Captain Fabroni to-day told the jury of the investigation made by Marshal Farris at the home of Maria Standardo, where the witness said a meeting was held for the purpose of planning the murder of Gennaro Cuocolo and his wife.

Maria Standardo is the common law wife of Nicola Morra, who is accused of being one of the actual assassins. She is the only woman among the prisoners, with whom she is allowed to have had great influence from the time that her beauty attracted them. It is alleged that her home was the rendezvous for criminals.

The witness said that following the murder of the Cuocolos the woman returned to her home carrying stolen goods.

Captain Fabroni related an episode in connection with the arrest of Antonio Porbio, who was later released. Porbio, wishing to prove that by profession he was a thief rather than a murderer, offered to show his skill which made it unnecessary for him to take human life in his operations. He laid a wager with the officials that he could rob Marshal Farris in the presence of Fabroni. Farris laughed at the boast, but ten minutes later, although his tunic was buttoned, discovered that his pocketbook and cigarette case had disappeared.

DEATH LIST NOT OVER A HUNDRED

CHIEF ENGINEER OF T. & N.O.R. EXPECTS THAT SEVENTY WILL COVER TOTAL.

1,000 People Taken Out—Three Carloads of Food and Other Supplies Sent in To-day—Officials Go Up To-night.

A report received by the T. & N.O. Railway this morning from Chief Engineer Clement, who has been in the fire zone since the first outbreak, states that the number of dead has been greatly exaggerated, and that the total will likely reach 70 and cannot exceed 100.

NO ONE STARVING.

The reports of 42 dead in Porcupine Lake, he characterizes as inaccurate, and places the number at 6 or 8.

There are no starving people, and no likelihood of any as food supplies are already on hand to last seven days.

One thousand people have been taken out by the T. & N.O. and brought to North Bay and Cobalt.

Three carloads of food, clothing, tents, and other supplies were sent into the district over the railway to-day. Commissioner Dane, A. G. Magee, the secretary and superintendent Black are leaving to-night for Porcupine with tents and cooking utensils.

PETERBOROUGH BOY IS SAFE

Mr. Richard O'Brien, son of Separate School Inspector O'Brien, who is in the Porcupine region has telegraphed the news to this city of the death of his partner, Capt. Dunbar.

The young men had been prospecting together in the Porcupine district when the fire closed in around them.

How they became separated is not known, but it is supposed that Capt. Dunbar had been lost in the woods and had been overcome by the fire.

Both the young men, when here last winter, were very popular.

A POPULAR POLITICAL PLATFORM

The following platform was unanimously adopted by the Grand Lodge of British North America, at its session in Winnipeg. It is broad enough for all to stand on:

1. The entire separation of church and state.
2. Opposition to any interference of the Dominion Government with the different provinces in educational affairs.
3. The resistance of any further special privileges to any section of the population of the Dominion either on account of race or religion and the elimination of any special privileges which they now possess except those included in the Confederation compact.
4. Opposition to any extension of illegal privileges beyond those conferred by the British North America Act.
5. The maintenance of British connection and the support of any movement which tends to make closer and more binding the relations between Canada, Newfoundland and the mother country.
6. A close supervision of all new settlers and the encouragement of suitable white emigration from the British Isles, the United States and northern Europe.
7. A federal marriage law recognizing the validity of marriage performed by the qualified clergymen of every denomination or other persons vested by the law with that power; and the enactment of criminal penalties against persons using their influence to separate legally married couples by questioning the validity of marriages performed in accordance with the provisions of this law.
8. Government inspection of all religious, educational and charitable institutions and the inspection of the books of all institutions receiving aid from the public treasury.

CHARGE AGAINST M'RAE CHANGED TO MURDER

Cornwall, July 14.—At the Police Court this morning the charge against F. B. McRae, reeve of Lancaster Township, of shooting William Shaw, of Cary, with intent to do serious bodily harm, was changed to murder.

Police Magistrate Danis presided, and the only witness of the forenoon was Dr. Magee. His evidence did not differ materially from that given at the inquest yesterday. A new feature was that on the occasion that his wife came to Ottawa as a witness in a law suit, she was accompanied by a detective, and he could not see her.

ENGLAND WOULD HAVE TO FIGHT AGAINST STATES?

London, July 14.—The Daily Graphic in alluding to the proposed modifications in the Anglo-Japanese treaty alliance, thinks it will come as a shock to the average Englishman to learn that by the treaty England is bound to join Japan in the event of her being involved in war with the United States.

"It is true," the Graphic says, "that the text of the treaty clearly contemplates this contingency, but no one hitherto has had the courage to avow it in so many words.

"Whatever the circumstances of war between Japan and the United States, it would be profoundly distasteful to the English people to find themselves fighting their American kinsmen in the cause of another race."

CONSERVATIVES TO MEET ON TUESDAY

Party Convention to Nominate Candidates for Both Houses of Parliament.

The Conservative convention will take place in the Conservatory of Music on Tuesday evening next, for the purpose of selecting candidates for the House of Commons and Ontario Legislature. If the party leaders have made a selection, the secret has been well kept, for no inkling of who the men are has escaped. A short time ago a list appeared in the Times from which the candidates are almost sure to be chosen. Since that time new names have been added. The list now stands as follows:

The Ontario Legislature.

T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P.
R. N. Scott, (Smith).
Harry Phelan.
Roland Waddell.
Robert Fair.
F. F. Mason.
Dr. M. A. Morrison.
W. T. Johnston (barrister).
Col. W. J. Miller.
John Nugent.

W. G. Howden.
J. T. Turner, Jr.

House of Commons.

J. H. Burnham, M.A.
Jas. Kendry, Ex-M.P.
Wm. Moore, K.C.
G. W. Hatton.
T. F. Matthews.
W. H. Hill.

Delegates to the number of about 200 have been chosen, the riding having been reorganized into districts, each selecting its quota of delegates. Mr. James Kendry, ex-M.P., President of the Association, will occupy the chair, and will call the meeting to order at 8 o'clock.

BANK CLERK WAS A VICTIM

In the list of deaths from the Porcupine region, there is that of a young bank clerk named Davy whose home is near this city. He was well known here and his awful death will be a shock to many.

HOT STUFF FROM THE CATHOLIC REGISTER

They did not want the Orangemen in Hull on the Twelfth. Whoever wanted them anywhere? But if they must go any place people will wonder why Hull or some such high sounding location is not particularly appropriate.

• • • •

Our friends of the Presbyterian press are lying very low lately. If hunting at all it is the still hunt they are following. They fear even to exchange their papers with us. Their publications were dull and colorless enough before. The Presbyterian has by some chance come to our hand now; it is as dry as a burnt boot and as meaningless as a Calvinist pontiff. Take heart, friends, whilst you are in the business defend it or get out.

• • • •

The tin whistle and the sheepskin drumhead are still in evidence on the Twelfth. The hay-foot straw-foot marching motion they still retain in the rural lodges. Those are a class of men quite aside by themselves, and they that are not hypocrites act like lunatics. Sorry men and sorry ideals to parade in any country!

• • • •

The country is suffering from rain. Archbishop Glennon, of St. Louis, ordered the collect "ad petendam pluviam" when drought struck his diocese and there fell rain in copious showers instantly. The unbelieving herd were thereby hushed with awe. We need more prayer—the public prayers of God's Church in the exigency which unnatural conditions of weather effect. Then more so than ever before we recognize what God's blessed Providence means, and should supplicate for favors earnestly and persistently.

• • • •

While this Baptist Dr. Clifford is over here philosophizing on the future of Christianity and urging the rejection of all positive religion, there is a steady decline going on in England in all Non-conformist congregations. The cure-all he offers the sects here for their disease might well be tried at home.

• • • •

Well, did they not wade knee deep in Popish blood—except in their imaginations; but they did go deeply into their cups, and now their loyalty is at a discount.

Dr. McArthur, the new head of the Baptist Missionary Union, is going to Rome for the purpose of enlightening the Holy Father as to the new impulses and movements that are palpitating in the breasts of the world's democracy. The stone steps in front of the Vatican are a poor place on which to alight, but the Major-Domo may save the Doctor from the boot of the Swiss guard by treating him as a plain crank and refusing him admission.

HOME FROM PORCUPINE

The Times learns that Mr. Alex. Gillespie, who has returned from the Porcupine was one of the thirteen men who were saved from an awful death solely by their presence of mind.

Mr. Gillespie had been prospecting in the deadly fire region when suddenly he and his companions were aware of the proximity of the fire. No escape seemed possible for the young men. The terrific heat from the conflagration rendered all hope of escape through that living wall of flame a sheer impossibility. All seemed to be over when the young men noticed a ditch which was about four feet deep and which had a little stagnant water in it. The situation was so desperate that the young men seized their blankets, soaked them as well as they could, and threw themselves into the ditch.

Almost instantly the fire was sweeping in all its frightful power across the ditch. For an hour and a half the young men lay there, half suffocated, before they dared to move. Finally, when the heat had somewhat abated they ventured forth and looked at the fire-swept country. The young men were none the worse for their awful experience, except for the sickening effects which always follow an encounter with a bush fire.

ANOTHER BIG INDUSTRY MAY LOCATE HERE

For some days past Mr. Milton Manist, of New York, has been in the city looking over the ground with a view of establishing an industry that will employ about 100 people. Yesterday he was joined by two other gentlemen from Toronto, who are interested in the proposed industry. Mr. Manist will make a proposition to the city this afternoon through his solicitors, Messrs. O'Connell & Gordon, when the matter will be taken up in the regular way by the City Council. The new industry is one that is expected to rapidly develop into quite a big thing, employing several hundred skilled workmen and a large number of female employees.

IT WAS A BOMB, BUT MIKE LANE KICKED IT

New York, July 14.—As he was leaving a Brooklyn police station early this morning Sergt. Michael Lane espied an object on the sidewalk which looked like a rubber football. He got a running start and gave the supposed ball a kick. It was a bomb. Sergeant Lane fell to the street unconscious and every window in the station house was shattered. The sergeant was removed to the hospital in an unconscious condition. Detectives who examined the fragments of this bomb said it had contained enough powder to blow up a city block.

PUBLIC OPINION

The Times does not hold itself responsible for opinions of its correspondents.

PROTESTANTS MUST WAKE UP.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—It is not always wise to close our eyes and ears to the triumphant paragraphs of Catholic newspapers. It is unfortunately only too true that such paragraphs as the following taken from The Catholic Register, have a large measure of foundation in fact. The Church is not glorious and confident just now without reason:

Wide-Awake.

• • • •

Thirty Protestant Churches in Boston, we learn from the Boston Pilot, have lately either been closed or diverted from their original purposes. Nine large Protestant Churches in the Eastern States have been purchased by Catholics as places of worship.

Rome, July 2, 1911.

The fact that Mgr. Granito di Belmonte, the Papal Envoy at the Coronation received signal marks of honor and reverence from the British monarch and his courtiers has caused high satisfaction at the Vatican. Indeed, the whole procedure of the crowning of George V. and his Queen has clearly proven that the once barbarous traces of anti-Catholic bigotry are gradually dying out of England. Of course there can be no doubt that strict courtesy and consideration of the character of his mission were guaranteed to the Holy Father's representative, nevertheless it cannot be denied that the honors shown were as auspicious as the occasion which brought them forth. At the royal reception given in Buckingham Palace on the eve of the historic day to the members of the foreign missions Mgr. Granito was received first of all and at the court dinner he occupied a place of special honor with the Duke of Connaught and other Royal Princes. He did not, of course, take part in the ceremony at Westminster Abbey, as this was performed by the Archbishop of Canterbury and other excellently inclined but erroneously acting gentlemen. It is good to see that Protestant England is arousing herself from the lethargy imposed by the the great apostasy.

THE BATTLE OF THE BOYNE.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—Your correspondent, who asks what would have happened had King William and his army been destroyed at the Battle of the Boyne. I can tell him: Great Britain and of course Canada, would have been where Spain, Italy and other Roman Catholic countries are to-day. They would just be emerging from the dark ages. The world's progress would have been stayed at least two centuries. That's what would have happened. Is there anyone bold enough to deny it?

Truth.

WANTS EX-ALD. P ELAN.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—The Conservative nomination is to take place next week, and I think it would be a graceful thing to give Ex-Ald. Harry Phelan the nomination for the Legislature, as I understand our present member, Mr. T. E. Bradburn, has decided to retire. Mr. Phelan is well qualified for the position, and would make an excellent representative. He is fair-minded and strictly honest in his actions. Besides his long and active experience

SENT UP FOR TRIAL.

Yesterday morning Alfred Cooney was sent to the jury on a charge of assaulting Mark Manley. The evidence was so conclusive that Magistrate Edmison, of the County Court, remanded him for trial. He was allowed out on the same bail. The Times learns that Mark Manley has now recovered.

ALD. MORGAN'S SUGGESTION

Ald. Morgan has suggested to Fire Chief Howard that the firemen would water Central Park in their fire drills. The suggestion is to be carried out, and the men are to do the work very early in the morning so as not to annoy the passers by.

CONVENTION OF FIRE CHIEFS

Chief Howard has been invited to the International Association of Fire Chiefs meeting, which takes place in the fall. It is understood that Ald. Morgan will accompany him as the Chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

This Association has some 700 members, all of whom are professional Fire Chiefs.

The delegates go to Milwaukee, where the Association meets.

After the business of the Association is finished, the members will take in a number of side trips. The principal of these is to Chicago, where the International Municipal Congress will meet. Here will be a special Fire Department exhibition. The Chiefs will explain all that fire protection means to the cities and towns. Many notable chiefs and ex-chiefs will be present.

The congress is of great educational value both to the chiefs and the general public. The delegates will be conveyed to Chicago by a steamer chartered for the purpose. While in Chicago the members and delegates, who will all wear distinctive badges, will have the freedom of the city, and a right royal time is assured.

Chief Howard received notice of the Congress yesterday afternoon and though the convention does not meet until early in the fall, much preparation will be necessary before our two public officials will be in a position to make arrangements for the appointment of officers to fill their places while they are absent.

FARM AND FIELD

STOCK RAISING IN SIBERIA.

The Mongols Make the Best of Land Horse in Siberia.

The most important occupation in the Province of Transbaikal is stock raising. Cattle, horses and sheep predominate, altho a limited number of camels, deer, goats and swine are raised. The horses average between twelve and thirteen hands high, and can draw a load of over one thousand pounds, and if driven in a troioka (three horses harnessed abreast) they can cover thirty to forty miles a day. Journeys of thousands of miles at an average rate of forty miles a day have been made by riding these animals. The horses are kept in the open throughout the year, and in winter find their food under the snow. Some improvement has been made in breeding these horses, and only recently Arab blood was introduced.

The cattle are of Mongolian origin and are inferior and very small. They live in the same manner as the horses, and it is remarkable how they can withstand the severe climate and lack of food. Experiments have been made to improve the stock, but the results are noticed only in the first and second generation, the probable reason being that they are given so little care. These cattle produce little milk or beef. The camel is also of Mongolian origin, and the sheep are a little over two feet in height, the tail varying in weight from two to ten pounds. The wool is coarse, thick and of medium length.

BEE HIVES.

Successful Farmers Have Their Section Boxes Ready for Swarming.

The wideawake farmer does not wait until his bees have swarmed and are clustered on a treetop before he thinks of preparing a hive for them. All preparatory work, such as making and painting hives, wiring brood frames and getting the section boxes ready for the anticipated honey crop, should be done at leisure times during winter and early spring, before the rush of other work takes place. How easy it will be to manage a dozen or more colonies of bees next summer if everything is set in readiness now. For instance, if a swarm issues it will only be the work of a few minutes to take a hive from the barn and hive the swarm into it. If a honey flow bursts forth suddenly, what satisfaction it will give you to know that you have on hand a few hundred section boxes ready to set on the hives at once. If this work is put off until summer time, it is more than probable it will not be done at all. When feeding the bees be careful and not spill any of the sweets about the apiary, for robbing is often started in this way.

HOW SWINE CAN PAY.

Raising of Pigs Neglected in Canada.

First choose your breed. When your choice is made, purchase pure-bred brood sows. If you cannot afford to buy many, buy one good one, and by saving all the desirable females you will, in the course of a few years, have a good-sized herd. Do not spare a few dollars or a long drive to get a good boar.

The vigor of the constitution of the offspring depends on the dam, but the outward form and limbs depend more on the boar. The boar should be wide between the fore legs, with large girth behind them, that denotes active heart and limbs. Straight, strong limbs and erect hoofs indicate solidity of animal framework. Smooth skin and soft hair denote active liver and general health. Do not trade a long body for a short nose. These same qualities should be found in the female.

During the pregnancy of the sow, she should be allowed plenty of exercise and proper food, and there will be little trouble in giving birth to her offspring. A sow carrying pigs is engaged in a work which demands a full supply of tissue-making foods. Clover, wheat, bran and linseed meal and such foods, rich in protein, should be furnished her. There is a great mistake made by many hog raisers who give their brood sows corn and water for a diet; they think because they look well that such foods are all right, but they wonder why their sows have trouble giving birth to their offspring and many times eat them.

When the pigs are a few weeks old they should be given a creep where they can help themmselves to grain. The males should be castrated when about two months old and while they are still with their mothers.

MANITOBA FOR GOOD ROADS.

Representatives of Manitoba Good Roads Association and Manitoba Union of Municipalities met last week in Winnipeg, and after considerable discussion on the financing of road work throughout the province, passed a resolution to the effect that the government be asked to guarantee the bonds of the municipalities. It was proposed that the redemption of bonds be extended over a period of twenty to thirty years and further, that the amount of money to be raised do not exceed four per cent of the total assessment of the municipality.

A Dog's Devotion.

Mr. W. Greensdale, Charlotte street is the proud owner of a very sagacious dog, that can perform a number of tricks which are very amusing. Mr. Greensdale told a Times reporter that once, when he was very ill, the dog refused to leave his master's bedroom, and in fact, could not be driven away. When he was finally allowed to remain, he laid down beside the patient and licked his face. This animal, each day gets the newspaper for his master. The dog gravely extended a paw as The Times man left.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

TEMPER.

"I know I have a temper," I heard a girl say the other day; "but, at any rate, I'm not sulky." And from the tone in which she said it, one would have thought that a temper was something to be proud of, so long as it wasn't a sulky one.

As temper ages people, and leaves more lines on the face than almost any other thing, it isn't very wise to indulge in it at all. And there is another side of the picture, too. The people we live with have to be considered to some extent, and if we could only realise all the pain we give those near and dear to us when we indulge in fits of temper, we should surely try to get out of this bad habit. Life is too short to spend in wounding people unnecessarily, so the sooner we give up doing it, the better.

ABOUT COREA.

Corea is the land of queer customs. One is that the children in school use sand boxes instead of slates. They use the difficult Chinese characters and have to learn them as early in life as we do the alphabet. They make the character in the sand with a stick and then shuffle the box and make another.

There are many "little mothers" in Corea, for babies are mostly given over to older girls to be cared for. A broad sash or strip of cloth is tied around the waist of the little mother, and the baby is tucked snugly within its folds. It keeps its place during all the games of the children and seems as contented and happy as possible.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

The Grand Trunk Pacific.

Hon. Frank Oliver, Minister of Interior, and Mr. Howard Douglass, Commissioner Dominion Parks returned to Edmonton, June 27th from a trip over the Grand Trunk Pacific Ry. to the Rocky Mountains and an inspection of Jasper Park, the new five thousand square mile National Bank. He expressed himself as highly pleased with the reserve which embraces some of the finest of the magnificent scenery for which the Canadian Rockies are famous throughout the world. Speaking of Jasper Park Mr. Oliver stated that the scenery was of a grandeur and ruggedness similar to that of Banff, the only difference being that it is on a larger scale. The valley of the Athabaska is very wide and compared with the Bow River at Banff, and the mountains are higher, and from a tourist point of view there is everything to attract. The rails of the Grand Trunk Pacific have now reached the confines of the Park.

ROYAL PORCUPINE

Quoted at 32 to 33 Cents

The stock of the Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co., we believe, will prove to be one of the greatest money makers in the wonderful Porcupine district.

Every day brings forth further evidence that the Porcupine Camp is destined to become the richest gold region in the world, and Royal Porcupine should soon take its place at the head of the great producing mines in this section.

Porcupine has the indorsement of the world's greatest authorities in gold mining, who concur in the opinion that never before have such rich showings been seen covering so great an area.

The Property

is located in the township of Tisdale and consists of eight full claims, embracing 320 acres. It is particularly well located, being only one-quarter mile south of the Porcupine Gold Mines, Ltd., and one-half mile south of the Hollinger mine, for which it is claimed there is $10,000,000 in sight. Engineers report that the Royal Porcupine property is in the famous ore zone, being on the same ledge as Hollinger and having the same formation.

A telegram from the engineer in charge of the property bears out this statement. It is as follows:—

"Porcupine, Ont., June 19, 1911.

"Vein uncovered twelve feet in width. Excellent ore body. Shaft being sunk on this vein. Property in every way most favorable.

(Signed) "JULIUS MESSER, M. E.,
"Engineer in charge of property."

Thirty men are now employed, and work on the shaft will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Four veins, varying from 12 to 100 feet in width, have already been uncovered. Assays have been made which show $50 a ton.

Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co.

is capitalized for $3,000,000; par value of shares $1.00. Full paid and non-assessable. No personal liability.

A glance at the list of directors will show the class of men who are putting in their money and time to make this one of the greatest mines in the Porcupine Camp. The directors are:—

THE STANDING ALIBI OF
H. STANLEIGH STORME
(Copyright by Publishers Press Ltd).
(By Wm. Hamilton Osborne).

This man had been shot — painfully hit — but the bullet had merely clipped a small piece of flesh from the end of his middle finger.

The wound was not serious, but it had been painful—and had caused the involuntary shriek of anguish which he had emitted when the shot had taken effect.

The man thrust the injured hand into his pocket, and walked on in the direction of the Iroquois Club.

Meantime Burke and his men had kept the Iroquois Club well surrounded. They had watched there all night.

It was now after half past two in the morning. Still the man they were looking for had not appeared. But still thy waited.

A policeman pacing slowly upon his beat passed the place where Burke stood half concealed.

"Theres been a burglary up town" he said to Burke. "I just came out with the 2o'clock squad and heard 'em talking about it."

"No!" exclaimed Burke. "What, another one? Get out!"

"It's heaven's own truth," replied the man.

"Where was it?" inquired Burke.

"Up in the swell quarter," returned the other. "Family of the name of Dumont—lot of jewelry an'—"

The special caught the policeman by the arm.

"Dumont!" he repeated to the other. "Are you sure? Did they say Dumont?"

"Sure," answered the officer. "I heard 'em talking about it. I'm sure it was Dumont."

"Great Scott!" exclaimed Burke. "Why—why, I was there tonight myself."

"That's where it was," went on the officer. "I'm tellin' you straight. Well, s'long. I got to go."

Burke himself had started away in the other direction.

"Well, s'long!" he responded. "I've got to go myself, for here comes my man now."

He had glanced toward the entrance to the club. A man came out.

The man stood for an instant under the bright light above the door. Then he descended the steps into the street.

He turned to his right and walked leisurely along. Burk and his men followed him.

As the man strolled away, he kept one hand, carelessly perhaps, concealed in the pocket of his coat — just as any man might do.

CHAPTER XI

The Police Investigation.

The Dumont robbery was the last straw.

The police department had been roasted right and left by the press and the people, and it was even hinted that certain of the officers were in league with the gang of burglars.

It is due to the honesty of the force to say that they were innocent of the lightest information relative to the affair. They had tried their best to prevent the depredation, but without success.

Just as certain as they became unusually vigilant in one quarter, the burglaries burst out afresh in another.

Burke was their best man, and he was confident — or had been — that Storme was the guilty party. He had been instructed with the task of running him down. He had run him down as best he could.

The chief held a secret session at headquarters the morning after the Dumont affair. He called in the captains of all the precincts, and he also directed the attendance of Burke and his associates, and of the two officers who had been present at the time of the theft.

Burke had not yet arrived. The police had suppressed from the morning paper any reference to the affair.

"Gentlemen," said the chief, "this is a serious matter. I propose to investigate it fully. The honor and integrity of this force have been attacked, and we are powerless to defend ourselves until we produce one or more of the members of this gang, and yield them up to punishment.

"I'm going to find out about this thing, if it takes a leg, and I'm going to begin right now. I want Andrews and Cassidy to step up here and tell their story."

They told the same tale.

Andrews was the officer on the Dumont beat. Cassidy was a roundsman. Their suspicions had been aroused the night before by the merest chance—the sudden lighting of Miss Dumont's gas.

The illumination attracted their attention, and they distinctly saw the man in her room as he replaced his mask and leaped toward the light bulb on the wall. Prior to that they had not seen his face.

One of the men immediately moved to the rear of the house, mounted to the extension roof, and was about to enter the window as the burglar, a tall, well built man, dashed past him and leaped to the ground. They fired, and evidently hit their man, because along the line of chase they discovered drops of blood.

In their opinion they had wounded him painfully, and perhaps very seriously. And then he had disappeared.

They had done their best—and no man could do more.

"Now, look here," asked the chief, "did this man look like Storme?—you know the man I mean."

He scrutinized their faces carefully: he was not quite certain that the escape was altogether unavoidable.

"Well, sir," said Andrews, "As I said, we didn't see his face. But to tell the truth, Storme was the man that we were looking for—we had an eye out for him—and this man seemed to us to be about his build. We thought, sir, it was Storme."

At this juncture a man in plain clothes entered—a man with sunken eyes and weary frame.

It was Burke. He had not slept for thirty hours. He sank in an exhausted way into a chair.

"Where have you been, Burke?" inquired the chief.

Burke stepped wearily up to the front and stood before the desk.

"I'm dog tired," he announced with a smile. "I've been followin' H. Stanleigh Storme."

"What have you found out?" inquired the chief.

Burke shook his head.

"Nothin'—just nothin'," he replied. "Either we're away off or else he's dead on to us and is keepin' straight."

The chief turned a pair of suspicious eyes upon the detective.

"What the mischief do you mean, Burke?" he demanded. "Don't you know that Storme robbed the Dumont house last night?"

Burke started up as though shot.

"What!" he demanded. "What d'ye mean? Robbed the Dumont house! Never!"

"Do you mean to tell us," said the chief, biting his finger, "that he wasn't the man who did it?"

"Sure he wasn't," answered Burke. "Of course he wasn't."

"How do you know?" asked the chief.

"Well," replied Burke with a smile, "I ought to know. I saw Storme go into the Iroquois at about midnight last night, saw him take his place in the card room, and saw him sitting there all night till half past two next morning, saw him go home, and I've just now come from the Gouverneur where he lives."

"Do you mean to tell me," demanded the chief, "that you saw his face—saw Storme himself—in the Iroquois all night long?"

"I'll tell you," explained Burke. "I didn't see his face after he went in, but I saw it from his eyebrows up, and it was Storme's head all right, all right; and besides, the doorkeeper told me half a dozen times that Storme was there. He was there all right, all right, too. I'm sure of that."

The chief glanced uncertainly at the man before him, and then he addressed Cassidy one more.

"Did—did you see Miss Dumont in the room last night?" he asked.

Cassidy nodded.

"We did," he returned. "That's the reason Andrews climbed up. He was afraid the fellow might offer some violence."

The chief touched a button. An official appeared.

"You get a cab," commanded the chief, "and go up to Miss Dumont's house and bring her here. I'm going to have her down. She's the only one who can solve this mystery.

"I won't go up there where I'll be embarrassed. I'm going to have her down here. Tell her that she needn't be afraid to come. I'll see her in my room. We'll make it as easy for her as we can. But she must come—understand. It's for the good of the community. Bring her down at once."

Half an hour later another man entered.

"Miss Dumont is here," he announced.

The chief went in and saw her. He took Burke in with him — he wanted Burke to hear and see.

Miss Dumont was very pale — she seemed exhausted. The chief explained to her gently just why he had sent for her and just why this was a very important matter.

She replied that she understood and would render any assistance in her power.

"Did—did you get, the man?" she asked—a bit anxiously, it seemed.

The two men answered at once.

"No," replied the chief.

"Yes," answered Burke.

Burke's was the better answer of the two. He was taking no chances, even with Miss Dumont. He was not so sure but that she was trying to shield the burglar. The chief's answer was a mistake, and the chief knew it as soon as he had made it. Burke, however, saw the necessity of reconciling the two replies.

"We've got a man," he responded glibly, "but not the man — although some of us think he is the man."

There was an added expression of interest in Miss Dumont's face.

"He's nothing but a tramp," continued Burke, "who had been injured in a row."

POWDER PAPER BOOKS.
A book of powder paper is always a luxury in travelling, and one of these books, which costs but a quarter encased in a dainty linen cover or a cover of ribbon or silk, will immediately find its place among the toilet articles in the dressing bag.
Still another convenience for the traveller is a collection of small chamois lined silk or linen bags, in which to keep when not in use the coin of different countries. A tourist in these days of rapid locomotion will often cross the borders of three or four countries where different money will be needed in each place. The name of the coin should be marked on each bag, as, for example, French, German, Italian, and so on. Instead of the bags a collection of five or six tiny leather purses will make a welcome gift, but these purses should all be stamped or burned with the names of the various countries which the tourist is to visit.

WANTED TO VOMIT.

A Condition Involving Both Liver and Stomach That Was Quickly Cured by Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

"The doctors told me my sickness was caused by complications of the stomach and liver," writes Mrs. E. F. Fourraine, well known in Williamsport. "The least little error in eating would cause nausea, and after a time actual vomiting was easily excited. I grew very thin, pale with dark lines under the eyes; my strength so failed that even light housework quite exhausted me. Of course with a large family, I could not afford a doctor all the time, and when in deepest despair, I tried Dr. Hamilton's Pills. From the very first they acted wonderfully, and I experienced a desire for food and ate my meals with a relish. After a while my system became quite regular, and that horrid sick feeling only came now and again. This made me persevere, and it was a good thing I did so, because the continuation of Dr. Hamilton's Pills was the means of giving me my health again, and I am now the happiest woman I know."

Every person with stomach trouble can be cured with Dr Hamilton's Pills—refuse any substitute. At all dealers, or the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

A NATIONAL CALAMITY.

All Canada is mute with sorrow as the enormity of the Northern Ontario holocaust is little by little unfolded. The latest estimate places the number of the dead at five hundred, among whom two hundred met watery graves in Porcupine Lake, attempting to escape the furious forest fires. While the damages are not to be mentioned in the same breath with the horrible holocaust, the fact that hundreds of miles of bush are in the grip of the ravaging flames is a cause of terror on account of the many more lives which may be snuffed out.

Canada has suffered no such national disaster in her history. The keenest anxiety must prevail until the names of the victims and the extent of the calamity be known. Until then, words must be few. The sincerest expressions of sympathy must sound hollow to the frantic relatives and friends of loved ones who may have perished.

Whatever alleviations human aid and heartfelt feeling can offer will doubtless be freely tendered. The sympathy not alone of Canada, but of the whole world, will pour forth to the bereaved and desolated district.

AN EQUAL CHANCE.

One of the features of the Canadian Government Annuities system which highly commends itself to every person is that a man who is middle aged enjoys equal advantages with the man who starts at a younger age, for he may by the payment of a lump sum equivalent to the total amounts which he would have paid had he entered at the earlier age go on from his present age at the same rate as if he had begun at any earlier age. For example, a man of 40 who has decided to purchase an Annuity of $500 pays in $1,593.25, which is the equivalent of what he would have paid during the years from 20 to 40. He will now continue to pay $50.05 each year until he is 60, instead of $167.10, which is the rate which a man entering at 40 would have to pay for an Annuity of $500 to begin at 60.

A school teacher, who has just cashed in a twenty year endowment policy has made the application of this amount on a $500 Annuity Contract, a most provident disposition of a portion of his money. If he dies before he is 60, the total amount which he pays up to the time of his death with 3 per cent. compound interest will be returned to his legal representatives.

A supply of interesting literature concerning the Annuities Scheme may be had on application to the Superintendent of Government Annuities, Ottawa, to whom letters go free of postage.

TRAVEL TO AND THROUGH CUBA

Fifty years ago a trip to Cuba was an event even in the life of an adventurous captain of a salt water "tramp"; now it is the delightful winter outing of thousands of Americans who sail south, yearly, on the palatial vessels of established express steamship lines.

Cuba,—shunned before modern sanitation eradicated yellow fever,—is now the resort of invalids in need of a salubrious, equable winter climate. It is the resort, too, of fashionables, who on "discovering" Havana have given the island vogue. Their yachts frequent its harbors; their motors speed upon its famous macadamized "coast roads"; their presence makes very brilliant the corridors of Havana's new hotels, during the season, from November through April. Cuba is, furthermore, the resort of conscientious travellers,—their number is equivalent to an army per annum—who are pleased to enjoy her climate and to patronize the best hostelries of the capital; but they are anxious as well, to see the country itself. By railway train they journey from city to city of the interior; their names grace the registers of provincial inns. Completion of transportation facilities, and improvements in hotel accommodations, have thrown the country open to them: now that the island is, for the first time in her history really accessible, these persons are making the most of the opportunity to see Cuba, from end to end.

The Western Railway of Havana, Ltd., serves western Havana Province and the Province of Pinar del Rio, which grows the tobacco that has made Cuba famous. From the company's Havana terminal station, —Cristina, in Jesus del Monte—it is 147 miles to Guane, oldest town in all the west country.

En route the traveller passes through the island's greatest pineapple district (round about Artemisa), season one-half of Cuba's tremendous crop of this luscious fruit. He passes, too, the partido tobacco districts where, in the renowned plantations of Alquizar, the desirability of cheese-cloth shelter for this crop was first demonstrated to Cuban growers. Off in the blue Organo mountains, north of the station of Paso Real, is the aristocratic health resort of San Diego; conveyances are to be hired to conduct the visitor over the twelve miles or so of macadamized roadway between its station and the quaint old town, nestled in its palm-dotted valley. There is a rambling, quiet old-fashioned Spanish inn at San Diego, where the beds are clean, the food good, and the general surroundings interesting yet restful. Westward beyond San Cristobal the traveller recognizes, in mile on mile of citrus fruit groves, results of the activity of new-comers who, at Herradura, have erected amid sub-tropical surroundings a genuine pioneer American town of storied frontier days.

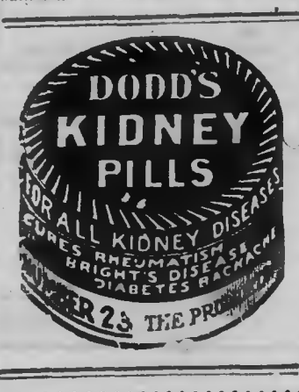
It is in the very heart of this province that the Manhattan Estates are located. The Estates consist of a tract of about 500 acres of the choicest fruit and tobacco land available. It is the ambition of the company to have on this tract the largest grape-fruit grove in the world—40,000 grape fruit trees.

When the trees are three years old they each bear on an average one box of fruit and from that time on the yield increases until the seventh year when the average from each tree amounts to between seven and twenty crates annually.

Grape-fruit finds a ready sale and first class fruit sells as high as $10 per crate, while the average price is about $4.00.

Between the rows of fruit trees the company intends planting tobacco and pineapples. The profit from tobacco is too well known to require any detailed explanation here. It is sufficient to note that when planted between trees in this manner the crop averages between 500 to 1000 pounds per acre and that the leaf sold in Havana last season as high as $5.00 per pound. Supposing then that the yield was only 500 pounds per acre and the price only 50c per pound, the return would be $250. The amount itself would be sufficient to pay a dividend of about 50 per cent. on the capital stock of the company.



ALL AROUND CUBA

ZULUETA street, in Havana, will henceforth be known, by order of the City Council, as Agramonte street.

Charles MacKenzie, of the force of the Royal Bank of Canada, who spent his annual leave of absence at his home at Montreal, has returned to Havana.

Havana is enforcing a municipal ordinance against disfiguring advertisements painted on buildings. Every one has been ordered to remove them.

The first automobile fire engine to be imported in Cuba has been purchased by the City of Cabarien for its fire department. The engine cost $10,000 and was purchased in England. The fire department in Cabarien will soon be completely organized and uniformed.

William M. Thompson, of the force of the Royal Bank of Canada, left by the Ward Line for his home in Truro, Nova Scotia, to pass his vacation.

Arrangement has been made with the Havana Electric Railway to have mail boxes installed on every car for the convenience of the public. The contract on public bid went to a Sagua la Grande merchant.

Ex-Governor Edward Warfield of Maryland, President of the Fidelity and Deposit Company of Baltimore, recently visited Havana, and declared that the faith he first placed in the Cuban people and the republic has increased with each succeeding year. He is confident that there is not the slightest reason for American Capitalists to fear investing their wealth in Cuba, and predicts that within the next few years millions of dollars will flow to the island from the United States.

A notice issued by the Cuban Railroad Company announces the election of D. A. Galdos, general manager of the company, and Geo. H. Whigham as vice-presidents of the company.

The Bank of Nova Scotia is contemplating opening two more agencies in Cuba.

The National Bank of Cuba has opened a third branch in Havana, in the new Lonja del Comercio building. The others are located in Galiano street and at Cuatro Caminos respectively. It has thirteen more branches in Cuba outside of Havana, and an agency in New York City.

If it had not been that the United States was pledged by a resolution not to annex Cuba at the time the United States was at war with Spain, or soon after, it is extremely probable that the island would be a part of the territory of the United States, and there are plenty of men who now believe that it is a part of the destiny and mission of the United States to absorb and govern Cuba.—Fitchburg (Mass.) Sentinel.

Congressman Garcia Canizares objected to the English title on the shields of the Havana police. "Police of the City of Havana," and wants those words to be in Spanish.

The reason the Havana police have those words on their shields is because when the police in Havana were organized it was done by Inspector McClusky, of the New York police force, and the same model has been used ever since.

W. B. Ridgely of Washington, D.C., ex-controller of the United States Currency, arrived in Havana a few days ago and is stopping at the Hotel Plaza. This is Mr. Ridgely's second visit to Cuba within two months. He is investigating the agricultural possibilities of the island with a view to investing.

A WORD FROM ENGLAND.

The London, Eng., Outlook, commenting upon predictions of a world-wide shortage of sugar, declares that "there can be no doubt that if such a shortage as is predicted comes to pass, if the demand for an article of such general consumption as sugar really does outrun the supply, then another 'boom,' as natural and as lasting as the rubber boom, will be upon us." Glancing over the field, in reviewing sources of supply and their possible further development, the writer discovers that, among all sugar-producing countries, Cuba alone "is capable of the development that will be needed to cope with the American demands of the next ten years." He recites this island's incomparable advantages in rich soil, suitable climate, and geographical position. "But with all these advantages only one-twentieth of Cuba is under any kind of cultivation. An area of not less than ten thousand square miles suitable for sugar-growing awaits development, and though English and American capitalists have begun to turn their attention to it with most satisfactory results, the future promises even greater, more profitable and more abundant returns. Sugar and 'Cubans' are likely, in short, to be the features of the next 'boom.'"

CUBAN PINEAPPLES.

In a recent report Consul-General James L. Rodgers says in part as follows:

The market of the pineapple is exclusively in the United States, and the industry is the direct result of an American demand for the product. He finds that "it is not Cuban in the sense of ownership nor of cultivation, the participation of the natives being so small in both relations as to be practically inconsequential. The American market demanding a large and steady source of supply, American capital was invested with that of the Spanish growers, with the result that to-day nearly all the principal plantations are owned by Americans and Spanish and worked by them, using Cuban help at busy times."

The busy season usually runs from February to July, although shipments are made every month of the year. Total shipments for the year ended June 30, 1909, was 1,263,466 crates, of 80 pounds each.

Even though school is over, July is a splendid time to take swimming lessons.

If the July weather doesn't ruffle her temper the June bride is a treasure.

AN INVESTMENT NOT A SPECULATION

What everybody with an ounce of common sense is on the alert for these days is a sound INVESTMENT and there is as much difference between an investment and a speculation as there is between London and Hong-Kong, although we all don't realize this.

• • • •

Consequently when one takes a chance on a speculative proposition-mistaking it as an investment and comes out of the small end of the horn, he becomes pessimistic and with the tightening of his purse strings to extremes to keep the pennies in just naturally shuts the dollars out.

• • • •

Now then if there were no investors there would be no progress, and with no progress the community would mighty soon become stagnant.

• • • •

The foundation of America, was old Christopher Columbus, he had an idea but was short on ready cash, in other words he was what us modern day folks call a promoter. His idea was feasible, he found co-operation, his plans carried and YOU KNOW THE REST.

• • • •

Like Columbus we are all Pioneers. Not out for our health, but to make money. No man ever saved more than a competence on a salary; few do that. To get a footing on "Easy Street" you have to invest. DOLLARS don't grow in your pockets or in a stocking. They must be put to work. Old Russell Sage said:

"Plant a few in a new country and see how fast they grow."

That's what we are trying to impress on you now and here is the biggest opportunity of this kind that is likely to knock at your door.

• • • •

We are the Pioneers of the fruit and vegetable canning enterprise in the Okanagan Valley and earnestly invite you to co-operate with us.

• • • •

Men at the head of affairs of this corporation are the best known and most highly esteemed gentlemen in British Columbia.

• • • •

Mr. Albert McKillop, our President, has a world wide reputation in the Timber and Timber Land World. (See R. G. Dunn).

• • • •

Mr. Wesley A. Blair, our Secretary and Treasurer, is also Cashier of the Canadian Customs, being the Government's most trusted employee. He handles on an average of $30,000.00 every commercial day of the year, and it was his fertile mind that first saw the possibilities of Canneries on the Coast, in-as-much as tens of thousands of dollars duty pass through his hands for American gobds yearly. Bear in mind that there is a 2½c per pound duty on all canned stuff and RECIPROCITY or no RECIPROCITY that will stand.

• • • •

Remember we belong to no combine, have no opposition, and are pioneers in this field.

• • • •

Just think of it, The Dominion Fruit Canners cleared $400,000 last year, approximately 51 per cent. What's going to prevent the Okanagan Canners Ltd., from doing the same.

• • • •

It's a matter of record that the Kelowna district—site of our Cannery—proved positively at all the recent fruit shows that the Okanagan valley is the greatest fruit producing country in the world.

• • • •

Now, then, be up and thinking.

• • • •

We are incorporated for only $100,000.

• • • •

We are only going to let 60,000 shares out of our treasury.

• • • •

Not one of our shares has gone for promotion purposes, every share being represented by its equivalent.

• • • •

We have no salaried officials, in fact no leakages of any kind.

• • • •

A Premium of 25 per cent. will be put on this stock as soon as our cannery at Kelowna is completed, which will be at an early date, as we will handle this year's crop.

• • • •

You undoubtedly have stood silently aside and seen other opportunities vanish that your neighbor has grasped and is now realizing handsomely on and term him lucky.

• • • •

It's not luck, but JUDGMENT when opportunities like this present themselves and one take advantage of them.

• • • •

Our land is bought and paid for, and we hold a receipt in full for our wharf for Cannery No. 1, which is completed at Kelowna.

• • • •

Although capitalized at $100,000, divided into 100,000 shares at one dollar each, we are going to offer for public subscription but 60,000 shares, and the remainder will positively stay in the treasury.

• • • •

This is a gilt-edge bona fide, conservative investment and it is not reasonable to believe will be on the market long, consequently act NOW before it is too late.

• • • •

Terms of purchasing securities are one dollar per share; 25 per cent. cash, balance, two, four and six months without interest.

BY-LAW NUMBER 1555

A By-law to fix the assessment of The Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company (Limited).

Passed the third day of October, 1910.

Whereas The Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company (Limited) has represented to the Council of the City of Peterborough that it is the only manufacturing concern in the City of Peterborough engaged in the manufacture of locks and other articles manufactured by it, and has to compete with manufacturers in the same line of business in other places who have received and are enjoying Municipal assistance, making it difficult for the said Company to meet such competition, and has applied to the Council for a fixed assessment on the real estate, plant and business assessment of the said Company in the City of Peterborough at the sum of $25,000, and the said Council has agreed thereto and to pass this By-Law for that purpose, subject to the confirmation thereof by the Legislature.

The Corporation of the City of Peterborough, by the Council thereof, therefore enacts as follows:—

1. This By-Law shall take effect upon and only upon the confirmation thereof by the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario, and upon the said Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company (Limited), executing an agreement not to oppose the construction of any work as a local improvement abutting or fronting on, or the cost or part of the cost of which might be assessed or charged against the property in Section 2 hereof described, or any part thereof, that the said Council may desire to construct under the provisions of the Municipal Act relating to local improvements.

2. The assessment of the following lands in the City of Peterborough owned, occupied and used by The Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company (Limited) and being Lot Number Four north of Simcoe Street and west of George Street, and that part of Lot Number Three north of Simcoe Street and west of George Street described as follows:—Commencing on the western limit of the said Lot Number Three, at a point seventy-seven feet six inches north from the south-west angle thereof; thence northerly along the said western limit of the said lot to the northern limit thereof; thence easterly along said northern limit eighteen feet; thence south and parallel to the western limit of said lot to a point seventy-seven feet six inches north of said Simcoe Street; thence westerly and parallel to the southern limit of the said lot to the place of beginning while used exclusively for the manufacturing purposes of the Company, or the part so used for such manufacturing purposes, and the buildings, plant, machinery and fixtures thereon, and the business assessment there of on which taxes are to be levied, shall be fixed and remain fixed while the same are so used, and while at least an average of one hundred hands are employed therein for at least ten months of each year, at the sum of $25,000 for a period of ten years from the first day of January, 1911, and the return and oath of the assessor or assessors in respect thereof shall be amended accordingly, but the same shall, for school purposes, be and remain liable to assessment and the payment of school taxes and rates to as full an extent as if this By-Law had not been passed, and the assessment for school purposes and the school rates and taxes shall be made, levied and collected thereon in accordance with the provisions of the general law in that behalf, and the said lands shall also be liable for all frontage and local improvement assessments, rates and taxes that are now or may hereafter be charged against the same, and any buildings on the said lands not used exclusively for the business of the Company, and the land appurtenant to same shall not be included in the fixed assessment hereunder, but such buildings and land, while not used as aforesaid, shall be assessed as provided by the Assessment Act then in force; provided, however, that if the said Company shall at any time within the said term of ten years fail or neglect to operate and carry on the said manufacturing establishment substantially to the capacity thereof, and thereon to employ at least an average of one hundred hands during at least ten months in each year, then such fixed assessment shall cease, and the taxes and rates on the said lands, buildings, plant, machinery and fixtures and on the business assessment thereof shall be and become payable to the same amount and in the same manner as if this By-Law had not been passed; provided always that if the failure to carry on the said business is due to strikes or destruction of the buildings, plant, machinery or fixtures by fire or tempest, the time during which the said business shall so cease to be carried on in consequence of such strikes, or destruction of the buildings, plant, machinery or fixtures (not exceeding in either case one year) shall not be taken as a failure or neglect to carry on the said business, so as to disentitle the said Company to such fixed assessment.

3. The said Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company (Limited) shall, prior to the first day of March in each year, file with the City Clerk a statutory declaration, made by an officer of the Company, who shall therein state his knowledge of the facts, proving that the said Company has complied with and is observing all the terms, conditions and provisions of this By-Law, and on the neglect of the said Company to furnish such declaration it shall be prima facie taken that such terms, conditions and provisions have not been performed, observed and kept, and the said fixed assessment shall cease, and the taxes and rates shall be and become payable to the same amount and in the same manner as if this By-Law had not been passed.

THE VAGRANTS' HOME.

Missions Used by Loafers to Help Them Out.

"Got any home?" said the judge to a man who had been brought in on the charge of vagrancy.

"Sure I have."

"Where is it?"

The man named a street and number.

"Your Honour," volunteered a clerk, "that ain't a house; it's a mission."

"Well, call them up, anyway," said the judge, "and see if they know anything about him."

They did not know anything, but the missionary said he would come right down and see what could be done.

"It is not an unusual case," he said. "Our mission is 'home' to many a man whom we never even heard of until he gets arrested. If a man who has been run in as a hopeless derelict can mention some address which he can call home his sentence is apt to be lighter. Lots of outcasts have been on the tramp so long that it is hard for them to think of any place they are intimate enough with to call it home, but through an occasional peep in here they remember the number and brazenly sing it out. Court-room attendants communicate with us and ask our advice. Naturally we respond even though the men are perfect strangers. Some of them seem hopeless wrecks, but now and then we discover a man who has good stuff in him still and is capable of developing into a useful citizen."

WHERE THE "DOME" DID ITS PART.

Old Baseball Players Give Their Experiences.

"Bonehead Barry!" That's what they usually say of a player when he accidentally or otherwise permits himself to be hit on the "dome" by a batted or pitched ball. While some of these plays have been anything but pleasant to the man hit, there's no question but most of them prove humorous to the fans, says the St. Louis Post-Dispatch

I have seen many players hit on the head with batted or thrown balls," said Roger Bresnahan, manager of the Cardinals, "but the funniest play of this kind happened when I was with the Giants. "Jack" Dunn was playing third base at the time and a foul fly was sent up near third base.

"I was catching and started after the ball until he shouted 'I've got it.' He seemed to be camped under it all right until the sun got in his eyes and he lost the ball. It came and hit him on the top of the head. The ball knocked 'Jacks' cap off, and, as he was as bald as a doorknob and very sensitive about his slick dome, he made a wild scramble to recover the top-piece."

"A play which seems almost an impossibility, but one that is an actual fact, was performed by Ben Koehler and Emil Frisk, two former St. Louis outfielders," said Secretary Lloyd H. Rickart, of the Browns.

"In a game several years ago a ball was hit midway between center and right. Koehler and Frisk started for it. Koehler, the usually reliable, called that he had the ball. But he began dancing around and finally lost in the sun. He 'ducked' to avoid being struck, but the ball came down, hit him on the head, bounded up, and risk, the uncertain, caught it for the out."

UNIVERSITY OF FRANCE.

Essentially the Same Today as When Established by Napoleon.

In the United States there are many universities which are free from state control, but in France there is only one university, and it is an absolute instrument of the state. It is true that there are schools of higher learning, which were founded in 1870 as universities, but five years afterward the title was withdrawn, and they are now called "lycees." They are five in number and are located in Paris, Lille, Lyons, Toulouse and Angers.

But the University of France is an entirely different organization. It is the official school. It is centralized in Paris and has under it a vast multitude of establishments, faculties, colleges and primary schools, distributed over the whole surface of the country. Directly or indirectly they all depend on the government.

The university was established by Napoleon, and in spite of certain modifications which it has undergone during years it is the same today in its essential elements as the day he founded it. Just as he established the entire civil administration, with its prefects, subprefects, judges, ministers of finance, so he created in 1806 this vast educational organization, with its countless professors, who control the entire intellectual training of France.—America.

RAILWAYS AND DOGS.

Alike in One Respect in Sardinia, That Both Are Perils.

Sardinia is an island of many perils. One of them, we gather from the experience of Mr. Crawford Flitch, the author of "Mediterranean Moods," is the railways. "The engine," he says,

BRITISH STANDARD BEARER.

Lieutenant Harrison, the tallest officer in the British Army, will carry the standard of the Royal Horse Guards Blue in the Coronation procession. The standard was presented to the Blues by King William on August 12th, 1831, Queen Adelaide's birthday. The last time it was carried was the first Jubilee of Queen Victoria, when the Queen went from Slough to Windsor.

AFRICANS LIKE UNIFORMS.

Much money is made out of cast-off police uniforms. Quantities are bought by African traders and exported to various parts of the "Dark Continent," where they are exchanged for palm-oil, ivory, skins, and other merchandise. It is by no means an uncommon sight to see a swarthy savage dressed in the uniform of a policeman, and wearing the regulation helmet of the force.

Stories of the Prince of Wales.

Many quaint and amusing anecdotes are related of the Prince of Wales as a small child, one being that he and his sister and brothers were invited out to tea at some Court lady's house, and when the hour for departure came he could nowhere be found to say good-bye to his hostess.

On investigation it was discovered that he had hurried downstairs alone to secure what he considered his proper place in the carriage.

It is also reported of him that, on his first attending afternoon church one Sunday, he remembered how often he had been told to thank his entertainers for their hospitality; so on this occasion he looked anxiously about for someone to be grateful to. The only person who came handy was the verger, who, rather to his discomfiture, had his hand grasped by the little prince, and was informed in a childish voice:—

"Thank you so much for a very pleasant afternoon!"

SOME REMARKABLE INSURANCE.

Lloyds Underwriters Will Take All Kinds of Risks.

Some remarkable underwriting business in fancy risks have been done by Lloyd's in connection with the coronation. Large insurances have been effected by traders whose interests are bound up with the coronation, and ten per cent has been paid to cover a claim should the ceremony not take place before the end of the year. In one or two cases policies have been taken out on the joint lives of the King and Queen until the end of the year, at the rate of four guineas per cent, whilst a "Royal Family" risk has been accepted, insuring the lives of the King and the Queen and their children for the same period, the premium in this instance being ten guineas per cent. A possible change of route for the coronation procession has also come within the speculative scope, though the premiums are small.

To pay a loss if there is a general election before March 31, 1912, twenty-five guineas per cent is quoted, and five per cent has been accepted to cover the payment of a claim should Mr. Lloyd George become prime minister on or before December 31 next. This risk has been written several times, but the amounts involved are not large.

The next budget has also been the basis of speculative business of this nature at Lloyd's.

The last rate quoted to pay a loss in the event of the duty on sugar being abolished was twenty guineas per cent, whilst several policies to cover a reduction in the tea duty have been taken out at twenty-five guineas per cent, the equivalent premium for coffee and cocoa being thirty-five guineas per cent. The possibility of an increase in the cost of license is apparently considered remote, seeing that a policy for this risk can be got at twenty per cent.

By far the largest amount of speculation has, however, been done in connection with the income tax, and a rate as high as fifty guineas per cent has been charged on a policy to pay a total loss only in the event of no alteration being made in the present charges.

THE CHOICE OF DEATH.

Condemned Murderers Prefer Shooting to Hanging.

Why do condemned murderers prefer shooting in preference to hanging? Since the State of Utah passed a law giving convicts this choice, Arthur Pratt, warden of the Utah State prison, has not had one who would go to the gallows. On one occasion a murderer refused to make a choice, and the judge sentenced him to be hanged.

"Utah has a law which allows a condemned murderer to choose either hanging or shooting as a mode of dying," said Warden Pratt. "This work is done by the sheriffs of each county, but in the penitentiary yard. So far we have not had a man who has chosen hanging. Once a murderer refused to make a choice, and the judge sentenced him to be hanged. Shooting is the more humane. It is painless and instantaneous. The condemned man is led to the prison yard, seated on a chair, and, if he desires, is blindfolded. Five men armed with rifles are then marched to within ten paces of the man. Four of the rifles contain ball cartridges. The fifth has a blank shell. A target is pinned over the heart of the condemned man, all five guards take careful aim, and at a signal the volley is fired. The ordeal is over in a few moments, whereas in hanging the suspense and suffering last for many minutes."

Experiments Prove That Silage Has Great Advantage Over Roots as Economical Feed.

The Dominion Experimental Farm is showing its worth to farmers by its practical experiments and even more so than its recent trials in stock food.

In a series of experiments conducted for two years under the direction of J. H. Grisdale, director of the Dominion Experimental Farm, it has been found that silage has a great advantage over roots as an economical sheep feed. Duplicating the experiment of the preceding year, twenty-seven lambs of uniform weight were divided into three groups of nine each and fed different rations, from which to form a basis of the experiment. No. 1 group was fed on clover hay, meal and turnips; lot No. 2 on clover hay, meal and silage, the latter replacing the turnips, and No. 3 group was fed on clover hay, meal, turnips and ensilage mixed.

WHY ARE THE LARGE INVESTORS ALL OVER CANADA AND THE UNITED STATES BUYING MONTREAL REAL ESTATE?

If Western land or speculative stocks were considered better,--is it reasonable to suppose that these careful financiers whose knowledge of Canadian conditions is beyond a doubt-would buy Montreal Real Estate?

To the mer of good judgment,—these questions do not require an answer.

YOU KNOW Montreal is the largest City in the Dominion.

YOU KNOW that the population is increasing yearly at the rate of about 50,000.

YOU KNOW these people have to have homes.

Taking the above facts into consideration, what do you consider, looking in the most conservative way possible, ANGUS PARK LOTS will be worth in four years' time?

Taking the past advances in MONTREAL REAL ESTATE as an example, these lots will be worth over a hundred per cent. (100 per cent.) more in that time.

We have a limited number of lots situated on ANGUS PARK BOULEVARD, which we can offer you at to-day's low prices, and on terms that will not cripple your finances, and by the time your lots are fully paid for you will have saved not only the cost of the land but the increase in value, thereby making your investment many hundred per cent. (100 per cent.) better than a Savings Bank account and much safer.

Do not delay till this opportunity has escaped you, but call in and see us, or drop us a line and we will send you full particulars together with our application forms. The prices range from $100 per lot upwards and the terms 10 per cent. cash, and the balance 10 per cent. every three months without interest.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

WHY GO TO ALASKA TO INVEST IN OIL?

During the past month we have beenpresenting to the readers of The Morning Times, and the public in general, an offer which for SAFETY and CERTAINTY OF RESULTS in the form of DIVIDENDS and ENORMOUS PROFITS is well nigh UNPRECEDENTED.

In Southwest Colorado, in Mountezuma County, near Mancos, nature has placed RICH OIL FIELDS which promise to be the cause of the MOST STUPENDOUS BOOM COLORADO HAS HAD SINCE THE EARLY GOLD DAYS.

We own and control 8,500 acres of land in this section which experts assure us are positively gusher producing properties,

We have bought and paid for all the machinery necessary for drilling. We do not owe one cent. If you invest with us you have behind your investment not only enormous land values but machinery the value of which is fully $8,000.

For the ordinary investor this would be security enough but we have made the safest investment proposition that ever was offered, for, besides these rich Mancos Oil Fields we also own 2,560 acres in the proven oil field of San Juan, Utah; also 1,920 acres in the Great Montezuma District of Colorado, and fifty acres of rich mining ground in the La Plata District, for which we have been offered Ten Thousand Dollars spot cash.

Investments in the stock of our Company participate in the profits of all these properties. The Mancos Oil and Development Company promises to and will give the public a "square deal." Every acre of oil land and mining property which it owns or will acquire belongs to its stockholders.

MR. BURT H. MASON, the president and organizer of the Company, is a mining engineer of enviable reputation the officers of the Company are well-known business men and bankers of Southwestern Colorado. If any misrepresentation has been made we guarantee to return every dollar you pay us and all expenses to which you may have been put for investigation.

The price of stock is Twenty-five Cents a share, which can be paid on monthly installments if desired. If further information be desired it will be cheerfully given.

QUEEN CHARLOTTE

The Capital City of the Islands

THE LAST WEST

The only town on Graham Island that has a monthly pay roll, and the only sawmill shipping lumber to foreign ports.

The only town having a railway gazetted to its very doors on the island.

The only city on Graham Island having electric light, city water, miles of sidewalks, churches, school, hospital, postoffice, first-class drug store billiard hall, city hall, hotels, boarding house, barber shop and other general stores, and the only newspaper published on the Island, the Queen Charlotte News.

We are positively the centre of all the vast wealth of the entire Islands, including farm lands, timber lands, coal and metalliferous mines. These products must come out at Queen Charlotte City, through the Hecate River Valley, and through which the Island Railway must run according to charters already granted.

The combined townsite interests cover one thousand acres, of which five hundred are practically level alluvial soil with no rocks.

A fine water power from the Hecate River, good drainage and the best harbor on the entire Islands.

Our lots are all 50 feet by 120 feet, ranging in price from $150 to $300; one-third cash, balance on time at 6 per cent., or deeds can be had at once if desired.

Fully 200,000 acres of farm lands, suitable for mixed farming, only await the hand of man, a large portion of which is already located.

The verdure clad mountains are vast treasure vaults of gold, copper, silver and other precious metals, while our valleys are underlaid with a wealth of the finest coal and covered with a vast forest of spruce, hemlock and yellow cedar. These, coupled with our fisheries, are at the very doors and within sight of Queen Charlotte City.

Taking all these facts into consideration, and with the present progress being made in developing our resources, which are at the gateways of transportation both by water and railway, with the advent of the completion of the Grand Trunk Railroad, Queen Charlotte City is destined to be one of the province's most prosperous cities.

It is owned largely by the wealthiest and most honorable men of our province, who would not be a party in misrepresenting facts and are prepared to endorse every statement herein made.

The townsite company are now offering a further 75 lots on Second avenue at a very low price and on easy terms, if taken at once, and under conditions that will make you a 100 per cent. on your investment in 90 days, for 20 per cent. of the gross proceeds will be used by letting a contract for the clearing and grading of Second avenue from Third street west. The company guarantees to advance the remaining 75 unsold lots on Second avenue from $150 to $225 as soon as the first 75 have been sold. The company is making this effort in order to join with the government in making Second avenue the trunk road through the townsite from the Wilson-Robinson coal fields, Hecate River Valley, Lawn Hill and Miller Creek districts. Now you can secure any unsold lot on Second avenue, including fourteen in Keith's addition, to-day for $150, except corners, on easy terms, 1-4 cash, balance 6, 12 and 18 months at 6 per cent. This will positively be your last chance for a cheap lot in Queen Charlotte City, for every lot in the townsite will surely go from $500 to $1000 when the public realize that in the Island River railroad from Queen Charlotte to the head of Massett Inlet is to be started this summer, in addition to the present work already outlined, thus giving work to an army of men. There are at least 5000 citizens of Vancouver who have invested in the various resources of the islands. Conclusive evidence of these facts, a landscape drawing of the townsite and a portion of Graham Island coupled with an illustrated edition of the resources of the islands can be seen at the office of J. J. Miller, 82 Hastings street, Vancouver, B. C., Agent for Vancouver, and plans at office of Times", Peterboro'.

DO UNTO YOUR DOLLAR AS YOU WOULD HAVE YOUR DOLLAR DO UNTO YOU.

Really, after all, one man knows just as much about money as any other man.

The only difference is the difference a dollar holds in the estimation of different people.

One man looks at a dollar and says to himself, "There it is, just a dollar; my dollar—it belongs to me—it's mine—I've got it.

Well, that isn't half of it.

The man who looks at a dollar that way hasn't got that dollar at all—he hasn't got a half a dollar—he hasn't got a quarter even—he has less than a dime; for the intrinsic, metallic value of the coin which we call a dollar is not a tithe of it, for a dollar has character; and a dollar has habits; and a dollar is just exactly like the fellow who possesses it.

If you are a miser and hoard your money, then your dollar will be a miser and secrete and hide itself and just stay like it is, precisely as a miser does with himself.

If you are a fool playing hide and seek with opportunity, looking upon the world, and man, and life itself as a game of tag—then your dollar will spin and roll and roll and spin until in a flash it disappears from your pocket into the pocket of another and a wiser man.

Your dollar gets tired of playing with you and leaves you for more profitable enjoyment elsewhere.

If you are a wise man, and a caretaker of yourself and what belongs to you, then behold; how your dollar even like its master, appreciating good treatment, will in its turn get busy and exert itself in gratitude for what is done for it.

Do unto your dollar as you would have your dollar do unto you.

Now there be four kinds of dollars.

First—the kind of dollars that get busy and do things—

Dutiful Dollars.

Second—scared dollars—frightened dollars, dollars that are afraid, coward dollars whose masters are cowardly, afraid of doubting character—

Doubtful Dollars.

Third—dollars that don't, dollars that dare not, dollars that won't; dollars that can't—helpless dollars—

Drone Dollars.

Fourth—bad dollars, dollars that have been stolen; dollars that do not belong to their possessor; dollars that are dissipated by dissipated possessors; dollars put to wicked use by wicked masters—wicked dollars.

Bad Dollars.

These things are true. Money is like the man who manages it. A dollar partakes of the character of him who handles it, and your dollar is just like yourself—it's either a good, dutiful dollar, or a doubtful dollar, or a drone dollar, or a bad dollar—one of the four.

Good Dollars.

A good dollar has good judgment, good eyes, and willing hands and arms, and not only the strength, but the disposition to work, and there isn't any success in this world for a dollar or a man, or any other living created thing under the sun, that can't, and will not, does not want to—work.

These are the dollars we want in this business—active dollars.

Doubtful Dollars.

Doubtful dollars are mighty near as bad as drone dollars; they're even worse in some respects, for the very minute that a doubtful dollar sees a shadow, away it goes to hunt it's hole, coyote that it is, to hide its diminished head and quit.

Get-away dollars belong to get-away people—people who don't care, don't know and haven't got writ enough to try to find out.

The whole trouble with a doubtful dollar is that it sits around, and crosses its legs, and twirls its thumbs and teeters its toes up and down, — resting, just resting.

If you have got a doubtful dollar anywhere about you, won't it be a good thing to yank it by the ear and whip it into line? Point it down the road to success, and spank it along to the treadmill of prosperity, and force it to go and make a living for itself, like it ought to.

Isn't that the way to treat a doubtful dollar?

Drone Dollars.

How to improve the character of a drone dollar is an educational question. Some pretty clear-headed people are of the opinion that what ought to be done to a drone dollar is to send it away from home to a good financial boarding-school, where the class is made up of eager, early-rising, hustling, red-blood dollars, where it can have the benefit of a good example, good discipline, and good opportunity. Your drone dollar can't come to a better institution of this kind where it's shoulders can be straightened up and squared back and the electric current of activity turned into it at the rate of about one hundred volts a second, than right out here in this business.

Nothing like good, fast military drill and rapid exercise for drone dollars.

Bad Dollars.

This is the hardest kind of a dollar to cure. The trouble with this variety is that the symptoms indicate a mind diseased, rather than any physical weakness in the dollar, or its owner, either.

You've got to tone up the head on the dollar first of all, get wrong notions out of its brain, clean up the cranium, start a good healthy circulation of intelligent ideas and retire the morality of the thing.

Take, for instance, a speculative dollar. Some poor, unfortunate, mis-guided piece that's been nibbling at pool rooms, or playing the races, or fooling with bucket-shops; or one that's got beat and scratched by some wildcat investment.

Best doctor on earth for this kind of a bad dollar is to soothe it first, and then turn it around so it can look back the other way where good, true, honorable prospects lie, so that it can get started right again.

Don't send bad dollars to the penitentiary to be still further corrupted by the changing of criminal associates.

Get it away.

Put it on the Ward Liner and send it out to the golden sunshine and the glorious out-of-doors here in the radiant, reforming glory of old Cuba.

No place for any kind of a dollar like the grape-fruit orchards here in the garden spot of the new world, the Eden land of productivity and profits—here where the virgin earth yields to the stockholders in the grape fruit companies dividends as sure as old Mother Earth herself, and as rich in returns as the land from which they come.

Cuba has again broken her marvellous record of dividends for 1910—dividends on the dollars of investment made by the masters of money who have sent their good dollars, and their doubtful dollars, and their drone dollars, and their bad dollars, into the fields where grape-fruit grows and where the land makes them rich.

All of this has just a little analysis of dollar character, of the character of money, or the character of opportunity that awaits money—and all depending upon the character of those who do or do not do unto their dollars as they would have their dollars do unto them.

CUBA'S OPPORTUNITIES IN THE DOMINION.

By E. S. Kirkpatrick, Canadian Trade Commissioner.

THE writer of this article has been asked to deal with the subject of the export trade of Cuba in its relation to Canada and he might, perhaps rightly, plead ignorance of the same, as his duties do not cover this field. However, if for no other than selfish reasons, it is a subject in which he is deeply interested; first, because trade with any country in order to be on a stable basis must be reciprocal; and secondly, because it would seem, from reasons which shall be given, that a number of the products of Cuba should find a ready market in Canada to the mutual benefit of both countries.

It is rather a striking fact, that, while the Canadian tariff is comparatively high and not many articles are admitted free of duty, and the tariff aims to give a certain preference within the British Empire, the majority of the products of Cuba are entitled to free entry into Canada. One might go still further and state that, with one exception, viz., sugar,—and even on it the tariff is not prohibitive,—practically all of the products of Cuba are on the Canadian free list.

The first thought of one reading this article would be that in making the above broad statement, Cuba's second great crop, viz., tobacco, had been overlooked, but raw tobacco is not dutiable in Canada. (The duty, of course, on the manufactured product is another question.) The same statement applies to Cuban fruits such as pineapples, oranges, grapefruit, lemons, limes, mangos, etc. Asphaltum, of which Cuba has such enormous deposits, does not pay any duty. Native woods, iron ore and mineral waters are also free.

No special effort has been made on the part of people of Cuba to establish markets in Canada, and perhaps for the very good reason that they have such excellent ones in the United States. Canada, too, has with her great neighbor an enormous trade, the total volume of which between the two countries amounted to $276,000,000 during the past fiscal year, but it does not follow that she should not seek other markets as well. Canada, with her vast transportation systems, one of which, at least, is the greatest in the world, and with her merchant marine encircling the globe, has trebled her foreign trade within the past two decades and this has been brought about through a world-wide organization.

The products of Cuba are unique in their excellence and some of them are a household word throughout the world. Their production is capable of almost limitless expansion which may only be retarded by a failure to seek a wider demand. This demand may, in a measure, be found in Canada, more especially in the beginning, for Cuban fruits. The fruit importers of Canada are beginning to show a great interest in Cuban fruit, some particulars of which were published in the April number of The Cuba Magazine. A letter to the writer from the Traffic Manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway is to the effect that if a representative of Cuba were sent to Canada to study the fruit markets there, in order to create a demand, his company would grant a free pass to such a person over their entire railway system and would further assist the undertaking in every possible manner.

The fruit growers of Cuba have shown a wise policy in organizing, and through their organization much may be accomplished. They need a representative, next, in Canada, either to act independently or, still better, in conjunction with a large importing firm.

With existing possibilities available, such as are briefly and rather crudely pointed out in this article, the writer looks with confidence to a great expansion in the trade between Canada and Cuba which has already shown during the past year, an increase of 23 per cent. Canada finds in Cuba a good market for many of her products notwithstanding the tariff handicap and she offers in return a still better market for the products of Cuba.

"Nerviline" Cures Rheumatism

And Here is the Proof—A Solemn Statement From a Four-Years' Cripple, Who Says "Nerviline" Did It.

"If I had lived through my sufferings another year it would have been a miracle." This is the opening sentence of the declaration made by Mr. J. Eccles Squires, member of one of the best-known families for twenty miles round Sydney. "My hands were drawn out of shape, even my fingers were gnarled and crooked — my lameness, stiffness and inability to get about all showed the havoc Rheumatism made with my health.

The blessing of it all is CURED that I have heard of Ner- 4½ vilime, and now I am able YEARS to tell and advise others how they may get well too. My system was so weakened that I had to build up with a good tonic, so I took Ferrozone at meals. But I never stopped rubbing on Nerviline—it had a magic influence on my stiff, painful joints, and bottle after bottle was rubbed on the painful parts. Nerviline cured me. I am well to-day—have been well for 4½ years."

You also can cure rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica, neuralgia, or any pain or stiffness in the muscles or joints—to do so use Nerviline. Don't let your druggist substitute. Get Nerviline only; large bottles 25c., or five for $1.00; sold everywhere, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

BOATS MINUS LIGHTS.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I happened to be out in a canoe last night and was leisurely proceeding along, unconscious of danger, when suddenly there loomed up in front a gasoline launch. I could just see the outlines of the craft, and in a moment there was a collision. Fortunately the launch struck us on a slant as it were and we were not thrown in the water although it was a close call. I believe there is a law compelling owners of motor boats to carry lights. Why is it not enforced?

INSULT TO ANA[illegible]NS.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I notice in your issue of the 6th inst. that a Canadian woman has been refused admission into the U.S. Such a state of affairs should not be tolerated. It is time that the Canadian Government took action in this matter.

It is intolerable that a British subject should be insulted when she wishes to cross the line.

Proper immigration restrictions are necessary, but there is a great difference between such and deliberate insolence.

Our booklet beautifully illustrated, tells the story--contains interesting facts regarding the Grape Fruit Industry.

The figures are startling but true.

When three years old grape-fruit trees begin to bear, the crop continues to increase until the seventh year when the average amounts to between seven and twenty boxes of fruit. Grape-Fruit is usually sold on the trees at a price ranging not less than $1.00 per box. On the Manhattan Estates we will have a grove of over 40,000 trees, and our yearly crop, once maturity is reached, should average 280,000 crates annually. Between the trees we intend cultivating tobacco and pineapples from which a substantial profit will be realized within one year from the time of planting. The British-owned Western Railways run through the Estates, insuring splendid shipping facilities. The officers and directors of this company have implicit faith in this enterprise, and have agreed that no one shall receive one cent of salary until after 25 per cent. dividends have been earned and declared. They are quite willing to wait for their dividends, knowing that their investments will amply repay them.

Several recommendations were made dealing with improvements to the grounds in respect to wells, levelling, etc. Several new members were taken on the strength of the society, the membership of which is now over one thousand.

MAN ROASTED TO DEATH

Samuel Keyman Found on Top of a Retort Burned to a Cinder—Must Have Fallen.

Toronto, July 15.—Samuel Keyman 178 Greenwood avenue, was mysteriously burned to death at the gas works at Eastern and Booth avenues Saturday morning. Workmen found the body lying on top of one of the retorts. They were attracted by the odor of burning flesh.

The authorities at the plant told the police that they could not understand how the man came to be in the retort-room as his employment would not call him there, and, indeed he had no right to be in the room. From his position it is believed that he must have been walking on a pipe above the retort and fallen. The flesh was literally roasted and was loose upon the bones when the body was found. It was removed to the morgue and the chief coroner notified. An inquest will be held.

WATCHED HIS MOTHER-IN-LAW COMMIT SUICIDE

Indianapolis, Ind., July 15.—Robt. Sherlock, who refused to prevent his aged mother-in-law, Margaret Mote, from committing suicide, has been placed under arrest.

Mrs. Mote spent a fruitless afternoon trying to borrow $5 to pay the rent. Returning home she is said to have informed Sherlock that she was tired of his abuse and that she guessed she would end it all by suicide.

"Go right ahead," was the advice Sherlock gave, it is averred. She started to drink carbolic acid. He dragged his wife away as she struggled to get the bottle.

LARGEST DOCKS IN THE WORLD

Sir Henry Pellatt Back From England, Hopes to Build Canadian Navy.

Toronto, July 15.—Sir Henry Pellatt declares that the largest docks in the world will be built in Canada. He made this statement on his arrival from England on Saturday morning, in connection with a discussion on the organization of the new shipbuilding company in which he is interested. The location of the new yards has not yet been decided upon, but Sydney has been mentioned.

The new company will be prepared to build the ships of the Canadian navy and Sir Henry evidently counts upon the company getting the contracts.

Claims $142,000 From Former Housekeeper.

Kansas City, July 15.—Mrs. Margaret Klock Armour, widow of Simeon B. Armour, the packer, filed suit in the circuit court here to-day for $142,000 against Miss Harriet Byington to cover speculations alleged to have been made by Miss Byington while serving as companion and house keeper to Mrs. Armour.

32 PASSENGERS PERISH IN STEAMSHIP COLLISION

New York, July 15.—Thirty-two passengers and several members of the crew of the steamer Irma, were drowned or crushed to death when the vessel was sunk by the Diamante, according to a despatch from Port Limon, Costa Rico, published here to-day. The wreck occurred during a storm in the estuary of the San Juan River.

The fact that most of the passengers were below on account of the heavy weather seems to account for the heavy loss of life, as the steamer sank so quickly that there was little chance for those under decks to escape.

The Irma was heavily laden, and her efforts to swing to port did not take her far enough to prevent the Diamante plunging her nose deep into the side of the Irma. The Diamante's bow was badly battered, but she proved seaworthy.

SIXTY-TWO BODIES HAVE BEEN RECOVERED ALREADY

SEVEN UNIDENTIFIED REMAINS FOUND A MILE SOUTH OF THE VIPOND.

A Number of University Students and Two Ladies Escaped the Flames.

Porcupine, July 15.—Sixty-two bodies have been recovered from the fire and lake up to ten o'clock Saturday morning. Stan. Nicholson's and Mervin Strain's bodies were found this morning.

Seven unidentified bodies from one mile south of Vipond were found on Friday.

Toronto University men, Campbell, Smyth, Simpson, Watts, Mahaffy, Hopkins, Haney, Andrews, Alexander Emery, McLaren, W. Curtis, and Mrs. Gerrard and Mrs. Ginnson, of Toronto, saved themselves in the lake at Pottsville.

Porcupine, July 15.—The tragic centre of last Tuesday's frightful inferno presents the picture of a smoking battlefield to-day.

The site of the town is a sleeping plain of charred ground and ashes, relieved by the blackened stumps of forest trees and roots which had been left under the foundation of many of the shacks and frame houses.

Piles of burning rubbish, many of which mark the site of the larger business places, whose stocks of goods are still smouldering, lie around, and great fires of heaped up logs piled together are being made to burn the rubbish, and be done with it.

PUBLIC OPINION

The Times does not hold itself responsible for opinions of its correspondents.

A SPLENDID PLATFORM.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—The political platform published in The Times is one that all true Canadians regardless of party or creed, can heartily subscribe to. It provides for just and equitable laws, favoring no party or religious denomination. A man who cannot support such a policy is not a good citizen. We may differ in many things political and otherwise, but we should unite on one principle of equal rights. No one party or no one religious institution should have privileges not accorded to the others.

I hope you will keep this constantly before the people.

Fair Play.

NOT CREDITABLE.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I would call the attention of those in charge of the Public Library to the very poor lawn around the building. It is supposed to be "seeded down," but the only thing that has appeared is a huge crop of weeds.

It is certainly a pity to have this beautiful building placed in the middle of a weed-bed.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH

While passing under a tree during the last storm, Mr. Robert Briggs, of the Quaker Oats staff, had a narrow escape from death. Lightning struck a tree, under which Mr. Briggs had taken refuge from the storm, tearing off a large limb and sending a shower of splinters through the air. Mr. Briggs lost no time in hurrying home.

THE WEATHER.

About same temperature with a few showers.

BASEBALL AND MONEY IMPEDING RELIGION

Wilkes Barre, Pa., July 15.—"The two great impediments to religion in the northwest are the baseball and the money craze," declares the Rev. Dr. R. W. McCullough, pastor of the leading Baptist Church here in a report to his congregation on a recent western trip.

"The westerners," he adds, "are baseball mad. It is baseball seven days of the week, Sunday and Monday alike. In the Dakotas they prefer going to a baseball game to going to church. They go by train, trolley and automobile scores of miles. When they return home they are so full of the feats of the heroes of the diamond they can think of nothing else.

SHOCKING DEATH OF YOUNG GIRL

Shocking Death of 15-Year-Old Girl While Romping With Pet Dogs

New York, July 15.—"I'm not hurt, mother, but please take this knife out of my heart." 15-year-old Helen Wineman moaned as Mrs. Wineman found her prostrate on the floor of their apartment kitchen last night. The girl, while romping with her pet dogs had fallen and had been impaled upon a potato knife, which she was playfully brandishing.

The panic stricken mother drew out the knife, and ran screaming for a doctor. Returning she found the girl dead, half way up the hall stairway, where she had dragged herself.

REASSURING REPORTS FROM THE FIRE DISTRICT

Telegraphic messages received by Hon. Frank Cochrane, Provincial Minister of Lands, Forests and Mines serve to confirm the opinion that the northern holocaust, appalling though it is, is not so great as was at first feared.

A. J. MacDonald Crown Lands Agent at Cochrane, wired "So far can account for seven settlers burnt out in Glackmeyer township, and three in Taylor township. Two lives lost in Glackmeyer—bodies burned."

SOME "RELIEF" FRICTION.

That there is friction between the relief committee, which is in charge of the distribution of supplies, and others of the municipal authorities in the Porcupine district, would seem to be indicated by this telegram to Hon. Mr. Cochrane from J. G. Cook, clerk of the Township of Tisdale, formerly a Toronto barrister.

"South Porcupine, Ont., July 14.—Please advise newspapers and contributors of supplies to fire sufferers to consign same to "Township of Tisdale," where most of the sufferers reside. An irresponsible committee is soliciting supplies and money and improperly diverting donations already arrived. We will see supplies properly distributed. Please publish this. Tents, bedding and food wanted—not money."

COMMISSION IN CHARGE.

The Minister of Mines took no action as a result of this message. "The Government has handed over control of the situation to the T. & N.O. Commission. We'll stand by the Commission in everything it does, and on no account will we allow ourselves to be drawn directly into the situation."

PETERBORO' WILL HAVE A TEAM IN THE FINALS

At the football meeting Friday it was decided to enter an all Peterborough team in the finals of the Ontario Football Association which are to be played off soon. The team will probably have several of the Canadian General Electric men in the line-up.

A selection committee consisting of Messrs. Ridyard, Beck and Herbert has been appointed. Any good man in this city is eligible to play, providing his amateur standing is assured.

Considerable expense must be met with and in order to meet this about $200 must be raised during the present month. There is a club fee of $10 to be paid to the O.F.A. There is also the travelling expenses of the regular team, spares and officials to be reckoned. The sum of $50 has been donated by citizens. The names of some of these gentlemen are published below.

As an advertisement to the city, these games will be of unquestionable value.

The first game is to be played on August 12th at Riverside Park. The men in charge of the collections are of spotless integrity, so that the citizens of Peterborough may be assured of the honesty of the movement. A strict accounting will be given for all sums received and spent.

Subscriptions may be left at the Times Office or with Mr. Bedworth, 201 Rubidge street. This gentleman is well known in this city and is employed at the Canadian General Electric works. Sporting men agree that Peterborough has a good chance of winning the cup. Gold medals are also offered to the members of the winning team.

Below is given a list of subscriptions:

Mr. Fitzgerald	$10.
Mr. Cook	5.
Mr. Milburn	5.
Mr. Webb	5.

Hard Game at Riverside Park.

In the game between Peterborough and Belleville on Saturday afternoon at Riverside Park, the Petes did not come up to expectations with the Belleville nine. There were some rather costly errors made.

In the first innings, Manager Quinland made a wild throw.

Coyne of Belleville started the scoring in the first, but Murphy evened it up.

In the second no runs were made.

In the third, Ashton got home for Belleville, making it 2—1. The Petes scoring and making it a tie.

The fourth and fifth were shut outs.

In the sixth and seventh there was lots of excitement but no runs were scored.

In the eighth Rahmel crossed the plate for the Petes.

In the ninth Minorgan, of Belleville brought in another run tieing the score again.

In the extra innings, Smith of Belleville, crossed the plate, making the score 4—3.

Bowling.

Saturday afternoon at the Peterborough Bowling Club, Mr. Renick, defeated Mr. Brightman, by the score of 32—11.

Sprains require careful treatment. Keep quiet and apply Chamberlain's Liniment freely. It will remove the soreness and quickly restore the parts to a healthy condition. For sale by all dealers.

LAKEFIELD MILL WAS BURNED

During the last storm the saw mill of Mr. John McGrath was burned as a result of a spark falling among some shavings. The Lakefield fire brigade arrived but could not save the building, but they managed to protect a considerable quantity of lumber which had been piled close to the mill. The loss is estimated to be abot $2000.

The game had its humorous features owing to the teasing propensities of Mr. Renick.

The New Hat Industry

The hat factory which is likely to be located in Peterborough at an early date has several properties in view, but as yet nothing definite in this line has been decided.

A factory of this kind which would employ a number of our Peterborough men is an unquestioned value to this city both from a monetary as well as from an advertising standpoint.

Peterborough is an ideal city for this or any other large industry to locate in, because of our railroad facilities, cheap rents and central location. Four million dollars worth of hats have been imported into this country, according to Government statistics, during the fiscal year.

The proposed industry would, of course, do away with the duty of 35 per cent. which is the present rate on hats.

The company proposes to have a plant large enough to turn out over a hundred dozen hats a day.

MINERS ACTED LIKE HEROES PROTECTED WOMEN FROM FLAMES

Toronto, July 15.—How men played the part of heroes in safeguarding the womenfolk from the advancing flames, together with a modest account of his own experiences in effecting his escape, has been related by Mr. Reginald Burton, of South Porcupine, who returned to the city this morning. Mr. Reginald Burton is local secretary of the North Dome mine, and throughout his terrible experience he was accompanied by Major Smith, an ex-Imperial officer, who recently resigned his commission from the Royal West Kent Regiment to take up mining in the north country. Neither sustained injuries, although all that was left to them of their personal belongings were the clothes in which they effected their escape.

Mr. Burton stated that the reports regarding the damage done to the North Dome mine had been greatly exaggerated.

"Instead of amounting to $50,000, as one newspaper stated," he said, "actual loss will not exceed $3,000. The buildings which were burnt were the offices, cook-house and men's sleeping camp.

SKY BECAME BLACK.

As the flames advanced it became perfectly black, so dark that it was almost impossible to distinguish objects at any distance. It was then that we realized that South Porcupine was doomed.

The Italian miners on our property when they became satisfied that the flames were sweeping all before them, went down the shaft, but the foreman turned the hose on them and made them return.

Things looked ugly for some time, but a revolver in the hands of the foreman kept the unruly faction quiet.

That we could have saved everything, I firmly believe, if all hands had turned in, but many of them covered themselves with wet blankets and sat sullenly idle waiting the advent of the flames.

At the Dome, Mr. Miles and about 60 others, got into the reservoir, which had been specially constructed for fire protection, and stayed there until the flames had passed on, all being saved.

A thrilling escape was that of Mr. Meek, a party of women and which included an old lady, his mother, I think. After staying in the house until it burst into flames, they rushed to a spot where several barrels of water stood. Getting behind these the women were placed on the ground and water thrown over them. The men shielding them with their own bodies, until the worst was over. All were burnt seriously, and it is a miracle how they effected their escape.

Cuts and bruises may be healed in about one-third the time required by the usual treatment by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. It is an antiseptic and causes such injuries to heal without maturation. This liniment also relieves soreness of the muscles and rheumatic pains. For sale by all dealers.

FARM AND FIELD

THE UPKEEP OF THE SOIL.

Results of Ten Years' Experiments Successful.

Experiments have recently demonstrated the virtues of phosphorus in striking fashion. In Ohio ten-year tests have shown that a phosphorus fertiliser accompanying manures would practically double the yields of corn, wheat or hay as compared with lands where no fertilizer was used. In another instance the average yield of corn was increased nine bushels an acre when raw rock phosphate was used during the previous four or five years.

A rational and practical method of maintaining soil fertility is being rapidly established by the soil chemist and bacteriologist. It involves the use of mineral fertilizers to meet the present deficit, accompanied by proper soil management to encourage the growth of the desirable forms of germ life. Nitrogen may be supplied by growing leguminous crops or by the addition of manures from livestock. A supply of potash, if needed, may be furnished in the form of a mineral fertilizer, kainit, or, on limited areas, in wood ashes, or more concentrated forms, such as potassium chloride. Phosphorus may be supplied at a minimum cost through raw rock phosphate or other commercial forms.

The soil must be kept sweet by liming and through drainage. Proper tillage, frequent but not deep soils—will aid. The countryman may invoke the counsel of the chemist, but should test general principles by local trial before applying them on a commercial scale. Above all, the true countryman will not be niggardly with his soil, but will liberally replenish the stores from which he expects an abundant return.

AUTHORITIES REPORT ON CROP.

Prospects Good in Canada.

The seeding and growing season for the whole of Canada has opened late this year, and the month of April has been marked by hard frosts. But May has been favorable to cultivation of the land, and the rainfall has been sufficient for healthy vegetation.

Fall wheat, which is grown chiefly in Ontario and Alberta, showed an average condition of 82 per cent. at the end of April, being 89 per cent. in Alberta and 81 per cent. in Ontario. In Ontario, however, the April frosts were destructive in some regions; and from 12 to 24 per cent. of the area sown has been reported as winter-killed. The central countries, North of Lake Ontario, suffered worst, the average loss as reported being 34 per cent. In the Western counties 27 per cent. of the area in crop has been destroyed. In the Southern counties, North of lake Erie, the loss is 10 per cent.; in the Northern counties and districts, 13.6 per cent.; and in the Eastern counties, between the St. Lawrence and Ottawa rivers, 15 per cent. For the whole of Canada, the area winter-killed is reported to be 21 per cent., and the per cent. condition of the growing crop is 82.

About 12 1-2 per cent. of the clover was heaved out by the spring frosts, and the average condition of hay and clover at the end of April was 89 per cent. Alberta shows better than any other part of Canada, its average being 94 1-2 per cent. Nova Scotia comes next, with 93.75; and in Quebec, British Columbia and Saskatchewan it is 86, and in Manitoba 85 per cent.

MARKET FOR MEAT.

Argentina Finds a New Market for Its Meat.

A new market for Argentine meat has been secured in northern Italy. The mayors of Rome and 58 other cities in the northern part of Italy have combined to promote the importation of frozen meat from Argentina. Negotiations in southern Italy have similar arrangements in view for that section. Efforts are being made by the Argentine authorities to have the Swiss regulations modified so as to permit the entry of meat into that country. At present every carcass imported into Switzerland must be accompanied by the tongue, heart, liver, spleen and kidneys. It is thought that a Swiss inspector may be stationed at Buenos Ayres to pass upon carcasses intended for his country and so relieve the trade of this prohibitive order.

ONTARIO FRUIT OUTLOOK.

Ontario's orchards were not in blossom on the 8th May, when correspondents made their return to the Department of Agriculture. The season is said to be later than usual. Fruit buds, however, promise to be plentiful, and after the lean orchard yield of 1910 a liberal yield is expected. War upon scale, codling moth, and other pests is being conducted with more vigor than ever, and several correspondents point to the improved appearance of fruit trees as the result of work done in the last year or two in the way of spraying, pruning, and the better general culture of orchards. A few reports of damage to trees from mice come from some of the St. Lawrence and Ottawa countries.

NEW WAY OF CATCHING RATS.

Catching rats with oyster shells is the unique method employed by some pearlers round about Broome, West Australia. They leave a large oyster on the floor of the cabin at night. It opens for a breath of fresh air, and the smell of fresh meat attracts the rats. When the rodent thinks he'll try a little supper, the oyster suddenly decides that he doesn't like fresh air. Next morning the shell is prized open, and the dead rat thrown overboard.

Peterborough Man Fell From Train.

Information has been received by the local police that Mr. Harry Mitchell, 1023 Water street, had been admitted to the Cobourg hospital, seriously injured, as a result of a fall from a train. Mr. Mitchell had left here some days ago for Cobourg, but had not been heard from until this anxious brother had notified Chief of Police Thompson of this city, who located the injured man.

The Times learns that the unfortunate man had been standing on the rear platform of the last car and had somehow lost his balance and fell overboard. He was picked up by some section men and removed to Cobourg.

TO STOP HAT LIFTING.

To put a stop to hat-lifting as a form of salutation a league has been formed at Zurich which seeks to introduce the military form of salute. The league states that the uncovering of heads is the cause of many colds affecting mainly the older men. In Germany, Austria, and German Switzerland it is the custom for a man to hold his hat in his hand until the lady asks him to "cover" himself. A nod is generally sufficient, but some wait for a formal request.

At the Court of St. James'.

But it is not everybody who realizes that the Palace of Westminster—the correct name for the Parliamentary Houses—contains a second throne. This is placed in the King's robing room and is used by the King when he is putting on his legal garb before entering the House of Peers to read the "Speech from the Throne."

As a matter of fact, the official throne of these realms is the one at James' Palace, that very ordinary looking building at the foot of St. James' street. All ambassadors are accredited to this court, and, in the eyes of foreign governments, it stands for the majesty of Britain. Its throne is a very handsome one, and stands under a magnificent and most ornate canopy.

Though the throne at Windsor is but little used, it is unique in one respect. It is really an Eastern throne, after the style of the one we read of in the records of King Solomon, for it is composed entirely of ivory, and was the gift of one of the Princes of India.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

The Grand Trunk Pacific.

Hon. Frank Oliver, Minister of Interior, and Mr. Howard Douglass, Commissioner Dominion Parks returned to Edmonton, June 27th from a trip over the Grand Trunk Pacific Ry. to the Rocky Mountains and an inspection of Jasper Park, the new five thousand square mile National Bank. He expressed himself as highly pleased with the reserve which embraces some of the finest of the magnificent scenery for which the Canadian Rockies are famous throughout the world. Speaking of Jasper Park Mr. Oliver stated that the scenery was of a grandeur and ruggedness similar to that of Banf, the only difference being that it is on a larger scale. The valley of the Athabaska is very wide and compared with the Bow River at Banff, and the mountains are higher, and from a tourist point of view there is everything to attract. The rails of the Grand Trunk Pacific have now reached the confines of the Park.

ROYAL PORCUPINE

Quoted at 32 to 33 Cents

The stock of the Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co., we believe, will prove to be one of the greatest money makers in the wonderful Porcupine district.

Every day brings forth further evidence that the Porcupine Camp is destined to become the richest gold region in the world, and Royal Porcupine should soon take its place at the head of the great producing mines in this section.

Porcupine has the indorsement of the world's greatest authorities in gold mining, who concur in the opinion that never before have such rich showings been seen covering so great an area.

The Property

is located in the township of Tisdale and consists of eight full claims, embracing 320 acres. It is particularly well located, being only one-quarter mile south of the Porcupine Gold Mines, Ltd., and one-half mile south of the Hollinger mine, for which it is claimed there is $10,000,000 in sight. Engineers report that the Royal Porcupine property is in the famous ore zone, being on the same ledge as Hollinger and having the same formation.

A telegram from the engineer in charge of the property bears out this statement. It is as follows:—

"Porcupine, Ont., June 19, 1911.

"Vein uncovered twelve feet in width. Excellent ore body. Shaft being sunk on this vein. Property in every way most favorable.

(Signed) "JULIUS MESSER, M. E.,
"Engineer in charge of property."

Thirty men are now employed, and work on the shaft will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Four veins, varying from 12 to 100 feet in width, have already been uncovered. Assays have been made which show $50 a ton.

Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co.

is capitalized for $3,000,000; par value of shares $1.00. Full paid and non-assessable. No personal liability.

A glance at the list of directors will show the class of men who are putting in their money and time to make this one of the greatest mines in the Porcupine Camp. The directors are:—

You cannot clean carpets, rugs and furniture by beating. If you think you have, just try a KING EDWARD VACUUM CLEANER and you will find the article full of dust, which breeds disease.
The KING EDWARD HAND MACHINE has no equal as compared with other hand machines. It is lighter to operate and its suction is much stronger. Its suction is stronger than many of the power machines, and the dusting is done away with. On account of the short stroke one person can operate it on carpets and rugs equally as well as two, and it is about half the weight of other hand machines to carry up and down stairs or from one room to another. It is sold for less money than any of the hand machines. All machines are guaranteed.

NEW LEADER IN CLYDESDALE.
Scotland Produces a New Sire Horse.

The show season has come round once more and three important fixtures have been held in as many weeks. In the West of Scotland the season proper opens with Kilmarnock—noted for its display of Ayrshire cattle and Clydesdale horses — then comes the Ayr event which is followed by the Glasgow Agricultural Society's show. At the last named one finds a good turn out of horses, both light and heavy breeds being well represented, and while there is always a good display of Ayrshires, the other breeds, such as Shorthorns and Aberdeen Angus are also to the fore. The early shows have brought out a lot of promising young stock, but nothing really sensational has yet been seen. In the Clydesdale section one of the outstanding features has been the great success of the "gets" of the noted sire Baron of Buchlyvie. This horse stands absolutely without a rival as a breeding horse, and, although a young sire, his stock are coming to the front in a truly remarkable manner. Got by that grand old horse, Baron's Pride, he bids fair to rival his sire as a breeder.

Miss Dumont breathed a sigh, perhaps due to exhaustion, perhaps to relief.

"Now, Miss Dumont," said the chief "tell us all you know."

She told him all there was to tell, from the time the burglar entered her window to the time that she saw him disappear in the gloom with Cassidy and Andrews at his heels, but she said nothing about the appearance of the burglar. Burke took quick note of that.

"Just describe this man, will you miss," he requestd.

She described him—said that he was tall, well built, wore a black coat and a black hat, and in appearance was gentlemanly.

"You saw his face?" inquired Burke carelessly.

He wasn't sure she had, but he was trying the experiment.

She hesitated imperceptibly, and then answerd.

"I did. He wore a mask at first. Later he removed it. I—I turned on the light and saw his face, but only for an instant, for he sprang past me and broke the bulb. Then the police came, and he sprang out of the window."

"What did you say to the policemen at that time?" asked Burke.

"I—I forget," replied Miss Dumont. "I called out something, and then I fainted."

"You saw the burglar well, then, for a short time. What did he look like?"

"He had a black beard," she replied, "and dark eyes."

Burke leaned across the table and looked her in the face.

"Miss Dumont," he said earnestly, gazing into her yes, "do you know H. Stanleigh Storme?"

The color rose to her face as she replied:

"I do."

"Wasn't the man you saw in your room last night the man H. Stanleigh Storme?" Burke went on.

The girl raised her head and looked squarely at the man who asked the question.

"It was not H. Stanleigh Storme," she said.

"That's all," concluded Burke.

"Well," said the chief to Burke ten minutes later as they sat alone, "what do you make of it?"

Burke shook his head.

"I know that it was not Storme," he answered, "because I kept tab on Storme all night. But for that," he added, "I shouldn't place much reliance upon the girl's denial."

The chief looked quizzically at Burke. "Do you know what I think, Burke?" he asked.

Burke shook is head.

"I think," resumed the chief, with an air of conviction, "I think the girl lied, for the first time in her life. She knows more than we think."

CHAPTER XII

An Entry by the Front door, instead of through the side window.

The servants in the Dumont household had become timorous — the sensation of the night before had made them so.

The creaking of a stair or the whistling of the wind sent them into temporary spasms. They walked about the house in the broad daylight ,each one casting apprehensive glances over their shoulder, fearing that something might spring out of the dark corners to pounce upon and seize them.

This fear was intensified as night came on. They went to the front door in answer to rings of the bell in solid phalanx—none would go alone, and none would stay behind.

Miss Dumont kept to her room.

"She's the only one that ain't afraid," they said down below, "and yet they say she saw the man, too. What d'ye think of that?"

"She's feelin' pretty bad, though, all the same," suggested the cook.

"Who wouldnt," interposed the housemaid, "to lose all them jewels! I would myself."

"Lord save us!" ejaculated the cook. "Mercy on us, what's that?"

It was nothing but the ringing of the front door bell.

The phalanx — a regular formation by this time — started for the floor above. The servants peered through the glass door, unaware of the fact that though the man outside was invisible to them they were distinctly visible to him.

He smiled with amusement, and pressed the bell again. The maids jumped and shrieked and finally opened the door.

The man suspected, and Miss Dumont's own, maid stepped forward.

"Oh," she exclaimed, "it is you, Mr. Storme. Come in. We weren't sure. We've been so much afraid since the burglars broke in last night."

Storme had been about to hang up his coat, but at the girl's last words he stopped and looked her in the face.

"The burglars!" he exclaimed, "Did—did they get in? Last night?"

The girl nodded.

"He got in," she said, "and he got all Miss Dumont's jewels, too, worse luck."

"Miss Dumont!" exclaimed Storme. "Is she—that is, was anybody hurt?"

"Nobody here, sir," returned the girl, "but they do say the man himself—whoever he might be—got shot, I hope he did, for he deserves it."

Storme, to cut short a conversation which threatened to be long and tiresome—inquired if Miss Dumont were in.

She was, and the maid said she would announce his presence. She went upstairs to do it.

Storme sauntered into the little room just off the hall, where the fireplace was. He waited as he always waited, with his eyes fixed on the door.

"Miss Dumont says," announced the maid, "that she is not well tonight. She prefers not to come down stairs."

Storme looked intently at the girl. "Has—has Miss Dumont retired?" come down just for a moment or two, he asked, in a strained voice.

"Would you mind asking her to

The maid said no, she had not.

I — I particularly want to see her! Will you tell her that?"

The girl assented, and left the room Storme waited once more.

Finally she came. Storme hardly knew her, she seemed so pale and ill.

She halted on the very threshold and looked at him. Storme had started forward once again, but he checked himself.

"Helen," he said hoarsely, "Helen, what's the matter — for heaven's sake, tell me what is the matter?"

He had never seen such an expression upon her face before. What could it mean?

"Helen," he repeated gently, and with a note of pleading in his tone, "tell me what's the matter."

She put her hand up to the throat.

"Do you — do you ask me?" she queried. "After last night?"

"Last night?" exclaimed Storme uncertainly. "Last night?"

He acted for all the world like a man who had forgotten about last night.

"What happened—last night?" he queried. "What was it? Oh yes. I was called away. I had to go. I went somewhat too abruptly. I remember now."

As he spoke he looked straight at her. The light flared up and illuminated his face. And when the girl saw the expression there ,she sprang forward and buried hers upon his arm.

"Stanleigh," she cried wildly, "then you are safe—safe. You are not hurt! They told me you were shot, that—"

She broke into a storm of tumultuous sobbing.

"Your'e safe! Safe!" she kept exclaiming.

Storme waited until she had calmed down.

"I beg your pardon, Helen," he began; "I had forgotten about the burglary. It is just that and the train of thought through which it carried me, about which I had desired to speak. It is that which has unnerved you. Poor little girl! I would that I had been here to protect you."

The girl raised her head and looked at him with wide open eyes.

"Henry" she exclaimed. "Stanleigh! No—don't look at me while I talk—I can't stand it. Look at the fire Look anywhere but at me."

He obeyed her. She went on, quietly enough now but with a strange intentness in her voice.

"Stanleigh, tell me, why is that you have been doing these things Why do you commit these crimes?"

"Do these things?" exclaimed Storme. "What things—what crimes What do you mean, Helen?"

Miss Dumont did not answer.

"Where were you" she asked in measured tones, "at half past two last night—this morning, rather?"

Storme looked at her in surprise.

"Why," he returned, "at the Iroquois. I was there until three."

She nodded.

"I know that", she returned, "I know that you were supposed to be there, but where were you really? Do you know?"

Storme loked at her in a puzzled way.

"I was at the club—that's all," he answered.

She continued looking at him for a time and then uttered a little sigh which sounded like a sigh of relief But she went on, nevertheless, in a hard, cold voice.

"You were not at the club last night, at two or half past two, H. Stanleigh Storme. You were here in this very house!"

Storme looked at her curiously.

"I—was—here, in this house?" he repeated in a dazed sort of way. "In this house?"

"In this house," repeated Miss Dumont. "I saw you here."

Storme put his hand up to his head. He caught her by the arm.

"Tell me," he said with a queer look. "Did I come back? What did I do? Did the others — your guests — see me? Were they still here? Tell me about it."

"They were not here," returned she. "They had gone. You came later. A—a burglar visited us last night, and you—"

A Boon To Stock-Raisers

To Know How to Cure Colic, Distemper, Colds, Swellings, Etc. —Saves Thousands Each Year.

It is a matter of vital importance to every farmer, horse-owner and stock-raiser to know exactly what to do when one of his animals is taken suddenly sick.

The letter of Mr. Frank F. Fullerton, which we print below, gives information of inestimable value, and tells of his experience in curing ailing stock during the past thirty-eight years:

SAVED $1,000 BY NERVILINE

"Several years ago when my horses took colic I used to give them Cayenne Pepper in hot milk, but in a few cases only did it help, and because I had no proper means at hand I lost several valuable animals. Some one told me of the success Mr. Windling, of Brockville, Ont., had in his racing stables with "Nerviline," so I laid in a supply. It wasn't very long before Nerviline saved the life of a valuable stallion of mine, which was worth at least $1,000.00. This horse was taken with the colic, and would have died, had it not been for Nerviline. I have used Nerviline for reducing swellings, for taking out distemper lumps, and easing a bad cough, and always found it worked well. I recommend every man who owns horses or cattle to keep Nerviline on hand.

Mr. Fullerton is one of the best known residents of Stormont, and his recommendation as an experienced and practical horseman proved beyond question how valuable Nerviline really is.

Give Nerviline a trial. It's good for man or beast, internally or externally. 25c per bottle or five for $1.00. At all dealers or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

A SPLENDID EXAMPLE.

A father has commenced the purchase of a Canadian Government Annuity for his son of 20 under an arrangement with the son that he is to bear a portion of the expense until he, the son, is able to assume the whole payment of $50 a year, which is the amount required to be paid from 20 to 60 for 40 years to secure for the son at sixty an Annuity of $507 60. It will be seen that the total payments will amount to $2,000, and that the return each year will be over one-fourth of this amount so long as the son lives after he attains the age of 60. If he dies before the Annuity is due, all his payments with 3 per cent. compound interest up to the time of his death will be refunded to his legal representatives.

If he died at 30 they would receive	$ 590.00
If he died at 35 they would receive	967.85
If he died at 40 they would receive	1,383.80
If he died at 45 they would receive	1,877.65
If he died at 50 they would receive	2,450.00
If he died at 55 they would receive	3,113.80
If he died at 60 they would receive	3,883.15

CONNECTING THE TWO CITIES.

The Great Bridge Which Will Span Burrah Inlet Joining Vancouver and North Vancouver Closely Together.

Just at present probably the most important project in British Columbia is the great bridge which is to be built over Burrard inlet at the second Narrows connecting the city to Vancouver with the north side of the Inlet and bringing this wonderful city site into close connection with Vancouver by means of a bridge which will provide for rail, tram, vehicular and pedestrian traffic. The bridge is free except for rail traffic. Substantial assistance has been provided by both the Dominion and Provincial Governments as well as the adjacent municipalities so that the financing of the project has been covered. All other details are well in hand and actual construction of the bridge will probably be started by early fall. The opening of this bridge will bring within twenty minutes tram ride of the business centre of Vancouver a large amount of very fine property suitable for both residential and business purposes. One of the sub-divisions which will undoubtedly receive largest benefits from the construction of the bridge is that very choice property Keith Park, which is considered the finest living tract on the north shore. The situation of Keith Park at the Junction of the Keith and Pipe Line Roads makes it at present the junction spot of traffic on the Northside both east and west, as well as north and south through Seymour Valley. The opening of the bridge seems destined to build up a new town at Keith Park as it lies so that it will receive the full force of the traffic going over the bridge. The owners of Keith Park are now offering a portion of this property at prices which will be rapidly advanced when work is started on the bridge. To investors who realize the advantages of buying ahead of important developments this offer merits investigating. The present low prices and liberal terms makes it possible to make an investment that has every promise of making an early and very satisfactory return. Full information and maps may be had by addressing Keith Park Land Co., Ltd., 724 Hastings Street West, Vancouver, B.C.

CUBA WANTS HER OWN MONEY.

A bill has been introduced in the Cuban Congress providing for a system of coinage and currency for the Island. The Cubans desire to possess money of their own and not be dependent, as heretofore, upon foreign money for their circulating medium. This is evidence of a commendable national spirit.

Heretofore both Spanish and American moneys have circulated in Cuba, with Spanish coin most in favor, as is but natural, owing to the long control of Cuba by Spain. There is a tendency, however, for American money to gradually crowd out all other forms, but the Cubans believe that were they to establish a currency and coinage of their own Cuban money would rapidly replace other existing mediums of exchange.

FOR THE HOUSE WIFE

USES OF THE LEMON.

Two or three slices of a lemon in a cup of strong tea will cure a nervous headache.

A tablespoonful of juice in a small cup of black coffee will relieve a bilious headache.

The juice of half a lemon in a cup of hot water on awakening in the morning is an excellent liver corrective and successful substitute for calomel and other alterative drugs.

A dash of lemon juice in plain water makes a cleansing tooth wash, removing the tartar.

Lemon juice with olive oil is far superior to vinegar for a salad dressing—equal parts being used for blending.

Lemon juice and loaf sugar is good for hoarseness.

Outward application of the juice allays irritation caused by insect bites.

If when boiling sago or rice a teaspoonful of lemon juice is added the kernels will be whiter and a delicate flavor imparted.

Salt and lemon juice will remove rust stains from white goods.

After the juice is extracted, the rind dipped in salt cleanses brass beautifully and conveniently. It also removes unsightly stains from the hands.

Tough meat can be made tender by adding a teaspoonful of lemon juice to the water in which it is boiled.—J.B.H.

FOR THE HOUSEKEEPER.

The easiest way to grate pineapple in the home is slice the fruit carefully as described in the last issue of Cuba and to put the prepared slices through the meat chopper. Grated pineapple is easier to eat as sauce, and as it is used for culinary purposes so much more frequently than the dried fruit, a housekeeper is safe in preserving most of her pines in this form.

Pineapple Sponge.

Dissolve one half of a package of gelatine in one cupful of water. If inside of half an hour the gelatine has not dissolved, set the dish in a pan of hot water and stir briskly until none of the gelatine can be discerned. Now add two-thirds of a cupful of sugar and one-half a cupful of water to one cupful of freshly grated pineapple and boil it slowly for 10 minutes. Strain the pineapple from the juice and set the latter aside to cool. When cold, beat the juice into the gelatine and pour the mixture over the stiffly beaten whites of three eggs. One-half of a teaspoonful of lemon juice will help to bring out the pineapple flavor. Set the dish into a pan of cold water and beat the sponge until it begins to set, then pour it into a dish that has been rinsed out of cold water and set it away to harden. Serve plain or with cream.

Grape-Fruit Salads.

As a salad, grapefruit is a great success. The sections are placed on crisp lettuce leaves and covered with French dressing, rather than Mayonnaise, for half an hour before eating.

Our booklet beautifully illustrated, tells the story--contains interesting facts regarding the Grape Fruit Industry.

The figures are startling but true.

When three years old grape-fruit trees begin to bear, the crop continues to increase until the seventh year when the average amounts to between seven and twenty boxes of fruit. Grape-Fruit is usually sold on the trees at a price ranging not less than $1.00 per box. On the Manhattan Estates we will have a grove of over 40,000 trees, and our yearly crop, once maturity is reached, should average 280,000 crates annually. Between the trees we intend cultivating tobacco and pineapples from which a substantial profit will be realized within one year from the time of planting. The British-owned Western Railways run through the Estates, insuring splendid shipping facilities. The officers and directors of this company have implicit faith in this enterprise, and have agreed that no one shall receive one cent of salary until after 25 per cent. dividends have been earned and declared. They are quite willing to wait for their dividends, knowing that their investments will amply repay them.

AN INVESTMENT NOT A SPECULATION

What everybody with an ounce of common sense is on the alert for these days is a sound INVESTMENT and there is as much difference between an investment and a speculation as there is between London and Hong-Kong, although we all don't realize this.

• • • •

Consequently when one takes a chance on a speculative proposition, mistaking it as an investment and comes out of the small end of the horn, he becomes pessimistic and with the tightening of his purse strings to extremes to keep the pennies in just naturally shuts the dollars out.

• • • •

Now then if there were no investors there would be no progress, and with no progress the community would mighty soon become stagnant.

• • • •

The foundation of America, was old Christopher Columbus, he had an idea but was short on ready cash, in other words he was what us modern day folks call a promoter. His idea was feasible, he found co-operation, his plans carried and YOU KNOW THE REST.

• • • •

Like Columbus we are all Pioneers. Not out for our health, but to make money. No man ever saved more than a competence on a salary; few do that. To get a footing on "Easy Street" you have to invest. DOLLARS don't grow in your pockets or in a stocking. They must be put to work. Old Russell Sage said:

"Plant a few in a new country and see how fast they grow."

That's what we are trying to impress on you now and here is the biggest opportunity of this kind that is likely to knock at your door.

• • • •

We are the Pioneers of the fruit and vegetable canning enterprise in the Okanagan Valley and earnestly invite you to co-operate with us.

• • • •

Men at the head of affairs of this corporation are the best known and most highly esteemed gentlemen in British Columbia.

• • • •

Mr. Albert McKillop, our President, has a world wide reputation in the Timber and Timber Land World. (See R. G. Dunn).

• • • •

Mr. Wesley A. Blair, our Secretary and Treasurer, is also Cashier of the Canadian Customs, being the Government's most trusted employee. He handles on an average of $30,000.00 every commercial day of the year, and it was his fertile mind that first saw the possibilities of Canneries on the Coast, in-as-much as tens of thousands of dollars duty pass through his hands for American goods yearly. Bear in mind that there is a 2½c per pound duty on all canned stuff and RECIPROCITY or no RECIPROCITY that will stand.

• • • •

Remember we belong to no combine, have no opposition, and are pioneers in this field.

• • • •

Just think of it, The Dominion Fruit Canners cleared $400,000 last year, approximately 51 per cent. What's going to prevent the Okanagan Canners Ltd., from doing the same.

• • • •

It's a matter of record that the Kelowna district—site of our Cannery—proved positively at all the recent fruit shows that the Okanagan valley is the greatest fruit producing country in the world.

• • • •

Now, then, be up and thinking.

• • • •

We are incorporated for only $100,000.

• • • •

We are only going to let 60,000 shares out of our treasury.

• • • •

Not one of our shares has gone for promotion purposes, every share being represented by its equivalent.

• • • •

We have no salaried officials, in fact no leakages of any kind.

• • • •

A Premium of 25 per cent. will be put on this stock as soon as our cannery at Kelowna is completed, which will be at an early date, as we will handle this year's crop.

• • • •

You undoubtedly have stood silently aside and seen other opportunities vanish that your neighbor has grasped and is now realizing handsomely on and term him lucky.

• • • •

BY-LAW NUMBER 1555

A By-law to fix the assessment of The Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company (Limited).

Passed the third day of October, 1910.

Whereas The Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company (Limited) has represented to the Council of the City of Peterborough that it is the only manufacturing concern in the City of Peterborough engaged in the manufacture of locks and other articles manufactured by it, and has to compete with manufacturers in the same line of business in other places who have received and are enjoying Municipal assistance, making it difficult for the said Company to meet such competition, and has applied to the Council for a fixed assessment on the real estate, plant and business assessment of the said Company in the City of Peterborough at the sum of $25,000, and the said Council has agreed thereto and to pass this By-Law for that purpose, subject to the confirmation thereof by the Legislature.

The Corporation of the City of Peterborough, by the Council thereof, therefore enacts as follows:—

1. This By-Law shall take effect upon and only upon the confirmation thereof by the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario, and upon the said Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company (Limited) executing an agreement not to oppose the construction of any work as a local improvement abutting or fronting on, or the cost or part of the cost of which might be assessed or charged against the property in Section 2 hereof described, or any part thereof, that the said Council may desire to construct under the provisions of the Municipal Act relating to local improvements.

2. The assessment of the following lands in the City of Peterborough owned, occupied and used by The Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company (Limited) and being Lot Number Four north of Simcoe Street and west of George Street, and that part of Lot Number Three north of Simcoe Street and west of George Street described as follows:—Commencing on the western limit of the said Lot Number Three, at a point seventy-seven feet six inches north from the south-west angle thereof; thence northerly along the said western limit of the said lot to the northern limit thereof; thence easterly along said northern limit eighteen feet; thence south and parallel to the western limit of said lot to a point seventy-seven feet six inches north of said Simcoe Street; thence westerly and parallel to the southern limit of the said lot to the place of beginning while used exclusively for the manufacturing purposes of the Company, or the part so used for such manufacturing purposes, and the buildings, plant, machinery and fixtures thereon, and the business assessment there of on which taxes are to be levied, shall be fixed and remain fixed while the same are so used, and while at least an average of one hundred hands are employed therein for at least ten months of each year, at the sum of $25,000 for a period of ten years from the first day of January, 1911, and the return and oath of the assessor or assessors in respect thereof shall be amended accordingly, but the same shall, for school purposes, be and remain liable to assessment and the payment of school taxes and rates to as full an extent as if this By-Law had not been passed, and the assessment for school purposes and the school rates and taxes shall be made, levied and collected thereon in accordance with the provisions of the general law in that behalf, and the said lands shall also be liable for all frontage and local improvement assessments, rates and taxes that are now or may hereafter be charged against the same, and any buildings on the said lands not used exclusively for the business of the Company, and the land appurtenant to same shall not be included in the fixed assessment hereunder, but such buildings and land, while not used as aforesaid, shall be assessed as provided by the Assessment Act then in force; provided, however, that if the said Company shall at any time within the said term of ten years fail or neglect to operate and carry on the said manufacturing establishment substantially to the capacity thereof, and therein to employ at least an average of one hundred hands during at least ten months in each year, then such fixed assessment shall cease, and the taxes and rates on the said lands, buildings, plant, machinery and fixtures and on the business assessment thereof shall be and become payable to the same amount and in the same manner as if this By-Law had not been passed; provided always that if the failure to carry on the said business is due to strikes or destruction of the buildings, plant, machinery or fixtures by fire or tempest, the time during which the said business shall so cease to be carried on in consequence of such strikes, or destruction of the buildings, plant, machinery or fixtures (not exceeding in either case one year) shall not be taken as a failure or neglect to carry on the said business, so as to disentitle the said Company to such fixed assessment.

3. The said Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company (Limited) shall, prior to the first day of March in each year, file with the City Clerk a statutory declaration, made by an officer of the Company, who shall therein state his knowledge of the facts, proving that the said Company has complied with and is observing all the terms, conditions and provisions of this By-Law, and on the neglect of the said Company to furnish such declaration it shall be prima facie taken that such terms, conditions and provisions have not been performed, observed and kept, and the said fixed assessment shall cease, and the taxes and rates shall be and become payable to the same amount and in the same manner as if this By-Law had not been passed.

BY-LAW NUMBER ____

A By-Law to authorize the borrowing of the sum of $24,000 for the purpose of paying for land acquired or to be acquired for public parks or squares in or adjoining the eastern, southern and western portions of the City of Peterborough.

Passed the ____ day of ____ 1911

WHEREAS it is in the interest of the citizens of the City of Peterborough that parks or squares for the use of the general public should be established in or adjoining the eastern, southern and western portions of the City, and it is estimated that the cost of purchasing and improving the real property required therefor will be the sum of $24,000, and it is necessary in order to enable the Council to raise the said sum to pass a By-Law authorizing the same, which said sum of $24,000 is the amount of the debt intended to be created by this By-Law.

AND WHEREAS in order to raise the said sum of $24,000 it will be necessary to issue debentures of the Corporation of the City of Peterborough therefor.

AND WHEREAS the amount of the whole rateable property of the Municipality according to the last revised assessment roll liable to assessment for Municipal purposes is the sum of $8,873,145.

AND WHEREAS the amount of the existing debenture debt of the Municipality, exclusive of local improvement debts payable by local special rates but including the debt of $462,000 incurred for the purchase and improvement of the waterworks, is the sum of $1,181,438.49 and there is no part of the principal or interest in arrear.

AND WHEREAS it will require the sum of $1080 to be raised annually for a period of thirty years, the currency of the debentures to be issued under and by virtue of this By-Law to pay the interest of the said debt to be created hereby, and the sum of $428 to be raised annually during the said period for providing a sinking fund for the payment of the said debt at the maturity thereof—such last mentioned sum being sufficient with the estimated interest on the investment thereof to discharge the said debt when the same becomes payable, making in all the sum of $1508 to be raised annually as aforesaid by special rate upon the whole rateable property of the Municipality.

POWDER PAPER BOOKS.

A book of powder paper is always a luxury in travelling, and one of these books, which costs but a quarter encased in a dainty linen cover or a cover of ribbon or silk, will immediately find its place among the toilet articles in the dressing bag.

Still another convenience for the traveller is a collection of small chamois lined silk or linen bags, in which to keep when not in use the coin of different countries. A tourist in these days of rapid locomotion will often cross the borders of three or four countries where different money will be needed in each place. The name of the coin should be marked on each bag, as, for example, French, German, Italian, and so on. Instead of the bags a collection of five or six tiny leather purses will make a welcome gift, but these purses should all be stamped or burned with the names of the various countries which the tourist is to visit.

Mark Twain said:
"A beautiful sunset made Berenger a poet; a mother's kiss made Benjamin West an artist, and fifteen dollars a week makes us a journalist."

TENT CATERPILLARS.

One often finds in May or June, on the limbs of apple and wild cherry trees, compact, silken nests, or tents, containing a large number of handsome caterpillars. These are the insects which have been known for many years as tent caterpillars.

The eggs are deposited during July in compact masses around the twigs. After they are laid the parent moth secretes a viscid liquid which hardens over the eggs as a protection. The insects remain in this state until the following spring, when they hatch into young caterpillars.

These insects feed on the foliage for about six weeks, until they become fully developed, when they leave the tree and seek some place to pupate in. Two or three weeks later the moths appear, and in a short time deposit the eggs, after which they soon die. Thus there is but one brood each season.

PROPOSING TO A GIRL.

German Professor Gives Statistics About the Gentle Art.

A German calculator says that 36 per cent of the suitors press the hand of the fair one, 24 per cent conclude their avowal with an embrace, 4 per cent kiss the hair, 2 per cent kiss the hand, 2 per cent fall on their knees, and 20 per cent are so nervous that they feel a lump in the throat which they find almost prevents speech.

Ten per cent of the men are so overcome that they cannot speak at all, but open and shut their mouths without producing a sound, and 2 per cent make their proposals standing one foot.

As regards the women, 60 per cent sink helpless into the lover's arms, 20 per cent blush and hide their faces, 1 per cent faint away, 4 per cent are genuinely amazed, 14 per cent gaze silently into the suitor's eyes, and 1 per cent run away to tell a girl friend.

The great statistician, however, omits to tell us how he obtained his figures.

UNIVERSITY OF FRANCE.

Essentially the Same Today as When Established by Napoleon.

In the United States there are many universities which are free from state control, but in France there is only one university, and it is an absolute instrument of the state. It is true that there are schools of higher learning, which were founded in 1870 as universities, but five years afterward the title was withdrawn, and they are now called "institute." They are five in number and are located in Paris, Lille, Lyons, Toulouse and Angers.

But the University of France is an entirely different organization. It is one official school. It is controlled in Paris and has under it a vast multitude of establishments, faculties, colleges and primary schools, distributed over the whole surface of the country. Directly or indirectly they all depend on the government.

The university was established by Napoleon, and in spite of certain modifications which it has undergone during years it is the same today in its essential elements as the day he founded it. Just as he established the entire civil administration, with its prefects, subprefects, judges, ministers of finance, so he created in 1808 this vast educational organization, with its countless professors, who control the entire intellectual training of France.—America.

RAILWAYS AND DOGS.

Alike in One Respect in Sardinia, That Both Are Perils.

Sardinia is an island of many perils. One of them, we gather from the experience of Mr. Crawford Flitch, the author of "Mediterranean Moods," is the railways. "The engine," he says,

BRITISH STANDARD BEARER.

Lieutenant Harrison, the tallest officer in the British Army, will carry the standard of the Royal Horse Guards Blue in the Coronation procession. The standard was presented to the Blues by King William on August 13th, 1831, Queen Adelaide's birthday. The last time it was carried was the first Jubilee of Queen Victoria, when the Queen went from Slough to Windsor.

AFRICANS LIKE UNIFORMS.

Much money is made out of cast-off police uniforms. Quantities are bought by African traders and exported to various parts of the "Dark Continent," where they are exchanged for palm-oil, ivory, skins, and other merchandise. It is by no means an uncommon sight to see a swarthy savage dressed in the uniform of a policeman, and wearing the regulation helmet of the force.

Stories of the Prince of Wales.

Many quaint and amusing anecdotes are related of the Prince of Wales as a small child, one being that he and his sister and brothers were invited out to tea at some Court lady's house, and when the hour for departure came he could nowhere be found to say good-bye to his hostess.

On investigation it was discovered that he had hurried downstairs alone to secure what he considered his proper place in the carriage.

It is also reported of him that, on his first attending afternoon church one Sunday, he remembered how often he had been told to thank his entertainers for their hospitality; so on this occasion he looked anxiously about for someone to be grateful to. The only person who came handy was the verger, who, rather to his dismay, had his hand grasped by the little prince, and was informed in a childish voice:—

"Thank you so much for a very pleasant afternoon!"

SOME REMARKABLE INSURANCE.

Lloyds Underwriters Will Take All Kinds of Risks.

Some remarkable underwriting business in fancy risks have been done by Lloyd's in connection with the coronation. Large insurances have been effected by traders whose interests are bound up with the coronation, and ten per cent has been paid to cover a claim should the ceremony not take place before the end of the year. In one or two cases policies have been taken out on the joint lives of the King and Queen until the end of the year, at the rate of four guineas per cent, whilst a "Royal Family" risk has been accepted, insuring the lives of the King and the Queen and their children for the same period, the premium in this instance being ten guineas per cent. A possible change of route for the coronation procession has also come within the speculative scope, though the premiums are small.

To pay a loss if there is a general election before March 31, 1912, twenty-five guineas per cent is quoted, and five per cent has been accepted to cover the payment of a claim should Mr. Lloyd George become prime minister on or before December 31 next. This risk has been written several times, but the amounts involved are not large.

The next budget has also been the basis of speculative business of this nature at Lloyd's.

The last rate quoted to pay a loss in the event of the duty on sugar being abolished was twenty guineas per cent, whilst several policies to cover a reduction in the tea duty have been taken out at twenty-five guineas per cent, the equivalent premium for coffee and cocoa being thirty-five guineas per cent. The possibility of an increase in the cost of license is apparently considered remote, seeing that a policy for this risk can be got at twenty per cent.

By far the largest amount of speculation has, however, been done in connection with the income tax, and a rate as high as fifty guineas per cent has been charged on a policy to pay a total loss only in the event of no alteration being made in the present charges.

THE CHOICE OF DEATH.

Condemned Murderers Prefer Shooting to Hanging.

Why do condemned murderers prefer shooting in preference to hanging? Since the State of Utah passed a law giving convicts this choice, Arthur Pratt, warden of the Utah State prison, has not had one who would go to the gallows. On one occasion a murderer refused to make a choice, and the judge sentenced him to be hanged.

"Utah had a law which allows a condemned murderer to choose either hanging or shooting as a mode of dying," said Warden Pratt. "This work is done by the sheriffs of each county, but in the penitentiary yard. So far we have not had a man who has chosen hanging. Once a murderer refused to make a choice, and the judge sentenced him to be hanged. Shooting is the more humane. It is painless and instantaneous. The condemned man is led to the prison yard, seated on a chair, and, if he desires, is blindfolded. Five men armed with rifles are then marched to within ten paces of the man. Four of the rifles contain ball cartridges. The fifth has a blank shell. A target is pinned over the heart of the condemned man, all five guards take careful aim, and at a signal the volley is fired. The ordeal is over in a few moments, whereas in hanging the suspense and suffering last for many minutes."

Experiments Prove That Silage Has Great Advantage Over Roots as Economical Feed.

The Dominion Experimental Farm is showing its worth to farmers by its practical experiments and even more so than its recent trials in stock feeding.

In a series of experiments conducted for two years under the direction of J. H. Grisdale, director of the Dominion Experimental Farm, it has been found that silage has a great advantage over roots as an economical sheep feed. Duplicating the experiment of the preceding year, twenty-seven lambs of uniform weight were divided into three groups of nine each and fed different rations, from which to form a basis of the experiment. No. 1 group was fed on clover hay, meal and turnips; lot No. 2 on clover hay, meal and silage, the latter replacing the turnips, and No. 3 group was fed on clover hay, meal, turnips and ensilage mixed.

WHY ARE THE LARGE INVESTORS ALL OVER CANADA AND THE UNITED STATES BUYING MONTREAL REAL ESTATE?

If Western land or speculative stocks were considered better,-- is it reasonable to suppose that these careful financiers whose knowledge of Canadian conditions is beyond a doubt-would buy Montreal Real Estate ?

To the men of good judgment,— these questions do not require an answer.

YOU KNOW Montreal is the largest City in the Dominion.

YOU KNOW that the population is increasing yearly at the rate of about 50,000.

YOU KNOW these people have to have homes.

Taking the above facts into consideration, what do you consider, looking in the most conservative way possible, ANGUS PARK LOTS will be worth in four years' time?

Taking the past advances in MONTREAL REAL ESTATE as an example, these lots will be worth over a hundred per cent. (100 per cent.) more in that time.

We have a limited number of lots situated on ANGUS PARK BOULEVARD, which we can offer you at to-day's low prices, and on terms that will not cripple your finances, and by the time your lots are fully paid for you will have saved not only the cost of the land but the increase in value, thereby making your investment many hundred per cent. (100 per cent.) better than a Savings Bank account and much safer.

Do not delay till this opportunity has escaped you, but call in and see us, or drop us a line and we will send you full particulars together with our application forms. The prices range from $100 per lot upwards and the terms 10 per cent. cash, and the balance 10 per cent. every three months without interest.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

WHY GO TO ALASKA TO INVEST IN OIL?

During the past month we have beenpresenting to the readers of The Morning Times, and the public in general, an offer which for SAFETY and CERTAINTY OF RESULTS in the form of DIVIDENDS and ENORMOUS PROFITS is well nigh UNPRECEDENTED.

In Southwest Colorado, in Mountezuma County, near Mancos, nature has placed RICH OIL FIELDS which promise to be the cause of the MOST STUPENDOUS BOOM COLORADO HAS HAD SINCE THE EARLY GOLD DAYS.

We own and control 8,500 acres of land in this section which experts assure us are positively gusher producing properties,

We have bought and paid for all the machinery necessary for drilling. We do not owe one cent. If you invest with us you have behind your investment not only enormous land values but machinery the value of which is fully $8,000.

For the ordinary investor this would be security enough but we have made the safest investment proposition that ever was offered, for, besides these rich Mancos Oil Fields we also own 2,560 acres in the proven oil field of San Juan, Utah; also 1,920 acres in the Great Montezuma District of Colorado, and fifty acres of rich mining ground in the La Plata District, for which we have been offered Ten Thousand Dollars spot cash.

Investments in the stock of our Company participate in the profits of all these properties. The Mancos Oil and Development Company promises to and will give the public a "square deal" Every acre of oil land and mining property which it owns or will acquire belongs to its stockholders.

MR. BURT H. MASON, the president and organizer of the Company, is a mining engineer of enviable reputation the officers of the Company are well-known business men and bankers of Southwestern Colorado. If any misrepresentation has been made we guarantee to return every dollar you pay us and all expenses to which you may have been put for investigation.

The price of stock is Twenty-five Cents a share, which can be paid on monthly installments if desired. If further information be desired it will be cheerfully given.

QUEEN CHARLOTTE

The Capital City of the Islands

THE LAST WEST

The only town on Graham Island that has a monthly pay roll, and the only sawmill shipping lumber to foreign ports.

The only town having a railway gazetted to its very doors on the island.

The only city on Graham Island having electric light, city water, miles of sidewalks, churches, school, hospital, postoffice, first-class drug store billiard hall, city hall, hotels, boarding house, barber shop and other general stores, and the only newspaper published on the Island, the Queen Charlotte News.

We are positively the centre of all the vast wealth of the entire Islands, including farm lands, timber lands, coal and metalliferous mines. These products must come out at Queen Charlotte City, through the Honna River Valley, and through which the Island Railway must run according to charters already granted.

The combined townsite interests cover one thousand acres, of which five hundred are practically level alluvial soil with no rocks.

A fine water power from the Honna River, good drainage and the best harbor on the entire Islands.

Our lots are all 50 feet by 120 feet, ranging in price from $150 to $300; one-third cash, balance on time at 6 per cent., or deeds can be had at once if desired.

Fully 200,000 acres of farm lands, suitable for mixed farming, only await the hand of man, a large portion of which is already located.

The verdure clad mountains are vast treasure vaults of gold, copper, silver and other precious metals, while our valleys are underlaid with a wealth of the finest coal and covered with a vast forest of spruce, hemlock and yellow cedar. These, coupled with our fisheries, are at the very doors and within sight of Queen Charlotte City.

Taking all these facts into consideration, and with the present progress being made in developing our resources, which are at the gateways of transportation both by water and railway, with the advent of the completion of the Grand Trunk Railroad, Queen Charlotte City is destined to be one of the province's most prosperous cities.

It is owned largely by the wealthiest and most honorable men of our province, who would not be a party in misrepresenting facts and are prepared to endorse every statement herein made.

The townsite company are now offering a further 75 lots on Second avenue at a very low price and on easy terms, if taken at once, and under conditions that will make you a 100 per cent. on your investment in 90 days, for 20 per cent. of the gross proceeds will be used by letting a contract for the clearing and grading of Second avenue from Third street west. The company guarantees to advance the remaining 75 unsold lots on Second avenue from $150 to $225 as soon as the first 75 have been sold. The company is making this effort in order to join with the government in making Second avenue the trunk road through the townsite from the Wilson-Robinson coal fields, Honna River Valley, Lawn Hill and Miller Creek districts. Now you can secure any unsold lot on Second avenue, including fourteen in Keith's addition, to-day for $150, except corners, on easy terms, 1-4 cash, balance 6, 12 and 18 months at 6 per cent. This will positively be your last chance for a cheap lot in Queen Charlotte City, for every lot in the townsite will surely go from $500 to $1000 when the public realize that in the Island River railroad from Queen Charlotte to the head of Masset Inlet is to be started this summer, in addition to the present work already outlined, thus giving work to an army of men. There are at least 5000 citizens of Vancouver who have invested in the various resources of the islands. Conclusive evidence of these facts, a landscape drawing of the townsite and a portion of Graham Island coupled with an illustrated edition of the resources of the islands can be seen at the office of J. J. Miller, 82 Hastings street, Vancouver, B. C., Agent for Vancouver, and plans at offices of "Times", Peterboro'.

TEMPER.

"I know I have a temper," I heard a girl say the other day; "but, at any rate, I'm not sulky." And from the tone in which she said it, one would have thought that a temper was something to be proud of, so long as it wasn't a sulky one.

As temper ages people, and leaves more lines on the face than almost any other thing, it isn't very wise to indulge in it at all. And there is another side of the picture, too. The people we live with have to be considered to some extent, and if we could only realize all the pain we give those near and dear to us when we indulge in fits of temper, we should surely try to get out of this bad habit. Life is too short to spend in wounding people unnecessarily, so the sooner we give up doing it, the better.

ABOUT COREA.

Corea is the land of queer customs. One is that the children in school use sand boxes instead of slates. They use the difficult Chinese characters and have to learn them as early in life as we do the alphabet. They make the character in the sand with a stick and then shuffle the box and make another.

There are many "little mothers" in Corea, for babies are mostly given over to older girls to be cared for. A broad sash or strip of cloth is tied around the waist of the little mother, and the baby is tucked snugly within its folds. It keeps its place during all the games of the children and seems as contented and happy as possible.

Some cases of blackleg have appeared among the cattle in Peterborough County.

"Love, Laughter and Life"

HOW THE MOTHER CAN KEEP YOUNG

The greatest cause of the mother's worn look is the want of sleep. Insomnia is the greatest enemy of the face, as well as the entire health and nervous system. If you want to look healthy, with a clear skin, bright eyes, and an elastic step, put away all the daily troubles and worrying thoughts at bedtime. It is perhaps difficult to put away the worries of the day, but it is a matter entirely of self-control, and a simple motto should be remembered: "Sleeping time must not be thinking time." Fresh air is an important rule, and never work, sit, or sew, in a room that has not fresh air coming into it. The bath is one of the essentials for the complexion. A warm plunge bath at the end of the day, and a stimulant will be given to the circulation and skin if a plentiful supply of cold water is used on the morning. Don't worry. Remember there are no ills so hard to bear as those which never materialize. Keep sunny; not merely when fortune smiles, but when the dark clouds gather. There is nothing like inner sunshine as a life brightener and health maker. If you do not believe that cheerfulness makes for health and happiness, try living up to these rules. Perhaps they cannot all be kept at once, but make a beginning now.

SILVER AND BLUE EVENING GOWN

One of the daintiest evening gowns is a combination of silver and blue patterned on lines set forth in the above cut. The skirt foundation is a lovely shade of pale blue satin, over which is artistically draped a tunic of silvery morquisette. The marquisette is also used for the bodice and sleeves, the latter finishing with a double frill of fine white lace. The clever handling of a silver chiffon fichu makes it the most attractive feature of the gown, falling as it does to the bottom of tunic. A wide band of lace heads the deep hem on each end, and a garland of tiny pink chiffon roses encircles the bodice in the manner shown. The coiffure ornament is a band of silver gauze ribbon, edged with crystal bead fringe, finished on the right side with a wreath of roses matching those on the bodice.

FIFTEEN MILLION ROSES

The rose gardens at the White City, Shepherd's Bush, this year, will, it is claimed, be the finest in the world. Messrs. Paul are laying them out on an elaborate plan. One design represents a coronet with a white crown, salmon pink and scarlet base, and centres of a brilliant orange scarlet. Large stars will be made of the scarlet American rose "Richmond," and some trees of "Juliet" roses, fiery scarlet and yellow, gloriously scented, have been planted. It is estimated that the rose gardens will show at least fifteen million blooms.

WAS SHE FORTY-FOUR?

A young man had just chaffingly declared that a woman could not keep a secret.

"Oh, I don't know!" said the lady. "I've kept my age secret ever since I was twenty-four."

"Yes," he replied; "but one of these days you will give it away. I am as sure of it as that I am standing here."

"Well," she said, with confidence, "I think that when a woman has kept a secret for twenty years, she comes pretty near knowing how to keep it."

HINTS ON CLEANING

Some Information of Value to the Good Housekeeper

A Piece of Camphor kept with the silver which is not in constant use will keep it from tarnishing.

Coffee is a Good Disinfectant. A little burned on hot coals will purify a sick room and abolish bad smells.

Kettles may be thoroughly cleaned by boiling a few potato peelings in them. They should be afterwards thoroughly rinsed.

When Washing valuable china or cut glass it is a good plan to place a heavy Turkish towel at the bottom of the basin. This prevents all danger of the china and glass getting chipped.

Wipe all Knives in paper before washing them, and they should be cleaned as soon as washed by rubbing them with a cork dipped in very slightly moistened knife-powder, and then dusted.

Marble Mantelpieces will look like new after this treatment: Dissolve an ounce of soda in a quarter of a pint of water and add to it enough whiting to make a paste. Rub this well into the marble, and when dry wash it off with clean water.

It is not Generally Known that a slice of lemon put into the copper when boiling clothes will make them beautifully white and take all the stains out of pocket handkerchiefs and children's pinafores. Cut the lemon with the rind into slices, and let it remain in the boiler till the clothes are ready to come out.

Marks on Kitchen Walls which have been caused by carelessly striking matches on them will disappear if rubbed first with the cut surface of a lemon, then with a clean cloth dipped in whiting. Afterwards wash the surface with warm water and soap, and then quickly wipe with a clean cloth wrung out of clear water.

If you Want your sewing machine to do satisfactory work, remember that it requires to be kept clean. After every ten hours' work it needs oil, but the surplus oil should be carefully wiped off, or the work will be stained. Always work it steadily, and never start or stop with a jerk. The best way to finish off a machine seam is to turn the material round and stitch back for about an inch. This saves tying the threads, which takes up a lot of time, especially if there be many seams.

CUTS PIE FAIRLY

Machine Divides It Into Six Equal Pieces at One Stroke

No more will the restaurant Romeos wrangle because Florence, the belle of pie jugglers, shows partiality. A heartless machine has been invented that insures peace in the lunch counters of America by dividing every pie into six equal parts with a mathematical precision that admits of no dispute. The machine consists of a plate with a jointed handle curving over it. Depending from the handle are six knives, arranged like the spokes of a wheel, on a spring device, which gives resiliency to the stroke. The pie is placed on the plate of the machine and the handle pressed down. The knives divide the pie into six pieces at one blow, and not only cuts each piece exactly the same size, but saves the time required to divide the pie with an ordinary knife. Hotels and restaurants will find one of these implements indispensable.

Contingent Man's Opinion.

The Times learns from a member of the Coronation contingent that the men themselves were very well satisfied with their trip. This gentleman said: "If the Non.-Coms. and men had been asked what they thought men had been asked what they thought of the trip, they would say that Kitchener gave the Canadians the best place on the whole route to see the procession." This representative said that he, at least, was very well satisfied with the trip.

Suffered From Violent Catharitics

THE WARNING OF MRS. GEO. C. FOX IS ONE THAT SHOULD BE HEEDED BY ALL.

Few men on the road are better known than genial George Fox, whose friends throughout the West are legion. In the following letter he expresses gratitude for signal services rendered by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. He goes on to say: "Until I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills and experienced their wonderful mildness and curative power, I estimated the value of every pill by its activity. Talking about this to a well-known physician I met on the train the other day, he explained there are different kinds of drugs that act upon the bowels, the most active being known as drastic. Except in extreme cases where the life of the patient depends upon speedy evacuation of the bowels, pills should never be drastic. Purgatives cause catarrh of the bowels and inflammation; their dose must be increased, causing even more harm. With such a clear explanation I could see why Dr. Hamilton's Pills are curative and not irritating, why they are mild, yet most searching.

"From my experience I recommend everyone that takes pills to give up the old-fashioned harsh, purging pill, and, instead, to use Dr. Hamilton's. They cure headache, biliousness, constipation, bad stomach and keep the system in perfect condition."

Refuse any substitute for Dr. Hamilton's Pills; sold for 25c. all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

On Saturday the Dan Spence ambulance met the G.T.R. 6.30 train and the attendants removed from it Mr. Harry Mitchell who was injured some days ago by falling from a train, and conveyed him to his home in this city.

Ambulance Gets a Call.

On Saturday, at about 8.30, the Dan Spence ambulance was called to the Canadian General Electric Works where Mr. C. Fraser had one of his fingers taken off while working near machinery. The injured man was removed to Nicholls Hospital.

Entrance Results Not Ready.

The Times learns that the results of the High School entrance examinations are not yet ready, though they are expected to be out soon. The results are delayed because of certain recommendations which must be dealt with by the Minister of Education.

Another Blacklister Caught.

On Saturday night at about 12.30 N. B. Mowry, a blacklister, considered an opportune time to let the public know that he had succeeded in getting a beautiful "jag" on. He chose Homewood avenue as the place of his exploits, but the first man he met happened to be an officer, who promptly gathered him in.

George Street Aroused.

Last Saturday night John Foley commenced to wake up Peterborough in the vicinity of George and McDonnell streets. He unfortunately met a police officer wh was already very much awake, but didn't like the efforts of the deluded one to break up the slumbers of the residents. Therefore he took the gentleman under his wing and escorted him to a nice comfortable cell.

Y. M. C. A. Senior Camp.

The Y.M.C.A. Senior Camp left on Saturday at 7 o'clock for Stoney Lake and Juniper Island. Twelve of the young men were in the party which was under the leadership of S. R. "Sandy" Hall. The object of the camp is principally to fish, and no doubt, collect fish stories. The boys will be away for two weeks. Judging by the food list it looks as if they expect to have appetites by the time they go into camp. They are sure of having a good time when under the leadership of Mr. Hall.

Accident at Brock and Aylmer Sts. Tennis.

Yesterday morning at about 10.30 three young men were riding horses bareback down Aylmer street at a hard gallop, when one of the horses in trying to turn into Brock street, fell carrying his rider under him. The other young men, whose names could not be learned, dismounted and helped the injured man to his feet. Fortunately he was only bruised on the legs, but was badly shaken up. He was helped to remount and the three young men slowly rode away.

Suffering From Blood Poison.

Mr. R. G. Sturgeon, the well-known plumber, contracted blood-poison in his right arm while engaged on a contract which he had in Campbellford. It became so bad that the doctor there ordered him to return home. His many friends will be pleased to know that the swelling is subsiding and he is gradually recovering.

Narrow Escape at Porcupine.

Another miraculous escape is noted from the Porcupine disaster. Mr. C. H. Reid, 559 Reid street, was at the Big Dome mine when the fire cut off their escape. A large reservoir was situated in a clearing, and in this Mr. Reid and a number of other men took refuge. They were obliged to stand for a considerable time in the water, while the fire raged about them. The suffering of the men was awful, but at length the huge fire swept past and they were enabled to leave their refuge.

A Lucky Fisherman.

Mr. Harry Barrett, 492 Cedar street, caught a 12¼ pound lunge in the Little Lake on Saturday afternoon. He used an artificial fly and also caught several other fish.

A Floating Island.

A floating "island" about four acres in extent sailed down Chemong Lake on Thursday last, and threatened destruction to the bridge over the lake. The island consists of grass and sea-weed strongly grown together which makes it quite solid. These "islands" form every once in a while at the mouth of Emily Creek, and are driven out into the lake by high winds. The Government steamer, Bessie Butler, is engaged in breaking the island up, a task which is quite a formidable one. Our back lakes have many attractions for tourists and others, but Chemong Park certainly has one that is of more than surpassing interest.

PLUCKY MOTHER AND CHILDREN ALL SURVIVED THE FLAMES

MADAME VALLEE PROTECTED HER SEVEN-MONTHS-OLD BABY WITH HER BODY.

A Couple of the Children Slightly Burned as They Lay in Ditch—Not a Cry out of Them.

Porcupine, July 14.—In a tent at South Porcupine, provided by the Relief Committee, Madame Louis Vallee and eight children are taking refuge. Louis Vallee is a carpenter, who was employed at the Big Dome. He sent his family out to Golden City by the T. & N.O. right-of-way, and stayed with the Dome employes to fight the fire. His wife and eight children were overtaken by the hurricane half-way into town, a distance of six or seven miles. The construction gang on the railway at this point buried them in the ditch at the side of the right-of-way. They lay with their faces in the mud. The men threw seepage water on them, and the blast of fire leaped the track and seized upon the bush afew feet from where they lay. The second youngest child, a little girl of three, went to sleep in the mud, and one of her feet was burned, and her hair took fire. The mother lay with her five-months old baby under her, cuddled in her arms. She says none of the children even the baby, uttered a cry. Mary, the eldest was burned on the hand and arm. The mother escaped with a burn on the elbow. The family consisted of six girls and two boys, ages ranging from 16 to 5 months.

"I tak my baby lak dis," illustrated Madame Vallee bowing her shoulders over the child. "We all lay in a bunch together."

They all camped yesterday in the dust and ashes of South Porcupine, quite well and perfectly happy, the children playing with dolls' dishes found in the ruins of Kennedy's store.

The construction men saved themselves in the mud also, throwing water on themselves at intervals.

BUGLE BAND MOONLIGHT

Last night the members of the 57th Regimental Bugle Band held their annual moonlight in the chartered steamer "Stoney Lake."

They went as far as Hall's Bridge and the boys enjoyed themselves all the way home, fine selection were rendered by Mr. Bevey's orchestra on the way.

The band boys were acting in the capacity of hosts and therefore were not playing. They were most successful as waiters, looking spick and span in their tunics with well polished buttons and no one who partook of the refreshments, had any fault to find with the way they were served.

Major Clegg, O.C., and many of his officers were present by special invitation of the band.

This moonlight was even more successful than the last. The boat carried a large number, every one of whom was delighted with the trip.

Sergeant Sharp is to be commended on the showing his band made last night.

Corp. Fitzgerald was Secretary-Treasurer and was a very busy man for the best part of the evening.

The proceeds are to go to the band for athletic expenses, etc.

PUBLIC OPINION

The Times does not hold itself responsible for opinions of its correspondents.

A LARGER SEWER.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I think it has been amply demonstrated that The Times was right in opposing the paving of George street last year, when this was attempted by certain members of the Council, in view of the sewer conditions. I understand what is known as the "outfall sewer" down George street is only four feet square. The result is that it is unable to carry off the water after a rain storm. After the last big storm the cellars that had connected with the sewer below Charlotte street, were flooded. The water backed up because it could not get away, filling the cellars to a depth of two or three feet. This means that an eight foot sewer at least will be required before any paving can be done.

The sooner the Council deals with this matter the better.

A Sufferer.

BUILDING UP OUR TOWN.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—All patriotic citizens should unite in promoting the growth and development of our city. We cannot sometimes do much, but we at least can all help to keep it beautiful. Our streets and lanes should be kept clean and tidy and the lawns clipped and neatly raked. I would suggest to our worthy Mayor the propriety of having the poles removed from George street. We never can look like anything else than a clumsy country town as long as these poles disfigure the street. I am sure if Mayor Morrow took up this matter he would easily succeed in getting them removed.

FALLACIES ABOUT HEALTH

FULLER KNOWLEDGE OF THE BODY NEEDED.

Thousands of useful lives are yearly sacrificed just because people lack knowledge of dimple things about the body.

We must remember that little failures of the stomach kidneys, or liver bring about lack of nutrition. At first the body bends before its burden, but finally it breaks down.

Health depends upon unity of action between all the organs, and in no way can it be secured more satisfactorily than by the use of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. From the blood they remove every impurity,—to the stomach they impart digestive power, to the bowels they ensure painless and thorough action.

It is easy to see how quickly Dr. Hamilton's Pills will restore health, how surely the system will rebuild, gain strength and endurance. For general family use in the cure of languor, headaches, weak stomach backache and kidney complaint no medicine ranks with Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they will make you look and feel always your best. Refuse any substitute for Dr. Hamilton's Pills; 25c per box, all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Canada.

Evening Telegram to be Published Sunday.

Beginning Sunday, July 16th, the New York Evening Telegram will begin the publication of a Sunday paper which will be essentially a newspaper in every detail, containing regular editorial, woman's, sporting, live news pages, and full cable and telegraphic reports of all important news events both in the United States and Europe. Particular attention will be paid by the Sunday Evening Telegram to important sporting events, which will be covered in detail. There have been at various times attempts made to publish mediocre extras on Sunday, but this is the first time that one of the big evening newspapers in New York has contemplated seriously the publication of a regular Sunday newspaper.

THE HOUSE AT OTTAWA RESUMES WORK TODAY

EVERYONE IS GUESSING HOW LONG IT WILL LAST, FOR NOBODY REALLY KNOWS.

A Stormy Time Expected—A Deadlock Seems Inevitable, With An Early Election as a Result.

Ottawa, July 17.—The Union Jack will again be seen upon the flag-pole over the Parliament Buildings tomorrow, indicating that the House of Commons is again in session after its two months' recess, which was taken to allow of the presence of the Premier and his colleagues at the Imperial Conference and the Coronation.

It will also, unless all signs fail, be the the signal of very stormy weather, politically.

Everyone is guessing how long the session will last, opinions varying from three weeks to three months, or perhaps longer.

The only men who know are Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. R. L. Borden, and they are keeping their own counsels. Indeed, it is just possible that neither of the leaders knows just what is going to happen, although each has an idea of what he would like to happen.

TO MEET IN CAUCUS.

It will be several days before the atmosphere is sufficiently clear to enable the political prophets to make their predictions with any hope of accuracy. Each party will meet in caucus on Wednesday or Thursday, when the situation, as it has developed during the recess, will be discussed and plans agreed upon for the future.

ORANGE ORDER FACES CRISIS, MUST FIGHT

Rev. A. Margrett Urges Protestants to Greater Efforts Against Aggressions.

Toronto, July 17.—A strong defiance to the Roman Catholic Church and an appeal to the Orange Order for more activity in its propaganda were the features of asermon on "Rome and the Orange Order," by Rev. Albert Margrett in the Olivet Congregational Church last night.

According to Mr. Margrett the Roman Church is losing its hold in countries which are supposed to be Roman Catholic, and rapidly gaining ground in Protestant countries. The Silken glove marks the period of her growth, and the mailed fist her period of power.

"In spite of her power in Protestant countries she makes blunders, and it is because of these blunders that the Orange Order grows," he said.

"The marriage decree that has been brought out is doing more to bring the Protestants together than anything else in Canada could have done."

"The Orange Order was facing a crisis," he said. "either it must go forward or backward. The Roman Church increases in spite of twelfth of July processions, for the Roman Church worked 365 days in the year; it could not be fought by a yearly procession and resolutions. More Orange meetings should be held, addressed by the best speakers.

"If Rome conquers Canada you will lose all your power, all your freedom," the speaker concluded.

"A Protestant does not protest against anything, but for it. A true Orangeman, is not a man against Rome, but a man who stands for equal rights for all. The Roman Catholic Church stands for a closed door, closed book, and a closed mind. Orangemen stand for the open door, open book, and open mind. These things are worth fighting for."

IMMIGRATION PICKING UP

Slight Increase in Number of New Settlers from United States.

Ottawa, July 17.—In the early part of the year the figures representing American immigration to the Canadian West indicated a slight falling off, which was attributed to false reports as to the failure of Canadian crops. For the six months ended June 30th, however a small increase is shown and the expectations are that it will grow considerably.

SECTION MAN WAS SHOT

On Saturday afternoon a young Italian section hand, whose name could not be learned, was accidently shot in the leg by Bert Slade, of Kincardine, who carelessly discharged a revolver, which he took from a box he was in charge of.

Mr. Slade is a machinery traveller, and as such was in charge of a load of machinery. When the train was near Lindsay, he fired his revolver, aiming at random, and hit the section man in the leg.

Slade was arrested at Lindsay. He was fined for having the revolver in his possession and is held pending enquiries regarding the condition of the wounded man.

A Peterborough youth, who was stealing a ride, was also arrested.

Later.

Just before going to press a Times man learned that the man shot near Lindsay, was not an Italian as first reported, but a young Canadian, named Robert Douglas, aged twenty years. He is a young man of exemplary habits. The bullet struck just below the knee and went down beside the bone. It was extracted by Dr. Wade, of Hastings.

Young Douglas was one of a gang laying rails and stepped back on the approach of the train. The track is high here, so that the young man had no chance to get out of the way. He is at the home of his parents at Birdsdale. Slade, who is said to have been under the influence of liquor when he shot Douglas, seems quite unconcerned as he sits in his cell awaiting his trial.

FARMERS IN NEED OF HELP

All through the farming country laborers are needed by the farmers, who claim they cannot get men enough to harvest the crops. Haying is nearly over, but many farmers are commencing harvest.

Experienced men are preferred, but inexperienced men will be accepted.

The number of men who have gone West, or who are working on the railroads, have caused the farm-hand question to be worse this year than ever before. The farmers pay on an average of $1 to $1.50 per day and board. Some have plenty of work for men for a considerable time yet. A farmer told a Times man that he thought many young men would make more by working here than by going West when the fare is taken into consideration.

Mr. Wm. Spears, of Oranmee, told a Times man that a few hands could be used in his locality. Having is nearly over, but harvest has commenced. Mr. Geo. Gibson, Springville, said that a number of men could find employment near there at haying and hoeing. He claimed that the railroads are taking the men.

Mr. Robt. Jones, who lives west of Mount Pleasant, said that labor was very scarce near his home.

Mr. J. K. Stavely, Smith, also spoke of the want of men, and he thought that several could find employment near there.

Mr. Geo. Smithson, South Monaghan, said that men are needed at once as harvest has been begun by some farmers.

Mr. Fred Murphy, Enniemore, told a Times man that about twenty men could find employment there and that the wages were as high as $1.75 a day and board.

Mr. S. B. Carew, Omemee also spoke of the difficulty of getting help. He claims that he could place about six at once.

The scarcity is felt all around the city and men who are willing to work, would have no trouble in getting it at good wages, and would be kept busy for some time to come.

FEAR POST HAS BEEN BURNED

Indian Runners Bring Word That Flames are Approaching From All Sides.

North Bay, July 17.—Fears are entertained for the safety of the Hudson Bay post at Fort Matachewan. The last word coming out by the Indian runners from "Steve" Lafricander, was that fire was coming across both sides of the river, and was all about the post, and that the Indians were leaving.

Lafricander is a man well up in years, who has been with the Hudson Bay Company many years, and is well known, and has many friends throughout the north country. He is one of the most interesting personages in the north, having been in many climes, and is aveteran of the United States Civil War.

TOURIST LOST HIS MEMORY

Third Case of the Kind Puzzles the Doctors of Niagara Falls.

Niagara Falls, N.Y., July 17.—W. H. Shawn, a tourist from Carrollton Ga., on Saturday entered the Cave of the Winds in full possession of his faculties and emerged with his memory gone and his mind a blank. He is a patient at the Memorial Hospital, while his daughter, Miss Dorothy Shawn, is stopping at one of the local hotels.

The man is a planter 45 years old, and was on his way to Montreal with his daughter. He stopped off to see the sights at Niagara and made the Cave of the Winds trip late in the afternoon. When he emerged from behind the sheet of water he was as helpless as a child and stared about him, seeming not to comprehend anything his daughter or the guide said to him.

This is the third case of this kind that has come to the attention of the local authorities this year, but it is the first to happen at any of the sight-seeing centres of the city. The others were New York State men, who lost their memory, and finally drifted to the city, where they were taken charge of by the authorities and later restored to their families.

LUCKY ESCAPE OF PETE CAMPBELL OF THIS CITY

TOOK REFUGE IN A MUSKEG AND SURVIVED EIGHT HOUR SEIGE.

Students Were Plucky—G. M. Smythe and Party Put Sand and Vinegar on Roof—Comrades Burned Alive.

Porcupine, July 17.—Peter Campbell of Toronto University Rugby team and Peterborough, was at camp 5½ on the T. & N.O. construction where he is employed by the Government as fire ranger. He, with 60 Russians, the French cook and the French cookee, and the French clerk, Le Pointe, took refuge in a sink-hole one hundred yards from camp. No solid bottom had been found for the road there, and a loop in the line had been found necessary. It is a circular muskeg swamp of muck and water about 25 yards in radius, and will bear the weight of logs. Here Campbell and the construction gang covered themselves with wet blankets availing themselves of the water in the muck. They were imprisoned from three in the afternoon until 11 at night, when the fire passed, and they proceeded to camp 5, seven miles down the line.

G. M. SMYTHE'S STORY.

G. M. Smythe, of Toronto University and St. Catharines, escaped from the Eldorado, where he had been employed as assistant manager for the last two months, by taking refuge in the root house of the mine. Here was stored a barrel of vinegar and a stock of canned stuff, including cream Ten men, including mining engineer, Thornley, were crowded into a space, eight feet by four. The roof was covered with tar paper and two logs of the front wall showed above the bank of earth. Under Thornley's direction a desperate fight to keep the fire from the roof and exposed logs was successful. The sand was thrown on the roof and kept well wet with vinegar. Flames swept right into the open door. The men lay close to the door save Smythe and James Quilty, who held wet bags in front of the door, at lulls in the hot blast the gang rushed out to wet the roof with vinegar. The struggle lasted two hours and the earth on the logs of the root house was practically baked. For six inches down it was too hot to be borne by the naked hand. The Eldorado gang, including Simpson of Toronto University, started to break through the line of fire. Half way up the hill Smythe was turned back by the flames. Simpson kept on and fell about 75 yards further at a hollow in the rocks with wet mud in the bottom. He burrowed into the mud with his hands, and covered himself up. The rest of the men with the exception of the two Flynn brothers and a man named Gilbert, turned back to the root house and fought it out there.

The two Flynns and Gilbert had come across the burning interval between the United Porcupine and the Eldorado to take refuge there.

BODY LITERALLY BURNED.

When the rush of the fire had passed Smythe and Quilty went for the body of Simpson, and found him alive and only slightly burned. Going on up the hill three of the United Porcupine men were found terribly burned. They were still standing, but practically unconscious. They were brought to the root house and their burns were dressed with canned cream Turning back to the United location, Quilty and Smythe found the third Flynn brother, Manager Yuill, Pat Dwyer, and Fletcher burned to death ten yards from the door of their camp. One of the bodies, that of Fletcher, was literally blazing, and was ultimately entirely consumed save the skull. The buildings had been reduced to ashes.

Thornley's face and hands are very badly burned. He is an Australian, engaged to make a report on the Eldorado.

TAYLOR'S SAD DEATH.

Jack Taylor, of Toronto University and White Horse (Yukon, 18 years old) was employed in the assay office of the West Dome under Chief Assayer Burke, who was one of those suffocated in the shaft. Taylor refused to go down into the shaft, and stayed on the surface where the gang had been fighting the fire. Sowing a blanket, he made a run for it. He got caught in the flames near the blacksmith shop. His hands became so badly scorched that he hid them from the fire between his knees. His face then scorched, and he was forced to cover it with his hands. In desperation he then seized a piece of seven-eighths drilling steel and attempted to commit suicide. He was found with a great bruise behind the ear and a big cut across his forehead. He was too weak to kill himself, but when found by a mining student named Mills, he was still conscious. To mills he told the above circumstances and asked him to dress his eyes. Taylor lay at the West Dome all Tuesday night and was sent out to Golden City on a hand car, with nine others on Wednesday morning, and put aboard the train that evening. He died in great pain.

FARM AND FIELD

STOCK RAISING IN SIBERIA.

The Mongols Make the Best of Land Horse in Siberia.

The most important occupation in the Province of Transbaikal is stock raising. Cattle, horses and sheep predominate, altho a limited number of camels, deer, goats and swine are raised. The horses average between twelve and thirteen hands high, and can draw a load of over one thousand pounds, and if driven in a troioka (three horses harnessed abreast) they can cover thirty to forty miles a day. Journeys of thousands of miles at an average rate of forty miles a day have been made by riding these animals. The horses are kept in the open throughout the year, and in winter find their food under the snow. Some improvement has been made in breeding these horses, and only recently Arab blood was introduced.

The cattle are of Mongolian origin and are inferior and very small. They live in the same manner as the horses, and it is remarkable how they can withstand the severe climate and lack of food. Experiments have been made to improve the stock, but the results are noticed only in the first and second generation, the probable reason being that they are given so little care. These cattle produce little milk or beef. The camel is also of Mongolian origin, and the sheep are a little over two feet in height, the tail varying in weight from two to ten pounds. The wool is coarse, thick and of medium length.

BEE HIVES.

Successful Farmers Have Their Section Boxes Ready for Swarming.

The wideawake farmer does not wait until his bees have swarmed and are clustered on a treetop before he thinks of preparing a hive for them. All preparatory work, such as making and painting hives, wiring brood frames and getting the section boxes ready for the anticipated honey crop, should be done at leisure times during winter and early spring, before the rush of other work takes place. How easy it will be to manage a dozen or more colonies of bees next summer if everything is set in readiness now. For instance, if a swarm issues it will only be the work of a few minutes to take a hive from the barn and hive the swarm into it. If a honey flow bursts forth suddenly, what satisfaction it will give you to know that you have on hand a few hundred section boxes ready to set on the hives at once. If this work is put off until summer time, it is more than probable it will not be done at all. When feeding the bees be careful and not spill any of the sweets about the apiary, for robbing is often started in this way.

HOW SWINE CAN PAY.

Raising of Pigs Neglected in Canada.

First choose your breed. When your choice is made, purchase pure-bred brood sows. If you cannot afford to buy many, buy one good one, and by saving all the desirable females you will, in the course of a few years, have a good-sized herd. Do not spare a few dollars or a long drive to get a good boar.

The vigor of the constitution of the offspring depends on the dam, but the outward form and limbs depend more on the boar. The boar should be wide between the fore legs, with large girth behind them, that denotes active heart and limbs. Straight, strong limbs and erect hoofs indicate solidity of animal framework. Smooth skin and soft hair denote active liver and general health. Do not trade a long body for a short nose. These same qualities should be found in the female.

During the pregnancy of the sow, she should be allowed plenty of exercise and proper food, and there will be little trouble in giving birth to her offspring. A sow carrying pigs is engaged in a work which demands a full supply of tissue-making foods. Clover, wheat, bran and linseed meal and such foods, rich in protein, should be furnished her. There is a great mistake made by many hog raisers who give their brood sows corn and water for a diet; they think because they look well that such foods are all right, but they wonder why their sows have trouble giving birth to their offspring and many times eat them.

When the pigs are a few weeks old they should be given a creep where they can help themmselves to grain. The males should be castrated when about two months old and while they are still with their mothers.

MANITOBA FOR GOOD ROADS.

Representatives of Manitoba Good Roads Association and Manitoba Union of Municipalities met last week in Winnipeg, and after considerable discussion on the financing of road work throughout the province, passed a resolution to the effect that the government be asked to guarantee the bonds of the municipalities. It was proposed that the redemption of bonds be extended over a period of twenty to thirty years and further, that the amount of money to be raised do not exceed four per cent of the total assessment of the municipality.

MRS. NEAPOLITANO ESCAPES GALLOWS.

The Cabinet Decided not to Allow Her to be Hanged.

Ottawa, Ont., July 14.—Angelina Neapolitano will not hang. The official announcement of the Cabinet's recommendation to the Deputy Governor-General will probably not be made until the order-in-council is signed by Sir Louis Davies some days hence, but the decision of the Cabinet was reached this morning, on the advice of the Minister of Justice, and so the woman of the Canadian Soo, who killed her husband while asleep is saved from the gallows.

Her sentence will be commuted to life imprisonment and she will probably be released on parole within a very reasonable period.

NO HATPINS NEEDED.

Hatpins are not required for several of the new types of toques. Instead, the drapery trimming of the toques is wound rather tightly around the head and lower part of the toque body in a manner which reminds one of the cloths women wind around their heads as a duet protector when cleaning house. The free end of the drapery is fastened by means of hooks and eyes after being wound.

TIT BIT KNOWLEDGE.

For the cotton gowns the predilection is for colored embroideries. The colors of the embroideries are pink, rose, old blue, light blue, lavender and yellow.

Sleeves are short in all save the strictly tailored garments, and by short is meant a termination of the sleeve just at or an inch or more above the elbow.

Sashes are worn a great deal with afternoon toilets.

Paris decrees black velvet slippers for evening toilets.

Blind embroidery and English eyelet are both favorites for the separate white waist.

It is going to be a great cotton season, and cottons are going to be tolerated where formerly they have been prohibited.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

SIX DAYS TO LONDON

Three days, sixteen hours and five minutes from LAND TO LAND. It is the Royal line to Bristol that makes this possible; and it is the Royal Edward which holds this Canadian trans-Atlantic record. But there are other considerations besides speed which should induce you to travel by the

the fastest triple screw turbine boats on the Montreal to London route. They are driven by the newest type of turbine engines, ensuring uttermost speed with least vibration. Large staterooms, spacious social apartments, sheltered promenade decks, tasteful and artistic furnishings, splendid service, and ventilation by the thermo-tank system indicate the unusually high character of the appointments, comforts and conveniences of these boats.

FACTS ABOUT FOWLS

To pluck a fowl speedily, place it in boiling water for a few minutes. When you remove it you will find a good many feathers have come off, and the rest will yield to a very light plucking.

If you are uncertain as to the age of a fowl, partly steam or boil it in a little water for about an hour before browning it in the oven, and it will be as tender as a young chicken.

WHAT A MARBLE WILL DO

Everybody knows that a marble placed in a kettle will prevent fur collecting round the inside, but few people know that a large clean marble, say a glass alley, boiled in milk, porridge, custard, or sauce, will automatically stir the liquid as it cook. This prevents any chance of the liquid burning, and saves you the trouble of constant stirring, besides giving you both hands free to attend to your other duties.

CONVICTS MAKE FURNITURE

Central Prison Inmates Will Thus be Kept From Idleness

Now that all the prison labor contracts have expired the Ontario Government is confronted with the problem of keeping the prisoners at the Central Prison employed, and in order to do away with idleness and the evils which naturally follow when a great hundred men are kept in prison doing nothing, all those prisoners who have to remain at the Central Prison have been put to work making furniture, several excellent samples of which have been sent to the Parliament Buildings for inspection.

At the new Central Prison at Guelph several hundred men are employed in building operations, but those who have to remain in Toronto, until the completion of the new buildings, will make furniture. The samples which have been sent to the buildings for inspection compare very favorably with any furniture which could be purchased in any store. The prisoners will make desks, chairs, tables, filing cabinets and other furniture, which will be placed in the various public institutions in the province, as well as the new Central Prison at Guelph.

POEMS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

SOMETHING LIKE COMFORT

Oh, it's mighty comforting, when your hair is getting thin,
And the wrinkles in your face have come to stay,
Just to feel her little hand smoothing out each silver strand,
While you meet her loving look and hear her say:—

"John, my dear, it seems as though every day you live you grow Handsomer than in the olden days";
And you smile back at your wife while you think in all your life
You never heard a sweeter word of praise.

Then somehow the teardrops rise to your dim, old fading eyes,
While you kiss the tender hand still white and small,
And you try to tell her how you loved her then—you love her now,
But, bless me, if the words will come at all!

For just then it comes to you to think of trials she's gone through
And borne without a murmur for your sake;
You can only bow your head at the loving things she's said,
And your poor old heart can only ache and ache.

But she knows what ails you then, and she kisses you again,
While you hear her gently whisper, sweet and low:—
"Life has brought more hopes than fears; we have known more smiles than tears;
You're the dearest of dears, John Anderson, my Jo!"

So it's comforting, I say, when your hair is getting grey,
And you're slipping down life's hill a-mighty fast,
Just to feel her little hand stroking back each silver strand,
While she whispers that she loves you—to the last.

BUY

ROYAL PORCUPINE

Quoted at 32 to 33 Cents

The stock of the Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co., we believe, will prove to be one of the greatest money makers in the wonderful Porcupine district.

Every day brings forth further evidence that the Porcupine Camp is destined to become the richest gold region in the world, and Royal Porcupine should soon take its place at the head of the great producing mines in this section.

Porcupine has the indorsement of the world's greatest authorities in gold mining; who concur in the opinion that never before have such rich showings been seen covering so great an area.

The Property

is located in the township of Tisdale and consists of eight full claims, embracing 320 acres. It is particularly well located, being only one-quarter mile south of the Porcupine Gold Mines, Ltd., and one-half mile south of the Hollinger mine, for which it is claimed there is $10,000,000 in sight. Engineers report that the Royal Porcupine property is in the famous ore zone, being on the same ledge as Hollinger and having the same formation.

A telegram from the engineer in charge of the property bears out this statement. It is as follows:—

"Porcupine, Ont., June 19, 1911.

"Vein uncovered twelve feet in width. Excellent ore body. Shaft being sunk on this vein. Property in every way most favorable.

(Signed) "JULIUS MESSER, M. E.,
"Engineer in charge of property."

Thirty men are now employed, and work on the shaft will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Four veins, varying from 12 to 100 feet in width, have already been uncovered. Assays have been made which show $50 a ton.

Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co.

is capitalized for $3,000,000; par value of shares $1.00. Full paid and non-assessable. No personal liability.

A glance at the list of directors will show the class of men who are putting in their money and time to make this one of the greatest mines in the Porcupine Camp. The directors are:—

JAMES KENDRY,
Peterboro, Ontario; ex-Member of Parliament, President Auburn Woollen Mills

T. E. BRADBURN,
Member Parliament, Peterboro, Ontario; Private Banker.

ARCHIBALD L. ALLAN,
New York, Hiram Walker & Sons.

SYDNEY BERNHEIM,
New York, Bernheim & Loewenthal, Counsellors at Law.

JACOB RAPOPORT,
New York, Jacob Rapoport & Co., Merchants.

HAMILTON KILGOUR,
New York and London, England, Mining Engineer.

WARREN N. AKERS,
Wilmington, Del.

Remember, that our judgment on Hollinger, Dome Extension and Vipond was correct, and we believe the Royal Porcupine will prove one of our best investments.

The Hollinger stock was originally offered at $3.50 and now sells at around $15.50, and Dome Extension was first offered at 40c., and now sells at around 84c.

Royal Porcupine stock may be purchased through any member of the New York Curb Association, or we will be glad to execute your orders.

WATERWORKS FOR FARM.
An increasing number of enquiries are received asking for methods of supplying water to country homes. It has been one of the drawbacks of life on the farm compared with the city that while water might be in abundant supply it has not been convenient for all purposes of the household. In response to the demand for better appliances many improvements have of late years been made in pumping and piping outfits. Water in the house for free use is coming to be recognised as one of the first requirements in sanitary living. Further than this it is a labor saving arrangment that is in keeping with the modern machinery and appliances used elsewhere on the farm.

THE SUFFERING EDITOR.
A farmer wrote to the editor of an agricultural paper as follows:—
"I have a horse that has been afflicted for the past year with periodical fits of dizziness. Please let me know what I should do with him, as he seems to get worse instead of better. I am afraid he will be unfit for work if something is not done soon."
In the next issue this answer appeared:—
"When the nag is looking all right sell him to someone."

The increased production of milk, in Ontario is looked upon as an indication that the farmers of the province generally are beginning to see greater possibilities in dairying. The cities are taking a great deal of milk, which to a considerable extent changes the cheese factory situation.

KING EDWARD VACUM CLEANER

You cannot clean carpets, rugs and furniture by beating. If you think you have, just try a KING EDWARD VACUUM CLEANER and you will find the article full of dust, which breeds disease.
The KING EDWARD HAND MACHINE has no equal as compared with other hand machines. It is lighter to operate and its suction is much stronger. Its suction is stronger than many of the power machines, and the dusting is done away with. On account of the short stroke one person can operate it on carpets and rugs equally as well as two, and it is about half the weight of other hand machines to carry up and down stairs or from one room to another. It is sold for less money than any of the hand machines. All machines are guaranteed.

...did I shoot him", queried the man.
"Shoot him!" exclaimed the girl. "You were the burglar yourself—it was you who broke in and entered the house."
Storme looked at her for a moment as though he thought she had gone crazy. Then he started forward as if shot, and with his eyes startling from their sockets, and his arms waving wildly in the air, he threw himself into a chair and covered his face with his hands.
"Good God," he exclaimd brokenly, after a long while, "is that the thing I've come to—is that the secret of my life—my livelihood?"

CHAPTER XIII.
A Dinner at the Club.

Livingstone Dreddlington was the swellest thing in town. He was the spendthrift millionaire of the place.
He flattered himself that he kept up the pace with the best of them.
"When I do a thing, Storme," he would say, "I do it, and don't you forget it."
But if Dreddlington kept up the pace, it was clear to him that Storme inside it.
Storme had many admirers ... Dreddlington of all those was the most ardent. He did the things and said the things that Storme did and said.
Storme, to him, was the essence of all that was chic and dashing and exclusively fashionable.
Some weeks now had elapsed since the great trial of the people versus H. Stanleigh Storme.
No one was more enthusiastic over the outcome than Dreddlington himself. It supplied him with an all engrossing topic of conversation, and it furnished him with a mighty inspiration.
He would give a dinner on the most magnificent scale. Storme should be the guest of honor. It would be the talk of the town.
He consulted Storme about it. Storme acquiesced with delight.
He was appreciative and became enthusiastic about the thing. He even suggested some of the details of the affair.
It was to be a freak dinner on a breakneck scale; and more than all, a dinner commemorative of the great trial.
The invitations, which of course came out two weeks ahead of time, were freaks in themselves. They were in the shape of subpoenas to testify, with big read seals, and even the genuine signature of the county clerk.
The sheriff, a personal friend of both of the men, volunteered the services of one of his deputies to serve the invitations personally on the invited guests. This idea, as may be guessed from the weak, sickly humor it involved, was the idea of Dreddlington.
The newspapers, when they finished roasting the police department, took up the freak dinner for all it was worth.
They lauded it to the firmament. They printed fascimiles of the invitations and also of the menu, which had been designed in advance by Canon, the carigaturist. Canon was a member of the club; nevertheless he sent in his little bill to Dreddlington, and Dreddlington paid it on the spot.
Canon fixed up highly illuminated copies of the indictment, and the verdict of the jury, and the menu—the whole inclosed in a magnificent cover representing on the front the prisoner, Storme, in the act of breaking into a bank in a fulldress suit, and on the back a striking likeness of the same gentleman in prison garb, ruefuly contemplating the outlines of a dearby penitentiary.
The dinner cost Dreddlington one hundred dollars a cover, and there were fifty covers. The whole thing was stupid and boyish enough, but the newspapers considered it excruciatingly funny.
The town laughed at it and talked about it, and waited for it. To cap the climax, the host invited every man on the jury panel to attend—and every man attended.
The judge also was invited. These were Stormes suggestions — and he had good reasons for them.
The thing began at 10 o'clock. Everybody was on hand but Storme. He turned up five minutes late.
He had had an engagement he existed, and had had to hurry. He seemed breathless and out of sorts. The company sat down—fifty men in all.
"You're looking pretty pale, tonight, Storme," remarked the sheriff in the middle of a course. "Are you ill? You look as pale as you did that night the bank was robbed, when you lost that five hundred to the judge."
Storme smiled and shook his head.
"I'm all right," he said. "I'm tired tonight — that's all."
"Well, your're most awful pale," repeated the sheriff. "And so you were that night."
There were few speeches. The guests, being all sorts and conditions of men were inclined to be a bit boisterous.
The sheriff, who didn't enjoy speech-making, rose from his chair and walked up and down the room. The dinner, of course, was about over.
Storme was called upon. He rose, and as he did so his face grew paler than before.
"Gentlemen," he began in a hesitating voice, "there's something I have to say to you. Something of serious import. I—I have been, in a measure, sailing under false colors. I——"
He stopped, for the jurymen at the other end of the table were squabbling among themselves and he could not make himself heard.
"Go on! Go on!" somebody cried. "Bully for Storme!"
They had not comprehended the import of his words or what he meant. They took it for the start of one of Storme's usually witty speeches.
"Gentlemen," he resumed, "I——"
He stopped. The sheriff, roving restlessly around, had strolled over to the ticker. He held the tape listlessly in his hand for a short space of time.
Suddenly the instrument began to tick away like mad.
"Great Scott!" exclaimed the sheriff. "Hold on there, Storme. Say, you fellows, listen here. The First National was cracked tonight and four hundred and fifty thousand taken from the vaults. That's a fact — look here if you don't believe it. Wait a minute."
He sprang to the telephone and called up headquarters.
"Tell us about it," he said to the man at the other end of the line. "It's the sheriff talking to you.
"It's that man Burke," he explained to the crowd, with his hand on the mouthpiece, the receiver at his ear. "Yes, tell us about it, Burke."
"Well," said Burke at the other end of the line, "it was done the same as down at Mordaunt's. Bars sawed clean off. Window pane cut. Combination beat — an' four hundred an' fifty thousand gone. The coin was lyin' there to be sent out tomorrow. And say—"
"Go on," responded the sheriff.
"Say," continued Burke. "I've got the man that did it clean to rights this time, sheriff, let me tell you that."
"Have you actually got him?" yelled the sheriff.
"No," said Burke, "I haven't actually got him, understand, but I saw him at work all right. He got away this time, too—how he did it is more than I know—but there's no mistake about the man, all right, all right — and there wasn't any mistake before, either, let me tell you."
"And the man?" queried the sheriff.
"Well," responded Burke, "if it ain't the devil—and I'm saying it ain't this time—if it ain't the devil, it's H. Stanleigh Storme."
The sheriff winked upon the crowd, who had not heard a word. "Good for you, Burke," he replied, "and I hope you jug him, too."
The sheriff rang off.
"Gentlemen," he exclaimed to the waiting crowd about him, "I have the honor to inform you that the First National Bank was cracked at ten minutes after one o'clock this morning to the tune of four hundred and fifty thousand dollars, and the man that did it—honor bright now, gentlemen, this is from Burke at headquarters—the man that did it is the man that's sitting there—H. Stanleigh Storme, forsooth."
A great shout of laughter went up from the guests.
"Speech! Speech!" they cried in glee.
But H. Stanleigh Storme, the guest of honor, did not join the general merriment.
He turned pale—much paler than at any time before.
"Great Scott," he muttered to himself, "how could I have foreseen this thing this time — how could I have guessed this would occur tonight?"
"Speech! Speech!" again they cried, his lips and began to speak. Suddenly he fell crashing across the table among the dinner plates — he had fainted dead away.
"By George," said the sheriff to the rest, "that's the only time I ever saw Storme take too much—but he's gone one this time allright."
He laughed and the crowd laughed with him.

Dying of Cholera

Local Physician Says Thousands Dying in Europe Can Be Saved With Proper Medicine.

What is it that keeps down cholera, cramps and summer complaints in America? Ask any doctor or live druggist and he will tell you "Nerviline." Just fancy, a million bottles are sold every year to people who use Nerviline for stomach disorder, cramps, flatulence, and summer complaint. For fifty years in most Canadian homes no other pain-relieving medicine but Nerviline is kept. Nothing cures the aches, pains and sickness of the entire family so quickly as Nerviline.

"As far back as I can remember, at least 50 years ago, there was never a time that our house was LETTER without 'Nerviline.' In NO. the summer time, when 4672 the children ate green apples and got sick with diarrhoea and cramps, it was Nerviline that cured them. My father used Nerviline frequently to cure gas on his stomach and acute indigestion. There are but few minor ailments that Nerviline does not cure, and I know of no medicine so useful; in fact, so indispensable around the home as 'Nerviline.'

This letter, written by Mrs. N. C. Butcher, a well-known resident in Battersea, shows the high opinion entertained of Nerviline by those who have used it constantly for nearly half a century.

You'll never regret using Nerviline. Get it to-day. Keep it on hand for an accident or sudden case of sickness in your home. Refuse anything else offered you instead of Nerviline. 25c. per bottle, or five for $1.00. All dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

AUTHORITIES REPORT ON CROP.

Prospects Good in Canada.

The seeding and growing season for the whole of Canada has opened late this year, and the month of April has been marked by hard frosts. But May has been favorable to cultivation of the land, and the rainfall has been sufficient for healthy vegetation.

Fall wheat, which is grown chiefly in Ontario and Alberta, showed an average condition of 82 per cent. at the end of April, being 89 per cent. in Alberta and 81 per cent. in Ontario. In Ontario, however, the April frosts were destructive in some regions; and from 12 to 34 per cent. of the area sown has been reported as winter-killed. The central countries, North of Lake Ontario, suffered worst, the average loss as reported being 34 per cent. In the Western counties 27 per cent. of the area in crop has been destroyed. In the Southern counties, North of lake Erie, the loss is 10 per cent.; in the Northern counties and districts, 12.6 per cent.; and in the Eastern counties, between the St. Lawrence and Ottawa rivers, 15 per cent. For the whole of Canada, the area winter-killed is reported to be 21 per cent., and the per cent. condition of the growing crop is 82.

About 12 1-2 per cent. of the clover was heaved out by the spring frosts, and the average condition of hay and clover at the end of April was 89 per cent. Alberta shows better than any other part of Canada, its average being 94 1-2 per cent. Nova Scotia comes next, with 93.75; and in Quebec, British Columbia and Saskatchewan it is 86, and in Manitoba 85 per cent.

MARKET FOR MEAT.

Argentina Finds a New Market for Its Meat.

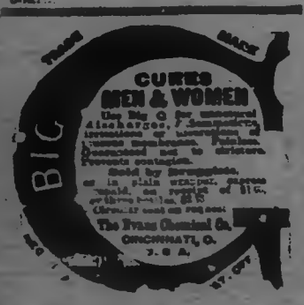
A new market for Argentine meat has been secured in northern Italy. The mayors of Rome and 58 other cities in the northern part of Italy have combined to promote the importation of frozen meat from Argentina. Negotiations in southern Italy have similar arrangements in view for that section. Efforts are being made by the Argentine authorities to have the Swiss regulations modified so as to permit the entry of meat into that country. At present every carcass imported into Switzerland must be accompanied by the tongue, heart, liver, spleen and kidneys. It is thought that a Swiss inspector may be stationed at Buenos Ayres to pass upon carcasses intended for his country and so relieve the trade of this prohibitive order.

ONTARIO FRUIT OUTLOOK.

Ontario's orchards were not in blossom on the 8th May, when correspondents made their return to the Department of Agriculture. The season is said to be later than usual. Fruit buds, however, promise to be plentiful, and after the lean orchard yield of 1910 a liberal yield is expected. War upon scale, codling moth, and other pests is being conducted with more vigor than ever, and several correspondents point to the improved appearance of fruit trees as the result of work done in the last year or two in the way of spraying, pruning, and the better general culture of orchards. A few reports of damage to trees from mice come from some of the St. Lawrence and Ottawa countries.

NEW WAY OF CATCHING RATS.

Catching rats with oyster shells is the unique method employed by some pearlers round about Broome, West Australia. They leave a large oyster on the floor of the cabin at night. It opens for a breath of fresh air, and the smell of fresh meat attracts the rats. When the rodent thinks he'll try a little supper, the oyster suddenly decides that he doesn't like fresh air. Next morning the shell is prized open, and the dead rat thrown overboard.



BODIES LINE THE TRAILS

Refugees Tell of Encountering the Dead Bodies for Miles When Fleeing from Fire.

Cobalt, July 14.—"It was hell, a veritable hell. You could not find its parallel in Dante's 'Inferno.'" This is how Mr E. Ashmore, manager of the Philadelphia mine, characterizes the fire which swept over the Porcupine district, destroying everything in its path. Mr. Ashmore is low in the hospital here, suffering from burns received while trying to protect his bookkeeper, Charles Adams, who died in his arms in a pool of water where they had taken refuge. Ashmore held the unconscious man for four hours in his arms, keeping wet blankets over his head while life lasted, but despite all that he could do, Adams succumbed to heart failure.

DEAD LINE THE TRAILS.

Survivors say the fire baffled all description. It swept down upon them coming from a southwest direction, at 100 miles an hour, and there was no escaping it. There was a veritable wall of flame, mountains high and when it passed dead humans and animals strewed its path for miles. Estimates of the dead place the number anywhere up to 200, but the probabilities are that the correct number will never be known. The woods were full of men and survivors who arrived by the relief train this morning, say they were walking over dead bodies on all the trails. The sight presented in the camp is a terrifying one. South Porcupine was swept clean to the ground and there is not a building standing anywhere. John Portmore, a Toronto prospector who came in from Cripple Creek, says that fires were burning for 25 to 50 miles from Porcupine. He and his partner were chased down the Mattagama by the flames, but succeeded in reaching the Hollinger, where a large number took refuge in the clearing. They passed hundreds of men in the bush on the way in and they believe that many of these have met their death.

At the Dome mine 50 men were saved by taking refuge in a huge water tank which had been filled up to fight the fire. They were in the tank for hours and had a most trying experience.

Our booklet beautifully illustrated, tells the story--contains interesting facts regarding the Grape Fruit Industry.

The figures are startling but true.

When three years old grape-fruit trees begin to bear, the crop continues to increase until the seventh year when the average amounts to between seven and twenty boxes of fruit. Grape-Fruit is usually sold on the trees at a price ranging not less than $1.00 per box. On the Manhattan Estates we will have a grove of over 40,000 trees, and our yearly crop, once maturity is reached, should average 280,000 crates annually. Between the trees we intend cultivating tobacco and pineapples from which a substantial profit will be realized within one year from the time of planting. The British-owned Western Railways run through the Estates, insuring splendid shipping facilities. The officers and directors of this company have implicit faith in this enterprise, and have agreed that no one shall receive one cent of salary until after 25 per cent. dividends have been earned and declared. AN INVESTMENT NOT A SPECULATION

What everybody with an ounce of common sense is on the alert for these days is a sound INVESTMENT and there is as much difference between an investment and a speculation as there is between London and Hong-Kong, although we all don't realize this.

• • • •

Consequently when one takes a chance on a speculative proposition, mistaking it as an investment and comes out of the small end of the horn, he becomes pessimistic and with the tightening of his purse strings to extremes to keep the pennies in just naturally shuts the dollars out.

• • • •

Now then if there were no investors there would be no progress, and with no progress the community would mighty soon become stagnant.

• • • •

The foundation of America, was old Christopher Columbus, he had an idea but was short on ready cash, in other words he was what us modern day folks call a promoter. His idea was feasible, he found co-operation, his plans carried and YOU KNOW THE REST.

• • • •

Like Columbus we are all Pioneers. Not out for our health, but to make money. No man ever saved more than a competence on a salary; few do that. To get a footing on "Easy Street" you have to invest. DOLLARS don't grow in your pockets or in a stocking. They must be put to work. Old Russell Sage said:

"Plant a few in a new country and see how fast they grow."

That's what we are trying to impress on you now and here is the biggest opportunity of this kind that is likely to knock at your door.

• • • •

We are the Pioneers of the fruit and vegetable canning enterprise in the Okanagan Valley and earnestly invite you to co-operate with us.

• • • •

Men at the head of affairs of this corporation are the best known and most highly esteemed gentlemen in British Columbia.

• • • •

Mr. Albert McKillop, our President, has a world wide reputation in the Timber and Timber Land World. (See R. G. Dunn).

• • • •

Mr. Wesley A. Blair, our Secretary and Treasurer, is also Cashier of the Canadian Customs, being the Government's most trusted employee. He handles on an average of $30,000.00 every commercial day of the year, and it was his fertile mind that first saw the possibilities of Canneries on the Coast, in-as-much as tens of thousands of dollars duty pass through his hands for American goods yearly. Bear in mind that there is a 2½c per pound duty on all canned stuff and RECIPROCITY or no RECIPROCITY that will stand.

• • • •

Remember we belong to no combine, have no opposition, and are pioneers in this field.

• • • •

Just think of it, The Dominion Fruit Canners cleared $400,000 last year, approximately 51 per cent. What's going to prevent the Okanagan Canners Ltd., from doing the same.

• • • •

It's a matter of record that the Kelowna district—site of our Cannery—proved positively at all the recent fruit shows that the Okanagan valley is the greatest fruit producing country in the world.

• • • •

Now, then, be up and thinking.

• • • •

We are incorporated for only $100,000.

• • • •

We are only going to let 60,000 shares out of our treasury.

• • • •

Not one of our shares has gone for promotion purposes, every share being represented by its equivalent.

• • • •

We have no salaried officials, in fact no leakages of any kind.

• • • •

A Premium of 25 per cent. will be put on this stock as soon as our cannery at Kelowna is completed, which will be at an early date, as we will handle this year's crop.

• • • •

You undoubtedly have stood silently aside and seen other opportunities vanish that your neighbor has grasped and is now realizing handsomely on and term him lucky.

• • • •

It's not luck, but JUDGMENT when opportunities like this present themselves and one takes advantage of them.

• • • •

Our land is bought and paid for, and we hold a receipt in full for our wharf for Cannery No. 1, which is completed at Kelowna.

• • • •

Although capitalized at $100,000, divided into 100,000 shares at one dollar each, we are going to offer for public subscription but 60,000 shares, and the remainder will positively stay in the treasury.

• • • •

This is a gilt-edge bona fide, conservative investment and it is not reasonable to believe will be on the market long, consequently act NOW before it is too late.

• • • •

Terms of purchasing securities are one dollar per share; 25 per cent. cash, balance, two, four and six months without interest.

BY-LAW NUMBER 1555

A By-law to fix the assessment of The Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company (Limited).

Passed the third day of October, 1910.

Whereas The Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company (Limited) has represented to the Council of the City of Peterborough that it is the only manufacturing concern in the City of Peterborough engaged in the manufacture of locks and other articles manufactured by it, and has to compete with manufacturers in the same line of business in other places who have received and are enjoying Municipal assistance, making it difficult for the said Company to meet such competition, and has applied to the Council for a fixed assessment on the real estate, plant and business assessment of the said Company in the City of Peterborough at the sum of $25,000, and the said Council has agreed thereto and to pass this by-Law for that purpose, subject to the confirmation thereof by the Legislature.

The Corporation of the City of Peterborough, by the Council thereof, therefore enacts as follows:—

1. This By-Law shall take effect upon and only upon the confirmation thereof by the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario, and upon the said Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company (Limited), executing an agreement not to oppose the construction of any work as a local improvement abutting or fronting on or the cost or part of the cost of which might be assessed or charged against the property in Section 2 hereof described, or any part thereof, that the said Council may desire to construct under the provisions of the Municipal Act relating to local improvements.

2. The assessment of the following lands in the City of Peterborough owned, occupied and used by The Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company (Limited) and being Lot Number Four north of Simcoe Street and west of George Street, and that part of Lot Number Three north of Simcoe Street and west of George Street described as follows:—Commencing on the western limit of the said Lot Number Three, at a point seventy-seven feet six inches north from the south-west angle thereof; thence northerly along the said western limit of the said lot to the northern limit thereof; thence easterly along said northern limit eighteen feet; thence south and parallel to the western limit of said lot to a point seventy-seven feet six inches north of said Simcoe Street; thence westerly and parallel to the southern limit of the said lot to the place of beginning while used exclusively for the manufacturing purposes of the Company, or the part so used for such manufacturing purposes, and the buildings, plant, machinery and fixtures thereon, and the business assessment there of on which taxes are to be levied, shall be fixed and remain fixed while the same are so used, and while at least an average of one hundred hands are employed therein for at least ten months of each year, at the sum of $25,000 for a period of ten years from the first day of January, 1911, and the return and oath of the assessor or assessors in respect thereof shall be amended accordingly, but the same shall, for school purposes, be and remain liable to assessment and the payment of school taxes and rates to as full an extent as if this By-Law had not been passed, and the assessment for school purposes and the school rates and taxes shall be made, levied and collected thereon in accordance with the provisions of the general law in that behalf, and the said lands shall also be liable for all frontage and local improvement assessments, rates and taxes that are now or may hereafter be charged against the same, and any buildings on the said lands not used exclusively for the business of the Company, and the land appurtenant to same shall not be included in the fixed assessment hereunder, but such buildings and land, while not used as aforesaid, shall be assessed as provided by the Assessment Act then in force; provided, however, that if the said Company shall at any time within the said term of ten years fail or neglect to operate and carry on the said manufacturing establishment substantially to the capacity thereof, and therein to employ at least an average of one hundred hands during at least ten months in each year, then such fixed assessment shall cease, and the taxes and rates on the said lands, buildings, plant, machinery and fixtures and on the business assessment thereof shall be and become payable to the same amount and in the same manner as if this By-Law had not been passed; provided always that if the failure to carry on the said business is due to strikes or destruction of the buildings, plant, machinery or fixtures by fire or tempest, the time during which the said business shall so cease to be carried on in consequence of such strikes, or destruction of the buildings, plant, machinery or fixtures (not exceeding in either case one year) shall not be taken as a failure or neglect to carry on the said business, so as to disentitle the said Company to such fixed assessment.

3. The said Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company (Limited) shall, prior to the first day of March in each year, file with the City Clerk a statutory declaration, made by an officer of the Company, who shall therein state his knowledge of the facts, proving that the said Company has complied with and is observing all the terms, conditions and provisions of this By-Law, and on the neglect of the said Company to furnish such declaration it shall be prima facie taken that such terms, conditions and provisions have not been performed, observed and kept, and the said fixed assessment shall cease, and the taxes and rates shall be and become payable to the same amount and in the same manner as if this By-Law had not been passed.

A By-Law to authorize the borrowing of the sum of $24,000 for the purpose of paying for land acquired or to be acquired for public parks or squares in or adjoining the eastern, southern and western portions of the City of Peterborough.

AND WHEREAS in order to raise the said sum of $24,000 it will be necessary to issue debentures of the Corporation of the City of Peterborough therefor.

BRITISH STANDARD BEARER.

Lieutenant Harrison, the tallest officer in the British Army, will carry the standard of the Royal Horse Guards Blue in the Coronation procession. The standard was presented to the Blues by King William on August 13th, 1831, Queen Adelaide's birthday. The last time it was carried was the first Jubilee of Queen Victoria, when the Queen went from Slough to Windsor.

AFRICANS LIKE UNIFORMS.

Much money is made out of cast-off police uniforms. Quantities are bought by African traders and exported to various parts of the "Dark Continent," where they are exchanged for palm-oil, ivory, skins, and other merchandise. It is by no means an uncommon sight to see a swarthy savage dressed in the uniform of a policeman, and wearing the regulation helmet of the force.

Stories of the Prince of Wales.

Many quaint and amusing anecdotes are related of the Prince of Wales as a small child, one being that he and his sister and brothers were invited out to tea at some Court lady's house, and when the hour for departure came he could nowhere be found to say good-bye to his hostess. On investigation it was discovered that he had hurried downstairs alone to secure what he considered his proper place in the carriage.

It is also reported of him that, on his first attending afternoon church one Sunday, he remembered how often he had been told to thank his entertainers for their hospitality; so on this occasion he looked anxiously about for someone to be grateful to. The only person who came handy was the verger, who, rather to his discomfiture, had his hand grasped by the little prince, and was informed in a childish voice:—

"Thank you so much for a very pleasant afternoon!"

NEW LEADER IN CLYDESDALE.

Scotland Produces a New Sire Horse.

The show season has come round once more and three important fixtures have been held in as many weeks. In the West of Scotland the season proper opens with Kilmarnock—noted for its display of Ayrshire cattle and Clydesdale horses — then comes the Ayr event which is followed by the Glasgow Agricultural Society's show. At the last named one finds a good turn out of horses, both light and heavy breeds being well represented, and while there is always a good display of Ayrshires, the other breeds, such as Shorthorns and Aberdeen Angus are also to the fore. The early shows have brought out a lot of promising young stock, but nothing really sensational has yet been seen. In the Clydesdale section one of the outstanding features has been the great success of the "gets" of the noted sire Baron of Buchlyvie. This horse stands absolutely without a rival as a breeding horse, and, although a young sire, his stock are coming to the front in a truly remarkable manner. Got by that grand old horse, Baron's Pride, he bids fair to rival his sire as a breeder.

THE BOY ON THE FARM.

Kindness Does More Than Harshness for Future Farmer.

There is the making of a good man in the boy on the farm, but he can be irretrievably spoiled in the making, if too much is put upon him; if his shoulders are loaded with blame for everything that goes wrong indoors and out; if everybody feels privileged to give him orders, and if he is regarded as a mere machine without muscles to tire, sensibilities to wound, intellect to stimulate, or a soul to inspire with longings for better things. Those into whose hands are committed these youths ordained to eat their bread in the sweat of their faces, have a responsibility above that of merely providing food, shelter and clothing. An employer may be harboring an angel unawares, and whether this be true or not, there is laid upon him the duty of dealing justly and conscientiously with the lad.

A CHANCE TO MAKE MONEY IN VANCOUVER REALTY

Investors seeking an opportunity to secure large returns for their money will find an exceptional chance offered by Keith Park Land Co., Limited, of Vancouver, B. C. This company has placed on the market for immediate sale the choicest piece of property on the North Shore.

This tract known as Keith Park, D. L. 676, lies at the junction of the Pipe line Road, (owned by the city of Vancouver) and the Keith Road and is the junction point for North side traffic.

The Second Narrows Bridge, which is to connect Vancouver and North Vancouver will be constructed so that Keith Park will be in the line of its northern end.

It is confidentially expected that a new town will be created at this point. Dominion, Provincial and Municipal subsidies to the extent of several hundred thousand dollars have already been secured for the bridge project and plans are now being drawn for the bridge. It is expected that actual work will be started within the next ninety days

Keith Park presents the best chance to buy ahead of the important municipal and government projects that are planned for the North Side. It will stand the most critical investigation.

NOVEL ATHLETIC MACHINE.

New Invention to Test Runners as They Run Around the Track.

A novel invention in the shape of an apparatus for automatically taking measurements of the work of track athletes at all points in a race has just been installed on the running track in the Robinson gymnasium, Kansas University.

The machine, which is the first of its kind, and the invention of Dr. Naismith, director of physical culture, consists of small bamboo sticks, located along the track so as to divide the course into quarters.

The sticks project over the track and are touched by the breast of the runner as he passes. The bamboos are connected to a make-and-break electrical machine, which transmits the touch of the runner to a kymograph, which holds a lampblacked paper on which marks are made. A clock is used in connection with the kymograph for purposes of timing.

THE FIRST MENU CARD.

Started By a Duke in Brunswick in 1641.

At a dinner given by Duke Henry of Brunswick in 1641 he took steps to every now and then consult a long slip of paper, which reposed at the side of his plate. One of the duke's guests asked what the paper was for. He explained that it was a sort of a programme or catalogue of the dishes he had commanded from the cook, to the intent that if some delicacy which especially appealed to his appetite were marked for a later stage in the repast, he might carefully reserve his appetite for it." The simplicity and utility of the idea at once took the fancy of the duke and the menu card from that moment became an institution. The new fashion was so much admired it travelled far and near, and was adopted in England and France at once.

THE LAUGHING FOUNTAIN.

A Persian Story for Canadian Children.

Althy was a dear little girl of six years old. Her mamma was dead, but her papa called her his star, and her old nurse Mermei loved her dearly, and looked after her with the tenderest care.

Althy's papa had made for his little girl a garden in which grew the loveliest flowers in the midst of which a tinkling fountain played. The fountain was the great delight of little Althy's heart; its spray was so pearl-like and the music of its falling water so light and happy. She would sit for hours watching it, and listening to her old nurse talking of her mother in paradise. One evening, when the moon hung in the sky like a great yellow pearl and the fountain tinkled even sweeter than usual, her nurse, who had also been her mother's nurse, cried: "Hark, I hear your mother laughing."

Althy listened. "It is the fountain, nurse," said she.

"Ah, yes," sighed the nurse. "It is the fountain!"

That night Althy, weeping sadly, awoke from sleep. "What is it, heart of my heart?" inquired the nurse.

"I dreamt," said Althy, "I dreamt that my mother was dead."

The nurse, knowing not what to reply, remained silent.

Through the open window could be heard the laughing fountain.

Althy brushed away her tears.

"Ah, no," said she. "It is not so. I can hear her laughing, laughing!"

Her head dropped. She was sleeping again.

CAKED UDDER.

Neglected Too Often the Cause, Says Expert.

The usefulness of thousands of milch cows is damaged every year by caked udder. Prompt treatment will generally avert serious trouble, but cases of long standing are very difficult to handle. Many factors act to cause caked udder. It is commonest in heavy milkers at calving time. At that time the udder is naturally swollen and inflamed, and if it is exposed to a cold draft or bruised in any way serious trouble is likely to follow. Although commonest early in the lactation period, caked udder may occur at any time, being due to lying on cold, hard, damp ground, to bruises, to incomplete milking, to exposure to cold, occasionally to changes in food, and sometimes being due to an infectious form of the disease.

There are many forms of udder trouble, which are variously known as garget, mammitis and caked udder. In the most severe forms there is a chill, followed by a fever, and the udder becomes much swollen, red and tender; the milk decomposes into whey and bloody curd; pus forms, and the udder mortifies; it may be completely lost.

TURNING OUT COWS.

Grass Increases Milk Supply But Not Quality.

When the grass begins to grow sufficiently for the cows to graze they thrive anew; as the change is highly beneficial to their health, but it has a tendency to weaken the milk. As a rule the constant supply of grass will increase the milk supply, but the quality does not rise proportionately. On the contrary, it generally drops, and attention should be given to this to prevent too much degeneration; but a good deal depends on the pastures. Where these are rich, and the supply ample, there will be no reduction of quality. Unfortunately such pastures are not the rule. Plenty are not only poor naturally, and from neglect, but grass is scant. The weather, of course, has an influence on this, and when general the supply may keep up the demand. At first there may be plenty, but it is apt to become scarce, and it is most necessary to watch the milk yield at this time.

Australia has Tallest Tree.

Australia claims to have the tallest tree in the world. It has long been thought that to California belongs this distinction, but, while California trees are of gigantic dimensions, they do not come up to Australia's eucalyptus trees. The Californians are noted not so much for their height as for their girth and diameter. The tallest tree in California yet discovered was found by actual measurement to be 340ft high Australia's record gum tree can beat this by 140ft.

CORN TILLAGE GOOD FOR SHEEP.

Experiments Prove That Silage Has Great Advantage Over Roots as Economical Feed.

The Dominion Experimental Farm is showing its worth to farmers by its practical experiments and even more so than its recent trials in stock food.

In a series of experiments conducted for two years under the direction of J. H. Grisdale, director of the Dominion Experimental Farm, it has been found that silage has a great advantage over roots as an economical sheep feed. Duplicating the experiment of the preceding year, twenty-seven lambs of uniform weight were divided into three groups of nine each and fed different rations, from which to form a basis of the experiment. No. 1 group was fed on clover hay, meal and turnips; lot No. 2 on clover hay, meal and silage, the latter replacing the turnips, and No. 3 group was fed on clover hay, meal, turnips and ensilage mixed.

WHY ARE THE LARGE INVESTORS ALL OVER CANADA AND THE UNITED STATES BUYING MONTREAL REAL ESTATE?

If Western land or speculative stocks were considered better,-- is it reasonable to suppose that these careful financiers whose knowledge of Canadian conditions is beyond a doubt-would buy Montreal Real Estate ?

To the men of good judgment,— these questions do not require an answer.

YOU KNOW Montreal is the largest City in the Dominion.

YOU KNOW that the population is increasing yearly at the rate of about 50,000.

YOU KNOW these people have to have homes.

Taking the above facts into consideration, what do you consider, looking in the most conservative way possible, ANGUS PARK LOTS will be worth in four years' time?

Taking the past advances in MONTREAL REAL ESTATE as an example, these lots will be worth over a hundred per cent. (100 per cent.) more in that time.

We have a limited number of lots situated on ANGUS PARK BOULEVARD, which we can offer you at to-day's low prices, and on terms that will not cripple your finances, and by the time your lots are fully paid for you will have saved not only the cost of the land but the increase in value, thereby making your investment many hundred per cent. (100 per cent.) better than a Savings Bank account and much safer.

Do not delay till this opportunity has escaped you, but call in and see us, or drop us a line and we will send you full particulars together with our application forms. The prices range from $100 per lot upwards and the terms 10 per cent. cash, and the balance 10 per cent. every three months without interest.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

WHY GO TO ALASKA TO INVEST IN OIL?

During the past month we have beenpresenting to the readers of The Morning Times, and the public in general, an offer which for SAFETY and CERTAINTY OF RESULTS in the form of DIVIDENDS and ENORMOUS PROFITS is well nigh UNPRECEDENTED.

In Southwest Colorado, in Mountezuma County, near Mancos, nature has placed RICH OIL FIELDS which promise to be the cause of the MOST STUPENDOUS BOOM COLORADO HAS HAD SINCE THE EARLY GOLD DAYS.

We own and control 8,500 acres of land in this section which experts assure us are positively gusher producing properties,

We have bought and paid for all the machinery necessary for drilling. We do not owe one cent. If you invest with us you have behind your investment not only enormous land values but machinery the value of which is fully $8,000.

For the ordinary investor this would be security enough but we have made the safest investment proposition that ever was offered, for, besides these rich Mancos Oil Fields we also own 2,560 acres in the proven oil field of San Juan, Utah; also 1,920 acres in the Great Montezuma District of Colorado, and fifty acres of rich mining ground in the La Plata District, for which we have been offered Ten Thousand Dollars spot cash.

Investments in the stock of our Company participate in the profits of all these properties. The Mancos Oil and Development Company promises to and will give the public a "square deal." Every acre of oil land and mining property which it owns or will acquire belongs to its stockholders.

MR. BURT H. MASON, the president and organizer of the Company, is a mining engineer of enviable reputation the officers of the Company are well-known business men and bankers of Southwestern Colorado. If any misrepresentation has been made we guarantee to return every dollar you pay us and all expenses to which you may have been put for investigation.

The price of stock is Twenty-five Cents a share, which can be paid on monthly installments if desired. If further information be desired it will be cheerfully given.

QUEEN CHARLOTTE

The Capital City of the Islands

THE LAST WEST

The only town on Graham Island that has a monthly pay roll, and the only sawmill shipping lumber to foreign ports.

The only town having a railway gazetted to its very doors on the island.

The only city on Graham Island having electric light, city water, miles of sidewalks, churches, school, hospital, postoffice, first-class drug store billiard hall, city hall, hotels, boarding house, barber shop and other general stores, and the only newspaper published on the Island, the Queen Charlotte News.

We are positively the centre of all the vast wealth of the entire Islands, including farm lands, timber lands, coal and metalliferous mines. These products must come out at Queen Charlotte City, through the Honna River Valley, and through which the Island Railway must run according to charters already granted.

The combined townsite interests cover one thousand acres, of which five hundred are practically level alluvial soil with no rocks.

A fine water power from the Honna River, good drainage and the best harbor on the entire Islands.

Our lots are all 50 feet by 120 feet, ranging in price from $150 to $300; one-third cash, balance on time at 6 per cent., or deeds can be had at once if desired.

Fully 200,000 acres of farm lands, suitable for mixed farming, only await the hand of man, a large portion of which is already located.

The verdure clad mountains are vast treasure vaults of gold, copper, silver and other precious metals, while our valleys are underlaid with a wealth of the finest coal and covered with a vast forest of spruce, hemlock and yellow cedar. These, coupled with our fisheries, are at the very doors and within sight of Queen Charlotte City.

Taking all these facts into consideration, and with the present progress being made in developing our resources, which are at the gateways of transportation both by water and railway, with the advent of the completion of the Grand Trunk Railroad, Queen Charlotte City is destined to be one of the province's most prosperous cities.

It is owned largely by the wealthiest and most honorable men of our province, who would not be a party in misrepresenting facts and are prepared to endorse every statement herein made.

The townsite company are now offering a further 75 lots on Second avenue at a very low price and on easy terms, if taken at once, and under conditions that will make you a 100 per cent. on your investment in 90 days, for 20 per cent. of the gross proceeds will be used by letting a contract for the clearing and grading of Second avenue from Third street west. The company guarantees to advance the remaining 75 unsold lots on Second avenue from $150 to $225 as soon as the first 75 have been sold. The company is making this effort in order to join with the government in making Second avenue the trunk road through the townsite from the Wilson-Robinson coal fields, Honna River Valley, Lawn Hill and Miller Creek districts. Now you can secure any unsold lot on Second avenue, including fourteen in Keith's addition, to-day for $150, except corners, on easy terms, 1-4 cash, balance 6, 12 and 18 months at 6 per cent. This will positively be your last chance for a cheap lot in Queen Charlotte City, for every lot in the townsite will surely go from $500 to $1000 when the public realize that in the Island River railroad from Queen Charlotte to the head of Massett Inlet is to be started this summer, in addition to the present work already outlined, thus giving work to an army of men. There are at least 5000 citizens of Vancouver who have invested in the varibus resources of the islands. Conclusive evidence of these facts, a landscape drawing of the townsite and a portion of Graham Island coupled with an illustrated edition of the resources of the islands can be seen at the office of J. J. Miller, 82 Hastings street, Vancouver, B. C., Agent for Vancouver, and plans at offices of "Times", Peterboro'.

TEMPER

"I know I have a temper," I heard a girl say the other day; "but, at any rate, I'm not sulky." And from the tone in which she said it, one would have thought that a temper was something to be proud of, so long as it wasn't a sulky one.

As temper ages people, and leaves more lines on the face than almost any other thing, it isn't very wise to indulge in it at all. And there is another side of the picture, too. The people we live with have to be considered to some extent, and if we could only realize all the pain we give those near and dear to us when we indulge in fits of temper, we should surely try to get out of this bad habit. Life is too short to spend in wounding people unnecessarily, so the sooner we give up doing it, the better.

ABOUT COREA.

Corea is the land of queer customs. One is that the children in school use sand boxes instead of slates. They use the difficult Chinese characters and have to learn them as early in life as we do the alphabet. They make the character in the sand with a stick and then shuffle the box and make another.

There are many "little mothers" in Corea, for babies are mostly given over to older girls to be cared for. A broad sash or strip of cloth is tied around the waist of the little mother, and the baby is tucked snugly within its folds. It keeps its place during all the games of the children and seems as contented and happy as possible.

MANNERS FOR BOYS

"If certain boys lack manners it is altogether the mother's fault," was the reply given to a woman who complained that a man had talked to her in a room and had kept on his hat in her presence. "A boy who has been allowed from his infancy to wear his hat in the house when his mother and sisters are present cannot be expected to realise that it is an unchivalrous mode of behavior when he grows up.

"Boys should be taught to wait upon their mothers. Don't rush with offers to wait upon him. Let him button your shoes and perform little acts of service for you. Train him to go on errands to your friends, give him messages and notes to carry in order that he may learn to be at ease when he has to meet strangers.

"A boy who has been early inculcated in the practice of manners that should spring from real consideration and thoughtfulness will find himself provided with a valuable asset in after life. There are few women who do not appreciate the small courtesies of life. And as woman's influence is subtle and far-reaching, it may often happen that the young well-bred man may realize practical benefits from his manners.

"Teach your boy to have a standard of his own. Show him that courteous manners help him to keep his own self-respect, and that when he is boorish and rude, he, too, suffers spiritually from his own lack of politeness.

"'In my business life,' said a woman wage-earner, 'I meet two types of men. One makes me feel like a duchess; the other like a woman of no importance. In the first instance my self-respect is maintained; in the second there is a sense of real pain and hurt.'

"If all boys were trained in the art art of manners from their childhood, no woman would ever have to lament the lack of chivalry in the present day young man."

LINEN AND SILK

Natural tone linen was employed in the making of this suit, and collar, revers, belt and cuffs are of brown silk, each edged with a bias fold of white silk. The buttons are covered with brown silk, and the little inset vest is striped white pique.

HINTS FOR THE ENGAGED GIRL

Don't make an ostentatious display of your engagement ring.

Don't be jealous if he casually admires another girl.

Don't expect all your friends to think as much of your fiance as you do.

Don't quote his opinion upon every occasion. All the world is not engaged to your sweetheart.

Don't always have your own way. Allow him to have his once in a while. It will break the monotony of the thing, if nothing else.

Don't let him spend his money too freely on flowers and sweets for you. These may be trifles in themselves, but they mount up in the long run.

Don't fail to try your hardest to win the favor of your prospective mother-in-law. Let her very soon see that her son has chosen a girl after her own heart for his wife.

BRIGHTEN THE CHILD'S LIFE

Home may be rendered a very happy or a miserable place to the child. Mothers very often neglect this, with the result that we have so many weary-looking, unhappy, sad little children. An hour spent in the evening in a thorough romp with some little friends is one of the best methods of producing good health, as well as a cheerful temperament, in the child.

Doctors still differ. A Manchester medican man declares that the germ theory is a piece of the most arrant superstition.

TO WEAR OR RUST OUT

Man Who Retires From His Life Work Often Retires From Life—Proper Way to Live

Have you ever noticed that when a man, who has long worn the harness of business, finally retires from his work, he often retires from life altogether? asks an English writer.

He may have looked forward throughout his working career to the time when he might lay down his tools and rest a while in the sunset of life; but the breaking of a life's habit is too much for him, and, like an old horse, so soon as he is taken out of the cart he has dragged so long, he fails and dies.

In losing his work he has lost the interest in life; in losing his interest he loses his grip altogether, and it is time for him to die.

To live and to live strongly, a man's life must be full of interest, and to put one's soul into one's occupation is to put all one's eggs into one basket. Wherefore, it behoves us all to get, in addition to the interest of our occupation, as many interests as possible.

We all dig our ruts with our own hands, and often, when some change comes which tears us from our familiar surroundings, we complain bitterly. It is only in the light of after knowledge that we realize that the change has benefited us.

Perhaps the most direct escape we may find from our own lives is to live in the lives of others, for the man who tries to live within the bounds of his own life makes but a sorry business of it.

Take, for example, the man in good circumstances, who says to himself, "I have sufficient for one, but I have not enough for two. I will not marry, for love must always bring sorrow. Therefore, I will keep my troubles under my own hat, and Fate shall have no power to strike at me through wife or child!"

This scheme of life, admirable though it may appear, and ensuring, as far as possible, at least a placid existence, fails to work. The man, left alone to enjoy his easy circumstances, becomes flabby and self-indulgent. His health, as he grows older, becomes his constant care, and it often occurs that he becomes a broken, depressed half-invalid long before his brothers, who have taken the chances of life, and have stood the bracing buffets of sorrow and responsibility.

He has rusted out. The steel of his life, unburnished by the rube and scrubbing of circumstance, has lost its brightness and its pliability.

Every fairy-story tells us that they married and lived happily ever afterwards in their barley-sugar palace, but the true story of life has no such ending.

Far better is it written that they married and made the best of their lives, toiling rejoicing, and sorrowing, doing what they could for the world they lived in, and finally wore out, full of honors, instead of rusting out in ignoble peace.

HOME HINTS

When keeping fish, never lay one on the top of the other. Wring a cloth out of clean salted water, wrap them separately in this, and lay on a dish. Keep in the coolest place possible. After washing a teapot, dry thoroughly, and leave the lid off, so that the air may enter. If you close the pot, it is very likely to smell musty, as it is impossible to dry the spout.

Most People find it rather difficult to prevent the mats at sitting-room or bed-room doors getting kicked out of place. Try this plan. Sew a small brass ring firmly to each corner of the mat, and screw two tiny rounded cup-hooks into the corners of the doorway close to the floor. If the rings are hung over the hooks they will hold the mats firmly in their place, and, as there are rings at all four corners, each mat may be turned frequently, so that it may wear evenly. The hooks must be very small and rounded, so that dresses will not catch in them.

Contingent Man's Opinion.

The Times learns from a member of the Coronation contingent that the men themselves were very well satisfied with their trip. This gentleman said: "If the Non-Coms. and men had been asked what they thought men had been asked what they thought of the trip, they would say that Kitchener gave the Canadians the best place on the whole route to see the Procession." This representative said that he, at least, was very well satisfied with the trip.

On Sunday night last a young man was running through Central Park, at about 12 o'clock, when he tripped over one of the faucets, which are there for the purpose of watering the grass, and received a heavy fall. His clothes and his temper were both the worse for the encounter. The faucets are a menace to pedestrians on dark nights.

A Citizen Leaves.

John Foley, who has for some time been a resident of this city, left this morning for parts unknown. Our lamented fellow-citizen had the misfortune to become intoxicated and when in that happy state, he fell into the hands of a police officer. This morning he preferred other atmospheres to that of the jail, so he was allowed to leave town.

Tents for the Boy Scouts.

It has been suggested to The Times that the Boy Scouts would use the army fly in their next camp. This is a half tent which is carried rolled in the blankets, either barrack room or bandoler roll will hold it; each man has his own half which he puts with that part of the tent carried by the man on his left. Many Scouts in this city are in favor of this fly, but some would rather have the bell tent.

Horse Found.

Last night at about 10.45 a horse was found near the corner of Hunter and Queen streets, hitched to a buggy wandering around the streets. The animal was taken to Munro's Livery. The horse is said to belong to a man named Hare who lives outside of Peterborough. Futher particulars could not be learned at the time of going to press.

Live and Learn.

About a year ago several of our Aldermen motored to Lindsay to inspect the new pavement which was then being put down on William street, in that town. They came away impressed with the evenness and durability of the pavement. In view of this, the following from the Post will be of interest just now: If the statement made by his Worship Mayor Beal that the William street pavement is rotting through lack of attention is true, it is a serious condition of affairs. This thoroughfare ought altogether too much money to be allowed to go into decay.

PLEASED WITH THE TIMES.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—Permit me to congratulate your paper on the stand it is taking in regard to Romish aggression. Orangemen and Protestants everywhere should and will support you. In order to show that I mean exactly what I say, I enclose a check for six dollars, which will pay for The Times for myself and one other for one year. I think every patriotic citizen, who believes in liberty and justice: "Equal Rights to All—Special Privileges to None"—should not only subscribe themselves but should get their friends also to do so. Let the good work proceed.

Equal Rights.

SEATS IN THE PARK.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir.—I think the Council and Park Committee should secure a number of additional seats for Victoria Park. On hand nights there are no seats for those who are tired and want to rest. The grass is always damp after nightfall, and one is in danger of catching cold if they sit on the grass. I know of many elderly people who are prevented from enjoying the music of the band on this account.

Fifty additional seats would relieve the situation and afford relief. I hope the Council will provide them.

A Lover of Music.

SUICIDE IN POLICE STATION

Yesterday morning at 5 o'clock, a horrible discovery was made in a cell at the Police Headquarters, when the body of George Hope was found in No. 1 Cell. The deceased had been arrested by Constable Middleton on Monday at 9 a.m., who took him to headquarters in order that he might be protected from harm. Previous to his arrest the prisoner had fallen against a tombstone which accounts for the bruise found on the forehead. The deceased was an old offender, and was considered to be harmless, with no real faults except his passion for strong drink. In such cases it is not as necessary to search the prisoner as carefully as it would be to search a desperate criminal.

The ghastly find was made by Sergeant Adams, who is on duty at night. About 5 o'clock this morning when he was making his regular rounds past the cells. At first sight the man appeared to be sleeping, but the officer's shout not awakening him the Sergeant came to the bars. He saw some drops of blood on the floor which alarmed him so that he called P. C. Middleton from the beat and together they entered the cell. The prisoner was found to be dead and therefore the coroner Dr. McPherson was summoned, who called an inquest for the same morning at 9.30.

The jury viewed the body which laid on the floor with its back against the west wall and the head resting on the bench, which is on the south side of the cell. In the centre of the cell lay the hat of the prisoner and on the east end of the bench was a rolled coat. A small window, high up on the west wall was open. On the radiator by the north wall lay a corncob pipe, possibly that of the prisoner's.

The floor was covered with blood, and bloody finger marks were on the wall. The knife with which the prisoner killed himself was sticking in the door frame. It is a steel knife with a blade two inches long. Both blade and handle were covered with blood. The point only was sharp, indicating that deceased had to use some force to commit the deed.

The indications were that the unfortunate man had cut his throat and had wandered around the cell with the deliberate intention of dying. He had been dead probably over an hour.

The evidence at the inquest being taken, the jury were out for nearly an hour, when they brought in their verdict, as follows:

"George Hope came to his death by his own hands and that no blame could be attached to anyone."

MR. J. H. BURNHAM THE CHOICE FOR THE DOMINION HOUSE AND E. A. PECK FOR LOCAL

A LARGE ATTENDANCE AT THE CONSERVATIVE CONVENTION HELD LAST NIGHT.

Delegates From All Parts of the Riding Were in Attendance—Officers Elected.

There was a large turn out at the Conservative Convention held in the Conservatory of Music Hall last night to select candidates for the Dominion and Ontario Houses. Delegates were present from every division of the riding.

For the Dominion House, Mr. J. H. Burnham, M.A., was the unanimous choice, no other name being mentioned and the large gathering received his name with wild applause.

Mr. Jos. Batten nominated Mr. Burnham and Mr. J. T. C. Lang was the seconder.

For the local House Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., declined to accept the nomination and moved that Mr. E. A. Peck be the candidate. The seconder was Mr. Frank Adams. After holding the nominations open for three minutes, Mr. Harry Phelan moved that the nominations be closed which was carried by a standing vote.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

The following officers were elected:
Mr. Jas. Kendry, President.
Harry Phelan, 1st Vice-President.
Wm. Butler, 2nd Vice-President.
Nelson Blewett, 3rd Vice-President.
Jas. Edgar, Secretary.

The meeting passed a resolution denouncing the reciprocity pact.

GIRL DROWNED LAUNCH BURNED

Windsor, Ont., July 18.—One life was lost and five others endangered when the gasoline launch Lilly, owned by John Nunn, a young man, of this city, took fire in the river at 10 o'clock last night.

"Back fire" from the exhaust of the engine set the gasoline tanks on fire, and the six occupants of the boat were compelled to jump into the river to save being burned alive.

All were rescued but Miss Mabel Mason, aged 19 years, whose home is at Park Hill, Ont. She sank like a stone and was not seen again. The other members of the party were taken from the river in an almost exhausted condition by the arrival of small boats, who were attracted by the burning launch.

ESCAPED GOING OVER THE FALLS

Four Young People in a Launch Drifted Close to the Cataract.

Welland, Ont., July 18.—Two young men and two ladies of Niagara Falls, N.Y., were out in a gasoline launch last night when their engine became disabled. They paddled around in a helpless condition without any knowledge of their location. Finally they got ashore at the Foreba of the Ontario Power Company, and even after landing they had no idea of where they were. That they did not go over the falls is a miracle. It is locally hoped that the Marine Department will delay no longer in installing a beacon light on Hog Island.

CROSS ATLANTIC IN MOTOR BOAT

Gibraltar, July 18.—The Yawl, "Sea Bird," which arrived from the Azores last night is sailing late today for Italy.

Captain Thomas F. Day, of New York, and his companions T. R. Goodwin and F. B. Thurber, of Providence, R.I., report a pleasant trip across the Atlantic. In their twenty five foot craft they left Providence on June 10 and arrived at Horta in the Azores on July 1.

On July 5th they set sail for Gibraltar. From the Azores they experienced light winds and calm weather. They made the trip of approximately 3,300 miles in 35 sailing days.

BAD FIRE IN PARRY SOUND

One Thousand Cords of Hemlock Bark Burned.

Parry Sound, July 18.—Bush fires destroyed one thousand cords of hemlock bark belonging to the Hockin Lumber Company at the company's mills at Otter Lake, six miles south of here. Eighty men have been fighting the flames day and night for the past three days, and the mills and yard are not yet safe should the wind change.

From many points in Parry Sound district, there are reports of dangerous bush fires, and from this town there can be seen huge clouds of smoke, and at night the reflection of fires may be seen at a score of places. Unless relief comes in the shape of a heavy rain great damage will be done.

SEEMED TO GIVE HIM A NEW STOMACH.

"I suffered intensely after eating and no medicine or treatment I tried seemed to do any good," writes H. M. Youngpeters, Editor of The Sun, Lake View, Ohio. "The first few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets gave me surprising relief and the second bottle seemed to give me a new stomach and perfect good health." For sale by all dealers.

SUPPOSED CORPSE SLAPPED HIS AMAZED RELATIVE ON BACK

E. F. PIKE, OF FRANKLIN, N.H., HAD GONE TO RECOVER SHERMAN'S BODY.

Not Worried by Fire—Missing Man Was Within 12 Miles of Porcupine and Not Aware of Disaster.

Porcupine, July 18.—There will be a great celebration of joy to-night at Franklin, N.H. H. A. Sherman, of that city and of Boston, will arrive home alive and well. His wife and people never expected to see him again except as a corpse, for he had been listed among the dead in the Porcupine fire. The Boston papers had announced the fact in big headlines.

The whole story is interesting. It was on last Friday morning that E. F. Pike, postmaster of Franklin, on his way down to the office heard some men on the street talking about H. A. Sherman's death in the fire-swept Canadian hinterland. Mr. Pike is related to Mr. Sherman by marriage, and, therefore, the news came as a severe shock. The worst was confirmed by the Boston papers, which reported his death and gave a resume of his life's history. Mr. Pike told his own wife, and then Sherman's wife, who, however, had heard the news a few minutes before. She had been married only a few months ago, and was completely prostrated with grief.

WENT FOR THE BODY.

It was decided immediately that Mr. Pike must go north to bring back the young Franklin man's body. He took a friend with him for company on the way. Late on Sunday night they reached Golden City, Porcupine.

Sherman, in the meantime, had had one of the strangest experiences recorded during the whole affair up north. He had been within twelve miles of Porcupine all week, and didn't know that there had been a disastrous conflagration. On Tuesday he had noticed heavy smoke in the neighborhood, but he hadn't imagined it was anything more than an ordinary bush fire.

With fourteen other men he continued his work of testing veins of gold ore. On Friday, a mining engineer came into camp to get Sherman to do some work for him. He had been in the neighborhood all week, had heard rumors of a bad fire but hadn't thought it worth the trouble to go into Golden City for any news.

That a number of men should be in such a close distance of the burned areas, yes, in the heart of the devastated district itself, and not know the seriousness of the conflagration, is almost incredible; but it is true as is proved by the story Mr. Sherman told. He is a well-known man in Boston, and is a thoroughly reliable witness.

REALIZED THE TRUTH.

"All day Saturday," Mr. Sherman said, "I kept on sampling veins and then came to Golden City on Sunday evening. Before I had gone far from the camp, I noticed all the forest laid bare, and began to realize that something unusual had happened. On my way I passed South Porcupine, or at least, the ruins of that town. There I learned the details of the horror, and saw some of the burned bodies myself. I met several friends who made a big fuss over me, they said that at the Golden City I was reported missing, and everyone was afraid that I was dead. It was such a long time from Tuesday until Sunday.

"I proceeded to Golden City and to the Murphy House. The first person I saw as I came in the door was my good friend Pike. He had his face half turned away, and didn't notice me. I went up behind him and grabbed him by the arm, he turned around and then I knew I shouldn't have surprised him so bluntly. He started back with the strangest, most indescribable look on his face. I said to him 'Hello, old boy; here I am safe. How's the wife?'

"Slowly, the rarest, quietest sort of smile, joined with an expression of intense relief, bordering on exhaustion, spread over Pike's face. Neither he nor I ran and fell on each others neck and kissed each other. I stood still, and Pike sank into a chair. For five minutes he sat there, without doing a thing but look at me. He ate me up with his eyes. I could hardly appreciate his feelings, for, of course, I had been unhurt, and unless you have experienced it, and certainly I hadn't, it is impossible to imagine the feelings of a man who finds alive the corpse he was to take home."

Here, Mr. Pike who had been silent while Mr. Sherman was speaking, "No," he said, "I won't try to tell you what I felt. The psychological analysis would be too complex, and, at any rate, I don't want to analyze the feeling. It is enough to enjoy it—I hope I can keep something like it all the time. I don't think I will have a period of the blues for years to come. Mr. Sherman is a short, dark young man, and Mr. Pike is older, fairer, and taller. Both were well dressed, and, without doubt, looked by far the happiest people in the crowd.

PROMINENT LIBERAL SAYS NO ELECTION TILL OCTOBER

NOBODY REALLY KNOWS WHAT WILL HAPPEN, BUT EVERYONE HAS AN OPINION.

Conservatives Talk of An Election, Even Saying August Is Possible—Premier Sees Chief Whip.

Ottawa, Ont., July 18.—From the four corners of the Dominion members are piling in this morning for the re-opening of the Commons this afternoon. There are just about as many opinions as to how long the session is to last as there are members.

A prominent Liberal, who should know what he is talking about, said early this morning that the House would be in session until October, and that the Cabinet was prepared for a session of that length, whereas Conservative members generally are talking about getting home again in the course of three weeks, or a month at most.

The truth of it is that nobody knows what is going to happen. There is a lot of talk among the members of an early election. If the left side is determined to force an appeal on the reciprocity issue there is no use talking about redistribution. No redistribution bill could be put through for months, that is, if the history of past redistribution legislation, when feeling did not run nearly so high as it does now, is to be a guide.

There is bound to be a lot of jockeying for the best position if an election is to come off. The opposition will not want to bear the onus of a filibuster, and will try hard to make it appear that they are not obstructing, while, on the other hand, the Government will do its best to show the thing in its true light to the country. If it should happen that we do have an election without redistribution, somebody will have to do a lot of explaining to the people west of the great lakes.

All the talk here this morning is election talk, and the most of it is to the effect that the election is coming. A number of the members profess to be willing to bet that August is not too soon for the biggest battle Canada has had for many years. They say that obstruction is bound to develop from the beginning, and that the Government will meet it in the spirit in which it is offered. Meantime, the members are going about with their ears cocked, professing to be full of ginger and ready for anything that may develop.

PREMIER SEES CHIEF WHIP.

Ottawa, July 18.—There was a small attendance of members at the opening of the house this afternoon, only a bare quorum having arrived during the forenoon. A big western contingent is expected in to-night.

The Premier had a conference with Chief Whip F. F. Pardee, to-day, but nothing is known definitely as to what the procedure will be. Both reciprocity and the estimates are pressing matters. In any event the reciprocity fight will be on in earnest by next week.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

WAS GORED TO DEATH BY BULL

Listowel, Ont., July 18.—Gored and mutilated by an infuriated bull, the body of John Newbigging, a bachelor farmer of Elma Township, was discovered in a field on his farm last night by a hired man following a protracted search in which his brother who lives on neighboring farm joined.

A shattered club with which he had evidently made a desperate fight for life lay not far from him. Apparently he had tried to drive the animal either into another field or back to the farm and thus angered it. The deceased was about forty-five years of aged, and a well-known and respected resident of the district.

A NEW SONG WRITER

SIR WILFRID—"Well, if He Hasn't Got Her Singing His Darned Old Song with Him."—Advt

A TALENTED ARBITRATOR.

Ralph Connor is a Man with a First-Hand Knowledge of Men.

Rev. Charles W. Gordon (Ralph Connor) of Winnipeg, the famous novelist, who has been appointed Chairman of the Board of Conciliation which will seek to settle the big strike of coal miners in the West, is noted for his tolerance. That quality stands out strongest among his characteristics as a man, a minister, and a writer.

As good an example of this as can be found is an amusing incident in his novel, "The Foreigner."

The Anglican bishop in the story was being driven over the Edmonton trail by Sam Macmillan, a very competent but very profane freighter. Every time the horses became wired in a slough Sam would let loose a string of original oaths which made the bishop's blood curdle. The latter implored the man to desist.

"Just as you say, your reverence," replied Sam. "I ain't hurried this trip, and will do our best."

At the next slough the experiment was tried. Ordinary language was used, but the horses would not budge. Half an hour passed with no results.

"It's getting late, Mr. Macmillan, and it looks like rain. Something must be done," said the bishop.

"It does, your lordship," answered Sam. "But the brutes won't pull half their own weight without I speak to them in the way they are used to."

More time passed. Then the bishop gave in.

"Well, well, Mr. Macmillan," he said, "we must go on. Do as you think best, but I take no responsibility in the matter."

He retired from the scene and—

Macmillan seized the reins from the ground, and, walking up and down the length of the six-horse team, began to address them singly and in the mass in terms so sulphurously descriptive of their ancestry, their habits, and their physical and psychological characteristics that when he gave the word in a mighty culminating roar of blasphemous excitation, each of the bemired beasts seemed to be inspired with a special demon and so exerted itself that in a single minute the load stood high and dry on solid ground.

A clergyman who will write like this ought to be a man to consider all the circumstances and provocations on both sides of a labor dispute

MEASURES MINDS WITH MACHINE

Wonderful Apparatus Devised by an English Scientist.

A Mr. John Gray has devised a mind measuring apparatus, and among the persons already tested by him are Lord Avebury, Sir William Crookes, professors and physicians of the West London and Middlesex hospitals, many of the women of the Lyceum Club, and one actor.

Commenting on the results of these tests, he says that, generally speaking, he found the men, with the exception of the actor, came under class 4 of the scale of persistence, which includes men of thorough and profound thought. What a dramatic critic Mr. Gray would have made!

He found the literary women to be more mentally brilliant, witty and quick of apprehension than the average. Then Mr. Gray takes another whack at the actor by saying he came under class II, which comprises cynics, persons who do not go into the depths of things and only learn superficially.

The apparatus consists of a box, the interior of which is fitted with a revolving mirror, on which powerful colored lights are made to play. The eye of the person to be tested is placed against a whole in the side of the box, the mirror is set in motion, and the length of time taken for the sensation of flickering to disappear from the subject measures his mental persistence, thus giving indication of his intelligence.

A Year Ahead of His Time.

Luxembourg was not so long ago the scene of an incident savoring decidedly of comic opera. When the late ruler of the Grand Duchy was Duke of Nassau he was officially informed of the death of his cousin, the King of the Netherlands, and promptly journeyed from Vienna to Luxembourg, to which state he was next in succession owing to the operation of the Salic law. A ceremonial entry was made into the capital, and the new Grand Duke had already received personal congratulations from many of his most prominent subjects, when he heard that Kink William's physicians had been misled by a cataleptic trance, and that, so far from being dead, he was on the road to recovery. So Duke Adolphus had to return to Vienna, and when, a year later, the King really passed away, several weeks elapsed before the new ruler of Luxembourg assumed the reins of government.

A Trick of the Sun.

Upon a mountain in Andalusia quaint spectral forms are frequently seen. Whenever there is a heavy mist and persons are ascending the mountain they appear in all their ghostly splendor and sometimes so suddenly as to strike dismay into the hearts of those who see them for the first time. Of course it is all a trick played by the sun. When a mist partly shrouds the mountain the sun is naturally obscured, and then he revenges himself by projecting the shadow of any person who is ascending the mountain until it assumes the form of a gigantic spectre.

A pedigree hog was killed by an American railroad and a jury awarded $10,000 damages. And you couldn't get that for ten dead section men.

The schottische was introduced 40 years ago in Germany.

DANGER OF CHOLERA IN AMERICAN CONTINENT.

Washington, July 17.—That there was a grave danger of Asiatic cholera gaining a foothold in this country, was the opinion expressed by Surgeon-General Walter Wyman, of the Public Health and Marine Hospital Service to-day.

"I am not an alarmist, but I cannot deny that there is imminent danger," he said. "We are doing everything in our power, but there is a chance that the cholera may spread despite our efforts."

Several more marine hospital experts were sent to New York to-day to aid in the cholera work there.

CIGARETTE PAPER.

So Light that 500 Sheets Go to Make an Ounce.

Of the great army of cigarette smokers there is probably not more than one in a hundred who knows that rice paper, in which the tobacco is wrapped, has nothing to do with rice, but is made from the membranes of the breadfruit tree or more commonly of fine new trimmings of flax and hemp.

So light is this paper that 500 of the tiny sheets go to make an ounce. They are perfectly combustible and give off the minimum of smoke. Before being rolled with tobacco they are analysed to prove that they are free from all deleterious ingredients and that they contain nothing but the purest paper fibre. Only new material—flax and hemp trimmings—is used, and these are thoroughly purified.

Chopped by machinery into minute particles, they are well mixed by a revolving fan and then reduced to a dust, which is placed in a solution of lime and soda. After remaining in solution for some time it undergoes a thorough washing process, the water being the purest kind.

Then the pulp is rolled out into paper. At first it is of a grayish tinge, the pure white of the finished product being obtained by an electric process.

The French manufacturers of cigarette paper practically supply the entire world, the output of Spain and Italy being insignificant.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Drunk Walked Into Station.

Two drunks were arrested by the police yesterday afternoon, one of whom walked right into the police station, possibly thinking it was a hotel where he could rest for the night. He was given a room to himself.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

A Salvation Army Earnest.

A scion of one of the oldest of the noble families of England, Sir Genille Cave-Brown-Cave, 13th baronet of Stanford, is now a member of the Salvation Army in Brooklyn. His patrimonial estates in England were so encumbered that years ago he came to this country to make a living and had been employed on ranches in the west. He became one of the most expert of cowboys, and held the record for roping and branding a steer in the shortest time. The freedom of the plains appealed to him. Some months ago Sir Genille decided on going to England on a visit and travelled east as far as New York. There a Salvation Army lass with her tambourine and a frank look in her blue eyes lured him from a public resort, in which he and a party of friends were regaling themselves, and interested him in the work of the army. He is now working as a janitor and trying to save from his wages the $100 matriculation fee required at the Salvation Army training school for officers of the army.

Risky to Marry Money.

Apropos of a beautiful young wife, worth $40,000,000, who had just divorced her penniless husband in order to marry again, Henry E. Dixey, the comedian, said at a dinner:

"The young man who marries for money has none too easy a time of it. His rich wife is likely to tire of him and throw him out in a few years, or else she is likely to limit his allowance to 25 or 50 cents a day.

"'I married money,' a man once said to me.

"'Wasn't there a woman attached to it?' I asked.

"'Yes, you bet there was,' he exploded. 'So much attached to it that she never parted with a penny.'"

An Insect Gunner.

Many insects have some means of defense from their natural enemies, none of which is more curious than that of a small beetle, which, when closely pursued, discharges a puff of poisonous vapor with a distinct detonation. Undoubtedly in many instances this aids the diminutive gunner in his escape, mainly, in all probability, by startling his pursuer and causing him to abandon the chase. From this peculiar acquirement, this little fellow is kown as the bombardier beetle.

An Ignorance of Values.

"You shouldn't have said you could hire all the brains you need for $25 a week," said the politician's friend.

"Why not?"

"Because it's merely an invitation to somebody with only six dollars' worth of brains to come along and cheat you."

Doing Things Regularly.

The Lady—I thought you said you were looking for work?

The Hobo—Well, I am, mum. But I don't want to get it right now. I'm a detective, you see, an' I'm just after clews, to-day.

"Are you at the head of your class in school?"

"Not exactly," answered the sturdy youngster, "but the boy that is at the head of my class in school isn't in my class in football."

Even the women who complains of her heart can run up a bill without getting out of breath about it.

More Widows than Widowers.

The proportion of remarriages shows an almost continuous decrease, says the registrar-general in his report on the births, deaths and marriages in England and Wales during 1909.

The number of of widows, he states, is always much greater than that of widowers, because in the first place men marry later in life than women; secondly, because the duration of male life is shorter than that of female life, and thirdly, because the proportion of widows who remarry is much lower than the proportion of widowers who remarry.

Marriages of persons described as divorced have steadily increased and in the year 1909 were the highest on record.

ARE THE MEN THE WEAKER SEX?

Women Gaining Muscular Supremacy.

A college professor expresses the conviction that women are gaining the muscular supremacy over men. He attributes this to their taking a more active interest in outdoor sports, while the men are becoming indolent in that respect, and prefer being spectators to participants in athletic exercises. With their admitted superiority in all the arts and graces, including fluency of expression, and to add to this physical predominance, there seems to be little left for mere man, but to plod unostentatiously along in the ranks of the producers, and continue to pass up his gross earnings to his mental and physical superior every Saturday.

MAKING OF CARPETS.

They Were First Used in Europe to Cover Tables.

The primary use of carpets in Europe was to cover tables. The first of these so-called carpets were embroidered—not woven—fabrics, and were made in French cloisters, about 1,000 years ago. The manufacture of carpets in Europe did not begin until the reign of Henry IV. of France. In England the industry was established about 1750 by a French artisan, who, being at odds with his own country, fled thither.

Carpet-making, as a modern industry, was first developed in France. That country had large factories and a monopoly in Europe of the art of carpet-weaving when a rush-strewn floor was the rule even in the royal palaces of Britain. But the edict of Nantes, that great dispenser of French artisans and artistry, caused many of the carpet craftsmen to cross the channel. They settled at Bristol, Axminster and other places in the southwest of England. From there the secrets of the industry spread to Glasgow, Kidderminster and the towns of Yorkshire. These places are still the great carpet-weaving centres of Great Britain.

An Alternative.

Old Richfellow (desperately): "If you refuse me, what is there left for me to do?"

Sweet Girl: "Well, I read the other day about a rich man who made his will in favor of the woman who refused him, and then went and hanged himself."

BUY

ROYAL PORCUPINE

Quoted at 32 to 33 Cents

The stock of the Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co., we believe, will prove to be one of the greatest money makers in the wonderful Porcupine district.

Every day brings forth further evidence that the Porcupine Camp is destined to become the richest gold region in the world, and Royal Porcupine should soon take its place at the head of the great producing mines in this section.

Porcupine has the indorsement of the world's greatest authorities in gold mining, who concur in the opinion that never before have such rich showings been seen covering so great an area.

The Property

is located in the township of Tisdale and consists of eight full claims, embracing 320 acres. It is particularly well located, being only one-quarter mile south of the Porcupine Gold Mines, Ltd., and one-half mile south of the Hollinger mine, for which it is claimed there is $10,000,000 in sight. Engineers report that the Royal Porcupine property is in the famous ore zone, being on the same ledge as Hollinger and having the same formation.

A telegram from the engineer in charge of the property bears out this statement. It is as follows:—

"Porcupine, Ont., June 19, 1911.

"Vein uncovered twelve feet in width. Excellent ore body. Shaft being sunk on this vein. Property in every way most favorable.

(Signed) "JULIUS MESSER, M. E.,
"Engineer in charge of property."

Thirty men are now employed, and work on the shaft will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Four veins, varying from 12 to 100 feet in width, have already been uncovered. Assays have been made which show $50 a ton.

Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co.

is capitalized for $3,000,000 par value of shares $1.00. Full paid and non-assessable. No personal liability.

A glance at the list of directors will show the class of men who are putting in their money and time to make this one of the greatest mines in the Porcupine Camp. The directors are:—

You cannot clean carpets, rugs and furniture by beating. If you think you have, just try a KING EDWARD VACUUM CLEANER and you will find the article full of dust, which breeds disease.
The KING EDWARD HAND MACHINE has no equal as compared with other hand machines. It is lighter to operate and its suction is much stronger. Its suction is stronger than many of the power machines, and the dusting is done away with. On account of the short stroke one person can operate it on carpets and rugs equally as well as two, and it is about half the weight of other hand machines to carry up and down stairs or from one room to another. It is sold for less money than any of the hand machines. All machines are guaranteed.

Rough on Josefa

Dispatches from Berlin say: Rosa Blachek, one of the Siamese twins, who lately appeared at a Paris music hall, was arrested by the police to-day on a charge of breaking her contract.
Her sister, Josefa, was, of course, obliged to accompany her to jail, and complains that though innocent she has to share the imprisonment.

All He Was Fit For.

A forlorn Irishman, reduced to the last stage of poverty and destitution, as the last resource made inquiry at a marine store as follows:
"D'ye buy rags and bones here?"
"Yes," was the reply.
"Then, he jabers," said Pat, "ye may put me on the scales."

The Reason.

Benevolent Old Gentleman: "Johnny, why was Damocles afraid to eat his dinner when the sword was suspended over his head by a single hair?"
Johnny (who does not like being patronized): I s'pose he was afraid the hair would fall into his soup."

A Progressive.

"Madame, dot girl of yours make great progress mit her mooseic before she was always two or dree notes behint me, and now she is always two or dree notes ahead."

The civic tax rate in Lindsay is 30 mills on the dollar. But this does not mean that the citizens of that good town pays a higher rate than is paid in Peterborough. It is largely a matter of value and of high or low assessment.

THE STANDING ALIBI OF H. STANLEIGH STORME

(By Wm. Hamilton Osborne).

that H. Stanleigh Storme was at the great dinner at the time, the police proferred the second grave charge against the man.
And the grand jury, as in duty bound, indicted him once more.
The day of trial approached. Another judge had been selected—the first judge had declined to preside at a trial which in his opinion was little better than a farce.
The authorities were prosecuting and persecuting Storme with a vigor and persistence which puzzled the newspapers and the town.
The district attorney meant business this trip—that was clear. He was moving heaven and earth to convict the man.
And yet he was not altogether certain. Left to himself, as a public officer, it was a question whether he would have pushed the case in the face of public opinion. But it was a serious matter with the banks, and they were putting up a lot of money and he could well afford to push the thing for all that it was worth.
The prosecution made a secret of its information and its movements. But this much leaked out—that the man who robbed the bank had been positively identified by two policemen, a county detective, and a private man employed by the Bank—as no other than H. Stanleigh Storme.
He had, however, as on the previous occasion, skillfully eluded them. His operations from start to finish had been cleverly executed.
In fact, the man was a wonder from every standpoint. He seemed to understand the very essence of success.
He always worked alone, and he never left any trace. All that he did was to pounce suddenly upon a bank, rob it, and then disappear.
He had no accomplices to "peach" upon him—he laid no plans to betray him. When the police were at one end of the town he was at another.
He seemed intuitively to know just the time to strike—he was a born burglar in every sense of the word.
Of course there was a mystery—the district attorney was making allowances for that. The city was a large one, and a mystery was a difficult thing to solve.
One half the town did not know the other half—the task would have been simple in a small place, but in a great city it was stupendous.
There was one thing, however, that the county prosecutor was determined to do. If he could not convict H. Stanleigh Storme, he proposed at any rate to fathom the mystery and to convict some one.
The counsel for the defence needed but little preparation. To him the whole thing was even more preposterous than on the former occasion. And the popular sentiment was with him from the start to the finish.
But H. Stanleigh Storme, who, of course, was out on bail, shut himself up for a few days and prepared his own defense in his own way. Smug and sanguine as he had been at every other time, he seemed worried now.
"Damn that fellow," he muttered to himself, "I'll get even with him if he tells. If he'd only keep his mouth shut. But he won't."
How serious the matter was to him, and how thoroughly he prepared himself for the ordeal, will be developed later. Day after day he sat by himself behind closed doors, mapping and planning out everything to suit himself.
He appeared at his club as usual—they had the utmost faith in him there.
He was careful to be seen in public places, and the smile never once left his face. His predicament made him more popular than ever.
The sheriff and the judge and the urymen would run across each other in the street.
"Well," one would say, "I suppose you're going down to prove an alibi for Storme."
Storme did not confine himself to inside preparation. He made a move that puzzled many people.
Quietly he called upon each tradesman with whom he kept an account and paid his bill, no matter what it was. He drew checks on all his bank accounts and delivered them to trust-brokers with instructions to draw out his accounts on a certain day and hour.
He carefully examined all his private papers and destroyed everything.
The last thing he did before the day of the trial was to purchase a revolver of the very finest make. It was a seven shooter.
"I've never shot a man in my life," he muttered to himself, "but, by George, if I get caught like a rat in a trap, I'll shot, not one, but seven, and then——"
And then he went to bed and slept all night—slept like a child.

CHAPTER XV.
The Second Trial Begins.

It was not until the day before the trial that the district attorney really understood the situation.
He had been mystified before although he had put up a bold front and kept a stiff upper lip. But on the day before the trial he received a bulky letter many pages long, written in a masculine hand.
It was signed "Wesley Warburton," a name hitherto unknown to him.
The prosecutor shut himself up in his private office and read the letter. It took him more than half an hour. When he had read it once, he turned back to the first page and started in again.
It occasioned him considerable surprise, and more delight. He buttoned it up in his breast pocket and kept mum, very mum, about it.
The courtroom, as was to be expected, was packed to the doors. The crowd was on hand long before any of the actors in the drama that was to be played.
The jurors in the former trial, and in fact all the fifty guests of the Dreddlington dinner, occupied a large space in the center of the room. Each man among them had been subpoenaed by the defense.
It was not until five minutes of ten that Storme appeared. His countenance was ruddy, and he glanced around and smiled as though he were naught but an interester spectator.
He never looked to better advantage than he did on this occasion. Notwithstanding his unconcern, however, he kept anxiously glancing toward the door from time to time.
The district attorney followed, shook hands with the prisoners counsel, and bowed formally to the prisoner.
The judge was the last to enter. When he entered everybody rose.
"Morning, gentlemen," he responded curtly, with a sort of side nod to the assembled audience.
"Call the case," he commanded before he had even reached his seat. "People against H. Stanleigh Storme," the crier announced.
The prisoner's counsel rose and said he was ready to proceed, so did the district attorney.
"Shackleton's got something up his sleeve—something that we don't know about," said the prisoner's counsel anxiously to the prisoner at his side. "I know by his manner. We've got to look out for him."
The prisoner nodded and smiled, and then dropped lazily back in his chair and looked around upon the crowd.
The district attorney was very brief in his opening statement. He simply detailed the bare facts—that the First National Bank had been looted of a large sum, and that he would prove to the jury that H. Stanleigh Storme was, beyond all question, the guilty man.
He didn't say how he expected to do it—he simply stated in a perfunctory sort of way that he would do it. The way he said it made no impression on the mind of anybody, except that of the counsel for the defense.
He became more anxious as the prosecutor proceeded. He didn't know what to make of it.
Burke and the two officers and the county detective—all of them men who knew the prisoner by sight—took the stand in turn. Their testimony was strong in every particular, and was of the same general character as was Burke's upon the former trial.
It seemed impossible that four men could be mistaken; but then it seemed strange that four men could permit a criminal to escape as they had done; they could explain it only by the fact that the man who robbed the bank was a professional criminal of the greatest cleverness, and that he had been too slick for them.
But they were certain of the man.
This testimony, however, strong as it was, served only to amuse rather than to convince the crowd, for everybody realized how completely formidable was the defense.
Even the judge who had presided at the former trial was in the courtroom, to help prove an alibi.
It seemed as though the prosecution's case was about at an end; but during the latter portion of the testimony of the county detective there was a lull in the proceedings caused by the fact that the defendant's counsel had raised an objection to the admission of a certain line of testimony.
The district attorney, the bank's private counsel, and the counsel were grouped with their heads together about the judge's bench, discussing with the judge's the particular question before the court and its admissi-

KIDNEY TROUBLES

FAILURE IN LIVER ACTIVITY A CAUSE.

There are thousands on the verge of serious kidney trouble, Bright's disease, diabetes, etc., who like Mr. Jeremy J. Perry, of New Glasgow, were attributing their physical decline to every other than the true cause.

In a recent letter he says: "My kidneys, perhaps a result of dyspepsia, got all out of order; they ached excessively. I had constant thirst and my body showed signs of wasting, despite an appetite in the early stages of my trouble, ample enough to sustain the body. I decided to try Dr Hamilton's Pills and have great satisfaction in stating that they have completely cured me. An immediate decline in the volume of urine was the most noticeable result at the beginning, and this was soon followed by a regular action of the bowels. It was a great boon, I assure you, to get rid of so pressing a desire to drink, drink, as was the case with me last summer.

"No question remains in my mind that the liver was the cause of my ailments; I am sure that no pills for kidney, liver or bowel trouble can compare with Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I urge their use to all my friends."

No other medicine is so certain to cure troubles of the stomach, bowels, lives and kidneys. You are sure to be cured by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Refuse any substitutes. Price 25c per box, at all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Canada.

THE RETIRING COMMISSIONER.

A grand old man is the shaggy-browed Scotchman who is retiring from the post of High Commissioner, Lord Strathcona, who will be ninety-one in August, has a unique record. At fifty years of age he was known only as chief factor of the Hudson Bay Company. Since that time he has become in turn a national, an Empire, and an international figure. With seventy-seven years to his credit, at an age which is usually regarded as the crown achievement, he went to the old land as Commissioner, and forthwith carved out for himself a new career.

It is said that young Donald Smith was faced by a triple choice of occupation. A place was open for him in the mercantile establishment of relatives, he had considered the claims of the East India Service, and he was offered a clerkship with the Hudson Bay Company. When he came to Canada a boy of eighteen, to take the lateer position he was sent to a lonely station in Labrador. But his ability made itself felt even in the wilderness. He became trader, factor and chief factor of the company.

One of the stories of those early days which is not always associated with biographies of the distinguished Canadian has to do with his narrow escape from death while returning to Labrador after a journey to Montreal. Menaced by snow blindness, he had travelled five hundred miles by dog-sleigh to receive treatment. He started back with three Indian guides. He arrived without them. They perished on the trail, and he accomplished the last hundred miles of his journey alone.

He is now on the "last hundred miles" of another trail, and there are but few of his once contemporaries to travel with him. He has been of untold service to Canada. To his public services he has added benefactions representing many hundreds of thousands of dollars. His name is a household word in Britain as well as in the Dominion. The man who succeeds him in office will have a high standard to live up to, if the Strathcona record as High Commissioner is to be maintained.

FOR HABITUAL DRUNKARDS.

An Inebriety Board has been constituted in New York City. It consists of two physicians, two clergymen, one Protestant and one Roman Catholic, and a retired merchant who is interested in philanthropic and charitable work. The Commissioner of Charities and the Commissioner of Correction are ex-officio members.

The Board, which was authorized by a recent legislative enactment will acquire a site for a hospital and industrial colony for the care and treatment of habitual drunkards. Hereafter, when any man is arrested for intoxication the Board will be notified immediately, and a field officer will be sent to the station to investigate the case, and to ascertain if any persons are dependent upon the prisoner for their support. If so the prisoner, if he has a clean record, will be released, after giving the court and the Board full information about himself. Knowing that he will be in a sense under surveillance, the offender is likely to walk circumspectly.

But if he is arrested again within a year he faces a committal to the industrial farm for at least twelve months. Various ways of admission are provided. A man who is adjudged by a court of record to be an habitual drunkard will certainly go. Committals will be made on the inebriate's own application or on the application of a relative. A Board of Hospital Trustees may request a committal, or it may be made on the certificate of two medical examiners in lunacy. The act defines an inebriate in the following terms: "A person who is incapable of properly conducting himself or his affairs, or is dangerous to himself or others, by reason of habits of periodical, frequent, or constant drunkenness induced either by the use of alcoholic or other liquors, or of opium, morphine or other narcotic or intoxicating or stupefying substance."

The constitution of the Board is practically a recognition of the undoubted fact that drunkenness is a disease demanding medical rather than corrective treatment. The nature of the methods to be adopted in the proposed hospital and the programme of activities in the farm or industrial colony are not yet defined. Only the term of detention is fixed—not less than one year and not more than three years. The Board may grant a parole if the condition of the patient warrants it.

Another Handsome Ship Added to The Fleet

The Grand Trunk Pacific Steamship Company operated by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, has added another handsome ship to its fleet, designed to operate in the Prince Rupert-Queen Charlotte Island and the Portland Canal route.

This steamer will be named the "Prince John," the fourth Prince steamer of this line. The Prince Rupert and Prince George being the largest and finest vessels in the north coast trade from Seattle, Victoria and Vancouver, and the Prince Albert operating locally out of Prince Rupert.

The Prince John was constructed in Port Glasgow, Scotland, and is now somewhere off the coast of South America on her way to Vancouver, where she will arrive about the end of next month.

A description of the vessel is as follows:

The steamer is 185 feet long, 30 feet beam, and 13 feet 3 inches moulded depth, built of steel and classed 100 A1, with star at Lloyds. She has seven watertight bulkheads with double bottom, affording ample ballast and fresh water storage, large bunkers, two multitubular Scotch boilers, triple expansion engines, capable of a speed of 12 knots under full loaded conditions, on an extremely moderate fuel consumption. The vessel has been modelled to stand the heaviest weather, and is a remarkable sea boat.

In addition to a large and well arranged steerage accomodation for 150 she has good first-class accomodation and a very neat and comfortable smoking room done in fumed oak with leather upholstery, and buffet in connection. This is accessible only from first-class quarters. The dining salon seating 44, is done in Mahogany with crimson upholstery and drapings and is situated on the shelter deck, and attached to it is a large pantry and gallery, conveniently laid out and fitted with all modern equipment necessary to a first-class service. The Chief Steward's office and men's washrooms are located also on this deck.

The dining room is reached by a mahogany stairway leading from the lounge on the shade deck, into a panelled and decorated. The principal stateroom accomodation is situated on the shelter deck and consists of 18 two-berth staterooms of large size and well ventilated, all having outside windows. These rooms are furnished with folding lavatories, spring berths, hair matresses and the standard linens of the Company.

Forward of this is a very neat semi-circular observation room, with large plate glass windows, done in white and gold, furnished with wicker chairs. This room will be the most attractive feature of the steamer. Above this is the Pilot house, and texas for the officers quarters.

On the after part of the lower deck there is ample promenading space for steerage passengers, and on the shade and upper decks there is ample shelter and lounge space for the first-class passengers.

This ship has a cargo capacity of 450 tons, in addition to her bunkers, and although it is expected she will be very convenient and comfortable ship, well adapted for the purpose for which she is intended. It is expected she will arrive on the coast some time in the latter part of July and will as soon as possible thereafter be placed in commission on the Prince Rupert-Queen Charlotte Islands route relieving the S.S. "Prince Rupert" for other purposes.

When three years old grape-fruit trees begin to bear, the crop continues to increase until the seventh year when the average amounts to between seven and twenty boxes of fruit. Grape-Fruit is usually sold on the trees at a price ranging not less than $1.00 per box. On the Manhattan Estates we will have a grove of over 40,000 trees, and our yearly crop, once maturity is reached, should average 280,000 crates annually. Between the trees we intend cultivating tobacco and pineapples from which a substantial profit will be realized within one year from the time of planting. The British-owned Western Railways run through the Estates, insuring splendid shipping facilities. The officers and directors of this company have implicit faith in this enterprise, and have agreed that no one shall receive one cent of salary until after 25 per cent. dividends have been earned and declared. They are quite willing to wait for their dividends, knowing that their investments will amply repay them.

One Hundred Dollars is enough to insure ease and comfort. Why not inqure today about our special offer.

AN INVESTMENT NOT A SPECULATION

What everybody with an ounce of common sense is on the alert for these days is a sound INVESTMENT and there is as much difference between an investment and a speculation as there is between London and Hong-Kong, although we all don't realize this.

• • • •

Consequently when one takes a chance on a speculative proposition, mistaking it as an investment and comes out of the small end of the horn, he becomes pessimistic and with the tightening of his purse strings to extremes to keep the pennies in just naturally shuts the dollars out.

• • • •

Now then if there were no investors there would be no progress, and with no progress the community would mighty soon become stagnant.

• • • •

The foundation of America, was old Christopher Columbus, he had an idea but was short on ready cash, in other words he was what us modern day folks call a promoter. His idea was feasible, he found co-operation, his plans carried and YOU KNOW THE REST.

• • • •

Like Columbus we are all Pioneers. Not out for our health, but to make money. No man ever saved more than a competence on a salary; few do that. To get a footing on "Easy Street" you have to invest. DOLLARS don't grow in your pockets or in a stocking. They must be put to work. Old Russell Sage said:

"Plant a few in a new country and see how fast they grow."

That's what we are trying to impress on you now and here is the biggest opportunity of this kind that is likely to knock at your door.

• • • •

We are the Pioneers of the fruit and vegetable canning enterprise in the Okanagan Valley and earnestly invite you to co-operate with us.

• • • •

Men at the head of affairs of this corporation are the best known and most highly esteemed gentlemen in British Columbia.

• • • •

Mr. Albert McKillop, our President, has a world wide reputation in the Timber and Timber Land World. (See R. G. Dunn).

• • • •

Mr. Wesley A. Blair, our Secretary and Treasurer, is also Cashier of the Canadian Customs, being the Government's most trusted employee. He handles on an average of $30,000.00 every commercial day of the year, and it was his fertile mind that first saw the possibilities of Canneries on the Coast, in-as-much as tens of thousands of dollars duty pass through his hands for American goods yearly. Bear in mind that there is a 2½c per pound duty on all canned stuff and RECIPROCITY or no RECIPROCITY that will stand.

• • • •

Remember we belong to no combine, have no opposition, and are pioneers in this field.

• • • •

Just think of it, The Dominion Fruit Canners cleared $400,000 last year, approximately 51 per cent. What's going to prevent the Okanagan Canners Ltd., from doing the same.

• • • •

It's a matter of record that the Kelowna district—site of our Cannery—proved positively at all the recent fruit shows that the Okanagan valley is the greatest fruit producing country in the world.

• • • •

Now, then, be up and thinking.

• • • •

We are incorporated for only $100,000.

• • • •

We are only going to let 60,000 shares out of our treasury.

• • • •

Not one of our shares has gone for promotion purposes, every share being represented by its equivalent.

• • • •

We have no salaried officials, in fact no leakages of any kind.

• • • •

A Premium of 25 per cent. will be put on this stock as soon as our cannery at Kelowna is completed, which will be at an early date, as we will handle this year's crop.

• • • •

You undoubtedly have stood silently aside and seen other opportunities vanish that your neighbor has grasped and is now realizing handsomely on and term him lucky.

• • • •

It's not luck, but JUDGMENT when opportunities like this present themselves and one takes advantage of them.

• • • •

Our land is bought and paid for, and we hold a receipt in full for our wharf for Cannery No. 1, which is completed at Kelowna.

• • • •

Although capitalized at $100,000, divided into 100,000 shares at one dollar each, we are going to offer for public subscription but 60,000 shares, and the remainder will positively stay in the treasury.

• • • •

This is a gilt-edge bona fide, conservative investment and it is not reasonable to believe will be on the market long, consequently act NOW before it is too late.

• • • •

Terms of purchasing securities are one dollar per share; 25 per cent. cash, balance, two, four and six months without interest.

BY-LAW NUMBER 1555

A By-law to fix the assessment of The Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company (Limited).

Passed the third day of October, 1910.

Whereas The Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company (Limited) has represented to the Council of the City of Peterborough that it is the only manufacturing concern in the City of Peterborough engaged in the manufacture of locks and other articles manufactured by it, and has to compete with manufacturers in the same line of business in other places who have received and are enjoying Municipal assistance, making it difficult for the said Company to meet such competition, and has applied to the Council for a fixed assessment on the real estate, plant and business assessment of the said Company in the City of Peterborough at the sum of $25,000, and the said Council has agreed thereto and to pass this By-Law for that purpose, subject to the confirmation thereof by the Legislature.

The Corporation of the City of Peterborough, by the Council thereof, therefore enacts as follows:—

1. This By-Law shall take effect upon and only upon the confirmation thereof by the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario, and upon the said Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company (Limited), executing an agreement not to oppose the construction of any work as a local improvement abutting or fronting on, or the cost or part of the cost of which might be assessed or charged against the property in Section 2 hereof described, or any part thereof, that the said Council may desire to construct under the provisions of the Municipal Act relating to local improvements.

2. The assessment of the following lands in the City of Peterborough owned, occupied and used by The Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company (Limited) and being Lot Number Four north of Simcoe Street and west of George Street, and that part of Lot Number Three north of Simcoe Street and west of George Street described as follows:—Commencing on the western limit of the said Lot Number Three, at a point seventy-seven feet six inches north from the south-west angle thereof; thence northerly along the said western limit of the said lot to the northern limit thereof; thence easterly along said northern limit eighteen feet; thence south and parallel to the western limit of said lot to a point seventy-seven feet six inches north of said Simcoe Street; thence westerly and parallel to the southern limit of the said lot to the place of beginning while used exclusively for the manufacturing purposes of the Company, or the part so used for such manufacturing purposes, and the buildings, plant, machinery and fixtures thereon, and the business assessment thereof on which taxes are to be levied, shall be fixed and remain fixed while the same are so used, and while at least an average of one hundred hands are employed therein for at least ten months of each year, at the sum of $25,000 for a period of ten years from the first day of January, 1911, and the return and oath of the assessor or assessors in respect thereof shall be amended accordingly, but the same shall, for school purposes, be and remain liable to assessment and the payment of school taxes and rates to as full an extent as if this By-Law had not been passed, and the assessment for school purposes and the school rates and taxes shall be made, levied and collected thereon in accordance with the provisions of the general law in that behalf, and the said lands shall also be liable for all frontage and local improvement assessments, rates and taxes that are now or may hereafter be charged against the same, and any buildings on the said lands not used exclusively for the business of the Company, and the land appurtenant to same shall not be included in the fixed assessment hereunder, but such buildings and land, while not used as aforesaid, shall be assessed as provided by the Assessment Act then in force; provided, however, that if the said Company shall at any time within the said term of ten years fail or neglect to operate and carry on the said manufacturing establishment substantially to the capacity thereof, and therein to employ at least an average of one hundred hands during at least ten months in each year, then such fixed assessment shall cease, and the taxes and rates on the said lands, buildings, plant, machinery and fixtures and on the business assessment thereof shall be and become payable to the same amount and in the same manner as if this By-Law had not been passed; provided always that if the failure to carry on the said business is due to strikes or destruction of the buildings, plant, machinery or fixtures by fire or tempest, the time during which the said business shall so cease to be carried on in consequence of such strikes, or destruction of the buildings, plant, machinery or fixtures (not exceeding in either case one year) shall not be taken as a failure or neglect to carry on the said business, so as to disentitle the said Company to such fixed assessment.

3. The said Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company (Limited) shall, prior to the first day of March in each year, file with the City Clerk a statutory declaration, made by an officer of the Company, who shall therein state his knowledge of the facts, proving that the said Company has complied with and is observing all the terms, conditions and provisions of this By-Law, and on the neglect of the said Company to furnish such declaration it shall be prima facie taken that such terms, conditions and provisions have not been performed, observed and kept, and the said fixed assessment shall cease, and the taxes and rates shall be and become payable to the same amount and in the same manner as if this By-Law had not been passed.

G.T.R. Time-Table.

The Grand Trunk Railway have just issued the first edition of a reconstructed compilation of their complete time-table in folder form. After careful thought and much labor, this work has been turned out so that the traveling public may, with as little trouble as possible, readily turn to any information they desire concerning this extensive Railway System.

The time-tables not only include all the lines of the Grand Trunk Railway System, but a complete time-table of the lines of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway.

The index is so arranged that the name of any station can be readily turned to as the time-tables have all been numbered and the number of the station in which the time-table appears is given in the index opposite such station.

Information for travellers regarding sleeping cars, tickets, stop-overs, exchange of tickets, free side trips, etc., is given, and complete information as to baggage arrangements.

A series of condensed time-tables are included in the folder which is inserted an outline map of the route between the points given in these time-tables.

A new map has also been included, which shows the Dominion of Canada and a portion of the United States from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and on which is shown the line of the Grand Trunk Railway System, the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway and their connections.

A page is devoted to sleeping and parlor car tariffs, and another to the cab tariffs of the cities of Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, Hamilton, London and Chicago.

As much information as possible has been embodied in this publication and the information has been so arranged as to make the contents as plain as possibly can be done with a railroad folder.

BRITISH STANDARD BEARER.

Lieutenant Harrison, the tallest officer in the British Army, will carry the standard of the Royal Horse Guards Blue in the Coronation procession. The standard was presented to the Blues by King William on August 13th, 1831, Queen Adelaide's birthday. The last time it was carried was the first Jubilee of Queen Victoria, when the Queen went from Slough to Windsor.

AFRICANS LIKE UNIFORMS.

Much money is made out of cast-off police uniforms. Quantities are bought by African traders and exported to various parts of the "Dark Continent," where they are exchanged for palm-oil, ivory, skins, and other merchandize. It is by no means an uncommon sight to see a swarthy savage dressed in the uniform of a policeman, and wearing the regulation helmet of the force.

Stories of the Prince of Wales.

Many quaint and amusing anecdotes are related of the Prince of Wales as a small child, one being that he and his sister and brothers were invited out to tea at some Court lady's house, and when the hour for departure came he could nowhere be found to say good-bye to his hostess.

On investigation it was discovered that he had hurried downstairs alone to secure what he considered his proper place in the carriage.

It is also reported of him that, on his first attending afternoon church one Sunday, he remembered how often he had been told to thank his entertainers for their hospitality; so on this occasion he looked anxiously about for someone to be grateful to. The only person who came handy was the verger, who, rather to his discomfiture, had his hand grasped by the little prince, and was informed in a childish voice:—

"Thank you so much for a very pleasant afternoon!"

BELGIAN CHILDREN.

Parents share their Pleasures with Offspring.

This delight in the family life is characteristic of all Belgians. One sees in Brussels and Antwerp monsieur promenading in the boulevard or the bois with a cigar in his mouth, madame leaning on his arm and the children, hand in hand, walking sedately under the proud eye of their parents.

One finds children in the restaurants and children in the music halls. The pleasures of father and mother are shared always with the nursery. To go junketing without the children would appear to the Belgian not only selfish but dull. His happiness is the happiness of his children. He sees the circus half with his own eyes and half with theirs. The toyshops and bookshops in Brussels tell of the paramount part played by the child. The happiness of this people is the pleasure of domesticity.

ACCIDENTS IN AVIATION.

Mostly Due to Breakdown in Human Machine

All who walk the earth in safety and apparently in a normal condition of health are not physically qualified to be aviators. This is demonstrated by Dr. R. Moulinier who writes as follows

"The rapid ascent to great altitudes exposes the body to conditions different from any terrestral ones. Mountain climbing offers some analogy, but it is different in the fact that the transition from the high atmospheric transition of the sea level to a low pressure takes place much more slowly. The author has reported some interesting observations on the blood pressure of aviators who have ascended to high altitudes. On alighting after ascending to a height of 1200 to 2000 meters the aviator presents cyanosis of the extremities, probably from the low temperature of the high regions of the atmosphere.'

This means that the extremities turn a dusky blue color. Often there is congestion of the inner surface of the eyes. The pulse is quickened, but there is no irregularity of the heart's action, nor bleeding from the nose. There is often slight headache and ringing in the ears. Sometimes there is a tendency to sleep, and this may be felt even during flight. Rising to a great height and coming down again always increases the blood pressure, as the writer explains

Power From Sea Waves.

At the recent meeting of the British Association the question of economical production of power from tides and winds was again under discussion, and it has been taken up widely by scientific journals in Europe. "La Revue Scientifique" calls attention to a system of utilizing the power of sea waves to actuate a dynamo which has been employed during the last six months at the mouth of the river Gironde. An air chamber is connected with a well, which communicates with the sea at a depth below the level of the lowest tides. By the advance and recession of the waves changes of pressure are produced in the air chamber, and a system of valves enables the resulting air currents to be applied to rotating a kind of turbine. It is said that the apparatus works equally well in calm and in stormy weather.

A FAMOUS ENGLISH CLOCK.

Terrestial and Celestial Bodies Incorporated in the movements.

Wells cathedral contains one of the most interesting clocks in the whole world. It was constructed by Peter Lightford, a monk, in 1320 and embraces many devices which testify to the ancient horologist's ingenuity. Several celestial and terrestrial bodies are incorporated in the interesting movement and relationship. They indicate the hours of the day, the age of the mebn and the position of the planets and the tides. When the clock strikes the hour two companies of horsemen fully armed dash out of gateways in opposite directions and charge vigorously. They strike with their lances as they pass as many times as correspond with the number of the hour. A little distance away, seated on a high perch, is a quaint figure, which kicks the quarters on two bells placed beneath his feet and strikes the hours on a bell. The disk of the clock is divided into twenty-four hours and shows the phases of the moon and a map of the universe.

Ben's Logic.

"Ben," said his friend, waking up from a reverie in which he had been gazing abstractedly at the shiny expanse of Ben's skating-rink-for-ules, "is ther nothing you could do for your baldness?"

Ben, by the way, is only forty.

"No, lad!" he replied, with decision. "Fifteen years ago I was courting strong, and I tried lots o' things. But about that time t' Prince of Wales—Edward, you know—came to open t' new hospital, and I said to myself as soon as ever I saw him liftin' his hat to t' crowd, 'Ben, my lad, tha can give it up as a bad job and save thy brass. If ther was owt 'at 'ud cure a bald heead they'd ha cured his.' "

WHY ARE THE LARGE INVESTORS ALL OVER CANADA AND THE UNITED STATES BUYING MONTREAL REAL ESTATE?

If Western land or speculative stocks were considered better,-- is it reasonable to suppose that these careful financiers whose knowledge of Canadian conditions is beyond a doubt-would buy Montreal Real Estate ?

To the men of good judgment,— these questions do not require an answer.

YOU KNOW Montreal is the largest City in the Dominion.

YOU KNOW that the population is increasing yearly at the rate of about 50,000.

YOU KNOW these people have to have homes.

Taking the above facts into consideration, what do you consider, looking in the most conservative way possible, ANGUS PARK LOTS will be worth in four years' time?

Taking the past advances in MONTREAL REAL ESTATE as an example, these lots will be worth over a hundred per cent. (100 per cent.) more in that time.

We have a limited number of lots situated on ANGUS PARK BOULEVARD, which we can offer you at to-day's low prices, and on terms that will not cripple your finances, and by the time your lots are fully paid for you will have saved not only the cost of the land but the increase in value, thereby making your investment many hundred per cent. (100 per cent.) better than a Savings Bank account and much safer.

Do not delay till this opportunity has escaped you, but call in and see us, or drop us a line and we will send you full particulars together with our application forms. The prices range from $100 per lot upwards and the terms 10 per cent. cash, and the balance 10 per cent. every three months without interest.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

WHY GO TO ALASKA TO INVEST IN OIL?

During the past month we have beenpresenting to the readers of The Morning Times, and the public in general, an offer which for SAFETY and CERTAINTY OF RESULTS in the form of DIVIDENDS and ENORMOUS PROFITS is well nigh UNPRECEDENTED.

In Southwest Colorado, in Mountezuma County, near Mancos, nature has placed RICH OIL FIELDS which promise to be the cause of the MOST STUPENDOUS BOOM COLORADO HAS HAD SINCE THE EARLY GOLD DAYS.

We own and control 8,500 acres of land in this section which experts assure us are positively gusher producing properties.

We have bought and paid for all the machinery necessary for drilling. We do not owe one cent. If you invest with us you have behind your investment not only enormous land values but machinery the value of which is fully $8,000.

For the ordinary investor this would be security enough but we have made the safest investment proposition that ever was offered, for, besides these rich Mancos Oil Fields we also own 2,560 acres in the proven oil field of San Juan, Utah; also 1,920 acres in the Great Montezuma District of Colorado, and fifty acres of rich mining ground in the La Plata District, for which we have been offered Ten Thousand Dollars spot cash.

Investments in the stock of our Company participate in the profits of all these properties. The Mancos Oil and Development Company promises to and will give the public a "square deal" Every acre of oil land and mining property which it owns or will acquire belongs to its stockholders.

MR. BURT H. MASON, the president and organizer of the Company, is a mining engineer of enviable reputation the officers of the Company are well-known business men and bankers of Southwestern Colorado. If any misrepresentation has been made we guarantee to return every dollar you pay us and all expenses to which you may have been put for investigation.

The price of stock is Twenty-five Cents a share, which can be paid on monthly installments if desired. If further information be desired it will be cheerfully given.

QUEEN CHARLOTTE

The Capital City of the Islands

THE LAST WEST

The only town on Graham Island that has a monthly pay roll, and the only sawmill shipping lumber to foreign ports.

The only town having a railway gazetted to its very doors on the island.

The only city on Graham Island having electric light, city water, miles of sidewalks, churches, school, hospital, postoffice, first-class drug store billiard hall, city hall, hotels, boarding house, barber shop and other general stores, and the only newspaper published on the Island, the Queen Charlotte News.

We are positively the centre of all the vast wealth of the entire Islands, including farm lands, timber lands, coal and metalliferous mines. These products must come out at Queen Charlotte City, through the Hecate River Valley, and through which the Island Railway must run according to charters already granted.

The combined townsite interests cover one thousand acres, of which five hundred are practically level alluvial soil with no rocks.

A fine water power from the Hecate River, good drainage and the best harbor on the entire Islands.

Our lots are all 50 feet by 120 feet, ranging in price from $150 to $300; one-third cash, balance on time at 6 per cent., or deeds can be had at once if desired.

Fully 200,000 acres of farm lands, suitable for mixed farming, only await the hand of man, a large portion of which is already located.

The verdure clad mountains are vast treasure vaults of gold, copper, silver and other precious metals, while our valleys are underlaid with a wealth of the finest coal and covered with a vast forest of spruce, hemlock and yellow cedar. These, coupled with our fisheries, are at the very doors and within sight of Queen Charlotte City.

Taking all these facts into consideration, and with the present progress being made in developing our resources, which are at the gateways of transportation both by water and railway, with the advent of the completion of the Grand Trunk Railroad, Queen Charlotte City is destined to be one of the province's most prosperous cities.

It is owned largely by the wealthiest and most honorable men of our province, who would not be a party in misrepresenting facts and are prepared to endorse every statement herein made.

The townsite company are now offering a further 75 lots on Second avenue at a very low price and on easy terms, if taken at once, and under conditions that will make you a 100 per cent. on your investment in 90 days, for 20 per cent. of the gross proceeds will be used by letting a contract for the clearing and grading of Second avenue from Third street west. The company guarantees to advance the remaining 75 unsold lots on Second avenue from $150 to $225 as soon as the first 75 have been sold. The company is making this effort in order to join with the government in making Second avenue the trunk road through the townsite from the Wilson-Robinson coal fields, Hecate River Valley, Lawn Hill and Miller Creek districts. Now you can secure any unsold lot on Second avenue, including fourteen in Keith's addition, to-day for $150, except corners, on easy terms, 1-4 cash, balance 6, 12 and 18 months at 6 per cent. This will positively be your last chance for a cheap lot in Queen Charlotte City, for every lot in the townsite will surely go from $500 to $1000 when the public realize that in the Island River railroad from Queen Charlotte to the head of Massett Inlet is to be started this summer, in addition to the present work already outlined, thus giving work to an army of men. There are at least 5000 citizens of Vancouver who have invested in the various resources of the Islands. Conclusive evidence of these facts, a landscape drawing of the townsite and a portion of Graham Island coupled with an illustrated edition of the resources of the islands can be seen at the office of J. J. Miller, 82 Hastings street, Vancouver, B. C., Agent for Vancouver, and plans at office of "Times", Peterboro'.

TEMPER.

"I know I have a temper," I heard a girl say the other day; "but, at any rate, I'm not sulky." And from the tone in which she said it, one would have thought that a temper was something to be proud of, so long as it wasn't a sulky one.

As temper ages people, and leaves more lines on the face than almost any other thing, it isn't very wise to indulge in it at all. And there is another side of the picture, too. The people we live with have to be considered to some extent, and if we could only realise all the pain we give those near and dear to us when we indulge in fits of temper, we should surely try to get out of this bad habit. Life is too short to spend in wounding people unnecessarily, so the sooner we give up doing it, the better.

ABOUT COREA.

Corea is the land of queer customs. One is that the children in school use sand boxes instead of slates. They use the difficult Chinese characters and have to learn them as early in life as we do the alphabet. They make the character in the sand with a stick and then shuffle the box and make another.

There are many "little mothers" in Corea, for babies are mostly given over to older girls to be cared for. A broad sash or strip of cloth is tied around the waist of the little mother, and the baby is tucked snugly within its folds. It keeps its place during all the games of the children and seems as contented and happy as possible.

Some cases of blackleg has appeared among the cattle in Peterborough County.

A CAUCASIAN MARRIAGE.

A Piece of Sugar Put to Lips of Bride to Sweeten Tongue.

In the Caucasus the marriage ceremonies everywhere are of the greatest extravagance in regard to length and the amount of feasting. In Mingrelie large tents are erected for the wedding guests, and the smallest number invited comes to two or three hundred. An interesting and pretty ceremony is the going forth of the bridegroom's mother to meet the bride, to whose lips she puts a piece of sugar, wishing her happiness and joy, and hoping that her tongue may always keep the sweetness of sugar. In the marriage procession all the goods and wealth of the family make an appearance. An elderly lady, generally the bride's nurse, plays an important part throughout the ceremonies. She sits by the bride, who neither laughs nor eats during all the merriment and feasting. A meal is served in the nuptial chamber, to which the matron conducts the bride. The bridegroom is refused admission until he buys his entry from the matron. This old lady remains a week in the house, and when she departs the bride breaks into loud lamentations. For a year the young couple are full of respect and attention for their parents, never sitting down in their presence and submitting to their wishes in everything.

REMOVAL OF BIRTHMARKS.

Carbonic Acid Snow Treatment Proving Generally Successful.

In less than a year the carbonic acid snow treatment for birthmarks, warts, and rodent ulcer, first introduced at Charing Cross Hospital, has gained an accepted place in modern therapeutics.

The early experiments with the new remedy, described in these columns last June, have been so successful in suitable cases that now practically every hospital in the country, as well as thousands of general practitioners and skin specialists, is making use of the new medicament.

The snow is prepared by allowing a thin spray of carbonic acid gas, liquefied under pressure, to escape into a felt covering slipped over the tap of the iron cylinder containing the gas. The gas is deposited on the felt as a very fine powdered snow at a temperature of about 100 degrees below zero. The snow is then solidified into an icy pencil by being tightly packed into a hard rubber cylinder with a plunger.

Treatment consists of pressing this intensely cold pencil of carbonic acid ice for a few seconds against the birthmark, wart or rodent ulcer to be removed. The resulting intense cold freezes the part, setting up severe local inflammation, which leads to a breaking down and absorption of the frozen tissues. There is very little pain and the wound heals naturally in a few days, leaving the skin practically normal.

RUSSIAN GRAIN KING.

Was Queer Character, But His Business Integrity Was High.

Of a peculiar stamp was the man of millions, Nicholas Boukhroff, the Russian grain king, who recently died. In his externals he was a mujik merchant. He wore the top boots, the trader's kaftan—coat and overcoat in one, fitting close up to the neck and reaching to the knees—and the embroidered cotton shirt without starched collar, which are the historic garb of the Volga traders, men who carry as much as 50,000 rubles in notes stuck in the leg of a boot and who distrust the documentary machinery of credit. Boukhroff's great fortune compelled him to handle investments and bank paper, but he was in sympathy with the old simple ways. He was in fact an Old Believer and a devout churchgoer who lived his religion.

In his housekeeping he lived on much the same scale as an ordinary hand worker in comfortable employment. He gave away millions of rubles in charity, but was close fisted in personal outlays. The porters at Nijnij-Novgorod and elsewhere avoided him when they saw him step from a train. He would never pay them more than 10 cents for carrying his baggage. When he met great personages he "thoued" them, as he did everybody else, keeping to the Old Believer, Quakerlike form of address. His integrity in business was of the highest.

He would lecture men in his employment if they spent five kopeks needlessly. His patriarchial ways had sometimes a welcome side. He exacted unquestioning obedience to his instructions; but every now and then a man who served him well for some years would receive a draft for 25,000 or 50,000 rubles with no further remark than:

"Thou shalt now be a Man, too. I know that thou wilt make good use of the money."

Canada Buys a Holman Hunt.

The national art gallery at Ottawa has been enriched by a painting by Holman Hunt, of the British Academy. The painting is a portrait of Henry Wentworth Monk, who was born in the Ottawa Valley and who was known as "The Apostle of Peace." He was an intimate friend of the artist, who painted the picture while with Monk in Palestine. The painting was secured from Mrs. Holman Hunt at a moderate price.

"Very clever, isn't he?"

"Yes."

"I'm told that his three older brothers are mentally weak."

"Yes, he's the original sane fourth."

"Shoots Wife Before Children," says a newspaper headline. That's a matter of precedence.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

LIFE OF QUEEN MARY.

Severity in Training of Children.

From the time of Her Majesty's birth until her marriage her life was not that of the fairly well-to-do English girl, hardly that of the modern English girl, perhaps, but nearer the old-fashioned ideal. This was her mother's plan:

"A child," she said, "has quite enough to do to learn obedience and attend to her lessons and to grow without many parties and late hours, which take the freshness of childhood away and the brightness and beauty from girlhood—and then children become intolerable. There are too many grown-up children in the present day."

A writer tells how the Queen's many high qualities were developed—her interest in charity by the frequent visits made in her mother's company to the poor around her Richmond home at White Lodge; her religious convictions, bred by the daily life of her home; her musical accomplishments and her artistic talents, fostered by her stay in Florence, Italy, where her parents lived for two years.

"The Queen has a sweet voice," says Sir Charles Kinloch-Cooke, "a soft soprano, which greatly matured under the skilful guidance of Signor (now Sir Paolo) Tosti. * * * She is a good judge of a picture and an excellent critic, and while at Florence made several pretty sketches of landscape scenery. She rarely misses any good exhibition of pictures in London, is particularly fond of the old masters and prefers their more finished style of painting to the impressionist school.

"Dramatic art of every kind appeals to her, and there are few plays of importance or that have attracted public attention during the last two decades she has not seen. Like her mother, she quickly seizes upon the humorous side of a question. Thus she has a keep appreciation for a sparkling comedy or a farce.

"The Queen is greatly attached to the historical past of her country. Ancient monuments of every kind have a fascination for her, and her acquaintance with different kinds of architecture must have entailed much study and close observance.

"She is particularly fond of visiting cathedrals, and knows the interior of most of the old city churches, besides being well versed in the countless treasures contained in the other historic buildings of our great metropolis.

"Her Majesty follows events attentively. She reads the newspapers daily, and as Princess of Wales attended the more important parliamentary debates.

"Punctuality is a household word in the royal establishment, and when the Queen makes an appointment it is always kept.

"In business matters Her Majesty is clear and expeditious, methodical and systematic. Her mornings are generally taken up with attending to the voluminous correspondence that arrives by every post.

"Her secretary and lady in waiting submit their letters and the Queen gives instructions concerning them. She quickly grasps the main issue of a question and soon makes up her mind, and has never been known to lay aside a matter on the ground that to express an opinion thereon is irksome or difficult."

PORCELAIN POODLES.

At One Time Very Fashionable Ornaments.

The day of the china and faience poodle may be said to have been the closing years of the eighteenth century and the twenties and thirties of the last century, a period when the poodle was the favorite pet animal of the contemporary lady.

In the old English china works the dog was a sort of potter's standby, says the Queen, and hardly one firm but turned to the manufacture of this delightful ornament from Bow to Rockingham. In size they vary from about six inches down to one inch.

Commonest of poodles are the Staffordshire examples, sitting bolt upright, and very much rarer are the recumbent dogs reposing on royal blue cushions. Porcelain poodles were produced at Bow, but unlike their cousins of Rockingham the Bow canines were lean and scraggy specimens of their race, with legs of an almost impossible thinness. They were modelled prior to the year 1776.

The finest porcelain poodles were produced at the celebrated Rockingham works, and they were manufactured between the year 1820 (or thereabouts) and the closing of the works in 1842—in fact, during the "Brameld period," when the factory was carried on by Thomas, George, Frederick and John Wager Brameld. The Rockingham works were situated at Swinton, near Rotherham, Yorkshire, on the estate of the aMrquis of Rockingham. The animals themselves are nearly always plain white in color, but sometimes their bases or stands are of a rich royal blue enriched with a gilt line. Occasionally the bases are ornamented with green and gilt foliage, and still more rarely red decoration is to be found.

The Staffordshire faience poodles were intended to ornament the cottager's humble mantlepiece, not the are much more roughly modelled than their Rockingham relatives, for they drawing room of the lady of fashion, and they were retailed at the trifling sum of sixpence each, so that careful modelling and delicate glaze were not to be expected. These glazed earthenware dogs are squat in figure, with large ears, bushy tails, and a decorative note is introduced by the addition of a gilt collar with an elaborate padlock hanging from it.

China and earthenware poodles are now extensively imitated by the unscrupulous German manufacturer, but his fakes are fairly easy to detect. These Teutonic forgeries are characterized by a dead white glaze, while the authentic early nineteenth century examples are coated with a cream white glaze, which is frequently a good deal crackled.

BAD FOR BARBERS.

Among the many suggestions made for commemorating the reign of King Edward VII., the quaintest is that now put forward by Captain Macliwaine, R. N. Captain Macliwaine's suggestion is that the men of the British Empire, following the example of the late King, should put their razors aside and proceed to grow beards. Our present King, sharing the views of his father, grows a beard, and makes his staffe do the same. The beard is the exception, not the rule, among men of the present day.

The Salvation Army Band are to play next Friday night, when a good programme will be rendered.

Invaluable to Every Farmer

Its Wonderful Power in Curing Sick Cattle and Colicky Horses Makes "Nerviline" Worth Its Weight in Gold.

The stockman or farmer that doesn't know of the thousand and one uses of "Nerviline" around the stable, has a great deal to learn. "Why, I wouldn't think of looking my stable door at night without knowing I had a supply of 'Nerviline' on hand. I always get a dozen bottles at a time from my druggist.

"To cure colic, indigestion and bad stomach in a horse or cow there is no remedy on earth in the same class as 'Nerviline'. Last summer I had a $250 horse that got the scours, and I would have lost him if I hadn't been able to give him Nerviline. I poured a full bottle of Nerviline in a pint of water down his throat and saved his life. I know of neighbors who have saved many heads of valuable stock, stricken with colic, just by using Nerviline. It is equally good as a rub-on liniment, and I know from my experience that for man or beast internally or externally, 'Nerviline' is worth a dollar a drop."

James E. McCullough,
Stock Breeder, etc.

You will not regret using Nerviline—but see you get it and not something else, 25c. per bottle, or five for $1.00, at all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

21 MINERS KILLED.

By Afterdamp Following Explosion in Pennsylvania Mine.

Dubois, Pa., July 19.—Twenty-one miners perished as a result of an explosion of gas in the Sykesville shaft of the Cascade Coal & Coke Company at half-past nine on Saturday night. Every miner in the southern portion of the workings perished. Few of the men were killed by the explosion itself, and from the position of the bodies found by rescuing parties it was evident that following the flash many of the men gathered up their belongings and were endeavoring to reach the outlet when overcome and suffocated by the fatal overdamp.

Eight Passengers Killed.

Mulheim, Baden Germany, July 17.—An express train running from Basel Switzerland, to Frankfort-on-the-Main was derailed while entering the station here to-day. Eight passengers were killed. Fourteen others were severely and twenty slightly injured.

STAUNTON, K.C., AND BLACKSTOCK ACT IN THE COMFORT CASE.

They Are Expected to Oppose One Another in the Beamsville Case.

Beamsville, Ont., July 18.—It is expected that a great mass of evidence will be given by the twenty or more witnesses at the Comfort inquest this afternoon, that will have little direct bearing on the case.

George Lynch Staunton, K.C., of Hamilton, has been engaged to look after the interests of one of the parties concerned. In consequence it is stated that the Crown will have the assistance of George Tate Blackstock, K.C.

From the present state of affairs, taking the doctor's post-mortem and the exhumation of the body of Edna Comfort as a criterion, it is improbable that an arrest will be made today. It remains for the authorities to follow up the murder of the baby before they will do that.

The evidence of Roland Tufford at the previous inquest, it is said, will be contradicted in part by some witnesses this afternoon. The most important evidence that is expected is connected with the identity of the mysterious man on the wheel who accosted Edna Comfort on the highway the night of the murder.

POLITICAL SITUATION IS STILL STORMY

NEITHER PARTY HAS HAD A CAUCUS, BUT LIBERALS SAY MEET TO-MORROW.

Little Need for Delay—If Conservatives Want an Election It Can Come Before Very Long, Say Liberals.

Ottawa, July 19.—The political situation remains unchanged with the signals still set at "stormy." Neither party has yet called the expected caucus to discuss the outlook, probably owing to the large number of absentees, but it would not be surprising if the Liberals, at least, were to have their gathering to-morrow.

After that it may be possible to get some line upon what is really likely to happen. The only block to an immediate dissolution if the Opposition refuses supply, is the problem of redistribution. The Western Liberals would naturally prefer waiting until next year, and so secure the advantage of the added seats to be given the West, but rather than allow reciprocity to be sacrificed, they will consent to an election as soon as possible hoping that the desire for freer trade with the United States will overcome the anxiety for the representation to which the West is entitled by its increased population.

The reciprocity debate will be gone on with this afternoon, if the Opposition do not spring another amendment, and there promises to be a lively interchange between J. D. Taylor, the Conservative member of the New Westminster, and the Hon. Mr. Templeman. The difference arises out of certain speeches made by the Minister during the recess.

ATLAS GETS HIS LIBERTY

Released on Parole After Serving Eight Months in the Kingston Penitentiary.

Kingston, July 19.—Rev. G. W. Atlas, who has served about eight months of a six-year term in the penitentiary on a charge of misappropriating trust funds, was released today by an order from the Minister of Justice.

He left at noon to-day for Toronto. According to the prison officials, Atlas was granted only a release on parole.

Atlas emphatically denied the charge against him and stated that it was due directly to the unscrupulous influence of the Roman Catholic Church that he had been sentenced. He stated that his correspondence at the penitentiary had been opened by the guards without the proper authority and forwarded to the Roman Catholic authorities at Toronto. When questioned as to his future plans he said he would devote his life in exposing the Roman Catholic system and would cover the country delivering addresses.

PUBLIC OPINION

A CENSUS COMPLAINT.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I would like to know how it is that no census enumerator has called on me. I am informed by a neighbor that he or his family have also not visited in connection with the census. Who is to blame? If the work generally has been done this way it will mean an imperfect and comparatively worthless effort.

REGARDING SUMMER RESORTS.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir.—Will you kindly inform the public, through The Times what the regulations are in respect to summer resorts. Are the owners permitted to throw their filth into the lakes and rivers? I believe that much of the offal of these places as well as from the cottagers find their way into the waters nearby where they are situated. Remember that this is the water that we have to drink and cook with. A stop should be put to it.

One Who Knows.

Reply—The following regulations are made under Paragraph 14 of Section 13 of the Public Health Act (Amended 1911).

Regulation 1. No garbage, excreta, manure, vegetable or animal matter or filth shall be deposited on or in any of the lakes, rivers, streams, or other inland waters of the Province of Ontario.

Regulation 2. Residents of Health Resorts and Summer Resorts are hereby required to so dispose of their garbage, excreta, manure, vegetable or animal matter or filth that such shall not create antifluande or gain entrance to or polute any lake, river stream or other inland water of the Province.

Regulation 3. The owners and officers of boats and other vessels plying upon any lake, river, stream, or other inland water of the Province are hereby required to so dispose of the garbage, excreta, manure, vegetable or animal matter or filth upon such boats or vessels that such shall not create a nuisance or gain entrance to or pollute such inland waters.

Regulation 4. Any contravention of the foregoing Regulations shall be subject to the penalties provided by the Public Health Act in respect thereto.

INSULTED CANADIAN NAVY, GERMAN MUST APOLOGIZE

Montreal, July 19.—Because of criticism by an officer of the German cruiser Bremen, now in port on a friendly visit, of the Niobe, Canada's first war vessel, it is possible that there may be an international row.

In an interview last evening, Sub-Cammander Von Perbonide Sposetti said of the Niobe:

"The vessel would be of no account whatever in war, but she is a good training ship."

This has caused widespread indignation among local marine men, and W. I. Willard, local agent of the Department of Marine, took the matter up with the Federal Government. The result is that the German Consul has been asked to investigate and see that a proper apology is made.

Early this afternoon the German Consul notified Mr. Willard that an apology would be made for the officer's remark.

YOUNG SLADE GETS OFF LIGHTLY, WAS FINED $100 BY MAGISTRATE

Lindsay, Ont., July 19.—A young man called Slade, a lightning rod salesman who shot a section hand at Hastings while passing through on a G.T.R. car, was fined $100 by Police Magistrate Jackson this morning. The section man was wounded in the leg. Slade was also found guilty of carrying concealed fire arms and was fined $14 on that charge.

POSSE OF BURGLARS AND HORSE THIEVES CAPTURED EMBEZZLER

Reno, Nevada, July 19.—When Jas. Antoine, embezzler, escaped from the road gang of convicts near Carson yesterday, three convicts, two of them murderers and the other a horse thief headed a posse and captured him in the mountains. Antoine when captured was soundly abused by murderers, horse thieves and burglars for breaking word of honor given Warden Baker not to escape. The convicts swore a month ago, that they would capture the next man who escaped.

PLAGUE IN INDIA KILL 3,500 DAILY

Efforts to Stamp Out Terrible Disease Have Been Fruitless.

London, July 19.—According to figures received in this city the deaths from the plague in India have reached the enormous total of 650,000 for the half year ended on June 30.

The disease has taken such a hold on that country that its ravages are little heard of except through the occasional official statistics. The British India Office in recent reports stated that the epidemic was particularly virulent this year and that the most persistent effort to stamp it out failed to effect a permanent improvement in the situation.

A CASE OF SMALLPOX

Yesterday it was reported that a case of small pox had been taken to the Isolation Hospital. The Times called up that institution, but the officials declined to give any information except to communicate with Dr. McPherson, the M.H.O., for the city.

It has since been learned that the patient was removed from a house in one of the streets in the northern part of the city. He is assured the most skilled attendance obtainable and at the same time, while he is in the hospital, there is no danger to the people of the city, as no patient is discharged until all danger is past. The citizens of Peterborough owe a debt of gratitude to Dr. McPherson for his prompt action in having the patient removed to safety, thus preventing the spread of the disease.

CHOLERA CASES AT QUEBEC

Men on the S.S. Bendu Came From Baltimore and Probably Have Dread Disease—Five Cases at Montreal by Government employees. WHOLE COUNTRY MUST HELP.

Quebec, Que., July 19.—Four members of the crew of S.S. Bendu, coming from Baltimore are reported seriously ill at Grosse Isle from what is supposed to be cholera. Dr. Heagerty, Government bacteriologist, attached to the Grosse Isle Quarantine station, is making an examination of the four cases, the result of which will be known in six days.

The most seriously sick is a Finlander sailor named Alexander Hargu He is dying. The three others are an Englishman, an Icelander, and a Russian. The whole crew were put ashore and the vessel taken up to

New York, July 19.—The health officers not only of New York, but of the whole country may be asked to help repel the threatened invasion of Asiatic cholera. The discovery of five "cholera carriers" among the 600 immigrants undergoing bacteriological examination at quarantine, emphasized what Health Officer Doty has said about the difficulty of confining the disease to the quarantine hospitals of ports of entry.

Gives Clearness to Skin

FEEDS AND PURIFIES BLOOD AND THEREBY KEEPS YOU IN GOOD HEALTH.

Most women and some men try to remove yellowishness of skin, blotches, dark lines under the eyes by cosmetiques. Such means are as useless as disappointing. When the skin lacks clearness, particularly when the body is emaciated, it is simply the stain upon the skin of impurities in the bowels that are carried about by the blood. Sluggish activity is certainly the cause of bad complexion even if regularity should be pretty fair.

Better than any cosmetique, because they remove the cause of skin discoloration, Dr. Hamilton's Pills ensure inward cleansing and activity. In addition to their laxative action they are a true tonic to all the eliminating organs, liver, kidneys, bowels and glands. Dr. Hamilton's Pills remove the cause of all blood troubles that manifest themselves outwardly, and they fortify and strengthen the organs and thereby prevent a return of diseased conditions."

One box of Dr. Hamilton's Pills proves their merit, even one dose shows how different they are from other pills. 25c per box, at all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Canada.

TAX BACHOLORS IN FRANCE

Paris, July 19.—For the first time in France a resolution in favor of a tax on bachelors was voted by the Lyons Municipality Council yesterday. The Council proposes to raise $60,000 that it needs for the alleviation of the distressed suffered by innumerable large families among the laboring classes. It is proposed to make all single men residing in Lyons liable to a tax of $2 and a supplementary tax of $1.25 if they pay a weekly rent of $1 or more.

Parliament has been asked to pass a bill to bring the proposed tax into operation.

MARRIED A THIRD TIME

Son of a Millionaire and His Chorus-Girl Bride are Taking No Chances.

New York, July 18.—Thos. Franklin Manville, Jr., son of the millionaire "asbestos king," and his chorus girl bride, who was Miss Florence Huber, of Williamsport, Pa., will get married for the third time soon.

"Linny and I have a red seal on the New York certificate, and a gold one on the New Jersey license; now we want a blue one, and we'll get that in Connecticut," explained the youthful Mrs. Manville. She is four years older than "Linny," who is 19.

There is a method in their marrying madness. Papa Manville has threatened to have the ceremonies annulled. The couple believe that by marrying often enough, in different States, they will discourage him.

Many Farm Hands Wanted.

Brandon, July 19.—The harvest hands question has been taken quite seriously by the citizens of Brandon, as it is estimated that over 2,000 men will be required by the farmers close about the city. The Mayor, J. W. Fleming and Alderman J. H. Hughes have been appointed delegates to visit the agricultural districts of the United States along the route of the Great Northern Railway in the interests of the farming community.

A BUMPER CROP.

This Year's Wheat Crop Will be the Largest in the History of Canada—Fifty Thousand Men Required for the Harvest.

The wheat crop of 1911 is the largest ever known in the history of the country—a low estimate of the crop of Manitoba, Saskatchewan being at least two hundred million bushels, and the Government of the respective provinces state that fifty thousand men will be required for the harvest this year. These will have to be principally recruited from Ontario, and the prosperity of Canada depends on securing them promptly. The Canadian Pacific, on whom will practically fall the entire task of transporting the men to the West, is already making special arrangements for this year. Excursions from Ontario points to Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta will be run at the same rates and conditions as last year and special trains from Toronto and Ontario points through to Winnipeg and West will be run, making the trip in practically thirty-six hours, avoiding any change of cars or transfers—this will be a day shorter than any other route. Dates of the excursions will be announced as soon as possible, and all C.P.R. agents can supply full information concerning this year's excursion.

SOME REMARKABLE INSURANCE.

Lloyds Underwriters Will Take All Kinds of Risks.

Some remarkable underwriting business in fancy risks have been done by Lloyd's in connection with the coronation. Large insurances have been effected by traders whose interests are bound up with the coronation, and ten per cent has been paid to cover a claim should the ceremony not take place before the end of the year. In one or two cases policies have been taken out on the joint lives of the King and Queen until the end of the year, at the rate of four guineas per cent, whilst a "Royal Family" risk has been accepted, insuring the lives of the King and the Queen and their children for the same period, the premium in this instance being ten guineas per cent. A possible change of route for the coronation procession has also come within the speculative scope, though the premiums are small.

To pay a loss if there is a general election before March 31, 1912, twenty-five guineas per cent is quoted, and five per cent has been accepted to cover the payment of a claim should Mr. Lloyd George become prime minister on or before December 31 next. This risk has been written several times, but the amounts involved are not large.

The next budget has also been the basis of speculative business of this nature at Lloyd's.

The last rate quoted to pay a loss in the event of the duty on sugar being abolished was twenty guineas per cent, whilst several policies to cover a reduction in the tea duty have been taken out at twenty-five guineas per cent, the equivalent premium for coffee and cocoa being thirty-five guineas per cent. The possibility of an increase in the cost of license is apparently considered remote, seeing that a policy for this risk can be got at twenty per cent.

By far the largest amount of speculation has, however, been done in connection with the income tax, and a rate as high as fifty guineas per cent has been charged on a policy to pay a total loss only in the event of no alteration being made in the present charges.

THE CHOICE OF DEATH.

Condemned Murderers Prefer Shooting to Hanging.

Why do condemned murderers prefer shooting in preference to hanging? Since the State of Utah passed a law giving convicts this choice, Arthur Pratt, warden of the Utah State prison, has not had one who would go to the gallows. On one occasion a murderer refused to make a choice, and the judge sentenced him to be hanged.

"Utah has a law which allows a condemned murderer to choose either hanging or shooting as a mode of dying," said Warden Pratt. "This work is done by the sheriffs of each county, but in the penitentiary yard. So far we have not had a man who has chosen hanging. Once a murderer refused to make a choice, and the judge sentenced him to be hanged. Shooting is the more humane. It is painless and instantaneous. The condemned man is led to the prison yard, seated on a chair, and, if he desires, is blindfolded. Five men armed with rifles are then marched to within ten paces of the man. Four of the rifles contain ball cartridges. The fifth has a blank shell. A target is pinned over the heart of the condemned man, all five guards take careful aim, and at a signal the volley is fired. The ordeal is over in a few moments, whereas in hanging the suspense and suffering last for many minutes."

THE VAGRANTS' HOME.

Missions Used by Loafers to Help Them Out.

"Got any home?" said the judge to a man who had been brought in on the charge of vagrancy.

"Sure I have."

"Where is it?"

The man named a street and number.

"Your Honour," volunteered a clerk, "that ain't a house; it's a mission."

"Well, call them up, anyway," said the judge, "and see if they know anything about him."

They did not know anything, but the missionary said he would come right down and see what could be done.

"It is not an unusual case," he said. "Our mission is 'home' to many a man whom we never even heard of until he gets arrested. If a man who has been run in as a hopeless derelict can mention some address which he can call home his sentence is apt to be lighter. Lots of outcasts have been on the tramp so long that it is hard for them to think of any place they are intimate enough with to call it home, but through an occasional peep in here they remember the number and brazenly sing it out. Court-room attendants communicate with us and ask our advice. Naturally we respond even though the men are perfect strangers. Some of them seem hopeless wrecks, but now and then we discover a man who has good stuff in him still and is capable of developing into a useful citizen."

MIGHT BE CAPT. COOK.

Young Borup Writes a Book in Slang.

When Commander Peary took George Borup, a graduate of Yale, on his last polar trip, he started a live one to his party. Young Borup, only twenty-three years old, was the laughmaker of the crew. Members of the expedition say that no night was too dark for Borup fun-making.

Since his return to America, Borup has written a book entitled "A Tenderfoot With Peary." He writes mostly in slang, but his story is perhaps the most interesting, popularly, that has ever been written of the arctic regions. Whatever young Borup had to do he did in a spirit of fun.

For instance, when Commander Peary set him to work at photography, Borup made his work doubly interesting by applying a spirit of humor.

DANGER OF CHOLERA IN AMERICAN CONTINENT.

Washington, July 17.—That there was a grave danger of Asiatic cholera gaining a foothold in this country, was the opinion expressed by Surgeon-General Walter Wyman, of the Public Health and Marine Hospital Service to-day.

"I am not an alarmist, but I cannot deny that there is imminent danger," he said. "We are doing everything in our power, but there is a chance that the cholera may spread despite our efforts."

Several more marine hospital experts were sent to New York to-day to aid in the cholera work there.

CIGARETTE PAPER.

So Light that 500 Sheets Go to Make an Ounce.

Of the great army of cigarette smokers there is probably not more than one in a hundred who knows that rice paper, in which the tobacco is wrapped, has nothing to do with rice, but is made from the membranes of the breadfruit tree or more commonly of fine new trimmings of flax and hemp.

So light is this paper that 500 of the tiny sheets go to make an ounce. They are perfectly combustible and give off the minimum of smoke. Before being rolled with tobacco they are analyzed to prove that they are free from all deleterious ingredients and that they contain nothing but the purest paper fibre. Only new material—flax and hemp trimmings—is used, and these are thoroughly purified.

Chopped by machinery into minute particles, they are well mixed by a revolving fan and then reduced to a dust, which is placed in a solution of lime and soda. After remaining in solution for some time it undergoes a thorough washing process, the water being the purest kind.

Then the pulp is rolled out into paper. At first it is of a greyish tinge, the pure white of the finished product being obtained by an electric process.

The French manufacture cigarette paper practically supplies the entire world, the output of [illegible] Italy being insignificant.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

REAL GOLD BRICKS.

Kiln Erected on Ancient Gold Mine in India.

Gold bricks, real ones, may be the means of restoring the ancient frame of Golconda, near Hyderabad, in southern India, once known all the world over for its gold mines, but now a decayed city. The natural pits from which many centuries ago the precious metal was extracted have in course of time filled up with water. A contractor recently obtained permission to make bricks near the place and ten kilns were erected. The first finished bricks aroused curiosity by their yellowish tint, and analysis proved that they contained gold dust. On the basis of the yield of the sample bricks, the ten kilns will aggregate in weight about 12,857 pounds of gold worth over $50,000,000. The site of the find belongs to the Nizam, or native ruler.

IF!

A credulous man was the census enumerator.

When Brawney the blacksmith declared he was 60, he believed him, despite the blacksmith's robust appearance, for robust blacksmiths seldom show their age.

When Susan the spinster declared she was 23, he believed her also, despite her crowmarks and greying hairs(for spinsters do not care to show their age, either.

But when Isaac the idiot wrote the figures 120 under the heading "Father, if living," the Census enumerator rubbed his nose doubtfully, and thought this was a little too much.

"You don't mean to say," he exclaimed, "that your father is really 120 years old?"

"No o' course 'e ain't!" retorted Isaac complacently. "But 'e would 'a been if livin'."

Swat That Fly.

The transmission of disease by the fly is no longer a mere theory, but is a truth that has been scientifically established.

Keep the flies out of your house. Get screens for the doors and the windows. Be on guard all the time.

Keep screens over articles of food. Don't let flies get near the pantry, kitchen or diningroom.

Be doubly careful about keeping flies out of the sickroom. They are likely not only to bring complications of new diseases, but to carry the invalid's disease to many others.

Those who put in their screens promptly will be taking the best precaution against having disease germs introduced into their homes by flies.

There is more health in a house well screened than in many a doctor's visit.

NOVEL ATHLETIC MACHINE.

New Invention to Test Runners as They Run Around the Track.

A novel invention in the shape of an apparatus for automatically taking measurements of the work of track athletes at all points in a race has just been installed on the running track in the Robinson gymnasium, Kansas University.

The machine, which is the first of its kind, and the invention of Dr. Naismith, director of physical culture, consists of small bamboo sticks, located along the track so as to divide the course into quarters.

The sticks project over the track and are touched by the breast of the runner as he passes. The bamboos are connected to a make-and-break electrical machine, which transmits the touch of the runner to a kymograph, which holds a lampblacked paper on which marks are made. A clock is used in connection with the kymograph for purposes of timing.

THE FIRST MENU CARD.

Started By a Duke in Brunswick in 1541.

At a dinner given by Duke Henry of Brunswick in 1541 he was seen to every now and then consult a long slip of paper, which reposed at the side of his plate. One of the duke's guests asked what the paper was for. He explained that it was a sort of a programme or catalogue of the dishes he had commanded from the cook. "To the intent that if some delicacy which especially appealed to his appetite were marked for a later stage in the repast, he might carefully reserve his appetite for it." The simplicity and utility of the idea at once took the fancy of the duke and the menu card from that moment became an institution. The new fashion was so much admired it travelled far and near, and was adopted in England and France at once.

Thirteen years ago, on a New York park bench, Thomas Corrigan told Patrick Goff about unclaimed property in the Bronx that belonged to a cousin, Henry Goff, who had been drowned leaving no immediate heirs.

On the strength of the tip, Goff got possession of property worth $250,000. Corrigan is now suing for $10,000, which he says Goff promised him. Goff says he never promised any such thing, but gave Corrigan $50.

BUY
ROYAL PORCUPINE
Quoted at 32 to 33 Cents

The stock of the Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co., we believe, will prove to be one of the greatest money makers in the wonderful Porcupine district.

Every day brings forth further evidence that the Porcupine Camp is destined to become the richest gold region in the world, and Royal Porcupine should soon take its place at the head of the great producing mines in this section.

Porcupine has the indorsement of the world's greatest authorities in gold mining, who concur in the opinion that never before have such rich showings been seen covering so great an area.

The Property

is located in the township of Tisdale and consists of eight full claims, embracing 320 acres. It is particularly well located, being only one-quarter mile south of the Porcupine Gold Mines, Ltd., and one-half mile south of the Hollinger mine, for which it is claimed there is $10,000,000 in sight. Engineers report that the Royal Porcupine property is in the famous ore zone, being on the same ledge as Hollinger and having the same formation.

A telegram from the engineer in charge of the property bears out this statement. It is as follows:—

"Porcupine, Ont., June 19, 1911.

"Vein uncovered twelve feet in width. Excellent ore body. Shaft being sunk on this vein. Property in every way most favorable.

(Signed) "JULIUS MESSER, M. E.,
"Engineer in charge of property."

Thirty men are now employed, and work on the shaft will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Four veins, varying from 12 to 100 feet in width, have already been uncovered. Assays have been made which show $50 a ton.

Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co.

is capitalized for $3,000,000; par value of shares $1.00. Full paid and non-assessable. No personal liability.

A glance at the list of directors will show the class of men who are putting in their money and time to make this one of the greatest mines in the Porcupine Camp. The directors are:—

JAMES KENDRY,
Peterboro, Ontario; ex-Member of Parliament, President Auburn Woollen Mills.

T. E. BRADBURN,
Member Parliament, Peterboro, Ontario; Private Banker.

ARCHIBALD L. ALLAN,
New York, Hiram Walker & Sons.

JACOB RAPOPORT,
New York, Jacob Rapoport & Co., Merchants.

HAMILTON KILGOUR,
New York and London, England, Mining Engineer.

WARREN N. AKERS,
Wilmington, Del.

Remember, that our judgment on Hollinger, Dome Extension and Vipond was correct, and we believe that Royal Porcupine will prove one of our best investments.

The Hollinger stock was originally offered at $3.50 and now sells at around $15.50, and Dome Extension was first offered at 40c., and now sells at around 84c.

Royal Porcupine stock may be purchased through any member of the New York Curb Association, or we will be glad to execute your orders.

KING EDWARD VACUM CLEANER

You cannot clean carpets, rugs and furniture by beating. If you think you have, just try a KING EDWARD VACUUM CLEANER and you will find the article full of dust, which breeds disease.
The KING EDWARD HAND MACHINE has no equal as compared with other hand machines. It is lighter to operate and its suction is much stronger. Its suction is stronger than many of the power machines, and the dusting is done away with. On account of the short stroke one person can operate it on carpets and rugs equally as well as two, and it is about half the weight of other hand machines to carry up and down stairs or from one room to another. It is sold for less money than any of the hand machines. All machines are guaranteed.

The Reason.

Benevolent Old Gentleman: "Johnny, why was Damocles afraid to eat his dinner when the sword was suspended over his head by a single hair?"
Johnny (who does not like being patronized): I s'pose he was afraid the hair would fall into his soup."

THE STANDING ALIBI OF H. STANLEIGH STORME

(Copyright by Publishers Press Ltd).

(By Wm. Hamilton Osborne).

Many in the courtroom had watched the prisoner, and had commented on his jaunty air. Apparently he was a man without a care in the world.

Periodically he turned toward his friends in the audience with a smile upon his face. Few noticed that as he turned thus he glanced furtively, but regularly, over the heads of the crowd and at the door which closed the main entrance beyond.

He did this not once, but twenty times, and each time turned back with an inaudible sigh — of relief or disappointment.

On one occasion he looked steadily at the door for a minute, or a minute and a half. Suddenly he changed color, and turned again and faced the judge.

A tall, dark man had been standing at the entrance—he had just arrived. This man now forced his way through the crowd and up the center aisle, and, leaning over, addressed the prisoner.

The prisoner looked up, saw who it was, and immediately engaged the man in conversation. They talked long and earnestly, but in low tones.

There seemed to be protests on the one side—entreaties on the other. The faces of both men became flushed with anger and excitement.

Finally the prisoner raised his voice so that it was audible in all parts of the room.

"Then, go ahead and do it then," he exclaimd in a loud voice, "you white livered hound."

There was a hubbub in the audience immediately. The attention of the crowd, which had been upon the judge and counsel, immediately became fefused on these two men.

The lawyers on both sides started back in protest at this unseemly interruption. The judge, angry at the unaccustomed disorder, started up and raised his gavel to pound it for silence.

When half way up the gavel dropped from his hand and fell to his desk with a great crash.

He sprang up in astonishment. The lawyers, the officers, the crowd, were transfixed with surprise.

There was a universal gasp of astonishment from every man and woman in the court room. Their gaze was glued to the spectacle before them.

And it was no wonder!

For there, in front of the judge and facing the court and jury, were two men, like as two peas—two H. Stanleigh Stormes!

Not a sound was heard—there was not the rustle of a skirt or the scrape of a shoe upon the floor. The gathering was spellbound.

The prosecutor was the first man to recover his senses. It may be, after all, that he was not quite so much surprised as he had seemed to be.

He smiled significantly, and drew from his pocket a bulky manuscript. The crowd now rustled expectantly, and turned its eyes on the prosecutor.

He drew himself up and bent his gaze upon the two men who were the center of attraction.

"Is—Is Mr. Wesley Warburton in court?" he said in a loud voice, with one eye on the two men and the other on the crowd.

Without any hesitation one of the two men stepped forward. He glanced expectantly at the district attorney, as though he did not know exactly what to do.

"Take the witness chair," commanded the prosecutor.

The man seated himself. He seemed somewhat nervous, as was natural.

The prisoner looked on with apparent amazement at this new phase of the proceedings. Up to this time he had been calm, cool and collected—now he seemed embarrassed, and as though he knew not what to do.

His agitation was apparent to all those present. He half turned toward the counsel for the defense, and then to the prosecutor, as though to protest in some way against the witness on the stand.

Then he rose from the chair, where he had involuntarily seated himself, and addressed the court.

"Your honor," he exclaimed in a strange, strained voice. The crowd gazed open mouthed. The reporters of the several local dailies wrote fiercely on brown paper sheets and handed them to messengers for instant delivery at headquarters.

There was an air of terrible suspense. The man on the witness stand sat and waited. He seemed to be himself again.

The prisoner still stood looking at the court.

"By George!" exclaimed the sheriff to his neighbor, referring to the prisoner, "how pale he's turned! He's even paler than he was at the dinner the other night."

He sniffed with suppressed excitement.

"This is getting mighty interesting, all right," he thought to himself.

Again the prisoners voice was heard.

"Your honor," he exclaimed again.

The court however, silenced him with a severe gesture, and he resumed his seat, but reluctantly, as though under protest.

The district attorney, the cynosure of all eyes, drew himself up to his full height, and addressed the court impressively.

"If your honor please," he said with an inclination of his head toward the witness, "the facts in this case are so very peculiar, and the testimony of this witness is so unusual—in fact, sir, I have never in my experience heard of a case like this, or of a story such as this witness can tell, although it is absolutely true — but the whole situation is so unique that I shall ask him, without the formality of question and answer, to repeat here in narrative form the statement which he has already been good enough to send to me in writing.

"I have never," he exclaimed, "come into contact with this gentleman except, possibly" — nodding toward the prisoner——"when I may have been under a misconception as to his identity. I have never known the witness as Mr. Wesley Warburton, at any rate, before. But he has written me a letter of the utmost importance. His story is of the utmost importance I have thoroughly investigated it, and I am prepared to show both court and jury that absolute reliance may be placed upon his statement.

"It is a strange one, gentlemen—a most remarkable one—but it is entitled to credence, I assure you. I think," he added, turning to the attorney for the prisoner, "that counsel will find the narrative of this witness relevant in each particular. If counsel, however, desires to object at all, he may with perfect freedom stop the witness at any juncture and enter his objection. All that I desire to do is to save time. His story is a long one."

The prisoner's counsel, who was a bit flustered and taken aback, nevertheless nodded, and said that the witness might proceed, and that he would reserve the right to cut him off if necessary. The witness took a long breath and prepared to start in.

He glanced just once at the prisoner.

The prisoner again rose to his feet and attempted to address the court. But the court again put up his hand, and the man's own counsel pulled him back into his chair.

He submitted for the time being, but kept his eyes fixed upon the prisoner, as though he intended later to be heard.

"Proceed," exclaimed the judge impatiently.

CHAPTER XVI.

The Testimony of the Witness Warburton.

"Mr. Warburton," said the prosecutor to the witness, "will you please tell the jury all you know about the defendant in this case."

Warburton eagerly leaned forward in the direction of the jury box and began in a low, clear, musical voice. He seemed now to be freed of any nervousness or embarrassment—no one in the court room was more at ease than he.

"The story, gentlemen, that I am about to tell," he said, "is so strange that under ordinary circumstances I could hardly expect you to believe it had it not in my own personal appearance, and in the documentary evidence which I am able to produce, the absolute proof of what I say.

"I appear before you, gentlemen, in the light not of an accomplice of the man who sits yonder, but as his dupe. The general public has been fooled by him, but I have been fooled more than the public. And I am able to state now, that it ends there—I am as innocent of any complicity in the series of crimes as is his honor who sits in judgment in this court.

"I tell you briefly that I come of a good family. The Warburtons are well known in Hannaford country. I am but a few years older than thirty, though both myself and that other man have the appearance of older men. I am a railroad man, and ever since I attained my majority have held a responsible position in the office of an influential road in the town whence I came.

"Some time ago my road consolidated with another larger road. The employees of the larger road took our places. I was turned out of my position in the cold."

The prisoner all this time had continued to show signs of great excitement. He again rose to his feet, and [illegible] the judge [illegible]

Chest Inflamation.

Suffered From a Heavy Cold, Pleuritic Pains in Side—Constant Coughing.

"NERVILINE" CURED QUICKLY

"Anyone that goes through all that I suffered last winter will appreciate the value of a remedy that cures like Nerviline cured me." These are the opening words of the solemn declaration of F. P. Von Hayden, the well-known violinist of Middleton. "My work kept me out late at night, and playing in cold drafty places brought on a severe cold that settled on my chest. I had a harsh racking cough and severe pains darted through my sides and settled in my shoulders. I used different liniments, but none broke up my cold till I used Nerviline. I rubbed it on my neck, chest and shoulders, morning and night, and all the pain disappeared. Realizing that such a heavy cold had run down my system, I took Ferrozone at meals, and was completely built up and strengthened. Since using Nerviline I have no more colds or pleurisy and enjoy perfect health."

NERVILINE CURES CHEST COLDS

It's because Nerviline contains the purest and most healing essences and medicinal principles, because it has the power of sinking through the pores to the kernel of the pain—these are the reasons why it breaks up colds, cures lumbago, stiffness, neuralgia, sciatica, and rheumatism. LATEST FROM APSLEY

The Orangemen of L.O.L. 1072 had an ideal day for their picnic on the 12th, the weather was cool and bright and between 200 and 300 gathered at Couch's grove on the shore of Loon Lake, where an enjoyable day was spent. Sports of all kinds were indulged in.

The refreshment booth under the management of Bro. Masters was well patronized, proceeds amounting to nearly $100 were realized.

The young people got up a dance in the evening at Mr. Masters, and tripped the light fantastic until after midnight.

Addresses were delivered by the Anglican, Methodist and Presbyterian ministers.

The Misses Weir have returned home after apleasant visit at Mrs. Wilsons, and while here gathered a few pails of huckleberries to take with them as aremembrance of the north country.

Bruce has returned from his trip to Cobourg where he spent the 12th, and reports having a good time.

Our cheesemaker, Norman James, has a good situation as cheesemaker at a factory near Ottawa, and left for there Thursday last, his brother Owen has taken charge of the Apsley factory.

Mr. Wm. McKay met with a very painful accident Friday, on his way up the Burleigh road with a load. In going down a slight grade the front wheel struck one of the many loose that are still too frequently met with, and caused the chips on one side of the seat to break, throwing Mr. McKay out. It is not known however, whether he struck on a wheel or a stone, but he sustained several severe wounds on the face, the bridge of his nose is broken and he is cut across both his eyes, and may lose the sight of one, also there is a deep and long scalp wound. Dr. Bell was summoned by phone and was soon at the scene of the accident. He dressed the wounds at once and had him taken to his home. The next day on going up to attend him, he found that from the nature of the wounds that it would be necessary to remove him to the hospital, which was done.

There is considerable kicking done here by the residents of Apsley and surrounding country (and with good cause) at the way we are served with the mail. It seems the mail from Peterborough is sorted at Lakefield, and sent to Mount Julien by the afternoon boat, said boat calls and delivers lumber passengers, etc., at the different islands, getting to Mount Julien about 5 p.m.. The stage from there leaves about 5.30 arriving at Apsley generally about 9.30. Friday night there was no mail and none left Apsley Saturday morning, as there was no mail bag. Now, why could not the mail for Apsley be made up in the city office and sent right through by the morning boat, picking up any there might be at Lakefield and Young's Point, the stage then could leave Mount Julien at 2 p.m. and get to Apsley in a reasonable time. But perhaps those at the head of affairs think any old way is good enough for Apsley.

C. Todd, of New Ontario, is visiting his daughter, Mrs. John Rickles. Kit has been away for twelve years, and sees many changes.

The custom still prevails for people to congregate in crowds in front of the public house every evening and block the sidewalk, making it necessary for pedestrians to step off and take the street to get past. There are also quite a few children amongst the crowd ranging in age from 8 to 12 years, who would be much better at home and the proprietor would confer afavor if he saw that they went. Strangers staying in the village over night have been heard to remark in no very complimentary terms about the noise and language some of the children can use.

The Morning Times

THURSDAY, JULY 20, 1911.

TAX REFORM IS SASKATCHEWAN

Everybody knows that the progressive West is years ahead of Eastern Canada in its tax laws and it appears that the West is determined to continue to lead.

At the session of the Saskatchewan Legislature which has just closed, a decided move towards allowing cities and towns to adopt the Single Tax System, gradually but within four years, was made. In cities and towns the assessment is 100 per cent. of the value of the land and 60 per cent. on buildings and improvements. The latter may now be decreased at such a rate that in four years there will be no assessment on buildings and improvements. The City Act has recently been amended to allow bona fide tenants to vote at municipal elections, under reasonable conditions.

This amendment to the City Act of Saskatchewan is very similar to the proposal so vigorously urged by the Press of Ontario during the past year that Municipalities be allowed to tax improvements at a lower rate than land values.

Throughout the rural areas of Saskatchewan the assessment is a flat rate per acre, regardless of value, and there are no taxes levied on the farmer's personal property, buildings or improvements. At the recent session of the Legislature provision was made whereby rural organizations might assess at a certain rate per acre on a valuation basis, but this will not likely be adopted to any great extent till the year 1912.

The Single Tax System is used by about 20 villages out of 185 organized in Saskatchewan.

AN AMAZING GROWTH.

Census Will Show Populaties of Upwards of 200,000.

Winnipeg, July 19.—Winnipeg census returns show an amazing growth of the city in five years. The final figures have not been determined yet, but returns from districts that are completed show that there will be well up to 200,000 people in Winnipeg and those suburbs which are virtually a part of the city. The of the ninety-districts into which Winnipeg was divided for census purposes returned over 3,000 people and many others are known to be nearly as populous. The count is almost completed—barring corrections that may follow the regular census taking—and approximate results will be known soon.

SEALED TENDERS, addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for additions and alterations to the Post Office, Kingston, Ontario," will be received until 4.00 p.m. on Monday, July 31, 1911, for the work mentioned.

Plans, specification and form of contract can be seen and forms of tender obtained at this Department, and on application to Wm. Newlands and Sons, Architects, Kingston, Ont.

Manhattan Estates

Cuba's Grape Fruit Garden of Wealth

Will provide you with an income that will make you independent for life.

Begin right now---do something for yourself. Provide for a time when your earning capacity will be reduced to a minimum. You can make a start by purchasing one or two shares.

Our booklet beautifully illustrated, tells the story--contains interesting facts regarding the Grape Fruit Industry.

The figures are startling but true.

When three years old grape-fruit trees begin to bear, the crop continues to increase until the seventh year when the average amounts to between seven and twenty boxes of fruit. Grape-Fruit is usually sold on the trees at a price ranging not less than $1.00 per box. On the Manhattan Estates we will have a grove of over 40,000 trees, and our yearly crop, once maturity is reached, should average 280,000 crates annually. Between the trees we intend cultivating tobacco and pineapples from which a substantial profit will be realized within one year from the time of planting. The British-owned Western Railways run through the Estates, insuring splendid shipping facilities. The officers and directors of this company have implicit faith in this enterprise, and have agreed that no one shall receive one cent of salary until after 25 per cent. dividends have been earned and declared. They are quite willing to wait for their dividends, knowing that their investments will amply repay them.

One Hundred Dollars is enough to insure ease and comfort. Why not inqure today about our special offer.

AN INVESTMENT NOT A SPECULATION

What everybody with an ounce of common sense is on the alert for these days is a sound INVESTMENT and there is as much difference between an investment and a speculation as there is between London and Hong-Kong, although we all don't realize this.

• • • •

Consequently when one takes a chance on a speculative proposition, mistaking it as an investment and comes out of the small end of the horn, he becomes pessimistic and with the tightening of his purse strings to extremes to keep the pennies in just naturally shuts the dollars out.

• • • •

Now then if there were no investors there would be no progress, and with no progress the community would mighty soon become stagnant.

• • • •

The foundation of America, was old Christopher Columbus, he had an idea but was short on ready cash, in other words he was what us modern day folks call a promoter. His idea was feasible, he found co-operation, his plans carried and YOU KNOW THE REST.

• • • •

Like Columbus we are all Pioneers. Not out for our health, but to make money. No man ever saved more than a competence on a salary; few do that. To get a footing on "Easy Street" you have to invest. DOLLARS don't grow in your pockets or in a stocking. They must be put to work. Old Russell Sage said:

"Plant a few in a new country and see how fast they grow."

That's what we are trying to impress on you now and here is the biggest opportunity of this kind that is likely to knock at your door.

• • • •

We are the Pioneers of the fruit and vegetable canning enterprise in the Okanagan Valley and earnestly invite you to co-operate with us.

• • • •

Men at the head of affairs of this corporation are the best known and most highly esteemed gentlemen in British Columbia.

• • • •

Mr. Albert McKillop, our President, has a world wide reputation in the Timber and Timber Land World. (See R. G. Dunn).

• • • •

Mr. Wesley A. Blair, our Secretary and Treasurer, is also Cashier of the Canadian Customs, being the Government's most trusted employee. He handles on an average of $30,000.00 every commercial day of the year, and it was his fertile mind that first saw the possibilities of Canneries on the Coast, in-as-much as tens of thousands of dollars duty pass through his hands for American goods yearly. Bear in mind that there is a 2½c per pound duty on all canned stuff and RECIPROCITY or no RECIPROCITY that will stand.

• • • •

Remember we belong to no combine, have no opposition, and are pioneers in this field.

• • • •

Just think of it, The Dominion Fruit Canners cleared $400,000 last year, approximately 51 per cent. What's going to prevent the Okanagan Canners Ltd., from doing the same.

• • • •

It's a matter of record that the Kelowna district—site of our Cannery—proved positively at all the recent fruit shows that the Okanagan valley is the greatest fruit producing country in the world.

• • • •

Now, then, be up and thinking.

• • • •

We are incorporated for only $100,000.

• • • •

We are only going to let 60,000 shares out of our treasury.

• • • •

Not one of our shares has gone for promotion purposes, every share being represented by its equivalent.

• • • •

We have no salaried officials, in fact no leakages of any kind.

• • • •

A Premium of 25 per cent. will be put on this stock as soon as our cannery at Kelowna is completed, which will be at an early date, as we will handle this year's crop.

• • • •

You undoubtedly have stood silently aside and seen other opportunities vanish that your neighbor has grasped and is now realising handsomely on and term him lucky.

• • • •

It's not luck, but JUDGMENT when opportunities like this present themselves and one takes advantage of them.

• • • •

Our land is bought and paid for, and we hold a receipt in full for our wharf for Cannery No. 1, which is completed at Kelowna.

• • • •

Although capitalised at $100,000, divided into 100,000 shares at one dollar each, we are going to offer for public subscription but 60,000 shares, and the remainder will positively stay in the treasury.

• • • •

This is a gilt-edge bona fide, conservative investment and it is not reasonable to believe will be on the market long, consequently act NOW before it is too late.

• • • •

Terms of purchasing securities are one dollar per share; 25 per cent. cash, balance, two, four and six months without interest.

BY-LAW NUMBER 1555

A By-law to fix the assessment of The Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company (Limited).

Passed the third day of October, 1910.

Whereas The Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company (Limited) has represented to the Council of the City of Peterborough that it is the only manufacturing concern in the City of Peterborough engaged in the manufacture of locks and other articles manufactured by it, and has to compete with manufacturers in the same line of business in other places who have received and are enjoying Municipal assistance, making it difficult for the said Company to meet such competition, and has applied to the Council for a fixed assessment on the real estate, plant and business assessment of the said Company in the City of Peterborough at the sum of $25,000, and the said Council has agreed thereto and to pass this By-Law for that purpose, subject to the confirmation thereof by the Legislature.

The Corporation of the City of Peterborough, by the Council thereof, therefore enacts as follows:—

1. This By-Law shall take effect upon and only upon the confirmation thereof by the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario, and upon the said Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company (Limited), executing an agreement not to oppose the construction of any work as a local improvement abutting or fronting on, or the cost or part of the cost of which might be assessed or charged against the property in Section 2 hereof described, or any part thereof, that the said Council may desire to construct under the provisions of the Municipal Act relating to local improvements.

2. The assessment of the following lands in the City of Peterborough owned, occupied and used by The Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company (Limited) and being Lot Number Four north of Simcoe Street and west of George Street, and that part of Lot Number Three north of Simcoe Street and west of George Street described as follows:—Commencing on the western limit of the said Lot Number Three, at a point seventy-seven feet six inches north from the south-west angle thereof; thence northerly along the said western limit of the said lot to the northern limit thereof; thence easterly along said northern limit eighteen feet; thence south and parallel to the western limit of said lot to a point seventy-seven feet six inches north of said Simcoe Street; thence westerly and parallel to the southern limit of the said lot to the place of beginning while used exclusively for the manufacturing purposes of the Company, or the part so used for such manufacturing purposes, and the buildings, plant, machinery and fixtures thereon, and the business assessment there of on which taxes are to be levied, shall be fixed and remain fixed while the same are so used, and while at least an average of one hundred hands are employed therein for at least ten months of each year, at the sum of $25,000 for a period of ten years from the first day of January, 1911, and the return and oath of the assessor or assessors in respect thereof shall be amended accordingly, but the same shall, for school purposes, be and remain liable to assessment and the payment of school taxes and rates as to as full an extent as if this By-Law had not been passed, and the assessment for school purposes and the school rates and taxes shall be made, levied and collected thereon in accordance with the provisions of the general law in that behalf, and the said lands shall also be liable for all frontage and local improvement assessments, rates and taxes that are now or may hereafter be charged against the same, and any buildings on the said lands not used exclusively for the business of the Company, and the land appurtenant to same shall not be included in the fixed assessment hereunder, but such buildings and land, while not used as aforesaid, shall be assessed as provided by the Assessment Act then in force; provided, however, that if the said Company shall at any time within the said term of ten years fail or neglect to operate and carry on the said manufacturing establishment substantially to the capacity thereof, and therein to employ at least an average of one hundred hands during at least ten months in each year, then such fixed assessment shall cease, and the taxes and rates on the said lands, buildings, plant, machinery and fixtures and on the business assessment thereof shall be and become payable to the same amount and in the same manner as if this By-Law had not been passed; provided always that if the failure to carry on the said business is due to strikes or destruction of the buildings, plant, machinery or fixtures by fire or tempest, the time during which the said business shall so cease to be carried on in consequence of such strikes, or destruction of the buildings, plant, machinery or fixtures (not exceeding in either case one year) shall not be taken as a failure or neglect to carry on the said business, so as to disentitle the said Company to such fixed assessment.

3. The said Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company (Limited) shall, prior to the first day of March in each year, file with the City Clerk a statutory declaration, made by an officer of the Company, who shall therein state his knowledge of the facts, proving that the said Company has complied with and is observing all the terms, conditions and provisions of this By-Law, and on the neglect of the said Company to furnish such declaration it shall be prima facie taken that such terms, conditions and provisions have not been performed, observed and kept, and the said fixed assessment shall cease, and the taxes and rates shall be and become payable to the same amount and in the same manner as if this By-Law had not been passed.

(Sgd.) W. G. MORROW, Mayor

(Sgd.) S. R. ARMSTRONG, Clerk.

GOOD CROPS ASSURED.

News From the West Promise Beautiful Harvest.

Winnipeg, July 19.—There is no break in the encouraging reports that come from all over the West of the crops. There have never been such splendid prospects on any thing like so large and general ascale, and never has a crop shown so little signs of damage, all damage from any source whatever being placed by the experts at less than one per cent. up to the present time. 75 per cent. of wheat, 40 per cent. of oats, and 50 per cent. of barley, is headed and 90 per cent. of flax is in blossom. The only rift in the lute is the comparative dearth of harvest hands in sight, and the exceedingly great demand for them that will mature not later than August 15. The latest estimate on the number required from the outside is 70,000.

INDICTMENTS CHARGE ATTEMPTED MURDER.

Returned by Grand Jury Against Ethel Conrad and Lillian Graham.

New York, July 18.—Indictments charging attempted murder were returned by the grand jury this afternoon against Ethel Conrad and Lillian Graham, who, on June 7, shot W. E. D. Stokes, the millionaire owner of the Ansonia Hotel. Despite the fact that the District Attorney counselled an indictment for felonious assault, the grand jury, after listening in detail to Stokes story of the visit to the Varuna apartments and the demand for $25,000, decided that an indictment for attempted murder was warranted.

Counsel for the two girls were directed to produce them in court tomorrow to plead to the indictments.

A CHANCE TO MAKE MONEY IN VANCOUVER REALTY

Investors seeking an opportunity to secure large returns for their money will find an exceptional chance offered by Keith Park Land Co., Limited, of Vancouver, B. C. This company has placed on the market for immediate sale the choicest piece of property in the North Shore.

This tract known as Keith Park, D. L. 676, lies at the junction of the Pipe line Road, (owned by the city of Vancouver) and the Keith Road and is the Junction point for North side traffic.

The Second Narrows Bridge, which is to connect Vancouver and North Vancouver will be constructed so that Keith Park will be in the line of its northern end.

It is confidentially expected that a new town will be created at this point. Dominion, Provincial and Municipal subsidies to the extent of several hundred thousand dollars have already been secured for the bridge project and plans are now being drawn for the bridge. It is expected that actual work will be started within the next ninety days

Keith Park presents the best chance to buy ahead of the important municipal and government projects that are planned for the North Side. It will stand the most critical investigation.

Full information and maps supplied upon request Lots range in price from $200 upwards. Terms one-quarter cash, balance in equal quarterly payments.

Rejected from the New.

The danger of judging too quickly by appearance is illustrated in a good story told to-day of the late Mrs. Ware, widow of the Bishop of Barrow-in-Furness.

Two strangers enterd a North Country church. They were directed to a luxurious pew occupied by a fashionably-dressed woman. The occupant became angry at the intrusion, and in blunt language insisted on them leaving the pew at once. The strangers did so. After the service someone approached the angry pew-owner and said, "Do you know who those ladies were who wanted to sit in your pew?" "No," she replied, "they were nobody in particular, I am sure." "Oh, well," was the crushing reply, "one was the wife of the Bishop of Carlisle, and the other, her daughter, the wife of the Bishop of Barrow-in-Furness."

NOT IN CANADA

The Captain and His Company not on Speaking Terms.

An Irish militia regiment was drawn up on parade awaiting the Colonel's inspection. One by one the companies were brought to "Attention" by the captains, until it came to No. 7 Company, the captain of which had had a serious misunderstanding with his tenantry on the subject of rents. No word was given; consequently the company remained standing "at ease." Up rode the adjutant furiously. "Captain O'Ballynoodle, why the deuce don't you call your company to "attention"? "No answer. "Will you call them to "attention," sir?" screamed the adjutant. At this juncture, the colour-sergeant stepped out, and, addressing the adjutant, said, "Av ye lace, sorr, the captain and his company are not on shpaking terms!"

Beauty Must Be Organic

All beauty must be organic. It is the soundness of the bones that ultimates itself in a peach-bloom complexion, health of constitution that makes the sparkle and power of the eye. It is the adjustment of the size and of the joining of the sockets of the skeleton that gives grace of outline and the finer grace of movement. Every necessary organic action pleases the beholder. A man leading a horse to water, a farmer sowing seed, the labours of hay-makers in the field, the carpenter building a ship, the smith at the forge, or whatever useful labour, is becoming to the wise eye; but, if it is done to be seen, it is simply neither more nor less than mean.

A Notable Postal Move.

—An innovation has been recently put into operation in England by the post office authorities, by which the advantage of the delivery of a letter on Sunday is secured at the expense of a trifling fee. It is simply necessary to write on the envelope: "To be telephoned on Sunday,' and adds an extra half-cent of postage for every thirty words or fraction thereof. Then the postal clerk at the receiving office calls up the person addressed by telephone and conveys the message without leaving the post office. If enough postage is included, the same message may be delivered by telephone to a number of different parties in the same city.

AN ORIENTAL REBUKE

Must Have a Waterfall to Wash Out a Graft Proposal.

Inscriptions upon Oriental ware, vases, jars, fans, and textiles are often examined with an amused but baffled curiosity. What can they mean? It is certain that they mean something. Even on the cheap halfpenny fans there are curious and grotesque faces which could not have been painted for their beauty. Only the initiated can read their story, and even among the Japanese themselves probably these specimens of pictorial rebus require classical knowledge for their interpretation. History and fable and myth must be understood, and a Japanese who can understand must be equal in imagination to a commentator of Shakespeare. A recent traveller in Japan gives the story of one of these riddles. It is as good as any Egyptian hieroglyph. A Japanese of historic renown is represented as washing his ear in a water-fall. No basin would answer and no placid stream suffice. He must have the full force of a cataract to cleanse the ear into which an improper proposal had been spoken. At a pool below the fall a cow is drinking, but her owner, standing near her, glowers with anger at the ear-washer who is contaminating the stream. If individually people took to cleansing their ears from scandal and other unpleasant inpourings, no "waterworks" would suffice. Lady Macbeth's query would be in order—"Will all great Neptune's ocean do it?"

ORIGINALITY IN THE INDIVIDUAL

Competition Too Keen for Ordinary Business Methods.

Competition gets keener every year, and this means that the difficulty of the customer in selecting a firm to do business with becomes proportionately greater. His custom in the end must eventually go to the house which, by originality and difference from its competitors, simplifies this selection for him. The rapid and brilliant success of many of our great businesses to-day may all be attributed to this originality as the first cause.

If this is true with regard to a business it is equally so with regard to the individual. The man who differs from his fellows is the man who is noticed and, if his originality is backed by other good qualities, cannot but come to the front. Merit usually tells, of course, but my point is that merit is best recognised when it is advertised, as it were, by originality.

WHAT IS LIFE?

The Pursuit of the Good the Proper Solution.

You will find existence full of sweet savour if you do not expect from it what it cannot give. When people complain of life, it is almost always because they have asked impossible things from it. Upon this believe wholly the teaching of the wisest. There is but one foundation for a happy life — the pursuit of the good and of the true. You will be well pleased with existence if you make fair use of it, and if you abide well pleased with yourselves. A noble sentence is that which says, "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you."

Where the Scents Come From.

Attar of roses reaches this country mainly from Smyrna and Constantinople, the oil of lemons from Sicily and Portugal, bergamot from Reggio, arise from Germany and the East Indies, and oil of cloves to a small extent from the Malay Islands, though it is believed that a large amount is distilled by the London wholesale druggists.

A Settlers

Landlord to tenant: "Good morning, sir; fine day, sir. Just called round to see if it would be convenient to settle your quarter's rent?" "Do you know, landlord, that none of the doors in this house will shut?" "New house, sir; new house, you know; takes time to settle." "Ah, then there is a pair of us! I'm a new tenant; it takes time for me to settle too. Good morning. Call again!"

WHY ARE THE LARGE INVESTORS ALL OVER CANADA AND THE UNITED STATES BUYING MONTREAL REAL ESTATE?

If Western land or speculative stocks were considered better,-- is it reasonable to suppose that these careful financiers whose knowledge of Canadian conditions is beyond a doubt-would buy Montreal Real Estate ?

To the mer of good judgment,— these questions do not require an answer.

YOU KNOW Montreal is the largest City in the Dominion.

YOU KNOW that the population is increasing yearly at the rate of about 50,000.

YOU KNOW these people have to have homes.

Taking the above facts into consideration, what do you consider, looking in the most conservative way possible, ANGUS PARK LOTS will be worth in four years' time?

Taking the past advances in MONTREAL REAL ESTATE as an example, these lots will be worth over a hundred per cent. (100 per cent.) more in that time.

We have a limited number of lots situated on ANGUS PARK BOULEVARD, which we can offer you at to-day's low prices, and on terms that will not cripple your finances, and by the time your lots are fully paid for you will have saved not only the cost of the land but the increase in value, thereby making your investment many hundred per cent. (100 per cent.) better than a Savings Bank account and much safer.

Do not delay till this opportunity has escaped you, but call in and see us, or drop us a line and we will send you full particulars together with our application forms. The prices range from $100 per lot upwards and the terms 10 per cent. cash, and the balance 10 per cent. every three months without interest.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

WHY GO TO ALASKA TO INVEST IN OIL?

During the past month we have beenpresenting to the readers of The Morning Times, and the public in general, an offer which for SAFETY and CERTAINTY OF RESULTS in the form of DIVIDENDS and ENORMOUS PROFITS is well nigh UNPRECEDENTED.

In Southwest Colorado, in Mountezuma County, near Mancos, nature has placed RICH OIL FIELDS which promise to be the cause of the MOST STUPENDOUS BOOM COLORADO HAS HAD SINCE THE EARLY GOLD DAYS.

We own and control 8,500 acres of land in this section which experts assure us are positively gusher producing properties.

We have bought and paid for all the machinery necessary for drilling. We do not owe one cent. If you invest with us you have behind your investment not only enormous land values but machinery the value of which is fully $8,000.

For the ordinary investor this would be security enough but we have made the safest investment proposition that ever was offered, for, besides these rich Mancos Oil Fields we also own 2,560 acres in the proven oil field of San Juan, Utah; also 1,920 acres in the Great Montezuma District of Colorado, and fifty acres of rich mining ground in the La Plata District, for which we have been offered Ten Thousand Dollars spot cash.

Investments in the stock of our Company participate in the profits of all these properties. The Mancos Oil and Development Company promises to and will give the public a "square deal." Every acre of oil land and mining property which it owns or will acquire belongs to its stockholders.

MR. BURT H. MASON, the president and organizer of the Company, is a mining engineer of enviable reputation the officers of the Company are well-known business men and bankers of Southwestern Colorado. If any misrepresentation has been made we guarantee to return every dollar you pay us and all expenses to which you may have been put for investigation.

The price of stock is Twenty-five Cents a share, which can be paid on monthly installments if desired. If further information be desired it will be cheerfully given.

QUEEN CHARLOTTE

The Capital City of the Islands

THE LAST WEST

The only town on Graham Island that has a monthly pay roll, and the only sawmill shipping lumber to foreign ports.

The only town having a railway gazetted to its very doors on the island.

The only city on Graham Island having electric light, city water, miles of sidewalks, churches, school, hospital, postoffice, first-class drug store billiard hall, city hall, hotels, boarding house, barber shop and other general stores, and the only newspaper published on the Island, the Queen Charlotte News.

We are positively the centre of all the vast wealth of the entire Islands, including farm lands, timber lands, coal and metalliferous mines. These products must come out at Queen Charlotte City, through the Hoona River Valley, and through which the Island Railway must run according to charters already granted.

The combined townsite interests cover one thousand acres, of which five hundred are practically level alluvial soil with no rocks.

A fine water power from the Hoona River, good drainage and the best harbor on the entire Islands.

Our lots are all 50 feet by 120 feet, ranging in price from $150 to $300; one-third cash, balance on time at 6 per cent., or deeds can be had at once if desired.

Fully 200,000 acres of farm lands, suitable for mixed farming, only await the hand of man, a large portion of which is already located.

The verdure clad mountains are vast treasure vaults of gold, copper, silver and other precious metals, while our valleys are underlaid with a wealth of the finest coal and covered with a vast forest of spruce, hemlock and yellow cedar. These, coupled with our fisheries, are at the very doors and within sight of Queen Charlotte City.

Taking all these facts into consideration, and with the present progress being made in developing our resources, which are at the gateways of transportation both by water and railway, with the advent of the completion of the Grand Trunk Railroad, Queen Charlotte City is destined to be one of the province's most prosperous cities.

It is owned largely by the wealthiest and most honorable men of our province, who would not be a party to misrepresenting facts and are prepared to endorse every statement herein made.

The townsite company are now offering a further 75 lots on Second avenue at a very low price and on easy terms, if taken at once, and under conditions that will make you a 100 per cent. on your investment in 90 days, for 20 per cent. of the gross proceeds will be used by letting a contract for the clearing and grading of Second avenue from Third street west. The company guarantees to advance the remaining 75 unsold lots on Second avenue from $150 to $225 as soon as the first 75 have been sold. The company is making this effort in order to join with the government in making Second avenue the trunk road through the townsite from the Wilson-Robinson coal fields, Hoona River Valley, Lawn Hill and Miller Creek districts. Now you can secure any unsold lot on Second avenue, including fourteen in Keith's addition, to-day for $150, except corners, on easy terms, 1-4 cash, balance 6, 12 and 18 months at 6 per cent. This will positively be your last chance for a cheap lot in Queen Charlotte City, for every lot in the townsite will surely go from $500 to $1000 when the public realize that in the Island River railroad from Queen Charlotte to the head of Massett Inlet is to be started this summer, in addition to the present work already outlined, thus giving work to an army of men. There are at least 5000 citizens of Vancouver who have invested in the various resources of the islands. Conclusive evidence of these facts, a landscape drawing of the townsite and a portion of Graham Island coupled with an illustrated edition of the resources of the islands can be seen at the office of J. J. Miller, 82 Hastings street, Vancouver, B. C., Agent for Vancouver, and plans at office of Times", Peterboro'.

Valuable Tim.

Andrew Wilson, an attorney, was named as the administrator of an estate. It was his duty to find the lucky but missing brother. "He was slicing turnips for the sheep on his employer's farm, up among the mist-clad hills of Scotland," said Mr. Wilson, "when I found him. I had traced his life from the old farm on which he was born, step by step through forty years of ill-paid and often most unpleasant labor before I approached him. It was not difficult, for he had held but a few positions in all those years. Every one in the countryside knew him. 'Are you Alexander Stephenson?' I asked. 'I am,' said he, without taking his eyes from the turnips and the knife 'Your brother James is dead in New York,' said I. 'Aweel, aweel, all men must o'en die,' he said, slicing away. 'He left you a great fortune,' said I 'I want you to come to the house with me, so that I can establish your identity and arrange for you to enter into possession of the estate.' 'I'll talk to ye at sax o'clock, young man,' said he. 'I'll be busy till then. They fortune will keep, but they turnips will not.'"

Human Voice the Sweetest Music.

The sweetest music is not in the oratorio, but in the human voice when it speaks from its instant life, tones of tenderness, truth or courage. The oratorio has already lost its relation to the morning, to the sun, and the earth, but that persuading voice is in tune with these.

JERUSALEM'S PUBLIC OVENS

One Cave-like Vaults Ranking Below Street Level.

There are public bakeries in Jerusalem. The dough is kneaded at home and carried in great lumps to the public ovens. These are to be found in almost every street. They are cave-like vaults, running down below the street level. At the back of each vault is the oven, with a sort of well before its open door. In the well stands the baker, with a long paddle in his hand, upon which he puts in and takes out the loaves.

The oven floor is marked out in blocks, so that the baking of each family is put on a separate block. The loaves, which are about an inch thick, are of the size of a tea plate and have a hole in the centre. The baker makes them from the dough, bakes them, and returns them hot from the oven to the customer. He receives two cents for each half dozen loaves, or he may instead take a toll of one loaf for each dozen. Before starting the baking he greases the floor of the oven with olive oil.

NEW PARAGRAPHS.

Electric carpets are the latest invention for the heating of rooms, the cost for one room being estimated at a halfpenny an hour.

In Corea marriage is even more important and essential for a man than it is for a woman, as, until a man be wed, he is a being of no account. If a father has not selected wives for his sons ere they reach the age of twenty he is considered worthless and neglectful.

Mr. Elias Taylor, parish clerk of Felsted, has retired on reaching the age of ninety, after fifty-one years of service. During his term of office he daily ascended the church tower to wind the clock. He discharged that duty 18,500 times, and climbed 100 miles of stairs.

Although, no doubt, every railway company would gladly convey His Majesty and the Queen free of charge, our rulers pay exactly the same price as anybody else for a special train, in addition to the first-class fare of every passenger by whom they may be accompanied in their respective suites.

Mr. Grahame-White has undertaken to deliver cinematograph films of the Coronation by aeroplane to Birmingham, Bristol and Rugby. Immediately the pictures have been taken they will be developed and placed upon aeroplanes at Hendon, whence they will be transported by air to other destination.

CARUSO'S COLD COSTS DEAR.

It is announced that Signor Caruso will shortly leave for Italy, where he hopes to benefit by a complete rest and change of air, the physicians having forbidden him to sing this season. The loss sustained by the great tenor through what was in the first place regarded as an ordinary slight cold is estimated at about $16,000, as he has been compelled to refrain from singing for a period of twelve weeks.

TO STOP HAT LIFTING.

To put a stop to hat-lifting as a form of salutation a league has been formed at Zurich which seeks to introduce the military form of salute. The league states that the uncovering of heads is the cause of many colds affecting mainly the older men. In Germany, Austria, and German Switzerland it is the custom for a man to hold his hat in his hand until the lady asks him to "cover" himself. A nod is generally sufficient, but some wait for a formal request.

At the Court of St. James'.

But it is not everybody who realises that the Palace of Westminster—the correct name for the Parliamentary Houses—contains a second throne. This is placed in the King's robing room and is used by the King when he is putting on his legal garb before entering the House of Peers to read the "Speech from the Throne."

As a matter of fact, the official throne of these realms is the one at James' Palace, that very ordinary looking building at the foot of St. James' street. All ambassadors are accredited to this court, and, in the eyes of foreign governments, it stands for the majesty of Britain. Its throne is a very handsome one, and stands under a magnificent and most ornate canopy.

Though the throne at Windsor is but little used, it is unique in one respect. It is really an Eastern throne, after the style of the one we read of in the records of King Solomon, for it is composed entirely of ivory, and was the gift of one of the Princes of India.

As Done in France.

"Some years ago," writes a well-known motorist, "I was being driven by a French friend of my acquaintance. He is as careful over his personal expenditure as he is reckless on his Panhard. I did not like the combination, but it is best to be tolerant to foreigners. Passing through a village near St. Albans we encountered a hen. She was stalking across the road like a conspirator one moment, and dead the next. She never knew what struck her. Adolphe, which is my friend's name, pulled up.

"'It is useless to go to her assistance,' said I.

"But Adolphe jumped out of the car and went. I thought it very kind of him. He picked up the dead bird and came running back.

"'Helas! she is not young,' he panted. 'But she will do well for se soup, se bouillon de poulet, tres delicat.'

"'Good heavens, you're not going to take her home?'

"'Mais certainement! Here she would be wasted. It is as we do in France. Vive la chasse!'

"I had heard that motorists were not popular in the French villages. From that day I have understood."

Y.M.C.A. Camp Moved.

The Y.M.C.A. Senior Camp has been moved from Sandy Point to Juniper Island, where they will stay for the remainder of the time they are to be at camp.

Valuable Copper Find.

A rumor has reached The Times to the effect that a valuable deposit of copper has been discovered north of Apsley in which local parties were interested. The property is situated about 8 miles north of Apsley. The "prospect" was visited by those interested last week, who made the trip in an automobile.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

SYDNEY SMITH'S TABLE-TALK

Benevolence a Natural Instinct of the Mind.

One day the conversation turned upon an obstinate man who was full of prejudices. Sydney Smith who knew his character and opinions, expressed despair. "You might," said he, "as well attempt to poultice the humps off a camel's back". Preferment in the Church, like fortune in the world, has a tendency to make men more conservative, and it was in allusion to this well-known social fact that he observed dryly, "The liberality of church-men generally is like the quantity of matter in a cone—both get less and less as they move higher and higher." "Benevolence is a natural instinct of the human mind. When A sees B in grievous distress, his conscience always urges him to entreat C to help him." "I will do human nature the justice to say," were his words on another occasion, "that we are all prone to make other people do their duty." To one who expressed a very strong opinion, and justified it on the ground that he was "only a plain man," he retorted that he was "not aware what the gentleman's personal appearance had to do with the question."

A Famous Buddhist Priest.

The Ceylon papers give much space to the death of the Buddhist high priest, Sri Sumangala, at the age of eighty-four. He was the leading Oriental scholar in Ceylon, and was in constant communication with Orientalists in the United Kingdom and on the Continent. His death is described by the Ceylon 'Observer' as not only a loss to the Buddhist community, but to the entire Oriental world. Among his friends and correspondents were Sir Monier Williams, Sir Edwin Arnold, Professors Max Muller, Rhys Davids, and Lanman, of Harvard University. He was in friendly touch with pastors and missionaries of the different Christian churches, and took a leading part in the agitation against the opium traffic in the island. His Sinhalese Grammar is used as a text-book at the London University. The remains of the aged priest were cremated in the presence of a great assembly. The Colonial Office was represented.

10,000,000 More French-Speakers

A decision which will eventually increase by ten million the number of people who speak French has just been taken by the Governor of French West Africa. Hitherto, Arabic has been exclusively used as the official language of France in her immense African empire.

As, however, Arabic was as much of a foreign tongue to most of the natives outside Algeria as French itself, interpreters have had to be used by both parties, and the only result has been to give an impetus to Islam, which is intimately bound up with the Arabic language.

Now, however, French will be the official language of the administration and the schools, and it is expected that this will result in a considerable spread of Western culture.

Cold Storage in Europe.

Many of the European cities are following the example of America as regards cold storage plants. Paris is one of the centres where such questions are now being promoted, and the Refrigeration Society is endeavouring to bring such question before engineers and manufacturers. Not long since there has been built a large cold storage plant in the suburbs of Paris and lying on the North Railroad. It is designed to store home products which are to be exported as well as foreign products brought in by rail to be consumed in the city. There are now eleven cold storage chambers in operation. A convenient system is the use of an automobile waggon with freezing compartments which plies between the city and the storage house. It carries the products to the sellers in town, and also takes back the unsold products for storage.

The Laird's Pictures.

Some years ago a Scotch laird found on succeeding to his estates that the house contained two portraits of a distinguished member of the family who had flourished during the reign of George III, one by Reynolds and the other by Raeburn. He knew no more of pictures than a Newfoundland dog, and he decided that two portraits of the same individual need not be kept. The Reynolds was retained, while the Raeburn was presented to a public gallery. The worthy man was struck with consternation some time afterward when he found that his gift had been valued at 5,000 guineas, and probably the picture would now fetch double that sum.

Strength An Unknown Quantity.

Strength, whether of body, mind, or will, is an unknown quantity. It can never be measured except by putting it forth. We do not know our powers simply because no definite bounds of them exist until proved by hearty, resolute, patient exertion. To sit still then in the absurd notion that we cannot move, to abstain from any effort because we fancy we cannot make enough, is like insisting on the shallowness of the ocean that has never been fathomed, or the shortness of the distance that has never been travelled.

Handel's Sharp Tongue.

Handel, though undoubtedly possessing a kind and generous heart, had a sharp tongue which he did not hesitate to use on occasions, generally with excellent effect. He heard that an enthusiast had offered to make himself responsible for all the boxes the next time the then-despised oratorio "Messiah" was to be given. "He is a fool," said he; "the Jew will not come to it as he would to Judas Maccabeeus, because it is a Christian story; and the ladies will not come, because it is a virtuous one."

The Importance of the Beard.

The importance of the beard was fully recognized in the middle ages. Here is a passage from a letter of the writer, Bartolomeo Catena: "It is well that those who have to lead and govern should have a long and fine beard. And I can assure you that the government of cities and provinces has been given to more than one prelate because he had a long and fine beard; otherwise he were not worthy that honor."

The Salvation Army Band are to play next Friday night, when a good programme will be rendered.

BY-LAW NUMBER 1539

A By-Law to fix the assessment of, Messrs. B. F. Ackerman, Son & Company.

Passed the 6th day of June, 1910.

Whereas Messrs. B. F. Ackerman, Son & Company have represented to the Council of the City of Peterborough that they propose, if they are granted a fixed assessment on their real estate in the City of Peterborough hereinafter mentioned, that they will purchase an additional fifty feet of land adjoining on the north of their present property at the corner of George and Dalhousie Streets, in the City of Peterborough, and will expend at least the sum of $6,000 in building thereon an addition to their present factory sufficiently large to enable them to employ from fifty to seventy-five additional employees.

And whereas the said firm are manufacturers of harness, horse collars, horse clothing and other articles of a like nature, and are the only manufacturing concern in the City in this line, and the Council of the said City has agreed to pass this By-Law for the purpose of granting such fixed assessment, subject to the confirmation thereof by the Legislature.

The Corporation of the City of Peterborough, by the Council thereof, therefore enacts as follows:—

1. This By-Law shall take effect upon and only upon the confirmation thereof by the Legislature of the Province of Ontario, and upon Messrs. B. F. Ackerman, Son & Company executing an undertaking, agreeing not to oppose the construction of any sewers or sidewalks, as local improvements, abutting or fronting on the property in Section 2 hereof mentioned, or any part thereof, that the Council may desire to construct under the provisions of The Municipal Act relating to local improvements.

2. Provided the said firm of B. F. Ackerman, Son & Company shall become the owners in fee simple of all the land hereinafter mentioned, and shall, on or before the First day of December, 1910, have expended at least the sum of $6,000 in erecting an addition to their present manufacturing establishment in the City of Peterborough, situated at the corner of George and Dalhousie Streets, sufficiently large to enable the said firm to employ from fifty to seventy-five additional employees, the assessment of said land being that part of Lot Number One north of Dalhousie Street and west of George Street, in the said City of Peterborough, described as follows, namely: commencing at the south-east angle of said Lot Number One, thence northerly along the eastern limit of said lot one hundred and thirty feet, thence westerly parallel with the southern limit of said lot one hundred and seventy-one feet more or less to a lane, thence southerly parallel with the eastern limit of said lot one hundred and thirty feet to the southern limit of said lot, and thence easterly along said southern limit one hundred and seventy-one feet more or less to the place of beginning, while used exclusively for manufacturing purposes, or the part so used for manufacturing purposes, and the buildings, plant, machinery and fixtures thereon, and the business assessment thereof on which taxes are to be levied, shall be fixed, and remain fixed, while the same are so used at the sum of fifteen thousand dollars for a period of ten years from the first day of January, 1911, and the return and oath of the assessor or assessors in respect thereof shall be amended accordingly, but the same shall, for school purposes, be and remain liable to assessment and the payment of school taxes and rates to as full an extent as if this By-law had not been passed, and the assessment for school purposes and the school rates and taxes shall be made, levied and collected thereon in accordance with the provisions of the general law in that behalf, and the said lands shall also be liable for all frontage and local improvement assessment, rates and taxes that may be charged against the same, and any dwellings erected on the said lands, and the land appurtenant to any said dwellings shall not be included in the fixed assessment hereunder, but such dwellings and land, while used as such, shall be assessed as provided by The Assessment Act then in force; provided, however, that if the said B. F. Ackerman, Son & Company, shall at any time within the said term of ten years fail or neglect to operate and carry on the said manufacturing establishment substantially to its capacity during at least ten months in any year, then such fixed assessment shall cease, and the taxes, rent and rates on said lands, buildings, plant, machinery and fixtures, and the business assessment thereof shall be the same as if this By-Law had not been passed; provided always that if the failure to carry on said business is due to strikes or to the destruction of the said buildings, plant, machinery or fixtures by fire or tempest, the time during which the said business shall so cease to be carried on in consequence of such strikes or destruction of the buildings, plant, machinery or fixtures (not exceeding in either case one year), shall not be taken as a failure or neglect to carry on the said business so as to disentitle the said firm to such fixed assessment.

River Full of Logs.

Several large drives are on their way down stream. The McDonald estate has a very large drive just now passing through Buckhorn. The Dickson Company's last drive of the season is now approaching Burleigh, while the Cavendish Lumber Co also have several thousand logs on their way to their mills at Lakefield. These operations give employment to a large number of men, who usually return to the woods early in Autumn when they begin their winter's cut.

Water Very High.

It is satisfactory to the users of water, as well as to the general public, to learn that the water in the back lakes and rivers is higher this summer than has ever been known before at this season of the year. The lakes are full to overflowing, while the rivers are also well supplied. The excellent system of water conservation adopted by Mr. J. H. McClellan, superintendent of the Trent Canal, is working out well. With the construction of new cement dams under contemplation by the Dominion Government, further additions will be made to the magnificent reservoirs, which serve as feeders to our splendid, water system.

AFTER TREATMENT

Peter E. Summers relates his experience: "I was troubled with Nervous Debility for many years. I lay it to indiscretion and excesses in youth. I became very despondent and didn't care whether I worked or not. I imagined everybody who looked at me guessed my secret. Imaginative dreams at night, weakened memory, back, aching, head pains in the back of my head, hands and feet were cold, tired in the morning, poor appetite, fingers were shaky, eyes blurred, hair loose, memory poor, etc. Numbness in the fingers set in and the doctor told me he feared paralysis. I took all kinds of medicines and tried many first-class physicians, wore an electric belt for three months, but received little benefit. I was induced to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, though I had lost all faith in doctors. Like a drowning man I commenced the NEW METHOD TREATMENT and it saved my life. The improvement was like magic—I could feel the vigor going through the nerves. I was cured mentally and physically. I have sent them many patients and continue to do so.

CHILD WAS MURDERED ERE THROWN INTO RESERVOIR

Beamsville, July 19.—That he was quite satisfied the two-year-old child of Edna Comfort had come to its death through a blow, rather than a result of being thrown into the town reservoir, was the concluding remarks of Crown Attorney Brennan, at the inquest into the death of the mother and child, both of whom were found in the reservoir, on July 5. Three doctors gave it as their opinion that the marks found on either side of the child's forehead indicated that it had been dealt two severe blows, while Dr. Elmore, who had performed a special post-mortem, at the request of the crown, stated that though decomposition had set in, the marks on the neck and head showed violence, there was no water in the stomach of lungs, and in all probability the child had not been drowned.

The neighborhood is still highly strung over the matter, and as the efforts of the Crown are being exerted to bring out facts which will show whether Edna Comfort was thrown into the reservoir, or committed suicide, the Crown Attorney asked that the officials handling the case be given more time to investigate. The missing keynote in the evidence seems to be the identity of the man on the bicycle who was seen to stop her while she was on her way home from bery picking on Monday night. Three witnesses have stated that some such man stopped her, and that she turned and went back along the road with him towards the bush and the reservoir, but none were able to point authentically to his identity. The woman they could recognize from the fact that her child and its go-cart were along. That was the last she was seen alive. After the two bodies were found in the reservoir this go-cart and a portion of both the woman's and the child's clothing was found in the bush nearby.

Mrs. Hoshal, wife of Reeve Hoshal, was called as witness. She stated that Edna Comfort had worked for her and she had see nthe girl only as late as Friday morning. On that morning the girl had spoken to her about Roland Tafford, and he had said that something must be done. The girl didn't know whether he intended to give her money or marry her, though occasionally of late he had met her on the road and used her roughly. Mrs. Hoshal had suggested that she get legal advice. Edna Comfort had further added to Mrs. Hoshal that another child would be born, and regarding this Roland Tufford had made suggestions. He had then wanted her to leave the town, but when asked as to where he would take her or where he would get the money to leave, had replied that he didn't know. She had confided to Mrs. Hoshal that the was really afraid to go away with him.

Miss Wayne, for whom Edna Comfort had worked as late as June 1, was also called as a witness. Her statements were along the same line that the girl had seemed happy, and had spoken to her about Roland Tufford.

The facts regarding the finding of the bodies were recalled by Percy Howell, aged 11, who had been staying on the Tufford farm, on which the reservoir is situated, and Walter Fairweather, who was helping Roland Tufford with the hay on the day the bodies were located. The farm is owned by Isaiah Tufford, father of Roland, and the three first-mentioned had been drawing hay in the field next the reservoir. Fairweather, when called as a witness, stated that about one or two o'clock in the afternoon Tufford had called to him from the top of a load to say that he saw something in the water. The boy, Percy, had then been called and sent over to investigate. He came back with the information that it was a man's body. All had gone over then, and found the child.

Percy Howell was then called, and corroborated these statements, though he had been sent to the barn, and did not see who removed the body, and he couldn't say at the time whose child it was. Fairweather added that neither of them had seemed to recognize the child at the time, as the body was already decomposing.

"Didn't it look strange to you that Tufford should call your attention to it?" Crown Attorney Brennan asked.

"I didn't think he knew it was a body," was the reply.

"You were in the same field with Tufford on Monday night; did you see anything then?" Fairweather had not seen anyone about, he had never talked to Tufford about the child, and had never heard of his relations with the woman until after the bodies were found.

As told by Mr. Robert Gibson, the woman's body had not been found until the evening. The townspeople had talked of the finding of the child, when Mrs. Comfort, the mother of the dead woman, came to say that Edna had disappeared. A number had then gone to the reservoir.

Mr. Peter Robertson was one who had assisted with the dragging. His evidence stated that when found, the woman's hands were clenched, in an attitude of supplication or appeal.

THE ROMAN HEIRARCHY AND THE PEOPLE.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir, It is a difficult matter to speak sufficiently plain not to be misunderstood, and yet not appear to bear malice in criticism. Some time ago and during the late Eucharistic Congress held in Montreal, a priest of the Roman Church challenged the whole of Protestantism as being a soulless thing; which in essence would be of no character or weight. This challenge was laid because what is known as Protestantism does not agree with the Roman Church in its doctrine of the Lord's Supper. The challenge was taken up in different places, and what Protestantism has stood for and what it has accomplished in the way of good works as well as its fair and reasonable interpretation of the Lord's Supper, were made abundantly plain. No sooner had the smoke of that controversy cleared away than the Marriage Question was raised. In that issue the character of any marriage not consummated by a capable priest of the Roman Church is challenged. The feeling in and throughout Protestantism is that marriage is not the ceremony, but rather the plighted union of the sexes as man and wife, before the world. The ground taken is that it is a civil contract and that the nature of the ceremony makes it none the more or less binding. Whether it be Romanist Episcopalian, or Non-Conformist who performs the ceremony, the general feeling and confidence is that each and all is marriage in the sight of God and man; and may not be annulled. The questions of the Eucharist and of Marriage are those of a kindred character, so far as the Roman Hierarchy is concerned. Happily for Canada and for Britain generally these are times when more than the mere assertion or adverse criticism of any man is needed for the challenge of Faith and Morals. Protestantism does not and will not agree with the broad and unsupported statements or claims of any man or body of men. Those who will may do so; Protestantis will not! The firmly rooted basis of Modern Protestantism is the challenge of the Apostle that we should be able to give a reason for the hope that is in us.

Protestant.

OUR WATER SUPPLY.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I would trespass on your valuable space to call attention to the pollution of the water on Stoney Lake. The Ontario Government has provided a law compelling cottagers steamboat people and others to use dry earth closets, and to abstain from throwing their offal into the water. But no means is provided that I am aware of to enforce the law in this regard.

What I propose is that the City of Peterborough should employ a man with a gasoline launch whose duty it would be to prosecute every person found violating the provisions of the Health Act. He would only be needed for three months every year, and the cost need not exceed $100 per month. When we remember that 18-000 people in this city have to drink this water, surely this trifling expense would hardly count.

We should be provided with pure drinking water, without which it will not be possible to ward off sickness. Impure water is, as everybody knows the most fertile cause of fevers of all kinds. We have an expensive city health department, and I would ask those who constitute the Board of Health to consider this most important matter.

Pure Water.

THERE WILL BE NO COMPROMISE ON RECIPROCITY

A STORY WITHOUT FOUNDATION ORIGINATING OUTSIDE OF PARLIAMENT.

Waiting for Washington—Bill Will be Passed There on Saturday And Then the Real Struggle Will Begin.

Ottawa, July 20.—There will be no compromise in regard to reciprocity. A story to the effect that it would be proposed to pass the bill but to delay it operation until after a general election emanated from a source wholly outside Parliament and it is scouted by both sides.

The Opposition would under no circumstances consider it, while anyone who has followed the discussion knows that the Canadian Government has agreed with the United States to push through the agreement with all due diligence. Because of this understanding the President called an extra session of Congress and the Government here is bound to live up to its part of the undertaking.

Generally speaking there is no change in the situation to-day. There will be none before next week and probably not then. Great interest is indicated as to developments at Washington where the vote takes place on Saturday. If the agreement is passed there the situation here in no way likely to be altered but the air will be cleared somewhat and the scene of discussion will be in Canada alone. All along it was accepted that nothing definite, not even a preliminary vote, would be taken here until it was known what the Senate would do. The general impression is that the upper house of Congress will pass it, but somehow, certain politicians here appear to be none too sure on that score. If by any chance it should be defeated there certainly would be no attempt to put it through here. Any international undertaking to that end would be dissolved. With an affirmative vote on Saturday, however, the Government will go ahead and, in earnest, try to pass the bill. It is equally positive that the Conservatives, unless all signs fail, will maintain their stand of unrelenting opposition. The Government will alternate supply with reciprocity and after attempts to make progress likely to prove futile, have been made to a certain degree there will be an election. If this is not what happens, the rank and file on both sides will be greatly surprised, not to say disappointed. As to how long the tension will last, before something snaps no one can say.

BOY SHOT CANADIAN GIRL IN AVENGING HIS BANTAM

South Norwalk, Conn., July 20.—Miss Eva Hammond, of Coaticook, Que., lies to-day at the home of her uncle here with a bullet lodged against the base of her brain. Her body is paralyzed, and there is little hope that she will survive. She was shot while automobiling late yesterday, and Williams Beers, a 12-year-old boy, is accused of having caused the injury.

Young Beers told the police that a passing automobile ran over his pet bantam chicken a day or two ago, and he had lain in ambush to avenge the death of his favorite. With a small rifle in his hand he hid in the bushes and determined to shoot a hole through the tire of every automobile that went by. This he said was his notion of revenge. Miss Hammond's car was the first to pass. The lad aimed at the tire, but the bullet veered off and landed in the young woman's neck.

MAN LANDED IN THE WRONG CITY

Yesterday aforeigner came to this city under the impression that he was in Pittsburg, Pa. He wandered up town to the Y.M.C.A. where he was met by a Times man who took him down town. He was a Russian, Frank Miller, and could speak very little English. He was taken to the Police Station, where the skilful questioning of Chief Thompson, soon brought the answer that the man was a laborer and had been working at Sarnia, but was on his way to Pittsburg, where his brother is now employed. For further information an interpreter was brought in from Florence's junk shop, who said that the man had not enough money to carry him to Pittsburg, in fact, he only had $2.50 left so an effort will be made to find him employment in this city until he gets enough money to pay his fare to Pittsburg. How he managed to get here could not be determined, but it is presumed that he asked for a ticket to Peterborough instead of Pittsburg.

RENOUNCES OLD GLORY

THE Y.W.C.A. LOYALTY CLUB

Last night the Loyalty Club met at the Y.W.C.A. in their parlours. The former meetings this summer were held in the parks. This club meets once a week for the purpose of holding friendly talks on various subjects. In the winter the club members go in for games, etc.

Miss McCalla, the secretary, lectured on the Muskoka Conference in general and missionary work in India in particular. The lecture was much appreciated by those who were fortunate enough to be present.

Refreshments were served at the close of the lecture.

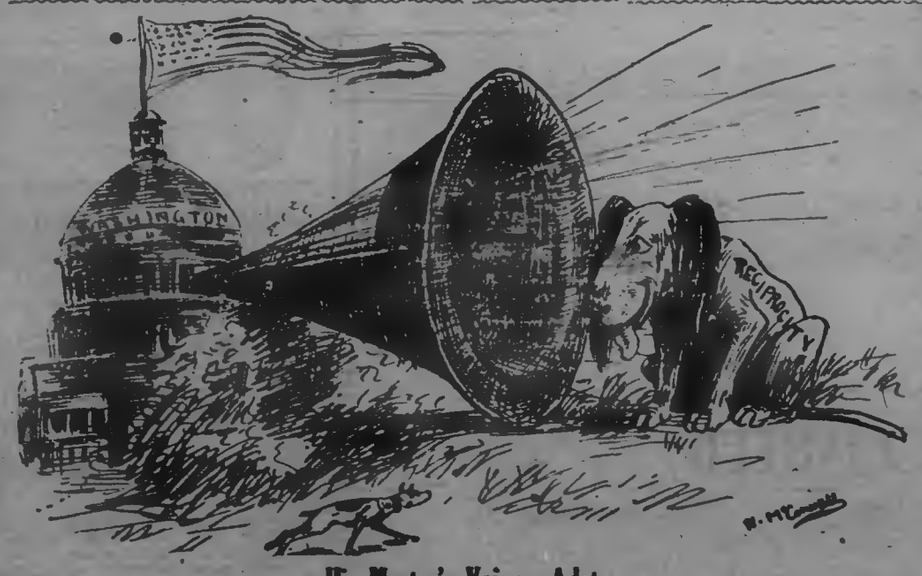
The gymnasium is now well equipped for the coming season.

LINDSAY SENT UP FOR TRIAL

Toronto, July 20.—"I may say I have heard enough evidence to justify me in making committal, but it is fair to the defence that four or five more witnesses be heard, and 'I will adjourn the hearing until to-morrow morning,'" remarked Col. Denison in the police court to-day, after hearing several witnesses at the preliminary investigation of the charge against W. J. Lindsay, the promotor, that he did conspire with W. R. Travers and others to obtain by fraud a treasury certificate from the Dominion Government in connection with the Farmers Bank.

Boy Scouts Home.

The two Boy Scouts, who were at the Coronation, returned home last night.



His Master's Voice—Advt

"I WAS SENT TO PENITENTIARY TO SEAL MY LIPS," SAYS ATLAS

HE RETURNS FROM KINGSTON ON PAROLE AND IN BITTER MOOD.

Declares He Will Tell of His Sufferings at the Hands of Roman Catholics.

Toronto, July 20.—"If I travelled all over the world I could not find better, truer, nobler men than the Canadian friends who stayed by me through thick and thin."

"I have been the victim of malignant persecution. Rome rules in the Kingston penitentiary just as it does in the rest of Canada. The city elects a Catholic as its member at Ottawa and it follows that the majority of the employes and guards at the penitentiary are Catholics.

"I have no intention of remaining silent. I must speak. And I shall certainly expose some of the machinations of the Roman Church."

These were a few of the first expressions of Rev. George M. Atlas in an interview.

After having served eight months of a six years' term in the Kingston penitentiary, his release was secured on parole through the efforts of his lawyer Mr. William Douglas, of Higgins and Douglas. The original charge upon which a conviction was secured was misappropriation of funds entrusted to him by a fellow-countryman.

Vani Simoff who was murdered on Eastern avenue by Pavelle Stevoff. The act for which Atlas was held was alleged to have been committed in Macedonia when he was there to bring over a witness against Stefoff. It was claimed that he forged the signature of Simoff's widow to a receipt for her husband's estate, representing $410. He was convicted before Judge Winchester in the sessions a year ago and since then has been in Kingston. His parole was the result of an acquittal by the assize jury under Justice Riddell last month on a charge of subornation of perjury.

"FAREWELL" SUIT IN PARCEL.

Hurrying down the platform at the Union Station yesterday afternoon at 4.30, just off the train from Kingston, from which he had travelled by himself, the minister swung by his side a large paper bundle. He had no other luggage and wore the blue suit of clothes and flat topped derby hat which he had taken with him into confinement. His moustache was also missing.

When a reporter shook hands with him he laughed about the pleasure of meeting some one socially. Dropping his bundle on the walk, he spied his lawyer and with a hearty grip of the hand assured him how glad he felt to be at liberty once more.

FELT IN HAPPY MOOD.

"Do you know what is in this bundle?" and he kicked the package at his feet.

No one would venture a guess.

"Well, they are my clothes they gave me when I left the institution. Do you want them? Do you know any poor fellow who wants them?"

he was laughing all the time. He told one or two funny stories, listened to one by Mr. Douglas and then started to leave for home.

"Had it not been for the efforts of my friends I would never have secured my liberty," he remarked; "no I should have been down in the penitentiary yet, and for every day of the six years."

"HE'S JUST A DAGO."

"What would anyone have cared? 'Oh,' people would say, 'he's just a dago. Don't bother about him.' But my friends and my lawyer were out to get justice. They spent thousands of dollars without the hope of getting a penny in return.

"What do you intend to do in the future?"

"I am going back at my old work as a missionary," said he, "but I first of all must speak out and tell the truth of my sufferings at the hands of Roman Catholics.

"The story will rouse the country. It is awful. I was sent to the penitentiary to seal my lips."

"For what purpose?"

EXPLAINS HIS INCARCERATION

"Because I dared to have printed in a Toronto paper what I knew about the Church of the Holly Ass in Verona, Italy an institution sanctioned by the Pope. That was the reason I went to prison. There was no other."

In an interview at Kingston, he said that Father Minehan, of Toronto, stirred up the foreign element against him and obtained men who were willing to swear to his obtaining funds illegally from a Turkish estate left in his charge.

He charged also that Catholic guards in the prison had opened his mail after it had passed the Warden, and had extracted information from his letters for the purpose of forwarding it to Father Minehan.

WIFE AND CHILDREN HAPPY.

A reporter visited the Atlas home this morning at 175 Sackville street. There in pleasant, but modest quarters the minister's wife and four handsome children have resided ever since the condemning verdict in the court room eight months ago. While it has been a struggle to keep the little home together, the members were buoyed up by the belief that liberty for the husband and father was only a question of a few weeks or year at most. Mrs. Atlas was all smiles, and her daughter fairly beamed with the happiness of the family reunion. About the steps two children played, and their faces that for brunette beauty might vei with the cherubs in a juvenile picture book were wreathed in merriment. A general tidying up was in progress in which the little folks both helped and interfered.

LOCATING DEFENCE WITNESS.

Mr. Douglas stated that efforts were still being made to locate the witnesses from Turkey who did not appear at the last trial.

"If those witnesses could be present," he said, "Mr. Atlas would have been proven innocent of all the charges made against him, including those on which he was sent to prison."

SIMILAR CASE IN CHICAGO

Chicago, July 20.—A case similar in some respects to that of Mrs. Angelina Napolitano, of Sault Ste Marie, Ont., whose death sentence was commuted to life imprisonment, last week, developed here yesterday in the shooting of Joseph Lopiscopo by his wife, Vita Lopiscopo.

At the hospital to which Lopiscopo was taken, it was said early today that he had small chance of recovery. In her cell at the police station Mrs. Lopiscopo, who will become a mother, said she had supported her husband since they came from Italy two years ago, and that he had often beaten her when her earnings were small.

Our Four Great Railways.

The United States had thirty million people before the country was connected by railway from ocean to ocean. Four years from now, when Canada's population will probably approximate ten millions, we shall have four transcontinental railway systems. And no one doubts that there will be traffic for all of them if we maintain our fiscal independence and encourage interprovincial trade. If the Canadian Northern and Grand Trunk Pacific Railways do as much to develop Canada and advertise it through the world as the Canadian Pacific Railway has done the progress of Canada during the next twenty-five years will surpass that of the United States in any twenty-five years of its history.

Reason for His Hit.

"I made a great hit at the banquet last night. Came off with a good deal of distinction, in fact."

"I didn't know you ever spoke at banquets."

"I don't. I was the only one there who absolutely declined."

Not Loaded.

No other language under the sun is open to so many interpretations as the English language, as witness the conversation between two Sharon hill girls the other evening.

"Oh, May," said the first one, "Jim and Bill tried to fight a duel over me."

"How romantic! What happened?"

"It was terrible I came into the room, and those foolish boys were pointing big pistols at each other!"

"Pistols? Heavens! were they loaded?"

"Not a bit. That is just what made it really very serious. They both were sober."

THE KING'S THRONE.

Hard to Say Which is the Real Throne.

The King may be said to have a suite of thrones—or shall we say a set of "occasional thrones?"—on each of which he probably sits at least once. Certainly he only sits on a single occasion upon one of them—that is the Coronation Chair in Westminster Abbey—the worm-eaten, battered, lion-footed old oak settee which contains the Stone of Destiny, and upon which all the King's predecessors since Edward II. have been crowned. That chair might, perhaps, claim to be the throne of the Empire, as it is infinitely the most ancient, and inasmuch as the King must sit upon it to be crowned.

It is not at all likely that the King would sit upon it often, even if it were in his "ain ingle-nook," because it is an extremely uncomfortable chair. It stands, year in and year out, in the chapel of Edward the Confessor, where it was first placed by Edward I., and it is only removed for the Coronation, when, covered with gold brocade, it is set under the lantern, between the choir and the altar.

Probably the throne most familiar to the public is the great creation which stands upon a dias in the House of Lords. It is often mentioned in the newspapers quite apart from the opening of Parliament—the only occasion upon which it is actually used as a seat. Often a phrase like this occurs: "Mr. John Burns, who is greatly interested in this bill, listened to the debate from the steps of the throne." A beautiful rail separates this "Royal seat of Kings" from the "lordly peers."

Mr. W. R. Morris, C.A. has been elected a member of the Council of the Chartered Accountants.

ENCOURAGE CHILDREN TO LAUGH

Fill the Home with Merry Laughter of Your Children.

Encourage your children to laugh. This may be hard sometimes for children do giggle and simper and shriek with laughter when many grownups can't find a single thing to laugh about, and many and many a time, the laughter of children is shrill on one's nerves, if one allows oneself to have nerves; but encourage the little ones to laugh any way.

Doctors say that good hearty laughter loosens up the nerve tensions more effectively and desirably than anything inthe world: if laughter is suppressed because, perchance, you don't see anything to laugh about, little by little the nerves grow taut, the little faces correspondingly set, and perhaps a long train of nervous ills and misery set in motion.

Let them laugh — make them laugh. It is childhood's birthright.

"LIFE'S LULLABY"

Man is a Hypocrite from Birth to Death.

Man comes into this world, without his consent, and leaves it against his will. During his stay on earth his time is spent in one continuous round of contraries and misunderstandings by the balance of his species. In his infancy he is an angel, in his boyhood he is a devil, in his manhood he is everything from a lizard up; in his duties he is a damn fool; if he raises a family he is a chump; if he raises a small cheque he is a thief and then the law raises the devil with him. If he is a poor man, he is a poor manager and he has no sense; if he is rich, he is dishonest but considerd smart; if he is in politics you place him as he is, an undesirable citizen; if he goes to church he is a hypocrite; if he stays away from church he is a sinner and damned; if he donates to foreign missions he does it for show, if he doesn't he is stingy and a tight wad. When he first comes into the world everybody wants to kiss him; when he goes out, they all want to kick him. If he dies young there was a great future before him, if he lives to a ripe old age he is simply in the way and living to save funeral expenses. This life is a funny road, but we all like to travel it just the same.

FAMOUS FOLKS.

The Queen of Spain has started a campaign against the promiscuous kissing of children.

Mr. John Burns possesses the last photograph of Mr. Gladstone that the great statesman ever signed.

The King of Greece collects doorhandles. He has some thousands.

Sir Joseph Ward, the Prime Minister of New Zealand, began to earn his living in the New Zealand Postal in a merchant's office.

The Czarina of Russia is fond of swimming, and when staying at the St. Petersburg Winter Palace indulges in the recreation in a splendid bath of white marble.

Lord Roberts strongly believes in "lucky days." "Bobs" lucky day, on which he has experienced most of his good fortune, is Tuesday.

One of the proudest moments in the life of Princess May is said to have been, as quite a baby, the late King Edward lifted her on to the back of Persimmon and led her round the paddock at Sandringham.

How all the plausibilities of Society vie before practising the art of making the truth appear a lie, which is called intrigue.

The agriculturist's idea of a lady someone who has had nothing to do with farming all her life, just as his ideal gentleman is a retired shopkeeper.

It is a wise woman who refrains from inducing her husband to bring the atmosphere of his club home with him.

WHY ARE THE LARGE INVESTORS ALL OVER CANADA AND THE UNITED STATES BUYING MONTREAL REAL ESTATE?

If Western land or speculative stocks were considered better,--is it reasonable to suppose that these careful financiers whose knowledge of Canadian conditions is beyond a doubt-would buy Montreal Real Estate ?

To the men of good judgment,—these questions do not require an answer.

YOU KNOW Montreal is the largest city in the Dominion.

YOU KNOW that the population is increasing yearly at the rate of about 50,000.

YOU KNOW these people have to have homes.

Taking the above facts into consideration, what do you consider, looking in the most conservative way possible, ANGUS PARK LOTS will be worth in four years' time?

Taking the past advances in MONTREAL REAL ESTATE as an example, these lots will be worth over a hundred per cent. (100 per cent.) more in that time.

We have a limited number of lots situated on ANGUS PARK BOULEVARD, which we can offer you at to-day's low prices, and on terms that will not cripple your finances, and by the time your lots are fully paid for you will have saved not only the cost of the land but the increase in value, thereby making your investment many hundred per cent. (100 per cent.) better than a Savings Bank account and much safer.

Do not delay till this opportunity has escaped you, but call in and see us, or drop us a line and we will send you full particulars together with our application forms. The prices range from $100 per lot upwards and the terms 10 per cent. cash, and the balance 10 per cent. every three months without interest.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

You cannot clean carpets, rugs and furniture by beating. If you think you have, just try a KING EDWARD VACUUM CLEANER and you will find the article full of dust, which breeds disease.
The KING EDWARD HAND MACHINE has no equal as compared with other hand machines. It is lighter to operate and its suction is much stronger. Its suction is stronger than many of the power machines, and the dusting is done away with. On account of the short stroke one person can operate it on carpets and rugs equally as well as two, and it is about half the weight of other hand machines to carry up and down stairs or from one room to another. It is sold for less money than any of the hand machines. All machines are guaranteed.

Saved by His Wit.

One evening, when the city clerk's office was full of men seeking registration, an Irishman asked to be registered. He received the usual blank, with the request that he sign his name. This he succeeded in doing, after a painful effort.

Suspecting that this was the extent of his accomplishments, an onlooker called out to the clerk:

"Try him on another name! Let him write yours."

"'Deed, I'd never dare!" said the Irishman, quick as lightning. "Sure, 'twould be forgery!"

"What kind of an eating house do you call this?" asked the man from Alberta, as he entered a queer-looking establishment in Paris.

"This is one horse restaurant, monsieur," explained garcon. "You can have as horseflesh in any style. How would you like yours?"

"Horse in any style, eh? Well, suppose you have mine curried."

No Mystery.

"Bon, why don't you marry Emily? You have been attentive enough to her."

"Father, I will never marry Emily. There is an insuperable bar to our union."

"What mystery is this?"

"No mystery. Only I asked Emily and she won't have me."

The civic tax rate in Lindsay is 20 mills on the dollar. But this does not mean that the citizens of that good town pays a higher rate than is paid in Peterborough. It is largely a matter of value and of high or low assessment.

persistent, and yet he didn't seem to actly to have the courage to insist upon being heard. The court gave him one look, and he once more gesticulated and again fell back into his seat.

He apparently decided that he would bide his time.

"Gentlemen," continued the witness, "I hope that none of you has ever been thrown out of employment—if any has, he will know just what it means. I did not know. I assumed that it was a mere question of a few days or weeks to obtain another situation.

"I found to my surprise that it was difficult to obtain a position anywhere. Where I expected to be successful in a few days, I discovered that I could not obtain remunerative employment in months. My surplus dwindled to my last dollar—to my last cent.

"Gentlemen" he continued with lowered voice, "I starved—literally starved. I, who all my life had been at least in prosperous circumstances, found myself without me food wherewith to sustain life.

"Have you ever been through it—do you know what it means? The man who starves will do anything—will commit any crime, to get food. He cannot help it—he must have food. Thank heaven, I did not have to commit crime, though, after all, it might have been better to have done it. I was tired, hungry, desperate.

"What happened? Unutterable good fortune fell upon me and like a thunderbolt out of a clear cold winter's sky. I picked up in the street one morning this copy of a newspaper."

"You lie!" cried out the prisoner here, again leaping to his feet.

A court official seized him and forced him back.

"I have marked with blue pencil," resumed the witness, disregarding the outburst, "the advertisement that I read that morning. I afterwards discovered that the defendant in this case—the prisoner at the bar—had caused it to be inserted."

He handed the paper to the prosecutor. It was marked in evidence over the strenuous objections of the defendant's counsel.

The prosecutor read it to the jury. It ran as follows:

IMPORTANT TO ACTORS. Actor producing play with dual role wants double; must be about 5 feet 11 inches tall, broad shouldered, slender, dark, swarthy complexion, and naturally strong beard. Must be refined and educated — this is important. Salary large; work light. Apply at once.
X 13, this office.

"I wrote," resumed the witness, "and received a letter in response directing to call on M. Madigan on floor, 83 River street, this city.

"River street, as you may know, is an obscure neighborhood. I called there, however. I saw M. Madigan, and found a crowd of dark-complexioned men in waiting. No explanation was made to any. We sat and waited.

"Out of all these men three were finally selected by Madigan. He had weeded them out rapidly. I was one of the three. The other two seemed to be as refined and educated as I felt myself to be; but they were shabby also. Madigan finally showed to each of us the photograph of a man with a black Van Dyck beard.

The witness paused and looked at the prisoner. The crowd looked at the prisoner. The prisoner had a black Van Dyke beard.

"Madigan told us to grow beards just like that. He gave us twenty-five dollars apiece and told us to report to him as soon as our beards were grown.

"You will note that my appearance, my height, and my complexion answer in a general way the description contained in the advertisement. The other two of the three also answered the description in a general way.

"Gentlemen, I do not believe I have ever been as grateful in my life as I was to M. Madigan on the day he gave me that twenty-five dollars. It was salvation — it was comparative prosperity.

"Well, on a certain day we all attended at Madigans again, and Madigan inspected us with a critical eye. Finally he gave the other two me twenty-five dollars more apiece for their trouble and sent them off. He told me to stay. He thought I would suit. He opened the door of another room and ushered me in.

"I have never seen M. Madigan from that day to this. I never expect to see him. I believe him also to be an innocent man, an unsuspecting instrument in the hands of a great villain."

The court room was still as death. The witness glanced around upon the crowd and then resumed his narrative.

"In that room was a man. That man was the defendant in this case—H. Stanleigh Storme. It was the first time I had ever seen him. I assumed that he was the actor who had advertised.

"He was seated at a table and as I entered he arose. He seemed startled at my appearance. I certainly was at his — the likeness was so striking.

"He invited me to take a seat, and then he told me first that he was not an actor. He said that he was a man of wealth, and admitted that he was a man of many eccentricities. He repeated that several times; seemed to force it upon my mind the fact that he was a queer fellow — a very queer one.

"He told me of some peculiar notions he had—they were ridiculous. I laughed at them. He seemed anxious that I should laugh at them. His peculiar notions were not aimed at the important things of life, but rather at things immaterial.

"So cleverly did he imbue me with the idea of his queerness that I was quite prepared for the proposition which he finally made to me. It was this.

"He said that he was a man well known in society and in the town, and that it was necessary for him to keep his end up; that he was a sort of social lion, and had great pride in keeping social engagements and making himself generally agreeable, but that it tired him to death. He said that it was a very wearisome necessity for him to attend formal receptions and dinner parties, functions and clubs, but there were many demands upon him, and he was often forced to meet people and to be seen at places when he was literally bored to death.

"He explained that he was a sort of Bohemian in his way; fond of life and pleasure, that he had a circle of particular friends with whom he preferred to devote most of his time. And this, he explained was just where I came in.

"He stated that he had evolved the peculiar and unheard of idea, for the eccentricity of which he apologised profusely, of employing some gentleman of refinement and grace — and here he was very suave and flattering — to take his place at the unpleasant, uncongenial affairs that took up so much of his time. This would leave him free to enjoy himself as he would.

"He confessed frankly that he got the idea from one of the local dramas. At any rate, he wanted to try the experiment and wished to know if I was willing to aid him in what could be termed merely a harmless deception. He said that it could not possibly hurt me—he was a man of first class reputation, and had no entanging alliances—and he put it to me straight, whether I would materially increase his enjoyment of life by helping him play his part in the world of fashion.

"It was a queer proposition, gentlemen," continued the witness, "and at first it staggered me. I thought it over a long while before accepting, but two things decided me. One thing was my love of adventure and harmless practical jokes; and the other was my desperate strait.

"It may be, too, that my will was materially weakened by the privations I have suffered—it undoubtedly was. At any rate, I heard what he had to say, and his argument was convincing. I thought it over a long while. But, after all, I considered that there was no harm in it, and that if it did involve embarrassment I could drop the thing at any time. There was adventure and excitement in the scheme—and more than all, it might, and probably would, lead to something better.

"You must remember, gentlemen, that I had reached the end of my tether—that notwithstanding the fact that I was a good business man, I could not command employment, and there was nothing before me but absolute starvation. I determined to accept his proposition.

"When he told me his name I recognized it at once as the name of a man well known in the town and in every way reputable and refined. Even I, who had been here but a short while, recognized that fact. If I had had any reluctance, any hesitation before, it disappeared with the mention of his name.

"That, gentlemen, was my first acquaintance with the prisoner there—Mr. H. Stanleigh Storme."

The speaker inclined his head once more in the direction of the defendant. The prisoner again sprang from his chair, where he had been sitting continuously, in the same extraordinary state of excitement.

Hay Coming In.

The new hay is rapidly coming in but as yet the price remains steady. It is expected to advance in the near future. The present prices are from $12 to $14 per ton.

Barbed Wire on Carts.

Some of the city sprinklers have been decorated behind with barb wire presumably to keep the small boy from riding on the bars which are at the back of these carts.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

DYSPEPSIA AS IT BEGINS

THIS STAGE EASILY CURED.

The first symptoms of dyspepsia and indigestion give little indication of their subsequent seriousness.

One of the most common symptoms of stomach disorder is a sense of fulness or lightness after eating. This indicates that the stomach needs help Belching of gas frequently follows, the tongue is coated, the bowels become irregular, until finally, in addition to the stomach distress, constipation adds its deadly influence in destroying health.

The treatment is simple and if employed promptly and reasonably persevered with, cure is speedy and permanent Take Dr. Hamilton's Pills in full doses every second or third night, then three times a week, one pill at bed time.

The first effect of Dr. Hamilton's Pills is to excite activity of the liver and kidneys. This cleanses the system and prepares the stomach for vigorous work. Gastric juice is abundantly secreted, digestion of food and not its fermentation, marks stomach activity with total absence of gas and removal of other symptoms of perverted action.

For good health, vigorous appetite and the best digestion, use Dr. Hamilton's Pills. No other medicine will do so much good. Price 25c per box, at all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Canada.

ROMAN CATHOLIC INTERFERENCE IN FEDERAL POLITICS.

Our contemporary, The News, which is fearless in its attitude in dealing with the Heirarchy of the Romish Church, in referring to the quarrel between Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, Postmaster-General, and Mr. Henri Bourassa, says the Postmaster General declared publicly that the Nationalist Leader deserted the Liberal party because he had failed in securing either the Deputy Speakership of the House of Commons or the Postmastership of Montreal. Now he was trying to take his revenge.

Of course the truth is that if Mr. Bourassa had been content to remain with the Liberal party he probably would have succeeded to the leadership. At least he could have entered the Government and have obtained any preference within the power of the Prime Minister to give.

Mr. Bourassa has answered the charge in a five column attack on Mr. Lemieux. For polished vituperation, pointed satire and vigorous rhetoric the deliverance is unique. It is bound to rank as a notable document.

For us, perhaps the troubles of Mr. Bourassa are not especially interesting. But there is in his letter a definite admission of the part played by the Roman Catholic Hierarchy in forming the Western Autonomy Bills. It was known at the time that the Government was in touch with Mgr. Sbaretti, the Papal Legate, but no direct evidence was available. Mr. Bourassa is endeavoring to show how good a Liberal he was in 1904, even after Mr. Charles Marcil was elected to the Deputy Speakership. He says:

I continued my work and my role of intermediary between the Government and some persons who particularly interested themselves in the Northwest school question. I heartily applauded the magnificent speech made by the Prime Minister in supporting the first reading of the bills. When Sifton resigned and when Fielding threatened to do likewise, I refrained from saying a single word which might embarrass the Ministry. For more than two months I was in almost daily relations with Laurier and Fitzpatrick on the one hand and Mgr. Sbaretti on the other, called sometimes by one, sometimes by the other, riddled on all sides, but seeking always a ground of conciliation. I shall publish one of these days my notes and my reminiscences of this epoch. It will be seen if I was the immovable and dangerous bigot that I am painted—in such dark colors. Indeed if I merit censure and if my conscience reproaches me it is because I offered to cede too much . . . I broke my bridges only after being assured that the Government could, if it would, pass the text of the law which it had prepared; and I gave assurance of it, with proofs in support to Mr. Laurier and to Mgr. Sbaretti.

Mr. Bourassa complains because later the Government modified the bill and he cites the modification as a betrayal. The News is unable to understand why any Government of Canada, Federal or Provincial, requires the assistance or advice of any Papal functionary or other foreign ecclesiastic in drafting legislation. But when that legislation is frankly unconstitutional in that it curbs the liberty and the rights of two Provinces, each great enough to support an Empire at ease, it is difficult to say which is the more objectionable, the assumption of the clericals or the complaisant genuflections of the Prime Minister.

RURAL SCHOOLS IN QUEBEC.

The Journal of Agriculture says the school has apparently lost its interest for the great majority of parents in Quebec. These parents are, it is said, quite content to leave the education of their children to young and inexperienced teachers, teachers so poorly paid that stenographers in business offices receive nearly double the salaries that are paid to teachers There is, it is further said, a lack of pride and enthusiasm in schools which is telling strongly against the quality of the work done therein.

Such a tendency cannot continue for any length of time, either in Quebec or any other Province, without having a most disastrous effect, not only on agriculture, but on the community as a whole. "Knowledge is power," and if those living on farms are not kept up to an equality in the matter of intelligence and general information with other classes of the community the agricultural interest must suffer. Not only that, but the community as a whole will be injured The maintenance of an efficient democratic system of Government depends upon the intelligence and independence of the community in which it exists. In urban communities in Canada we are developing a system under which there are a few corporations with an army of employees. Complete independence of political action on the part of such employees is impossible. On the farm, on the other hand, where individual ownership still prevails, such independence is possible But this independence will be of little effect unless a high grade of intelligence goes with it. The school, as the means of maintaining that standard, should be the first care of the people.

Like all Catholic countries, Quebec is away behind in the matter of education. It is to be hoped that an awakening will soon take place.

REFUSE TO BE ENUMERATED

Nelson, B. C., July 20.—The action of 1,600 Doukhobors of the colony at Brilliant, in refusing to be enumerated in the census, is the first vagary exhibited by these people since coming to British Columbia from the prairie. As a matter of fact, while the Doukhobors were not welcomed in the Kootenay, it cannot be denied that they enjoy a very different name here from that which they appeared to earn in Saskatchewan. Their holdings amount to probably 10,000 acres of fruit land, at Grand Forks, and at points along the Columbia and Kootenay rivers near their junction, and these holdings, which are equal to 1,000 ranch tracts of 10 acres, are the most scientifically developed fruit tracts in the province. In the irrigated district of Grand Forks they irrigate, and the Columbia and Kootenay river bench lands near Nelson, which do not require irrigation, they are clearing and planting to fruit on an enormous scale. They have the largest acreage of grapes at Brilliant anywhere in the Nelson district. Everything they do is done in a business way and in the best way, and when their young orchards come into bearing, they will have a tremendous output. They are extensive apiarists, they operate sawmills, and they recently purchased a preserving works at Nelson, and now operate it. No case of crime has ever been attributed to them. If their projected school is built at Brilliant this season they already have a hospital—the only objection the Nelson and District Canadian Club has raised in regard to them will be overcome. The census trouble was brewing for some days before A. B. Docksteader, census commissioner for the Kootenay and Boundary, felt it necessary to get instructions from Ottawa. The Grand Forks colony was enumerated without trouble. With the Kootenay Doukhobors, however, after 500 had been enumerated, an aged firebrand, made a stand for his rights, and the whole matter was off. A fear that Peter Verigen whose hold on the Doukhobors here is far from absolute has designs to entrap them into military service, is supposed to explain the stand taken.

Will provide you with an income that will make you independent for life.

Begin ri ht now---do something fo r yourself. Provide for a time when your earning capacity will be reduced to a minimum. You can make a start by purcha-ing one or two shares.

Our booklet beautifully illustrated, tells the story--contains interesting facts regarding the Grape Fruit Industry.

The figures are startling but true

When three years old grape-fruit trees begin to bear, the crop continues to increase until the seventh year when the average amounts to between seven and twenty boxes of fruit. Grape-Fruit is usually sold on the trees at a price ranging not less than $1.00 per box. On the Manhattan Estates we will have a grove of over 40,000 trees, and our yearly crop, once maturity is reached, should average 280,000 crates annually. Between the trees we intend cultivating tobacco and pineapples from which a substantial profit will be realized within one year from the time of planting. The British-owned Western Railways run through the Estates, insuring splendid shipping facilities. The officers and directors of this company have implicit faith in this enterprise, and have agreed that no one shall receive one cent of salary until after 25 per cent. dividends have been earned and declared. They are quite willing to wait for their dividends, knowing that their investments will amply repay them.

One Hundred Dollars is enough to insure ease and comfort. Why not inqure today about our special offer.

AN INVESTMENT NOT A SPECULATION

What everybody with an ounce of common sense is on the alert for these days is a sound INVESTMENT and there is as much difference between an investment and a speculation as there is between London and Hong-Kong, although we all don't realize this.

• • • •

Consequently when one takes a chance on a speculative proposition, mistaking it as an investment and comes out of the small end of the horn, he becomes pessimistic and with the tightening of his purse strings to extremes to keep the pennies in just naturally shuts the dollars out.

• • • •

Now then if there were no investors there would be no progress, and with no progress the community would mighty soon become stagnant.

• • • •

The foundation of America, was old Christopher Columbus, he had an idea but was short on ready cash, in other words he was what us modern day folks call a promoter. His idea was feasible, he found co-operation, his plans carried and YOU KNOW THE REST.

• • • •

Like Columbus we are all Pioneers. Not out for our health, but to make money. No man ever saved more than a competence on a salary; few do that. To get a footing on "Easy Street" you have to invest. DOLLARS don't grow in your pockets or in a stocking. They must be put to work. Old Russell Sage said:

"Plant a few in a new country and see how fast they grow."

That's what we are trying to impress on you now and here is the biggest opportunity of this kind that is likely to knock at your door.

• • • •

We are the Pioneers of the fruit and vegetable canning enterprise in the Okanagan Valley and earnestly invite you to co-operate with us.

• • • •

Men at the head of affairs of this corporation are the best known and most highly esteemed gentlemen in British Columbia.

• • • •

Mr. Albert McKillop, our President, has a world wide reputation in the Timber and Timber Land World. (See R. G. Dunn).

• • • •

Mr. Wesley A. Blair, our Secretary and Treasurer, is also Cashier of the Canadian Customs, being the Government's most trusted employee. He handles on an average of $30,000.00 every commercial day of the year, and it was his fertile mind that first saw the possibilities of Canneries on the Coast, in-as-much as tens of thousands of dollars duty pass through his hands for American goods yearly. Bear in mind that there is a 2½c per pound duty on all canned stuff and RECIPROCITY or no RECIPROCITY that will stand.

• • • •

Remember we belong to no combine, have no opposition, and are pioneers in this field.

• • • •

Just think of it, The Dominion Fruit Canners cleared $400,000 last year, approximately 51 per cent. What's going to prevent the Okanagan Canners Ltd., from doing the same.

• • • •

It's a matter of record that the Kelowna district—site of our Cannery—proved positively at all the recent fruit shows that the Okanagan valley is the greatest fruit producing country in the world.

• • • •

Now, then, be up and thinking.

• • • •

We are incorporated for only $100,000.

• • • •

We are only going to let 60,000 shares out of our treasury.

• • • •

Not one of our shares has gone for promotion purposes, every share being represented by its equivalent.

• • • •

We have no salaried officials, in fact no leakages of any kind.

• • • •

A Premium of 25 per cent. will be put on this stock as soon as our cannery at Kelowna is completed, which will be at an early date, as we will handle this year's crop.

• • • •

You undoubtedly have stood silently aside and seen other opportunities vanish that your neighbor has grasped and is now realizing handsomely on and term him lucky.

• • • •

It's not luck, but JUDGMENT when opportunities like this present themselves and one takes advantage of them.

• • • •

Our land is bought and paid for, and we hold a receipt in full for our wharf for Cannery No. 1, which is completed at Kelowna.

• • • •

Although capitalized at $100,000, divided into 100,000 shares at one dollar each, we are going to offer for public subscription but 60,000 shares, and the remainder will positively stay in the treasury.

• • • •

This is a gilt-edge bona fide, conservative investment and it is not reasonable to believe will be on the market long, consequently act NOW before it is too late.

• • • •

Terms of purchasing securities are one dollar per share; 25 per cent. cash, balance, two, four and six months without interest.

BY-LAW NUMBER 1555

A By-law to fix the assessment of The Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company (Limited).

Passed the third day of October, 1910.

Whereas The Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company (Limited) has represented to the Council of the City of Peterborough that it is the only manufacturing concern in the City of Peterborough engaged in the manufacture of locks and other articles manufactured by it, and has to compete with manufacturers in the same line of business in other places who have received and are enjoying Municipal assistance, making it difficult for the said Company to meet such competition, and has applied to the Council for a fixed assessment on the real estate, plant and business assessment of the said Company in the City of Peterborough at the sum of $25,000, and the said Council has agreed thereto and to pass this By-Law for that purpose, subject to the confirmation thereof by the Legislature.

The Corporation of the City of Peterborough, by the Council thereof, therefore enacts as follows:—

1. This By-Law shall take effect upon and only upon the confirmation thereof by the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario, and upon the said Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company (Limited), executing an agreement not to oppose the construction of any work as a local improvement abutting or fronting on, or the cost or part of the cost of which might be assessed or charged against the property in Section 2 hereof described, or any part thereof, that the said Council may desire to construct under the provisions of the Municipal Act relating to local improvements.

2. The assessment of the following lands in the City of Peterborough owned, occupied and used by The Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company (Limited) and being Lot Number Four north of Simcoe Street and west of George Street, and that part of Lot Number Three north of Simcoe Street and west of George Street described as follows:—Commencing on the western limit of the said Lot Number Three, at a point seventy-seven feet six inches north from the south-west angle thereof; thence northerly along the said western limit of the said lot to the northern limit thereof; thence easterly along said northern limit eighteen feet; thence south and parallel to the western limit of said lot to a point seventy-seven feet six inches north of said Simcoe Street; thence westerly and parallel to the southern limit of the said lot to the place of beginning while used exclusively for the manufacturing purposes of the Company, or the part so used for such manufacturing purposes, and the buildings, plant, machinery and fixtures thereon, and the business assessment there of on which taxes are to be levied, shall be fixed and remain fixed while the same are so used, and while at least an average of one hundred hands are employed therein for at least ten months of each year, at the sum of $25,000 for a period of ten years from the first day of January, 1911, and the return and oath of the assessor or assessors in respect thereof shall be amended accordingly, but the same shall, for school purposes, be and remain liable to assessment and the payment of school taxes and rates to as full an extent as if this By-Law had not been passed, and the assessment for school purposes and the school rates and taxes shall be made, levied and collected thereon in accordance with the provisions of the general law in that behalf, and the said lands shall also be liable for all frontage and local improvement assessments, rates and taxes that are now or may hereafter be charged against the same, and any buildings on the said lands not used exclusively for the business of the Company, and the land appurtenant to same shall not be included in the fixed assessment hereunder, but such buildings and land, while not used as aforesaid, shall be assessed as provided by the Assessment Act then in force; provided, however, that if the said Company shall at any time within the said term of ten years fail or neglect to operate and carry on the said manufacturing establishment substantially to the capacity thereof, and therein to employ at least an average of one hundred hands during at least ten months in each year, then such fixed assessment shall cease, and the taxes and rates on the said lands, buildings, plant, machinery and fixtures and on the business assessment thereof shall be and become payable to the same amount and in the same manner as if this By-Law had not been passed; provided always that if the failure to carry on the said business is due to strikes or destruction of the buildings, plant, machinery or fixtures by fire or tempest, the time during which the said business shall so cease to be carried on in consequence of such strikes, or destruction of the buildings, plant, machinery or fixtures (not exceeding in either case one year) shall not be taken as a failure or neglect to carry on the said business, so as to disentitle the said Company to such fixed assessment.

3. The said Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company (Limited) shall, prior to the first day of March in each year, file with the City Clerk a statutory declaration, made by an officer of the Company, who shall therein state his knowledge of the facts, proving that the said Company has complied with and is observing all the terms, conditions and provisions of this By-Law, and on the neglect of the said Company to furnish such declaration it shall be prima facie taken that such terms, conditions and provisions have not been performed, observed and kept, and the said fixed assessment shall cease, and the taxes and rates shall be and become payable to the same amount and in the same manner as if this By-Law had not been passed.

THE CORPORATION OF THE CITY OF PETERBOROUGH, BY THE COUNCIL THEREOF THEREFORE ENACTS AS FOLLOWS:—

SELF-DEPRECIATION NOT ALWAYS GENUINE.

Partakes of the same Character as Self-Assumption.

Self-depreciation partakes of the same character as self-assumption Both come from over-thought of self, and both vanish when self is merged in something else. Just as soon as we are earnestly anxious for some result we begin to work for it, without stopping to gauge our powers or to think anything at all about them. The mother who ardently loves her child and desires his best good does not spend her time in bewailing her unfitness to take care of him. She begins at once, and does her best, and her power grows with every effort. The business man with a family depending upon him does not delay providing for the members because he distrusts his ability to do so; he forgets to consider that, and simply pursues his work as well as he can. So in every instance, if the self-depreciative will cease thinking about themselves at all, and devote all their thought and energy to the duty in hand, they will find their strength and fitness for the work grow with exercise, and the fears which have stood in the way of success will melt away.

THE CANADIAN FLAG

How One Mother Teaches Patriotism To Her Boy.

Here is an excellent plan tried by one mother for teaching patriotism and a high regard for his country's flag, and an equally high regard for truth and square dealing, to her small son. In this boy's room a Canadian flag hangs on one wall, serving as the principal decoration of the room.

But sometimes the flag does not hang in its accustomed place — now and then the flag comes down from the wall and is furled and carried into mother's room, for, says this mother to her small boy, "The cross of St. George is not to shield and protect and wave over any but the brave and true," therefore when a boy strikes a smaller boy, or when he misrepresents things or shields himself at the unjust expense of one of his playmates, when boyish arguments and quarrels arise, the flag comes down.

Not very often is it away from its accustomed place on the wall of the boy's room, the occasions are growing more and more infrequent.

Why Irish Millionnaires Are Scarce

In a classification of millionnaires by nationalities it will be found that Irishmen are very far down on the list. Why this should be so may seem hard to understand at first. The Irishman, generally speaking, possess more than average intelligence.

He is an excellent workman and a capable business man. But the fact remains that he rarely becomes a millionaire.

The Rev. Francis X. McCabe, President of a great university, has offered an interesting solution. He says the fault, if it can be called a fault, is in the Irishman's heart, not in his brain or business acumen. The Irishman is so generous toward his fellow man that he has little chance to accumulate millions for himself.

'Irish generosity is a bar to the Irish millionnaire' is the way that President McCabe puts it. That is why there are not nearly so many millionnaire Irishmen as there are millionnaires of other individual nationalities.

"The Irish are always looking on the bright side of things to come, not only for themselves but for others as well. They have carried with them always a spirit of optimism. They are, moreover ,a people of deep religious convictions and faith. They have done an important work in the building up of the civilization of the world.'

And, after all has been said and done, this may be better than becoming more millionnaires.

Verdi Played Many Hours

It is related of Verdi that in early youth he went to the instrument at all hours, early and late, playing scales and discovering chords and harmonious combinations. Sometimes he would forget or lose one of his favourite chords, and then there was an outburst of genuine native passion which was quite contrary to his usually quiet demeanor. Once, when labouring under one of these fits of temper, he seized a hammer and began to hit the keyboard with it. His father, attracted by the noise, rushed in and by administering prompt chastisement, stopped further efforts of a similar sort in the direction of piano hammering.

Coops in Fields for Babies.

That necessity is the mother of invention is shown by the hundreds of little buildings resembling chicken coops which are scattered over the wheat fields of Weld county to provide daytime homes for the babies of the Russians who work in the wheat fields.

The Russian mothers are obliged to take their babies to the fields and have built these little structures of wood, covering them with canvas. At noon and once in the morning and in the afternoon the mothers visit their children, leaving them alone for the remainder of the day.

The youngsters are apparently contented and remain in their little coops without a cry, gazing through the slats at the passerby.

When they begin to study elocution they're never happy until they learn to recite, "Curfew Shall Not Ring To-night."

The man who gets away with it is the man who lies clumsily to his wife about little things. She never suspects him of the big ones.

DANGER OF CHOLERA IN AMERICAN CONTINENT.

Washington, July 17.—That there was a grave danger of Asiatic cholera gaining a foothold in this country, was the opinion expressed by Surgeon-General Walter Wyman, of the Public Health and Marine Hospital Service to-day.

"I am not an alarmist, but I cannot deny that there is imminent danger," he said. "We are doing everything in our power, but there is a chance that the cholera may spread despite our efforts."

Several more marine hospital experts were sent to New York to-day to aid in the cholera work there.

'Good-for-Nothing Posts.'

In the North-western Chinese province of Kansu there are great stretches of entirely unoccupied barren land. For the guidance of travellers the Government has set up posts in these districts, with directions as to the road painted on them. Lanterns are hung on the posts at night, with characters telling the way. Lanterns and posts are alike of the poorest material, otherwise they would be stolen, but little worth though they be ('good-for-nothing posts' the posts are called) they serve their purpose; they guide the wayfarer. The Chinese have a happy eye for the picturesque. 'I am a good-for-nothing post,' said a Chinese Christian doctor at a Christian conference in Honan, 'but in my dispensary I have been enabled to point many the way to heaven.

Managerial Unreasonableness

A curious effect which the constant repetition of one part has upon an actor is that after playing it for a great length of time, he is apt to forget his lines and take up wrong cues. A story is told of an English performer who, after playing the part for a very long time, forgot his lines one night. "It's very strange," said the stage-manager when the actor came off, "that you are not perfect in that part by this time. You have been playing it for two hundred nights." "Well," said the actor, "can you expect me to remember it ever?"

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. PROPOSING TO A GIRL.

German Professor Gives Statistics About the Gentle Art.

A German calculator says that 36 per cent of the suitors press the hand of the fair one, 24 per cent conclude their avowal with an embrace, 4 per cent kiss the hair, 2 per cent kiss the hand, 2 per cent fall on their knees, and 20 per cent are so nervous that they feel a lump in the throat which they find almost prevents speech.

Ten per cent of the men are so overcome that they cannot speak at all, but open and shut their mouths without producing a sound, and 2 per cent make their proposals standing one foot.

As regards the women, 60 per cent sink helpless into the lover's arms, 20 per cent blush and hide their faces, 1 per cent faint away, 4 per cent are genuinely amazed, 14 per cent gaze silently into the suitor's eyes, and 1 per cent run away to tell a girl friend.

The great statistician, however, omits to tell us how he obtained his figures.

HOUSE NUMBERS.

Germans Started the System in Berlin.

Before the advent of the house number, only business signs, coats of arms, and house names marked the different buildings. Then, in London, for instance, one had to look for Mr. Jones, should he desire to call upon that man, in, say, "Whitechapel, not far from the Blue Boar."

It is thought Berlin, in 1795, was the first city to employ the numbering system. The German innovators did not put odd numbers on one side of their streets and even numbers on the other; they merely started from the Brandenburg Gate and numbered straight ahead, taking no account of change of street.

As they proceeded, therefore, the numbers grew higher, the height to which they attained being limited only by the supply of houses. The first house they numbered was number one, the last the number that betokened the total number of houses in the city.

QUEEN MARY FROWNS.

Order about Hobble Skirts was Disobeyed.

Queen Mary's order about hobble skirts was disobeyed at the two courts by all except the actual court ladies. All the rest wore tight skirts, but their trains covered them. They say they didn't see why they should make themselves unfashionable because the queen herself is abnormally large around the hips and unsuited to tight dresses.

Nevertheless everyone was staggered by the costume of the Marchioness de la Vill Urrutia, the wife of the Spanish ambassador. Her dress was so tight that her whole figure was sharply outlined and she had great difficulty in walking. As she belongs to the diplomatic circle she is independent of the queen's wishes and fortunately had no courtesy to make with consequences which might have been indescribable.

The queen only smiled when she saw her trouble and seemed wholly obvious of how her order was generally obeyed. Indeed, the queen was the surprise of the court, she was so smiling and bright, with a word for everybody.

BUY

ROYAL PORCUPINE

Quoted at 32 to 33 Cents

The stock of the Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co., we believe, will prove to be one of the greatest money makers in the wonderful Porcupine district.

Every day brings forth further evidence that the Porcupine Camp is destined to become the richest gold region in the world, and Royal Porcupine should soon take its place at the head of the great producing mines in this section.

Porcupine has the indorsement of the world's greatest authorities in gold mining, who concur in the opinion that never before have such rich showings been seen covering so great an area.

The Property

is located in the township of Tisdale and consists of eight full claims, embracing 320 acres. It is particularly well located, being only one-quarter mile south of the Porcupine Gold Mines, Ltd., and one-half mile south of the Hollinger mine, for which it is claimed there is $10,000,000 in sight. Engineers report that the Royal Porcupine property is in the famous ore zone, being on the same ledge as Hollinger and having the same formation.

A telegram from the engineer in charge of the property bears out this statement. It is as follows:—

"Porcupine, Ont., June 19, 1911.

"Vein uncovered twelve feet in width. Excellent ore body. Shaft being sunk on this vein. Property in every way most favorable.

(Signed) "JULIUS MESSER, M. E.,
"Engineer in charge of property."

Thirty men are now employed, and work on the shaft will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Four veins, varying from 12 to 100 feet in width, have already been uncovered. Assays have been made which show $50 a ton.

Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co.

is capitalized for $3,000,000; par value of shares $1.00. Full paid and non-assessable. No personal liability.

A glance at the list of directors will show the class of men who are putting in their money and time to make this one of the greatest mines in the Porcupine Camp. The directors are:—

JAMES HENDRY,
Peterboro, Ontario; ex-Member of Parliament. President Auburn Woollen Mills.

T. E. BRADBURN,
Member Parliament, Peterboro, Ontario; Private Banker.

ARCHIBALD L. ALLAN,
New York, Hiram Walker & Sons.

SYDNEY BERNHEIM,
New York, Bernheim & Loewenthal, Counsellors at Law.

JACOB RAPOPORT,
New York, Jacob Rapoport & Co., Merchants.

HAMILTON KILGOUR,
New York and London, England, Mining Engineer.

WARREN N. AKERS,
Wilmington, Del.

Remember, that our judgment on Hollinger, Dome Extension and Vipond was correct, and we believe that Royal Porcupine will prove one of our best investments.

The Hollinger stock was originally offered at $3.50 and now sells at around $15.50, and Dome Extension was first offered at 40c., and now sells at around $5.

Royal Porcupine stock may be purchased through any member of the New York Curb Association, or we will be glad to execute your orders.

PASSING OF THE CLOWN.

Perriots and the Huge Three-Ring Circus the Cause.

Mr. Alfred Miaco of the circus deplores the passing of the clown.

This is largely the observation of the European-bred artist. Strictly speaking, while we have developed many clowns, they have been clowns mostly in an invidious sense. Miaco, with the training to qualify him as a legitimate actor, in less distracted surroundings would give us finished pantomime in rare play with the eyes and hands.

Continental Europe has its perriots who are public idols. Plays are written for them and composers of standing write their incidental music.

Of men like these, England's Grimaldi was famous. George Caron, the last of a long line of clowns and the funniest of them all, died a few years ago at the height of his career.

While these instances are of the theatre rather than of the circus, the school which developed Miaco did not take into calculations three rings and a jumble of changing sights. The clown held the centre and was the mainstay of the entertainment. For him to have to be dependent upon sudden collapse under the weight of a slap stick would have been the sign of the passing of art.

Gold That Is in the Sea.

Apart from the treasures which find their way to the bottom of the sea, and occasionally come to light again, there is more gold in the sea than has ever been coined into money. Such, at all events, is the opinion of Prof. Wilde, of Brussels' University. All sea water contains a certain amount of gold, in the proportion of about one grain to each ton of water. Reckoning the total weight of all the oceans at the very moderate figure of 1,000,000,000 tons, Prof. Wilde estimates that they would yield gold to nearly a hundred thousand times as much as

Why, bless you! you can bathe in gold.

Thuh Americans Don't Care for Pantomine.

A story from the Folies Bergere has to do with Sig. Curti, the imported ballet master, who spent half an hour trying to drill into the walnut head of a chorus man a bit of pantomine. At last the chorus man said: "Aw, what's the odds? Thuh Americans don't care for Pantomine, anyhow." "It makes me think," said Curti, "of the old tenor. Broke, down and out, he had been sleeping in the livery stable for three months, when he suddenly got a chance to sing the role in which he had once been famous. La Scala at Milan was packed that night. He sang — most painfully — before that vast audience. At the end the audience hissed with drilled unanimity. 'Ahh!' said the old tenor, in the wings. 'Ees eet not painful? Zee Italian people, zey no longer care for Verdi.'"

Something from his Pen.

A new editor on a country newspaper called on a successful farmer in his vicinity, and assured the latter that the paper would gladly pay for something from his pen. The farmer promised to see what he could do, and the following week an expressman called at the publication office with a young pig, "C.O.D., $10."

WHY GO TO ALASKA TO INVEST IN OIL?

During the past month we have beenpresenting to the readers of The Morning Times, and the public in general, an offer which for SAFETY and CERTAINTY OF RESULTS in the form of DIVIDENDS and ENORMOUS PROFITS is well nigh UNPRECEDENTED.

In Southwest Colorado, in Mountezuma County, near Mancos, nature has placed RICH OIL FIELDS which promise to be the cause of the MOST STUPENDOUS BOOM COLORADO HAS HAD SINCE THE EARLY GOLD DAYS.

We own and control 8,500 acres of land in this section which experts assure us are positively gusher producing properties,

We have bought and paid for all the machinery necessary for drilling. We do not owe one cent. If you invest with us you have behind your investment not only enormous land values but machinery the value of which is fully $8,000.

For the ordinary investor this would be security enough but we have made the safest investment proposition that ever was offered, for, besides these rich Mancos Oil Fields we also own 2,560 acres in the proven oil field of San Juan, Utah; also 1,920 acres in the Great Montezuma District of Colorado, and fifty acres of rich mining ground in the La Plata District, for which we have been offered Ten Thousand Dollars spot cash.

Investments in the stock of our Company participate in the profits of all these properties. The Mancos Oil and Development Company promises to, and will give the public a "square deal." Every acre of oil land and mining property which it owns or will acquire belongs to its stockholders.

MR. BURT H. MASON, the president and organizer of the Company, is a mining engineer of enviable reputation the officers of the Company are well-known business men and bankers of Southwestern Colorado. If any misrepresentation has been made we guarantee to return every dollar you pay us and all expenses to which you may have been put for investigation.

The price of stock is Twenty-five Cents a share, which can be paid on monthly installments if desired. If further information be desired it will be cheerfully given.

QUEEN CHARLOTTE

The Capital City of the Islands

THE LAST WEST

The only town on Graham Island that has a monthly pay roll, and the only sawmill shipping lumber to foreign ports.

The only town having a railway gazetted to its very doors on the island.

The only city on Graham Island having electric light, city water, miles of sidewalks, churches, school, hospital, postoffice, first-class drug store billiard hall, city hall, hotels, boarding house, barber shop and other general stores, and the only newspaper published on the Island, the Queen Charlotte News.

We are positively the centre of all the vast wealth of the entire Islands, including farm lands, timber lands, coal and metalliferous mines. These products must come out at Queen Charlotte City, through the Honna River Valley, and through which the Island Railway must run according to charters already granted.

The combined townsite interests cover one thousand acres, of which five hundred are practically level alluvial soil with no rocks.

A fine water power from the Honna River, good drainage and the best harbor on the entire Islands.

Our lots are all 50 feet by 120 feet, ranging in price from $150 to $300; one-third cash, balance on time at 6 per cent., or deeds can be had at once if desired.

Fully 200,000 acres of farm lands, suitable for mixed farming, only await the hand of man, a large portion of which is already located.

The verdure clad mountains are vast treasure vaults of gold, copper, silver and other precious metals, while our valleys are underlaid with a wealth of the finest coal and covered with a vast forest of spruce, hemlock and yellow cedar. These, coupled with our fisheries, are at the very doors and within sight of Queen Charlotte City.

Taking all these facts into consideration, and with the present progress being made in developing our resources, which are at the gateways of transportation both by water and railway, with the advent of the completion of the Grand Trunk Railroad, Queen Charlotte City is destined to be one of the province's most prosperous cities.

It is owned largely by the wealthiest and most honorable men of our province, who would not be a party in misrepresenting facts and are prepared to endorse every statement herein made.

The townsite company are now offering a further 75 lots on Second avenue at a very low price and on easy terms, if taken at once, and under conditions that will make you a 100 per cent. on your investment in 90 days, for 20 per cent. of the gross proceeds will be used by letting a contract for the clearing and grading of Second avenue from Third street west. The company guarantees to advance the remaining 75 unsold lots on Second avenue from $150 to $225 as soon as the first 75 have been sold. The company is making this effort in order to join with the government in making Second avenue the trunk road through the townsite from the Wilson-Robinson coal fields, Honna River Valley, Lawn Hill and Miller Creek districts. Now you can secure any unsold lot on Second avenue, including fourteen in Keith's addition, to-day for $150, except corners, on easy terms, 1-4 cash, balance 6, 12 and 18 months at 6 per cent. This will positively be your last chance for a cheap lot in Queen Charlotte City, for every lot in the townsite will surely go from $500 to $1000 when the public realize that in the Island River railroad from Queen Charlotte to the head of Masset Inlet is to be started this summer, in addition to the present work already outlined, thus giving work to an army of men. There are at least 5000 citizens of Vancouver who have invested in the various resources of the islands. Conclusive evidence of these facts, a landscape drawing of the townsite and a portion of Graham Island coupled with an illustrated edition of the resources of the islands can be seen at the office of J. J. Miller, 52 Hastings street, Vancouver, B. C., Agent for Vancouver, and plans at office of "Times", Peterboro'.

HARD ON FATHER.

Croquet Season Is Opened Again and Papa Knows.

Again the croquet season is with us.

One notices it first when papa comes home from lodge. He slips in the side gate and walks across the lawn so as not to disturb the log. He weaves his way carefully toward the door where a light is dimly burning.

There is a slight touch on his right leg about four inches above his ankle. He doesn't notice it.

The next instant he is on his face, his nose investigating the intricacies of a flower bed, while with his other hand he upsets a stand full of flower pots.

"What in the lovely, chairming, pleasant and agreeable circumstances is this?" asks papa.

The dog bays a mournful answer to the moon. A window is opened and a sharp voice says:

"Come in the house, you fool, before you fall over another croquet wicket."

Then father knows the croquet season is on and he announces at breakfast next day that if Willie forgets to bring in the wickets at night he'll burn the darned outfit.

For the next few weeeks the boys and girls come over and plant their heels in the flower beds and play rover among the geraniums. In the evening, sometimes, pap will play a game with mamma just to square himself for the nights he goes to lodge.

NAVAL BATTLE WITH HORSES.

How 3000 Cowboys Captured the Spanish Fleet.

Paez, who was the first President of the Republic of Venezuela, was perhaps the only man who ever fought a naval battle on horseback. It is a matter of history that he, to whom more than any other man, apart from Simon Bolivar, Venezuela owes her independence, actually attacked and captured with his cavalry a fleet of ships.

Bolivar was endeavouring to cross the Apure River in the struggle for independence, but was prevented from doing so by some eight Spanish gunboats, which moved up and down the stream as he did. Bolivar was in despair for a while. To Paez, who was second in command, he appealed for counsel, saying that he could never cross the river so long as the Spanish gunboats were there. "If only we could capture them," the revolutionary leader observed, "the rest would be easy."

Paez decided that he would have those ships or die, and he accordingly told his regiment of cowboys to follow him. Paez himself had been a cowboy on the plains of the Orinoco, and was the idol of his men. So when he spurred his horse into the stream, calling on his men to follow, of the 3,000 cowboys and their mounts, which are taught to swim as well as to gallop, there was not a single man to hold out in this unique assault upon the gunboats. It being night, the Spanish fleet were taken quite unawares. The cowboys wriggled from their saddles to the decks of the vessels, letting their mounts swim back to shore. Having thus cut off their own retreat, it was a question of win or die. They fought well, and every gunboat was captured.

THE EDIBLE CRAB

Something of the Curious Life of This Half Fish Half Animal.

The edible crab is obliged to moult or cast off its shell many times during its life. This moulting appears to be an unpleasant ordeal to pass, for the crabs often die during the act. When we see that they are not only obliged to escape from the carapox or shell, but also from the hard covering of their legs, delicate mouth-parts, and even gullet — turning themselves inside out, as it were — it is not surprising that they perish during the ordeal. The crab crawls up into some secluded nook or cove in shallow water to moult, out of th way of its hard-shelled relatives, for the helpless, newly-moulted, or soft-shell crab, if found, is devoured by them, as well as by several species of fishes. Fortunately for the crab, the soft covering hardens rapidly, and in a few hours it has a new and strong armour, and it then goes fearlessly out into deep water.

Boosting.

Things may be coming your way but be careful that they do not come with such force as to carry you away with them. There are tides and tides. Some are natural, some are supernatural and some are dangerous, because they move with a force which is too strong for our character and will. "Beware of uncontrolable circumstances". This was an expression which first fell from the lips of Wellington. The editor of a periodical remarks: —

"Old salts, who are forever yarning about wrecks and their causes, have a theory that what is called a "boosting" sea accounts for more than one of the disasters that have occurred in the long history of shipping. A "boosting" sea is a sea that runs heavily after a steamer, and, if it does not actually "poop" the vessel, yet, by the roll of billow after billow, accelerates its speed to a degree unguessed by the navigator, until finally the ship, having unconsciously overrun its course, brings up upon a rock or hidden reef, and is reported at Lloyds' as "lost."

Monuments in Queer Places.

There are Monuments in all sorts of out-of-the-way places but one that is really unique is that erected in a river. It stands in the Parramatta River, New South Wales, a stream known the world over for the rowing events that have taken place upon it. This monument, which is in memory of the world-famed rower, Searle, is also unique from the fact that it has been used as the winning-post of the races for the world's championship, and is still used as such for local events.

The Emperor Gorges Himself.

The "Hoel Pao" says that an American doctor recently visited the palace at Peking to examine the baby Emperor, who, it was found, had gorged himself with a meal of swallows' nests (a sort of glutinous material), and thus provoked a raging thirst. The indisposition yielded easily to the doctor's treatment. The Emperor sleeps in a gigantic bed, big enough for six people! he rises at six, at once has a meal of rice-gruel or rice, and then goes to pay his respects to the Dowager Lung-yu.

A sculptor recently produced the likeness of a celebrated personage in whose biography it was mentioned that he regarded architecture as a very secondary art. The son of this personage visited the artist's studio for the purpose of examining the bust, when, after considering it with the air of a connoisseur, he inquired, "Could you not express more clearly his contempt for architecture?"

The heart of a man is divided into many compartments, mostly isolated. Sometimes there is a door between two of them, or even three may be joined together, but usually each one is complete in itself.

BAD FOR BARBERS.

Among the many suggestions made for commemorating the reign of King Edward VII., the quaintest is that now put forward by Captain Macilwaine, R. N. Captain Macilwaine's suggestion is that the men of the British Empire, following the example of the late King, should put their razors aside and proceed to grow beards. Our present King, sharing the views of his father, grows a beard, and makes his staffs do the same. The beard is the exception, not the rule, among men of the present day.

MASTERING A LION

What trainers have to do to gain Control.

In illustration of the lengths to which owners of wild beasts will go in order to retain control of them, Frank C. Bostock, the famous animal trainer, tells the following story:

"Some years ago, when we were at the Hippodrome in Paris, I decided, as a special attraction, to go into the arena with Wallace, a huge African lion that all our trainers had despaired of. The house was crowded. We placed the lion in a cage sixteen feet square, and this was put inside a twenty-foot ring. Two assistants were stationed in the outer ring in case of accident. I had scarcely got inside when the beast leaped at me. It bit right through my left hand, and with one blow ripped the flesh off my back.

"'Clear out!' I shouted to the two men in the outer ring. 'I'm going to open the doors and let him into the big arena.'

"I was as furious as the lion. My pride as a trainer was wounded deeper than my back. I flung open the doors and the lion sprang out. The blood was pouring from my wounds, but in the excitement of the moment I felt no pain — only a mad desire to be master. I picked up a 'property' chair, and when the beast came again I struck it full across the muzzle; then, seizing my whip, I actually became the aggressor and drove him back to the cage.

"The audience was in something like a panic, and loud cries of 'Enough! Enough!' were raised. But I hadn't finished. In ten minutes I had subjugated Wallace to such an extent that he cowered like a dog. I got out of the cage and just fainted away. From that day to this no one has attempted to teach Wallace."

Dogs.

Dogs were formerly indigenous to the indigent, but since the advent of dog licenses, whereby a dog, without a maid or a valet, is presumed to be guilty until it is proved innocent or shot, they have been grafted on family trees, with their own separate heraldry as substitutes for children, thereby furnishing considerable consolation for race suicide.

Dogs are divided into two great classes — pedigreed and verdigreed. Verdigreed are of two kinds — mad dogs and dogs. Pedigreed are of several kinds, chief among which are watch dogs and sheep-dogs. Watch-dogs are so called because they are small enough, and usually cranky enough, to be carried around in the place of watches by people who have plenty of time. Sheep-dogs are so called because they are led around by sheepish-looking people.

Those dogs are considered the handsomest by connoisseurs which look the ugliest to other people.

Challenge the Judge.

It was a case in an Irish court, and, the prisoner seeming hard to satisfy, juryman after juryman was asked to leave the box. However, all things come to an end, even in Ireland, and at last the swearing of the jury was completed. And then the prisoner leaned over the dock and sought the ear of his counsel.

"The jury's all right now, I think," he whispered; "but ye must challenge the judge. I've been convicted under him siviral times already, and maybe he's beginnin' to have a prejudice."

Sophistry of a Sophist.

A certain archbishop, when asked woman to misstate her age, replied: "A lie may be defined as a statement made by one rational being to another rational being, with the intent to deceive. Now, as no rational being would think of asking a woman her age with the expectation of being answered truthfully, one of the elements of the lie is lacking, and the woman's statement cannot, strictly speaking, be defined as such."

Australia has Tallest Tree.

Australia claims to have the tallest tree in the world. It has long been thought that to California belongs this distinction, but, while California trees are of gigantic dimensions, they do not come up to Australia's eucalyptus trees. The Californians are noted not so much for their height as for their girth and diameter. The tallest tree in California yet discovered was found by actual measurement to be 340ft high Australia's record gum tree can beat this by 140ft.

Not Gratifying.

Some one sent the manuscript of a story to a literary friend, with the request that he would criticise it. The friend returned it, with the following note:

"My dear Blank: Your book contains much that is both new and good; but what is new is not good, and what is good is not new."

It is wicked for us to go about with faces which indicate that life has been a disappointment to us instead of a glorious joy. It shows that we have missed the real object of living, that we have never caught a glimpse of the realities of life, but that we are living in the shadows, in the gloom instead of the sunshine of reality, of truth, of beauty. It indicates that we have not even caught a glimpse of the real glory of life.

Work for Women.

If the harem of Abdul Hamid finds itself out of employment because of the misfortunes of its imperial master, the ladies thereof will find plenty to do in this country where, thanks to a sudden famine in domestic servants, most of us are doing our own housework.

The worst of country society or for the matter of that the society of any community, is that every woman is eligible, but only a man here and there.

BY-LAW NUMBER 1539

A By-Law to fix the assessment of Messrs. B. F. Ackerman, Son & Company.

Passed the 6th day of June, 1910.

Whereas Messrs. B. F. Ackerman, Son & Company have represented to the Council of the City of Peterborough that they propose, if they are granted a fixed assessment on their real estate in the City of Peterborough hereinafter mentioned, that they will purchase an additional fifty feet of land adjoining on the north of their present property at the corner of George and Dalhousie Streets, in the City of Peterborough, and will expend at least the sum of $8,000 in building thereon an addition to their present factory sufficiently large to enable them to employ from fifty to seventy-five additional employees.

And whereas the said firm are manufacturers of harness, horse collars, horse clothing and other articles of a like nature, and are the only manufacturing concern in the City in this line, and the Council of the said City has agreed to pass this By-Law for the purpose of granting such fixed assessment, subject to the confirmation thereof by the Legislature.

The Corporation of the City of Peterborough, by the Council thereof, therefore enacts as follows :—

1. This By-Law shall take effect upon and only upon the confirmation thereof by the Legislature of the Province of Ontario, and upon Messrs. B. F. Ackerman, Son & Company executing an undertaking, agreeing not to oppose the construction of any sewers or sidewalks, as local improvements, abutting or fronting on the property in Section 2 hereof mentioned, or any part thereof, that the Council may desire to construct under the provisions of The Municipal Act relating to local improvements.

2. Provided the said firm of B. F. Ackerman, Son & Company shall become the owners in fee simple of all the land hereinafter mentioned, and shall, on or before the First day of December, 1910, have expended at least the sum of $8,000 in erecting an addition to their present manufacturing establishment in the City of Peterborough, situated at the corner of George and Dalhousie Streets, sufficiently large to enable the said firm to employ from fifty to seventy-five additional employees, the assessment of said land being that part of Lot Number One north of Dalhousie Street and west of George Street, in the said City of Peterborough, described as follows, namely : commencing at the south-east angle of said Lot Number One, thence northerly along the eastern limit of said lot one hundred and thirty feet, thence westerly parallel with the southern limit of said lot one hundred and seventy-one feet more or less to a lane, thence southerly parallel with the eastern limit of said lot one hundred and thirty feet to the southern limit of said lot, and thence easterly along said southern limit one hundred and seventy-one feet more or less to the place of beginning, while used exclusively for manufacturing purposes, or the part so used for manufacturing purposes, and the buildings, plant, machinery and fixtures thereon, and the business assessment thereof on which taxes are to be levied, shall be fixed, and remain fixed, while the same are so used at the sum of fifteen thousand dollars for a period of ten years from the first day of January, 1911, and the return and oath of the assessor or assessors in respect thereof shall be amended accordingly, but the same shall, for school purposes, be and remain liable to assessment and the payment of school taxes and rates to as full an extent as if this By-law had not been passed, and the assessment for school purposes and the school rates and taxes shall be made, levied and collected thereon in accordance with the provisions of the general law in that behalf, and the said lands shall also be liable for all frontage and local improvement assessment, rates and taxes that may be charged against the same, and any dwellings erected on the said lands, and the land appurtenant to any said dwellings shall not be included in the fixed assessment hereunder, but such dwellings and land, while used as such, shall be assessed as provided by The Assessment Act then in force ; provided, however, that if the said B. F. Ackerman, Son & Company, shall at any time within the said term of ten years fail or neglect to operate and carry on the said manufacturing establishment substantially to its capacity during at least ten months in any year, then such fixed assessment shall cease, and the taxes, rent and rates on said lands, buildings, plant, machinery and fixtures, and the business assessment thereof shall be the same as if this By-Law had not been passed ; provided always that if the failure to carry on said business is due to strikes or to the destruction of the said buildings, plant, machinery or fixtures by fire or tempest, the time during which the said business shall so cease to be carried on in consequence of such strikes or destruction of the buildings, plant, machinery or fixtures (not exceeding in either case one year), shall not be taken as a failure or neglect to carry on the said business so as to disentitle the said firm to such fixed assessment.

Mayor.

(Sgd.) S. R. ARMSTRONG,
Clerk.

Football.

Football is taking a hold in Ottawa, according to sports there, but it is not quite the same as the soccer of the old land, being played under the O.F.A. rules, which are slightly different in some respects. A noticeable instance is the penalty kick rule. In Peterboro, where the majority of players are Englishmen, the game will never be popular unless the O.F.A. rules are adopted. Canadians will not play under the English rules, and as they are in the majority, any change which is to be made must be towards the Canadian rules, if the game is to attain general popularity in this country. The game is rapidly growing in popularity all over the United States and Canada. Many of the universities play, but not in accordance with the English rules. The game should be popular, calling as it does good clean athletes to its service.

VOL XXXIV NO. 27 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, SATURDAY JULY 22 1911. PRICE TWO CENTS

RECIPROCITY WILL PASS THE U. S. SENATE TODAY BY VOTE OF TWO TO ONE

FINAL ADOPTION OF THE TRADE AGREEMENT WITH CANADA WILL COME TO-DAY.

Recent Canvas Shows Measure is Not in Any Danger, But Will Pass With Large Majority.

Washington, July 21.—Certain as they can be of anything that has not happened, friends and foes of the Canadian reciprocity alike to-day predict the passage of the pact to-morrow in the form in which it came from the House.

"I have made a recent canvas," said Chairman Penrose (Republican, Pennsylvania), of the Finance Committee to-day, "but my statement, based on a previous count, still stands. The vote will be approximately two to one in favor of the measure."

Senator Stone (Dem., Mo.), who favors the agreement, said the vote would be in the proportion of 57 to 34.

"The passage of the bill is beyond question," said Senator Bristow (Republican, Kansas), a progressive. "All the Democrats except four or five and 45 per cent of the Republicans, will vote for the bill."

The judgment of Senator McCumber (Republican, N.D.), one of the most aggressive opponents of the bill, was that the measure would go through by a vote of nearly 2 to 1.

The final day of the debate on reciprocity to-day opened with fifty-eight Senators present. An amendment by Senator Townsend (Republican, Michigan), for a deep waterway between the great lakes and the St. Lawrence River, was rejected.

Vigorous opposition to the agreement was expressed by Senators Crawford (Republican, S.D.), and La-follette (Republican, Wis.).

HOT STUFF FROM THE CATHOLIC REGISTER

The Toronto Presbyterians are happy at last. They have now a real bogus priest, who mimics the Catholic ceremonial and gives his evangelical supporters a big dose of "Popish superstition." They will stand for it all and cheerfully put up their money if by this means they can win a few souls away from Rome. A great comedy truly this soul-snatching enterprise of the Presbyterian Home Mission Society. Even Dr. Maclaren's experience with bogus priests has not taught them wisdom. We are more than willing to sit down quietly and watch and wait.

• • • •

After a year's study of the Catholic Church, the Rev. Dr. Hincks, of the Broadway Tabernacle, Toronto, has come to the conclusion that we are a bad lot; at least that is what he told an Orange audience in a sermon on Sunday last. We are separators and disintegrators. We separate the babies by baptism, the children by our schools, the sick by our hospitals the amorously inclined by our drastic marriage legislation and even in death our theology insists on separating the sheep from the goats. In contradistinction to all this Orangeism unites—in fact, it is the original uniter, when it comes to adhering to a political position. It does not give a button for baptism, aversion to water being one of its salient characteristics. It loves the public school because the educational machinery can be turned to private profit, and even the supply department of the public hospital affords an occasional opportunity for a pius grab. Then, too, the Orange preacher will unite anything in marriage or bury anything. Provided the fee be forthcoming, little things like religious scruples can be brushed aside and the mantle of Orange charity will cover it all. We are broader, however, than the doctor would have his hearers believe. We even go so far as to cherish the secret hope that not all the clerical prevaricators will be damned in the life beyond the grave. The Church holds out a single ray of hope to Dr. Hincks and his Orange confreres. Invincible ignorance will no doubt save them from being numbered among the goats.

• • • •

The expected Twelfth of July fracas did not materialize at Hull, P.Q., though many Orangemen from the surrounding country, fully "prepared for trouble." In other words they went there looking for a fight; but respect for law and order in that Catholic community prevailed over hoodlumism and prevented the celebration from being converted into a tragedy. To the credit of the Orange men, let it be said that they remained sober; and peaceful Catholic citizens were willing that they should march and talk themselves hoarse, so long as they behaved themselves on the public streets. Altogether it was a case where good Canadian commonsense and the increasing spirit of religious tolerance prevailed over sectarian bigotry and non-sectarian booze.

• • • •

"This man gets my goat," said the Rev. Edgar Allen, of Hamilton, in a twelfth of July attack on the inoffensive editor of the Toronto Globe. The slangy evangelist neglected to inform his hearers as to the age, sex or general characteristics of the aforesaid "goat." If our surmise be correct, the animal, when found, will be of the male persuasion, with whiskers a la Sproule, a pronounced odor and a taste for garbage, that reflects credit upon his liege lord and master. Will the Globe kindly produce the quadruped and permit the heavenly twins to dwell together in goat-like peace.

• • • •

We fail to understand why getting drunk and telling lies about the Pope and the Catholic Church in general on July 12th can bolster up the cause of loyalty to an Empire of which the broadest religious toleration is the corner-stone.

• • • •

The morning after the Twelfth, the Old Church was going right ahead just as if nothing had happened. Strange, ain't it?

TORONTO MAN IN SECOND PLACE

At the End of the Second Stage He Is But One Point Behind the High Man.

Bisley Camp., July 21.—The second stage of the King's prize was shot off here to-day, and at its completion Lance-Corp. J. Trainor of the Royal Canadian Regiment, Toronto, was one point behind Garrod of the Officers' Training Corps, Oxford. Trainor was leading until the final target of the second stage, when Garrod made a possible.

Garrod wins the silver medal, having made 98 in the first stage and 95 in the second, a total of 193, against Trainor's 101 and 91, a total of 192. The medal along with the National Rifle Association silver badge was a special prize for the competitor making the highest aggregate in the first two stages.

The Engineer's Report May Be Unfavorable to Civic Plant

LAKEFIELD POWER PROJECT IS NOW BEING IN-VESTIGATED

The Times has learned from a semi-official source that the estimates now being prepared by the city's expert in regard to the cost of a municipal power plant is likely to be adverse. This has reference to the proposal to purchase the Lakefield water power from the Dickson Company, for which $200,000 is being asked. That Mr. Holgate, who is reported to have joined the Cedar Rapids Power Company, (which is said to control the Seymour Company), is the best man that could have been selected to make a report, is exceedingly doubtful. No engineer interested in the remotest degree in a rival concern should have been selected by the city for so important a task. If his report is against the creation of a municipal plant, as is reported, it will be no surprise to many who claim to know about and understand the situation.

The Montreal Witness says that a colossal electric merger has been formed. This merger will practically control all the electric power of the Province, including the St. Lawrence River. If the city is to go into municipal power, it must be advised by experts who are not identified with any existing or prospective power combination. In the meantime we will only have to await development.

FATHER MINEHAN REPUDIATES ALL CHARGES MADE BY ATLAS

Toronto, July 21.—Rev. Father Minehan has repudiated entirely the charges made against him by Rev. George M. Atlas, as the Missionary to the Bulgarians of this city, who was released from Kingston Penitentiary on Wednesday.

Mr. Atlas, in his statements to The News, following his arrival home, accused the Catholic priest, of manipulating witnesses to secure a conviction. The objects of such tactics, according to Mr. Atlas, was to "seal his lips" upon certain facts relating to the Church of Rome in Italy. On of his references, in the language of the discharged prisoner given at Kingston, was as follows:

STIRRED UP FOREIGNERS.

"Some time ago, Father Minehan, a Catholic priest, declared the Protestant religion a Godless one and attacked it in such a way that I answered him, and in the course of my reply revealed many things about the Church of the Holy Ass in Verona, Italy an institution which is authorized by his Holiness the Pope. Father Minehan denied the existence of such a church, but I produced such proof, aided by Dr. Robinson, head of the Methodist Missions in Italy, that he was effectively silenced. In view of the fact that he could not attack me above board, he set about to stir the foreign element against me, and from this class obtained men who were willing to swear as to my obtaining funds illegally from a Turkish estate which had been left under my charge. I was arrested and convicted on their evidence."

NEWSPAPERS KEPT OUT.

Father Minehan, who is in "retreat" at St. Michael's College could not be reached. The rules of the church forbid contact with secular affairs during such a period.

A close friend of the priest, however, assured The News this morning that the Atlas accusations had been wholly denied by Father Minehan, who rejected them as having no foundation whatever.

At St. Michael's College a News reporter met Rev. Father Kidd, the temporary administrator of the diocese.

"Some word of Mr. Atlas' charges in the newspapers have reached us here," he said, "but I have not allowed any newspaper to be read during 'retreat,' nor any discussion of the incident to be carried on. Father Minehan may not see any one until the retreat is over."

Rev. Mr. Atlas has spent the time since his release in visiting friends about town and preparing for his future work, which embraces acourse of lectures to be given throughout Canada and consisting chiefly of the story of his confinement and his opinion of the Roman Catholic body, which he blames for placing him behind the bars.

ANOTHER DIES FROM CHOLERA

Quebec, July 21.—Alexander Hargu the sailor who with the rest of the crew was taken from the steamer Bendu at the Grosse Isle Quarantine Station, because he was supposed to be stricken with Asiatic cholera, died last night. His body will be interred there.

Another one of the four sick sailors detained from the Bendu has been taken to the quarantine hospital. He has grown worse, and is now in danger of death.

The bacteriological examination will only be completed to-morrow so that the doctors cannot to-day say whether the sick men suffer from cholera or not. They carry, however every symptom of the terrible plague.

For bowel complaints in children always give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and castor oil. It is certain to effect a cure and when reduced with water and sweetened is pleasant to take. No physician can prescribe a better remedy. For sale by all dealers.

PUBLIC OPINION

The Times does not hold itself responsible for opinions of its correspondents.

MUST GET OFF THE FENCE.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—The political situation is now quite interesting. No longer will candidates feel safe when they have "fixed" things with the Romish Church. There is now a Protestant party that is powerful enough to demand and enforce their principles on the country—principles that all patriotic citizens should stand for regardless of everything else. Protestants desire nothing for themselves that they will not give to their Roman Catholic fellow citizens. Is not this fair? Why should a church organization go into politics at all? That is the question. They ought to be satisfied with fair play—an even deal as it were. That they are not is the best reason in the world for a fighting protestant party. If the political candidates are not prepared to subscribe to the principles and platform of the Protestant party (a platform that deals equitably with Roman Catholics as well as Protestants) They will only have to take the consequences.

ECCLESIASTICAL PRETENSIONS.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—One of the most remarkable phenomena of modern times is the revival of Papal pretensions to exercise control in civil as well as ecclesiastical affairs, of which the Ne Temere decree is but an incident. The late Pope was a statesman of great wisdom and tact, who read the signs of the times, and recognized that the growing spirit of democracy, even in Papal countries, made it risky to assert too boldly the authority over the souls and bodies of men to which they once tamely submitted. But his successor has thrown prudence to the winds and is constantly endeavoring to exercise his authority in civil affairs irrespective of municipal law, even in Protestant countries. I say he is consistent, for canon law proclaims his right to "govern the whole society by common laws and statutes," and, further, that "it (the Church) cannot be subject to the civil power." In this connection I wish to call attention to a remarkable work by Marianus de Luca, S. J., Professor of Canon Law in the Gregorian University of Rome, entitled "Institutiones Juris Ecclesistici Publici," and issued with Papal endorsement as a true guide for the clergy in such matters.

This twentieth century document boldly declares: "The Church is quite independent of civil authority directly or indirectly, and possesses not only internal but external jurisdiction; the power of exercising justice and that of making its own members magistrates." Also that "coercive powers belong to the Church of Christ so that she may coerce contumacious persons by external force." In order that its penalties may be executed, it is declared that "the Church has the right of demanding the necessary material force from the secular prince Should the temporal Lord, in spite of the demands of the Church, neglect to purge his realm from the pollutions of heresy, let the Pope be informed of this, and he may then declare that ruler's vassals free from allegiance toward him, and give his land to Catholics that they may possess it undisputed and exterminate the heretics."

Now the Protestant world has been foolishly assuming that the Romish Church no longer laid claims to such outrageous prerogatives; but Prof. de Luca's authoritative work must open its eyes to the fact that Rome never changes. Her principles cannot alter, or down goes the dogma of infallibility, though her policies are varied with the wisdom of Satan. The document in question appeals to history in defence of the Papal right to inflict the penalty of death upon heretics in the following language: "The Church at first dealt more leniently with heretics, excommunicating them, and confiscating their property till at last she was compelled to inflict the extreme penalty. For the Church gradually advanced and tried every means; first, excommunication alone, then a pecuniary fine, then exile and finally was compelled to fall back on death. Heretics de-

POLITICAL TENSION GREAT AND ELECTION IS CERTAIN

Ottawa, July 21.—The political tension increases as the hours go on. The fighting spirit which was manifested in the closing hours of last night's session is even more accentuated this morning and there is a certainty of another hot time this afternoon and evening.

The Conservatives will take up the alleged frauds in connection with the Chinese immigration in British Columbia.

The Conservatives deny that they were obstructing. They assert that they were merely doing their duty in drawing public attention to questions of "urgent public importance," but the Liberals retort that it is not necessary to waste so much time at this season of the year, and that the repetition of discussions is an evident proof of obstruction.

FORCE SUPPLY NEXT WEEK.

The intention of the Government to press the reciprocity resolutions before everything else, at least for the present, was clearly announced by Mr. Fielding this morning, and that policy will be continued until after the Liberal caucus on Tuesday next. It is probable that there may be an attempt to secure the passage of supply, and as morning sittings will start on Wednesday, the prospect of a test of endurance for the latter half of next week grows.

There are members who assert that the session will end on August 10th, the day after the Senate resumes, and that the elections will be over by the second week in October at the latest; but they are merely speculating. That an election is certain everyone admits. There seems no other way out of the impasse. How soon it will come depends upon events.

ARE RUSHING ONTARIO LISTS.

One step towards an election is the fact that the judges who are to prepare the voters' lists in Northern Ontario have been instructed to advance their work by two weeks, and instead of commencing on August 1, they actually began on Tuesday last. This would produce these lists by the middle of September, and allow of an election a week or so later.

SHIRT WAIST FOR POSTY

New Hot-Weather Uniform for the Mail-Carriers of Canada—Gold Braid and Buttons.

Ottawa, July 21.—A natty hot-weather uniform for the letter-carriers in all Canadian cities is being issued by the Post Office Department.

Instead of the present hot and tight fitting blue coats, the mail carriers will be provided with blue blouses of light material with gilt buttons and gold braid trimmings. Light and cool helmets, white in color, will also replace the present heavy headgear.

This humane reform has been inaugurated in response to many requests received lately from the letter-carriers for a saner hot-weather uniform.

Confined to His Home for Weeks.

"Heavy work, severe cutting and evil habits in youth brought on Varicose Veins. When I walked hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several medicines but soon found out that my trouble was beyond them. I continued to get a little better than worse. One day my boss said to me that I was of work so much and I had lost my position. He advised me to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skilful. I wrote them and got THE NEW METHOD TREATMENT. My progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $15 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $25 and never loose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment.

Women Formed for Love.

Women are formed for attachment. Their gratitude is unimpeachable. Their love is an unceasing fountain of delight to the man who has once attained it and knows how to deserve it. But that very keenness of sensibility which, if well cultivated would prove the source of a man's highest enjoyment, may grow to bitterness and wormwood if he fails to attend to it or abuses it

A Little Economy.

A Northern lady with philanthropic symptoms was trying to instil a little economy into her husband's colored tenants. One of them, Mary Kinney, an anti-race-suicidist, kept a colored girl as nurse to her group of ten growing American citizens. "Mary," remarked the lady, "do you think a woman in your circumstances can afford a nurse?" "I dunno 'm, as I kin, but I don't pay her but twenty-five cents a month, an' I pays dat in ole clos, and" — with a wide smile — "she don't git dem!"

Nothing Like Politeness.

It is much easier to be polite and neighbourly than to fly into a passion when things do not suit you. Take this note as an instance, addressed by a lady to a neighbour next door—"Dear Madam—Your children, who are numerous, and appear to be disorderly, no doubt deserve the frequent floggings you give them; but, as my nerves are weak, I write this to ask if you can't do something to deaden the sound!"

Some people... have such admirable command over their feelings that one is tempted to believe they have no feelings to command.

Our Four Great Railways.

The United States had thirty million people before the country was connected by railway from ocean to ocean. Four years from now, when Canada's population will probably approximate ten millions, we will have four transcontinental railway systems. And no one doubts that there will be traffic for all of them if we maintain our fiscal independence and encourage interprovincial trade. If the Canadian Northern and Grand Trunk Pacific Railways do as much to develop Canada and advertise it through the world as the Canadian Pacific Railway has done the progress of Canada during the next twenty-five years will surpass that of the United States in any twenty-five years of its history.

Reason for His Hit.

"I made a great hit at the banquet last night. Came off with a good deal of distinction, in fact."

"I didn't know you ever spoke at banquets."

"I don't. I was the only one there who absolutely declined."

Not Loaded.

No other language under the sun is open to so many interpretations as the English language, as witness the conversation between two Sharon Hill girls the other evening

"Oh, May," said the first one, "Jim and Bill tried to fight a duel over me."

"How romantic! What happened?"

"It was terrible I came into the room, and those foolish boys were pointing big pistols at each other!"

"Pistols? Heavens! were they loaded?"

"Not a bit That is just what made it really very serious. They both were sober."

SWALLOWS' NEST OF BANK-NOTE

Also How a Mouse Stole $40 Worth of Notes to Make a Home.

A pair of swallows of Fiberbruna, in the Tyrol, have stolen a number of ten-kronen bank-notes to line their nest.

The parent birds discovered that the new notes were just the shade of blue to match their eggs, the tissue being tough but flexible, and exactly the material they needed The nest and the missing notes were only discovered when the swallows had abandoned it and it fell to the ground.

This feat has been equalled by that of an enterprising mouse in Dornbirn, which abstracted a number of twenty-kronen notes to the value of $40, of a delicate reddish brown shade, from the cash drawer of a butcher, and, tearing them to pieces, adapted them to the purpose of making a nest for her family of seven. The butcher in his search for the notes suspected and traced the house, and found the nest under the boarding He carefully picked up the remains of the notes and returned them to the bank, where they were pieced together. The butcher recovmouse's teeth.

The Apology

Pat (at the meeting of the Ballyshannon Debating Society): "Phwat! Ye'd be afther makin' that spalpeen, Mick Casey, president! Divil fly away wid um! Sure all the baste is fit for is to carry swill to the pigs!"

Chorus: "Shame! Shame on ye! Apologise! etc."

Pat (cooling down): "Bhoys, Oi regret me unseemly outburst, am' Oi retract me hasty words. Sure he isn't fit to carry swill to the pigs!"

The Salvation Army Band are to play next Friday night, when a good programme will be rendered.

DANGER OF CHOLERA IN AMERICAN CONTINENT.

Washington, July 17.—That there was a grave danger of Asiatic cholera gaining a foothold in this country, was the opinion expressed by Surgeon-General Walter Wyman, of the Public Health and Marine Hospital Service to-day.

"I am not an alarmist, but I cannot deny that there is imminent danger," he said. "We are doing everything in our power, but there is a chance that the cholera may spread despite our efforts."

Several more marine hospital experts were sent to New York to-day to aid in the cholera work there.

How all the pleasures of Society pale before practising the art of making the truth appear a lie, which is called intrigue.

The agriculturist's idea of a lady is someone who has had nothing to do with farming all her life, just as his ideal gentleman is a retired shopkeeper.

It is a wise woman who refrains from inducing her husband to bring the atmosphere of his club home with him.

"From the vulgarity of notoriety good Lord deliver us," should be your morning and evening prayer.

WHY ARE THE LARGE INVESTORS ALL OVER CANADA AND THE UNITED STATES BUYING MONTREAL REAL ESTATE?

If Western land or speculative stocks were considered better,--is it reasonable to suppose that these careful financiers whose knowledge of Canadian conditions is beyond a doubt-would buy Montreal Real Estate ?

To the men of good judgment,—these questions do not require an answer.

YOU KNOW Montreal is the largest City in the Dominion.

YOU KNOW that the population is increasing yearly at the rate of about 50,000.

YOU KNOW these people have to have homes.

Taking the above facts into consideration, what do you consider, looking in the most conservative way possible, ANGUS PARK LOTS will be worth in four years' time ?

Taking the past advances in MONTREAL REAL ESTATE as an example, these lots will be worth over a hundred per cent. (100 per cent.) more in that time.

We have a limited number of lots situated on ANGUS PARK BOULEVARD, which we can offer you at to-day's low prices, and on terms that will not cripple your finances, and by the time your lots are fully paid for you will have saved not only the cost of the land but the increase in value, thereby making your investment many hundred per cent. (100 per cent.) better than a Savings Bank account and much safer.

Do not delay till this opportunity has escaped you, but call in and see us, or drop us a line and we will send you full particulars together with our application forms. The prices range from $100 per lot upwards and the terms 10 per cent. cash, and the balance 10 per cent. every three months without interest.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent, Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast ? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

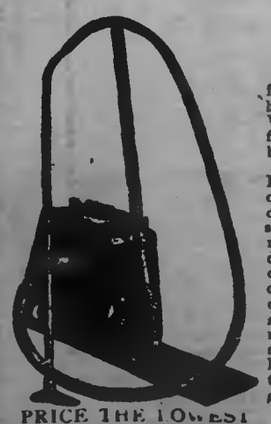
KING EDWARD VACUM CLEANER



You cannot clean carpets, rugs and furniture by beating. If you think you have, just try a KING EDWARD VACUUM CLEANER, and you will find the article full of dust, which breeds disease.

The KING EDWARD HAND MACHINE has no equal as compared with other hand machines. It is lighter to operate and its suction is much stronger. Its suction is stronger than many of the power machines, and the dusting is done away with. On account of the short stroke one person can operate it on carpets and rugs equally as well as two, and it is about half the weight of other hand machines to carry up and down stairs or from one room to another. It is sold for less money than any of the hand machines. All machines are guaranteed.

THE STANDING ALIBI OF

H. STANLEIGH STORME

(Copyright by Publishers Press Ltd).

(By Wm. Hamilton Osborne).

"Your honor," he exclaimed again, this time almost imperiously, "I — I must be heard. This man——"

"Silence!" roared the judge. "Sit down, sir. Your counsel will speak for you."

Two officers stepped to the back of the prisoner's chair, and there took their stations to prevent any further outbreak. The prisoner again yielded.

"Gentlemen," continued the witness, "all this happened about eight months ago, and never until recently have I had occasion to suspect for an instant that this man was other than the gentleman whom he made pretensed to be.

"By prearrangement, I called upon him before we concluded our negotiations, not once or twice, but a dozen times. He stated that he desired to omphasize the fact that he was eccentric and peculiar, and that he had some ideas to which he desired me to conform which to me might seem highly ridiculous, but upon which he must insist.

"He said in the first place that he had always discouraged any attempt on the part of any of his friends to discuss with him his own private affairs—he preferred never to be the subject of conversation. He desired me, whenever and wherever I might represent him, never to talk personalities. This seemed reasonable enough, but the request that followed was indeed peculiar.

"He made me promise, gentlemen, as solemnly as though I took an oath, that while I was associated with him in this way I would never read the daily papers, and that I would never discuss the daily news. I asked him why, and he gave some reason — said than in a fit of anger once he had sworn to forswear the reading of the press; he had had some violent quarrel, or some bitter experience—said that his antipathy to the daily papers was well known among his friends that they all laughed at it, but respected it; said that newspapers were the most monumental liars, that they could make or unmake a reputation in an hour—in short, he became so explosively violent upon the subject of the press that I assumed he had some well grounded dislike to it. promised lightly, and I found out later that he had indeed a well grounded reason for his request.

"Gentlemen, I entered into a compact with this man that I would do anything consistent only with adventure and consistent also with honor that he should ask me to do. It may seem queer to you, sitting here dispassionately in judgment upon the fellow, and indirectly upon myself—it may seem queer that I could consistently impersonate another man, even as a practical joke; but at that time it seemed perfectly consistent to me, and I agreed to attend such functions as he might request, and be to all intents and purposes on such occasions H. Stanleigh Storme himself.

"It required not a little preparation and expense. He furnished me with money and with clothes of the same cut and pattern as his own. I lived in ease and luxury at the other end of town with a suite of rooms all to myself; he had rooms there which he occasionally occupied; the name H. Stanleigh Storme was on the door.

"Where he lived when not at my apartment I never knew. I know not now. His method was this: Whenever he desired me to attend a function in his stead he handed me a brief note of the people I should meet— they were generally the same people ,and I soon became acquainted with them and with some of them I became better acquainted than did Storme himself.

"In fact ,there are certain persons in this town—I know of one in particular,"—here he flushed slightly and stopped in an embarrassed way—"who knew me as H. Stanleigh Storme, and yet who never had met the man Storme himself.

"Storme directed me to make new acquaintances, as many as I could, and he asked only that I keep him informed of their names and of my relations with them, whether cordial or only merely formal."

He flushed again.

"I obeyed him to the very letter. I followed his instructions implicitly. His special instructions were always written and generally mailed to me. They were minute as to detail, stating when and where to go, what to do, say, and all about it. It seemed to me more trouble to arrange all this mild deception than it would have been for Storme to go himself, but that was his affair.

"I found when I entered society that Storme had been in town for about three years and that everybody understood and humored his harmless eccentricities, which were attributed rather to his ancient strain of aristocracy than to anything about the man himself. Storme was regarded, I found, as intellectual and refined; he was brilliant and popular—extremely so, and with all classes of people.

"I was honest with him, for I considered him a benefactor, peculiar and whimsical and exacting enough, but still my benefactor. I attended on an average one or two functions a week. I ran the round of the clubs. I met many people and enjoyed myself."

The witness paused again.

"Fortunately for me," he said, "I have kept these written instructions that he gave me. There are a great many of them; there they are."

He passed them down to the prosecutor, who offered them in evidence. They were admitted and read to the jury.

"You see, gentlemen, that there were, therefore, two H. Stanleigh Stormes ,but that these two were never seen together or by the same people. Apparently they kept apart.

"And I say to you, gentlemen, solemnly, that I never knew what this man's real motive was. I never knew that he was a criminal of the deepest dye until early on the evening of the Dreddlington dinner, with which you are familiar. This may seem the strangest of all strange things, but no one spoke to me about the crimes —I who was supposed to be H. Stanleigh Storme myself — and I read nothing of them.

"This city is a large one, and I venture the opinion that if anyone of the jurymen should fail to read the local dailies for a week, he will never hear of some of the most important occurrences that happen here. I did hear something, but little, and in a way that never excited my suspicions, of the former trial that took place here; but as all that I heard was accompanied with boisterous laughter, and had all the earmarks of a joke, I paid no attention to the talk.

"The first thing that I did hear, however, was of the Dumont robbery —on the night after it took place. It was the night of the Dreddlington dinner.

"I had been requested by Storme to attend that dinner. I made up my mind that I would not do so. I sought Storme out and upbraided him —told him he had wronged me beyond all reparation—that I would expose him. I found him in a state of dreadful agitation, which I know to be assumed.

"He begged me to attend the dinner —stated that he would make a full breast of the matter, and that he would leave town and never bother anybody again. Begged me, whom he had befriended—befriended, gentlemen—not to give him up. That all he wanted was twelve hours to arrange matters in—gave me his word that all was not as bad as it looked.

"When H. Stanleigh Storme talks, gentlemen, there is no answer. I went reluctantly, but I went, nevertheless. I would have hesitated to give him up. I hoped there would be some way out of it.

"Gentlemen, you know what happened. I was the man who sat in the poker game on the night of the Morlaunt robbery, and the man who was guest of honor at the Dreddlington dinner on the night when the First National was robbed.

"The man that sits there, gentlemen," he continued dramatically, "the man H. Stanleigh Storme, was the man who committed each crime and all the others that have been so much deplored, and who upon each occasion, without my knowledge, was able to prove an alibi.

"I have come here," added the witness, "to make what reparation I can for my innocent share in those two crimes by revealing to you the exact state of affairs as it exists. That is my story, gentlemen," he concluded, pointing to the prisoner, "and that is also his."

The prisoner sat spellbound, looking at the witness with a fascinated gaze in which desperation, wonder and admiration struggled for supremacy.

CHAPTER XVII

The Biggest Surprise of All.

The witness waited for the cross-examination. But there was none. He then stood up and addressed the judge.

"Your honor has my address" he said quietly, "and I can be found there at any time if I am wanted. Is there any reason why I should not now go?"

The judge looked at both lawyers, then shook his head.

"You may go," he said.

The witness stepped down from the stand, and the crowd made way for him as he walked slowly down the center aisle. He had almost reached the door when the prisoner roused himself.

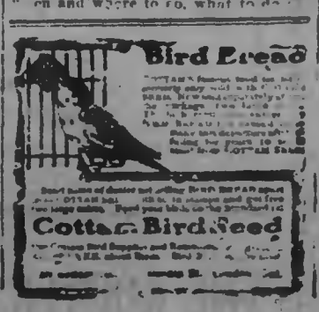
Reason Why Persons Do Not Keep on Growing.

Six pounds and a half is the weight of the average child at birth; at the end of the first year the average weight is eighteen pounds and a half, a gain of twelve pounds; and at the end of the second year the weight is twenty-three pounds, a gain of only four pounds and a half. And with each successive year the gain is less and less until maturity is reached. Why is the gain less each year? And why does it finally cease altogether?

The reason is that the absorbing surfaces inside the stomach and intestine do not, and in the nature of things cannot, grow proportionately to the growth of the body as a whole. During the first year of growth the child's body becomes approximately three times as large as it was at birth, but the interior of the stomach and bowel of the child at the age of one year is not even twice as large as it was at birth, let alone three times as large. Yet all the nourishment which supplies materials for growth has to be absorbed by the membrane which lines the inside of the stomach, and especially the small intestine. It is, therefore, plain that growth of the body as a whole must gradually subside as the tissues to be nourished gradually approach a size at which their demands balance the utmost supply of nutrition taken up by the stomach and intestine.

The civic tax rate in Lindsay is 30 mills on the dollar. But this does not mean that the citizens of that good town pays a higher rate than is paid in Peterborough. It is largely a matter of value and of high or low assessment.



New Ladders.

The Fire Department has received two new ladders, 12 and 20 feet in length respectively and are designated for inside work. They are very light, one weighing only 25 pounds. This will be placed in the Chief's rig.

Just the Sort of Case That Proves to the World That the Best Liniment Ever Made Is NERVILINE.

When it comes to determining the real merit of a medicine, no weight of evidence is more convincing than the straightforward statement of some reliable and well-known person that has been cured. For this reason we print the verbatim statement of Juan E. Powell, written from his home in Carleton. "I am a strong, powerful man, six feet tall, and weigh nearly two hundred. have been accustomed all my life to lift great weight, but one day I overdid it, and wrenched my back badly. Every tendon and muscle was sore. To stoop or bend was agony. I had a whole bottle of Nerviline rubbed on in one day, and by night I was well again. I know of no liniment possessing one-half the penetration and pain-subduing properties of Nerviline. I urge its use strongly as an invaluable liniment and household cure for all minor ailments, such as strains, sprains, swellings, neuralgia, sciatica, lumbago, rheumatism, and muscular pain."

LETTER NO. 4769.

No better medicine for curing pain was ever put in a bottle than Nerviline—over one million bottles used every year—better try it yourself. 25c or five for $1. At all dealers or The Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

THE MOTOR CAR EVIL.

The most sinister aspect of the new rage for motor-cars in the United States is undoubtedly the pledging of homes and property under liens for the purchase of luxuries that are themselves of a flimsy and not at all permanent character. It seems almost criminal, says the New York World, that salaried men by the thousands, living in modest homes in the suburbs of the cities, should be encumbering their property with mortgages that must be paid sooner or later, in order to indulge themselves and their families in a luxury which, in addition to the initial expense, will also obviously increase the living expense of the family, and thereby automatically cut down and curtail the ability of the family to meet the debt. It is burning the candle at both ends.

THE OPIUM TRADE.

According to an agreement between the United Kingdom and China, signed on May 8, 1911, the export of opium from China is to cease in 1917, if proof is given that the production of opium in China has been discontinued. The production of opium in China is to be decreased annually in the same proportion as its exportation from India to that country, and no Indian opium is to be conveyed to any Province in China where the cultivation and import of Chinese opium has been effectually stopped. The British Government consents to the increase in the duty on opium to 350 taels per chest, the increased rate to go into effect simultaneously with the imposition of an equivalent excise tax on Chinese opium. The agreement went into effect immediately upon its signature.

GENERAL ELECTION CERTAIN.

The din of battle is heard these days on Parliament hill. Both sides are on the job and seem to welcome a war to the knife, says the Ottawa Journal. What the programme of the present resumed session will ultimately develop is as yet impossible to forsee.

But while neither leader has shown his hand, already the signs of the times may be read in the domes of Parliament. The Government motion to hark back to consider reciprocity exactly where the discussion was suspended in May, to allow the Premier and the parliamentary contingent two months' leave or absence to attend the coronation, gives indisputable proof of the Government plan.

Knowing that Mr. Borden has announced to fight the Taft-Fielding pact to the last ditch, and also assured that his whole party is lined up behind the leader in this fray, Sir Wilfrid and his cabinet must see where this impasse will end. Given a measure backed by all the might of the Liberal majority, and given also an Opposition, united and fired with enthusiasm to resist that measure, what happens?

Only one thing can happen—dissolution and a general election. And what about redistribution which the country expects on the conclusion of each decennial census?

To go to the country without redistribution will be a sacrifice of the rights of the west to adequate representation in Parliament. The west is entitled to have its voice heard in the councils of the nation, and in order to accomplish this it is up to both the government and the opposition to declare what their policy will be if a general election is brought on before the redistribution of seats.

BOLD MASKED BANDITS HOLD UP A TRAIN

Grand Forks, N.D., July 20.—Train No. 2, the eastbound "North Coast Limited," on the Northern Pacific Railway, was held up by three masked robbers near Buffalo, North Dakota about 11 o'clock last night. The robbers secured about $500 in cash by going through the passengers and shot engineer Olson of Fargo twice in order to make him stop the train. They made a successful escape in an automobile which they had in waiting for them near the scene of the robbery.

The performance as executed was one of the most daring ever perpetrated in this part of the country and showed that the men were no amateurs at the business as every movement was cleverly planned and admirably executed.

When the train stopped at the high bridge at Valley City the three men boarded it and went into the day coach.

Heavily armed and shooting recklessly in order to intimidate the passengers, they first lined the train crew up at one end of the car and then proceeded to search the passengers in the day coach one by one. In all they secured about $500 from that part of their robbery.

SHOT TO ROUSE SLEEPERS.

The sleeping car was entered and in order to awaken the occupants of berths a shot was fired down the centre of the aisle, narrowly missing the head of one of the passengers and imbedding itself in the woodwork. After searching the occupants of the berths they climbed out on the diner over the baggage and the express car to the engine, reaching that part of the train when near Buffalo. They ordered engineer Olson to stop the train so they could get off and when he refused to comply with their wishes two shots were fired directly at him one glancing off his watch and the other striking him on a rib injuring him slightly.

After being wounded and seeing the men were desperate, Engineer Olson stopped the train and the three men who were masked jumped quickly from the train and ran into the darkness.

MAILS NOT MOLESTED.

Olson, who is one of the oldest engine drivers on the system, was brought into Fargo with the train, and is resting easily at his home there. After leaving the train the robbers went to an automobile which they had waiting nearby, and drove off into the darkness. The express mail cars were not molested by the men.

The train was run into Fargo, where the Sheriff, every available deputy and three Deputy United States Marshalls hurried back on a special train to pursue the robbers.

WILL TOUR NEW ONTARIO

Detroit, Mich., July 20.—At the conclusion this afternoon of the conference of the National Editorial Association or the National Press Association as it hereafter will be known, the delegates will embark on a water trip to Montreal and Quebec, after which they will visit the Muskoka and Cobalt regions of Northern Ontario.

There is much speculation among the editors as to what kind of reception they will receive during their stay in Canada. On the opening day of the convention several speeches were made in which "union" with Canada was strongly advocated. So much was said along this line that a great many of the delegates have been dubbed "annexation boosters." Judge Sutherland, of Toronto, on the floor of the convention took exception to the union sentiment and spoke warmly against it.

As usually treated a sprained ankle will disable a man for three or four weeks, but by applying Chamberlain's Liniment freely as soon as the injury is received, and observing the directions with each bottle, a cure can be effected in from two to four days. For sale by all dealers.

Cobalt, July 18.—Mike Johnston, a Swede, well known in Porcupine and other mining camps, committed suicide on the portage near Night Hawk Lake, by taking poison, on Saturday night. Will provide you with an income that will make you independent for life.

Begin right now---do something for yourself. Provide for a time when your earning capacity will be reduced to a minimum. You can make a start by purchasing one or two shares.

Our booklet beautifully illustrated, tells the story--contains interesting facts regarding the Grape Fruit Industry.

The figures are startling but true

When three years old grape-fruit trees begin to bear, the crop continues to increase until the seventh year when the average amounts to between seven and twenty boxes of fruit. Grape-Fruit is usually sold on the trees at a price ranging not less than $1.00 per box. On the Manhattan Estates we will have a grove of over 40,000 trees, and our yearly crop, once maturity is reached, should average 280,000 crates annually. Between the trees we intend cultivating tobacco and pineapples from which a substantial profit will be realized within one year from the time of planting. The British-owned Western Railways run through the Estates, insuring splendid shipping facilities. The officers and directors of this company have implicit faith in this enterprise, and have agreed that no one shall receive one cent of salary until after 25 per cent. dividends have been earned and declared. They are quite willing to wait for their dividends, knowing that their investments will amply repay them.

One Hundred Dollars is enough to insure ease and comfort. Why not inqure today about our special offer.

AN INVESTMENT NOT A SPECULATION

What everybody with an ounce of common sense is on the alert for these days is a sound INVESTMENT and there is as much difference between an investment and a speculation as there is between London and Hong-Kong, although we all don't realize this.

• • • •

Consequently when one takes a chance on a speculative proposition mistaking it as an investment and comes out of the small end of the horn, he becomes pessimistic and with the tightening of his purse strings to extremes to keep the pennies in just naturally shuts the dollars out.

• • • •

Now then if there were no investors there would be no progress, and with no progress the community would mighty soon become stagnant.

• • • •

The foundation of America, was old Christopher Columbus, he had an idea but was short on ready cash, in other words he was what us modern day folks call a promoter. His idea was feasible, he found co-operation, his plans carried and YOU KNOW THE REST.

• • • •

Like Columbus we are all Pioneers. Not-out for our health, but to make money. No man ever saved more than a competence on a salary; few do that. To get a footing on "Easy Street" you have to invest. DOLLARS don't grow in your pockets or in a stocking. They must be put to work. Old Russell Sage said:

"Plant a few in a new country and see how fast they grow."

That's what we are trying to impress on you now and here is the biggest opportunity of this kind that is likely to knock at your door.

• • • •

We are the Pioneers of the fruit and vegetable canning enterprise in the Okanagan Valley and earnestly invite you to co-operate with us.

• • • •

Men at the head of affairs of this corporation are the best known and most highly esteemed gentlemen in British Columbia.

• • • •

Mr. Albert McKillop, our President, has a world wide reputation in the Timber and Timber Land World. (See R. G. Dunn).

• • • •

Mr. Wesley A. Blair, our Secretary and Treasurer, is also Cashier of the Canadian Customs, being the Government's most trusted employee. He handles on an average of $30,000.00 every commercial day of the year, and it was his fertile mind that first saw the possibilities of Canneries on the Coast, in-as-much as tens of thousands of dollars duty pass through his hands for American goods yearly. Bear in mind that there is a 2½c per pound duty on all canned stuff and RECIPROCITY or no RECIPROCITY that will stand.

• • • •

Remember we belong to no combine, have no opposition, and are pioneers in this field.

• • • •

Just think of it, The Dominion Fruit Canners cleared $400,000 last year, approximately 51 per cent. What's going to prevent the Okanagan Canners Ltd., from doing the same.

• • • •

It's a matter of record that the Kelowna district—site of our Cannery—proved positively at all the recent fruit shows that the Okanagan valley is the greatest fruit producing country in the world.

• • • •

Now, then, be up and thinking.

• • • •

We are incorporated for only $100,000.

• • • •

We are only going to let 60,000 shares out of our treasury.

• • • •

Not one of our shares has gone for promotion purposes, every share being represented by its equivalent.

• • • •

We have no salaried officials, in fact no leakages of any kind.

• • • •

BY-LAW NUMBER 1555

A By-law to fix the assessment of The Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company (Limited).

Passed the third day of October, 1910.

Whereas The Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company (Limited) has represented to the Council of the City of Peterborough that it is the only manufacturing concern in the City of Peterborough engaged in the manufacture of locks and other articles manufactured by it, and has to compete with manufacturers in the same line of business in other places who have received and are enjoying Municipal assistance, making it difficult for the said Company to meet such competition, and has applied to the Council for a fixed assessment on the real estate, plant and business assessment of the said Company in the City of Peterborough at the sum of $25,000, and the said Council has agreed thereto and to pass this By-Law for that purpose, subject to the confirmation thereof by the Legislature.

The Corporation of the City of Peterborough, by the Council thereof, therefore enacts as follows:—

1. This By-Law shall take effect upon and only upon the confirmation thereof by the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario, and upon the said Peterborough Look Manufacturing Company (Limited), executing an agreement not to oppose the construction of any work as a local improvement abutting or fronting on, or the cost or part of the cost of which might be assessed or charged against the property in Section 2 hereof described, or any part thereof, that the said Council may desire to construct under the provisions of the Municipal Act relating to local improvements.

2. The assessment of the following lands in the City of Peterborough owned, occupied and used by The Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company (Limited) and being Lot Number Four north of Simcoe Street and west of George Street, and that part of Lot Number Three north of Simcoe Street and west of George Street described as follows:—Commencing on the western limit of the said Lot Number Three, at a point seventy-seven feet six inches north from the south-west angle thereof; thence northerly along the said western limit of the said lot to the northern limit thereof; thence easterly along said northern limit eighteen feet; thence south and parallel to the western limit of said lot to a point seventy-seven feet six inches north of said Simcoe Street; thence westerly and parallel to the southern limit of the said lot to the place of beginning while used exclusively for the manufacturing purposes of the Company, or the part so used for such manufacturing purposes, and the buildings, plant, machinery and fixtures thereon, and the business assessment there of on which taxes are to be levied, shall be fixed and remain fixed while the same are so used, and while at least an average of one hundred hands are employed therein for at least ten months of each year, at the sum of $25,000 for a period of ten years from the first day of January, 1911, and the return and oath of the assessor or assessors in respect thereof shall be amended accordingly, but the same shall, for school purposes, be and remain liable to assessment and the payment of school taxes and rates to as full an extent as if this By-Law had not been passed, and the assessment for school purposes and the school rates and taxes shall be made, levied and collected thereon in accordance with the provisions of the general law in that behalf, and the said lands shall also be liable for all frontage and local improvement assessments, rates and taxes that are now or may hereafter be charged against the same, and any buildings on the said lands not used exclusively for the business of the Company, and the land appurtenant to same shall not be included in the fixed assessment hereunder, but such buildings and land, while not used as aforesaid, shall be assessed as provided by the Assessment Act then in force; provided, however, that if the said Company shall at any time within the said term of ten years fail or neglect to operate and carry on the said manufacturing establishment substantially to the capacity thereof, and therein to employ at least an average of one hundred hands during at least ten months in each year, then such fixed assessment shall cease, and the taxes and rates on the said lands, buildings, plant, machinery and fixtures and on the business assessment thereof shall be and become payable to the same amount and in the same manner as if this By-Law had not been passed; provided always that if the failure to carry on the said business is due to strikes or destruction of the buildings, plant, machinery or fixtures by fire or tempest, the time during which the said business shall so cease to be carried on in consequence of such strikes, or destruction of the buildings, plant, machinery or fixtures (not exceeding in either case one year) shall not be taken as a failure or neglect to carry on the said business, so as to disentitle the said Company to such fixed assessment.

3. The said Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company (Limited) shall, prior to the first day of March in each year, file with the City Clerk a statutory declaration, made by an officer of the Company, who shall therein state his knowledge of the facts, proving that the said Company has complied with and is observing all the terms, conditions and provisions of this By-Law, and on the neglect of the said Company to furnish such declaration it shall be prima facie taken that such terms conditions and provisions have not been performed, observed and kept and the said fixed assessment shall cease, and the taxes and rates shall be and become payable to the same amount and in the same manner as if this By-Law had not been passed.

(Sgd.) W. G. MORROW, Mayor

(Sgd.) S. R. ARMSTRONG, Clerk.

BLOODHOUNDS OFF SCENT

Richmond, Va., July 20.—On the ownership of a shotgun of an ordinary type to-day hinges the solution of the sensational mysterious slaying of Mrs. Louise Owen Beattie, Jr. wife of the Manchester Banker, who, according to the story told by her husband, was shot down while seated behind him in their automobile.

The murder is the most mysterious in the history of the State. Despite the efforts of more than a thousand searchers no one has seen a trace of the man who, according to Beattie, blocked the Midlothian pike on Tuesday night, and when asked to give up half of the road, raised his shotgun and fired directly into the Beattie automobile, instantly killing Mrs. Beattie. The woods surrounding the turn pike for more than five miles have been thoroughly searched, without revealing the slightest clue.

BLOODHOUNDS BALKED.

Two packs of bloodhounds brought to the scene within six hours after the crime was committed, wandered aimlessly around two pools of blood in the middle of the Hard Turn Pike and then turned their muzzles skyward and bayed loudly and long. It was plain that they were unable to pick up a trail that could be followed.

The coroner has possession of the blood-stained automobile, the suit of clothes worn by Beattie, and the shotgun. He is trying to trace the gun and if its ownership can be established the slayer will be found.

To give the police time to work on the case the inquest will not be held until to-morrow.

MARRIED LAST AUGUST.

The Beatties were married last August. They have a two-weeks old baby, and, according to Beattie, the fact that it was not in its mother's arms when she was killed was due to its having been asleep when they started on the ill-fated night ride.

Beattie says they were returning from a fifteen-mile run, when, at a lonely spot in the pike, he saw a man jump from the bushes into the middle of the highway. He jammed the brakes on as the figure [illegible] oath, to know if he was trying to run over him.

"I told him there was room enough for both," said Beattie to the coroner, "and tried to pass him. He seemed drunk and very surly. I noticed he was very s[illegible] and noticed he had a shotgun in his hand. Without a moment's warning he raised the gun and fired. The muzzle was not more than a yard from my wife. As he fired I leaped from the car and grappled with him. I seized the gun and he struck me a fearful blow on the nose, rendering me momentarily unconscious. When I recovered he was gone, and with one arm around my dead wife I drove fifteen miles through the darkness."

TWO POOLS OF BLOOD.

Beattie has an abrasion on his nose. There were two pools of blood in the road some distance apart. This is also puzzling to the coroner, as whatever blood soaked through the bottom of the automobile should have been caught by the drip pan.

The charge of shot entered Mrs. Beattie's face in a spot not more than an inch and a half in diameter, the muzzle of the gun having been held so close to her head that wads and all entered the wound.

Detectives arrested Irving Brown, a negro who lived near the scene and whose father said he had a gun similar to that with which the crime was committed, but Brown gave so good an account of himself that he was soon discharged.

VANCOUVER'S GREAT BRIDGE PROJECT.

Over the Second Narrow of Burrard Inlet.

Characteristic with the great development of the city of Vancouver and the surrounding municipalities is the new bridge projected over the Second Narrows of Burrard Inlet, which will connect the cities of Vancouver and North Vancouver, much the same as New York is connected with Brooklyn. The Second Narrows Bridge Project is now well under way, the necessary assistance having been secured from the Dominion and Provincial Governments as well as from the cities and municipalities benefitted by the bridge, to assure the financing of its construction and the engineers are completing the plans prior to soliciting bids for the actual construction. It is stated that the work on the structure will be started well within the present year. The importance of this bridge to the city of Vancouver and the great effect it will have on the realty values of the North Vancouver side will be understood when it is remembered that the site of the city of Vancouver proper is decidedly limited in area lying as it does between the waters of English Bay, Burrard Inlet and False Creek. The north shore presents one of the finest city sites on the Pacific Coast, with a large water frontage back from which the ground slopes so as to afford admirable drainage as well as easy street grades. The North side approaches of the bridge will lie about two or more miles east of the present city of North Vancouver. Within a short distance of the northern terminus of the proposed bridge is a tract where it is expected a new town will in time grow up. The property in question is named Keith Park, being so named after Mr. J. C. Keith, one of the oldest and heaviest land owners of Vancouver as well as one of the most active and leading citizens of the British Columbia. Keith Park is the junction spot for all North side traffic on account of its location at the junction of the Keith Road (the great east and west artery) and the Pipe Line Road (owned by the city of Vancouver and the north and south artery of the Seymour Creek Valley). When the bridge is opened for business Keith Park will receive great benefits from the large traffic which will immediately ensue. The owners of this property are now offering lots for sale in Keith Park at prices which are far lower than is placed on property of similar character not so advantageously located. It is their intention to sell a portion of this property at the present prices only. Persons seeking a safe and attractive investment in Vancouver should investigate this opportunity. Full information may be secured from the Keith Park Land Co., Ltd., Vancouver, B.C., or through any reliable broker.

Last Call.

Professor Leacock tells the following story about a young man who sometimes drank more whisky than was good for him:

He had been making a night of it, but had forsaken his companions. He was acquainted with an undertaker named George, and got the crazy notion at three o'clock in the morning that he must see this particular man. Accordingly, he found George's undertaking establishment, over which George had his sleeping apartments.

The intoxicated young man rang and rang George's bell, and at last awoke him. The undertaker put his head out of the third-story window, expecting to find that his funeral services were required immediately. Instead, he recognized his friend Frank.

"Well, Frank," he exclaimed crossly, "what do you want?"

"I just wan' tell you, George," said Frank, "that you're the lash man in the world I wan' to do business with."

NATIVE POLO AT GURAIS.

The Ancient Game of Golf Is a New Game in Comparison.

Polo is played at Gurais (three marches up the Gilgit Road) in Kashmir regularly once a week during the summer months, when the ground is free from snow.

Each villager rides his own pony (about 12 hands any distance up to 15 miles in the morning, plays from 12 to 2 or 4 p.m., and then rides back to his home. When there is a bet of a sheep they have sides, otherwise it is each for himself. Each chukker lasts two hours unless nine goals are scored first; if the ball goes between the posts it counts as a goal, and if it can be caught in the hand in mid-air the catcher scores a goal by riding with it in his hand between the posts—if he can. No one bothers about "offsides," fouls, or other embellishments of Europeans.

In spite of plentiful hard knocks, and sometimes worse, no one will miss his weekly game if he can help it. The game generally starts with six or eight players, but by the time it finishes it is no uncommon sight to see twenty players taking part at the same time, and needless to say the game is fast and furious all the time.

The local telegraph master is the only European who plays, except for occasional visitors and sportsmen on their way through. To our ideas the game is primitive, but it finds great favour in the eyes of all the natives in this part of the world, and one has only to watch the game for a few minutes to realise how keen they all are, and absolutely devoid of nerves.

The greatest tragedy that can befall a keen player on polo day is to have no pony. Sometimes it happens, however, that the animal is hired out and not returned in time. Then the player calmly takes his place in goal — on foot.

System in Salesmanship.

"Young man," says the automobile manufacturer to the new salesman who has astonished the organization by the rapid-fire sales he has made in the two months of his employment, "I must congratulate you on your work."

"Thank you, sir," replies the new salesman modestly.

"I know we build the best auto in the market," says the manufacturer, "but even at that I cannot understand how you can sell ten times as many machines as the very best men we have had prior to you. How do you do it?"

"Well, sir," explains the new salesman, the light of honest pride in his eyes, "I always ask the customer to take a ride in one of our machines as the first move toward getting acquainted with its riding qualities. Of course he accepts the invitation I then take him out on the boulevard and get arrested and fined for fast running. After that there is no argument."

Ten minutes later the new salesman leaves the private office with a block of preferred stock tucked away in his inside pocket.

Prestige and Irishmen.

A well known Railroad president, in his study of all classes of men who are under him, entertains a great admiration for the Irish foreman of a gang of laborers who went to any lengths to show his men that he was the real boss. One morning this foreman found that his gang had put a hand car on the track without his orders.

"Who put that han' car-r-r on the thrack?" he asked.

"We did, sor," one of the men answered respectfully.

"Well," he said shortly, "take it off ag'in!"

The laborers did so with some difficulty.

"Now," said the foreman, "put in on ag'in!"

Rung himself to Death.

Extraordinary circumstances attended the suicide of a church sexton at the Hungarian village of Koros-Ba'any recently. The inhabitants were alarmed by the violent ringing of their church bell, and thought a fire must have broken out. As, however, none could be seen, some of them went to the belfry to discover the reason, and there found the body of the sexton dangling from the bell-rope, with which he had hanged himself.

The Sixth Sense!

It is frequently the case that we meet people who antogonise us the moment a glance or a handshake is exchanged, while our inner consciousness offers no explanation for that reasonless antipathy. On the other hand Fate brings us in contact with personalities which at once appeal to a sixth sense which is indefinable, but which seems to comprehend more than the combined educated and trained sensibilities. What is that sixth sense?

A Record in Book Publishing.

Atlanta, Ga., July 20.—A courteous act on the part of William R. O'Neal, of Bainbridge, Ga., has been rewarded by a fortune. O'Neal, four years ago, exchanged a lower for an upper sleeping car berth with J. T. Young, of Oakland, Cal., who was en route to Florida for his health. Evidently Mr. Young considered it a great favor, for in his will he left $20,000 to the Georgia young man, who is 28 years old. O'Neal was in Atlanta yesterday and was informed of his good fortune by a son of Mr. Young who had come to Georgia to look for him.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Proposed Hat Factory.

A meeting of the leading citizens has been called for Monday night to discuss the proposed new hat industry which is likely to locate in this city. It is urgently requested the a large number of citizens will attend.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

Very Convenient.

An enterprising builder was one day in conversation with several friends, when he was accused of using inferior materials in the construction of houses which he had recently built, of which a gentleman arrived who

A hot argument ensued in the midst lived in one of the jerry-built cottages, and the matter was referred to him

"Weel, sirs," said he, "I can assure ye they are the maist convenient hooses I ever abode in."

"But," said one of the listeners, "why convenient dae ye say."

"Oh, haud yer wheest till I explain. When first I cam' to bide in Mr. Jerry's hoose, I had to rise i' the middle o' the nicht an' open the door to let oot the cat; but the cat can gang oot an' come in noo thro' the cracks, an' I'm saved a lot o' bother."

No Resemblance.

"Now, Nora," said the departing physician to the Irish girl, who was nursing a bad case of fever, "if the patient sees snakes again, give him a dose of this medicine. I shall be in at six."

The hour for his return arrived. The physician once more visited the sick patient, and found him raving. He had been so, said the nurse, for hours.

"And did you give him the medicine?" inquired the puzzled doctor.

Nora shook her head.

"But didn't I tell you to give it to him if he saw snakes again?" demanded the physician.

"But he didnt say he saw snakes this toime, dochter," replied the nurse, confidently. "He said he saw red-white-and-blue turkeys wid straw hats on!"

Utilizing Waste as Fuel.

The greatest work which has been carried on by the British in Egypt, since their occupation of that country has been the construction of dams along the Nile for the purpose of providing water for irrigating the Nile Valley. As a result of this work vast areas, previously waste, have been brought under cultivation and the output of the country vastly increased.

Another enterprise, of little less importance, is now under way. This is for the purpose of utilising sudd, a thick tangle of water plants in the Nile bed. This growth has for generations seriously interfered with the navigation of the Nile. It has recently been discovered that it can be utilised as a fuel. The new fuel is known as suddite.

The New Boarder Again.

"For ten years," said the new boarder at a Montreal boarding-house, "my habits were as regular as clockwork. I rose on the stroke of six; half an hour later I sat down to breakfast; at seven I was at work, dined at twelve, ate supper at six, and was in bed at nine-thirty; ate only hearty food, and hadn't a sick day in all that time." "Dear me!" said the deacon in sympathetic tones, "and what were you in for?" An awful silence ensued.

Without Nihilism in Russia Siberia would be unnecessary. The very faults which Nihilism seeks to remedy are kept alive by its existence. If it were eradicated Russia would take its place among the Liberal nations of the world.

May Devlop Into An Important Industry.

The ever increasing demand and the diminishing supply of sturgeon caviar led fishermen of eastern Siberia to experiment with salmon roe, which had not only been considered useless for human consumption but had even been looked upon as injurious to health.

Up to 1907 the fishermen in the neighborhood of Nicolaevsk considered salmon roe as valueless, but from that time it was demonstrated that cavier could be made so as to prove commercially profitable and of such a quality that although it cannot compare with the taste of the sturgeon caviar it is nevertheless a great delicacy.

Vast quantities of salmon roe are annually destroyed in Alaska, as they have discovered no means of preserving it, and should a taste be created for caviar of this kind it would develop into a very important industry. The limited supply of sturgeon caviar and the consequent high price places it beyond the reach of many who enjoy such delicacies, whereas salmon caviar could take its place and be practically within the reach of all.

MAKE YOUR CHILDREN HAPPY

Girls and Boys Should Be Frisky, Gay Little Animals.

Mothers, would you make your children really and truly happy and give them the firmly grounded belief that the world — strange old, wonderful world into which they have been dropped from they know not why — then learn to "frivol." Don't take things — any thing — too seriously. There is nothing in the world so wholly pitiful as a too serious, sober faced little child. Children were meant to be frisky, gay little animals; allow them the privilege of fulfilling their rightful mission of childhood. Don't lay burdens of seriousness on their little shoulders.

Soon enough there will be burdens all their own, and if these small shoulders are strengthened and reinforced by childhood years of irresponsible joyousness, they will be ever so much better able and willing to bear burdens all their own!

Growth of Wealth in Prussia.

Some interesting statistics have just been published showing the increase of wealth in Prussia. In 1903 there were only 80,000 people in Prussia with incomes of over $7,000; while in 1910 there were 104,000. In 1903 1,500,000 people owned property worth $225,000,000. There are 8,300 millionaires in Prussia, and their wealth has increased from $2,500,000,000 to $3,500,000,000 within the last fourteen years. Of course it must be remembered that a German "millionaire" is only worth $250,000 — a million marks.

Growth of Population in Sweden.

The increase of population in Sweden during the year 1910 was greater than during any of the last ten years, amounting to 51,887, or 9.6 per thousand. As usual the increase has been greater in the large cities than in the provinces. But the growth of population in the smaller industrial centres was not so great as formerly, on account of the crisis of 1907-09 which greatly handicapped both manufacturing and commercial interests.

BUY

ROYAL PORCUPINE

Quoted at 32 to 33 Cents

The stock of the Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co., we believe, will prove to be one of the greatest money makers in the wonderful Porcupine district.

Every day brings forth further evidence that the Porcupine Camp is destined to become the richest gold region in the world, and Royal Porcupine should soon take its place at the head of the great producing mines in this section.

Porcupine has the indorsement of the world's greatest authorities in gold mining, who concur in the opinion that never before have such rich showings been seen covering so great an area.

The Property

is located in the township of Tisdale and consists of eight full claims, embracing 320 acres. It is particularly well located, being only one-quarter mile south of the Porcupine Gold Mines, Ltd., and one-half mile south of the Hollinger mine, for which it is claimed there is $10,000,000 in sight. Engineers report that the Royal Porcupine property is in the famous ore zone, being on the same ledge as Hollinger and having the same formation.

A telegram from the engineer in charge of the property bears out this statement. It is as follows:—

"Porcupine, Ont., June 19, 1911.

"Vein uncovered twelve feet in width. Excellent ore body. Shaft being sunk on this vein. Property in every way most favorable.

(Signed) "JULIUS MESSER, M. E.,
"Engineer in charge of property."

Thirty men are now employed, and work on the shaft will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Four veins, varying from 12 to 100 feet in width, have already been uncovered. Assays have been made which show $50 a ton.

Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co.

is capitalized for $3,000,000; par value of shares $1.00. Full paid and on-assessable. No personal liability.

A glance at the list of directors will show the class of men who are putting in their money and time to make this one of the greatest mines in the Porcupine Camp. The directors are:—

Remember, that our judgment on Hollinger, Dome Extension and Vipond was correct, and we believe the Royal Porcupine will prove one of our best investments.

The Hollinger stock was originally offered at $3.50 and now sells at around $15.50, and Dome Extension was first offered at 40c., and now sells at around $6.

Royal Porcupine stock may be purchased through any member of the New York Curb Association, or we will be glad to execute your orders.

WHY GO TO ALASKA TO INVEST IN OIL?

During the past month we have beenpresenting to the readers of The Morning Times, and the public in general, an offer which for SAFETY and CERTAINTY OF RESULTS in the form of DIVIDENDS and ENORMOUS PROFITS is well nigh UNPRECEDENTED.

In Southwest Colorado, in Mountezuma County, near Mancos, nature has placed RICH OIL FIELDS which promise to be the cause of the MOST STUPENDOUS BOOM COLORADO HAS HAD SINCE THE EARLY GOLD DAYS.

We own and control 8,500 acres of land in this section which experts assure us are positively gusher producing properties,

We have bought and paid for all the machinery necessary for drilling. We do not owe one cent. If you invest with us you have behind your investment not only enormous land values but machinery the value of which is fully $8,000.

For the ordinary investor this would be security enough but we have made the safest investment proposition that ever was offered, for, besides these rich Mancos Oil Fields we also own 2,560 acres in the proven oil field of San Juan, Utah; also 1,920 acres in the Great Montezuma District of Colorado, and fifty acres of rich mining ground in the La Plata District, for which we have been offered Ten Thousand Dollars spot cash.

Investments in the stock of our Company participate in the profits of all these properties. The Mancos Oil and Development Company promises to and will give the public a "square deal." Every acre of oil land and mining property which it owns or will acquire belongs to its stockholders.

MR. BURT H. MASON, the president and organizer of the Company, is a mining engineer of enviable reputation the officers of the Company are well-known business men and bankers of Southwestern Colorado. If any misrepresentation has been made we guarantee to return every dollar you pay us and all expenses to which you may have been put for investigation.

The price of stock is Twenty-five Cents a share, which can be paid on monthly installments if desired. If further information be desired it will be cheerfully given.

QUEEN CHARLOTTE

The Capital City of the Islands

THE LAST WEST

The only town on Graham Island that has a monthly pay roll, and the only sawmill shipping lumber to foreign ports.

The only town having a railway gazetted to its very doors on the island.

The only city on Graham Island having electric light, city water, miles of sidewalks, churches, school, hospital, postoffice, first-class drug store billiard hall, city hall, hotels, boarding house, barber shop and other general stores, and the only newspaper published on the Island, the Queen Charlotte News.

We are positively the centre of all the vast wealth of the entire Islands, including farm lands, timber lands, coal and metalliferous mines. These products must come out at Queen Charlotte City, through the Honna River Valley, and through which the Island Railway must run according to charters already granted.

The combined townsite interests cover one thousand acres, of which five hundred are practically level alluvial soil with no rocks.

A fine water power from the Honna River, good drainage and the best harbor on the entire Islands.

Our lots are all 50 feet by 120 feet, ranging in price from $150 to $300; one-third cash, balance on time at 6 per cent., or deeds can be had at once if desired.

Fully 200,000 acres of farm lands, suitable for mixed farming, only await the hand of man, a large portion of which is already located.

The verdure clad mountains are vast treasure vaults of gold, copper, silver and other precious metals, while our valleys are underlaid with a wealth of the finest coal and covered with a vast forest of spruce, hemlock and yellow cedar. These, coupled with our fisheries, are at the very doors and within sight of Queen Charlotte City.

Taking all these facts into consideration, and with the present progress being made in developing our resources, which are at the gateways of transportation both by water and railway, with the advent of the completion of the Grand Trunk Railroad, Queen Charlotte City is destined to be one of the province's most prosperous cities.

It is owned largely by the wealthiest and most honorable men of our province, who would not be a party in misrepresenting facts and are prepared to endorse every statement herein made.

The townsite company are now offering a further 75 lots on Second avenue at a very low price and on easy terms, if taken at once, and under conditions that will make you a 100 per cent. on your investment in 90 days, for 20 per cent. of the gross proceeds will be used by letting a contract for the clearing and grading of Second avenue from Third street west. The company guarantee to advance the remaining 75 unsold lots on Second avenue from $150 to $225 as soon as the first 75 have been sold. The company is making this effort in order to join with the government in making Second avenue the trunk road through the townsite from the Wilson-Robinson coal fields, Honna River Valley, Lawn Hill and Miller Creek districts. Now you can secure any unsold lot on Second avenue, including fourteen in Keith's addition, to-day for $150, except corners, on easy terms, 1-4 cash, balance 6, 12 and 18 months at 6 per cent. This will positively be your last chance for a cheap lot in Queen Charlotte City, for every lot in the townsite will surely go from $500 to $1000 when the public realize that in the Island River railroad from Queen Charlotte to the head of Masset Inlet is to be started this summer, in addition to the present work already outlined, thus giving work to an army of men. There are at least 5000 citizens of Vancouver who have invested in the various resources of the islands. Conclusive evidence of these facts, a landscape drawing of the townsite and a portion of Graham Island coupled with an illustrated edition of the resources of the islands can be seen at the office of J. J. Miller, 82 Hastings street, Vancouver, B. C., Agent for Vancouver, and plans at office of "Times", Peterboro'.

His Wife's Tact.

"I'll give my wife credit for not causing me to be swamped by big hat bills of hers," declared the husband boastfully, in the presence of his wife's lady guests. "All the hat bills I get are small ones, which, however, come in very, very often, although I haven't observed a new bonnet on her since Easter."

"I'm so glad you're pleased," rejoined his wife, coming unexpectedly into the room. "The fact is, you're still paying for that last Easter bonnet, the bill for which the milliner is sending to you in installments."

The Eucalyptus of Australia.

While the eucalyptus, or Australian blue gum tree, destroys malaria and keeps off mosquitoes in marshy soil, it has no such effect on dry soil. The difference is ascribed by a German scientist to the fact that the tree is constructed to act as an evaporating machine, and only does its work in marshy land. A feature of the tree in its daptability to different climates, it being now grow in almost every civilised country where frosts do not occur.

Don't Talk Too Much.

When we are in the company of sensible men, we ought to be doubly cautious of talking too much, lest we lose two good things — their good opinion and our own improvement; for what we have to say we know, but what they have to say we know not.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

LORDS AS MUSICIANS.

Many Peers can make a living by Singing.

The recent announcement that Lord Wolverhampton has achieved considerable distinction in the musical world by composing several tuneful songs, although he has never studied music and plays only by ear, reminds one of the accomplishments of Lord Kinnoull, who plays both organ and piano beautifully, and composes and sings well. It was he who composed the hymn that was sung by the choir on the occasion of his marriage in 1903. Lady Kinnoull, by the way, is an expert violinist. Then there are Lord Tollemache, who is a good 'cellist, and Lord Shaftesbury, who possesses a magnificent tenor voice which is often heard in church, and which once led an enterprising American impresario to offer his lordship $150,000 to go on a concert tour through the United States.

Tit for Tat.

The following funny incident happened in one of the largest Edinburgh auction-rooms. A big, stout lady, apparently of the broker class, had ensconced herself comfortably in an arm-chair, and in due course began bidding for a table, on which a tired-looking man, for want of something to sit upon, affectionately leant. Competition was brisk, but in the end the table was knocked down to the stout lady, who no sooner recognized that it was now her property than, stretching out her arm, she sharply rapped her knuckles on it, exclaiming: —

"Hey, man!"

But the tired-looking man paid no attention, so she next poked him with her umbrella, and said, with greater asperity than ever: —

"Lean of that table, will you? It's my property, and you'll scratch it."

The leaner regarder her fixedly for a moment or two, but did as requested. He did more, however; for, pulling a scrap of paper from his pocket, he put it under the lady's nose with the quiet remark: —

"D'ye see that number there, mam? And d'ye see that?" and he next indicated a corresponding number on the arm-chair she was seated on. "Well, then," he continued, when she had acquiesced, with a wondering nod of the head, "git off; it's my chair and I want to sit down."

And off she had to get.

A Division of Labor.

Bobby had been unusually quiet for several hours, so quiet, indeed, that his mother began to worry over the great quantities of stillness that came from the room in which he was sitting. Finally, unable to stand the strain any longer, she rose up from her work and went into the nursery.

"What are you doing, Bobby?" she said, as she discovered the little chap curled up in a chair with a very solemn expression on his face.

"Thinkin 'and wishin'," replied Bobby.

"What about, dear?" asked his mother.

"I was thinkin' how nice it would be if I was twins," he answered. "Then the other one could do the studyin' at school and I could stay home and play; and then, when I did something naughty, why you could spank him. When I was sick he could take the castor oil, and"——

"And when you had some candy, what then?" asked his mother.

"Oh, I'd eat it," said Bobby. "It wouldn't do for me to let him get sick."

Antique Things and Antique Minds.

Antique things are for antique minds. The mind that is capable of being attracted to antiques ought to be steam-cleaned, overhauled, tarpapered, and laid away in moth balls in a musty attic, filled with love letters, and family skeletons. There it should be felt until the family moves, when it should be thrown into a pile with other truck, from whence it goes to form the substratum of some new real-estate allotment but recently reclaimed from pulsing tides or stagnant swamps.

An antique mind should not be put in an insane asylum. Such an environment would be altogether too rational. On the other hand, there is some hope for the mind that is satisfied with modern things made in imitation of the antique. That is to say, any mind that doesn't look beyond the label is a material assistance to business. If you must lean toward antiques, do not be too particular about the age of the articles offered.

They Couldn't Kill this Boy.

The young man was told that the ranches of the West were fine places in which alcohol and rum could be worked out of the human system. He journeyed forth and accosted a ranch owner with this: "I'm the swiftest fellow you ever saw. I was known as the swiftest thing on Broadway. Give me a job!" The ranch owner looked him over, had a fit of hysterics, and decided to get rid of him by giving him a job big enough to kill him. "There's a flock of sheep, two hundred of them," he said. "Go out there and drive them into that corral you see a mile away. When you've done that I'll give you a real job." In fifty minutes the Swiftest Thing came back and reported: "I've got 'em all in — two hundred sheep, and nine lambs." "There ain't any lambs," objected the ranchman. "Come and see," suggested the Broadway racer "I know. I rounded them up." The ranchman went and took a look. The swiftest thing on Broadway had driven into the corral the two hundred sheep and nine jack-rabbits.

CAUCUS NEXT TUESDAY.

A Government caucus is called for Tuesday. The Conservatives may have a caucus on the same day. Views and opinions will be sounded then, and the exact course probably determined, but meanwhile it looks like a fight with the culmination as repeatedly forecasted. To-day, on the motion to go into committee, the Vancouver Chinese Immigration-fraud will likely be brought up.

ROCKEFELLER AND THE GOAT.

No betting for John D. if he could help it.

John D. Rockefeller does not possess quite enough money to keep him from being afraid of a common, ordinary, garden variety of goat. On one occasion, when he was walking along one of the country roads just outside of Augusta, Georgia, where he spends every spring, he overtook a little girl who was driving a goat hitched to a cart.

Walking beside the cart was a young woman who had taken the little girl out for the ride, and it was with the young woman that Mr. Rockefeller talked.

"I used to drive a goat myself," he volunteered, in explanation of his interest in this one. "Where did you get it?"

He was told that the goat and cart had been hired. By this time the rich man had taken his stand in front of the goat and was leaning reflectively on his cane.

"Does he kick?" was the next question.

"Oh, no, sir," cut in the little girl. "He doesn't kick, but he butts something awful."

That was enough for in that moment Mr. Rockefeller destroyed the popular idea that he is infirm and feeble. He displayed all the agility of a youth of eighteen by making one leap, that took him from in front of the butting goat to the gully beside the road. And there he stayed until the little girl drove on.

Rise Immediately after Waking.

Get up immediately after waking, says a physician. Do not stay in bed, falling into a half unconscious state. When you are up go through a few light exercises without bells or clubs. Now have a bath, cold if it does not disagree with you, slightly tepid otherwise. Dry thoroughly and use such vigor leisurely. If you do not experience any giddiness, confusion of ideas, palpitation of the heart or nervousness during or after this meal you may continue with it. But should there be one or more of these symptoms there is something in the meal that disagrees. Tea, coffee or cocoa may be responsible, or it may be the heat of the fod, or even the odor-laden atmosphere of the room. The body is never in such a low state of vitality as during sleep, and at no period of the active day is it so weak as just after waking. Do not hurry; do not fill the stomach with irritants; do not indulge in tasks of strength, do not poison it with an impure atmosphere. Thousands of people have found physical salvation in cool, pure air, cool cleansing and a cold, light meal.

Just His Luck.

The lady bather had got into a hole, and she couldn't swim. Nor could the young man on the end of the pier; but when she came up for the first time and he caught sight of her face he shrieked: —

"Help!"

A burly fisherman sauntered to his side.

"Wot's up?" he hoarsely cried.

"My wife! Drowning! I can't swim! Twenty pounds for you if you save her!"

In a moment the fisherman was in the sea. In another moment he was out of it, with the rescued lady bather. Swelling with expectation he approached the young man again.

"Well, what about the twenty quid?" he asked.

But if the young man's face had been ashen grey before, it was now deadly pale as he gazed upon the features of the recovering dame.

"Y-e-s, I know!" he gasped. "But when I made the offer I thought it was my wife who was drowning, and now — now it turns out it was my wife's mother!"

The fisherman pulled a long face.

"Just my luck!" he muttered, thrusting his hand into his trousers-pocket. "How much do I owe you?"

The Principles of Life.

Whoever studies the principles of of life finds in them a unity which binds together all events, all industries, all joys, sorrows, and interests, and enables him to use them for the good end of improvement. They are not ends in themselves, but means to something higher; they are not life itself, but methods by which we are able to accumulate life. The child looks at each lesson as a separate task to be learned for its own sake; but the mature student sees running through all his studies and connecting them the higher purpose of mental development. So the shallow and thoughtless look at each circumstance of life as something to be welcomed or regreted for itself alone; but the wise man or woman sees that through them all runs a deep principle, the development of true manhood and womanhood and that only as that principle is upheld and cherished can the real value of external experiences be extracted.

Hint for the Laundry.

Articles that have been put away rough dried, when required again are often extremely tiresome to iron owing to the difficulty of getting them properly damped. If, however, they are well sprinkled, rolled up tightly wrapped in a damp cloth, and then in a newspaper, and placed for a few minutes in a cool oven with the door open, the heat will cause the steam to rise through the material, and thoroughly soften it, and the articles can then be ironed with perfect ease.

Sudden Rise in Real Estate.

He bought when real estate was low,
Then hoped that it would rise.
A workman dropped some dynamite;
It did — to his surprise.

Most beautiful women are born without hearts, to lure men to madness... It's a merciful provision of nature. If they grieved over every man whose life they spoilt their whole existence would be one long grief.

A Quick Choice.

It is related of a certain Canadian artist, of considerable means, that he suddenly decided to buy an automobile. Accordingly, he telephoned to the first firm of dealers he thought of to send up a machine at a reasonable price. When the machine drew up outside the door the artist climbed in with a curt "You'll find a cheque on the hall table, fill it in and go."

Deranged Kidney Action

CAUSES FLORID SKIN BLOTCHES, FLUSHINGS.

Mrs. Conrad Schmid, Hamilton, discovered what a great many women would like to know, the cause of redness, that unlike natural healthy color suffuses the entire face. It is humiliating indeed to a refined person to always present the appearance with "dram drinking." In writing of her case, Mrs. Schmid says: "Cosmetiques and local applications were quite useless. By reason of an aching pain in the back I was recommended by a friend to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills to relieve my kidneys. I discovered that failure of the kidneys to remove matter from the blood was the cause of my heightened color. Dr. Hamilton's Pills at once removed the cause of the pain and gave me a complexion that most young girls might envy. I have the most satisfactory proof that Dr. Hamilton's Pills not only regulate the organs but purify the blood thoroughly."

No other medicine will so quickly clear the skin, cure pimples, eruptions and all blemishes. For general family use, as a blood cleanser and tonic laxative, Dr. Hamilton's Pills can't be excelled. Beware of substitutes. All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills. 25c per box, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

Launches Not Using Lights.

Complaints have reached The Times regarding the number of gasoline launches that do not display lights after dark. It is said that it is really unsafe to be out in a canoe or skiff in the neighborhood of Crawford Grove after nightfall. The law requires all launches to carry lights at night. There is a heavy penalty for not doing so.

Dividend is a Year.

An announcement has just been made that will not please the York Loan investors, many of whom belong to Peterborough city and county. PUBLIC OPINION spine excommunication and say that the bolt is powerless. . . . so the only remedy is to send them to their own place."

I feel it necessary again to remind your readers that these quotations are not from an ancient document dealing with obsolete claims, but an authoritative text book on ecclesiastical law for the present time, to be studied and appropriated by students for the priesthood. It boldly declares: "It is a Catholic doctrine that the Church may justly inflict upon heretics the penalty of death," and appeals to history to support this pretension in the following significant language: "With this agree the theological faculty of Paris. It says 'Since it is a Catholic tenet which must be faithfully held that the extreme penalty not only may, but must, be inflicted on obstinate heretics.' The contrary opinion is an error of the Cathari, the Waldenses and Luther, and has been condemned by general councils and imperial laws."

It is well that the Protestant world should understand the changing character of Romanism; that it is the same old intolerant persecuting hierarchy that only lacks the opportunity to put into force the awful canons that De Luca and the present Pope claim for Rome as a divine right. I challenge Father Burke to deny the correctness of a single quotation herein set forth.

RECIPROCITY MEASURE PASSED BY THE SENATE AT WASHINGTON, 2 TO 1

THE MEASURE WENT THROUGH UPPER HOUSE IN THE SAME FORM AS IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Amendment After Amendment Was Voted Down by Overwhelming Majorities—Vote Stood 53 to 27.

Washington, July 22.—President Taft's pet project, the Canadian reciprocity agreement went through the Senate this afternoon without amendment by a vote of 53 to 27. With the signature of the President expected to be added next Wednesday, the agreement will become a law and the legislation for which the extra session of Congress was convened will be completed.

The way for the passage of the bill was cleared by the defeating of amendments as fast as they were presented. The first to come up was that of Senator McCumber, of North Dakota, reducing duties on many necessaries of life, and increasing the free list. It was defeated, 16 to 64, and that was indicative of all the votes on the amendments.

The Nelson amendment restoring half of the duty on grains and farm products, made free in the reciprocity bill, was then defeated 23 to 56.

An amendment by Senator Simmon of North Carolina, putting fresh meats and meat products on the free list in the reciprocity bill was defeated, 16 to 64.

FLOUR AND CEREAL AMENDMENT DEFEATED.

Senator Simmon then offered his amendment to put flour and cereal products on the reciprocity free list, and it was defeated, 17 to 63.

The Cummins' amendments then were taken up. The first, reducing the duty on various steel products, was defeated 17 to 64. That reducing the duty on oil cloth and linoleums, was defeated on a viva voce vote.

Senator Lafollette then called up his amendment, comprising a general revision of the woolen tariff. It also was defeated by 16 to 61.

140 DEGREES IN DEATH VALLEY

San Bernardino, Cal., July 22.—All records for high temperature on the Mojave desert were broken early in the week, when the thermometer reached 140 degrees at Salt Basin in Death Valley.

All residents of the region were forced to leave. The reports of the terrific heat was brought here yesterday by Frank Fexton, who said he was one of the last to leave the Valley. At no time, day or night, during the past week, he said, did the mercury drop below 100 and one night, at midnight, it registered 112.

A WARNING TO GERMANY

His Remarks are Taken as a Warning to Germany in Moroccо Situation.

London, July 22.—English business and political circles are extremely pessimistic to-day over the outlook in the Moroccan situation. Chancellor David Lloyd George's statement at the Lord Mayor's banquet last night that he favored peace, "but not at the price of sacrificing the great place and prestige among the powers England has won by centuries of heroism," is everywhere interpreted as a warning to Germany, and an indication that the Government proposes to take a firm stand. The Chancellor's speech had the effect to-day of starting many disquieting rumors.

NEW FRENCH PAPER SAYS IT WILL FIGHT TO THE END

Ottawa, July 22.—La Concorde, a new Ottawa French weekly paper, has made its initial appearance.

If sufficiently encouraged, the editors say the paper will become a daily. Its object is to vindicate and defend the rights of the French-Canadian people.

"People whom Rome has dignified with the mitre," it says, "have openly declared war against us. Ecclesiastical dignitaries have sworn death to the teachings of French in Ontario. Whatever may be the place which these people occupy in the clergy, whatever the color of their suitaries, we will meet them on their way and defend, without fear, all the rights we have and which are guaranteed by the constitution. As our names indicate we wish concord in the country, union between races, but we do not wish it to the detriment of justice, and we will fight to the end without sacrificing one of our rights."

INQUEST ADJOURNED.

The Death of Mrs. Thomas Harrison to be Inquired Into.

At the inquest to inquire into the death of Mrs. Thomas Harrison, lot 3, con. 8, North Monaghan, which occurred on Friday morning, opened at 10 o'clock Saturday morning in Fraserville, conducted by Coroner Dr. Greer, of this city.

It appears from the statements of several parties well acquainted with the deceased and her husband, that some financial trouble was instrumental in causing the circumstances leading to her death.

It is reported also that a writ was issued against her husband for the sum of $635.00 by the Bank of Toronto and that a writ to recover another sum of money had also been issued against his wife.

The jury was empannelled, and after viewing the body, a post mortem was ordered. The contents of the stomach was sent to Toronto for analysis. The inquest adjourned to meet again at Fraserville on Monday next, 31st instant.

THREE KILLED 24 INJURED

Patterson, N.J., July 22.—Two high speed trolley cars travelling in opposite directions on a single track met yesterday afternoon on the edge of a curve near Ridgewood, seven miles from here, and in the resultant crash three persons lost their lives, and twenty-four others sustained serious injuries.

PUBLIC OPINION

The Times does not hold itself responsible for opinions of its correspondents.

A FILTHY HABIT.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I would make complaint through The Times of a filthy habit some thoughtless men indulge in, namely, expectorating through the windows of the open cars when the car is in motion. This practice is fraught with such offensiveness to all those behind that no remote need should exist for even mentioning the fact. To think of ladies getting the "benefit" of all the foul expectorant, which the wind cannot carry off, must incense every gentleman to the last degree. Those who must be continually spitting out of open cars should either take the back seat or carry along their own private spittoons.

Disgust.

EX-WARDEN SCOTT'S PLAIN LANGUAGE.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I notice by the report in the Review that the Conservative convention was conducted in such a fair and harmonious way it would lead the public to believe it was true. As you were aware the convention was called for the 18th at 8 o'clock. Promptly on time, that rated hot air tank, the Czar of the Conservatives of West Peterborough, before whom all knees must bow, all tongues confess, Sir James Kendry, took the chair and the meeting was opened for business. After the election of officers, and after I had been fired out of the office of Third Vice-President, for reasons unknown to myself, but known to the gang who were after me, they proceeded to move some resolutions to nominate candidates for the Dominion and then for the local. After nominating the great Priest Exterminator for the Dominion, they started their dirty work. Mr. Bradburn was then nominated by the stalwart Mr. Moore, who gave him the floor and before sitting down after declining the nomination. Sir James said he would give five minutes for each nomination. Did he do so? I guess not. Before my mover had time to think, they moved Mr. Peck, a gentleman who is too good to mingle with them. They say they waited three minutes, but I say they lie and I can prove it. They only waited about one minute, when one of the machine moved that the nominations be closed, and the Czar, who was standing waiting for the word, never waiting for a seconder, declared the motion carried. My mover, Mr. Harry Garbutt, was trying to be heard, but the bowling mob drowned his voice and R. N. Scott's nomination was down and out as far as they were concerned. I was informed since by two prominent residents of the city that they knew two weeks ago that they had it fixed for me, because I was too friendly with some prominent reformers, and I believe it. They must have had several rehearsals as every one knew his niece and his place, and to the right time to do it. Now, I have worked hard and supported Sir James Kendry and his party for 35 years, but I am done with them now. They will never get another vote from me or anybody I can influence. I do not intend to take further notice of what they may say, as they are too dirty for an honest man to deal with. Thanking you for the space in your valuable paper I remain.

Yours truly.

Robert N. Scott.

"WATCH THE RIVER."

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—Some time ago (about the 22nd of May, I think) there appeared a letter in one of your evening contemporaries asking the ratepayers to "Watch the River" and note how little water would be available for power during the summer months. I have been doing this, and I find up to date (and it is now past midsummer) that thousands of horse power is going to waste on account of there being too much water. It is running

WAITING FOR FRANCE TO SIGN PEACE TREATY.

Washington, July 21.—Events are shaping so that it would not be surprising if the delays arising in the closing days of the negotiations in the general arbitration treaty should make it impossible to conclude them before Mr. Taft leaves for his summer home in Beverley, Mass. Although the British Government has already practically given its assent to the treaty, it is the wish of the President and of Secretary of State Knox that this important agreement be given a truly international character, which can be had only by the adherence of more than two of the great powers. This desire has been made known to the French Government and Ambassador Jusserand, now in Paris, is laboring to induce his Foreign Office to give its assent to the adherence of France. If this is assured in the immediate future it is entirely possible that the ceremony of signing the treaty will be deferred long enough to permit Mr. Jusserand to hasten to America to place his name upon it.

LIBERAL CONVENTION SATURDAY, AUGUST 5TH

A meeting of the executive of the Liberal Association took place at O'Connell & Gordon's law office on Saturday evening, which was attended by nearly all the leading Liberals in this city. The matters informally discussed had to do chiefly with the selection of a candidate to contest the riding for the House of Commons. From what The Times could learn there is no certainty that the Hon. J. R. Stratton will again be the party's candidate. In fact it is more than probable that he will not, in which event Wr. R. R. Hall, ex-M.P., will assuredly get the nomination. The matter will, however, be decided at the big convention, which will take place in the Grand Opera House on Saturday, August 5, at 2 o'clock p.m.

ASQUITH SEES THE KING, LORDS TO MAKE A FINAL STAND FOR AMENDMENTS

PREMIER SPENT HALF AN HOUR AT BUCKINGHAM PALACE MAKING FINAL ARRANGEMENTS.

For The Creation of New Peers If the Necessity Arises—The "Stand-Patters" are Still, in Fighting Mood.

London, July 22.—Premier Asquith had an audience of a half an hour with King George at Buckingham Palace to-day, when he placed before his Majesty the Government's views on the latest phase of the political crisis and made final arrangements to meet the possible contingency that action by the insurgent Unionist peers necessitates the creation of new members of the House of Lords.

That the "Stand-Patters" are still in a fighting mood is shown by a trumpet blast from Frederick E. Smith, Unionist member of the House of Commons for the Waltham division of Liverpool, summoning the Lords and members of the Lower Chamber to a public dinner next Wednesday, in honor of the Earl of Halsbury. The banquet is to be given it is proclaimed, "in recognition of the services that he has rendered to the State in the present crisis, and to support him in a determination to insist upon Lord Lansdowne's amendment to the Veto bill as the last remaining safe-guard in the constitution for consulting the nation in a matter of the gravest national importance."

The Earl of Selbourne will preside at the dinner.

ENGINEER HOLGATE.

A despatch to the Toronto Globe from the Canadian Press Association says: "Mr. Henry Holgate, who has been associated with Mr. Robert A. Ross for the past ten years, has joined the Cedar Rapids Power Company, and will take over the control of that concern as President."

Mr. Holgate is the city's expert adviser in connection with the proposed civic power plant.

25 START IN THE BIG RACE

Brooklands, Eng., July 22.—The competitors in the circuit of Great Britain aeroplane race for a prize of $50,000 offered by the Daily Mail of London, started from here at four o'clock sharp this afternoon. Lieut. Beaumont, the French airman and winner of the recent European contest, was the first to get away for Hendon, where the first day's flight of twenty miles ended. Seven nationalities are represented by the racers.

CLIFFORD, OF TORONTO, WON THE KING'S PRIZE

Bisley, Eng., July 22.—Private Clifford of Canada won the King's Prize at to-day's shooting with an aggregate score of 319 out of a possible 365. He takes the King's Prize of $1,250, the National Association's gold medal, and a gold badge.

TOO HOARSE TO SPEAK

An American Doctor Tells of the Grand Results Achieved With "Nerviline."

"I had a patient with Quinsy that I found great difficulty in curing," states Dr. Wilson. "Every time he caught cold or got chilled he suffered intensely from sore throat, hoarseness, throat and chest soreness. After every attack his throat and chest seemed more sensitive. This patient lived in the country, and couldn't come to the city for treatment. I concluded that the best remedy would be an honest liniment, and because of its enormous sale and well-known merit, I advised 'Nerviline.' Morning, noon and night Nerviline was rubbed over the neck and chest, and once a day diluted with water it was used as a gargle. In a day or two my patient reported an improvement, and by continuing the treatment with Nerviline he was cured. I can recommend Nerviline for breaking up colds, for chest tightness, throat inflammation, quinsy, tonsilitis and similar conditions."

Not a druggist or doctor who has examined the formula of Nerviline, who won't tell you how good it is—why it contains the best medicaments known to science and for general family use has no equal.

CARRIED FROM BED TO GIVE HIS EVIDENCE

Richmond, Va., July 22.—Guarded by two score policemen and carried from his hospital bed to the home of Coroner Loving, Paul Beattie this afternoon identified the shotgun with which, the police say, Henry Clay Beattie, jr., killed his beautiful young wife, and swore before the coroner's jury that he bought it for the accused man, who waited around the corner when he went to a pawn shop, where it was obtained.

Then Paul Beattie, half crazed with fear and a nervous wreck, threw up his arms and fainted. The coroner had to adjourn the hearing while the boy who gave the evidence against his own cousin was carried into the house.

Henry Clay Beattie, jr., was guarded by a cordon of police and two scores of special deputies kept back the crowd. The police feared it would be impossible to prevent violence so high did the feeling run.

The prominence of all concerned and the deep sympathy for the murdered girl-mother, who was a belle in Richmond's most exclusive society, brought out leading citizens from Richmond and the surrounding counties. It was no ordinary mob that gathered about the coroner's home, and struggled to get through the ropes which the police stretched about the lawn. Men and women prominent in business and society were there and the police admitted that they had never seen such a demonstration of feelin

Don't Be Discouraged.

A very large proportion of the suffering that afflicts mankind proceeds from the simple feeling of discouragement Besides the misery which it inflicts, there is the palsying effect it exerts on all human effort. As long as hope reigns in the heart, no exertion seems too great; it is when hope sinks away and despondency takes its place that labour of head or hand languishes.

FRENCH POSTAL BANKS.

People of France More Provident than Anglo-Saxons.

The record of the postal savings bank system in France has been one of continued progress. In 1882, when this institution was established, the total number of postal banks in operation was 9024, with 211,580 deposit accounts remaining open at the close of the year. These accounts, including interest due to depositors, amounted to $9,187,116, the average sum of the deposits being $43.41. On December 31, 1909, the latest year for which complete statistics are available, the number of banks had increased by nearly 2,000, the deposit accounts numbered 5,542,882, and the deposits, including interest, represented an aggregate amount of $216,456,866, averaging $37.08.

The expenses of administration during 1909 amounted to $1,504,678 and the net profits to $526,784. It may be recalled that individual accounts are limited by law to 1500 francs ($289.50). When an account exceeds [illegible] by the bank in national bonds. The total value of the bonds purchased in 1909 was $2,080,575. The withdrawals, including these purchases, amounted to $104,916,150.

The Face and the Clock.

Miss Passee tittered.

"The dear little fellow is going to try an experiment!" she gushed. "How clever of him!"

While Miss Passee was speaking, Tommy had carefully placed the clock on the table in front of her. With a mysterious gesture he laid his finger on his lips and enjoined silence. No one stirred.

After about two minutes, Tommy's strained expression relaxed, and he clapped his hands in exultation.

"It goes!" he cried, triumphantly. "It goes! You were wrong, papa!"

"Of course it goes, child," laughed Miss Passee. "What made your father think it wouldn't?"

"Well," replied the little fellow, simply, "he said your face would stop a clock!"

Parasites in Business.

Every class of business accumulates a parasitic growth of traditions and customs as it grows older Banking, for instance, has its customs or etiquette, which, in the case of the older banks hide-bound by this "professional etiquette," effectively prevents anything like a rapid expansion of business Many other classes of business, again, are only just now waking up to the possibilities of advertising and finding out how much they have lost in past years by not using this force.

Circumstantial Evidence.

—The late Lord Young of the Scottish bench was responsible for enlivening many a dull case. One of the remarks that fell from his lips was the reply to a counsel who urged on behalf of a plaintiff of very bibulous appearance: "My client, my lord, is a most remarkable man, and holds a very responsible position; he is manager of some water works."

Our Four Great Railways.

The United States had thirty million people before the country was connected by railway from ocean to ocean. Four years from now, when Canada's population will probably approximate ten millions, we will have four transcontinental railway systems. And no one doubts that there will be traffic for all of them if we maintain our fiscal independence and encourage interprovincial trade. If the Canadian Northern and Grand Trunk Pacific Railways do as much to develop Canada and advertise it through the world as the Canadian Pacific Railway has done the progress of Canada during the next twenty-five years will surpass that of the United States in any twenty-five years of its history.

Reason for His Hit.

"I made a great hit at the banquet last night. Came off with a good deal of distinction, in fact."

"I didn't know you ever spoke at banquets."

"I don't. I was the only one there who absolutely declined."

Not Loaded.

No other language under the sun is open to so many interpretations as the English language, as witness the conversation between two Sharon Hill girls the other evening

"Oh, May," said the first one, "Jim and Bill tried to fight a duel over me."

"How romantic! What happened?"

"It was terrible I came into the room, and those foolish boys were pointing big pistols at each other!"

"Pistols? Heavens! were they loaded?"

"Not a bit. That is just what made it really very serious. They both were sober."

A meeting of the Farmers' Bank depositors has been called at Lindsay in August. There was a branch of that institution in Lindsay.

DANGER OF CHOLERA IN AMERICAN CONTINENT.

Washington, July 17.—That there was a grave danger of Asiatic cholera gaining a foothold in this country, was the opinion expressed by Surgeon-General Walter Wyman, of the Public Health and Marine Hospital Service to-day.

"I am not an alarmist, but I cannot deny that there is imminent danger," he said. "We are doing everything in our power, but there is a chance that the cholera may spread despite our efforts."

Several more marine hospital experts were sent to New York to-day to aid in the cholera work there.

How all the pleasures of Society ale before practising the art of making the truth appear unlike, which is called intrigue.

The agricultural idea of a lady is someone who has had nothing to do with farming and rural life, just as his ideal gentleman is a retired shopkeeper.

It is a wise woman who refrains from inducing her husband to bring the atmosphere of his club home with him.

"From the vulgarity of aptoriety good Lord deliver us" should be your morning and evening prayer.

Nothing is more garrulous than an old woman, except a Company Promoter's wife after her first drawing-room.

WHY ARE THE LARGE INVESTORS ALL OVER CANADA AND THE UNITED STATES BUYING MONTREAL REAL ESTATE?

If Western land or speculative stocks were considered better,--is it reasonable to suppose that these careful financiers whose knowledge of Canadian conditions is beyond a doubt-would buy Montreal Real Estate?

To the men of good judgment,--these questions do not require an answer.

YOU KNOW Montreal is the largest City in the Dominion.

YOU KNOW that the population is increasing yearly at the rate of about 50,000.

YOU KNOW these people have to have homes.

Taking the above facts into consideration, what do you consider, looking in the most conservative way possible, ANGUS PARK LOTS will be worth in four years' time?

Taking the past advances in MONTREAL REAL ESTATE as an example, these lots will be worth over a hundred per cent. (100 per cent.) more in that time.

We have a limited number of lots situated on ANGUS PARK BOULEVARD, which we can offer you at to-day's low prices, and on terms that will not cripple your finances, and by the time your lots are fully paid for you will have saved not only the cost of the land but the increase in value, thereby making your investment many hundred per cent. (100 per cent.) better than a Savings Bank account and much safer.

Do not delay till this opportunity has escaped you, but call in and see us, or drop us a line and we will send you full particulars together with our application forms. The prices range from $100 per lot upwards and the terms 10 per cent. cash, and the balance 10 per cent. every three months without interest.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

KING EDWARD VACUM CLEANER

You cannot clean carpets, rugs and furniture by beating. If you think you have, just try a KING EDWARD VACUUM CLEANER and you will find the article full of dust, which breeds disease.

The KING EDWARD HAND MACHINE has no equal as compared with other hand machines. It is lighter to operate and its suction is much stronger. Its suction is stronger than many of the power machines, and the dusting is done away with. On account of the short stroke one person can operate it on carpets and rugs equally as well as two, and it is about half the weight of other hand machines to carry up and down stairs or from one room to another. It is sold for less money than any of the hand machines. All machines are guaranteed.

Reason Why Persons Do Not Keep on Growing.

Six pounds and a half is the weight of the average child at birth; at the end of the first year the average weight is eighteen pounds and a half, a gain of twelve pounds; and at the end of the second year the weight is twenty-three pounds, a gain of only four pounds and a half. And with each successive year the gain is less and less until maturity is reached. Why is the gain less each year? And why does it finally cease altogether?

The reason is that the absorbing surfaces inside the stomach and intestine do not, and in the nature of things cannot, grow proportionately to the growth of the body as a whole. During the first year of growth the child's body becomes approximately three times as large as it was at birth, but the interior of the stomach and bowel of the child at the age of one year is not even twice as large as it was at birth, let alone three times as large. Yet all the nourishment which supplies materials for growth has to be absorbed by the membrane which lines the insid of the stomach, and especially the small intestine. It is, therefore, plain that growth of the body as a whole must gradually subside as the tissues to be nourished gradually approach a size at which their demands balance the utmost supply of nutrition taken up by the stomach and intestine.

The civic tax rate in Lindsay is 30 mills on the dollar. But this does not mean that the citizens of that good town pays a higher rate than is paid in Peterborough. It is largely a matter of value and of high or low assessment.

THE STANDING ALIBI OF
H. STANLEIGH STORME
(Copyright by Publishers Press Ltd).
(By Wm. Hamilton Osborne).

"For heaven's sake!" he exclaimed wildly, "you are not going to let that man go! Your honor, I will be heard—I must be heard,' he cried insistently "I am not——"

"Silence!" roared the judge again. "Sir, if you interrupt the course of this proceeding in this manner again," he continued severely. "I'll have you bound and gagged. You have counsel. You will have an opportunity to be heard when your time comes. But you must not interrupt the court."

The man who had passed down the center aisle smiled slightly to himself, and then stepped out through the doors. The prisoner took his seat with a resigned air.

"Let it be upon your own head then, your honor," he said quietly, "it matters but little to me."

"Proceed," went on the judge, ignoring him.

"That's our case," said the district attorney with a note of triumph in his voice. "We rest."

"Proceed with the defense," exclaimed the judge.

Now the counsel for the prisoner had been doing some tall thinking during the testimony of the last witness, and in spite of the startling nature of the evidence he was pretty well prepared.

He knew one thing—than the resemblance between the two men, having deceived many people before, would constitute a strong argument with the jury in the defendant's favor. For it was just as likely that the witness Warburton had robbed the bank as it was that the prisoner himself had done so

He had a dim recollection of the capital that had been made out of the resemblance of Charles Darnay and Sydney Carton in Dickens' "Tale of Two Cities," and he purposed to avail himself of a similar advantage here The more he thought of it the better he liked it.

He had had ,of course, no inkling of this from his client, and he had been unable to prepare himself for it. In fact, his client's whole demeanor had changed from the instant the other man had appeared. He had ignored his counsel and kept his eyes fixed upon the witness and the court. He had not even confided to his counsel what it was he had wished to say.

But the lawyer was pretty sure from the present insistent attitude of the prisoner that he could trust him without further preparation on the stand. His client was no fool.

He touched the prisoner on the arm.

"You take the stand," he said.

The prisoner looked at him, but did not move.

"You heard your counsel," said the judge with some asperity. "Take the witness stand."

The man obeyed [illegible] lately sworn.

"Mr Storme," said his [illegible] you tell the jury——"

"Wait a minute," said the [illegible] the witness stand, interrupting [illegible] with a gesture, "you have made a mistake—my name is not Storme."

"What!" exclaimed his counsel, unprepared for this.

"What!" repeated the judge. "Do you mean to say, sir, that the name Storme is an alias?"

The judge, from his manner, was unquestionably convinced of the man's guilt.

"I mean," replied the man in a loud, firm voice, looking the judge squarely in the face, "that my name is not Storme—that I am not H. Stanleigh Storme—that I am not the prisoner."

"Whata that? What's that?" cried the prosecutor. "Not the prisoner? What in God's name do you mean, sir?"

"I mean," replied the other, "just what I say. H. Stanleigh Storme, the prisoner, is the man who has just left the witness stand, and who has left the court. I tried to tell you time and time again that the man who took the stand was the prisoner himself, but you wouldn't listen to me

"He was the prisoner, the criminal, the bank robber himself, and you never knew it. He knew that I was coming here to take the stand against him—though I had told no one but him—and he took the stand in my place and told my story—the story that I meant to tell—that I would have told. He knew it just as well as I did, and he could tell it better."

"I don't believe it!" exclaimed the prosecutor. "Your honor, it is a mere

FALSE IDEALS

"Grabali Too Often the Height of Ambition.

False ideals of happiness haunt the ways of men and lead them on to danger and destruction through the siren song of fantasy. One markes his of wealth 'He has enough now for all the purposes of refined living; but he wants that extra ,that margin, by which enough may be broadened out into excess, and refinement may be made to include frantic luxury and insolent ostentation. "When I have so much, I shall be content," he says to himself. But he is never content. If he gets a hundred thousand pounds, he wants two; if two, three; and so on till he covets a million which then, when compassed, shall positively be the term and boundary of his desires. But the million spreads out and rolls on, as the hundred thousand had done before it.

Rousing Response.

At a Toronto theatre not long since the curtain rose on an empty stage in the second act of a play, and by and by a meek-looking young man with a dust-coat slung over his arm came on and loudly called, "Uncle! uncle!"

According to the book of the play he should have received no answer to his call, and after an appropriate pause he should have gone on with the monologue. But a graceless "god" in the gallery took upon himself to answer the actor.

"All right, I'm coming in a moment; how much do you want on it?" he shouted.

The effect on the audience may be imagined.

Japan has Cheapest Postal Service.

Japan has the cheapest postal service in the world. Letters are carried all over the empire for two sen, about seven-tenths of a cent. This is the more remarkable when we consider the difficulties of transportation over a mountainous and irregular country that has only about a hundred miles of railway, while only a few of the chief roads can be used for wagons and the steamships connect only a small number of stations on the coast.

We Eat Too Much.

To rise from the table able to eat a little more is a proverbially good rule for every one. There is nothing more idiotic than forcing down a few mouthfuls because they happen to remain on one's plate after hunger is satisfied, and because they may be "wasted" if left. It is the most serious waste to overtax the stomach with even half an ounc more than it can take care of.

Summer Evening Wraps.

Evening wraps are unusually novel this season, the great vogue for sheer materials finding a happy expression in these more elaborate garments. Marquisette wraps are the latest novelties, and while exorbitant prices are asked for them in the smart shops, there is no reason why any woman could not fashion one herself, or at least plan one and have it made at very little expense.

Black, white, Alice blue, gray, gold color and king's blue are good colors for these little wraps. Many of them are cut on extremely simple lines, with the kimono sleeve and plain back and front. There seems to be no attempt to fasten these garments. They are cut so that the front just meet, and are apparently designed to hang free.

Small Heads Dont Mean Small Brains.

The fact that you take a small size in hats does not necessarily mean that you have a small brain. A man with a small head may be much cleverer than a man with a large one. Moreover, the size of the brain is not everything, since, if undeveloped, it is no more likely to produce anything of value than land which is not fertile. There are people with large heads who display so little intelligence that one almost expects to hear their brains rattle when they move, like a shrivelled kernel in a nut.

Too Much Education a Mistake.

It is a mistake to suppose that a good general education wil secure success in life. No wise man accepts a general invitation to dinner! it involves no particulars. Only a particular education is of practical use. Let the boys be educated for something particular — lawyers, doctors, clergymen, printers, merchants, tradesmen — only something definite. No hands are so often idle as those which are supposed by the owners — and by no one else — fit to "turn to anything."

Expecting Much.

The sphere of our affections is one in which we are very apt to expect too much from others, and thus to cause bitterness and often estrangement. Where we love we naturally crave to be loved; but this craving if not regulated by reason, is very likely to blossom into a selfish oppression.

A Sewing Machine Wrinkle

A hand sewing-machine is often very apt to slip about on the table. To obviate this, all that is necessary is to place a couple of the old-fashioned gelatine lozenges, slightly moistened, under each corner of the base board In a few seconds the machine will be found to adhere to the table and equal a stand-machine in firmness.

Humility Safest Virtue.

Among all the virtues, humility, the lowest, is pre-eminent. It is the safest, because it is always an anchor; and that man may be truly said to live the most content in his calling who strives to live within the compass of it

New Ladders.

The Fire Department has received two new ladders, 12 and 20 feet in length respectively and are designated for inside work. They are very light, one weighing only 25 pounds. This will be placed in the Chief's rig.

Hay Coming In.

The new hay is rapidly coming in but as yet the price remains steady. It is expected to advance in the near future. The present prices are from $12 to $14 per ton.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

"EVEN IN YOUTH NEVER STRONG"

How the Rich, Happy Possessor of Good Health Which Was Restored by

Dr. Hamilton's Pills

"Even when I was young I was not robust and healthy like other girls. I suffered from headaches and had sort of blue feelings that deprived me of the joyful spirits and pleasures other girls seemed to get. After I married I found I could not throw worries off like other women, and those dull feelings of despondency and weariness made me very unhappy. There was no cause to feel so, and my doctor said my liver was sluggish and this accounted for my poor color, my tiredness, languor and despair. The pills the doctor gave me were too purgative, made me weaker because they were too active for my constitution. Dozens of my friends recommended Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and they were so mild and healthful. Well, I never used a pill that acted so quietly as Dr. Hamilton's. They were so comfortable to use I was afraid they might not help. But in a week I knew they had been actively engaged in cleaning up my system. They did the work of a tonic and blood medicine combined. I improved to a marvellous degree with Dr. Hamilton's Pills and I now maintain the most perfect kind of health by using them just once or twice a week."

It is Mrs. E. V. Erlanger, the wife of Capt. Erlanger, well known at Gloucester, who relates the above experience. She proved what you and all others, men and women, can prove—that Dr. Hamilton's Pills are best for restoring health and best for keeping the system in perfect running order. Don't be misled into using anything but Dr. Hamilton's Pills sold in yellow boxes, 25c. All dealers or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

THE PRISONER FELL IN A FIT

CAMORRIST LEADER THROWN BODILY OUT OF THE COURT ROOM.

Stormy Time at Viterbo—Detective Who Gathered Material Evidence About Camorra Causes a Wild Scene at the Trial.

Viterbo, Italy, July 21.—The most violent scene of the Camorrist trial to date was provoked to-day by a personal dispute between Captain Fabroni and lawyer Lyoys. In the tumult created all the other lawyers fled from the room, Enrico Alfano and Gennaro Abbatemaggio, the informer, were thrown out bodily by the Carabineers, Giavanni Bartolozzi fell in a fit and President Bianchi, helpless to maintain order, declared the session adjourned.

FABRONI STOOD "PAT."

Throughout the hubbub, Fabroni stood "pat" but impulsive. As the courtroom was being cleared, he said:

"The Camorra in or out of the court can't intimidate me."

Fabroni, captain of the Neapolitan carabineers, was assigned by the Ministry of Justice to uproot the Camorra. During the past few days he has told on the stand the results of his destructive work and the operations of his associates, Marshal Capizutti and Marshall Farris. Lawyer Lyoys, attorney for the defence, formerly edited a newspaper. Fabroni has testified that revelations against the Camorra made by Editor Lyoys were not in harmony with the claims set up by lawyer Lyoys in defense of his clients. Bitter personal feeling between the detective and the lawyer has resulted.

When the court opened to-day, Captain Fabroni was asked by Cavalier Santoro the Crown prosecutor, whether the assertion of Zaneli that Marshal Capizutti had tried to influence him to swear falsely against his fellow prisoners were true. Fabroni replied:

ACCUSED THE LAWYER.

"Zaneli is the scum of criminality. Instead it was Lyoys who through Zaneli attempted to buy witnesses for the defense."

This reflection on the lawyer raised the first storm. Lyoys screamed like a mad man. Abbatemeggio notwithstanding the caution of the President joined in the row in support of the Captain. Enrico Alfano, the alleged head of the Camorra, led the others of the accused in a chorus of invectives directed against Fabroni and Abbatemaggio.

The storm grew greater the President vainly strived to head it off. Finally he ordered Abbatemaggio and Alfano removed from the room. They were not disposed to go quietly and continued their cries and curses until seized by carabineers and dragged from the place.

For a little time there was a calm and the President took advantage of the opportunity to admonish all to avoid personalities.

"We should aim only at the triumph of truth as it is directly connected with the trial of this case. We must not go into personalities, he said.

With much feeling Fabroni replied:

"For years I have stood the insults of this man Lyoys without trying him before the courts because I considered him not a criminal but a person whose mental faculties were unbalanced."

LYOYS STORMED.

Other words than these he used would fail to describe the fury of Lyoys to this reflection upon his sanity. The language was not polite. The lawyer concluded by calling the witness a hypocrite.

Fabroni answered promptly:

"A greater hypocrite than yourself does not exist."

The exchange had again stirred the prisoners and opposing counsel and the next disturbance was a storm the fury of that which now followed fairly shook the court. All the lawyers of the defence except Lyoys shouted their indignation. Lyoys jumped about and yelling like a fanatic. No one had supposed that the Neapolitean vocabulary contained such epithets as he hurled at the crowns witnesses.

VANCOUVER'S GREAT BRIDGE PROJECT.

Over the Second Narrow of Burrard Inlet.

Characteristic with the great development of the city of Vancouver and the surrounding municipalities is the new bridge projected over the Second Narrows of Burrard Inlet which will connect the cities of Vancouver and North Vancouver, much the same as New York is connected with Brooklyn. The Second Narrows Bridge Project is now well under way, the necessary assistance having been secured from the Dominion and Provincial Governments as well as from the cities and municipalities benefitted by the bridge, to assure the financing of its construction and the engineers are completing the plans prior to soliciting bids for the actual construction. It is stated that the work on the structure will be started well within the present year. The importance of this bridge to the city of Vancouver and the great effect it will have on the realty values of the North Vancouver side will be understood when it is remembered that the site of the city of Vancouver proper is decidedly limited in area lying as it does between the waters of English Bay, Burrard Inlet and False Creek. The north shore presents one of the finest city sites on the Pacific Coast, with a large water frontage back from which the ground slopes so as to afford admirable drainage as well as easy street grades. The North side approaches of the bridge will lie about two or more miles east of the present city of North Vancouver. Within a short distance of the northern terminus of the proposed bridge is a tract where it is expected a new town will in time grow up. The property in question is named Keith Park, being so named after Mr. J. C. Keith, one of the oldest and heaviest land owners of Vancouver as well as one of the most active and leading citizens of the British Columbia. Keith Park is the junction spot for all North side traffic on account of its location at the junction of the Keith Road (the great east and west artery) and the Pipe Line Road (owned by the city of Vancouver and the north and south artery of the Seymour Creek Valley). When the bridge is opened for business Keith Park will receive great benefits from the large traffic which will immediately ensue. The owners of this property are now offering lots for sale in Keith Park at prices which are far lower than is placed on property of similar character not so advantageously located. It is their intention to sell a portion of this property at the present prices only. Persons seeking a safe and attractive investment in Vancouver should investigate this opportunity. Full information may be secured from the Keith Park Land Co., Ltd., Vancouver, B.C., or through any reliable broker.

Cuba's Grape Fruit Garden of Wealth

Will provide you with an income that will make you independent for life.

Begin right now---do something for yourself. Provide for a time when your earning capacity will be reduced to a minimum. You can make a start by purchasing one or two shares.

Our booklet beautifully illustrated, tells the story--contains interesting facts regarding the Grape Fruit Industry.

The figures are startling but true

When three years old grape-fruit trees begin to bear, the crop continues to increase until the seventh year when the average amounts to between seven and twenty boxes of fruit. Grape-Fruit is usually sold on the trees at a price ranging not less than $1.00 per box. On the Manhattan Estates we will have a grove of over 40,000 trees, and our yearly crop, once maturity is reached, should average 280,000 crates annually. Between the trees we intend cultivating tobacco and pineapples from which a substantial profit will be realized within one year from the time of planting. The British-owned Western Railways run through the Estates, insuring splendid shipping facilities. The officers and directors of this company have implicit faith in this enterprise, and have agreed that no one shall receive one cent of salary until after 25 per cent. dividends have been earned and declared. They are quite willing to wait for their dividends, knowing that their investments will amply repay them.

One Hundred Dollars is enough to insure ease and comfort. Why not inqure today about our special offer.

AN INVESTMENT NOT A SPECULATION

What everybody with an ounce of common sense is on the alert for these days is a sound INVESTMENT and there is as much difference between an investment and a speculation as there is between London and Hong-Kong, although we all don't realize this.

• • • •

Consequently when one takes a chance on a speculative proposition, mistaking it as an investment and comes out of the small end of the horn, he becomes pessimistic and with the tightening of his purse strings to extremes to keep the pennies in just naturally shuts the dollars out.

• • • •

Now then if there were no investors there would be no progress, and with no progress the community would mighty soon become stagnant.

• • • •

The foundation of America, was old Christopher Columbus, he had an idea but was short on ready cash, in other words he was what us modern day folks call a promoter. His idea was feasible, he found co-operation, his plans carried and YOU KNOW THE REST.

• • • •

Like Columbus we are all Pioneers. Not out for our health, but to make money. No man ever saved more than a competence on a salary; few do that. To get a footing on "Easy Street" you have to invest. DOLLARS don't grow in your pockets or in a stocking. They must be put to work. Old Russell Sage said:

"Plant a few in a new country and see how fast they grow."

That's what we are trying to impress on you now and here is the biggest opportunity of this kind that is likely to knock at your door.

• • • •

We are the Pioneers of the fruit and vegetable canning enterprise in the Okanagan Valley and earnestly invite you to co-operate with us.

• • • •

Men at the head of affairs of this corporation are the best known and most highly esteemed gentlemen in British Columbia.

• • • •

Mr. Albert McKillop, our President, has a world wide reputation in the Timber and Timber Land World. (See R. G. Dunn).

• • • •

Mr. Wesley A. Blair, our Secretary and Treasurer, is also Cashier of the Canadian Customs, being the Government's most trusted employee. He handles on an average of $30,000.00 every commercial day of the year, and it was his fertile mind that first saw the possibilities of Canneries on the Coast, in-as-much as tens of thousands of dollars duty pass through his hands for American goods yearly. Bear in mind that there is a 2½c per pound duty on all canned stuff and RECIPROCITY or no RECIPROCITY that will stand.

• • • •

Remember we belong to no combine, have no opposition, and are pioneers in this field.

• • • •

Just think of it, The Dominion Fruit Canners cleared $400,000 last year, approximately 51 per cent. What's going to prevent the Okanagan Canners Ltd., from doing the same.

• • • •

It's a matter of record that the Kelowna district—site of our Cannery—proved positively at all the recent fruit shows that the Okanagan valley is the greatest fruit producing country in the world.

• • • •

Now, then, be up and thinking.

• • • •

We are incorporated for only $100,000.

• • • •

We are only going to let 60,000 shares out of our treasury.

• • • •

Not one of our shares has gone for promotion purposes, every share being represented by its equivalent.

• • • •

We have no salaried officials, in fact no leakages of any kind.

• • • •

A Premium of 25 per cent. will be put on this stock as soon as our cannery at Kelowna is completed, which will be at an early date, as we will handle this year's crop.

• • • •

You undoubtedly have stood silently aside and seen other opportunities vanish that your neighbor has grasped and is now realizing handsomely on and term him lucky.

• • • •

It's not luck, but JUDGMENT when opportunities like this present themselves and one takes advantage of them.

• • • •

Our land is bought and paid for, and we hold a receipt in full for our wharf for Cannery No. 1, which is completed at Kelowna.

• • • •

Although capitalized at $100,000, divided into 100,000 shares at one dollar each, we are going to offer for public subscription but 60,000 shares, and the remainder will positively stay in the treasury.

• • • •

This is a gilt-edge bona fide, conservative investment and it is not reasonable to believe will be on the market long, consequently act NOW before it is too late.

• • • •

Terms of purchasing securities are one dollar per share; 25 per cent. cash, balance, two, four and six months without interest.

BY-LAW NUMBER 1555

A By-law to fix the assessment of The Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company (Limited).

Passed the third day of October, 1910.

Whereas The Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company (Limited) has represented to the Council of the City of Peterborough that it is the only manufacturing concern in the City of Peterborough engaged in the manufacture of locks and other articles manufactured by it, and has to compete with manufacturers in the same line of business in other places who have received and are enjoying Municipal assistance, making it difficult for the said Company to meet such competition, and has applied to the Council for a fixed assessment on the real estate, plant and business assessment of the said Company in the City of Peterborough at the sum of $25,000, and the said Council has agreed thereto and to pass this By-Law for that purpose, subject to the confirmation thereof by the Legislature.

The Corporation of the City of Peterborough, by the Council thereof, therefore enacts as follows:—

1. This By-Law shall take effect upon and only upon the confirmation thereof by the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario, and upon the said Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company (Limited), executing an agreement not to oppose the construction of any work as a local improvement abutting or fronting on, or the cost or part of the cost of which might be assessed or charged against the property in Section 2 hereof described, or any part thereof, that the said Council may desire to construct under the provisions of the Municipal Act relating to local improvements.

2. The assessment of the following lands in the City of Peterborough owned, occupied and used by The Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company (Limited) and being Lot Number Four north of Simcoe Street and west of George Street, and that part of Lot Number Three north of Simcoe Street and west of George Street described as follows:—Commencing on the western limit of the said Lot Number Three, at a point seventy-seven feet six inches north from the south-west angle thereof; thence northerly along the said western limit of the said lot to the northern limit thereof; thence easterly along said northern limit eighteen feet; thence south and parallel to the western limit of said lot to a point seventy-seven feet six inches north of said Simcoe Street; thence westerly and parallel to the southern limit of the said lot to the place of beginning while used exclusively for the manufacturing purposes of the Company, or the part so used for such manufacturing purposes, and the buildings, plant, machinery and fixtures thereon, and the business assessment there of on which taxes are to be levied, shall be fixed and remain fixed while the same are so used, and while at least an average of one hundred hands are employed therein for at least ten months of each year, at the sum of $25,000 for a period of ten years from the first day of January, 1911, and the return and oath of the assessor or assessors in respect thereof shall be amended accordingly, but the same shall, for school purposes, be and remain liable to assessment and the payment of school taxes and rates to as full an extent as if this By-Law had not been passed, and the assessment for school purposes and the school rates and taxes shall be made, levied and collected thereon in accordance with the provisions of the general law in that behalf, and the said lands shall also be liable for all frontage and local improvement assessments, rates and taxes that are now or may hereafter be charged against the same, and any buildings on the said lands not used exclusively for the business of the Company, and the land appurtenant to same shall not be included in the fixed assessment hereunder, but such buildings and land, while not used as aforesaid, shall be assessed as provided by the Assessment Act then in force; provided, however, that if the said Company shall at any time within the said term of ten years fail or neglect to operate and carry on the said manufacturing establishment substantially to the capacity thereof, and therein to employ at least an average of one hundred hands during at least ten months in each year, then such fixed assessment shall cease, and the taxes and rates on the said lands, buildings, plant, machinery and fixtures and on the business assessment thereof shall be and become payable to the same amount and in the same manner as if this By-Law had not been passed; provided always that if the failure to carry on the said business is due to strikes or destruction of the buildings, plant, machinery or fixtures by fire or tempest, the time during which the said business shall so cease to be carried on in consequence of such strikes, or destruction of the buildings, plant, machinery or fixtures (not exceeding in either case one year) shall not be taken as a failure or neglect to carry on the said business, so as to disentitle the said Company to such fixed assessment.

3. The said Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company (Limited) shall, prior to the first day of March in each year, file with the City Clerk a statutory declaration, made by an officer of the Company, who shall therein state his knowledge of the facts, proving that the said Company has complied with and is observing all the terms, conditions and provisions of this By-Law, and on the neglect of the said Company to furnish such declaration it shall be prima facie taken that such terms, conditions and provisions have not been performed, observed and kept, and the said fixed assessment shall cease, and the taxes and rates shall be and become payable to the same amount and in the same manner as if this By-Law had not been passed.

(Sgd.) W. G. MORROW, Mayor

(Sgd.) S. R. ARMSTRONG, Clerk.

A Prayer Containing 386 Letters Inscribed and Four Figures.

Prayers have been written and engraved on many very small objects, but only one person ever has been patient and painstaking enough to inscribe a complete prayer on a grain of wheat. One day Sir Moses Montefiore, the great Jewish financier of England, received a small tin box in the mail. On the cover of the box was written, "A prayer for Moses Montefiore, by Bauch Mordecai, son of Zebi Hirsch Scheinemann, of Jerusalem." The box contained a single grain of wheat, on which was inscribd, in characters so small that they could only be read with the aid of a powerful microscope, the 386 Hebrew letters of the prayer, and the date of the year (Hebrew reckoning), 5645. Sir Moses kept the prayer in his desk until he died, and it is now preserved with religious care by one of his friends.

Canada's Post Office.

A Devonshire lady once sent to her son a pair of trousers by book post, which is, of course, cheaper than parcel post.

The postal officials wrote to her: "Clothes cannot be sent by book post. If you look in the 'Post Office Guide,' you will see under what conditions articles may be sent by book post."

After a few days the lady replied: "I have looked in the 'Post Office Guide' and find that articles which are open at both ends may be sent by book post. And if trousers are not open at both ends I should like to know what is."

A PRACTICAL EXAMPLE.

Example of the Effect of Competition with Australia.

On March 18th last, 750 carcasses of frozen lamb from Australia were landed at St. John, N. B. 250 carcasses were sent to the William Davies Co., Limited, Toronto. The greater part of the remainder were shipped to Montreal. This lamb was purchased at nine cents per pound delivered in bond at Toronto.

Under existing conditions the duty was three cents per pound This made the lamb cost twelve cents per pound laid down in Toronto.

Fresh dressed lambs were selling in Toronto at that time at 12 1-2c. to 12c. per pound.

Hence, after paying this duty there was not much difference between the prices of the Australian and Canadian lamb.

The duty protected the Canadian farmer against the Australian product.

But under Reciprocity the duty on this frozen lamb will be only 1 1-4c. per pound, so that similar shipments could be laid down in Toronto at 10 1-4c. per pound, two or three cents per pound cheaper than the price for the home raised products.

Referring to the lambs which were sent to Montreal. When they reached Montreal Canadian lamb was selling at 10 1-2c. The Australian lambs were sold at 9 1-2c. delivered ex cars Montreal duty paid, the owners apparently being contented to undersell the Canadian market by one cent per pound.

Now, if you wish to see the effect upon the live stock market of the receipt of this Australian lamb in Montreal, turn up the Montreal papers of March 20th, in one of which, for example, the headline was "Sheep Sold Lower in Local Markets."

If, with the three cent duty on every pound, frozen lamb can be profitably imported from Australia, it seems almost conclusive that reducing the duty will also reduce the price of Canadian lamb accordingly.

And not only does Australia export frozen meat, but it exports butter as well. It exports annually between fifty and seventy-five million pounds of butter

Australian butter can be laid down now in bond at Montreal at 23c. per pound. A duty of four cents per pound keeps it out of competition with the Eastern Townships butter now selling at 26c. per pound.

THE REVIVAL OF THE CAMEO

Antique Shops of Europe Doing Good Business.

An early Victorian fashion revival is the cameo, which is being worn on hats or for clasping the belt at the waist or even at the wrist. The antique shops of Paris and London are being ransacked for cameos. The pink and creamy tints of these ornaments are considered wonderfully becoming and as the finishing touch to white evening gowns they are looked upon as indispensable at the present moment.

Jade, too, which has been out of favor for years, has come back into fashion and is to be seen ranging in tint from darkest green to pure white Jade of a delicate bright green is the most popular and is used in necklaces of rounded bead scarefully matched, drops for earings and cabochons mounted in various ways alone or with pearls and diamonds.

A GREAT CAPTAIN OF INDUSTRY

Words of Louis Stevenson Form the Keynote of Great Career.

"To travel hopefully is better than to arrive, and the true success is labor." These words, once written by Robert Louis Stevenson, hang above the desk of Mr. H. Gordon Selfridge, the head of the enormous store in Oxford street, London, who was recently the victim in a motor smash. They provide the keynote of the character of the man who, starting life as a shop-sweeper, made such good use of his opportunities that, by the time he was thirty, he was a partner in the Marshall Field store in Chicago—a store which has earned joint fortunes for its owners amount to over $500,000,000. Mr. Selfridge had retired from business, when, growing tired of a life of idleness, he turned his eyes towards London and ultimately founded the huge business in Oxford street

OLDEST RULER OF EUROPE

Prince Regent of Bavari aNinety years of age.

The oldest ruler in Europe is the Prince Regent of Bavaria, upon whom on the occasion of his ninetieth birthday, recently, King George conferred the Order of the Garter. He has had the unique experience of acting as regent of that country during the insanity of two kings Twenty-five years ago the Prince Regent's nephew, King Louis II. of Bavaria, was declared insane, and the Prince was proclaimed regent. Three days later the king committed suicide, and was succeeded by King Otto, who is now sixty-three years of age, and who has been insane since 1875. The Prince is extremely popular in Bavaria on account of his sporting proclivities.

Whole Wheat Bread.

London doctors interested in the nutritive value of foodstuffs have issued a document in which they recommend the use of whole meal in making bread instead of fine white flour. It is maintained that there are in the whole meal two and one-half times the amount of mineral substances that nourish the body.

Some medical men earn their money by inventing complaints with long names for over-fed society women.

WAS ORIGINALLY A SLAVE, SHE DIED A COURT LADY.

Seoul, Korea, July 21.—Lady Om, consort of Emperor Yi Heun, who abdicated in 1907, died yesterday.

Lady Om was a palace politician of great skill. She was attendant upon the Queen of Korea, who was murdered. She gained the favor of the Emperor, and was finally compelled to flee from the palace. After the death of the Queen she was restored to the court, with the rank of an Imperial concubine. This conferred Imperial rank upon her two children

THE POWER OF SYMPATHY.

Mothers Too Often Form a Habit of Constant Reproof.

Although conscious of the power of sympathy, many loving but overtired mothers not only forget to show affection but form a habit of constant reproof. Naturally enough, the children, unless exceptionally callous to their surroundings, become sullen and resentful. How can they realise that the nagging is an expression of anxious affection?

When Johnny comes rushing into the house full of enthusiasm over some new play or new idea, and eager to tell his plans, such a mother exclaims, "How many times have I told you to wipe your feet before you open the door?" The greetings fills his enthusiasm, and, hurt and wounded, he draws back into himself, and will not again expose himself to such a snub. He confides in her less and less as he grows older, and she wonders why.

There is sound psychology in the statement that if you believe a man is honest he will be honest; that if you trust a young man he will prove trustworthy; that if you praise a child he will deserve praise. Benjamin West's mother kissed her boy when he showed his drawings to her; and the boy, when grown to manhood, said that her kiss made a painter of him

A RAVENOUS INDUSTRY.

How the Paper Makers Are Destroying the Forests of the United States.

The forests of the United States now cover 550,000,000 acres, or about one-fourth of the area of the country. Forests publicly owned contain one-fifth of all timber standing. The timber privately owned is not only four times that publicly owned but it is generally more valuable.

Forestry is not practised on 70 per cent. of the forests publicly owned and on less than 1 per cent. of the forests privately owned, or on only 18 per cent. of the total area of the forests.

The original forests of the United States contained timber in quantity and variety far beyond that upon any other area of similar size in the world. They covered 850,000,000 acres with a stand of not less than 5,200,000,000,000 board feet of merchantable timber, according to present standards of use. There were five great forest regions—the northern, the southern, the central, the Rocky Mountain and the Pacific.

The present rate of cutting is three times the annual growth of the forests of the United States. The great pineries of the Lake States are nearing exhaustion and great inroads have been made upon the supply of valuable timber throughout all parts of the country.

The heavy demands for timber have been rapidly pushing the great centres of lumber industry towards the South and West. In consequence, the State of Washington has led for several years in lumber production, followed in order by Louisiana, Texas, Mississippi, Wisconsin and Arkansas. In 1908 the production of yellow pine lumber amounted to eleven and one-quarter billion feet; the Douglas fir of the Northwest held second place, with three and two-thirds billion feet; while white pine came third, with three and one-third billion feet.

The annual cut from the forests, including waste in logging and in manufacture, is 20,000,000,000 cubic feet of wood.

There is used in a normal year 90,000,000 cords of fire wood, 40,000,000,000 board feet of lumber, 118,000,000 hewn ties, 1,500,000,000 staves, over 133,000,000 sets of heading, nearly 500,000,000 barrel hoops, 3,000,000 cords of native pulp wood, 165,000,000 cubic feet of round mine timbers and 1,250,000 cords of wood for distillation.

In 1909 4,002,000 cords of wood were used in the manufacture of paper, of which 794,000 cords were imported from Canada. The demand for pulp wood is making a severe drain on the spruce forests, which furnish the principle supply. The Forest Service of the United States Department of Agriculture is conducting investigations to determine what other woods, such as scrub pine, white fir, tupelo and the like, can be successfully used.

A larger drain upon forest resources is made by the demand for railroad ties, of which 123,754,000, equivalent to three and three-quarters billion board feet, were used in 1908. White oak, hitherto the chief source of supply, is not plentiful enough to meet this demand indefinitely, and in many parts of the country the supply of chestnut, cedar and cypress is dwindling; however, seasoning and treating methods are being found, largely through the work of the Forest Service, by which cheaper and more plentiful woods, such as lodgepole pine in the Northwest and loblolly pine in the South, are made fit for use as ties. Timber to the amount of two and one-half billions feet was used in 1907 for mine timbers. A great saving has been effected in the naval stores industry, also largely through the work of the Forest Service, by the introduction of the so-called "cup" system of turpentining in place of the old destructive system of "boxing." The new systems insure a larger product of better quality and prolong the life of the longleaf pine forests upon which the industry depends.

Atlanta, Ga., July 20.—A courteous act on the part of William R. O'Neal, of Bainbridge, Ga., has been rewarded by a fortune. O'Neal, four years ago, exchanged a lower for an upper sleeping car berth with J. T. Young, of Oakland, Cal., who was en route to Florida for his health. Evidently Mr. Young considered it a great favor, for in his will he left $20,000 to the Georgia young man, who is 26 years old. O'Neal was in Atlanta yesterday and was informed of his good fortune by a son of Mr. Young who had come to Georgia to look for him.

Andrew Wilson, an attorney, was named as the administrator of an estate. It was his duty to find the lucky but missing brother. "He was slicing turnips for the sheep on his employer's farm, up among the mist-clad hills of Scotland," said Mr. Wilson, "when I found him. I had traced his life from the old farm on which he was born, step by step through forty years of ill-paid and often most unpleasant labor before I approached him. It was not difficult, for he had held but a few positions in all those years. Every one in the countryside knew him. 'Are you Alexander Stephenson?' I asked. 'I am,' said he, without taking his eyes from the turnips and the knife. 'Your brother James is dead in New York,' said I. 'Aweel, aweel, all men must e'en die,' he said, slicing away. 'He left you a great fortune,' said I. 'I want you to come to the house with me, so that I can establish your identity and arrange for you to enter into possession of the estate.' 'I'll talk to ye at sax o'clock, young man,' said he. 'I'll be busy till then. Thay fortune will keep, but thay turnips will not.'"

Human Voice the Sweetest Music.

The sweetest music is not in the oratorio, but in the human voice when it speaks from its instant life, tones of tenderness, truth or courage. The oratorio has already lost its relation to the morning, to the sun, and the earth, but that persuading voice is in tune with these.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Australia has Tallest Tree.

Australia claims to have the tallest tree in the world. It has long been thought that to California belongs this distinction, but, while California trees are of gigantic dimensions, they do not come up to Australia's eucalyptus trees. The Californians are noted not so much for their height as for their girth and diameter. The tallest tree in California yet discovered was found by actual measurement to be 340ft high. Australia's record gum tree can beat this by 140ft.

SWALLOWS' NEST OF BANK-NOTE

Also How a Mouse Stole $40 Worth of Notes to Make a Home.

A pair of swallows of Fiberbrunn, in the Tyrol, have stolen a number of ten-kronen bank-notes to line their nest.

The parent birds discovered that the new notes were just the shade of blue to match their eggs, the tissue being tough but flexible, and exactly the material they needed. The nest and the missing notes were only discovered when the swallows had abandoned it and it fell to the ground.

This feat has been equalled by that of an enterprising mouse in Fornbirn, which abstracted a number of twenty-kronen notes to the value of $40, of a delicate reddish brown shade, from the cash drawer of a butcher, and, tearing them to pieces, adapted them to the purpose of making a nest for her family of seven. The butcher in his search for the notes suspected and traced the house, and found the nest under the flooring. He carefully pieced together the remains of the notes and returned them to the bank, where they were pieced together. The butcher recovered the mouse's teeth.

BUY

ROYAL PORCUPINE

Quoted at 32 to 33 Cents

The stock of the Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co., we believe, will prove to be one of the greatest money makers in the wonderful Porcupine district.

Every day brings forth further evidence that the Porcupine Camp is destined to become the richest gold region in the world, and Royal Porcupine should soon take its place at the head of the great producing mines in this section.

Porcupine has the indorsement of the world's greatest authorities in gold mining, who concur in the opinion that never before have such rich showings been seen covering so great an area.

The Property

is located in the township of Tisdale and consists of eight full claims, embracing 320 acres. It is particularly well located, being only one-quarter mile south of the Porcupine Gold Mines, Ltd., and one-half mile south of the Hollinger mine, for which it is claimed there is $10,000,000 in sight. Engineers report that the Royal Porcupine property is in the famous ore zone, being on the same ledge as Hollinger and having the same formation.

A telegram from the engineer in charge of the property bears out this statement. It is as follows:—

"Porcupine, Ont., June 19, 1911.

"Vein uncovered twelve feet in width. Excellent ore body. Shaft being sunk on this vein. Property in every way most favorable.

(Signed) "JULIUS MESSER, M. E.,
"Engineer in charge of property."

Thirty men are now employed, and work on the shaft will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Four veins, varying from 12 to 100 feet in width, have already been uncovered. Assays have been made which show $50 a ton.

Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co.

is capitalized for $3,000,000; par value of shares $1.00. Full paid and non-assessable. No personal liability.

A glance at the list of directors will show the class of men who are putting in their money and time to make this one of the greatest mines in the Porcupine Camp. The directors are:—

JAMES [illegible], Peterboro, Ontario, ex-Member of Parliament, President Auburn Woollen Mills.

T. E. BRADBURN, Member Parliament, Peterboro, Ontario; Private Banker.

ARCHIBALD L. ALLAN, New York, Hiram Walker & Sons.

SYDNEY BERNHEIM, New York, Bernheim & Loewenthal, Counsellors at Law.

JACOB RAPOPORT, New York, Jacob Rapoport & Co., Merchants.

HAMILTON KILGOUR, New York and London, England, Mining Engineer.

WARREN N. AKERS, Wilmington, Del.

Remember, that our judgment on Hollinger, Dome Extension and Vipond was correct, and we believe that Royal Porcupine will prove one of our best investments.

The Hollinger stock was originally offered at $3.50 and now sells at around $15.50, and Dome Extension was first offered at 40c., and now sells at around 84c.

Royal Porcupine stock may be purchased through any member of the New York Curb Association, or we will be glad to execute your orders.

WHY GO TO ALASKA TO INVEST IN OIL?

During the past month we have beenpresenting to the readers of The Morning Times, and the public in general, an offer which for SAFETY and CERTAINTY OF RESULTS in the form of DIVIDENDS and ENORMOUS PROFITS is well nigh UNPRECEDENTED.

In Southwest Colorado, in Mountezuma County, near Mancos, nature has placed RICH OIL FIELDS which promise to be the cause of the MOST STUPENDOUS BOOM COLORADO HAS HAD SINCE THE EARLY GOLD DAYS.

We own and control 8,500 acres of land in this section which experts assure us are positively gusher producing properties.

We have bought and paid for all the machinery necessary for drilling. We do not owe one cent. If you invest with us you have behind your investment not only enormous land values but machinery the value of which is fully $8,000.

For the ordinary investor this would be security enough but we have made the safest investment proposition that ever was offered, for, besides these rich Mancos Oil Fields we also own 2,560 acres in the proven oil field of San Juan, Utah; also 1,920 acres in the Great Montezuma District of Colorado, and fifty acres of rich mining ground in the La Plata District, for which we have been offered Ten Thousand Dollars spot cash.

Investments in the stock of our Company participate in the profits of all these properties. The Mancos Oil and Development Company promises to and will give the public a "square deal." Every acre of oil land and mining property which it owns or will acquire belongs to its stockholders.

MR. BURT H. MASON, the president and organizer of the Company, is a mining engineer of enviable reputation. the officers of the Company are well-known business men and bankers of Southwestern Colorado. If any misrepresentation has been made we guarantee to return every dollar you pay us and all expenses to which you may have been put for investigation.

The price of stock is Twenty-five Cents a share, which can be paid on monthly installments if desired. If further information be desired it will be cheerfully given.

QUEEN CHARLOTTE

The Capital City of the Islands

THE LAST WEST

The only town on Graham Island that has a monthly pay roll, and the only sawmill shipping lumber to foreign ports.

The only town having a railway gazetted to its very doors on the island.

The only city on Graham Island having electric light, city water, miles of sidewalks, churches, school, hospital, postoffice, first-class drug store, billiard hall, city hall, hotels, boarding house, barber shop and other general stores, and the only newspaper published on the Island, the Queen Charlotte News.

We are positively the centre of all the vast wealth of the entire Islands, including farm lands, timber lands, coal and metalliferous mines. These products must come out at Queen Charlotte City, through the Honna River Valley, and through which the Island Railway must run according to charters already granted.

The combined townsite interests cover one thousand acres, of which five hundred are practically level alluvial soil with no rocks.

A fine water power from the Honna River, good drainage and the best harbor on the entire Islands.

Our lots are all 50 feet by 120 feet, ranging in price from $150 to $300; one-third cash, balance on time at 6 per cent., or deeds can be had at once if desired.

Fully 200,000 acres of farm lands, suitable for mixed farming, only await the hand of man, a large portion of which is already located.

The verdure clad mountains are vast treasure vaults of gold, copper, silver and other precious metals, while our valleys are underlaid with a wealth of the finest coal and covered with a vast forest of spruce, hemlock and yellow cedar. These, coupled with our fisheries, are at the very doors and within sight of Queen Charlotte City.

Taking all these facts into consideration, and with the present progress being made in developing our resources, which are at the gateways of transportation both by water and railway, with the advent of the completion of the Grand Trunk Railroad, Queen Charlotte City is destined to be one of the province's most prosperous cities.

It is owned largely by the wealthiest and most honorable men of our province, who would not be a party in misrepresenting facts and are prepared to endorse every statement herein made.

The townsite company are now offering a further 75 lots on Second avenue at a very low price and on easy terms, it takes at once, and under conditions that will make you a 100 per cent. on your investment in 90 days, for 20 per cent. of the gross proceeds will be used by letting a contract for the clearing and grading of Second avenue from Third street west. The company guarantees to advance the remaining 75 unsold lots on Second avenue from $150 to $225 as soon as the first 75 have been sold. The company is making this effort in order to join with the government in making Second avenue the trunk road through the townsite from the Wilson-Robinson coal fields, Honna River Valley, Lawn Hill and Miller Creek districts. Now you can secure any unsold lot on Second avenue, including fourteen in Keith's addition, to-day for $150, except corners, on easy terms, 1-4 cash, balance 6, 12 and 18 months at 6 per cent. This will positively be your last chance for a cheap lot in Queer Charlotte City, for every lot in the townsite will surely go from $500 to $1000 when the public realize that in the Island River railroad from Queen Charlotte to the head of Masset Inlet is to be started this summer, in addition to the present work already outlined, thus giving work to an army of men. There are at least 5000 citizens of Vancouver who have invested in the various resources of the islands. Conclusive evidence of these facts, a landscape drawing of the townsite and a portion of Graham Island coupled with an illustrated edition of the resources of the islands can be seen at the office of J. J. Miller, 82 Hastings street, Vancouver, B. C., Agent for Vancouver, and plans at office of "Times", Peterboro'.

His Wife's Tact.

"I'll give my wife credit for not causing me to be swamped by big hat bills of hers," declared the husband boastfully, in the presence of his wife's lady guests. "All the hat bills I get are small ones, which, however, come in very, very often, although I haven't observed a new bonnet on her since Easter."

"I'm so glad you're pleased," rejoined his wife, coming unexpectedly into the room. "The fact is, you're still paying for that last Easter bonnet, the bill for which the milliner is sending to you in installments."

The Eucalypus of Australia.

While the eucalyptus, or Australian blue gum tree, destroys malaria and keeps off mosquitoes in marshy soil, it has no such effect on dry soil. The difference is ascribed by a German scientist to the fact that the tree is constructed to act as an evaporating machine, and only does its work in marshy land. A feature of the tree is its captability to different climates, it being now grow in almost every civilised country where frosts do not occur.

Don't Talk Too Much.

When we are in the company of sensible men, we ought to be doubly cautious of talking too much, lest we lose two good things — their good opinion and our own improvement; for what we have to say we know, but what they have to say we know not.

SERVANT PROBLEM.

It Has Been Solved in Berlin—Work For $8 a Month.

The eternal domestic servant problem seems to be nearing a solution in Berlin, and it is a very simple one —namely, the substitution of men for women.

Of recent years a vast increase in the immigration from the country to the city has taken place, with the result that a capable man servant can now be hired for from between $8 and $10 a month with board.

The Berlin hausfrau testifies that the new servant is infinitely superior to the old, besides leanding a social glory to the household, as hitherto men servants have been employed almost solely by the noble and aristocratic or very wealthy families. Experience shows that they can do and do as well or better all that the woman servant does—dusting, cleaning brushing, attending at table, even cooking; in short, everything except washing and ironing, against which the manly soul revolts.

They are far more easily satisfied, far more obliging and far less capricious, and their sense of duty is illustrated by the fact that they will actually clean and put away the silver and china before they go to bed. They are a source of economy, too, for when in their charge china cups and saucers do not acquire the habit of automatically sliding off the salvor to the ground, or valuable vases and ornaments that of suddenly jumping from their places in the dead watches of the night and being smashed.

Nor does this exhaust the list of their superior qualities, for they rarely give notice in a fit of temper and more readily become attached to their employers. Still, no man is perfect, and the master where a man servant is employed must be prepared for a mysterious fading away of color in his whisky and a high rate of mortality among his cigars.

BALANCE THE WRONG WAY

United States Exports of Manufactures.

An examination of the trade statistics of the United States throws an interesting side light upon the country's present overtures for Reciprocity with us. For the nine months ending September, 1910, their exports of domestic merchandise of every kind were $1,193,321,512, of which $210,490,966 were manufactures for further use in manufacturing, and $401,684,694 were manufactures ready for consumption. The sum of these two, $612,625,660, accounts for 51 per cent. of all of their exports put together. But this is not crediting the exports of manufactures with a class known as "foodstuffs, partly manufactured," which are valued at $180,159,193. If we regard this also as legitimately forming a part of the exports of manufactured goods, it means that of every thing the United States exported for the nine months ending September last, manufactured goods amounted to over 66 per cent.

GLADSTONE'S FAVORITE GRANDCHILD

"It Is Vain for You to Rise Up Early."

The announcement of the engagement of Miss Dorothy Drew to Lieutenant Parish, one of Lord Gladstone's A.D.C.'s, recalls the fact that Miss Drew was the favorite grandchild and companion of the late Mr. W. E. Gladstone. She has been the subject of many pretty stories, one being to the effect that she once nonplussed the G.O.M. on a Biblical subject. The famous statesman was trying to induce her to get up earlier. "Why don't you get up, my child?" he asked. "Why, grandpa," rejoined Miss Dorothy, "didn't you tell me to do what the Bible says?" "Yes, certainly," said Mr Gladstone. The little girl then proudly opened her Bible at Psalm cxxvii. and read the second verse: "It is vain for you to rise up early."

RICARDO'S REPLY.

Professor Nichols, a famous physicist, during the recitation of a freshmen class in natural philosophy, observed a tall, lanky youth in the rear seat, his head in a recumbent position, his body in a languid pose, his eyes half closed, and his legs extended far out. He was either asleep or about to lose consciousness.

"Mr. Ricardo," said the great scientist, "you may recite."

The freshman opened his eyes but did not change his somnolent pose.

"Mr. Ricardo, what is work?"

"Everything is work," was the drawling reply.

"What! Everything is work?"

"Yes, sir."

"Then I take it you would like the class to believe that this desk is work?"

"Yes, sir," replied the youth, wearily; "wood-work."

French Language Used in England.

Though we are in the twentieth century the Norman French of Edward the Confessor is still, in a way, the legal voice of Parliament. Whenever a Bill has passed the British Commons, the Clerk, before he forwards it to the House of Lords, writes upon it according to ancient usage: "Soit baillé aux Seigneurs" (Let it be sent to the Lords). If it is sent from the Peers to the Commons, it bears the like endorsement: "Soit baillie aux Communes" (Let it be sent to the Commons).

One Way.

"How did you get your husband out to that musicale last night?"

"Told him there was going to be a lunch afterward."

CAUCUS NEXT TUESDAY.

A Government caucus is called for Tuesday. The Conservatives may have a caucus on the same day. Views and opinions will be sounded then, and the exact course probably determined, but meanwhile it looks like a fight with the culmination as repeatedly forecasted. To-day, on the motion to go into committee, the Vancouver Chinese Immigration fraud will likely be brought up.

Watch the Newsboys.

The Times learns that some of the newsboys have been charging five cents a copy for the Toronto evening papers, to unsuspecting people. The price of these papers is one cent.

WHAT IS TRUTH?

Men will believe nothing what they cannot understand.

Truth comes to us only by glimpses. There are some who refuse to receive a partial truth, who insist upon having a clear idea of the whole, or at least upon persuading themselves that they have it, before they yield assent to anything. They will believe nothing which they cannot understand, they say, forgetting that, although we may both believe and understand many things to be true, it is only by occasional glimpses that we can ever discover how they came to be so. For instance, we all believe the wonders of the natural world, the existence and motions of the planets and starts, the changes in the earth's surface, the marvellous growth in the vegetable world, and the still more wonderful development of the animal creation — of conscious life and human intelligence. In believing these things we understand that they are so; but how they came to be so, how they perform their several functions, what are the laws which uphold them and the forces they obey — these things we do not understand, except as study or thought, or participation in another's thought, give us glimpses of the truth.

An Immaculate Servant.

He was an immaculate servant. To watch him serve a salad was to watch an artist at work. To hear his subdued accents was a lesson in the art of voice-production. He never slipped, he never smiled, and his mutton-chop whiskers marked him as one of of the old and faithful stock. But one evening, to the surpise of his master, he showed unaccountable signs of nervousness. When the chicken came on he confused it with the pheasant. He served everything in the wrong order, made blunder after blunder, and put a final touch to his shame by upsetting salt over the only superstitious member of the party. Then at last, when the ladies had retired to the drawing-room, he touched his master on the shoulder. "I beg your pardon, sir," he said in a respectful undertone, "but could you manage to spare me now? My house is on fire."

Couldn't Get the Scotchman.

There was an aged Scotchman who by native shrewdness made a fortune, and he did it without the slightest bit of education. One day he and an acquaintance were talking when the latter said to old Duncan: "Say, Duncan, you don't know nough to go in when it rains. Why you can't even spell bird." "B-u-r-d," said Duncan. "I tell you you dont know anything. Why, if you had to spell to make a living you'd have been dead years ago. I'll bet you a hundred you can't spell bird." "I'll tak'-ye," quickly replied Duncan. After the money was put up Duncan said "B-i-r-d." "That ain't the way you spelled it the first time." "I wasna bettin' then."

Neglecting His Business.

A country doctor was recently called upon to visit a patient some distance away. Driving to where the invalid tied his horse to a tree and started to walk across the field. It happened that work was in progress on a new well, of which the doctor knew nothing until he found himself sinking into the earth. He fell just far enough to be unable to get out of the hole unassisted, and lustily yelled for help. When he was finally pulled up, the hired man remarked to him:—

"I say, doc, you had no business down there."

"No, I don't think I had," replied the doctor.

"Don't you know," continued the hired man, "you ought to leave the well alone and take care of the sick?"

Not Worth Stopping For.

A party of four gentlemen were driving a motor-car along the road leading from Kilkenny to Clonmel. Seeing a fine stretch of level road in front the car was put at full speed, and they raced along for nearly four miles.

Presently speed was slackened, and the driver turned round to see how his two friends at the back had enjoyed the run. A look of scared astonishment overspread his countenance when he found that only one gentleman was seated there.

"Where's Jack?" he gasped, stopping the car.

"Jack?" replied the other, carelessly. "He blew off at the first milestone."

Fathers Work Too Long.

It is a mistake for fathers to toil all their lives in order that their children may escape toil all theirs. Suppose the calculation correct, and permanent idleness secured for the next generation, what evidence is there that the boys and girls will be happier and better for it? The boys will be exposed to the devices of "sharks," and the girls to those of fortune hunters. Leave something for them also to do.

Men Like Stagnant Ponds.

The great ocean is in a constant state of evaporation. It gives back what it receives, and sends up its waters in mists to gather into clouds; and so there is rain on the field and storm on the mountains, and greenness and beauty everywhere. But there are many men who do not believe in evaporation. They get all they can and keep all they get, and so are not fertilisers, but only stagnant miasmatic ponds.

A Heavy Smoke

The editor of a certain periodical was rash enough to remove a few lines from a poem which he had accepted, whereupon the author wrote him a letter which wound up thus—"And now, O slaughterer, vivisector, mangler, maimer, destroyer, disfigurer, deformer, deracer, crippler, mutilator, good-bye: Put this in your pipe and smoke it!"

A Quick Choice.

It is related of a certain Canadian artist, of considerable means, that he suddenly decided to buy an automobile. Accordingly, he telephoned to the first firm of dealers he thought of to send up a machine at a reasonable price. When the machine drew up outside the door the artist climbed in with a curt "You'll find a cheque on the hall table, fill it in and go."

To-Night's Meeting.

The meeting in connection with the establishment of the proposed hat industry in Peterborough should be largely attended. It is said that several of our leading citizens are quite enthusiastic over the prospect of getting a factory that will employ so many skilled mechanics.

A Pleasant Trip.

The excursion to Rice Lake on Saturday afternoon per Steamer Stoney Lake, under the auspices of the choir of All Saints' Church, was liberally patronized. The day was ideal, Idyl-Wyld being reached in good time, where a couple of hours were spent very pleasantly.

Back From Coronation.

Col. Sam Hughes, M. P., passed through the city on his way to his home in Lindsay last week, having attended the Coronation in London. The Col. is very optimistic regarding the future of the Conservative party at Ottawa. He thinks the government will be forced to go to the country, when Sir Wilfrid will not be returned to power.

Cheaper Motor Cars.

That motor cars will be cheaper in the near future is plainly indicated by the number of new factories that are being established in the United States and Canada. That Peterborough has not got a factory of this kind is no fault of Mr. W. H. Denham and a few others, who subscribed for stock in the Jules Motor Company, and who tried to get that company to locate here. The latest automobile factory is the Brockville Motor Company, capitalized at $200,000. The board of provisional directors composed of W. H. Comstock, ex-M.P., C. W. McLean and Thos. J. Storey, assume management of the affairs of the company until a charter is secured. A site for the new industry has been purchased, and work will be commenced at once in the erection of a factory.

Baled Hay, 80c per cwt.
Loose Hay, $12 to $14 per ton.

Grains are stationary, no change likely to take place in the price for some time.

Live Hogs, $7.50.
Farmers' Hides, 7½c.
Butchers' Hides, 8½c.

LITTLE LOCAL LINES

At the drawing in connection with the Sacred Heart social, Mr. Thos. Edwards, 25 Mare street, secured the prize of a railway ticket to St. Anne de Beaupre.

The police think those who go from the city to the lakes do not fasten their doors and windows properly before leaving. They should do so.

The Liberal-Conservative Convention for East Peterborough, will take place in Norwood on Thursday next, 27th. It is said that a warm time may be looked for.

Dr. Holloway took a half day off and went bass fishing on Friday last. One solitary member of the finny tribe got mixed up with his hook and line, and was captured. Evidently it was not a good day for fishing, or else the Dr. did not carry the right kind of bait.

Rev. Dr. Torrance Bereaved.

Rev. Dr. Torrance, of Kingston, formerly pastor of St. Paul's church, was bereaved on Friday last through the death of his brother, Mr. G. W. Torrance, of Toronto, who passed away after a week's illness.

Mr. Torrance had for years been connected with the White Star, Dominion lines, and Hamburg-American steamship lines, as their Ontario freight representative. He had been in the employ of the two former for upwards of 35 years. In sporting circles he was well known having played in his younger days on several of Montreal's champion teams. Less than a year ago he succeeded Dr. Andrew Smith as chairman of the executive committee of the Ontari Jockey Club, and had been for years on the directorate. His death is much regretted by the members of the Albany Club, as he had been a member for twenty-three years, and was one of its most familiar figures. Mr. Torrance was a Conservative, taking however, no active part in politics. He was a member of a prominent Montreal family, and his father was president of the Bank of Montreal.

CANADIANS IN NAME ONLY.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I see by the public press that the New York Canadian Club chose to honor the Coronation by holding a demonstration in favor of Reciprocity. It is to be hoped that His Majesty appreciated the tactfulness of this proceeding. There are two reasons why the officials of this presumably national organization might have hesitated—one is the fact that Reciprocity is an issue dividing the parties in this country; and the other is the far more important fact that thousands of sincere subjects of His Majesty, both in Canada and in the Mother Country, fear that Reciprocity may imperil the very crown which only just was placed on his head.

As for dragging partizanship into the celebration of the Coronation, the New York Canadian Club—or rather its officials—would be hard put to it to find a parallel. Sir Wilfrid Laurier has spoken strongly in favor of Reciprocity; and yet we find him telling the British Liberals on the eve of the Coronation that, though in Canada he was opposed to be a member of the Liberal party, when he came to represent his country at the Imperial Conference, "he was neither a Liberal nor a Conservative; he was simply a Canadian and a British subject." We would respectfully commend this example to the office-holders of the New York Canadian Club.

President Taft gave them his blessing, and pinned up another advertisement in favor of his life-saving device—Reciprocity. He incidentally told them that Annexation "is entirely unnecessary." That is a decidedly ambiguous speech. We can easily imagine commercial relations between the two countries so close that Annexation would be practically "unnecessary." Our tariff would be made at Washington; our natural resources would be possessed by American exploiters; our industries would be branches of American "houses"; our trade would be north-and-south; we could assert no national independence without coming under the accusation of "unfriendliness." Such a condition would possibly satisfy many Americans that Annexation was unnecessary and many Canadians that it was unimportant.

CITIZENS MEET AND ACT UPON PROPOSITION TO ESTABLISH STRAW HAT INDUSRTY IN PETERBOROUGH

Mr. Mannise met a party of representative citizens in the City Hall last night with a view to taking initiative steps toward the establishment of a straw hat factory in Peterborough. Mr. Mannise and his two young American associates—practical men—are sufficiently confident in the proposition they are offering as to assure huge dividends to any company that may be organized here for the manufacture of ladies' and gents' straw hats for the Canadian trade. Mr. G. N. Gordon and friends are impressed favorably with the scheme, and will support it financially providing the amount of capital fixed upon as an operative basis is subscribed fully.

Mr. Mannise's proposition in brief is that a local company be formed, and incorporated with a paid-up capital of $50,000—no watered stock. Mr. Mannise and his associates to put in $10,000—$5,000 cash and one half their salaries to be deducted each week until the remaining $5,000 is paid, and $40,000 to be subscribed in this city. The company to be controlled by a local Board of Directors, who will name their own agent to sell stock at no higher than 10 per cent. commission. $25,000 or $30,000 would be needed upon which to commence operations, and Mr. Mannise assured the gathering that a fully equipped plant, capable of turning over 120 hats a day, assuring a revenue of $300,000 a year, could be installed at a maximum cost of $8,727.00. The remainder of the capital would be required for raw material, operative expenses and ample margin until the first season's output is marketed. He is anxious to have the plant in operation by September 15th, in time to get out samples for next spring's trade by October first.

Should the capital asked for be subscribed and the factory established, the promoters propose the employment of 35 men at $12 a week, 15 men on piece work at from $12 to $15 per week and 40 or 50 girls at from $6 to $12 per week—an average of about 105 or 115 hands.

It is not intended to erect a building as a suitable one can readily be rented.

Mr. Mannise pointed out that millions of straw hats are imported into Canada yearly on which 30 per cent duty is paid on those coming in from the States and 22 per cent. on those from Great Britain. The straw hat industry is very new in Canada and this is a splendid opportunity for the establishment in Peterborough of a thriving concern of that nature. In the States whole towns are supported by the hat industry alone. He also exhibited a beautiful sample of straw hat, such as he and his confrers are capable of turning out, that sells at $4 and gave figures illustrative of its cost of manufacture which showed a remarkable gratifying profit to both manufacturer and retailer.

Mr. Thos. Barrie, believed in the proposition, and whilst he was not conversant with the cost of production he admitted that there is good money in the straw hat business. He incidentally offered that there are no high quality straw hats made in Canada, but only the inferior brands. He is acquainted with two of the promoters of the company proposed, both of whom are capable of producing the best goods, in which lie big profits. He believed there to be a good held in Canada to-day for the establishment of such an industry.

The proposition as outlined by Mr. Mannise struck the gathering very favorably, but, as Mr. Dumble suggested, it was conceded that before a party of representative citizens endorsed the buying of stock, it would be advisable that they collect independent data regarding the actual cost of manufacturing straw hats as against their market value.

Mr. Jas. Kendry, who is a shrewd manufacturer, endorsed the promoters' offer of taking $10,000 worth of stock in guarantee of their good faith as a very fair proposition indeed.

Mr. Gordon moved, seconded by Ald. W. H. Bradburn,—That Messrs. Thos. Barrie, Jas. Kendry and D. W. Dumble be a committee to make the necessary enquiries as to the actual cost of manufacturing straw hats in Peterborough.

These gentlemen will act at once and enquire in American manufacturing centres for the independent information needed, on receipt of which another meeting will be called.

There were present Mayor Morrow, D. W. Dumble, K.C., Jas. Kendry, G. N. Gordon, Aldermen Brown, Morgan, Bradburn, Anderson Metheral, Graham and Kennedy; W. H. Meldrum, Frank Adams, [illegible]

BATTLE OF THE POLLS ABOUT TO COMMENCE

Ottawa, July 24.—(Special)—It is stated upon high authority that the Prime Minister has sent for His Excellency the Governor-General, who is away fishing. This probably means that the Government has decided upon an immediate dissolution of Parliament subject to approval of the party caucus to-morrow. The battle of the polls is about to commence.

PUBLIC OPINION

The Times does not hold itself responsible for opinions of its correspondents . . . . . .

IS IT RIGHT?

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I would like to know why it is, in a free public library, that a book can be "secured" or "held" on payment of 5 cents per week. What I mean is, if a book is out, and a ticket holder wants it, he can have the librarian hold it for him on payment of the above amount. Is this right? Is it fair? There should, I think, be no such advantage given, as it is contrary to the spirit of a free library.

I have for some time been trying to get a certain book, but was never able to do so on account, as I was told, of its being held for another party, who had paid the fee.

THEY ARE PROTECTED.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—Would you kindly inform me through the columns of The Times, what protection in the way of duty, if any, is given harness manufacturers and saddlers.

Thanking you in advance, I am,

Ratepayer.

Reply—The duty on manufactured harness and kindred articles is as follows:

Leather, 12½, 15 and 17½ per cent.
Saddlery, 20, 27½ and 30 per cent.

PLAYING BALL ON STREETS.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I would like to enter a complaint regarding the habit that exists of youngsters playing baseball on the public streets. I happened to be driving a rather spirited horse down Water street, and came upon a bunch of young lads engaged in this pastime. The boys set up a yell as I passed, and my horse took fright. Fortunately the lines were strong and after running several blocks to my great peril, I finally got the animal under control.

Surely there should be a few playgrounds secured in different parts of the city, where boys could indulge in baseball or any other manly game.

Amos.

WRITER IS AMAZED.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I was amused on reading the Examiner of the other day to learn that in Brantford instead of passing a by-law fixing the assessment of certain industries, the assessor "fixes" it by reducing the assessment. There surely must be some mistake regarding this, for I always understood that assessors were obliged to make oath to the correctness of their work.

Fixed assessment is all wrong in principle, and should not be allowed. It is no excuse to say that other places do it. This does not wipe out the offense in the least.

U. S. WANTS THE CONTINENT

London, July 24.—The Pall Mall Gazette, an American-owned paper, says that nobody who has taken a broad view of the reciprocity agreement could ever have expected the United States not to welcome it on far-sighted grounds, since it so manifestly makes directly for the ultimate dominance of the entire North American continent by the United States. The vote of the Canadian people will really decide whether Canada's future is to be mainly that of an Imperial or of an North American entity.

The Evening Standard says that J. J. Hill and other American politicians openly confess their desire for reciprocity, and it is prompted by the wish to scotch the British Imperial federation. Some go further and say that reciprocity can only end in annexation. One thing is certain that the preference now given the British manufacturers in Canada will not be benefitted.

King George Takes a Hand in Crisis Is Adverse to Creating New Peers

SEES ASQUITH AND BALFOUR IN AN EFFORT TO BRING ABOUT PEACE

London, July 24.—King George has actively intervened in an attempt to steer the warring political factions to a peaceful goal. None than he is more anxious to avoid swamping the historic House of Peers with abattalion of new creations, and if his personal influence can effect it, he will arrange some plan for overcoming the present deadlock.

His Majesty to-day gave audience to Premier Asquith, A. J. Balfour, the leader of the Opposition in the House of Commons, and Lord Lansdowne, the Unionist Chief in the House of Lords. It was understood that his Majesty would see other leaders later in the day.

The King Postponed His Departure.

Meanwhile the political situation is so out of gear that the King postponed his intended departure for Goodwood, where he was going this afternoon to visit the Duke of Richmond and attend a four days' race meeting. After the audience to Mr. Asquith at Buckingham Palace this morning, it was announced that his Majesty would not leave the capital until the probable outcome of the Unionist insurrection against the Government's plan for enacting the Veto bill could be clearly determined.

Asquith Reiterates His Threat.

London, July 24.—After trying vainly for three-quarters of an hour to get a hearing in the House of Commons to-day, Premier Asquith cut short his prepared speech, and, amid a hubbub, declared that if the Lords would not consent to restore the Veto Bill even with reasonable amendments, to substantially its original form, that the Government would be compelled to invoke the exercise of the Royal Prerogative for the creation of new peers.

Speaker Had to Adjourn Sitting.

A. J. Balfour replied that the Government by this one stroke had misused the prerogative of the Crown to destroy the second chamber. Others attempted to speak, but were howled down, and unable to restore order, Speaker Lowther declared the sitting suspended until to-morrow.

House of Commons Was Crowded.

No Parliament event of modern times has so quickened the public pulse as the present political crisis arising from the Veto Bill, and anxiety to know the exact terms of Premier Asquith's ultimatum to the peers, crowded the House of Commons this afternoon in a way not seen before for many years.

Every seat was occupied. The peers gallery above the clock was filled to its capacity, the public galleries were overflowing, and on all sides were evidences of the intense excitement. The members of the Lower Chamber, usually so decorous, gave vent to their feelings by rising and cheering frantically and waving handkerchiefs as their respective leaders entered.

Cries of "Traitor" Greeted Asquith

There was some groans from the Unionist benches intermingled with an occasional shout of "traitor," when Mr. Asquith made his appearance.

The opening scenes of the historic session were among the stormiest ever witnessed in the House. As he rose to speak the Premier was encouraged by a roar of applause from the Radical Irish and Labor benches but an answering volley of cheers came from a small group of "standpatters" busily chanting "traitor, traitor, traitor," until Speaker Lowther warned them to control themselves.

Premier Howled Down Many Times.

Half a dozen times the Premier arose to move consideration of the Lords' amendment to the Parliamentary bill, and each time he was howled down by a din so terrific that the Speaker had difficulty in making himself heard as he appealed to both sides to observe Parliamentary decorum. Again Asquith essayed to speak, but was unable to prevail against the uproar.

Frederick E. Smith, Unionist for the Walton Division of Liverpool, injected the claim that the Unionists were entitled to protest in this fashion if they thought that the Cabinet had degraded the political life of the country.

This lead to a renewal of the outbreak. Meanwhile Premier Asquith stood at the table, waiting for a lull in the storm. His first word, however, was a signal for another cyclone, and for twenty minutes the Premier stood, unable to get in a word.

Cries of "Hurrah for Redmond, the real leader," suddenly broke out from the Conservative benches. "We will listen to Redmond," they added.

"The British aristocracy," was the scornful reply of the Radicals, "look at 'em."

Sir Edward Henry Carson, Unionist for Dublin University, moved an adjournment. The Speaker said that he would be delighted to entertain the motion, but the proceedings had not yet started.

Again and again Asquith tried to speak, but a whirlwind of cries drowned his voice.

"Divide, divide," "Let us know the terms of the bargain," "To the line" were among the favorite shouts.

A strong appeal by the Speaker finally caused a momentary cessation of the verbal tornado, and Mr. Asquith got out a couple of sentences.

ASQUITH CALLED DICTATOR.

Asquith got out a couple of sentences asserting that the principle of the Parliamentary bill was affirmed as far back as 1907, and afterwards was confirmed at the general election.

Interruptions followed, the Unionists shouting, "Cannot we hear the dictator?"

Mr. Asquith went on, "The House of Commons carried a resolution in favor of the bill in 1910 by a large majority, and but for the death of King Edward—"

"Keep the King out of politics," "Who killed him—you did!" resounded in the Opposition benches.

ONLY ONE WAY OF ESCAPE.

As the Premier spoke the uproar was continued, and only snatches of what he said could be heard. He referred to criticisms of the Lords' amendments. Only slight verbal changes were required, and very few such changes to alter the sense of the bill to which were due time and consideration given, they were going to by the Fourth of July, 1920."

DATE OF THE ELECTION MAY BE FIXED TODAY

IT IS TAKEN FOR GRANTED AT OTTAWA THAT NO OTHER ALTERNATIVE SEEMS POSSIBLE.

Conservatives Evidently Determined to Insist on An Appeal to the People—Liberals Busy Making Arrangements.

Ottawa, July 24.—Now that the United States Senate has passed the reciprocity bill, and the centre of interest has been transferred to Ottawa the question before the two countries is: How soon can a general election be held in Canada and the Laurier Government receive its mandate to ratify the agreement, which has been so well ratified by the United States?

It is taken for granted that no alternative is possible but an election. The Conservatives refuse all compromise and insist upon their rights to force an appeal to the country, and the Liberals seem ready to accept the challenge just as soon as arrangements can be made.

Caucus May Decide.

It would not be surprising if the approximate date for the voting were to be settled at the Liberal caucus to-morrow, although, of course, the actual election rests with the Premier and his colleagues.

No statutory provision exists to provide for any specific time between a dissolution and nomination, but it is generally thirty days, though there have been cases where the time between dissolution and voting has been shorter than this. Here is the record:

1878—Dissolution, August 9; polling, September 22.
1882—Dissolution, May 18; Polling, June 29.
1887—Dissolution, January 15; polling, February 22.
1891—Dissolution, February 3; polling, June 23.
1896—Dissolution, April 24; polling, June 23.
1900—Dissolution, October 9; polling, November 7.
1904—Dissolution, September 29; polling, November 3.
1908—Dissolution, September 17; polling, October 26.

The New Ontario Lists.

So that even upon the basis of past elections, it would be quite possible to have dissolution say August 11, and the elections on September 14, but it is doubted if the fight will come as quickly. The revision of the New Ontario lists will not be completed until September 18, and the new lists in Quebec will not be ready until September 15, so that if there is any intention to utilize these lists the polling could not take place until some days after this time. That is why it is that some Liberals, who ought to know, pick upon the first week in October for the voting. However, this is all guesswork. Nobody knows except Sir Wilfrid, and he is not telling anybody, although he may give some intimation at to-morrow's caucus.

Meanwhile Conservatives propose to continue their policy of obstruction. The Ontario Voters' lists question will come up again this afternoon; there will be debates with amendments moved in regard to the proceedings of the Imperial Conference and especially touching the Declaration of London, and various other amendments are being framed which will serve the purpose of killing time so as to block the reciprocity resolutions.

The Question of Supply.

It may be well on into the week before any intimation is made as to the attitude of the Opposition in regard to supply. So far they have not been asking for any further supply. What they will do when they are asked is a question yet to be solved, but it is hardly believed that they will receive all money votes, and thus compel the Government to resort to Governor-General's warrants to carry on the business of the country until after the election. There are many matters which are of urgent necessity, and which cannot be started until supply is voted by Parliament, and any new works would have to stop because they could not be financed under Governor-General's warrants.

FORMER PETERBORO' BOY DROWNED AT EDMONTON

The sad news was received here by wire on Sunday announcing the death by drowning, of Mr. Erle Weller, adopted son of the late Judge Weller, of this city. No particulars are given. Mr. Weller, who was about 24 years of age, was a resident of Peterborough up to a couple of years ago when he went West, entering into the stationery business in partnership with Mr. Will Bradburn, son of Mr. Robt. Bradburn who formerly lived on Union street in this city. It is said that they were very successful, and have worked up a large trade. The deceased young man, was well and favorably known in this city, and his many friends will be shocked to hear of his untimely end. Further particulars will be given later.

MAY BE VICTIM OF BIG FIRE

Serious alarm is being occasioned in this city by the friends of Mrs. Kate Redmond, who was employed as a domestic in the Goldfield Hotel, South Porcupine, and who has not been heard from since the great conflagration. There does not appear to be much hope held out that she has escaped, although her name has not yet appeared in the list of the missing or dead.

ADJOURNED TILL AUGUST 24TH

Atlantic City, N.J., July 24. Among the several resolutions introduced last night and adopted was one which provides for a country-wide anti-saloon campaign, the slogan of which will be "A saloonless nation by the Fourth of July, 1920."

5,000 HOMES WERE BURNED

Fire, Which Raged for Twelve Hours Laid to Waste Two Square Miles.

Constantinople, July 24.—More than 5000 buildings were destroyed, and many thousands of persons rendered homeless by an incendiary fire which started in the Stamboul, or native quarter, of Constantinople, last night, and was not extinguished until early to-day. Chaket Pasha, Minister of War, and one of Turkey's most famous generals, was injured by a falling beam while directing successful efforts to save the Minister of War building. The fire is said to have started simultaneously in six places.

Official circles attribute it to enemies of the present Government.

The fire started shortly before midnight, and the flames were soon sweeping through the native quarter, licking up the flimsy wooden houses like straw.

Great excitement prevailed in the crooked, narrow streets. The fire department with its antiquated apparatus, was ludicrously inadequate. For a time the business section of Galata district and the European quarter at Pera were threatened. Wide lanes made by tearing down rows of frame buildings, finally checked the flames.

More than a third of the native quarter and many large stone Government buildings were burned.

MUTILATED BY BEARS

The Remains of Two Prospectors Were Scattered Over Acres of Ground.

Porcupine, July 24.—The first real gruesome finds were reported yesterday by returning searching parties, when the bodies of Nelson Peterson and an unidentified man, supposed to be Rosequist, were found one mile south of Goose Lake, in Shaw Township. Bears had scattered the remains over acres of ground, and proper burial was almost impossible. Two deaths from Liskeard hospital were reported to the committee, as follows: John Bilo and Thomas Cooper, Dome Mine employes. The death list now stands at 70.

Several carloads of provisions arrived to-day, and the camp is now well supplied. Those who employ help have also received a good supply of provisions. The first work of the camp is road building and construction of houses. Within a week normal conditions will prevail.

CANNOT GO OVER THE FALLS

Superintendent Rogers, of the Ontario Police, Steps In—Leach Took Barrel Across Border, and Will Start from American Side.

St. Catharines, July 24.—Chief Mains of the frontier police acting under orders from Supt. Rogers, the chief of the Ontario police, to-day informed Bobby Leach, the Niagara Falls restauranteur, who is to go over Niagara Falls this afternoon in a steel barrel, that he could not make the attempt from the Canadian side—if he tried it he would be arrested, and so would any boatman on the Canadian side who offered him any assistance in his dare-devil enterprise. Philosophically accepting the situation, Bobby has his 11-foot steel barrel trundled across the International bridge, and says he will start from the American side at Schlosser's dock, two miles above the cataract.

Mrs. Anna Edson Taylor, the only person who ever went over the Falls in a barrel and came through alive, started from Schlosser's dock. This was ten years ago, and she went over the Canadian Falls. Leach's wife is opposed to him making the trip.

Hottest Place on Earth.

Even Chicago under a heat wave is not the hottest place on earth. That distinction belongs to Bahrein Island, in the Persian Gulf, where, even at the "coolest" season, the thermometer seldom sinks far below 100 deg., and at ordinary times tops 140 deg., And there is no drinking water on the island, the sole source of supply being certain fresh-water springs at the bottom of the sea, some distance from the shore. The native gets drink by diving. Carrying a sheepskin bag, the mouth of which is closed, he goes down to the mouth of one of the springs. He inverts the bag over the spring and opens the mouth. When the bag is full, the mouth is closed again. The pearl fishers are said to have discovered this submarine fresh-water supply, but for which life on Bahrein Island would be impossible.

Don't Be Discouraged.

A very large proportion of the suffering that afflicts mankind proceeds from the simple feeling of discouragement. Besides the misery which it inflicts, there is the palsying effect it exerts on all human effort. As long as hope reigns in the heart, no exertion seems too great; it is when hope sinks away and despondency takes its place that labour of head or hand languishes.

FRENCH POSTAL BANKS.

People of France More Provident than Anglo-Saxons.

The record of the postal savings bank system in France has been one of continued progress. In 1882, when this institution was established, the total number of postal banks in operation was 5024, with 211,580 deposit accounts remaining open at the close of the year. These accounts, including interest due to depositors, amounted to $9,187,116, the average sum of the deposits being $43.41. On December 31, 1909, the latest year for which complete statistics are available, the number of banks had increased by nearly 2,000, the deposit accounts numbered 5,542,882, and the deposits, including interest, represented an aggregate amount of $316,-[illegible]886, averaging $57.08.

The expenses of administration during 1909 amounted to $1,504,678 and the net profits to $5[illegible]6,784. It may be recalled that individual accounts are limited by law to 1500 francs ($[illegible]50). When an account exceeds [illegible] sum [illegible] by the bank in national bonds. The total value of the bonds purchased in 1909 was $2,050,575. The withdrawals, including these purchases, amounted to $104,916,150.

Two Ribs Broken.

Several people saw him slip on a wet step and fall. Partly extricating himself from his umbrella he got up such a wail of distress that every one in hearing ran to his assistance regardless of the drenching rain.

"Are you hurt?" asked a chorus of voices.

"Anything broken?" demanded another.

"Only two ribs," he muttered in tones of deep anguish as he wiped his bleared face on his sleeve.

Helping him up, a kind man dragged him into a drug store. One thoughtful person suggested a glass of brandy; another, more generous, said there were two ribs broken, and a second glass followed the first.

"That 'll make you feel better, old man. Ribs hurt you now?"

"What ribs?" he puzzled, smacking his lips.

"Why, the ones you said were broken!"

"Oh," he replied, getting on his feet and moving toward the door. "Dey was de ribs in me umbrella."

Sparks from Mars.

Old Sport Saturn is getting very giddy these warm nights. Came home last week with two rings on crooked. Must be warm times on the "Gay White Milk Way."

Our astronomers make some queer blunders. The smoky spot on the earth that was long thought to be an active volcano turns out to be a habitation of earthlings, called Montreal. These immense fields of curious-looking objects are not gigantic mushrooms blown by the wind, but the hats of the earthling ladies. Thus do we live and learn.

Come, spend your summer on Mars. No mosquitoes. High altitudes [illegible] ride on the canals. Come [illegible] souvenir [illegible]

SHACKLETON'S EMPHATIC STYLE

The great explorer not always choice in his Words.

When Sir Ernest Shackleton was in the depths of the Antarctic regions, on his trip toward the South Pole, he kept a diary describing the adventures he had every day, the kind of country he traversed, the weather, and all the details of the journey. He wrote his notes in a free and emphatic style, using the adjectives and phrases which seemed best suited to impress his meaning on those who might read the volume at a later time.

After he had just missed reaching the pole and had returned to civilization as the man who had gone "farthest south," he was asked to print a book about his experiences. He hurriedly edited his diary and turned it over to the publishers. A few days after the book appeared in the shops he began to get letters from religious folks, upbraiding him for a sentence he had used in describing a certain stretch of country over which he had traveled.

Shackleton looked it up and found he had not edited out all the emphatic language he had used in the original. The sentence, to which objection had been made, read as follows: "The surface of this section plays hell with the feet."

Prince Arthur as Footman.

Prince Arthur of Connaught who will probaly come out to Canada with his father, or "young Arthur," as he is usually known about the Court and to his intimate friends, was once stationed at Aldershot, where some engagement had prevented him from changing into the prescribed uniform before going to a State ball.

Consequently he turned up in a suit of ordinary dress-clothes. One of the ladies — she is fairly well known in society — was departing, when she saw what she took to be one of the Court footmen and ordered him, in none too polite terms to find her carriage for her.

His Royal Highness fell into the spirit of the joke, and promptly did as he was told. The lady's carriage was summond, when, to his utter astonishment, she pressed half a sovereign into his palm, remarking: "I know I am quite wrong in doing [illegible] but don't say a word about it. I hope you will shortly improve your position!"

Parasites in Business.

Every class of business accumulates parasitic growth of traditions and customs as it grows older. Banking, for instance, has its customs or etiquette, which, in the case of the Canadian banks, hide-bound by this "traditional etiquette," effectively prevents anything like a rapid extension of business. Many other classes of business, again, are only just now waking up to the possibilities of advertising and finding out how much they have lost in past years by not using it.

Circumstantial Evidence.

—The late Lord Young of the Scottish bench was responsible for enlivening many a dull case. One of the remarks that fell from his lips was the reply to a counsel who urged on behalf of a plaintiff of very bibulous appearance: "My client, my lord, is a most remarkable man, and holds a very responsible position; he is manager of some water works."

WHY ARE THE LARGE INVESTORS ALL OVER CANADA AND THE UNITED STATES BUYING MONTREAL REAL ESTATE?

If Western land or speculative stocks were considered better,-- is it reasonable to suppose that these careful financiers whose knowledge of Canadian conditions is beyond a doubt-would buy Montreal Real Estate?

To the men of good judgment,— these questions do not require an answer.

YOU KNOW Montreal is the largest City in the Dominion.

YOU KNOW that the population is increasing yearly at the rate of about 50,000.

YOU KNOW these people have to have homes.

Taking the above facts into consideration, what do you consider, looking in the most conservative way possible, ANGUS PARK LOTS will be worth in four years' time?

Taking the past advances in MONTREAL REAL ESTATE as an example, these lots will be worth over a hundred per cent. (100 per cent.) more in that time.

We have a limited number of lots situated on ANGUS PARK BOULEVARD, which we can offer you at to-day's low prices, and on terms that will not cripple your finances, and by the time your lots are fully paid for you will have saved not only the cost of the land but the increase in value, thereby making your investment many hundred per cent. (100 per cent.) better than a Savings Bank account and much safer.

Do not delay till this opportunity has escaped you, but call in and see us, or drop us a line and we will send you full particulars together with our application forms. The prices range from $100 per lot upwards and the terms 10 per cent. cash, and the balance 10 per cent. every three months without interest.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

Our Four Great Railways.

The United States had thirty million people before the country was connected by railway from ocean to ocean. Four years from now, when Canada's population will probably approximate ten millions, we will have four transcontinental railway systems. And no one doubts that there will be traffic for all of them if we maintain our fiscal independence and encourage interprovincial trade. If the Canadian Northern and Grand Trunk Pacific Railways do as much to develop Canada and advertise it through the world as the Canadian Pacific Railway has done the progress of Canada during the next twenty-five years will surpass that of the United States in any twenty-five years of its history.

KING EDWARD VACUM CLEANER

You cannot clean carpets, rugs and furniture by beating. If you think you have, just try a KING EDWARD VACUUM CLEANER and you will find the article full of dust, which breeds disease.

The KING EDWARD HAND MACHINE has no equal as compared with other hand machines. It is lighter to operate and its suction is much stronger. Its suction is stronger than many of the power machines, and the dusting is done away with. On account of the short stroke one person can operate it on carpets and rugs equally as well as two, and it is about half the weight of other hand machines to carry up and down stairs or from one room to another. It is sold for less money than any of the hand machines. All machines are guaranteed.

Reason Why Persons Do Not Keep on Growing.

Six pounds and a half is the weight of the average child at birth; at the end of the first year the average weight is eighteen pounds and a half, a gain of twelve pounds; and at the end of the second year the weight is twenty-three pounds, a gain of only four pounds and a half. And with each successive year the gain is less and less until maturity is reached. Why is the gain less each year? And why does it finally cease altogether?

The reason is that the absorbing surfaces inside the stomach and intestine do not, and in the nature of things cannot, grow proportionately to the growth of the body as a whole. During the first year of growth the child's body becomes approximately three times as large as it was at birth, but the interior of the stomach and bowel of the child at the age of one year is not even twice as large as it was at birth, let alone three times as large. Yet all the nourishment which supplies materials for growth has to be absorbed by the membrane which lines the insid of the stomach, and especially the small intestine. It is, therefore, plain that growth of the body as a whole must gradually subside as the tissues to be nourished gradually approach a size at which their demands balance the utmost supply of nutrition taken up by the stomach and intestine.

The police think those who go from the city to the lakes do not fasten their doors and windows properly before leaving. They should do so.

THE STANDING ALIBI OF
H. STANLEIGH STORME

(Copyright by Publishers Press Ltd).

By Wm. Hamilton Osborne.

rube——"

The other man again interrupted.

"You haven't even the commonest observation," he said to the prosecutor. "You know the voice of H. Stanleigh Storme. Is it like mine? You are familiar with his face. Is it like mine. The one thing that Storme did not tell you was that the very points of difference between us were in the voice and in the color of the skin. His face is florid, mine or his mine is always pale——"

"By George," exclaimed the sheriff in an audible voice to the crowd about him, "that accounts for it."

The judge adjusted his spectacles and looked long and earnestly at the man. Then he leaned back with an air of conviction.

"This man is not the prisoner," he said finally: "he is not H. Stanleigh Storme."

The prosecutor thought for a moment. Then he spoke.

"Why, then, did you not take the stand when I called your name?" he asked severely.

"You did not call my name," returned the other.

"I did," retorted the prosecutor. "I did call your name — the name of Wesly Warburton."

The man smiled and shook his head.

"My name is Henry F. Townsend," he responded quietly.

"What!" returned the prosecutor. "Do you mean to tell me that you didn't write this letter to me signed Wesley Warburton? Look at it!"

"If you care to find out," responded Townsend slowly, "you are liable to discover that that letter is in the handwriting of H. Stanleigh Storme—ask the bank men here—and," he continued, "it's my opinion that you'll have to look a long way before you find any real man of the name of Wesley Warburton!"

"But these exhibits!" went on the lawyer. "How did the prisoner come to have charge of these?"

"That's simple enough," returned the other. "He had a copy of the newspaper just as I did, and it was an everyday job for a man like H Stanleigh Storme to prepare copies of letters from memory—letters that he had handed me in the past. Here are my proofs—look at them." And he placed another batch of papers in the hands of the district attorney.

The whole thing is plain. Storme is a clever fellow, and he knew beforehand that I was coming, and he knew what I was here for. He knew that the man who had the first say would win out and cast suspicion on the other man. It was a simple thing for him to take the stand and tell my story. He knew it all by heart. And it was a simple thing to get off the stand and walk out in the open air a free man from henceforth. And mark my word, gentlemen, you'll never find him."

And they never did. For H Stanleigh Storme was only half right in his last statement to the court.

The judge had his address all right. In that he was correct. But he was laboring under some grievous misapprehension when he told the judge that he could be found there any time, if wanted.

For they tried it many, many times, and with great persistence—later. And they found he'd proved an alibi.

"Now who was stringing us, Burke?" said O'Connell after it was all over. "Was it the devil or H. Stanleigh Storme?"

"Well," responded Burke, stretching his head, "it's about the same either way. There's no difference, so far as I can see, between the two."

And O'Connell was in much the same frame of mind.

CHAPTER XVIII

Storme Proves Another Alibi.

The facts set forth in the foregoing narrative were all within the personal knowledge of the writer; for what happened later he is dependent wholly on evidence at second hand, but which nevertheless is in all respects reliable.

The writer sat within the court room at each trial, and in fact reported for a local sheet such of the facts as were afterwards made public, but immediately after the second trial associated himself with a leading paper in an Eastern city.

It was with feelings of considerable pleasure that he found himself confronted on the street not long since by a bearded denizen of the old place. From this man he was able to glean such further facts relative to H. Stanleigh Storme as were of interest to him.

"Well, sir," said the visitor. "I'm glad to see you. I haven't seen you for a couple o' years at the outside—

Look Out for Your Throat.

Necessity of Rigid Precaution Emphasized.

Necessity of rigid precaution and the skilled care of a specialist in cases of serious illness and especially in the case of communicable diseases is emphasized in the following clipping from the publication of the Board of Health, the "Sanitary Bulletin," for May:

"Every member of a certain family had a sore throat four weeks ago which was diagnosed as follicular tonsilitis or quinzy. Two of the girls served as maids in other families, in each of which one of the children took diphtheria and died. Cultures were then taken of members of the first family with sore throats and each showed diphtheria. As they were able to be around, and apparently getting better of their local trouble, constitutional treatment was neglected. They persisted in refusing to believe that they had diphtheria, until baby could no longer stand the strain and died! Three deaths from 'quinzy sore throats,' and all this happened in Buffalo."

HOMELY WISDOM.

Pull together, said Abraham Lincoln, or Upset the Boat.

A recent biographer of Abraham Lincoln has some interesting things to say of "Honest Old Abe's" views on the dependence of the different classes on society on one another. "The farmer and the manufacturer" the president once said, with his characteristic shrewdness, "are both in the same boat and I reckon they've got to learn to navigate the craft together or they'll upset." "He compared the case of a Pennsylvania farmer", continues the historian in question, "and a Pennsylvania iron implement maker whose properties adjoined. Under a protective policy the farmer supplied the ironmaker with bread, meat, vegetables, fruit, fodder for horses, etc., and the ironmaker supplied the farmer with all the iron, iron implements, etc., which he needed. Assuming that a change is made and the Protective policy abandoned, the farmer then discovers that he can buy his iron implements cheaper from Europe than from his neighbor, assuming that he sells a sufficient quantity of flour in Europe to enable him to effect the purchase of the iron. He ultimately discovers that the cost of carriage to the coast, transportation by sea to England, insurance and cartage on arrival, does not enable him to receive such a good reward for his labor as he formerly did when selling his flour to his neighbor, the ironmaker. He, therefore, determines to sell his flour as before to his neighbor. But meantime the farmer discovers that while he has been purchasing his iron implements from Europe his neighbor, the ironmaker, has been compelled to stop his works and dismiss his employees, not having sufficient work for them. The farmer, therefore, now finds that he has more wheat than he knows what to do with; also, that he is no longer able to sell his fruit, vegetables fodder meat, horses, etc., to his neighbor, the ironmaker, as he has gone out of business.

DANGEROUS TO USE "ESQUIRE."

How One Writer Was Cured in Germany.

The recovery of a letter which had been sent to a little town in Germany and never delivered to the person addressed, cured the writer of the custom of adding "Esquire" to a name on the superscription of mail matter. The letter in question would probably have been promptly delivered had the address read simply, "Mr. John Brown." But the sender had addressed it, "John Brown, Esquire," and the communication rested comfortably in the "E" compartment of the post restante department, waiting to be called for by "Mr. Esquire." One of the popular guide books warns against the use of "Esq.," saying that it might be mistaken for a name.

ON A GRAIN OF WHEAT.

A Prayer Containing 238 Letters Inscribed and Four Figures.

Prayers have been written and engraved on many very small objects, but only one person ever has been patient and painstaking enough to inscribe a complete prayer on a grain of wheat. One day Sir Moses Montefiore, the great Jewish financier of England, received a small tin box in the mail. On the cover of the box was written, "A prayer for Moses Montefiore, by Bauch Mordecai, son of Zebi Hirsch Scheinemann, of Jerusalem." The box contained a single grain of wheat, on which was inscribd, in characters so small that they could only be read with the aid of a powerful microscope, the 386 Hebrew letters of the prayer, and the date of the year (Hebrew reckoning), 5645. Sir Moses kept the prayer in his desk until he died, and it is now preserved with religious care by one of his friends.

One per cent. of the water of the oceans would cover all the land to a depth of 300 feet.

If the flour mills of Canada were operated to their capacity, they could produce flour enough for 30,000,000 people.

A well known judge has ruled that wives have a perfect right to read their husband's private letters. We found that out long before the judge did.

Men think that we are smarter than they are, otherwise they would not expect so much more of us than they can possibly do themselves.

A Mix-Up.

A horse attached to a vehicle in front of the Windsor Hotel on Brock street, Saturday morning, pulled the wagon off the sidewalk, which fell at his feet and caused the animal to back up, coming in contact with a team attached to a water cart. These horses also became excited and somewhat of a mix-up followed. The animals were, however, quieted before serious damage was done.

At the drawing in connection with the Sacred Heart social, Mr. Thos. Edwards, 25 Ware street, secured the prize of a railway ticket to St. Anne de Beaupre.

" Sick Man's Friend "

That's the Name Given by Thousands to the Old Family Stand-by, "Nerviline."

1,000,000 BOTTLES USED ANNUALLY.

No better known or more popular family remedy has ever been compounded than "Nerviline." During the past half century its success has been phenomenal — due to the fact that it always cures.

"No one could get me to go to bed at night unless I was sure we had Nerviline in the house," writes Mrs. R. R. Weightman, of Bolton P. O. "Six years ago my husband was taken badly with rheumatism, which affected his right arm and shoulder. It was so sore and stiff as to be almost helpless for four years. I read of the cure of James E. Everett, and felt sure that when Nerviline cured a case like his, it would cure my husband. I got a dollar's worth of Nerviline, five bottles, in Buffalo, and am pleased to write you that the fourth bottle cured. We have since used Nerviline for Lumbago, Neuralgia, Colds, Chest Tightness and other minor ailments in the family and found 'Nerviline' to be the 'Sick Man's Friend.'"

CURED 4 YEARS RHEUMATISM

No other remedy is so useful in the home, so universally employed to alleviate pain and curing the sick. Refuse anything offered you instead of Nerviline, which is sold: Large 25c bottles or five for $1.00. By all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

The Morning Times

TUESDAY, JULY 25, 1911.

CHURCH VS. STATE.

An interesting conflict between ecclesiastical and civil law has arisen in St. John, Quebec, says the News. Some time ago the priests of the College of St. Marie de Monnoir, in the diocese of St. Hyacinthe, removed their institution to St. John, in the diocese of Montreal. It was understood at the time that the Bishop of St. Hyacinthe was opposed to the removal, while there was a general impression that Mgr. Bruchesi, of Montreal, was not averse to the change. St. John people had been anxious for the establishment of a classical college in their city, and they have given every support to the new institution—or rather the old institution on a new site.

The question of the authority of the Bishop of St. Hyacinthe was submitted to the former Papal Delegate, Mgr. Sbaretti. The delegate ordered that the priests should leave St. John and re-establish themselves in their proper diocese. In case they proved recalcitrant their community would be dissolved and their property would be given to the episcopal funds of St. Hyacinthe.

A creditor of the community, Mr. Edwards, who had not been represented before the ecclesiastical court, heard of this judgment by the delegate, and immediately made action in the civil courts for a quo warranto decree to forbid the dissolution of the college. Judge Lafontaine granted the application provisionally, and the priests were officially notified to preserve the status quo under penalty of contempt of court.

For some time nothing was done. The new apostolic delegate, Mgr. Stagni, has taken the matter into consideration with Mgr. Bruchesi, and as a first penalty the priests were forbidden to say mass. Last Sunday Canon Roy, administrator of the diocese of Montreal, went to St. John and presented two documents to be read in the churches. The first announced that the priests of St. Marie de Monnoir were in St. John against the will of their Ordinary and of the Holy See. Not the least hope was given that they would be permitted to continue their classes, and Catholic parents were warned not to send their sons there. The second letter announced the establishment of a new college having the authority of the Archbishop of Montreal.

Judge Monet, the spokesman for the people of St. John, puts the case in brief form. If the priests obey the ecclesiastical decree they are subject to imprisonment for contempt of court. If they obey the civil court they will be subjected to ecclesiastical penalties and the loss of their property. He asks that the Church make a stay in proceedings until the quo warranto proceedings have been finally settled. The Church is not disposed to meet this request.

THE WORLD LOVES A MINER.

Miners are flocking back to the gold fields—neither frightened nor discouraged by recent calamities. The men who make a life work of discovering the precious metals are a remarkable race. A strange fact is that while they are continually looking for the material of which money is made, few men care less for money. Few men are less tainted with the vice of avarice. They are an unworldly class. They search for gold in the same spirit that the child feels its stocking on Christmas morning. They dream of automobiles, trips to Europe, mansions, and luxuries. When the lucky strike is made they spend the money with careless prodigality. The man who has made a million dollars may be reduced to borrowing a shovel, and he may be as happy in his new hopes as he was in the realization of the old hopes. He regards gold and silver as the poet regards inspiration. No two men are farther apart than the miner who finds the gold and the miser who hoards it. And public opinion on this matter is sound. No man is more safe from the shafts of envy than the prospector who has made a strike.

In Tokio the Japanese wives fan their husbands all night in hot weather. In some other places wives get their husbands hot air as long as they are awake.

If you haven't the price for a vacation, you can at least get a free sunburn and look like it.

VANCOUVER'S GREAT BRIDGE PROJECT.

Over the Second Narrow of Burrard Inlet.

Characteristic with the great development of the city of Vancouver and the surrounding municipalities is the new bridge projected over the Second Narrows of Burrard Inlet which will connect the cities of Vancouver and North Vancouver, much the same as New York is connected with Brooklyn. The Second Narrows Bridge Project is now well under way, the necessary assistance having been secured from the Dominion and Provincial Governments as well as from the cities and municipalities benefitted by the bridge, to assure the financing of its construction and the engineers are completing the plans prior to soliciting bids for the actual construction. It is stated that the work on the structure will be started well within the present year. The importance of this bridge to the city of Vancouver and the great effect it will have on the realty values of the North Vancouver side will be understood when it is remembered that the site of the city of Vancouver proper is decidedly limited in area lying as it does between the waters of English Bay, Burrard Inlet and False Creek. The north shore presents one of the finest city sites on the Pacific Coast, with a large water frontage back from which the ground slopes so as to afford admirable drainage as well as easy street grades. The North side approaches of the bridge will lie about two or more miles east of the present city of North Vancouver. Within a short distance of the northern terminus of the proposed bridge is a tract where it is expected a new town will in time grow up. The property in question is named Keith Park, being so named after Mr. J. C. Keith, one of the oldest and heaviest land owners of Vancouver as well as one of the most active and leading citizens of the British Columbia. Keith Park is the junction spot for all North side traffic on account of its location at the junction of the Keith Road (the great east and west artery) and the Pipe Line Road (owned by the city of Vancouver and the north and south artery of the Seymour Creek Valley). When the bridge is opened for business Keith Park will receive great benefits from the large traffic which will immediately ensue. The owners of this property are now offering lots for sale in Keith Park at prices which are far lower than is placed on property of similar character not so advantageously located. It is their intention to sell a portion of this property at the present prices only. Persons seeking a safe and attractive investment in Vancouver should investigate this opportunity. Full information may be secured from the Keith Park Land Co., Ltd., Vancouver, B.C., or through any reliable broker.

Cuba's Grape Fruit Garden of Wealth

Will provide you with an income that will make you independent for life.

Begin right now---do something for yourself. Provide for a time when your earning capacity will be reduced to a minimum. You can make a start by purchasing one or two shares.

Our booklet beautifully illustrated, tells the story--contains interesting facts regarding the Grape Fruit Industry.

The figures are startling but true

When three years old grape-fruit trees begin to bear, the crop continues to increase until the seventh year when the average amounts to between seven and twenty boxes of fruit. Grape-Fruit is usually sold on the trees at a price ranging not less than $1.00 per box. On the Manhattan Estates we will have a grove of over 40,000 trees, and our yearly crop, once maturity is reached, should average 280,000 crates annually. Between the trees we intend cultivating tobacco and pineapples from which a substantial profit will be realized within one year from the time of planting. The British-owned Western Railways run through the Estates, insuring splendid shipping facilities. The officers and directors of this company have implicit faith in this enterprise, and have agreed that no one shall receive one cent of salary until after 25 per cent. dividends have been earned and declared. They are quite willing to wait for their dividends, knowing that their investments will amply repay them.

One Hundred Dollars is enough to insure ease and comfort. Why not inqure today about our special offer.

AN INVESTMENT NOT A SPECULATION

What everybody with an ounce of common sense is on the alert for these days is a sound INVESTMENT and there is as much difference between an investment and a speculation as there is between London and Hong-Kong, although we all don't realize this.

• • • •

Consequently when one takes a chance on a speculative proposition, mistaking it as an investment and comes out of the small end of the horn, he becomes pessimistic and with the tightening of his purse strings to extremes to keep the pennies in just naturally shuts the dollars out.

• • • •

Now then if there were no investors there would be no progress, and with no progress the community would mighty soon become stagnant.

• • • •

The foundation of America, was old Christopher Columbus, he had an idea but was short on ready cash, in other words he was what us modern day folks call a promoter. His idea was feasible, he found co-operation, his plans carried and YOU KNOW THE REST.

• • • •

Like Columbus we are all Pioneers. Not out for our health, but to make money. No man ever saved more than a competence on a salary; few do that. To get a footing on "Easy Street" you have to invest. DOLLARS don't grow in your pockets or in a stocking. They must be put to work. Old Russell Sage said:

"Plant a few in a new country and see how fast they grow."

That's what we are trying to impress on you now and here is the biggest opportunity of this kind that is likely to knock at your door.

• • • •

We are the Pioneers of the fruit and vegetable canning enterprise in the Okanagan Valley and earnestly invite you to co-operate with us.

• • • •

Men at the head of affairs of this corporation are the best known and most highly esteemed gentlemen in British Columbia.

• • • •

Mr. Albert McKillop, our President, has a world wide reputation in the Timber and Timber Land World. (See R. G. Dunn).

• • • •

Mr. Wesley A. Blair, our Secretary and Treasurer, is also Cashier of the Canadian Customs, being the Government's most trusted employee. He handles on an average of $30,000.00 every commercial day of the year, and it was his fertile mind that first saw the possibilities of Canneries on the Coast, in-as-much as tens of thousands of dollars duty pass through his hands for American goods yearly. Bear in mind that there is a 2½c per pound duty on all canned stuff and RECIPROCITY or no RECIPROCITY that will stand.

• • • •

Remember we belong to no combine, have no opposition, and are pioneers in this field.

• • • •

Just think of it, The Dominion Fruit Canners cleared $400,000 last year, approximately 51 per cent. What's going to prevent the Okanagan Canners Ltd., from doing the same.

• • • •

It's a matter of record that the Kelowna district—site of our Cannery—proved positively at all the recent fruit shows that the Okanagan valley is the greatest fruit producing country in the world.

• • • •

Now, then, be up and thinking.

• • • •

We are incorporated for only $100,000.

• • • •

We are only going to let 60,000 shares out of our treasury.

• • • •

Not one of our shares has gone for promotion purposes, every share being represented by its equivalent.

• • • •

We have no salaried officials, in fact no leakages of any kind.

• • • •

A Premium of 25 per cent. will be put on this stock as soon as our cannery at Kelowna is completed, which will be at an early date, as we will handle this year's crop.

• • • •

You undoubtedly have stood silently aside and seen other opportunities vanish that your neighbor has grasped and is now realising handsomely on and term him lucky.

• • • •

It's not luck, but JUDGMENT when opportunities like this present themselves and one takes advantage of them.

• • • •

Our land is bought and paid for, and we hold a receipt in full for our wharf for Cannery No. 1, which is completed at Kelowna.

• • • •

Although capitalized at $100,000, divided into 100,000 shares at one dollar each, we are going to offer for public subscription but 60,000 shares, and the remainder will positively stay in the treasury.

• • • •

This is a gilt-edge bona fide, conservative investment and it is not reasonable to believe will be on the market long, consequently act NOW before it is too late.

• • • •

Terms of purchasing securities are one dollar per share; 25 per cent. cash, balance, two, four and six months without interest.

BY-LAW NUMBER 1555

A By-law to fix the assessment of The Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company (Limited).

Passed the third day of October, 1910.

Whereas The Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company (Limited) has represented to the Council of the City of Peterborough that it is the only manufacturing concern in the City of Peterborough engaged in the manufacture of locks and other articles manufactured by it, and has to compete with manufacturers in the same line of business in other places who have received and are enjoying Municipal assistance, making it difficult for the said Company to meet such competition, and has applied to the Council for a fixed assessment on the real estate, plant and business assessment of the said Company in the City of Peterborough at the sum of $25,000, and the said Council has agreed thereto and to pass this By-Law for that purpose, subject to the confirmation thereof by the Legislature.

The Corporation of the City of Peterborough, by the Council thereof, therefore enacts as follows:—

1. This By-Law shall take effect upon and only upon the confirmation thereof by the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario, and upon the said Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company (Limited), executing an agreement not to oppose the construction of any work as a local improvement abutting or fronting on, or the cost or part of the cost of which might be assessed or charged against the property in Section 2 hereof described, or any part thereof, that the said Council may desire to construct under the provisions of the Municipal Act relating to local improvements.

2. The assessment of the following lands in the City of Peterborough owned, occupied and used by The Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company (Limited) and being Lot Number Four north of Simcoe Street and west of George Street, and that part of Lot Number Three north of Simcoe Street and west of George Street described as follows:—Commencing on the western limit of the said Lot Number Three, at a point seventy-seven feet six inches north from the south-west angle thereof; thence northerly along the said western limit of the said lot to the northern limit thereof; thence easterly along said northern limit eighteen feet; thence south and parallel to the western limit of said lot to a point seventy-seven feet six inches north of said Simcoe Street; thence westerly and parallel to the southern limit of the said lot to the place of beginning while used exclusively for the manufacturing purposes of the Company, or the part so used for such manufacturing purposes, and the buildings, plant, machinery and fixtures thereon, and the business assessment there of on which taxes are to be levied, shall be fixed and remain fixed while the same are so used, and while at least an average of one hundred hands are employed therein for at least ten months of each year, at the sum of $25,000 for a period of ten years from the first day of January, 1911, and the return and oath of the assessor or assessors in respect thereof shall be amended accordingly, but the same shall, for school purposes, be and remain liable to assessment and the payment of school taxes and rates to as full an extent as if this By-Law had not been passed, and the assessment for school purposes and the school rates and taxes shall be made, levied and collected thereon in accordance with the provisions of the general law in that behalf, and the said lands shall also be liable for all frontage and local improvement assessments, rates and taxes that are now or may hereafter be charged against the same, and any buildings on the said lands not used exclusively for the business of the Company, and the land appurtenant to same shall not be included in the fixed assessment hereunder, but such buildings and land, while not used as aforesaid, shall be assessed as provided by the Assessment Act then in force; provided, however, that if the said Company shall at any time within the said term of ten years fail or neglect to operate and carry on the said manufacturing establishment substantially to the capacity thereof, and therein to employ at least an average of one hundred hands during at least ten months in each year, then such fixed assessment shall cease, and the taxes and rates on the said lands, buildings, plant, machinery and fixtures and on the business assessment thereof shall be and become payable to the same amount and in the same manner as if this By-Law had not been passed; provided always that if the failure to carry on the said business is due to strikes or destruction of the buildings, plant, machinery or fixtures by fire or tempest, the time during which the said business shall so cease to be carried on in consequence of such strikes, or destruction of the buildings, plant, machinery or fixtures (not exceeding in either case one year) shall not be taken as a failure or neglect to carry on the said business, so as to disentitle the said Company to such fixed assessment.

3. The said Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company (Limited) shall, prior to the first day of March in each year, file with the City Clerk a statutory declaration, made by an officer of the Company, who shall therein state his knowledge of the facts, proving that the said Company has complied with and is observing all the terms, conditions and provisions of this By-Law, and on the neglect of the said Company to furnish such declaration it shall be prima facie taken that such terms, conditions and provisions have not been performed, observed and kept, and the said fixed assessment shall cease, and the taxes and rates shall be and become payable to the same amount and in the same manner as if this By-Law had not been passed.

(Sgd.) W. G. MORROW, Mayor

(Sgd.) S. R. ARMSTRONG, Clerk.

THE KING'S THRONE.

Hard to Say Which is the Real Throne.

The King may be said to have a suite of thrones—or shall we say a set of "occasional thrones?"—on each of which he probably sits at least once. Certainly he only sits on a single occasion upon one of them—that is the Coronation Chair in Westminster Abbey—the worm-eaten, battered, lion-footed old oak settee which contains the Stone of Destiny, and upon which all the King's predecessors since Edward II. have been crowned. That chair might, perhaps, claim to be the throne of the Empire, as it is infinitely the most ancient, and inasmuch as the King must sit upon it to be crowned.

It is not at all likely that the King would sit upon it often, even if it were in his "ain ingle-nook," because it is an extremely uncomfortable chair. It stands, year in and year out, in the chapel of Edward the Confessor, where it was first placed by Edward I., and it is only removed for the Coronation, when, covered with gold brocade, it is set under the lantern, between the choir and the altar.

Probably the throne most familiar to the public is the great creation which stands upon a dias in the House of Lords. It is often mentioned in the newspapers quite apart from the opening of Parliament—the only occasion upon which it is actually used as a seat. Often a phrase like this occurs: "Mr. John Burns, who is greatly interested in this bill, listened to the debate from the steps of the throne." A beautiful rail separates this "Royal seat of Kings" from the faithful peers.

PARDONABLE QUACKERY

How a Physician Had to Fake to Cure

As a doctor, one of the English heroes who assisted in the defence of Kars, had special opportunities of studying the habits and character of the degraded races of Asia Minor. He found it necessary to be more of a quack than a physician among them. "As my patients became numerous, and pestered me at all hours, I fitted up," he tells us, "a spare tent to serve as my dispensary, and gave out that I received at the time of afternoon prayer (asar). I took my seat at the door of my tent, and soon had a crowd around me, many suffering from real diseases, many from imaginary ones, and many bringing for my inspection the effects of diseases such as palsied limbs and stiff joints." One of his patients was an old woman, who came forward, and taking hold of the corner of his cloak, kissed it, and then, kneeling before him, began, in a very wheedling manner, to call his attention to her case. "She went on to describe the most anomalous symptoms, affecting her eyes, ears, limbs, and sometimes every part of her. On further inquiry, she confessed to be quite well at that moment; but a year ago, having had these strange complaints, she dreaded the same thing would invade her this year. I then promised to give her strong medicine, but ordered the crowd to stand at a short distance from us. A space is cleared, and all wait in silent admiration for my remedy. I slowly draw forth a bottle of strong liquor of ammonia, or smelling-salts, from my medicine-chest, and, holding it before my patients eyes, tell her to draw in a strong breath when I put it to her nose. I accordingly first hold her nostrils, then, having removed the stopper, I apply the mouth of the bottle to the nose, the fingers are removed, a long sniff is taken, followed by a sort of spasm, and she falls to the ground. A hum of horror runs through the crowd; the patient, after a short interval, rises, her eyes streaming with tears; and then breaks from the crowd, 'La ilaha illa 'llahu Mahommed rasulu 'llah!' — 'There is no God but the God, and Mahomed is the Apostle of God!'"

Valuable Information about Taxicabs

In reply to many correspondents from the West, it may be said that a taxicab is a lineal descendant of Captain Kidd on its father's side and Jesse James on its mother's. To look at, it is a harmless creature. To read about, it is positively virtuous. But to monkey with, it is the triple concentrated extract of Montreal's Ananias Club, fishermen, real-estate agents, mining promoters, and autobiographers. Whether this is because of sheer willfulness or because it was sick with the scarlet fever at the time the rest of the class studied the tables of linear measurement is not clear, but the fact is that a taxicab can get more miles out or three blocks than a landlady can get pieces out of a single pie, and it can ruffle one's temper more effectually than the most dipsomaniacal Jehu that ever cracked a whip or framed an oath.

For the Camper.

An old mackintosh is full of possibilities to the woman who intends to go camping or fishing or even to one who does gardening and her own laundry work or scrubbling. The circular cape may be cut into two aprons if finished with a waistband. Cut the skirt portion of the coat from the underwaist, form a box plait at the center back, put on a waist band and close at the left front, and it is a splendid water proof skirt. The pocket should be left in if it is placed right. The frayed hem at the bottom may be trimmed and finished with black skirt binding. From the remaining parts of the waist a sponge bag or waterproof cuffs may be fashioned.

The Foolishness of Over Work.

The labourer who wears out all his powers in the machinery of life's work and takes no part in its thought and imagination, and the thinker who wears out his brain before its time and has no part in the practical activity of life, have each lost much of the pleasure that rightly belongs to them. They may not be conscious of it, but it is none the less true that the health, happiness, and real effectiveness of every man can be gained only by the harmonious union of labour and thought.

'Chickens Come Home to Roost.'

A young man in a certain Montreal office put up a joke on the bookkeeper, who was a quiet, steady, serious chap. Everyone was to tell the victim that he looked very, very bad indeed. It was wonderful what effect this would have.

It was a hot August day when the joke began. The office boy started it. 'Ain't ye well, Mr. Quill?' he said.

'Yes, of course. Why?' Quill asked.

'Why, ye look so pale,' said the boy.

'I feel all right,' returned Quill, calmly, and he put on his office coat and set to work.

But when the shipping clerk told him he looked ill, Quill frowned and said he had had a bad night — that was all.

When the cashier asked him what made him have such a queer color, he said his heart felt strange.

For an hour or so Quill was tormented with anxious inquiries full of gloomy forebodings about his health. Finally, with an impatient, worried gesture, he threw down his pen and hastened to the office of the chief. He was gone about five minutes. When he returned, the chief was with him.

'Men,' said the chief, raising his hand to command the attention of all, 'as Mr. Quill is sick, I have granted him a ten days' leave of absence. Please arrange to divide his work equally among you while he is gone.'

NAVAL BATTLE WITH HORSES

How 3000 Cowboys Captured the Spanish Fleet.

Paez, who was the first President of the Republic of Venezuela, was perhaps the only man who ever fought a naval battle on horseback. It is a matter of history that he, to whom more than any other man, apart from Simon Bolivar, Venezuela owes her independence, actually attacked and captured with his cavalry a fleet of ships.

Bolivar was endeavouring to cross the Apure River in the struggle for independence, but was prevented from doing so by some eight Spanish gunboats, which moved up and down the stream as he did. Bolivar was in despair for a while. To Paez, who was second in command, he appealed for counsel, saying that he could never cross the river so long as the Spanish gunboats were there. "If only we could capture them," the revolutionary leader observed, "the rest would be easy."

Paez decided that he would have those ships or die, and he accordingly told his regiment of cowboys to follow him. Paez himself had been a cowboy on the plains of the Orinoco, and was the idol of his men. So when he spurred his horse into the stream, calling on his men to follow, of the 3,000 cowboys and their mounts, which are taught to swim as well as to gallop, there was not a single man to hold out in this unique assault upon the gunboats. It being night, the Spanish fleet were taken quite unawares. The cowboys wriggled from their saddles to the decks of the vessels, letting their mounts swim back to shore. Having thus cut off their own retreat, it was a question of win or die. They fought well, and every gunboat was captured.

THE EDIBLE CRAB

Something of the Curious Life of This Half Fish Half Animal.

The edible crab is obliged to moult or cast off its shell many times during its life. This moulting appears to be an unpleasant ordeal to pass, for the crabs often die during the act. When we see that they are not only obliged to escape from the carapox or shell, but also from the hard covering of their legs, delicate mouth-parts, and even gullet — turning themselves inside out, as it were — it is not surprising that they perish during the ordeal. The crab crawls up into some secluded nook or cove in shallow water to moult, out of th way of its hard-shelled relatives, for the helpless, newly-moulted, or soft-shell crab, if found, is devoured by them, as well as by several species of fishes. Fortunately for the crab, the soft covering hardens rapidly, and in a few hours it has a new and strong armour, and it then goes fearlessly out into deep water.

Boosting.

Things may be coming your way but be careful that they do not come with such force as to carry you away with them. There are tides and tides. Some are natural, some are supernatural and some are dangerous, because they move with a force which is too strong for our character and will. "Beware of uncontrolable circumstances". This was an expression which first fell from the lips of Wellington. The editor of a periodical remarks: —

"Old salts, who are forever yarning about wrecks and their causes, have a theory that what is called a "boosting" sea accounts for more than one of the disasters that have occurred in the long history of shipping. A "boosting" sea is a sea that runs heavily after a steamer, and, if it does not actually "poop" the vessel, yet, by the roll of billow after billow, accelerates its speed to a degree ungeussed by the navigator, until finally the ship, having unconsciously overrun its course, brings up upon a rock or hidden reef, and is reported at Lloyds' as "lost."

Monuments in Queer Places.

There are Monuments in all sorts of out-of-the-way places but one that is really unique is that erected in a river. It stands in the Parramatta River, New South Wales, a stream known the world over for the rowing events that have taken place upon it. This monument, which is in memory o. the world-famed rower, Searle, is also unique from the fact that it has been used as the winning-post of the races for the world's championship, and is still used as such for local events.

The Emperor Gorges Himself.

The "Hoei Pao" says that an American doctor recently visited the palace at Peking to examine the baby Emperor, who, it was found, had gorged himself with a meal of swallows' nests (a sort of glutinous material), and thus provoked a raging thirst. The indisposition yielded easily to the doctor's treatment. The Emperor sleeps in a gigantic bed, big enough for six people! he rises at six, at once has a meal of rice-gruel or rice, and then goes to pay his respects to the Dowager Lung-yu.

A sculptor recently produced the likeness of a celebrated personage in whose biography it was mentioned that he regarded architecture as a very secondary art. The son of this personage visited the artist's studio for the purpose of examining the bust, when, after considering it with the air of a connoisseur, he inquired, "Could you not express more clearly his contempt for architecture?"

The heart of a man is divided into many compartments, mostly isolated Sometimes there is a door between two of them, or even three may be joined together, but usually each one is complete in itself.

WAS ORIGINALLY A SLAVE, SHE DIED A COURT LADY.

Seoul, Korea, July 21.—Lady Om, consort of Emperor Yi Heui, who abdicated in 1907, died yesterday.

Lady Om was a palace politician of great skill. She was attendant upon the Queen of Korea, who was murdered. She gained the favor of the Emperor, and was finally compelled to flee from the palace. After the death of the Queen she was restored to the court, with the rank of an Imperial consortine. This conferred Imperial rank upon her two children She was originally a slave, who became a power in the court.

His Wife's Tact.

"I'll give my wife credit for not causing me to be swamped by big hat bills of hers," declared the husband boastfully, in the presence of his wife's lady guests. "All the hat bills I get are small ones, which, however, come in very, very often, although I haven't observed a new bonnet on her since Easter."

"I'm so glad you're pleased," rejoined his wife, coming unexpectedly into the room. "The fact is, you're still paying for that last Easter bonnet, the bill for which the milliner is sending to you in instalments."

The Eucalypus of Australia.

While the eucalyptus, or Australian blue gum tree, destroys malaria and keeps off mosquitoes in marshy soil, it has no such effect on dry soil. The difference is ascribed by a German scientist to the fact that the tree is constructed to act as an evaporating machine, and only does its work in marshy land. A feature of the tree is its daptability to different climates, it being now grow in almost every civilised country where frosts do not occur.

Don't Talk Too Much.

When we are in the company of sensible men, we ought to be doubly cautious of talking too much, lest we lose two good things — their good opinion and our own improvement; for what we have to say we know, but what they have to say we know not.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. May Develop Into An Important Industry.

The ever increasing demand and the diminishing supply of sturgeon caviar led fishermen of eastern Siberia to experiment with salmon roe, which had not only been considered useless for human consumption but had even been looked upon as injurious to health.

Up to 1907 the fishermen in the neighborhood of Nicolaevsk considered salmon roe as valueless, but from that time it was demonstrated that cavier could be made so as to prove commercially profitable and of such a quality that although it cannot compare with the taste of the sturgeon caviar it is nevertheless a great delicacy.

Vast quantities of salmon roe are annually destroyed in Alaska, as they have discovered no means of preserving it, and should a taste be created for caviar of this kind it would develop into a very important industry. The limited supply of sturgeon caviar and the consequent high price places it beyond the reach of many who enjoy such delicacies, whereas salmon caviar could take its place and be practically within the reach of all.

Still Susceptible.

He was a nervous, fidgety young man, and he looked with considerable apprehension at the woman next him, who held a baby, its face covered with a thick veil. The baby gave now and then a sharp cry, which the woman evidently tried to suppress.

At last, after many anxious glances, the young man spoke.

"Has—has that baby any—anything contagious?" he asked.

The woman looked at him with a mixture of scorn and pity.

"Twouldn't be for most folks," she said in a clear, carrying tone, "but maybe 'twould for you. He's teething."

He Know Better.

A Scottish minister was startled by the original views of a not very skilful ploughman whom he had just engaged. Noticing the furrows were far from straight he said, 'John, yer drills are no straucht; that is no like Tammie's wark'—Tammie' being the man who had previously ploughed the field.

'Tammie didna ken his wark,' observed the man coolly as he turned it frae about. 'Ye see, when the drills is crookit the sun gets wel! in on a' sides, an' so ye can get early

BUY

ROYAL PORCUPINE

Quoted at 32 to 33 Cents

The stock of the Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co., we believe, will prove to be one of the greatest money makers in the wonderful Porcupine district.

Every day brings forth further evidence that the Porcupine Camp is destined to become the richest gold region in the world, and Royal Porcupine should soon take its place at the head of the great producing mines in this section.

Porcupine has the indorsement of the world's greatest authorities in gold mining, who concur in the opinion that never before have such rich showings been seen covering so great an area.

The Property

is located in the township of Tisdale and consists of eight full claims, embracing 320 acres. It is particularly well located, being only one-quarter mile south of the Porcupine Gold Mines, Ltd., and one-half mile south of the Hollinger mine, for which it is claimed there is $10,000,000 in sight. Engineers report that the Royal Porcupine property is in the famous ore zone, being on the same ledge as Hollinger and having the same formation.

A telegram from the engineer in charge of the property bears out this statement. It is as follows:—

"Porcupine, Ont., June 19, 1911.

"Vein uncovered twelve feet in width. Excellent ore body. Shaft being sunk on this vein. Property in every way most favorable.

(Signed) "JULIUS MESSER, M. E.,
"Engineer in charge of property."

Thirty men are now employed, and work on the shaft will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Four veins, varying from 12 to 100 feet in width, have already been uncovered. Assays have been made which show $50 a ton.

Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co.

is capitalized for $3,000,000; par value of shares $1.00. Full paid and non-assessable. No personal liability.

A glance at the list of directors will show the class of men who are putting in their money and time to make this one of the greatest mines in the Porcupine Camp. The directors are:—

JAMES [illegible],
Peterboro, Ontario, ex-Member of Parliament, President Auburn Woollen Mills.

T. E. BRADBURN,
Member Parliament, Peterboro, Ontario; Private Banker.

Remember, that our judgment on Hollinger, Dome Extension and Vipond was correct, and we believe the Royal Porcupine will prove one of our best investments.

The Hollinger stock was originally offered at $3.50 and now sells at around $15.50, and Dome Extension was first offered at 40c., and now sells at around $5c.

Royal Porcupine stock may be purchased through any member of the New York Curb Association, or we will be glad to execute your orders.

WHY GO TO ALASKA TO INVEST IN OIL?

During the past month we have beenpresenting to the readers of The Morning Times, and the public in general, an offer which for SAFETY and CERTAINTY OF RESULTS in the form of DIVIDENDS and ENORMOUS PROFITS is well nigh UNPRECEDENTED.

In Southwest Colorado, in Mountezuma County, near Mancos, nature has placed RICH OIL FIELDS which promise to be the cause of the MOST STUPENDOUS BOOM COLORADO HAS HAD SINCE THE EARLY GOLD DAYS.

We own and control 8,500 acres of land in this section which experts assure us are positively gusher producing properties.

We have bought and paid for all the machinery necessary for drilling. We do not owe one cent. If you invest with us you have behind your investment not only enormous land values but machinery the value of which is fully $8,000.

For the ordinary investor this would be security enough but we have made the safest investment proposition that ever was offered, for, besides these rich Mancos Oil Fields we also own 2,560 acres in the proven oil field of San Juan, Utah; also 1,920 acres in the Great Montezuma District of Colorado, and fifty acres of rich mining ground in the La Plata District, for which we have been offered Ten Thousand Dollars spot cash.

Investments in the stock of our Company participate in the profits of all these properties. The Mancos Oil and Development Company promises to and will give the public a "square deal." Every acre of oil land and mining property which it owns or will acquire belongs to its stockholders.

MR. BURT H. MASON, the president and organizer of the Company, is a mining engineer of enviable reputation the officers of the Company are well-known business men and bankers of Southwestern Colorado. If any misrepresentation has been made we guarantee to return every dollar you pay us and all expenses to which you may have been put for investigation.

The price of stock is Twenty-five Cents a share, which can be paid on monthly installments if desired. If further information be desired it will be cheerfully given.

The only town on Graham Island that has a monthly pay roll, and the only sawmill shipping lumber to foreign ports.

The only town having a railway gazetted to its very doors on the island.

The only city on Graham Island having electric light, city water, miles of sidewalks, churches, school, hospital, postoffice, first-class drug store billiard hall, city hall, hotels, boarding house, barber shop and other general stores, and the only newspaper published on the Island, the Queen Charlotte News.

We are positively the centre of all the vast wealth of the entire Islands, including farm lands, timber lands, coal and metalliferous mines. These products must come out at Queen Charlotte City, through the Honna River Valley, and through which the Island Railway must run according to charters already granted.

The combined townsite interests cover one thousand acres, of which five hundred are practically level alluvial soil with no rocks.

A fine water power from the Honna River, good drainage and the best harbor on the entire Islands.

Our lots are all 50 feet by 120 feet, ranging in price from $150 to $300; one-third cash, balance on time at 6 per cent., or deeds can be had at once if desired.

Fully 200,000 acres of farm lands, suitable for mixed farming, only await the hand of man, a large portion of which is already located.

The verdure clad mountains are vast treasure vaults of gold, copper, silver and other precious metals, while our valleys are underlaid with a wealth of the finest coal and covered with a vast forest of spruce, hemlock and yellow cedar. These, coupled with our fisheries, are at the very doors and within sight of Queen Charlotte City.

Taking all these facts into consideration, and with the present progress being made in developing our resources, which are at the gateways of transportation both by water and railway, with the advent of the completion of the Grand Trunk Railroad, Queen Charlotte City is destined to be one of the province's most prosperous cities.

It is owned largely by the wealthiest and most honorable men of our province, who would not be a party in misrepresenting facts and are prepared to endorse every statement herein made.

The townsite company are now offering a further 75 lots on Second avenue at a very low price and on easy terms, if taken at once, and under conditions that will make you a 100 per cent. on your investment in 90 days, for 20 per cent. of the gross proceeds will be used by letting a contract for the clearing and grading of Second avenue from Third street west. The company guarantees to advance the remaining 75 unsold lots on Second avenue from $150 to $225 as soon as the first 75 have been sold. The company is making this effort in order to join with the government in making Second avenue the trunk road through the townsite from the Wilson-Robinson coal fields, Honna River Valley, Lawn Hill and Miller Creek districts. Now you can secure any unsold lot on Second avenue, including fourteen in Keith's addition, to-day for $150, except corners, on easy terms, 1-4 cash, balance 6, 12 and 18 months at 6 per cent. This will positively be your last chance for a cheap lot in Queen Charlotte City, for every lot in the townsite will surely go from $500 to $1000 when the public realize that the Island River railroad from Queen Charlotte to the head of Masset Inlet is to be started this summer, in addition to the present work already outlined, thus giving work to an army of men. There are at least 5000 citizens of Vancouver who have invested in the various resources of the islands. Conclusive evidence of these facts, a landscape drawing of the townsite and a portion of Graham Island coupled with an illustrated edition of the resources of the islands can be seen at the office of J. J. Miller, 82 Hastings street, Vancouver, B. C., Agent for Vancouver, and plans at office of "Times", Peterboro'.

Valuable Tim.

Andrew Wilson, an attorney, was named as the administrator of an estate. It was his duty to find the lucky but missing brother. "He was slicing turnips for the sheep on his employer's farm, up among the mist-clad hills of Scotland," said Mr. Wilson, "when I found him. I had traced his life from the old farm on which he was born, step by step through forty years of ill-paid and often most unpleasant labor before I approached him. It was not difficult, for he had held but a few positions in all these years. Every one in the countryside knew him. 'Are you Alexander Stephenson?' I asked. 'I am,' said he, without taking his eyes from the turnips and the knife 'Your brother James is dead in New York,' said I. 'Aweel, aweel, all men must o'en die,' he said, slicing away. 'He left you a great fortune,' said I 'I want you to come to the house with me, so that I can establish your identity and arrange for you to enter into possession of the estate.' 'I'll talk to ye at sax o'clock, young mon,' said he. 'I'll be busy till then. Thay fortune will keep, but thay turnips will not.'"

Human Voice the Sweetest Music.

The sweetest music is not in the oratorio, but in the human voice when it speaks from its instant life, tones of tenderness, truth or courage. The oratorio has already lost its relation to the morning, to the sun, and the earth, but that persuading voice is in tune with these.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

THE VANISHING FORESTS

Timber Researces of the United States Showing Signs of Exhaustion.

Commissioners and commissions have been appointed in various parts of the United States to make reports on what should and could be done to stem the destruction and prepare for the restoration of timber supplies, but wherever actually a response to the recommendations was secured the means employed were too feeble to prevent the former and too inefficient to secure adequate results in the latter direction. For instance, the latest State to move in the matter of taking care of its important timber interest, Alabama (whose annual lumber output is valued at $5,000,000), appropriates $500 for carrying out the provisions of the act providing a commission with various duties. The great State of Minnesota whose forest products in one year approach in value $45,000,000, devotes less than $12,000 to its forest interests, and $20,000 on prairie planting. The State of Maine, which still cuts around one billion feet, and is indebted to the forest for a product of $18,000,000 in value, keeps within the modest sum of $25,000 to pay for the protection against fire and the support of a commissioner. Examples of such picayune and inadequate measures are found in many other States.

The only two States which have not hesitated to spend money for forestry purposes are New York and Pennsylvania. The former, in purchasing forest lands for a preserve, which now comprises about one and a half million acres only, has expended millions of dollars, and is annually appropriating money for further purchase, besides liberal provision for its Forest, Fish and Game Commission. But, alas! the policy of forest reservation which had begun on economic grounds, has degenerated into providing a pleasure ground—a park—for the wealthy, and there is little consideration to economic forest questions given by the State or the Commission.

Pennsylvania is the only State which can be said to have started on a true policy of recuperation, buying up waste lands, protecting them, and in a small way beginning to reforest them, an appropriation of about $500,000 being at the disposal of the Forest Commission.

NEED OF THE HOUR.

Major George Washington Stephens Talks on Canadian Transportation

Not long ago Major Stephens, the President of the Harbor Commissioners of Montreal, delivered a masterly address before the Empire Club of Toronto on the development of the St Lawrence route. "In the possession of this great national asset, the St. Lawrence waterway," said Mr. Stephens, "into which has gone the genius, the courage and the money of the Canadian people, Canada unquestionably has within her midst the cheapest and most efficient national trade route on the Continent. "The St. Lawrence River to-day carries to and from the port of Montreal one-third of the country's national trade.

"In this enterprise there are just 6,000,000 Canadian shareholders, all equally interested.

"At her present rate of increase Canada will, during the twentieth century, contribute to the Empire a population exceeding that now occupying the British Isles, and will produce from one-quarter of her available areas in the West more wheat than now comprises the total wheat crop of the United States.

"There are two methods of providing for the handling of this new business, not to mention the concurrent industrial production of the country: First, by increasing transportation and terminal facilities on Canadian soil; second, by allowing business to be taken care of by transportation routes and sea terminals not within the limits of this Dominion.

"I like to regard this system extending from Fort William to the sea, a distance of 2,500 miles, as a great national undertaking, into which are going the money, the genius and the patriotism of the Canadian people, and out of which are coming year by year privileges and powers to the transportation interests of Canada, instead of diversity of control and authority."

Unappreciated Sympathy.

The Soda-fountain clerk was engaged in vigorously shaking up a chocolate and egg, says a writer in the Bellman, when suddenly the glass broke in his hands, and the ensuing deluge made him look like a human eclair. The horrified customer leaned over the counter and tried to be sympathetic. Not knowing exactly what to say, he finally burted out ,consolingly:

"Oh-er-too bad! Did the glass break?"

Dripping from head to foot, the clerk looked at him witheringly.

"Did the glass break?" he repeated. "Did the glass break?" And then with freezing sarcasm, "Oh, no, not at all! You just happened to stop in while I was taking my morning shower."

Rossini's Reception of Wagner.

Wagner and some companions called upon Rossini. Hearing them on the stairs, Rossini hastily placed the score of "Lohengrin" on the piano, and when the German composer entered he said, pointing to it, "You see, illustrious maestro, I am studying your work."

"But the score is upside down!" exclaimed the other, seeing how the book was placed

"Yes," returned Rossini calmly; "the fact is I have had it the right way up for some time, but could make nothing of it," and then all present began to laugh, including Wagner himself.

It is rather a solemn duty than a pleasure to say that the Baker heirs are looking for the dough.

SWALLOWS' NEST OF BANK-NOTE

Also How a Mouse Stole $40 Worth of Notes to Make a Home.

A pair of swallows of Fiberbrunn, in the Tyrol, have stolen a number of ten-kronen bank-notes to line their nest.

The parent birds discovered that the new notes were just the shade of blue to match their eggs, the tissue being tough but flexible, and exactly the material they needed. The nest and the missing notes were only discovered when the swallows had abandoned it and it fell to the ground.

This feat has been equalled by that of an enterprising mouse in Dornbirn, which abstracted a number of twenty-kronen notes to the value of $40, of a delicate reddish brown shade, from the cash drawer of a butcher, and, tearing them to pieces, adapted them to the purpose of making a nest for her family of seven. The butcher in his search for the notes suspected and traced the house, and found the nest under the boarding. He carefully picked up the remains of the notes and returned them to the bank, where they were pieced together. The butcher recovered $37.50, the bank claiming $2.50 for "material loss" caused by the mouse's teeth.

THE HOUSE FLY.

The Most Filthy Insect Known.

This fly, called "Typhoid Fly," on account of its being known as a carrier of typhoid germs, is one of the filthiest insects with which we have to contend. It also carries the germs of tuberculosis and other diseases, and is a menace to the health of the family.

It breeds in fresh horse-manure and other filth, hence, when the stable is near the house, flies are apt to be more numerous. Use screens on the windows; resort to the use of sticky fly paper; keep garbage pails and privy vaults securely closed; if possible, keep stable manure covered.

Some farmers' wives hang sticky fly paper, sticky side out, on the outside of their screen doors, at the top; which, in warm weather, catches flies which gather there.

Flies are attracted and can be killed by the following solution: Place in a room two teaspoonfuls of formaldehyde (formalin) in a pint of water. Flies drink this and shortly die. This not only kills the fly, but serves to disinfect the insect after death.

Intestinal discharges from patients suffering from typhoid, or any other fever, should be sterilized before being emptied into the cesspool.

Dairying in Ontario.

Railroad Ticket Printed While You Wait.

The Lancashire and Yorkshire Railway Company have installed a remarkable automatic machine at Sandhills Station, Liverpool, by which, on dropping a penny in a slot, a ticket is printed, dated and cut. The machine is worked electrically, the power being supplied from the live rail. When the supply of cardboard is running short, the clerks in the office are warned by the ringing of a bell.

Cannot Export Feathers.

Plumage skins or eggs of native birds of Australia and New Guinea can no longer be exported, this having been prohibited by the Australian Commonwealth Government.

Sluggish Liver Ruined Baisiness Man's Health

Story of a Merchant Who Almost Lost His Business and His Health Through Neglecting Early Symptoms of Disease.

"My life for years has been of sedentary character," writes T. B. Titchfield, head of a well-known firm in Buckingham. "Nine hours every day I spent at office work and took exercise only on Sunday. I disregarded the symptoms of ill health, which were all too apparent to my family. I grew thin, then pale, and before long I was jaundiced—eyes and skin were yellow, my strength and nerve energy were lowered, and I was quite unfitted for business. In the morning a lightness in the head, particularly when I bent over, made me very worried about my health. Most of the laxative medicines I found weakening, and knowing that I had to be at business every day I neglected myself rather than risk further weakness. Of course I grew worse, but by a happy chance I began to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I was forcibly struck by the fact that they neither caused griping nor nausea, and it seemed incredible that pills could tone, cleanse and regulate the system without causing any unpleasant after effects. Dr. Hamilton's Pills acted with me just as gently as nature—they gave new life to my liver, strengthened my stomach, and won me back to perfect good health. My skin is clear, dizziness has disappeared and my appetite, strength, spirits are perfect."

Refuse anything offered you instead of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which are sure to cure. Sold in 25c boxes, all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ontario.

To Manufacture Rye.

The Fenelon Falls Gazette says that the Standard Chemical Co., which has been shut down for some time, will commence running again, and that a rumor is current that the building will be converted into a plant for the manufacture of rye. Just what kind of product this is, our contemporary does not say. If it is what is commonly known as "old" rye, the company has displayed good sense in locating so close to Lindsay, as the saving in freight will no doubt be considerable.

BEULAH BINFORD TELLS TALE SECOND ONLY TO EVELYN THAW'S

Richmond, Va., July 22.—Light-hearted and debonaire, Henry Clay Beattie, jr., to-day sat in the Richmond jail, smoked his cigarette, and laid plans for defending himself of the charge of murder. Over in the pretty Beattie home in Manchester the father of the man arrested for the murder of his young wife tenderly cared for his five-weeks-old grandson—the only member of the family now left with him. The baby's mother was shot to death and its father was in jail.

The aged father, banker, and respected citizen, was the person most affected by the dramatic denouement arranged by the police of the Beattie murder mystery. The son has never shaken out of his pose of calm indifference, but his [illegible] aged ten years in the last [illegible] days.

Not since Evelyn Nesbit Thaw astounded New York with the history of her life, has there been told a story that surpasses the tale of love and death told by Beulah Binford, the petite 17-year-old other woman in the case.

For four years she had been intimately connected with the life of the young scion of the South, who to-day languished in Richmond jail. She testified that when she was barely 15 she mothered a boy, the son of Beattie. Prior to that time she said Beattie gave her money for an education at St. Mary's school, Alexandria.

In a voice low with suppressed emotion, the girl told of agreeing to leave Richmond when Beattie was married. Four weeks ago she said she met the husband in Norfolk, by accident. Then the old longing seized her and she came to Richmond. For four weeks prior to the murder of Mrs. Beattie she testified that she had been meeting Beattie in various hotels and rooming houses. She declared she had arranged to set up a home of her own in Richmond, so that she could be near Beattie, and testified that the husband had given her $10 as the first instalment on purchase of furniture for it.

The whole secret of Beulah Binford's wrecked life trembled on her lips when, in answer to the demand, "Do you love Henry Beattie?" she exclaimed.

"Rather than see him go to the electric chair, I would confess that I killed his wife myself." A gnawing conscience and the insistance of a woman, developed the information that resulted in Beattie's dramatic arrest yesterday. Paul C. Beattie, the accused man's cousin, had told his wife that he bought the gun for the husband of the murdered woman. He did not tell her, however, until his conscience had driven him to the verge of nervous hysteria.

Because his conscience cried out, he told his wife of the link in the chain of evidence, which the police were forging against his cousin. Mrs. Beattie and Paul Beattie's conscience persuaded him to tell the story to the police. Then the man collapsed. He recovered slightly at the city hospital to-day and was able to take the witness stand at the inquest. He will probably be the only witness called when coroner Loving reconvenes the hearing this afternoon.

DISSOLUTION EXPECTED TO COME AT ANY TIME

CAUCUSES HELD AT OTTAWA YESTERDAY MORNING, AND NEITHER SIDE WILL GIVE WAY.

Dissolution May Come at Any Time —It Will Now Be an Endurance Contest Between the Parties, to Last Till When?

Ottawa, July 25.—F-I-G-H-T with a big F. And it will be a fight to a finish.

That was the result of the caucuses of both political parties this morning.

The Conservative met at 10 o'clock and sat until nearly noon, when they broke up with hearty cheers for R. L. Borden, and the policy of reciprocity. It was stated at the conclusion of the meeting that the gathering had been most enthusiastical, that the party was united in its determination to oppose reciprocity to the last ditch, and that all the reports received from the country were most favorable to their attitude.

The Liberals did not gather until after eleven, and they did not separate until close upon one o'clock. When they broke up there was a manifest spirit of enthusiasm which looked well for the fight which is in prospect both in and out of Parliament. All that was said officially, was that the situation was talked over and that there was a unanimous determination to stick to the program outlined by the Premier yesterday in the Commons. In other words, the reciprocity agreement must be ratified or there must be an appeal to the country.

"Be ready for the fight," was the counsel given by leaders, and it was a counsel which was eagerly accepted by the party as a whole.

ENGLISH-GERMAN CRISIS DECLARED TO BE ACUTE

NOT SINCE 1870 HAS IT BEEN WORSE SAYS LONDON PAPER,

German Government May Make a Demand for an Official Explanation of Lloyd George's Speech, so the British Foreign Office Admits.

London, July 25.—That the German Government is expected to make a demand upon the Foreign office for an official explanation, and at the same time, a disavowal, of the recent speech of David Lloyd George, Chancellor of the Exchequer, was admitted at the British Foreign Office to-day. Germany, it is explained, has been forced into this position by the attitude of the London newspapers, which have quoted members of the Cabinet as insisting that the speech was aimed directly at Germany, and was intended to serve notice that German territorial aggression in Africa must be curbed.

The situation caused much nervousness on the Stock Exchange to-day, and politicians generally are now inclined to fear that the German question, so long a bugaboo to Britons, is soon to become an issue fraught with the most dangerous possibilities.

International Situation Critical.

This fact is summed up by the Morning Post to-day, which, in a leading editorial, says:

"Not since July, 1870, has the international situation been as critical as it is at the present moment."

The majority of the British financiers believe that Germany is in deadly earnest at the present time, and that, unless the situation is handled with the utmost diplomatic skill, hostilities are certain to ensue. There is a big minority, however, inclined to believe Germany is stirring up the situation at home to give the government a strong position until after the elections to the Reichstag.

Lloyds Alarmed, Stop Risks.

Lloyds, is of course, alarmed. It usually is at the first whisper of trouble, so all ship owners have been warned that present insurance rates will not hold so lar as war risks are concerned, after August 5.

One point being emphasized on all sides is that, if war does come, it will come with a suddenness that will startle the entire world. The day of protracted negotiations, ending with the handing over of his passports to the ambassador of the aggrieved power, has passed.

Foreign Office Keeping in Touch.

The Foreign office is being kept closely informed of the varying phases of the Franco-German "conversations," and the attention of the Ministers at to-day's Cabinet meeting likely was equally divided between the constitutional crisis and the Moroccan affair. Sir Edward Grey, Foreign Secretary, was among to-day's callers at Buckingham Palace, presumably to lay before the King the latest news of the foreign situation.

Sir Francis Bertie, British Ambassador to France, attended a meeting at the Foreign Office this morning, and conferred for some time with Sir Edward, Premier Asquith and Minister Lloyd George, whom the Ambassador was able to put in possession of his views.

France Is Not to be Intimidated.

Paris, July 25.—Commenting on the Franco-German negotiations growing out of the Moroccan situation, the Echo de Paris to-day says that France will not allow herself to be intimidated by Germany.

Should the Paris report that Germany has called 400,000 reservists to the colors be confirmed France is certain to adopt a similar measure, the paper says.

POPE'S ILLNESS IS SERIOUS

Officials at the Vatican Admit They Are Greatly Worried—His Sisters At Hand—End May Come Any Time.

Rome, July 25.—While the formal reports regarding Pope Pius X. today say that he is suffering only from a slight cold, and that his condition is not serious, officials at the Vatican confidently admit they are greatly worried. The fact that his Holiness has been in poor health for some time, coupled with his age, and the fact that he is prone to worry because of the confinement inside the Vatican and grounds, give his closest advisers grave concern. They fear that his death may come at an time and without warning.

The mere fact that his sisters have taken up quarters where they can be close to his Holiness at all times, is cited as an indication that the condition of the Pope is more serious than any official can afford to admit.

GALE STRIPS FRUIT TREES

Gale Has Caused Immense Damage In Various Parts of Province—Small Craft Suffered.

Hamilton, July 25.—An inspection of the fruit district east of Hamilton to-day shows that the gale that swept across the country last night practically ruined the peach and apple crop. The trees are almost stripped even the winter apples tumbling down. There will be a great flood of unripe apples on the market this week, and a great scarcity during the balance of the season.

Many boats and power launches on the bay were thrown upon the beach It was feared that the great force of the wind weakened the steel bridge across the Burlington Canal, and the radial company took no chances on sending cars over it until it could be tested to-day.

BACK-WEARY MEN

The Helping Hand of Dr. Hamilton's Pills Will Cure in a Few Weeks.

"Foundry work compels men to work in the winter in very cold shops," writes Tunis T. Bolter, a well-known mechanic in Hamilton. "I contracted a very severe cold a few months ago which settled in my back and kidneys. I suffered constant pain and in bending over my work and in heavy lifting, the pain at times was excruciating. My digestion got all out of order, doubtless because the kidneys didn't work right. My wife had used Dr. Hamilton's Pills as a family medicine and I took her advice and started them also. To my great delight a few doses helped me so much it was proof I was using a true remedy. Natural action of the kidneys was brought about, burning and aching ceased, and the backlameness gradually disappeared. I no longer fear my work. I feel strong and robust, and with such a remedy as Dr. Hamilton's Pills at hand I will probably never again be sick. I advise every working man to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills."

No other medicine will regulate the system and maintain health like Dr. Hamilton's Pills—beware of the dealer who tries to induce you to take something else on which he makes more profit. Sold in yellow boxes 25c. Prepared by The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ontario.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I see a number of the manufacturing concerns of the city make it a rule to close down Saturday afternoons during July and August, and I would move to make it unanimous. There is no reason why Peterborough mechanics and workingmen should not have the same advantages as are enjoyed by their Toronto brethren. In this particular the Canadian General has set a good example, for this big employer of labor closes its works at 1 o'clock Saturdays.

THE BY-LAWS.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—On July 28th the qualified electors will be asked to vote upon three By-laws, and we wish to give to them through your columns, an explanation of them.

Parks and Playgrounds.

The growth of the city has made necessary the procuring of more land for parks and playgrounds. The open spaces are filling up, and the breathing spaces and playgrounds are becoming scarce. To provide places for children to play, and resting spots land must be purchased and held for these purposes.

Part of the City is served by Jackson Park and another part by the Nicholls Park, while the centre is benefitted by the smaller Victoria and Central Parks. But the western and southern parts of the City on the west side of the river, and the southern part on the East side of the river are without park accommodation. The proposal is to purchase three acres adjoining the present King Edward Park and thus make that park consist of about six acres. At present it is not large enough to be of much service. With the enlargement it will be a good playground and resting place. On the east side of the river, it is proposed to purchase about six acres on the river, which will afford an excellent playground, and fine park of the size. The City owns an island out from this ground and in time it could be filled up higher and a rustic bridge constructed, and bathing places could easily be built there. This park will be admirably suited for the southern part of the East Ward and with a bridge across the river, which will some day come near this point, will serve other parts of the City as well. It is also intended to purchase about six acres adjoining the City to the West, near Charlotte St. or Sherbrooke St. Thus three parks of about six acres each will be provided in the districts where they are most needed, and they should be procured while the land is available, for if not procured now there will be no suitable property available and the loss of the opportunity would be regretted by all.

WERE TOLD TO GET BUSY

Ottawa, July 25.—In the light of this morning's developments every one is talking election and advices have been sent out afresh to party organizations all over the country to get their candidates in the field and prepare for a campaign which may prove to be of short duration.

The prevailing opinion is that the House will be dissolved within ten days and the election brought on with as much despatch as is possible after that date. They will be over long before the arrival of the Duke of Connaught.

WHO WILL COMPLETE THE MAIN SEWER FOR SOUTH CITY?

MR. BOGUE SAYS HE WILL NOT —AND CONTRACTOR CONROY WILL HAVE NOTHING TO DO WITH IT.

Mr. Conroy, Who Is Held Liable by the City, Given Six Days in Which to Proceed With the Work.

At the present moment the south city main sewer is going abegging some one to push its construction through to completion. Contractor Bogue threw up the job on Monday, with the exclamation that he had sunk as much capital into the work as he was going to, and did not intend to lose any more.

The trouble is "quick sand." But, of course, it was well known to all parties concerned, before the contracts were signed, that quick sand would have to be contended with.

Originally the contracts for the pumping station and the main sewer were awarded to Mr. Ed. Conroy, who subsequently in April, owing to ill-health, assigned them to Mr. Jas. Bogue, with the city's consent on condition that contractor Conroy still be held liable for the satisfactory completion of the work.

Work on the pumping station has practically been completed by Mr. Bogue, and a special session of the Board of Works was called for last night to consider the situation regarding the main sewer. Engineer Willis Chipman, of Toronto, from whose plans the work is being constructed, was present as also was his mechanical engineer, Mr. Pardoe likewise of Toronto, who is supervising the task.

There has been no friction whatever between Mr. Bogue and Mr. Pardoe.

Mr. Chipman advised the Board that he knew nothing further of the situation than that Mr. Bogue had quit work.

Both Mr. Chipman and Mr. Pardoe report that the work is practicable.

The former says that he has laid miles of pipe sewer under the same conditions that exist in the south end.

The City Solicitor advised that under the provisions of the contract, Mr. Conroy had been given notice on Monday that unless the work is proceeded within 6 days, the city will provide for its completion and charge against him any additional costs connected therewith.

Twenty per cent. of the amount of both contracts had been retained by the city.

At this juncture Contractor Conroy put in an appearance, and offered that "he is out o it." Mr. Bogue took the contract over with the city's acquiescence and is responsible for its completion

The Engineer informed Mr. Conroy that he is liable for the completion of the work.

Mr. Conroy—"Only as a Londoner, I understand. I was freed from the contract."

The city clerk here read the agreement signed by both Mr. Bogue and Mr. Conroy in April, to the effect that notwithstanding the assignment of the contract to the former, the latter is held liable for the satisfactory completion of the work to the same extent as if the city had not consented to such assignment.

Subsequently Mr. Conroy admitted that he had guaranteed the work and is liable for its completion. "But," he added, "I have sureties that Mr. Bogue completes the work."

To Mr. Chipman, Mr. Conroy stated most emphatically that he would not take up the work.

On motion of Ald. Duman, it was decided that if within 6 days of the time of giving notice to Contractor Conroy the work is not proceeded with by either Mr. Bogue or Mr. Conroy, then the chairman and the engineer arrange for its completion and charge any additional expense connected therewith to Mr. Conroy.

Contractor Conroy assured the Board that he would interview Mr. Bogue, who, he had no doubt, would continue the work.

OUR MACADAM ROADS BETTER THAN THOSE IN MOST OTHER TOWNS

A prominent citizen has just returned from an automobile tour taking in such towns as Guelph, Bowmanville, Oshawa and Whitby. In view of the frequently advertised complaints of the condition of our streets, the tourists in question took special notice of the streets through which he rode, and reports that excepting where pavement was in evidence, he found no road beds as clearly and well kept as those in Peterborough. It must be a source of gratification to Ald. Metheral, our energetic chairman of the Board of Works, to hear one voice raised in appreciation of his executive efforts in the direction of spending his committee's appropriation for streets to the best advantage.

CONSTRUCTION OF ALL SIDEWALKS MUST BE UNIFORM

The City Board of Works met last night, Chairman Alderman Metheral presiding. There were also present Aldermen Brown, Buller, Graham, Anderson and Duncan.

The Peterborough Light & Power Co. were granted permission to erect 11 electric light poles on Hunter street, east of Concession. The company has been awarded the contract for lighting the Lift Lock, hence their request.

The Bell Telephone Co. were granted permission to lay conduits on sections of George, Aylmer and Charlotte streets.

The company agree to leave streets opened in as good a condition as found.

In future the Board are going to keep all sidewalks uniform as to the question of inside and outside the tree line.

The Board reconfirmed the former decision regarding the foregoing policy when discussing the insistent demand of citizens that sections of walks on Aylmer and Bethune streets be laid outside the tree line notwithstanding that other sections on same streets be within the tree line.

Ald. Brown moved, seconded by Ald. Duncan,—That a catch basin be put in at the corner of King street and Pearl avenue, and connections made with Park street drain.—Carried.

Ald. Duncan moved, seconded by Ald. Brown,— That the water pools that lie at the south of Aylmer street and at Townsend street, between Rubidge and Stewart, be filled in with gravel.—Carried.

Sprains require careful treatment. Keep quiet and apply Chamberlain's Liniment freely. It will remove the soreness and quickly restore the parts to a healthy condition. For sale by all dealers.

BOBBY LEACH DROWNED IN TRIP OVER THE FALLS

Niagara Falls, N.Y., July 25.—Bobby Leach, the veteran navigator of the whirlpool rapid of Niagara River, went over the Horseshoe Falls at 3.13 o'clock this afternoon in a steel barrel.

Flashing over the brink the barrel shot downward with the roaring tons of water, and disappeared in the spray, 158 feet below.

The barrel re-appeared in thirty seconds with part of one end knocked off. Efforts to capture it were at once begun.

ASQUITH'S ENTRY TO THE HOUSE A SIGNAL FOR A STORM OF CHEERS

London, July 25.—There was still evidence of considerable feverishness when the House of Commons reassembled this afternoon and Speaker Lowther took an early opportunity to administer a cooling draft by reminding the members of the standing order under which he certainly would suspend the session in the event of a renewal of disorders that forced an adjournment yesterday.

The entry of Premier Asquith to the chamber was the signal for a storm of cheers from the Radicals and Nationalists, who sprang to their feet hurrahing and waving hats their feet hurrahing and waving handkerchiefs.

Lord Cecil, one of the leaders in yesterday's hostile demonstration towards the Premier, pushed himself again into the limelight early in the proceedings and forthwith was bombarded with abjurgations. "Hottentot" was a favorite appellation the young Conservative received from the Irish benches. Lord Cecil demanded of Mr. Asquith whether, when he had made up his mind on the subject of Home Rule for Ireland, he would communicate the result to the House of Commons before sending it to the press.

The Premier tacitly rejoined "That is an insolent question."

A LIBERAL CITIZEN.

Mr. J. Alex. Culverwell Doing Much for Port Hope.

Mr. J. Alex. Culverwell who is well-known, not only in Peterborough but throughout Ontario, is one of the most liberal and generous of citizens. In Port Hope, where he has made his home since moving from Peterborough some years ago, he is regarded as a "prince of good fellows," always trying to do good by making others happy. When the new hospital scheme for Port Hope was projected, Mr. Culverwell at once subscribed $1,000. There is no deserving charity that his name does not figure in as a donor. Recently it was found that the town watering cart could not get up as far as "Glenridge," his beautiful home, and he at once entered into an arrangement with Mr. J. L. Schwartz, a neighbor, to have protection from the dust by paving the street with tarvia, Mr. Culverwell and his neighbor footing the bill. This is only one of his many beneficial public acts. We are only sorry that he did not remain in Peterborough. In this case it is clear that Peterborough's loss is Port Hope's gain.

Rev. J. J. Rae, B.D.

The following clipping is from a Chicago paper and will interest many people in Peterborough: "Dr. Rae is pastor of the Eighth Presbyterian church. He was born in Orono, Ont. Canada, but has become thoroughly acclimated to American customs along with other commissioners. He is a loyal son of Albert University, Belleville, Ont. To know Dr. Rae and hear him in the pulpit one would not know but that he has always been at home among the Blues. He has established himself in the faith, and is beloved greatly in the Eighth Church and Presbytery."

WINNIPEG'S BIG INVESTMENT.

Winnipeg's Great Twenty-Two Million Dollar Deal.

Winnipeg, July 26.—Winnipeg, the king of Canadian cities in municipal ownership of public utilities is considering the purchase of the Winnipeg Electric Street Railway on a basis offered by Sir William Mackenzie last winter of $250 per share. The arrangements under consideration will employ a sum of $15,000,000 in cash for the stock and the assuming of $7,000,000 indebtness of the company. Mayor Evans who spent two months in London recently reports that Winnipeg will have no trouble in raising the required amount if the railway company can show that their present earnings will provide for the necessary current maintenance, interest on debentures and installment for sinking fund that would retire the city's obligation in forty years. It is no exaggeration to say that Winnipeg is the home and stronghold of municipal ownership in North America. Its greatest enterprise at present has been the completion of the Municipal power plant that is capable of providing 100,000 electrical horse power. The city also owns and operates its water works plant, street lighting system, stone quarry, asphalt plant, parks and boulevard system, fire alarm and high pressure waterworks.

FIRE DROVE INDIANS OUT

North Bay, July 25.—Indian Agent Cockburn has returned from Fort Matachewan, where he found a large number of Indians gathered who had been driven out of the Sachihawk Lake district by fire. The Indians will be in a bad way unless helped by the Department, as their hunting grounds have been fire-swept and the game frightened away, so that their means of sustainance is gone for the present until matters readjust themselves. It is expected the Indian Department will see that they do not want. At present they are gathered at Hudson Bay Post, Fort Matachewan, which Indian Agent Cockburn states was passed by the flames.

STARTS RIVAL INSTITUTION

Montreal, July 25.—The first steps in the foundation of the new college which Mgr. Bruchesi is about to establish at St. Johns, were made public in the announcement of the appointment of Rev. J. A. Papineau as president of the institution. The reverend gentleman has been for many years identified with educational work in the diocese, having recently acted in the capacity of prefect of studies at St. Therese College. This is the institution to be established in opposition to the College de Mamoir, whose priests were ordered to leave the college and retire to St. Hyacinthe, despite the courts restraining order.

BIG BLAZE IN AN ASYLUM

Winfield, Kas., July 25.—One thousand wards of the State, inmates of the State hospital for the feebleminded, were saved in a fire early today which destroyed the main buildings of the institution, two miles away from Winfield.

The inmates, four hundred of whom are children, were herded together in the buildings not destroyed.

Spiral chutes, instead of fire escapes, were used successfully in sending the feeble-minded children to the ground, and all reached safety. The fire was caused by defective insulation of electric light wires.

Bountiful Crop Predicted.

Winnipeg, July 25.—Gathering the harvest of Western Canada this year will eclipse the magnitude of any previous year in the history of the West. Western Canada is calling for an army of 50,000 men to help harvest its crops. The Dominion Government, Provincial Government and the railways are utilizing every means and effort to meet the demand by advertising low railway fares and special immigration privileges.

A CHANCE TO MAKE MONEY IN VANCOUVER REALTY

Investors seeking an opportunity to secure large returns for their money will find an exceptional chance offered by Keith Park Land Co., Limited, of Vancouver, B. C. This company has placed on the market for immediate sale the choicest piece of property on the North Shore.

This tract known as Keith Park, D. L. 676, lies at the junction of the Pipe line Road, (owned by the city of Vancouver) and the Keith Road and is the Junction point for North side traffic.

The Second Narrows Bridge, which is to connect Vancouver and North Vancouver will be constructed so that Keith Park will be in the line of its northern end.

It is confidentially expected that a new town will be created at this point. Dominion, Provincial and Municipal subsidies to the extent of several hundred thousand dollars have already been secured for the bridge project and plans are now being drawn for the bridge. It is expected that actual work will be started within the next ninety days

Keith Park presents the best chance to buy ahead of the important municipal and government projects that are planned for the North Side. It will stand the most critical investigation.

Full information and maps supplied upon request Lots range in price from $200 upwards. Terms one-quarter cash, balance in six equal quarterly payments.

Don't Get Discouraged.

A very large proportion of the suffering that afflicts mankind proceeds from the simple feeling of discouragement. Besides the misery which it inflicts, there is the palsying effect it exerts on all human effort. As long as hope reigns in the heart, no position seems too great: it is when hope sinks away and despondency takes its place that labour of head or hand languishes.—

FRENCH POSTAL BANKS.

People of France More Provident than Anglo-Saxons.

The record of the postal savings bank system in France has been one of continued progress. In 1882, when the institution was established, the total number of postal banks in operation was 5024, with 211,580 deposit accounts remaining open at the close of the year. These accounts, including interest due to depositors, amounted to $9,187,116, the average sum to the deposits being $43.41. On December 31, 1909, the latest year for which complete statistics are available, the number of banks had increased by nearly 2,000, the deposit accounts numbered 5,542,882, and the deposits, including interest, represented an aggregate amount of $216,-[illegible]866, averaging $37.08.

The expenses of administration during 1909 amounted to $1,504,678 and the net profits to $526,758. It may be recalled that individual accounts are limited by law to 1500 francs ($289.50). When an account exceeds the sum so fixed by the Bank in national bonds. The total value of the bonds purchased in 1909 was $2,080,575. The withdrawals, including these purchases, amounted to $104,916,150.

Two Ribs Broken.

Several people saw him slip on a wet step and fall. Partly extricating himself from his umbrella he set up such a wail of distress that every one in hearing ran to his assistance regardless of the drenching rain.

"Are you hurt?" asked a chorus of voices.

"Anything broken?" demanded another.

"Only two ribs," he muttered in tones of deep anguish as he wiped his bleared face on his sleeve.

Helping him up, a kind man dragged him into a drug store. One thoughtful person suggested a glass of brandy; another, more generous, said there were two ribs broken, and a second glass followed the first.

"That 'll make you feel better, old man. Ribs hurt you now?"

"What ribs?" he puzzled, smacking his lips.

"Why, the ones you said were broken!"

"Oh," he replied, getting on his feet and moving toward the door. "Dey was de ribs in me umbrella."

Sparks from Mars.

Old Sport Saturn is getting very giddy these warm nights. Came home last week with two rings on crooked. Must be warm times on the "Gay White Milk Way."

Our astronomers make some queer blunders. The smoky spot on the earth that was long thought to be an active volcano turns out to be a habitation of earthlings, called Montreal. Those immense fields of curious-looking objects are not gigantic mushrooms blown by the wind, but the hats of the earthling ladies. Thus do we live and learn.

Come, spend your summer on Mars. No mosquitoes. High altitudes [illegible] can't ride on the canals. Come and [illegible]

System in Salesmanship.

"Young man," says the automobile manufacturer to the new salesman who has astonished the organization by the rapid-fire sales he has made in the two months of his employment, "I must congratulate you on your work."

"Thank you, sir," replies the new salesman modestly.

"I know we build the best auto in the market," says the manufacturer, "but even at that I cannot understand how you can sell ten times as many machines as the very best men we have had prior to you. How do you do it?"

"Well, sir," explains the new salesman, the light of honest pride in his eyes, "I always ask the customer to take a ride in one of our machines as the first move toward getting acquainted with its riding qualities. Of course he accepts the invitation I then take him out on the boulevard and get arrested and fined for fast running. After that there is no argument."

Ten minutes later the new salesman leaves the private office with a block of preferred stock tucked away in his inside pocket.

Prestige and Irishmen.

A well known Railroad president, in his study of all classes of men who are under him, entertains a great admiration for the Irish foreman of a gang of laborers who went to any lengths to show his men that he was the real boss. One morning this foreman found that his gang had put a hand car on the track without his orders.

"Who put that han' car-r-r on the thrack?" he asked.

"We did, sor," one of the men answered respectfully.

"Well," he said shortly, "take it off ag'in!"

The laborers did so with some difficulty.

"Now," said the foreman, "put in on ag'in!"

Rung himself to Death.

Extraordinary circumstances attended the suicide of a church sexton at the Hungarian village of Koros-Ladany recently. The inhabitants were alarmed by the violent ringing of the church bell, and thought a fire must have broken out. As, however, none could be seen, some of them went to the belfry to discover the reason, and there found the body of the sexton dangling from the bell-rope, with which he had hanged himself.

WHY ARE THE LARGE INVESTORS ALL OVER CANADA AND THE UNITED STATES BUYING MONTREAL REAL ESTATE?

If Western land or speculative stocks were considered better,--is it reasonable to suppose that these careful financiers whose knowledge of Canadian conditions is beyond a doubt-would buy Montreal Real Estate?

To the men of good judgment,—these questions do not require an answer.

YOU KNOW Montreal is the largest City in the Dominion.

YOU KNOW that the population is increasing yearly at the rate of about 50,000.

YOU KNOW these people have to have homes.

Taking the above facts into consideration, what do you consider, looking in the most conservative way possible, ANGUS PARK LOTS will be worth in four years' time?

Taking the past advances in MONTREAL REAL ESTATE as an example, these lots will be worth over a hundred per cent. (100 per cent.) more in that time.

We have a limited number of lots situated on ANGUS PARK BOULEVARD, which we can offer you at to-day's low prices, and on terms that will not cripple your finances, and by the time your lots are fully paid for you will have saved not only the cost of the land but the increase in value, thereby making your investment many hundred per cent. (100 per cent.) better than a Savings Bank account and much safer.

Do not delay till this opportunity has escaped you, but call in and see us, or drop us a line and we will send you full particulars together with our application forms. The prices range from $100 per lot upwards and the terms 10 per cent. cash, and the balance 10 per cent. every three months without interest.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

KING EDWARD VACUM CLEANER

You cannot clean carpets, rugs and furniture by beating. If you think you have, just try a KING EDWARD VACUUM CLEANER and you will find the article full of dust, which breeds disease.

The KING EDWARD HAND MACHINE has no equal as compared with other hand machines. It is lighter to operate and its suction is much stronger. Its suction is stronger than many of the power machines, and the dusting is done away with. On account of the short stroke one person can operate it on carpets and rugs equally as well as two, and it is about half the weight of other hand machines to carry up and down stairs or from one room to another. It is sold for less money than any of the hand machines. All machines are guaranteed.

THE KING'S THRONE.
Hard to Say Which Is the Real Throne.

The King may be said to have a suite of thrones—or shall we say a set of "occasional thrones?"—on each of which he probably sits at least once. Certainly he only sits on a single occasion upon one of them—that is the Coronation Chair in Westminster Abbey—the worm-eaten, battered, lion-footed old oak settee which contains the Stone of Destiny, and upon which all the King's predecessors since Edward II. have been crowned. That chair might, perhaps, claim to be the throne of the Empire, as it is infinitely the most ancient, and inasmuch as the King must sit upon it to be crowned.

It is not at all likely that the King would sit upon it often, even if it were in his "ain ingle-nook," because it is an extremely uncomfortable chair. It stands, year in and year out, in the chapel of Edward the Confessor, where it was first placed by Edward I., and it is only removed for the Coronation, when, covered with gold brocade, it is set under the lantern, between the choir and the altar.

Probably the throne most familiar to the public is the great creation which stands upon a dias in the House of Lords. It is often mentioned in the newspapers quite apart from the opening of Parliament—the only occasion upon which it is actually used as a seat. Often a phrase like this occurs: "Mr. John Burns, who is greatly interested in this bill, listened to the debate from the steps of the throne." A beautiful rail separates this "Royal seat of Kings" from the faithful peers.

New Dam Started.

Work on the new cement dam at Auburn, has been started by the contractor. The dam will be located a short distance below the old Auburn dam, and will be a first class structure. When completed, it will, it is said, develop 3500 horse power.

Bridge Damaged.

The bridge over Pigeon Creek was so badly damaged by Wednesday's storm that traffic had to be suspended for a day or two, in order to make repairs.

A G.T.R. freight car jumped the rails on Sunday at the Hunter street crossing, and blocked traffic for a few hours.

"The Star," corrected I. "Did they ever hear of Storme?" I asked.

"Hear of him?" replied the old man. "Why, ain't you heard? Didn't you know about it?"

"Tell me," I requested.

"Why, no," responded he, "they never got him out there; but somebody did on here East. Why, man alive, he's been sent up—he's jailed, though on another charge, and," he added, "under another name."

"Another name?" I said. "What name?"

The old man slowly smiled.

"It's a name that's well known by this time, I guess, pretty much all over. Did you ever hear of Stephen Duckworth?"

"What!" I exclaimed. "Stephen Duckworth! The man that tried to float that million dollar bond scheme—the forger. Why, he's in state's prison in this state; been there a month, at least."

"Exactly," returned my old friend, "that's where he is. And that man," he continued, "is H. Stanleigh Storme. I thought you knew it all the time. They've got him under lock and key this time for fair. He won't get out too soon."

It was about dinner time. I led the way into the cozy corner of a downtown restaurant, where we regaled ourselves and whiled away an hour.

"And the other fellow, Townsend, what became of him?" I asked.

The old man wiped the soup off his wide expanse of short front and nodded his head.

"I don't suppose," he answered, "that C. T. & A. Railway had a better manager than they've got now. I know they haven't in my time. His name," he added, "is Henry F. Townsend. He's one of the best business men in the place, and they all swear by him.

"They soured on him a bit after that last trial on account of the blame fool way in which he'd been taken in, but when they came to cool down, they concluded all around that Townsend wasn't to blame any more than anybody else — the whole town had been took in, the banks and the police force the most of all.

"Henry F. Townsend told a straightforward story, and he was a straightforward man, and they came to understand that pretty soon. There wasn't anything against him except that he was mixed up in this unfortunate thing about the same way everybody had been, and they found there was a good deal in favor of him. He stayed right there and bore the brunt of the whole thing—said he was all right and intended to stick to it.

"And he did. And he won out. Some of his old railroad people got interested in the C. T. & A., and they snapped Townsend right in as assistant manager—you see he knew all about the business. And then, by George, the manager resigned and Townsend stepped right into his shoes. And he's all right, is Henry F. Townsend."

"He never married, I suppose?" I queried.

The old man smiled again.

"Yes, he did," he answered. "And that was another funny thing.

"Do you remember that Dumont robbery—the thing Storme turned before he went for the First National? Well, sir, Townsend married that girl the Dumont girl. I believe she'd known Storme, or something of that kind, and I suppose Townsend met her in some way after the trial, but, anyway, she married him, and they're both all right."

It was a funny thing, though. They say she saw the burglar in her house that night and recognized him; and it must seem queer to her when she looks at Townsend, for if ever a man looked like Storme, he's the man, though he's changed his looks some now, too.

"That Dumont girl is rich, too; rich as mud, they say. So Townsend, what with the railroad and other things, is pretty well fixed, and happy, too, I guess; as happy as they make 'em. Well, sir," concluded the old man, reaching for a bunch of toothpicks, "I'm due uptown about this time and I guess I'll be moving."

"I'll go with you," I responded.

As we passed a newspaper bulletin on the way up the street, we saw a crowd around it.

"Well, by George," exclaimed my companion, "will wonders never cease! Look at that. That's about the man we were talkin' of just now."

I looked. Upon the bulletin, in fresh black paint, appeared the following words:

Duckworth's Desperate Escape
Stephen Duckworth, the Notorious Bond Forger, Breaks His Prison Bonds
Cannot Be Found. Possess Scouring The Country In Search.

The old man squeezed my arm. "What do you think of that?" he asked. "You take my word for it, they'll never get him—no, sir, they can't do it. I'm bettin' on any man the first letter of whose last name begins with H. Stanley Storme. If he's out, he's out for good."

And he was. Officially, Stephen Duckworth was supposed to be confined in cell No. 143. Actually, he was far away.

They find his bars sawed, the cage broken, and the bird flown.

Officially, the record in the warden's office set forth that Stephen Duckworth, the famous forger, bank robber, and swindler, was safe within the clutches of the law. But it was not true.

As he had often done before, H. Stanleigh Storme had once more proved an alibi.

"Some fellow ought to write a book about him," exclaimed the old man again as we started on once more.

I assented.

"I will," I said.

And, accordingly, I have.

AUTHORITIES REPORT ON CROP.

Prospects Good in Canada.

The seeding and growing season for the whole of Canada has opened late this year, and the month of April has been marked by hard frosts. But May has been favorable to cultivation of the land, and the rainfall has been sufficient for healthy vegetation.

Fall wheat, which is grown chiefly in Ontario and Alberta, showed an average condition of 82 per cent. at the end of April, being 89 per cent. in Alberta and 81 per cent. in Ontario. In Ontario, however, the April frosts were destructive in some regions; and from 12 to 34 per cent. of the area sown has been reported as winter-killed. The central countries, North of Lake Ontario, suffered worst, the average loss as reported being 34 per cent. In the Western counties 27 per cent. of the area in crop has been destroyed. In the Southern counties, North of lake Erie, the loss is 10 per cent.; in the Northern counties and districts, 12.6 per cent.; and in the Eastern counties, between the St. Lawrence and Ottawa rivers, 15 per cent. For the whole of Canada, the area winter-killed is reported to be 21 per cent., and the per cent. condition of the growing crop is 82.

About 12 1-2 per cent. of the clover was heaved out by the spring frosts, and the average condition of hay and clover at the end of April was 89 per cent. Alberta shows better than any other part of Canada, its average being 94 1-2 per cent. Nova Scotia comes next, with 93.75; and in Quebec, British Columbia and Saskatchewan it is 86, and in Manitoba 85 per cent.

MARKET FOR MEAT.

Argentina Finds a New Market for its Meat.

A new market for Argentine meat has been secured in northern Italy. The mayors of Rome and 53 other cities in the northern part of Italy have combined to promote the importation of frozen meat from Argentina. Negotiations in southern Italy have similar arrangements in view for that section. Efforts are being made by the Argentine authorities to have the Swiss regulations modified so as to permit the entry of meat into that country. At present every carcass imported into Switzerland must be accompanied by the tongue, heart, liver, spleen and kidneys. It is thought that a Swiss inspector may be stationed at Buenos Ayres to pass upon carcasses intended for his country and so relieve the trade of this prohibitive order.

ONTARIO FRUIT OUTLOOK.

Ontario's orchards were not in blossom on the 8th May, when correspondents made their return to the Department of Agriculture. The season is said to be later than usual. Fruit buds, however, promise to be plentiful, and after the lean orchard yield of 1910 a liberal yield is expected. War upon scale, codling moth, and other pests is being conducted with more vigor than ever, and several correspondents point to the improved appearance of fruit trees as the result of work done in the last year or two in the way of spraying, pruning, and the better general culture of orchards. A few reports of damage to trees from mice come from some of the St. Lawrence and Ottawa countries.

NEW WAY OF CATCHING RATS.

Catching rats with oyster shells is the unique method employed by some pearlers round about Broome, West Australia. They leave a large oyster on the floor of the cabin at night. It opens for a breath of fresh air, and the smell of fresh meat attracts the rats. When the rodent thinks he'll try a little supper, the oyster suddenly decides that he doesn't like fresh air. Next morning the shell is prized open, and the dead rat thrown overboard.

Not Loaded.

No other language under the sun is open to so many interpretations as the English language, as witness the conversation between two Sharon Hill girls the other evening

"Oh, May," said the first one, "Jim and Bill tried to fight a duel over me."

"How romantic! What happened?"

"It was terrible. I came into the room, and those foolish boys were pointing big pistols at each other!"

"Pistols? Heavens! were they loaded?"

"Not a bit. That is just what made it really very serious. They both were sober."

Children's Chest Troubles

Nurse Carrington Says Her Long Experience Proves the Safest Remedy is to RUB ON NERVILINE!

Every mother knows how difficult it is to get a young child to take a cough mixture. Seldom will one help unless given in large doses, and the result is to completely upset the stomach and make the child sick.

Speaking of the promptest cure for chest troubles and children's colds, Nurse Carrington says: "In all my experience in nursing I haven't met any preparation so dependable as Nerviline. It is the ideal liniment. Every drop you rub on is absorbed quickly sinks through the pores to the congested muscles, eases, relieves and cures quickly. Especially for chest colds, pain in the side, stiff neck, earache, toothache, I have found Nerviline invaluable. In treating the minor ills of children Nerviline has no equal. I think Nerviline should be in every home."

A million bottles of Nerviline used every year—this is itself a burden of proof that it is the ideal liniment for the home. Refuse anything your dealer may offer instead of Nerviline. Large bottles 25c, five for $1.00. Sold everywhere, and by The Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

NEWSPAPERS AND CRIME.

There are newspapers that refuse to give any space to reports of crime and there are people who class papers who do report crime as "yellow." And for these reasons, and others, there are people who concern themselves with the question of the wisdom of printing the criminal news of the country.

Recently a committee appointed by the American Academy of Medicine to investigate the subject of "Suicide," reported that "Suicide is a private affair. There is no more justification for the publication of such accounts than there is for publishing other private matters." Continuing the committee finds that "alienists are practically unanimous in the opinion that the suggestive effect of the reading of details of suicides is a powerful factor among susceptible individuals," and concludes by requesting newspapers to refrain from publishing such affairs.

Commenting on the recommendations of the committee the "Editor and Publisher," a New York journal, says the following:

"Journalists who have given the subject some thought are not inclined to adopt the suggestions of the eminent medical gentlemen who compose the aforesaid committee. To omit reports of suicides and other crimes, they aver, would be a grave mistake. If the public is not made acquainted with suicides as they occur how will the necessity of investigating the causes leading to self-destruction and providing for their removal be made apparent?

Should the newspapers exclude from their columns stories of burglaries, thefts, murders and scandals every criminal would be glad, because he could then carry on his work in greater security and, therefore, with greater success. The suppression of criminal news would have a most harmful effect on the police. Violations of law would be regarded with comparative indifference and, in the end, the public would be without adequate protection of any kind."

That is a new presentation of the case and all readers must agree with the view. The greatest good to the greatest number is the ideal of public service. If the report of a robbery does stimulate some criminally inclined youth to commit an offence, it likewise calls the attention of the public to the inactivities of the police and surely, in that regard, begets good results.

JAPAN'S MAGNANIMITY.

Japan has again justified her title as the Kingdom of the Rising Sun, says the Journal. By a prompt and wholehearted acceptance of the amendment proposed by Great Britain to the treaty binding the two island kingdoms together, the Japanese showed themselves not less expeditious in their diplomacy than magnanimous in their friendship.

To clear the way for the absolute treaty of arbitration now being framed by Great Britain and the United States, it was necessary to seek release from one term of the Britain-Japanese treaty which has been in force for a good many years, with mutual advantage to each nation and with a steadying effect upon the [illegible] of their agreement. Britain was pledged to go to war with any power which helped a nation against whom Japan was pitched.

[illegible] it could not be regarded as outside the bounds of reasonable probability that Japan might attempt to exact certain terms from China at the point of arms. If the United States decided to take China's part, it would be incumbent upon England to declare war upon the American nation. This eventuality is not to be [illegible] entertained. And especially in view of the full and lasting arbitration pact being drawn up, did Britain wish that bar to eternal amity with the republic removed.

It was easy enough to ask, but one can hardly appreciate what a ready acquiescence meant to the Japanese statesmen. Cut off from all first-rate nations, and with the vast Russian Empire a close menace, the prestige acquired through her "entente cordiale" with Britain has been Japan's main asset. And voluntarily to surrender the unequivocal support of the largest navy and the vastest empire there has ever been bespeaks a nobility of purpose which has called forth the warmest praise from all the world.

She will lose nothing, however, by having regard to the wider interests [illegible] than to a narrow and [illegible] nationalism. With nations as with individuals it is still true that [illegible] who sets [illegible] his own life shall position in world-wide politics by this latest instance of magnanimity. Had the people's cry been no better than one that is very popular in some countries which think they have nothing to learn from that quarter. Had the public men echoed the parrot call "Japan for the Japanese," complete arbitration between the Anglo-Saxon nations would have been thwarted, and the prospects of universal peace would be much less promising.

A LEAGUE OF LIBERTY.

Lloyd George has made a speech of martial sound. After praising arbitration and the Anglo-American treaty, he says that Great Britain must at all hazards maintain her place and prestige among the powers of Europe. She has fought for human liberty in the past, and may be compelled to do so again; her influence has redeemed continental nations "who are now apt to forget the services that wrenched them from overwhelming disaster and even national extinction." He does not mention Germany, but no one can forget the debt that German nationality owes to Great Britain in the life and death struggle with the first Napoleon.

Virtually Lloyd George says that war is justifiable in order to preserve human liberty. Australia and New Zealand are radical and democratic and progressive in social reform. At the same time they are Imperialistic and ready to make very large expenditures for defence. In their case we find that the traditional alliance of aristocracy and militarism is broken. The democracy is militant. The reason lies in the isolated position of the Australasian continent, which makes its denizens feel that they must fight for their liberty, and be ready to make common cause with all the friends of liberty. This is the true bond of Empire. It is very well expressed in the "members' " creed of the overseas club, which has now attained a membership of more than 50,000—

"Believing the British Empire to stand for justice, freedom, order and good government, we pledge ourselves as citizens of the greatest Empire in the world, to maintain the heritage handed down to us by our fathers."

If we in Canada fee that our liberties are in no great danger, owing to our proximity to a country of free institutions, that is all the more reason why we should be willing to aid in the cause of liberty, at whatever point it may be menaced.

THE HOLIDAY MONTHS.

About this time of the year there is a feeling of expectation in the air, a general and pervasive attitude as of waiting to receive something. It is like the time just before Christmas, only very, very different! It is the thought of holidays that manages to keep our minds on tiptoe, to mangle a metaphor. Everyone is either just taking a holiday or just about to take a holiday. There a few poor creatures who have already had their holidays. It must be confessed that they seem the most content, but we do not envy them, despite their air of having got the thing over with for another year.

Most holidays, it must be admitted are a delusion and a snare. We go forth with much hopefulness and hard cash to track down elusive happiness and the rest of life which an eleven months' grind in shop or office has apparently extirpated. We spend several weeks and all the money in our possession in the pursuit, after which we overdraw our accounts and take just one more day, in desperation. We come back thoroughly fatigued in body, sunburned as to nose, with blisters on our hands and feet, and a mind absolutely vacant of thought. And then we find the zest of life waiting for us at our desks. The old things have taken a new aspect; interest has been recreated out of monotony. We find to our utter amazement that we are glad to get back to work. If anyone attempted to restrain us from doing so, we might become violent. There are a great many things to be done, and no one else could possibly do them. Things have evidently been standing still in our absence.

In that lies the beauty of all holidays. They are at their best when they are over. A holiday which is not a complete change is merely a waste of time. Banish all familiar scenes and faces and thoughts, and for the rest it does not matter where that holiday is spent. We who live in town have maddening visions of leafy woodlands solitudes and running water and the open sky above us at night. But a dweller in the country might be greater benefitted by a course of soda fountains and roof gardens and department store stopping, with an occasional vaudeville entertainment thrown in. Do something different, that is all. This is the time of year when everybody should change cars at the next station.

Our booklet beautifully illustrated, tells the story--contains interesting facts regarding the Grape Fruit Industry.

The figures are startling but true

When three years old grape-fruit trees begin to bear, the crop continues to increase until the seventh year when the average amounts to between seven and twenty boxes of fruit. Grape-Fruit is usually sold on the trees at a price ranging not less than $1.00 per box. On the Manhattan Estates we will have a grove of over 40,000 trees, and our yearly crop, once maturity is reached, should average 280,000 crates annually. Between the trees we intend cultivating tobacco and pineapples from which a substantial profit will be realized within one year from the time of planting. The British-owned Western Railways run through the Estates, insuring splendid shipping facilities. The officers and directors of this company have implicit faith in this enterprise, and have agreed that no one shall receive one cent of salary until after 25 per cent. dividends have been earned and declared. They are quite willing to wait for their dividends, knowing that their investments will amply repay them.

One Hundred Dollars is enough to insure ease and comfort. Why not inqure today about our special offer.

M'INNIS HITS BACK AT COMMISSION

Ottawa, July 24.—T. R. E. McInnes, who came in for the lion's share of the criticism in the report of commissioner Murphy on the Vancouver Chinese immigration and opium smuggling cases, is out to-day with a warm statement in reply, in which he goes in detail into history of the affair so far as he was connected with it and his work for the Government for several years back.

DOESN'T MINCE MATTERS.

Mr. McInnes does not mince matters, and openly charges the commissioner with being "irrelevant, truckling, malicious, and cowardly." He says that Sir Wilfrid Laurier "misstated the fact if, when replying to Mr. Borden in the House on Friday, he meant me when he said: "The only person not a Chinaman who was suspected was not appointed by this Government."

Mr. McInnes further sums up as follows:

"I say that the Dominion Government permitted the fraudulent entry of Chinese to [illegible] two years after his attentions had been formally drawn thereto.

"I say that the Dominion Government deliberately delayed criminal proceedings against the guilty Chinese indicated by its own commissioner, Judge Murphy, for two months, in order to allow them to escape from justice."

Mr. McInnes says he made two reports on smuggling at Vancouver, in 1908 and 1909, and in 1910 he was instructed by the Premier to make another investigation and report, which he did, resulting in the suspension of Yip On.

EXPOSURE RESULTED.

"As a result the system of fraudulent entry was exposed some of the guilty officials have been recommended for prosecution and given time to escape, and a complete change in the administration of the Chinese Act along the lines which I recommended in 1909, has taken place.

"The commissioner's mission," he concluded, "was to inquire into the working of the Chinese Immigration Act, evasions of it, suggested improvements, and as a side issue the question of opium smuggling. He was not commissioned to whitewash Templeman or the Liberal executive, or to vilify myself or Gordon Grant or David Lew or Officer Foster or other person supposed to be distasteful to the ruling Liberal clique.

He made a farce of the sessions of the commission by inviting all sorts of irrelevant evidence, which might or might not affect the status of the Liberal party in Vancouver, but which clearly had nothing to do with evasions of the Chinese Immigration Act. For instance, he brought in Joe Martin to say that Bob Kelly sold the political positions of Vancouver then he brought in Bob Kelly to say Joe Martin was a liar, and so on. But as to the real object under investigation not one-half of the time of the commission was devoted to it. Then in his findings he first whitewashes Templeman (who had not been accused), whitewashes the Liberal executive (which was not the subject of investigation), then finds me (under a special authority from the Premier to investigate), guilty of an intrigue for so doing.

McINNES IS SARCASTIC.

"He associates Gordon Grant and David Lew with me in this. And yet it was Gordon Grant, as counsel, auctioned by Sir Wilfrid, before Templeman had him ousted in favor of one of his own pets, who secured the success of the preliminary investigation, and it was David Lew upon whom Commissioner Murphy himself had to depend to secure evidence, and reliable interpretation to the very last session of the commission. Then this brave commissioner attacks one of the most faithful and tried police officers in the Dominion service by intimating that he was so weak or venal that I secured him and 'utilized him to advance this intrigue.' That is why I repeat that Murphy is irrelevant, truckling and cowardly. His other findings are simply what I recommended or stated to my report to the Government of November, 1910. I will publish that report and let the public compare it with Murphy's report, and it will then be evident where he gets whatever there is of value in it. His last finding as to opium, saying 'that its consumption must be discouraged by drastic amendments, shows that he does not even keep abreast of the Acts of Parliament.

DRAFTED NEW ACT.

"I drew for Mackenzie King this session the new Opium Act, which is the most drastic and effective Act against the use of opium and cocaine to be found on the statute books of America."

LORD ROSEBERRY'S BET.

How the Great English Politician Gave a Good Tip.

On one occasion Lord Roseberry was in a railway carriage on his way to a race meeting at Ayr. Opposite him sat a commercial traveller, who was rather inclined to be talkative.

Seeing his lordship (whom, of course, he did not know) reading the 'Racing Calendar, he remarked:

"Suppose you are going to the Ayr meeting?"

"I am going as far as Ayr," replied his lordship.

"Pity young swells get fleeced by blacklegs. Some noblemen, I hear, drop fortunes on the Turf."

"Indeed!"

"Do a bit myself sometimes — about a tenner or a pony is my cut. Know anything good for to-day worth my while touching?"

"I am not a tipster."

"Beg pardon. Saw you reading the 'Racing Calendar,' so thought you might know."

"Well," replied his lordship, "if I give you the straight tip will it be of service to you?"

"Depends if I fancy it."

"Put your tenner or pony on Lord Roseberry's Chevronel for the Welter Cup."

"Not for Joseph! I never back Lord Roseberry's horses. They say he's a regular chumpkin."

"Indeed! Perhaps they're right However, you asked me. I can only add that I heard Lord Roseberry himself tell what you term a chumpkin to back his horse."

"Depend upon it, if it was all right, he would not let you overhear his conversation. Mum would then be his game. Why, there's a lot in that race! I'll bet you a pony Lord Roseberry don't win it."

"Really! I am not accustomed to bet in railway carriages with strangers."

"There's my card. Fact is, you ain't game to bet"

"I think you'll lose your money, but as you challenge me let it be a bet. You'll see me in the stewards' enclosure at the course. I have no cards with me."

"Agreed! It's a bet. I bet you an even pony against Chevronel for the Welter Cup. But what's your name, young fellow?"

"Primrose. Sometimes I'm otherwise addressed."

"All right, young Primrose; pay and receive after the race."

The companions separated at the station. Chevronel won in a canter, and the commercial received the following morning a short note by a messenger from the stewards' stand: "Mr. Primrose (Lord Roseberry) would feel obliged by Mr.——— handing to his servent £25, which his lordship will have much pleasure in forwarding as a donation to the Commercial Travellers' Orphan Asylum."

The "bagman" paid his money, looking very crestfallen, and was heard to ejaculate, "Doae! Who on earth would have dreamt that the good-looking, affable young fellow, whom I imagined was a chumpkin, was in fact none other than the Earl of Roseberry, giving me a good honest tip about his own horse, by which I was fool enough to lose £25? Anyway, he's a regular trump, and he's right — I'm the chumpkin after all!"

SWALLOWS' NEST OF BANK-NOTE

Also How a Mouse Stole $40 Worth of Notes to Make a Home.

A pair of swallows of Fiberbrunn, in the Tyrol, have stolen a number of ten-kronen bank-notes to line their nest.

The parent birds discovered that the new notes were just the shade of blue to match their eggs, the tissue being tough but flexible, and exactly the material they needed. The nest and the missing notes were only discovered when the swallows had abandoned it and it fell to the ground.

This feat has been equalled by that of an enterprising mouse in Dorabirn, which abstracted a number of twenty-kronen notes to the value of $40, of a delicate reddish brown shade, from the cash drawer of a butcher, and, tearing them to pieces, adapted them to the purpose of making a nest for her family of seven. The butcher in his search for the notes suspected and traced the mouse, and found the nest under the boarding. He carefully picked up the remains of the notes and returned them to the bank, where they were pieced together. The butcher recovered mouse's teeth.

GET CONFIDENCE OF BOYS

Too Many Rules Make Bad Boys

I asked a teacher of boys known as "incorrigibles," in a home for bad boys, how she managed them, her methods having proved so satisfactory and altogether successful.

"I never say "don't" to my boys until they do something that requires a "don't," and I never say "do this or do that" until I find that they are failing in just this one particular thing," she said.

Her method would appear to mean, few rules and regulations, and those individual and arranged to suit the case in hand.

Children can't stand rules and regulations. Such things confuse them and many rules and regulations, too many "thou shalts and thou shalt nots," so muddle the young minds that they are entirely at sea, and apt, mistakenly and unintentionally to mix the rules of conduct, forgetting which is a "shalt" and which a "shalt not."

In any event, this teacher of boys catalogued as "bad," finds that rules and regulations, set and unelastic, will not work; therefore, definite iron clad rules and regulations laid down for the average home boy who isn't bad, must be qually undesirable.

Five more earthquakes in Italy yesterday. The number of earthquakes this year is shocking.

FARM AND FIELD

STOCK RAISING IN SIBERIA.

The Mongols Make the Best of Land Horse in Siberia.

The most important occupation in the Province of Transbaikal is stock raising. Cattle, horses and sheep predominate, altho a limited number of camels, deer, goats and swine are raised. The horses average between twelve and thirteen hands high, and can draw a load of over one thousand pounds, and if driven in a troioka (three horses harnessed abreast) they can cover thirty to forty miles a day. Journeys of thousands of miles at an average rate of forty miles a day have been made by riding these animals. The horses are kept in the open throughout the year, and in winter find their food under the snow. Some improvement has been made in breeding these horses, and only recently Arab blood was introduced.

The cattle are of Mongolian origin and are inferior and very small. They live in the same manner as the horses, and it is remarkable how they can withstand the severe climate and lack of food. Experiments have been made to improve the stock, but the results are noticed only in the first and second generation, the probable reason being that they are given so little care. These cattle produce little milk or beef. The camel is also of Mongolian origin, and the sheep are a little over two feet in height, the tail varying in weight from two to ten pounds. The wool is coarse, thick and of medium length.

BEE HIVES.

Successful Farmers Have Their Section Boxes Ready for Swarming.

The wideawake farmer does not wait until his bees have swarmed and are clustered on a treetop before he thinks of preparing a hive for them. All preparatory work, such as making and painting hives, wiring brood frames and getting the section boxes ready for the anticipated honey crop, should be done at leisure times during winter and early spring, before the rush of other work takes place. How easy it will be to manage a dozen or more colonies of bees next summer if everything is set in readiness now. For instance, if a swarm issues it will only be the work of a few minutes to take a hive from the barn and hive the swarm into it. If a honey flow bursts forth suddenly, what satisfaction it will give you to know that you have on hand a few hundred section boxes ready to set on the hives at once. If this work is put off until summer time, it is more than probable it will not be done at all. When feeding the bees be careful and not spill any of the sweets about the apiary, for robbing is often started in this way.

HOW SWINE CAN PAY.

Raising of Pigs Neglected in Canada.

First choose your breed. When your choice is made, purchase pure-bred brood sows. If you cannot afford to buy many, buy one good one, and by saving all the desirable females you will, in the course of a few years, have a good-sized herd. Do not spare a few dollars or a long drive to get a good boar.

The vigor of the constitution of the offspring depends on the dam, but the outward form and limbs depend more on the boar. The boar should be wide between the fore legs, with large girth behind them, that denotes active heart and limbs. Straight, strong limbs and erect hoofs indicate solidity of animal framework. Smooth skin and soft hair denote active liver and general health. Do not trade a long body for a short nose. These same qualities should be found in the female.

During the pregnancy of the sow, she should be allowed plenty of exercise and proper food, and there will be little trouble in giving birth to her offspring. A sow carrying pigs is engaged in a work which demands a full supply of tissue-making foods. Clover, wheat, bran and linseed meal and such foods, rich in protein, should be furnished her. There is a great mistake made by many hog raisers who give their brood sows corn and water for a diet; they think because they look well that such foods are all right, but they wonder why their sows have trouble giving birth to their offspring and many times eat them.

When the pigs are a few weeks old they should be given a creep where they can help themselves to grain. The males should be castrated when about two months old and while they are still with their mothers.

MANITOBA FOR GOOD ROADS.

Representatives of Manitoba Good Roads Association and Manitoba Union of Municipalities met last week in Winnipeg, and after considerable discussion on the financing of road work throughout the province, passed a resolution to the effect that the government be asked to guarantee the bonds of the municipalities. It was proposed that the redemption of bonds be extended over a period of twenty to thirty years and further, that the amount of money to be raised do not exceed four per cent of the total assessment of the municipality.

All He Was Fit For.

A forlorn Irishman, reduced to the last stage of poverty and dejection, as a last resource made inquiry at a pawnbroker's store as follows:

"Do you buy rags and bones here?"

"Yes," was the reply.

"Then, be jabers," said Pat, "ye may put me on the scales."

The Reason.

Benevolent Old Gentleman: "Johnny, why was Damocles afraid to eat dinner when the sword was suspended over his head by a single hair?"

Johnny (who does not like being questioned): "I s'pose he was afraid the hair would fall into his soup."

A Progressive.

"Madame, dot girl of yours vants to make progress mit her music. Vat shall I do?"

"If she was playing on the piano, make her practise two or three hours a day."

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Australia has Tallest Tree.

Australia claims to have the tallest tree in the world. It has long been thought that to California belongs this distinction, but, while California trees are of gigantic dimensions, they do not come up to Australia's eucalyptus trees. The Californians are noted not so much for their height as for their girth and diameter. The tallest tree in California yet discovered was found by actual measurement to be 340ft high. Australia's record gum tree can beat this by 140ft.

QUEEN MARY FROWNS.

Order about Hobble Skirts was Disobeyed.

Queen Mary's order about hobble skirts was disobeyed at the two courts by all except the actual court ladies. All the rest wore tight skirts, but their trains covered them. They say they didn't see why they should make themselves unfashionable because the queen herself is abnormally large around the hips and unsuited to tight dresses.

Nevertheless everyone was staggered by the costume of the Marchioness de la Vill Urrutia, the wife of the Spanish ambassador. Her dress was so tight that her whole figure was sharply outlined and she had great difficulty in walking. As she belongs in the diplomatic circle she is independent of the queen's wishes and fortunately had no courtesy to make with consequences which might have been indescribable.

The queen only smiled when she saw her trouble and seemed wisely oblivious of how her order was generally obeyed. Indeed, the queen was the surprise of the court, she was so smiling and bright, with a word for everybody.

BUY ROYAL PORCUPINE

Quoted at 32 to 33 Cents

The stock of the Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co., we believe, will prove to be one of the greatest money makers in the wonderful Porcupine district.

Every day brings forth further evidence that the Porcupine Camp is destined to become the richest gold region in the world, and Royal Porcupine should soon take its place at the head of the great producing mines in this section.

Porcupine has the indorsement of the world's greatest authorities in gold mining, who concur in the opinion that never before have such rich showings been seen covering so great an area.

The Property

is located in the township of Tisdale and consists of eight full claims, embracing 320 acres. It is particularly well located, being only one-quarter mile south of the Porcupine Gold Mines, Ltd., and one-half mile south of the Hollinger mine, for which it is claimed there is $10,000,000 in sight. Engineers report that the Royal Porcupine property is in the famous ore zone, being on the same ledge as Hollinger and having the same formation.

A telegram from the engineer in charge of the property bears out this statement. It is as follows:—

"Porcupine, Ont., June 19, 1911.

"Vein uncovered twelve feet in width. Excellent ore body. Shaft being sunk on this vein. Property in every way most favorable.

(Signed) "JULIUS MESSER, M. E.,
"Engineer in charge of property."

Thirty men are now employed, and work on the shaft will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Four veins, varying from 12 to 100 feet in width, have already been uncovered. Assays have been made which show $50 a ton.

Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co.

is capitalized for $3,000,000; par value of shares $1.00. Full paid and non-assessable. No personal liability.

A glance at the list of directors will show the class of men who are putting in their money and time to make this one of the greatest mines in the Porcupine Camp. The directors are:—

JAMES WHITNEY,
Peterboro, Ontario; Member of Parliament, President Auburn Woollen Mills.

T. E. BRADBURN,
Member Parliament, Peterboro, Ontario; Private Banker.

ARCHIBALD L. ALLAN,
New York, Hiram Walker & Sons.

JACOB RAPOPORT,
New York, Jacob Rapoport & Co., Merchants.

HAMILTON KILGOUR,
New York and London, England, Mining Engineer.

WARREN N. AKERS,

Remember, that our judgment on Hollinger, Dome Extension and Vipond was correct, and we believe the Royal Porcupine will prove one of our best investments.

The Hollinger stock was originally offered at $3.50 and now sells at around $15.50, and Dome Extension was first offered at 40c., and now sells at around 84c.

Royal Porcupine stock may be purchased through any member of the New York Curb Association, or we will be glad to execute your orders.

WHY GO TO ALASKA TO INVEST IN OIL?

During the past month we have beenpresenting to the readers of The Morning Times, and the public in general, an offer which for SAFETY and CERTAINTY OF RESULTS in the form of DIVIDENDS and ENORMOUS PROFITS is well nigh UNPRECEDENTED.

In Southwest Colorado, in Mountezuma County, near Mancos, nature has placed RICH OIL FIELDS which promise to be the cause of the MOST STUPENDOUS BOOM COLORADO HAS HAD SINCE THE EARLY GOLD DAYS.

We own and control 8,500 acres of land in this section which experts assure us are positively gusher producing properties.

We have bought and paid for all the machinery necessary for drilling. We do not owe one cent. If you invest with us you have behind your investment not only enormous land values but machinery the value of which is fully $8,000.

For the ordinary investor this would be security enough but we have made the safest investment proposition that ever was offered, for, besides these rich Mancos Oil Fields we also own 2,560 acres in the proven oil field of San Juan, Utah; also 1,920 acres in the Great Montezuma District of Colorado, and fifty acres of rich mining ground in the La Plata District, for which we have been offered Ten Thousand Dollars spot cash.

Investments in the stock of our Company participate in the profits of all these properties. The Mancos Oil and Development Company promises to and will give the public a "square deal." Every acre of oil land and mining property which it owns or will acquire belongs to its stockholders.

MR. BURT H. MASON, the president and organizer of the Company, is a mining engineer of enviable reputation the officers of the Company are well-known business men and bankers of Southwestern Colorado. If any misrepresentation has been made we guarantee to return every dollar you pay us and all expenses to which you may have been put for investigation.

QUEEN CHARLOTTE

The Capital City of the Islands

THE LAST WEST

The only town on Graham Island that has a monthly pay roll, and the only sawmill shipping lumber to foreign ports.

The only town having a railway gazetted to its very doors on the island.

The only city on Graham Island having electric light, city water, miles of sidewalks, churches, school, hospital, postoffice, first-class drug store billiard hall, city hall, hotels, boarding house, barber shop and other general stores, and the only newspaper published on the Island, the Queen Charlotte News.

We are positively the centre of all the vast wealth of the entire Islands, including farm lands, timber lands, coal and metalliferous mines. These products must come out at Queen Charlotte City, through the Honna River Valley, and through which the Island Railway must run according to charters already granted.

The combined townsite interests cover one thousand acres, of which five hundred are practically level alluvial soil with no rocks.

A fine water power from the Honna River, good drainage and the best harbor on the entire Islands.

Our lots are all 50 feet by 120 feet, ranging in price from $150 to $300; one-third cash, balance on time at 6 per cent., or deeds can be had at once if desired.

Fully 200,000 acres of farm lands, suitable for mixed farming, only await the hand of man, a large portion of which is already located.

The verdure clad mountains are vast treasure vaults of gold, copper, silver and other precious metals, while our valleys are underlaid with a wealth of the finest coal and covered with a vast forest of spruce, hemlock and yellow cedar. These, coupled with our fisheries, are at the very doors and within sight of Queen Charlotte City.

Taking all these facts into consideration, and with the present progress being made in developing our resources, which are at the gateways of transportation both by water and railway, with the advent of the completion of the Grand Trunk Railroad, Queen Charlotte City is destined to be one of the province's most prosperous cities.

It is owned largely by the wealthiest and most honorable men of our province, who would not be a party in misrepresenting facts and are prepared to endorse every statement herein made.

The townsite company are now offering a further 75 lots on Second avenue at a very low price and on easy terms, if taken at once, and under conditions that will make you a 100 per cent. on your investment in 90 days, for 20 per cent. of the gross proceeds will be used by letting a contract for the clearing and grading of Second avenue from Third street west. The company guarantees to advance the remaining 75 unsold lots on Second avenue from $150 to $225 as soon as the first 75 have been sold. The company is making this effort in order to join with the government in making Second avenue the trunk road through the townsite from the Wilson-Robinson coal fields, Honna River Valley, Lawn Hill and Miller Creek districts. Now you can secure any unsold lot on Second avenue, including fourteen in Keith's addition, to-day for $150, except corners, on easy terms, 1-4 cash, balance 6, 12 and 18 months at 6 per cent. This will positively be your last chance for a cheap lot in Queen Charlotte City, for every lot in the townsite will surely go from $500 to $1000 when the public realize that in the Island River railroad from Queen Charlotte to the head of Masset Inlet is to be started this summer, in addition to the present work already outlined, thus giving work to an army of men. There are at least 5000 citizens of Vancouver who have invested in the various resources of the islands. Conclusive evidence of these facts, a landscape drawing of Graham Island coupled with an illustrated edition of the resources of the islands can be seen at the office of J. J. Miller, 82 Hastings street, Vancouver, B. C., Agent for Vancouver, and plans at office of "Times", Peterboro'.

Andrew Wilson, an attorney, was named as the administrator of an estate. It was his duty to find the lucky but missing brother. "He was slicing turnips for the sheep on his employer's farm, up among the mist-clad hills of Scotland," said Mr. Wilson, "when I found him. I had traced his life from the old farm on which he was born, step by step through forty years of ill-paid and often most unpleasant labor before I approached him. It was not difficult, for he had held but a few positions in all those years. Every one in the countryside knew him. 'Are you Alexander Stephenson?' I asked. 'I am,' said he, without taking his eyes from the turnips and the knife. 'Your brother James is dead in New York,' said I. 'Aweel, aweel, all men must e'en die,' he said, slicing away. 'He left you a great fortune,' said I. 'I want you to come to the house with me, so that I can establish your identity and arrange for you to enter into possession of the estate.' 'I'll talk to ye at nax o'clock, young mon,' said he. 'I'll be busy till then. Thay fortune will keep, but thay turnips will not.'"

HUNDRED YEARS WITHOUT STRIFE

Prominent Canadians Speak of the Proposed Celebration of a Century of Peace

Several prominent Canadians were asked for their opinion regarding the approaching celebration of one hundred years of peace between Great Britain and the United States.

Mr. R. L. Borden

"What should be done to celebrate worthily the approaching Centennial of Peace?" asks Mr. R. L. Borden, M.P. "Establish a permanent and effectual disarmament upon the great inland waterways of Canada and the United States. Extend the same principle of disarmament to all the borders between the two countries from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Establish upon firm foundations a permanent treaty of arbitration between the Empire and the Republic. Proclaim the Centennial of Peace as a day of National Thanksgiving in both countries, and in every city, town and village let the bells ring out their tones of rejoicing and the voice of praise and thanksgiving be heard in all the churches; and in each country erect a stately national memorial consecrated to the splendid memory of one hundred years of peace and to the firm assurance of its enduring continuance."

MR. R. L. BORDEN, M.P.

Hon. F. L. Haszard

"On noting the important events of the day," said Hon. F. L. Haszard, Premier of Prince Edward Island, "one is struck by the announcement that very soon we will be called upon to commemorate the one hundredth anniversary of Peace between Canada and the United States. To the credit of these two great and growing countries it can be truthfully said that no better example could be set to the world at large than the fact that amidst the many vicissitudes through which they have passed, the utmost good feeling has prevailed. It is true that questions of moment have at various times existed, but resort to amicable methods has always been attended with satisfactory results. Are we not therefore justified in believing that the time has come when the nations of the earth should adopt like means and thus avert the terrible devastation of war with all its baneful results. If our advanced civilization stands for anything, first and fore most our aim should be directed towards the attainment of that much desired understanding between the nations by which all great national questions and disputes will be adjusted by a Peace tribunal. May we not therefore hope that the year 1911, with the munificent gift of ten million dollars in the cause of Peace, by the world's well-wisher, Andrew Carnegie, will see securely laid the Foundation Stone of Peace."

Hon. Walter Scott

"The more I think of the fact the more astounded I become that Christian civilization has failed to put an end to war between nations," said Hon. Walter Scott, Premier of Saskatchewan. "The present spectacle of Europe heaping taxes upon taxes and grinding the faces of scores of millions of the poor to maintain huge equipments of war is a lesson for the contemplation of the people of America. Because the proposed celebration of the century of Peace, which has subsisted with inestimable advantage to both Canada and the United States, may be a powerful means of instruction to all peoples against the stupendous folly of the "mailed fist" method of disposing of international disputes, I most heartily approve the idea of the celebration."

A GREAT CENSUS

Numbering the People is a Big Task—Some Interesting Points as to Work in Old Country

In view of the fact that this is Census year in Canada it is interesting to note how Great Britain and Ireland take their Census. Some interesting points as to the great census in the Old Country this year are as follows:

The first Sunday in April was census night, when all the people in Great Britain and Ireland were numbered.

A census form, to be filled up by the occupier, was left during the previous week at every dwelling-house by the census-takers, who are officially known as enumerators.

There were about 40,000 of these census-takers, and they dealt with 9,000,000 census papers. The printing and classifying of these forms has been a big job. It occupied the staff of the Census Office for nearly a year, and it will take two years to sort and tabulate the forms after they are filled up, so that the whole work of the census from start to finish will occupy three full years.

All the forms were collected by the enumerators on Monday, April 2.

Refusal to fill up the forms is punishable by a fine of $25, but although such a refusal is not uncommon it rarely does persist in it, but gives way to reasoning and explanation.

One particularly stubborn individual, however, was absolutely unmoved when the last census was taken ten years ago. He simply would not fill up the form, nor would he consent to give the information necessary to enable it to be filled up for him, and he was summoned and fined $25. He was the only family not included in the census.

Another householder, a lady, sent $25 on her own account as "conscience money." She had, she explained, understated her age. If all the ladies who do this same thing would act in a similar manner, the British Treasury would be the richer by many pounds sterling of five-pound notes, for experience shows that large numbers of the fair sex make themselves out one or more years younger than they really are.

Twenty-five is the age at which most of them cease to grow older, at all events on paper. This was clearly shown during the last census, which took place, of course, in 1901.

A novelty about this census is that children helped to take it. Circulars were sent to every headmaster and mistress throughout the Kingdom with special hints and dummy census papers. These latter the elder children were taught to fill up in proper manner, special attention being directed to the "occupation" column.

Thus, if a child's father is a cab-driver, for example, the child was asked to impress upon his father the necessity of stating the exact kind of cab he drove—whether a "hansom," a hansom, or a four-wheeler. If the mother should happen to be a nurse—was she a trained and certified nurse, or an uncertified one, or merely an ordinary nurse to children?

Soldiers were enumerated by their own officers, except in the case of small garrisons of less than one hundred troops, when the ordinary enumerators did the work. This arrangement applies to India, and other stations abroad, as well as to the home stations.

British sailors in both the naval and the mercantile marine were enumerated by the captains of the ships in which they were serving.

The prisoners in jails were counted, the paupers and tramps in the workhouses, the lunatics and idiots in the various asylums, the dwellers in the common lodging-houses, even the human derelicts who were sleeping out-of-doors that night were, so far as possible, accounted for, scarcely one was missed.

When all is completed, it is expected that this year's census—which is the twelfth of Great Britain and the eleventh of the United Kingdom—will show the total population of the British Isles to be about 46,000,000, an increase of something like 5,000,000 in ten years.

MINE DISCOVERY

Vast Quantities of Rich Ore by Line of G. T. P.

It was learned at the G.T.P. offices, Winnipeg, that reports have been received from prospectors that vast quantities of rich minerals have been discovered along the main line of the company, which runs through the Yellow Head Pass on the western slope of the Rockies. Silver, iron and copper have been found about fifty miles beyond Tete Juan Ache, and it may be expected that great mining developments may take place in this district.

Peterborough Prices Higher.
Lindsay Post: The people of Lindsay are somewhat inclined to grumble at the high market prices which seem almost exhorbitant to some, but the following comparison with Saturday's market at Peterboro shows that local citizens are somewhat better off than the residents of that city. In Peterboro butter sold at 26c a pound, while here 22 and 23c was paid, eggs brought 20c a dozen in the city, while 18c was the price here; ducks sold at $1.25 per pair in Peterboro compared with $1 a pair here. Live hogs sold at $7.50 in Peterboro, while $7 was paid in town; hay was about the same in both places as were raspberries, while new potatoes brought 45c a peck in Peterboro.

A SPOON SHAKER.

Straight From Coffeedom.

Tea and coffee can marshal a good squadron of enemies and some very hard ones to overcome. A lady in Florida writes:—

"I have always been very fond of good coffee, and for years drank it at least three times a day. At last, however, I found that it was injuring me.

"I became bilious, subject to frequent and violent headaches, and so very nervous, that I could not lift a spoon to my mouth without spilling a part of its contents.

"My heart got 'rickety' and beat so fast and so hard that I could scarcely breathe, while my skin got thick and dingy, with yellow blotches on my face, caused by the condition of my liver and blood.

"I made up my mind that all these afflictions came from the coffee, and I determined to experiment and see.

"So I quit coffee and got a package of Postum which furnished my hot morning beverage. After a little time I was rewarded by a complete restoration of my health in every respect.

"I do not suffer from biliousness any more, my headaches have disappeared, my nerves are as steady as could be desired, my heart beats regularly and my complexion has cleared up beautifully—the blotches have been wiped out and it is such a pleasure to be well again." Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ontario.

Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a reason."

plated enlarging his manufacturing facilities, either by adding to his factory here or by starting a branch in Regina, where he had purchased property for factory or warehouse purposes. The Chairman of the Manufacturers Committee conferred with the firm several times, the result being that the Council agreed to fixing the assessment of the factory for ten years at $15,000 for municipal (not school) purposes, and the firm agreed to enlarge their building and plant here. The factory accordingly has been enlarged and the electors are asked to confirm the City's part of the arrangement.

The Lockworks By-law.

The Lock Works are assessed, including the building occupied by Mr. Rishor for his wholesale grocery, at $26,450. The Lock Company in view of their increasing the capacity of the factory, asked that the assessment be fixed at $25,000. A United States concern has been given concessions in St. Catharines, including tax exemption, and the request of the Lock Company here, which has to meet the competition of the western factory, is a moderate one. The Council passed the By-law and it is submitted to the electors for endorsation.

Should Receive Support.

These By-laws should be supported by the electors. Nothing should need to be urged to emphasize the advisability of procuring necessary parks and playgrounds now, and the other two By-laws are reasonable and moderate proposals that should commend themselves to the favorable opinion of the electors. The Council, after giving these matters their best consideration, have submitted the By-laws and recommend the electors to vote for them.

Both Countries Preparing for War?

BERLIN PRESS SHOW SIGNS OF INCREASING NERVOUSNESS—GERMAN FIELD-MARSHALL POSTPONES HIS TRIP.

FRANCE AND ENGLAND ARE STANDING SOLID

England's Withdrawal of the Norwegian Cruise and Germany's Attitude Seems to Point to a Very Strained Situation.

Berlin, July 26.—There are strong evidences in the German press of increasing nervousness with reference to the Moroccan situation.

Columns of despatches from various points record pessimistic rumors, while reports from London regarding the British attitude call forth sharp comment.

The semi-official cologne Gazette, in the leading article this morning, utters the warning; "The solution of the problem is very simple. France should withdraw her troops, leaving only the police, open the door to international trade, and give guarantees that Morocco will not be regarded as a French colony. Germany will then withdraw her warships from Agadir, after securing her economic interests in Sus.

"For Germany there is no compensation, no recompense elsewhere. The critical point in the negotiations is the compensation we demand for France's extension of power in North Africa, which will be felt in Europe. We consider it necessary to warn both sides against stone-throwing between two such sensitive nations as France and Germany when such a question is in dispute."

ENGLAND'S ILL-WILL.

The Tageblatt says: "Great Britain's method of publicity dictating her will to both negotiating powers, instead of exchanging ideas diplomatically, is no longer considered by Germany as justifiable. The maintenance of British interests is but proof of regrettable ill-will."

The Tageliche Rundschau says: "The situation has become grave. It is a question of Germany's independence and right of self-government, and we know that every growth and every movement in Germany finds an irreconcilable opponent in England. King Edward's policy of holding down Germany continues since his death. England is playing a dangerous game for the world's peace, for no people not desirous of succumbing can permit limitations to be dictated from a jealous neighbor.

FRANCE AND ENGLAND SOLID.

London, July 26.—The activity of the Foreign office to-day was again marked, the indications pointing to the near approach of a stage where the Moroccan crisis either will become acutely virulent or commence to dissolve. The composition of the group of ministers actively handling the situation, Premier Asquith, Sir Edward Grey, Secretary of Foreign Affairs, and Chancellor David Lloyd George, the latter representing the radical part of the Cabinet shows that the British Government is solid, while the fact that Sir Francis Bertie, the British Ambassador to France, and Paul Cambon, the French ambassador at London, have been called in to the conferences proves the continued solidarity of the Anglo-French entente.

King Alfonso, too, appeared on the scene to-day, having arrived at Portsmouth on the Spanish Royal yacht Giralda, and immediately came into London where he conferred with Sir Edward Grey.

King George is remaining in town and messengers pass frequently between Buckingham palace and the Foreign office.

Wednesday, August 9th.

The annual outing of the business men of the city will take place on Wednesday, August 9th, instead of two days later, as stated by The Times. The steamer Stoney Lake will leave the Wolfe street wharf at 1.30 p.m. sharp, calling at Street Railway wharf. Tickets may be obtained from members of the committee only.

A POPULAR PLATFORM

The following platform is one that should appeal to every patriotic citizen in Canada, regardless of race or creed:—

1. The entire separation of Church and State.

2. Opposition to any interference of the Dominion Government with the different provinces in educational affairs.

3. The resistance of any further special privileges to any section of the population of the Dominion either on account of race or religion and the elimination of any special privileges which they now possess except those included in the Confederation compact.

4. Opposition to any extension of lingual privileges beyond those conferred by the British North America Act.

5. The maintenance of British connection and the support of any movement which tends to make closer and more binding the relations between Canada, Newfoundland and the mother country.

6. A close supervision of all new settlers and the encouragement of suitable white emigration from the British Isles, the United States and northern Europe.

7. A federal marriage law recognising the validity of marriage performed by the qualified clergymen of every denomination or other persons vested by the law with that power; and the enactment of criminal penalties against persons using their influence to separate legally married couples by questioning the validity of marriages performed in accordance with the provisions of this law.

8. Government inspection of all religious, educational and charitable institutions and the inspection of the books of all institutions receiving aid from the public treasury.

TORONTO CARING FOR A PETERBOROUGH FAMILY

Toronto, July 26.—"It's not all weddings around the Police Court," remarked Jacob Cohen, J.P., this morning. "There are sad scenes too. We had one this morning. A poor woman with six children came to Toronto from Peterborough. Her husband had deserted her recently, and was living on the earnings of a fallen woman in Toronto. In Police Court he was sentenced to serve six months in the Central Prison for this. The wife heard of it and came here, though her husband was no good to her. Now we have all the family on our hands. The Salvation Army will help, and three of the older children will be accommodated for the present in the Children's Shelter. The Hebrew Benevolent Society will see that the woman is fed and clothed, but it seems tough that Toronto should have to care for Peterborough's poor in this way."

No Bones Were Broken in Trip Over the Falls, But He Was Severely Bruised.

Niagara Falls, N.Y., July 26.—Though badly battered in his barrel trip over the Horseshoe Falls yesterday afternoon, Bobby Leach of Niagara Falls, Ont., was suffering no serious effects from the thrilling adventure. No bones were broken. However, he will be confined to his bed for some days to come.

Asked this morning if he would again attempt to navigate the cataract, Leach said:

"Let me tell you once is enough for any man; no more for Bobby. It maybe, though, that I will some time try a parachute drop over the blooming big tumble."

Leach is through, too, with barrel trips through the whirlpool rapids, and the whirlpool, which he has navigated four times. His doctor said to-day that it would be at least a week before Leach would be able to get about, for his legs were badly hurt.

Nat Goodwin Can't Marry Again in New York.

New York, July 26.—Nat Goodwin is to-day to enter again in the matrimonial handicap, provided he makes his start outside of the boundaries of New York State. In the Supreme Court to-day Justice Bischoff signed the final decree, divorcing Nat and his fourth wife, the prepossessing Edna Goodrich. Under the court order Miss Goodrich may resume her maiden name, and marry again, but Nat is forbidden to remarry within the court's jurisdiction.

The decree does not mention alimony.

THE TREACHEROUS CANOE.

Erle Weller Was Drowned Through Canoe Upsetting.

An Edmonton Exchange has the following to say of the drowning of Erle Weller.

A drowning accident took place this afternoon at Lake Wabamum, forty miles west of here, whereby Erle Weller, aged 23, of this city, lost his life. He had gone to the lake to spend the week-end with W. C. Bradburn, of the Bradburn Stationery Co. and both had gone for a sale on the lake. The canoe upset and both clung to the bottom. Weller finally was exhausted and dropped off. Bradburn was rescued in an unconscious condition. The body has not yet been recovered. Weller is a native of Peterborough, and a son of the late Judge Weller. Bradburn is also a former Peterborough boy.

A Sulphur Island.

From the London Globe.

One of the most extraordinary islands in the world lies in the Bay of Plenty, New Zealand. It is called White Island, and consists mainly of sulphur mixed with gypsum, and a few other minerals. Over the island, which is about three miles in circumference, and arises between 800 and 900 feet above sea, there continually floats an immense cloud of vapor, attaining an elevation of 10,000 feet. In the centre is a boiling lake of acid charged water, covering 50 acres, and surrounded with blow holes, from which steam and sulphurous fumes are emitted with great force and noise. With care a boat can be navigated on the lake. The sulphur from White Island is very pure, but little effort has yet been made to procure it systematically.

PUBLIC OPINION

The Times does not hold itself responsible for opinions of its correspondents.

IS THIS TRUE?

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I am informed that the firm of B. F. Ackerman & Sons, send all their fire insurance to Toronto, instead of putting it through the local insurance offices. If this is true, which I very much doubt, it should be made known before Friday. I am one of those who believe in patronizing local business people, and would not care to encourage any man or concern who is not loyal to his own town.

Ratepayer.

Reply—The Times called Mr. Ackerman by phone with reference to the above and was informed that the firm's insurance was done through Mr. H. P. Lindsay, of this city.—Ed. Times.

THE PROPOSED BY-LAWS.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—It is to be regretted that citizens do not feel more responsibility in regard to exercising their franchise at the polls and so helping to determine what is best for the city and its inhabitants, including themselves. Let us have a large turn out of voters on Friday. As to the question before us I do not know enough of the merits of the two factory schemes, except that our council seems to expect us to support their action. Peterborough is a factory town and factories should receive all reasonable consideration and encouragement. But merely as one citizen, I beg to express the hope that voters will not rashly allow this proposed expenditure for new parks. If there is one thing with which we are well supplied in Peterborough, surely it is parks. This is the comment of every visitor, amazed at their extent, and surely it is not to be expected that these parks are to be brought to every man's door. As a matter of fact, we have two centrally situated and easy means of access to the others from all parts of the city. I have heard considerable surprise expressed that the council has allowed such a question to come forward at all. We see our tax-bills climbing up and feel difficulty of meeting them. There is going to be a great deal more difficulty before long if we don't put some check on the lavish expenditure of public funds. Here is an opportunity for expressing public sentiment on this important point. Are we not in danger of making Peterborough too expensive to live in? This is not a setting of one part of the city against another. The welfare of the whole city is concerned.

Observer.

MUST BE SETTLED.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—Judge Leet of Montreal declares in connection with the Hebert marriage case that while the marriage of two Catholics by a Protestant minister is invalid, this ruling has no application to mixed marriages.

"The courts," according to Judge Leet, "cannot endorse the No Temere contention with regard to the marriage of a Catholic to a Protestant. That is only a dogma of the Church which the law does not recognize and is not likely to recognize."

This bears out what has been the supposition of The Times and is satisfactory as to mixed marriages, so far as it goes. But no permanently satisfactory position will be reached until the whole condition is submitted to the highest possible court for a final decision.

Protestant.

JUVENILE SMOKERS.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I would like to call the attention of the authorities and public to the number of young lads who may be seen smoking in secluded spots of the city. Even on the public streets they are frequently seen—boys only in their teens many of them. There is a law against this sort of thing, I believe. Even if there is not, these youths should be dragged home to their parents and punished. Will Chief Thompson and his men kindly look into this matter.

A Mother.

IS THERE ANY REASON FOR COMPLAINT.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—Do you consider it fair that a man should be fined for his industry, provided, of course, that his industry is for the well being of the town? I shall illustrate what I have in mind by two examples of actual fact and would like to make an expression of opinion from you editorially and also from as many of your readers as may care to reply through your columns.

Our city assessors have made their rounds. They have done their work as per orders. Let us consider if these orders, or the work resulting from the orders, are fair.

Fined for Improvement.

A year ago a certain house and lot in this beautiful city of Peterborough was in a run down state and in need of repair. It changed hands and the new owner installed some improve-

FOREIGN CRISIS TAKES PLACE OF POLITICAL ONE

London, July 26.—Threatening foreign complications are to some extent drawing attention from the constitutional crisis, and a greater disposition was shown to-day by some of the last ditch fighters to close up the ranks in the face of what is regarded here as German aggressiveness.

There seems to be no doubt that King George and the Government have appealed to the leaders of the Opposition to do everything possible to avoid further internal disruption, so that the government may have the general support of all parties in dealing with the Moroccan tangle. Lord Rosebery, who advocates the passing of the Veto bill without forcing the creation of new barons, has a long conference with his Majesty to-day.

Rosebery and Viscount St. Aldwyn are steadily caucussing the stand-patters in the hope of effecting a peaceful adjustment of the political situation.

WHY WAS GERMAN BOAT IN SUCH GREAT HURRY?

Montreal, July 26.—There are many rumors afloat along the harbor front this morning regarding the sudden and unexpected departure of the German cruiser Bremen yesterday. Wild as some of these appear, they are apparently given credence by some prominent officials of the local lines. It was said this morning that, from all appearances, the little tiff over Lieutenant Von Sposetti's criticism of the Niobe, coupled with the crisis which exists at present between England and Germany, led the German Government to make haste to get the cruiser out of British waters. It is thought that it was feared that some further unpleasantness might arise over the Niobe incident, and might be exaggerated by the press so as to cause trouble.

It was learned this morning that the newspaper reports of Von Sposetti's criticism of Canada's warship were cabled practically verbatim to their home office by the German consulate here. The order for the Bremen to quit Montreal was the answer. It came as a surprise to all on board, as the German sailors expected to remain nearly two weeks longer, and an elaborate programme for their entertainment had been arranged by the city.

A MADMAN INJURED EIGHT

Chicago, July 26.—Armed with a rifle and carrying a letter addressed to President Taft and the local British consul, N. Lusane, 25 years old, believed to be a Hindu, ran amuck in the crowded streets of Chicago in the down town district late last evening. Eight men were wounded. He was arrested.

PRAYS FOR ENGLAND.

Pope Says Conversion of English Speaking Lands Dearest Hope.

From the Catholic Record.

Cardinal Merry del Val ordained as subdeacons six English clergymen who abjured Protestantism and entered the ecclesiastical nobles' academy here with the object of joining the Catholic priesthood. The ordination was held in the Pauline chapel in the Vatican.

The services were of great solemnity and were attended by all the students of the academy and many prelates.

After the ceremony Cardinal Merry del Val accompanied the converts to the papal apartments, where they were received in audience by Pius X. He welcomed them cordially and blessed them.

The Pope said it afforded him the greatest consolation that six Protestant clergymen should join the church as he was convinced that their example would be followed by other Anglicans in England and America.

Continuing, the Pope said that he prayed daily for the conversion of England, which constituted his fondest hope, as he believed that if this occurred it would lead to the conversion of all English speaking countries.

He closed by saying that the Protestants joined the Catholic Church spontaneously, thus showing that their conversion was wrought by Providence.

After the address, which deeply moved the converts, the Pope knelt and recited a prayer for the conversion of the English-speaking countries. He then asked the subdeacons to join him in repeating the same prayer every day of their lives.

MARRIED ON DEATH BED

Cincinnati, July 26.—The death-bed marriage of Archibald S. Muir, a former prominent Toronto Chemist, and Miss Bessie Yarndley took place in Ward F. of the City Hospital here late yesterday. Muir was brought to the hospital on June 17 last, suffering from cancer, which the hospital surgeons declared was necessarily of a fatal character. The marriage followed his divorce from Mrs. Mary Muir, his first wife, who came here from Toronto and caused his arrest on a charge of bigamy, claiming he had contracted marriage with Miss Yarndley, believing his wife at Toronto had secured a divorce.

After a bitter legal fight, resulting in the divorce and the settling of alimony proceedings, Muir was free to marry again.

Muir is a graduate with high honors of a leading Scotland university and went to Toronto some years ago.

THE WEATHER.

Fine and a little higher temperature.

RECIPROCITY PACT SIGNED

Washington, July 26.—President Taft affixed his signature to the Canadian Reciprocity agreement this afternoon.

THE NEW CANADIAN COINS

Ottawa, July 26.—The design for the new Canadian 10-cent and 50-cent pieces is announced to-day in the Canada Gazette. On the 50-cent piece, obverse side, will be the effigy of the King in his imperial robe and crown, and the inscription: "Georgius V., Rex Et Ind. Imp." The reverse side will bear the denomination date and wreath of maple leaves, and the crown. The 10-cent piece will be the same, save for the difference in denomination.

POPE HAD A RESTLESS NIGHT

Rome, July 26.—The Pope had a restless night, due to the fever experience, but this morning his throat was not so sore and the hoarseness had lessened. Addressing Mgr. Fisati, Major Domo of the Vatican, the Pontiff said that he hoped to be able soon to resume his audiences.

The Dog.

From the London Chronicle.

Handwriting experts, concerning whom some hard things were said by counsel in the Plymouth society libel case, occasionally have an unpleasant time in the witness box. A leading Irish barrister of days gone by once began his cross-examination of a hand-writing expert by asking, "Where is the dog?" When the witness asked, "What dog?" counsel replied, "The dog which the judge at the last assizes said he would not hang on your evidence."

Sciatica

EXPECTED DEATH ANY DAY.

Another Case Where Life Was Saved and Health Restored by "Nerviline."

We have all read and heard of the agonies of Sciatica, but only those who have been tortured by this dread malady can fully appreciate what it must mean to be cured after years of suffering.

It is because he feels it his solemn duty to tell to the world his faith in Nerviline that Victor P. Hires makes the following declaration: "For three years I was in the Royal Mail service and in all kinds of weather had to meet the night trains. Dampness, cold and exposure brought on sciatica that affected my left side. Sometimes an attack would come on that made me powerless to work. I was so nearly a complete cripple that I had to give up my job. I was in despair, completely cast down because the money I spent on trying to get well was wasted. I was speaking to my chemist one day, and he recommended "Nerviline." I had the good liniment rubbed on several times a day, and got relief. In order to build up my general health and improve my blood I CURED SIX YEARS. used Ferrozone, one tablet with each meal. I continued this treatment four months and was cured. I have used all kinds of liniments and can truthfully say that Nerviline is far stronger, more penetrating, and infinitely better than anything else for relieving pain. I urge everyone with lumbago, neuralgia, rheumatism or sciatica to use Nerviline. I know it will cure them."

There isn't a more highly-esteemed citizen in Westchester than Mr. Hires. What he says can be relied upon. For six years since being cured he hasn't had a single relapse. Don't accept anything from your dealer but "Nerviline." 25 cents per bottle or five for $1.00; sold everywhere, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

Cuts and bruises may be healed in about one-third the time required by the usual treatment by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. It is an antiseptic and causes such injuries to heal without maturation. This liniment also relieves soreness of the muscles and rheumatic pains. For sale by all dealers.

Valuable Tim.

Andrew Wilson, an attorney, was named as the administrator of an estate. It was his duty to find the lucky but missing brother. "He was slicing turnips for the sheep on his employer's farm, up among the mist-clad hills of Scotland," said Mr. Wilson, "when I found him I had traced his life from the old farm on which he was born, step by step through forty years of ill-paid and often most unpleasant labor before I approached him. It was not difficult, for he had held but a few positions in all those years Every one in the countryside knew him. 'Are you Alexander Stephenson?' I asked. 'I am,' said he, without taking his eyes from the turnips and the knife 'Your brother James is dead in New York,' said I. 'Aweel, aweel, all men must e'en die,' he said, slicing away. 'He left you a great fortune,' said I 'I want you to come to the house with me, so that I can establish your identity and arrange for you to enter into possession of the estate.' 'I'll talk to ye at sax o'clock, young mon,' said he. 'I'll be busy till then. Thay fortune will keep, but thay turnips will not.'"

Human Voice the Sweetest Music.

The sweetest music is not in the oratorio, but in the human voice when it speaks from its instant life, tones of tenderness, truth or courage. The oratorio has already lost its relation to the morning, to the sun, and the earth, but that persuading voice is in tune with these.

New York, July 25.—There was a stampede in Flatbush court when James Crawford, an orderly at Kings County Hospital, held for theft, announced that he had come from the cholera ward. It was cholera morbus.

His Wife's Tact.

"I'll give my wife credit for not causing me to be swamped by big hat bills of hers," declared the husband boastfully, in the presence of his wife's lady guests. "All the hat bills I get are small ones, which, however, come in very, very often, although I haven't observed a new bonnet on her since Easter."

"I'm so glad you're pleased," rejoined his wife, coming unexpectedly into the room. "The fact is, you're still paying for that last Easter bonnet, the bill for which the milliner is sending to you in installments."

The Eucalyptus of Australia.

While the eucalyptus, or Australian blue gum tree, destroys malaria and keeps off mosquitoes in marshy soil, it has no such effect on dry soil. The difference is ascribed by a German scientist to the fact that the tree is constructed to act as an evaporating machine, and only does its work in marshy land. A feature of the tree is its daptability to different climates, it being now grow in almost every civilised country where frosts do not occur.

Don't Talk Too Much.

When we are in the company of sensible men, we ought to be doubly cautious of talking too much, lest we lose two good things — their good opinion and our own improvement; for what we have to say we know, but what they have to say we know not.

New York, July 26.—Peter Paulson lived eleven days at St. Vincent hospital with a piece of gauze stuffed in his heart to stop the leakage of blood resulting from a stab wound. He was recovering when blood poisoning developed.

Dogs.

Dogs were formerly indigenous to the indigent, but, since the advent of dog licenses, whereby a dog, without a maid or a valet, is presumed to be guilty until it is proved innocent or shot, they have been grafted on family trees, with their own separate heraldry as substitutes for children, thereby furnishing considerable consolation for race suicide.

Dogs are divided into two great classes — pedigreed and verdigreed. Verdigreed are of two kinds — mad dogs and dogs. Pedigreed are of several kinds, chief among which are watch dogs and sheep-dogs. Watch-dogs are so called because they are small enough, and usually cranky enough, to be carried around in the place of watches by people who have plenty of time. Sheep-dogs are so called because they are led around by sheepish-looking people.

Those dogs are considered the handsomest by connoisseurs which look the ugliest to other people.

Challenge the Judge.

It was a case in an Irish court, and, the prisoner seeming hard to satisfy, juryman after juryman was asked to leave the box. However, all things come to an end, even in Ireland, and at last the swearing of the jury was completed. And then the prisoner leaned over the dock and sought the ear of his counsel.

"The jury's all right now, I think," he whispered; "but ye must challenge the judge. I've been convicted under him siviral times already, and maybe he's beginnin' to have a prejudice."

Sophistry of a Sophist.

A certain archbishop, when asked woman to misstate her age, replied: "A lie may be defined as a statement made by one rational being to another rational being, with the intent to deceive. Now, as no rational being would think of asking a woman her age with the expectation of being answered truthfully, one of the elements of the lie is lacking, and the woman's statement cannot, strictly speaking, be defined as such."

Australia has Tallest Tree.

Australia claims to have the tallest tree in the world. It has long been thought that to California belongs this distinction, but, while California trees are of gigantic dimensions, they do not come up to Australia's eucalyptus trees. The Californians are noted not so much for their height as for their girth and diameter. The tallest tree in California yet discovered was found by actual measurement to be 340ft high Australia's record gum tree can beat this by 140ft.

Not Gratifying.

Some one sent the manuscript of a story to a literary friend, with the request that he would criticise it. The friend returned it, with the following note:

"My dear Blank: Your book contains much that is both new and good; but what is new is not good, and what is good is not new."

It is wicked for us to go about with faces which indicate that life has been a disappointment to us instead of a glorious joy. It shows that we have missed the real object of living, that we have never caught a glimpse of the realities of life, but that we are living in the shadows, in the gloom instead of the sunshine of reality, of truth, of beauty. It indicates that we have not even caught a glimpse of the real glory of life.

Experiments Prove That Silage Has Great Advantage Over Roots as Economical Feed.

The Dominion Experimental Farm is showing its worth to farmers by its practical experiments and even more so than its recent trials in stock food.

In a series of experiments conducted for two years under the direction of J. H Grisdale, director of the Dominion Experimental Farm, it has been found that silage has a great advantage over roots as an economical sheep feed. Duplicating the experiment of the preceding year, twenty-seven lambs of uniform weight were divided into three groups of nine each and fed different rations, from which to form a basis of the experiment. No. 1 group was fed on clover hay, meal and turnips; lot No. 2 on clover hay, meal and silage, the latter replacing the turnips, and No. 3 group was fed on clover hay, meal, turnips and ensilage mixed.

WHY ARE THE LARGE INVESTORS ALL OVER CANADA AND THE UNITED STATES BUYING MONTREAL REAL ESTATE?

If Western land or speculative stocks were considered better,-- is it reasonable to suppose that these careful financiers whose knowledge of Canadian conditions is beyond a doubt-would buy Montreal Real Estate ?

To the men of good judgment,— these questions do not require an answer.

YOU KNOW Montreal is the largest City in the Dominion.

YOU KNOW that the population is increasing yearly at the rate of about 50,000.

YOU KNOW these people have to have homes.

Taking the above facts into consideration, what do you consider, looking in the most conservative way possible, ANGUS PARK LOTS will be worth in four years' time ?

Taking the past advances in MONTREAL REAL ESTATE as an example, these lots will be worth over a hundred per cent. (100 per cent.) more in that time.

We have a limited number of lots situated on ANGUS PARK BOULEVARD, which we can offer you at to-day's low prices, and on terms that will not cripple your finances, and by the time your lots are fully paid for you will have saved not only the cost of the land but the increase in value, thereby making your investment many hundred per cent. (100 per cent.) better than a Savings Bank account and much safer.

Do not delay till this opportunity has escaped you, but call in and see us, or drop us a line and we will send you full particulars together with our application forms. The prices range from $100 per lot upwards and the terms 10 per cent. cash, and the balance 10 per cent. every three months without interest.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

You cannot clean carpets, rugs and furniture by beating. If you think you have, just try a KING EDWARD VACUUM CLEANER and you will find the article full of dust, which breeds disease.
The KING EDWARD HAND MACHINE has no equal as compared with other hand machines. It is lighter to operate and its suction is much stronger. Its suction is stronger than many of the power machines, and the dusting is done away with. On account of the short stroke one person can operate it on carpets and rugs equally as well as two, and it is about half the weight of other hand machines to carry up and down stairs or from one room to another. It is sold for less money than any of the hand machines. All machines are guaranteed.

SERVANT PROBLEM.

It Has Been Solved in Berlin—Work For $8 a Month.

The eternal domestic servant problem seems to be nearing a solution in Berlin, and it is a very simple one—namely, the substitution of men for women.

Of recent years a vast increase in the immigration from the country to the city has taken place, with the result that a capable man servant can now be hired for from between $8 and $10 a month with board.

The Berlin hausfrau testifies that the new servant is infinitely superior to the old, besides leanding a social glory to the household, as hitherto men servants have been employed almost solely by the noble and aristocratic or very wealthy families. Experience shows that they can do and do as well or better all that the woman servant does—dusting, cleaning, brushing, attending at table, even cooking; in short, everything except washing and ironing, against which the manly soul revolts.

They are far more easily satisfied, far more obliging and far less capricious, and their sense of duty is illustrated by the fact that they will actually clean and put away the silver and china before they go to bed. They are a source of economy, too, for when in their charge china cups and saucers do not acquire the habit of automatically sliding off the salvor to the ground, or valuable vases and ornaments that of suddenly jumping from their places in the dead watches of the night and being smashed.

Nor does this exhaust the list of their superior qualities, for they rarely give notice in a fit of temper and more readily become attached to their employers. Still, no man is perfect, and the master where a man servant is employed must be prepared for a mysterious fading away of color in his whisky and a high rate of mortality among his cigars.

BALANCE THE WRONG WAY

United States Exports of Manufactures.

An examination of the trade statistics of the United States throws an interesting side light upon the country's present overtures for Reciprocity with us. For the nine months ending September, 1910, their exports of domestic merchandise of every kind were $1,193,321,512, of which $210,490,966 were manufactures for further use in manufacturing, and $401,634,694 were manufactures ready for consumption. The sum of these two, $612,625,660, accounts for 51 per cent. of all their exports put together. But this is not crediting the exports of manufactures with a class known as "foodstuffs, partly manufactured," which are valued at $180,159,193. If we regard this also as legitimately forming a part of the exports of manufactured goods, it means that of every thing the United States exported for the nine months ending September last, manufactured goods amounted to over 66 per cent.

GLADSTONE'S FAVORITE GRANDCHILD

"It is Vain for You to Rise Up Early."

The announcement of the engagement of Miss Dorothy Drew to Lieutenant Parish, one of Lord Gladstone's A.D.C.'s, recalls the fact that Miss Drew was the favorite grandchild and companion of the late Mr. W. E. Gladstone. She has been the subject of many pretty stories, one being to the effect that she once nonplussed the G.O.M. on a Biblical subject. The famous statesman was trying to induce her to get up earlier. "Why don't you get up, my child?" he asked. "Why, grandpa," rejoined Miss Dorothy, "didn't you tell me to do what the Bible says?" "Yes, certainly," said Mr Gladstone. The little girl then proudly opened her Bible at Psalm cxxvii. and read the second verse: "It is vain for you to rise up early."

RICARDO'S REPLY.

Professor Nichols, a famous physicist, during the recitation of a freshmen class in natural philosophy, observed a tall, lanky youth in the rear seat, his head in a recumbent position, his body in a languid pose, his eyes half closed, and his legs extended far out. He was either asleep or about to lose consciousness.

"Mr. Ricardo,' said the great scientist, "you may recite."

The freshman opened his eyes but did not change his somnolent pose.

"Mr. Ricardo, what is work?'

"Everything is work," was the drawling reply.

"What! Everything is work?"

"Yes, sir."

"Then I take it you would like the class to believe that this desk is work?"

"Yes, sir," replied the youth, wearily; "wood-work."

French Language Used in England.

Though we are in the twentieth century the Norman French of Edward the Confessor is still, in a way, the legal voice of Parliament. Whenever a Bill has passed the British Commons, the Clerk, before he forwards it to the House of Lords, writes upon it according to ancient usage: 'Soit baillé aux Seigneurs" (Let it be sent to the Lords). If it is sent from the Peers to the Commons, it bears the like endorsement: "Soit baille aux Communes" (Let it be sent to the Commons).

One Way.

"How did you get your husband out to that musicale last night?"

"Told him there was going to be a lunch afterward."

Wednesday, August 9th.

The annual outing of the business men of the city will take place on Wednesday, August 9th, instead of two days later, as stated by The Times. The Steamer Stoney Lake will leave the Wolfe street wharf at 1.30 p.m. sharp, calling at Street Railway wharf. Tickets may be obtained from members of the committee only.

Excursion From Oshawa.

A big excursion will arrive in town on Friday from Oshawa, on its way to Jubilee Point. The party will take the Steamer Stoney Lake immediately on their arrival here about 10 a.m.

Rang himself to Death.

Extraordinary circumstances attended the suicide of a church sexton at the Hungarian village of Koros-Bajany recently. The inhabitants were alarmed by the violent ringing of their church bell, and thought a fire must have broken out. As, however, none could be seen, some of them went to the belfry to discover the reason, and there found the body of the sexton dangling from the bell-rope, with which he had hanged himself.

The Sixth Sense?

It is frequently the case that we meet people who antagonize us the moment a glance or a handshake is exchanged, while our inner consciousness offers no explanation for that reasonless antipathy. On the other hand Fate brings us in contact with personalities which at once appeal to a sixth sense which is, indefinable, but which seems to comprehend more than the combined educated and trained sensibilities. What is that sixth sense?

A Record in Book Publishing.

The first (Canadian) edition of 5000 copies of Dr Stephen Leacock's latest book "Nonsense Novels" which was published on June 12th, by Publishers Press was completely sold out in the record time of three days, and a second edition is almost sold. John Lane, the great English publisher recently said that Canadians were the biggest buyers in the world of new books.

WHAT IS TRUTH?

Men will believe nothing what they cannot understand.

Truth comes to us only by glimpses. There are some who refuse to receive a partial truth, who insist upon having a clear idea of the whole, or at least upon persuading themselves that they have it, before they yield assent to anything. They will believe nothing which they cannot understand, they say, forgetting that, although we may both believe and understand many things to be true, it is only by occasional glimpses that we can ever discover how they came to be so. For instance, we all believe the wonders of the natural world, the existence and motions of the planets and starts, the changes in the earth's surface, the marvellous growth in the vegetable world, and the still more wonderful development of the animal creation — of conscious life and human intelligence. In believing these things we understand that they are so; but how they came to be so, how they perform their several functions, what are the laws which uphold them and the forces they obey — these things we do not understand, except as study or thought, or participation in another's thought, give us glimpses of the truth.

An Immaculate Servant.

He was an immaculate servant. To watch him serve a salad was to watch an artist at work. To hear his subdued accents was a lesson in the art of voice-production. He never slipped, he never smiled, and his mutton-chop whiskers marked him as one of the old and faithful stock. But one evening, to the surpise of his master, he showed unaccountable signs of nervousness. When the chicken came on he confused it with the pheasant. He served everything in the wrong order, made blunder after blunder, and put a final touch to his shame by upsetting salt over the only superstitious member of the party. Then, at last, when the ladies had retired to the drawing-room, he touched his master on the shoulder. "I beg your pardon, sir," he said in a respectful undertone, "but could you manage to spare me now? My house is on fire."

Couldn't Get the Scotchman.

There was an aged Scotchman who by native shrewdness made a fortune, and he did it without the slightest bit of education. One day he and an acquaintance were talking when the latter said to old Duncan: "Say, Duncan, you don't know nough to go in when it rains. Why you can't even spell bird." "B-u-r-d," said Duncan. "I tell you you dont know anything. Why, if you had to spell to make a living you'd have been dead years ago. I'll bet you a hundred you can't spell bird." "I'll tak' ye," quickly replied Duncan. After the money was put up Duncan said "B-i-r-d." "That ain't the way you spelled it the first time." "I wasna bettin' then."

Neglecting His Business.

A country doctor was recently called upon to visit a patient some distance away. Driving to where the invalid tied his horse to a tree and started to walk across the field. It happened that work was in progress on a new well, of which the doctor knew nothing until he found himself sinking into the earth. He fell just far enough to be unable to get out of the hole unassisted, and instily yelled for help. When he was finally pulled up, the hired man remarked to him:—

"I say, doc, you had no business down there."

"No, I don't think I had," replied the doctor.

"Don't you know," continued the hired man, "you ought to leave the well alone and take care of the sick?"

Not Worth Stopping For.

A party of four gentlemen were driving a motor-car along the road leading from Kilkenny to Cloanel. Seeing a fine stretch of level road in front the car was put at full speed, and they raced along for nearly four miles.

Presently speed was slackened, and the driver turned round to see how his two friends at the back had enjoyed the run. A look of scared astonishment overspread his countenance when he found that only one gentleman was seated there.

"Where's Jack?" he gasped, stopping the car.

"Jack?" replied the other, carelessly. "He blew off at the first milestone."

Fathers Work Too Long.

It is a mistake for fathers to toil all their lives in order that their children may escape toil all theirs. Suppose the calculation correct, and permanent idleness secured for the next generation, what evidence is there that the boys and girls will be happier and better for it? The boys will be exposed to the devices of "sharks," and the girls to those of fortune hunters. Leave something for them also to do.

Men Like Stagnant Ponds.

The great ocean is in a constant state of evaporation. It gives back what it receives, and sends up its waters in mists to gather into clouds; and so there is rain on the field and storm on the mountains, and greenness and beauty everywhere. But there are many men who do not believe in evaporation. They get all they can and keep all they get, and so are not fertilisers, but only stagnant miasmatic ponds.

A Heavy Smoke

The editor of a certain periodical was rash enough to remove a few lines from a poem which he had accepted, whereupon the author wrote him a letter which wound up thus—"And now, O slaughterer, vivisector, mangler, maimer, destroyer, disfigurer, deformer, defacer, crippler, mutilator, good-bye! Put this in your pipe and smoke it!"

A Sufferer of Twenty Years Comes Forward With a Real Cure.

"I can't remember any time during the past 20 years when my head wasn't aching. If I bent over, dark specks would come before my eyes, and it seemed as if all the blood in my body wanted to rush to the head." Thus opens the letter of Mrs. Enoch S. Spry, of Putnam P. O., and continuing her interesting statement she says: "Work or exertion made my heart beat terrible, and going up stairs caused such shortness of breath that it fairly frightened me. My doctor told me that it was poisons in the blood and if that was the cause Dr. Hamilton's Pills are the greatest blood renewer on earth. I tell you how I feel to-day and you can understand what a great cure Dr. Hamilton's Pills have made. I feel strong enough now to work like a man, as for going upstairs on the run, it doesn't bother me at all. I eat and sleep as any well person ought, and as for dizziness which used to frighten me so much, it has entirely disappeared. Dr. Hamilton's Pills are a wonderful woman's medicine. They helped me in other ways too, and I know every woman that uses them will have comfort and good health." Refuse anything offered you instead of Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Buttermut 25c. per box. All dealers or The Catarrhozone Coy., Kingston, Ontario.

THE BY-LAWS.

To-morrow the ratepayers will be called upon to vote for or against by-laws providing for a fixed assessment for a period of years on the Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company and B. F. Ackerman, Son & Co., as well as a by-law to provide $24,000 for public parks. Regarding the fixed assessment by-laws, there is a strong feeling that the city is committed to this, and no doubt many will view the matter from this standpoint, and vote accordingly. There is, however, we regret to say, also a strong feeling against fixed assessments, no matter for what purpose, and it will, we think, be difficult to carry these by-laws in the face of this sentiment, which we believe is more prevalent than generally supposed. If the by-laws are to pass some hustling must be done in order to get the vote out.

In regard to the proposal to spend $24,000 in securing new parks, this by-law will, we believe, go down to defeat, unless a strenuous effort is made to carry it. There is no doubt if additional parks are to be secured, it will be wise to do so now, while good sites are available. Land that can be had to-day for a certain figure may be worth much more in a year or two hence. The ratepayers should and no doubt will, carefully consider all the points, pro and con, and will exercise their best judgment not only in regard to the purchase of parks, but also with respect to the encouragement of our own two local industries, which are a most creditable asset to the development of industrial Peterborough.

THE PLACE FOR THE BRITISH IMMIGRANT.

Premier Whitney, interviewed on his return home, expressed the opinion that Ontario is going to get a splendid share of British immigration, and declared that he looks forward to the speedy filling of Northern Ontario with an agricultural population, says the Weekly Sun.

These two statements taken together justify the inference that the Premier is looking to immigrants from Great Britain as the material with which pioneer work is to be carried on in the northern territory. There will be some woeful experiences for the newcomers, and a serious setback for the Province, if attempt is made to carry out any such scheme. Men wholly unaccustomed to life in the bush, unable even to handle an axe, will starve before their land is cleared.

The men for Northern Ontario are the young men of Old Ontario, who are more or less familiar with the conditions to be faced there. There is a place for the British tenant farmer, or farm laborer in Ontario; but that place is in the older parts of the Province, where conditions approaching those left behind can be found. Men from the old country who have money, or are capable of earning it, can obtain improved farms in the settled sections of the Province on a good deal easier terms than they can create the same out of the wilderness. Moreover, it is not so much the clearing of more land that is called for as the full development of land already cleared. The agricultural population of old Ontario could be easily doubled without crowding, and more of profit will be found in doubling the production of farms already under partial cultivation than in adding to the area cleared.

The place for the British immigrant is south of the northern lakes.

SOBERED BY OFFICE.

One of the most remarkable rises in public esteem which it has ever fallen to the lot of man to achieve is that of Lloyd-George, says the Ottawa Journal. Ten short years ago he was one of the most cordially hated men in all England. That was during the South-African war, when, as is well known, he was frequently mobbed for his pro-Boer sympathies and utterances.

But so far is Lloyd-George from being under any eclipse, that no statesman in all Europe is attracting so much attention. His drastic land reforms, his original methods of conducting the national exchequer, and most of all his sweeping social schemes, such as old age pensions, and sick and disability insurance have in the onward march of the common people.

His recent serious utterance on the noble destiny of the British Empire, in which was embedded an implied warning to Germany, would seem to show that his mind has broadened since he was called to the Cabinet, or else he has been the most thoroughly misunderstood man in England. Stranger things than that has happened. Indeed one of the most satisfactory features of the frequent changes of Government which are inherent to the party system as at present constituted is just this sobering sense of responsibility which keeps even the veriest radical from lightly tampering with the sacred ark of a nation's spirit and constitution.

LATEST FROM APSLEY

The leaders of the Conservative party are busy hunting up delegates for the convention to be held in Norwood July 27th. Wonder if they will be more united than the Liberals were Jun 27th, doubtful.

Two of our local fishermen had quite an exciting time a few days ago while fishing. They had gone out in a launch and the weather being rather stormy thought it advisable to take in tow a small skiff as a life boat in case of accident. They put their extra dunnage in the skiff to make room in the launch for the fish they were going to catch. The rope by which it was attached to the launch was rather short for the heavy sea with the appalling result that the skiff turned turtle and the contents went to the bottom. It is not reported whether all the bait was in the skiff or not, but judging from the small number of fish brought home it is likely the bait was lost, as they did mention that lake water was poor drinking. Don't take any chances, keep the bait right with you next time boys.

Dickson Davidson of the P. L. Co., was up last week visiting their camp north of Apsley and reports a good cut for the summer. Something like 18,000 pieces so far and they purpose putting in another camp later on.

In your issue lately was an item referring to a copper mine 8 miles north of Apsley. It should have been 8 miles east on the Wellington road. There are options on a number of mines in this locality, but nothing will be done in the way of developing until the reciprocity question is settled.

The Hall of Wisdom having changed hands it was thought at one time the Club would have to give up their charter and go out of business, but at that most critical time Anvil Jim came to the rescue and kindly offered a part of his factory to be used as a hall. The offer was gratefully accepted and a vote of thanks was tendered Jim and presented to him on a fire shovel and in the future the coat of arms shall be three horse shoes placed over the entrance. A neat and substantial chair minus the back, two very handsome stools with seats artistically painted red and one long bench with several nail boxes for the unwashed were also included in the gift. Thanks Jim. At the next regular meeting Ned and Pill Box will be duly initiated in the 1st, 2nd and 3rd degrees if they can live through the ceremony. It was moved and seconded that no more fines be imposed on members breaking the rules of the order, but instead, any member so offending should make a contribution in proportion to the offence. The first to get into trouble was Anvil Jim, who told a fish story, and it proved on investigation, to be true. So he forthwith handed over to Simon, the treasurer, six cents and half a plug of Stag tobacco. The money was placed in cold storage and after sampling the tobacco, passed it around to the boys. Uncle Billy and Jumbo went out together to get some fresh water, not returning on time Constable Duncan went in search and found them at Bens eating ice cream. They had swiped the 6c. Meeting adjourned in some confusion.

The Ladies' Aid intend holding a bazaar on Tuesday, August 1st, in the Town Hall, when the autograph quilt together with many smaller fancy articles which the ladies have been making the last month or two, will be sold by auction. Sports of various kinds in the grounds in the afternoon. Sale, tea and concert in the evening. Proceeds for the benefit of the Presbyterian and Methodist Church.

Miss Millie McIlvena and her cousin Miss Windsor, were visiting the latter's sister, Mrs. Harrison, Peterborough, last week.

Mr. Alex. and Miss Ida Trotter were the guests of the Misses McIlvena Sunday.

Simon's store house is nearing completion and will add to the appearance of Main street. D. Brown has commenced building an addition to his store, and keeping up to the times. Who's next?

Seven more private phones have been installed on the Clanricarde and Bullied extension and one in South Burleigh. Six more will be put in soon on the Purdy and east road extension, which will make on the Apsley Co's. line 31 private and four public phones. Applications are coming in for more lines and phones. It should be understood by owners of private phones that when the line is in use between two parties no other should remove their receiver from the hook as it interrupts the conversation. Each should know their own number and only go to their phone when called. It would save trouble.

Cuba's Grape Fruit Garden of Wealth

Will provide you with an income that will make you independent for life.

Begin right now---do something for yourself. Provide for a time when your earning capacity will be reduced to a minimum. You can make a start by purchasing one or two shares.

Our booklet beautifully illustrated, tells the story--contains interesting facts regarding the Grape Fruit Industry.

The figures are startling but true

When three years old grape-fruit trees begin to bear, the crop continues to increase until the seventh year when the average amounts to between seven and twenty boxes of fruit. Grape-Fruit is usually sold on the trees at a price ranging not less than $1.00 per box. On the Manhattan Estates we will have a grove of over 40,000 trees, and our yearly crop, once maturity is reached, should average 280,000 crates annually. Between the trees we intend cultivating tobacco and pineapples from which a substantial profit will be realised within one year from the time of planting. The British-owned Western Railways run through the Estates, insuring splendid shipping facilities. The officers and directors of this company have implicit faith in this enterprise, and have agreed that no one shall receive one cent of salary until after 25 per cent. dividends have been earned and declared. They are quite willing to wait for their dividends, knowing that their investments will amply repay them.

One Hundred Dollars is enough to insure ease and comfort. Why not inqure today about our special offer.

AN INVESTMENT NOT A SPECULATION

What everybody with an ounce of common sense is on the alert for these days is a sound INVESTMENT and there is as much difference between an investment and a speculation as there is between London and Hong-Kong, although we all don't realize this.

• • • •

Consequently when one takes a chance on a speculative proposition, mistaking it as an investment and comes out of the small end of the horn, he becomes pessimistic and with the tightening of his purse strings to extremes to keep the pennies in just naturally shuts the dollars out.

• • • •

Now then if there were no investors there would be no progress, and with no progress the community would mighty soon become stagnant.

• • • •

The foundation of America, was old Christopher Columbus, he had an idea but was short on ready cash, in other words he was what us modern day folks call a promoter. His idea was feasible, he found co-operation, his plans carried and YOU KNOW THE REST.

• • • •

Like Columbus we are all Pioneers. Not out for our health, but to make money. No man ever saved more than a competence on a salary; few do that. To get a footing on "Easy Street" you have to invest. DOLLARS don't grow in your pockets or in a stocking. They must be put to work. Old Russell Sage said:

"Plant a few in a new country and see how fast they grow."

That's what we are trying to impress on you now and here is the biggest opportunity of this kind that is likely to knock at your door.

• • • •

We are the Pioneers of the fruit and vegetable canning enterprise in the Okanagan Valley and earnestly invite you to co-operate with us.

• • • •

Men at the head of affairs of this corporation are the best known and most highly esteemed gentlemen in British Columbia.

• • • •

Mr. Albert McKillop, our President, has a world wide reputation in the Timber and Timber Land World. (See R. G. Dunn).

• • • •

Mr. Wesley A. Blair, our Secretary and Treasurer, is also Cashier of the Canadian Customs, being the Government's most trusted employee. He handles on an average of $30,000.00 every commercial day of the year, and it was his fertile mind that first saw the possibilities of Canneries on the Coast, in-as-much as tens of thousands of dollars duty pass through his hands for American goods yearly. Bear in mind that there is a 2½c per pound duty on all canned stuff and RECIPROCITY or no RECIPROCITY that will stand.

• • • •

Remember we belong to no combine, have no opposition, and are pioneers in this field.

• • • •

Just think of it, The Dominion Fruit Canners cleared $400,000 last year, approximately 51 per cent. What's going to prevent the Okanagan Canners Ltd., from doing the same.

• • • •

It's a matter of record that the Kelowna district—site of our Cannery—proved positively at all the recent fruit shows that the Okanagan valley is the greatest fruit producing country in the world.

• • • •

Now, then, be up and thinking.

• • • •

We are incorporated for only $100,000.

• • • •

We are only going to let 60,000 shares out of our treasury.

• • • •

Not one of our shares has gone for promotion purposes, every share being represented by its equivalent.

• • • •

We have no salaried officials, in fact no leakages of any kind.

• • • •

A Premium of 25 per cent. will be put on this stock as soon as our cannery at Kelowna is completed, which will be at an early date, as we will handle this year's crop.

• • • •

You undoubtedly have stood silently aside and seen other opportunities vanish that your neighbor has grasped and is now realizing handsomely on and term him lucky.

• • • •

It's not luck, but JUDGMENT when opportunities like this present themselves and one takes advantage of them.

• • • •

Our land is bought and paid for, and we hold a receipt in full for our wharf for Cannery No. 1, which is completed at Kelowna.

• • • •

Although capitalized at $100,000, divided into 100,000 shares at one dollar each, we are going to offer for public subscription but 60,000 shares, and the remainder will positively stay in the treasury.

• • • •

This is a gilt-edge bona fide, conservative investment and it is not reasonable to believe will be on the market long, consequently act NOW before it is too late.

• • • •

Terms of purchasing securities are one dollar per share; 25 per cent. cash, balance, two, four and six months without interest.

THE POWER OF SYMPATHY.

Mothers Too Often Form a Habit of Constant Reproof.

Although conscious of the power of sympathy, many loving but overtired mothers not only forget to show affection but form a habit of constant reproof. Naturally enough, the children, unless exceptionally callous to their surroundings, become sullen and resentful. How can they realize that the nagging is an expression of anxious affection?

When Johnny comes rushing into the house full of enthusiasm over some new play or new idea, and eager to tell his plans, such a mother exclaims, "How many times have I told you to wipe your feet before you enter the door?" The greetings kills his enthusiasm, and, hurt and wounded, he draws back into himself, and will not again expose himself to such a snub. He confides in her less and less as he grows older, and she wonders way.

There is sound psychology in the statement that if you believe a man is honest he will be honest; that if you trust a young man he will prove trustworthy; that if you praise a child he will deserve praise. Benjamin West's mother kissed her boy when he showed his drawings to her; and the boy, when grown to manhood, said that her kiss made a painter of him

A RAVENOUS INDUSTRY.

How the Paper Makers Are Destroying the Forests of the United States.

The forests of the United States now cover 550,000,000 acres, or about one-fourth of the area of the country. Forests publicly owned contain one-fifth of all timber standing. The timber privately owned is not only four times that publicly owned but it is generally more valuable.

Forestry is not practised on 70 per cent. of the forests publicly owned and on less than 1 per cent. of the forests privately owned, or on only 18 per cent. of the total area of the forests.

The original forests of the United States contained timber in quantity and variety far beyond that upon any other area of similar size in the world. They covered 850,000,000 acres, with a stand of not less than 5,200,000,000,000 board feet of merchantable timber, according to present standards of use. There were five great forest regions—the northern, the southern, the central, the Rocky Mountain and the Pacific.

The present rate of cutting is three times the annual growth of the forests of the United States. The great pineries of the Lake States are nearing exhaustion and great inroads have been made upon the supply of valuable timber throughout all parts of the country.

The heavy demands for timber have been rapidly pushing the great centres of lumber industry towards the South and West. In consequence, the State of Washington has led for several years in lumber production, followed in order by Louisiana, Texas, Mississippi, Wisconsin and Arkansas. In 1909 the production of yellow pine lumber amounted to eleven and one-quarter billion feet; the Douglas fir of the Northwest held second place, with three and two-thirds billion feet; while white pine came third, with three and one-third billion feet.

The annual cut from the forests, including waste in logging and in manufacture, is 20,000,000,000 cubic feet of wood.

There is used in a normal year 90,000,000 cords of fire wood, 40,000,000,000 board feet of lumber, 118,000,000 hewn ties, 1,500,000,000 staves, over 133,000,000 sets of heading, nearly 500,000,000 barrel hoops, 3,000,000 cords of native pulp wood, 165,000,000 cubic feet of round mine timbers and 1,250,000 cords of wood for distillation.

In 1909 4,002,000 cords of wood were used in the manufacture of paper, of which 794,000 cords were imported from Canada. The demand for pulp wood is making a severe drain on the spruce forests, which furnish the principle supply. The Forest Service of the United States Department of Agriculture is conducting investigations to determine what other woods, such as scrub pine, white fir, tupelo and the like, can be successfully used.

A larger drain upon forest resources is made by the demand for railroad ties, of which 123,754,000, equivalent to three and three-quarters billion board feet, were used in 1908. White oak, hitherto the chief source of supply, is not plentiful enough to meet this demand indefinitely, and in many parts of the country the supply of chestnut, cedar and cypress is dwindling; however, seasoning and treating methods are being found, largely through the work of the Forest Service, by which cheaper and more plentiful woods, such as lodgepole pine in the Northwest and loblolly pine in the South, are made fit for use as ties. Timber to the amount of two and one-half billions feet was used in 1907 for mine timbers. A great saving has been effected in the naval stores industry, also largely through the work of the Forest Service, by the introduction of the so-called "cup" system of turpentining in place of the old destructive system of "boxing." The new systems insure a larger product of better quality and prolong the life of the longleaf pine forests upon which the industry depends.

Railroad Ticket Printed While You Wait.

The Lancashire and Yorkshire Railway Company have installed a remarkable automatic machine at Sandhille Station, Liverpool, by which, on dropping a penny in a slot, a ticket is printed, dated and cut. The machine is worked electrically, the power being supplied from the live rail. When the supply of cardboard is running short, the clerks in the office are warned by the ringing of a bell.

POWDER PAPER BOOKS.

A book of powder paper is always a luxury in travelling, and one of these books, which costs but a quarter encased in a dainty lined cover or a cover of ribbon or silk, will immediately find its place among the toilet articles in the dressing bag.

Still another convenience for the traveller is a collection of small chamois lined silk or linen bags, in which to keep when not in use the coin of different countries. A tourist in these days of rapid locomotion will often cross the borders of three or four countries where different money will be needed in each place. The name of the coin should be marked on each bag, as, for example, French, German, Italian, and so on. Instead of the bags a collection of five or six tiny leather purses will make a welcome gift, but these purses should all be stamped or burned with the names of the various countries which the tourist is to visit.

Mark Twain said:

"A beautiful sunset made Berenger a poet; a mother's kiss made Benjamin West an artist, and fifteen dollars a week makes us a journalist."

Risky to Marry Money.

Apropos of a beautiful young wife, worth $40,000,000, who had just divorced her penniless husband in order to marry again, Henry E. Dixey, the comedian, said at a dinner:

"The young man who marries for money has none too easy a time of it. His rich wife is likely to tire of him and throw him out in a few years, or else she is likely to limit his allowance to 25 or 50 cents a day.

"'I married money,' a man once said to me.

"'Wasn't there a woman attached to it?' I asked.

"'Yes, you bet there was,' he exploded. 'So much attached to it that she never parted with a penny.'"

An Insect Gunner.

Many insects have some means of defense from their natural enemies, none of which is more curious than that of a small beetle, which, when closely pursued, discharges a puff of poisonous vapor with a distinct detonation. Undoubtedly in many instances this aids the diminutive gunner in his escape, mainly, in all probability, by startling his pursuer and causing him to abandon the chase. From this peculiar acquirement, this little fellow is known as the bombardier beetle

BUY
ROYAL PORCUPINE
Quoted at 32 to 33 Cents

The stock of the Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co., we believe, will prove to be one of the greatest money makers in the wonderful Porcupine district.

Every day brings forth further evidence that the Porcupine Camp is destined to become the richest gold region in the world, and Royal Porcupine should soon take its place at the head of the great producing mines in this section.

Porcupine has the indorsement of the world's greatest authorities in gold mining, who concur in the opinion that never before have such rich showings been seen covering so great an area.

The Property

is located in the township of Tisdale and consists of eight full claims, embracing 320 acres. It is particularly well located, being only one-quarter mile south of the Porcupine Gold Mines, Ltd., and one-half mile south of the Hollinger mine, for which it is claimed there is $10,000,000 in sight. Engineers report that the Royal Porcupine property is in the famous ore zone, being on the same ledge as Hollinger and having the same formation.

A telegram from the engineer in charge of the property bears out this statement. It is as follows:—

"Porcupine, Ont., June 19, 1911.

"Vein uncovered twelve feet in width. Excellent ore body. Shaft being sunk on this vein. Property in every way most favorable.

(Signed) "JULIUS MESSER, M. E.,
"Engineer in charge of property."

Thirty men are now employed, and work on the shaft will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Four veins, varying from 12 to 100 feet in width, have already been uncovered. Assays have been made which show $50 a ton.

Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co.

is capitalized for $3,000,000; par value of shares $1.00. Full paid and non-assessable. No personal liability.

A glance at the list of directors will show the class of men who are putting in their money and time to make this one of the greatest mines in the Porcupine Camp. The directors are:—

JAMES KENDRY,
Peterboro, Ontario; Member of Parliament, President Auburn Woollen Mills.

T. E. BRADBURN,
Member Parliament, Peterboro, Ontario; Private Banker.

ARCHIBALD L. ALLAN,
New York, Hiram Walker & Sons.

JACOB RAPOPORT,
New York, Jacob Rapoport & Co., Merchants.

HAMILTON KILGOUR,

WARREN N. AKERS,

Remember, that our judgment on Hollinger, Dome Extension and Vipond was correct, and we believe the Royal Porcupine will prove one of our best investments.

The Hollinger stock was originally offered at $3.50 and now sells at round $15.50, and Dome Extension was first offered at 40c., and now sells at around 84c.

Royal Porcupine stock may be purchased through any member of the New York Curb Association, or we will be glad to execute your orders.

WHY GO TO ALASKA TO INVEST IN OIL?

During the past month we have beenpresenting to the readers of The Morning Times, and the public in general, an offer which for SAFETY and CERTAINTY OF RESULTS in the form of DIVIDENDS and ENORMOUS PROFITS is well nigh UNPRECEDENTED.

In Southwest Colorado, in Mountezuma County, near Mancos, nature has placed RICH OIL FIELDS which promise to be the cause of the MOST STUPENDOUS BOOM COLORADO HAS HAD SINCE THE EARLY GOLD DAYS.

We own and control 8,500 acres of land in this section which experts assure us are positively gusher producing properties,

We have bought and paid for all the machinery necessary for drilling. We do not owe one cent. If you invest with us you have behind your investment not only enormous land values but machinery the value of which is fully $8,000.

For the ordinary investor this would be security enough but we have made the safest investment proposition that ever was offered, for, besides these rich Mancos Oil Fields we also own 2,560 acres in the proven oil field of San Juan, Utah; also 1,920 acres in the Great Montezuma District of Colorado, and fifty acres of rich mining ground in the La Plata District, for which we have been offered Ten Thousand Dollars spot cash.

Investments in the stock of our Company participate in the profits of all these properties. The Mancos Oil and Development Company promises to and will give the public a "square deal." Every acre of oil land and mining property which it owns or will acquire belongs to its stockholders.

MR. BURT H. MASON, the president and organizer of the Company, is a mining engineer of enviable reputation the officers of the Company are well-known business men and bankers of Southwestern Colorado. If any misrepresentation has been made we guarantee to return every dollar you pay us and all expenses to which you may have been put for investigation.

The price of stock is Twenty-five Cents a share, which can be paid on monthly installments if desired. If further information be desired it will be cheerfully given.

QUEEN CHARLOTTE

The Capital City of the Islands

THE LAST WEST

The only town on Graham Island that has a monthly pay roll, and the only sawmill shipping lumber to foreign ports.

The only town having a railway gazetted to its very doors on the island.

The only city on Graham Island having electric light, city water, miles of sidewalks, churches, school, hospital, postoffice, first-class drug store billiard hall, city hall, hotels, boarding house, barber shop and other general stores, and the only newspaper published on the Island, the Queen Charlotte News.

We are positively the centre of all the vast wealth of the entire Islands, including farm lands, timber lands, coal and metalliferous mines. These products must come out at Queen Charlotte City, through the Honna River Valley, and through which the Island Railway must run according to charters already granted.

The combined townsite interests cover one thousand acres, of which five hundred are practically level alluvial soil with no rocks.

A fine water power from the Honna River, good drainage and the best harbor on the entire Islands.

Our lots are all 50 feet by 120 feet, ranging in price from $150 to $300; one-third cash, balance on time at 6 per cent., or deeds can be had at once if desired.

Fully 200,000 acres of farm lands, suitable for mixed farming, only await the hand of man, a large portion of which is already located.

The verdure clad mountains are vast treasure vaults of gold, copper, silver and other precious metals, while our valleys are underlaid with a wealth of the finest coal and covered with a vast forest of spruce, hemlock and yellow cedar. These, coupled with our fisheries, are at the very doors and within sight of Queen Charlotte City.

Taking all these facts into consideration, and with the present progress being made in developing our resources, which are at the gateways of transportation both by water and railway, with the advent of the completion of the Grand Trunk Railroad, Queen Charlotte City is destined to be one of the province's most prosperous cities.

It is owned largely by the wealthiest and most honorable men of our province, who would not be a party in misrepresenting facts and are prepared to endorse every statement herein made.

The townsite company are now offering a further 75 lots on Second avenue at a very low price and on easy terms, if taken at once, and under conditions that will make you a 100 per cent. on your investment in 90 days, for 20 per cent. of the gross proceeds will be used by letting a contract for the clearing and grading of Second avenue from Third street west. The company guarantees to advance the remaining 75 unsold lots on Second avenue from $150 to $225 as soon as the first 75 have been sold. The company is making this effort in order to join with the government in making Second avenue the trunk road through the townsite from the Wilson-Robinson coal fields, Honna River Valley, Lawn Hill and Miller Creek districts. Now you can secure any unsold lot on Second avenue, including fourteen in Keith's addition, to-day for $150, except corners, on easy terms, 1-4 cash, balance 6, 12 and 18 months at 6 per cent. This will positively be your last chance for a cheap lot in Queen Charlotte City, for every lot in the townsite will surely go from $500 to $1000 when the public realize that in the Island River railroad from Queen Charlotte to the head of Masset Inlet is to be started this summer, in addition to the present work already outlined, thus giving work to an army of men. There are at least 5000 citizens of Vancouver who have invested in the various resources of the islands. Conclusive evidence of these facts, a landscape drawing of the townsite and a portion of Graham Island coupled with an illustrated edition of the resources of the islands can be seen at the office of J. J. Miller, 82 Hastings street, Vancouver, B. C., Agent for Vancouver, and plans at office of "Times", Peterboro'.

TEMPER.

"I know I have a temper," I heard a girl say the other day; "but, at any rate, I'm not sulky." And from the tone in which she said it, one would have thought that a temper was something to be proud of, so long as it wasn't a sulky one.

As temper ages people, and leaves more lines on the face than almost any other thing, it isn't very wise to indulge in it at all. And there is another side of the picture, too. The people we live with have to be considered to some extent, and if we could only realize all the pain we give those near and dear to us when we indulge in fits of temper, we should surely try to get out of this bad habit. Life is too short to spend in wounding people unnecessarily, so the sooner we give up doing it, the better.

ABOUT COREA.

Corea is the land of queer customs. One is that the children in school use sand boxes instead of slates. They use the difficult Chinese characters and have to learn them as early in life as we do the alphabet. They make the character in the sand with a stick and then shuffle the box and make another.

There are many "little mothers" in Corea, for babies are mostly given over to older girls to be cared for. A bread sash or strip of cloth is tied around the waist of the little mother, and the baby is tucked snugly within its folds. It keeps its place during all the games of the children and seems as contented and happy as possible.

THE VANISHING FORESTS

Timber Resources of the United States Showing Signs of Exhaustion.

Commissioners and commissions have been appointed in various parts of the United States to make reports on what should and could be done to stem the destruction and prepare for the restoration of timber supplies, but wherever actually a response to the recommendations was secured the means employed were too feeble to prevent the former and too inefficient to secure adequate results in the latter direction. For instance, the latest State to move in the matter of taking care of its important timber interest, Alabama (whose annual lumber output is valued at $5,000,000), appropriates $500 for carrying out the provisions of the act providing a commission with various duties. The great State of Minnesota whose forest products in one year approach in value $48,000,000, devotes less than $12,000 to its forest interests, and $20,000 on prairie planting. The State of Maine, which still cuts around one billion feet, and is indebted to the forest for a product of $18,000,000 in value, keeps within the modest sum of $25,000 to pay for the protection against fire and the support of a commissioner. Examples of such picayune and inadequate measures are found in many other States.

The only two States which have not hesitated to spend money for forestry purposes are New York and Pennsylvania. The former, in purchasing forest lands for a preserve, which now comprises about one and a half million acres only, has expended millions of dollars, and is annually appropriating money for further purchase, besides liberal provision for its Forest, Fish and Game Commission. But, alas! the policy of forest reservation which had begun on economic grounds, has degenerated into providing a pleasure ground—a park—for the wealthy, and there is little consideration to economic forest questions given by the State or the Commission.

Pennsylvania is the only State which can be said to have started on a true policy of recuperation, buying up waste lands, protecting them, and in a small way beginning to reforest them, an appropriation of about $500,000 being at the disposal of the Forest Commission.

NEED OF THE HOUR.

Major George Washington Stephens Talks on Canadian Transportation.

Not long ago Major Stephens, the President of the Harbor Commissioners of Montreal, delivered a masterly address before the Empire Club of Toronto on the development of the St Lawrence route. "In the possession of this great national asset, the St. Lawrence waterway," said Mr. Stephens, "into which has gone the genius, the courage and the money of the Canadian people, Canada unquestionably has within her midst the cheapest and most efficient national trade route on the Continent.

"The St. Lawrence River to-day carries to and from the port of Montreal one-third of the country's national trade.

"In this enterprise there are just 6,000,000 Canadian shareholders, all equally interested.

"At her present rate of increase Canada will, during the twentieth century, contribute to the Empire a population exceeding that now occupying the British Isles, and will produce from one-quarter of her available areas in the West more wheat than now comprises the total wheat crop of the United States.

"There are two methods of providing for the handling of this new business, not to mention the concurrent industrial production of the country: First, by increasing transportation and terminal facilities on Canadian soil; second, by allowing business to be taken care of by transportation routes and sea terminals not within the limits of this Dominion.

"I like to regard this system extending from Fort William to the sea, a distance of 2,500 miles, as a great national undertaking, into which are going the money, the genius and the patriotism of the Canadian people, and out of which are coming year by year privileges and powers to the transportation interests of Canada, instead of diversity of control and authority."

Unappreciated Sympathy.

The Soda-fountain clerk was engaged in vigorously shaking up a chocolate and egg, says a writer in the Bellman, when suddenly the glass broke in his hands, and the ensuing deluge made him look like a human eclair. The horrified customer leaned over the counter and tried to be sympathetic. Not knowing exactly what to say, he finally burted out consolingly:

"Oh-er-too bad! Did the glass break?"

Dripping from head to foot, the clerk looked at him witheringly.

"Did the glass break?" he repeated. "Did the glass break?" And then with freezing sarcasm, "Oh, no, not at all! You just happened to stop in while I was taking my morning shower."

Rossini's Reception of Wagner.

Wagner and some companions called upon Rossini. Hearing them on the stairs, Rossini hastily placed the score of "Lohengrin" on the piano, and when the German composer entered he said, pointing to it, "You see, illustrious maestro, I am studying your work."

"But the score is upside down!" exclaimed the other, seeing how the book was placed.

"Yes," returned Rossini calmly; "the fact is I have had it the right way up for some time, but could make nothing of it," and then all present began to laugh, including Wagner himself.

FALSE IDEALS

"Grabail Too Often the Height of Ambition.

False ideals of happiness haunt the ways of men and lead them on to danger and destruction through the siren song of fantasy. One markes his of wealth. He has enough now for all the purposes of refined living; but he wants that extra that margin, by which enough may be broadened out into excess, and refinement may be made to include frantic luxury and insolent ostentation. "When I have so much, I shall be content," he says to himself. But he is never content. If he gets a hundred thousand pounds, he wants two; if two, three: and so on till he covets a million which then, when compassed, shall positively be the term and boundary of his desires. But the million spreads out and rolls on, as the hundred thousand had done before it.

Rousing Response.

At a Toronto theatre not long since the curtain rose on an empty stage in the second act of a play, and by and by a meek-looking young man with a dust-coat slung over his arm came on and loudly called, "Uncle! uncle!"

According to the book of the play he should have received no answer to his call, and after an appropriate pause he should have gone on with the monologue. But a graceless "god" in the gallery took upon himself to answer the actor.

"All right, I'm coming in a moment; how much do you want on it?" he shouted.

The effect on the audience may be imagined.

Japan has Cheapest Postal Service.

Japan has the cheapest postal service in the world. Letters are carried all over the empire for two sen, about seven-tenths of a cent. This is the more remarkable when we consider the difficulties of transportation over a mountainous and irregular country that has only about a hundred miles of railway, while only a few of the chief roads can be used for wagons and the steamships connect only a small number of stations on the coast.

We Eat Too Much.

To rise from the table able to eat a little more is a proverbially good rule for every one. There is nothing more idiotic than forcing down a few mouthfuls because they happen to remain on one's plate after hunger is satisfied, and because they may be "wasted" if left. It is the most serious waste to overtax the stomach with even half an ounc more than it can take care of.

Summer Evening Wraps.

Evening wraps are unusually novel this season, the great vogue for sheer materials finding a happy expression in these more elaborate garments. Marquisette wraps are the latest novelties, and while exorbitant prices are asked for them in the smart shops, there is no reason why any woman could not fashion one herself, or at least plan one and have it made at very little expense.

Black, white, Alice blue, gray, gold color and king's blue are good colors for these little wraps. Many of them are cut on extremely simple lines, with the kimono sleeve and plain back and front. There seems to be no attempt to fasten these garments. They are cut so that the front just meet, and are apparently designed to hang free.

Small Heads Dont Mean Small Brains.

The fact that you take a small size in hats does not necessarily mean that you have a small brain. A man with a small head may be much cleverer than a man with a large one. Moreover, the size of the brain is not everything, since, if undeveloped, it is no more likely to produce anything of value than land which is not fertile. There are people with large heads who display so little intelligence that one almost expects to hear their brains rattle when they move, like a shrivelled kernel in a nut.

Too Much Education a Mistake.

It is a mistake to suppose that a good general education will secure success in life. No wise man accepts a general invitation to dinner: it involves no particulars. Only a particular education is of practical use. Let the boys be educated for something particular — lawyers, doctors, clergymen, printers, merchants, tradesmen — only something definite. No hands are so often idle as those which are supposed by the owners — and by no one else — fit to "turn to anything."

Expecting Much.

The sphere of our affections is one in which we are very apt to expect too much from others, and thus to cause bitterness and often, estrangement. Where we love we naturally crave to be loved; but this craving if not regulated by reason, is very likely to blossom into a selfish oppression.

A Sewing Machine Wrinkle

A hand sewing-machine is often very apt to slip about on the table. To obviate this, all that is necessary is to place a couple of the old-fashioned gelatine lozenges, slightly moistened, under each corner of the base board. In a few seconds the machine will be found to adhere to the table and equal a stand-machine in firmness.

Humility Safest Virtue.

Among all the virtues, humility, the lowest, is pre-eminent. It is the safest, because it is always an anchor; and that man may be truly said to live the most content in his calling who strives to live within the compass of it.

Field Day of Sports.

Preparations are being made for a big field day of sports on Labor Day, under the auspices of the Trades and Labor Council. No pains or expense will be spared in making the event a success in every way. Further particulars later.

Bridge Again Closed.

On account of yesterday's wind storm, the floating bridge over Pigeon Creek, has again been closed for repairs. The bridge is said to be in rather bad shape, and several days may elapse before it is open for traffic.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. ments — among others, a coat of paint. On the strength of these improvements his assessment is raised $200 this year. Can you tell me where the justice is in this proceeding? The improvements that have been made add greatly to the general appearance of the city. Can we expect him to make any further improvements when treated thus to an increased assessment?

Assessment Raised—Is It Just?

Another case: This same party had a vacant lot. It was assessed at $350. He built a house on it. The assessor has come along and increased the assessment by $1650. What do you think about that?

The assessor only did his duty! Certainly. On the other hand are we ratepayers of Peterborough doing ours? Shall we continue to allow this iniquitous system to continue?

Vacant Lots vs. Houses.

Is it better for the town that this lot in question should be built upon? Or, would it be better for everyone if it had been kept vacant? Can we expect people to invest money in new houses simply to be taxed heavily, and forthwith, for the improvement and benefit they contribute to the city?

The Remedy.

For all this evil which we are heaping upon ourselves, there is a remedy It is to place all taxes on the land—upon the land values. Then the man who builds will pay taxes, no more, no less, than his neighbor who owns that vacant lot beside his new building and which lot is being increased in value by that new building to which the owner of that vacant lot has contributed not the slightest.

How It Works Elsewhere.

Two of the most progressive and rapid growing cities in Canada today have done away with this old time injustice of taxing improvements—of "fining" industry. Those cities are Vancouver and Edmonton. All of the taxes in those cities are collected from the land values only. The holder of a vacant lot pays the same taxes as his neighbor beside that lot on whose lot a house or other structure has been erected. What is the result? (Your readers may ask). It results in a great number of houses being built and very few vacant lots being held for very long for speculative purposes. It means rapid growth and good times for everybody in these cities.

Let Us Have It In Peterborough.

Our ratepayers and City Fathers will do well to consider this matter and adopt the idea of land values taxation at the earliest possible date. We in Peterborough do not want to lag behind. We want our town to grow and to be the best city in Canada—which it can be by the introduction of a few reforms amongst which, the greatest and most needed is, that of this fair and just means of taxation to replace the barbarous and town-killing method now in vogue within our city.

New Life For Peterborough.

Adopt the idea of taxation of land values only, leave improvements free in Peterborough and we will enter on a new lease of life and a period of unprecedented prosperity. Vacant lots like the one at the corner of Charlotte and George, will be built up much to our mutual advantage. Owners of such lots will soon tire of paying what will be their rightful tax, upon vacant property—they will build and progress, or give way to others who will. Our citizens can then build houses and they can improve their old houses without being made to pay taxes for another.

Let us encourage—not discourage—industry within our bounds; let us bring about this much needed reformation in our system of taxation—and then watch us grow! Others will then come to grow with us.

PRODUCTION OF CLOVER SEED.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—Reports from the Ontario red clover districts show that the prospects for seed are extremely poor. Even in the Lake Erie counties, the dry weather during May and June shortened the hay and pasture to such an extent that much of the second growth will be used for fodder. Where the first growth blossomed well considerable seed is forming, which is not usual. However, the clover midge is taking some toll.

I believe the farmers of the Ottawa Valley and St. Lawrence counties would find it profitable to use their second growth clover for the production of seed. If it blooms well, the harvest should be good; if not, it can be turned into hay or pasture. It is easy to harvest clover seed. Mow it when the straw is tough from dew or rain. After it has lain two or three days in the swath to cure, rake it up into good-sized bundles. It should be damp with dew when raked in order to prevent shelling. It may be housed in a week or ten days. In December an ordinary threshing machine will thresh it satisfactorily. Put a hardwood board behind the cylinder attached to the machine on the left. Bring it to within a foot or so of the other end of the cylinder, then close up the front of the cylinder on the opposite end. This drifts the straw through the whole length of the cylinder. If plenty of concave surface is used and the first row of teeth removed to create a draft, the seed will be very well hulled by going through once.

If a Winchester Springs farmer can grow 5½ bushels per acre on 4½ acres, realising over $55 per acre for seed besides the value of the first cut of hay, it will surely pay others to consider this crop.

Strange Fish in Puget Sound.

From the Newark News.

Fishermen on the Puget Sound believe that there is a general unrest of fish of the Pacific Ocean, probably caused by earthquakes shaking up and changing the topography of the floor of the seas, thereby compelling the finny creatures to migrate to localities heretofore free of the strangers.

Species of fish that are known to abound only in the water off Western Mexico, southern California, and in the vicinity of the Hawaiian Islands have been caught in the nets of Puget Sound fishermen in the past four days. This strange visitation has aroused wide comment in fish dealers' circles, many arguing that changing ocean currents are changing the temperature of the North Pacific, enabling fish from the sunny zone to live further north. Others believe that the earthquakes that recently shook California has caused the fish to migrate because of fright.

Rare sunfish and bar racouta usually found only in the south seas were caught in nets this week. Fish with bright colors and queers shapes have been exhibited at all fish dealers. A sunfish wider than it is long, with a peculiar blunt nose, was caught near Seattle. Southern flying fish and species of fish-eating shark were brought up by salmon nets near Anacortes. A fish with a truncated tail and possessing deep blue colors was caught near Orcas Island. All these fish are strangers to Puget Sound, and must have come from the southern seas.

A man has been nearly poisoned by drinking fly poison. He got it out of a bluebottle.

ELECTIONS WILL TAKE PLACE ABOUT OCT. 2

DISSOLUTION OF THE PRESENT PARLIAMENT IS LOOKED FOR NEXT WEEK.

Some Members Go Home—They Will Be Recalled, However in Good Time for the Closing Fireworks.

Ottawa, July 27.—Dissolution of the present Parliament of Canada is looked for at the end of next week and polling will likely occur on Monday, October 2nd, but with a possibility of it being slightly earlier.

This is the prevailing opinion today in circles close to the Government, and they are in a position to know what is impending. The Opposition's course is clear and determined, but when it comes to dissolving Parliament and fixing the date of the elections the Government alone has the say. The end, in all probability, would have come this week but for the fact of the Oliver committee meeting being fixed for next Tuesday and the guarantee given by one of its members that the House proceedings would not terminate meanwhile.

SOME MEMBERS LEAVING.

It is significant that already as many members as can be spared from both sides are leaving for home to get ready for an election, though they are likely to return for prorogation. Last night's vote on the dredging case was by agreement taken earlier than had been expected because of the wish of members to leave by the night trains.

The course of events previously forecasted is being carried out. The sole programme of the Government is reciprocity. On the daily motion to go into committee, the opposition intends to head it off with other matters and when these are disposed of and the subject itself is reached, there are some days needed to do the printing. While prepared to accept the inevitable, there are already complaints by Liberal members that dissolution should have occurred last spring and the elections brought on in May. It is believed that that course recommended by many followers of the Government was favorably viewed by the Prime Minister, but the consent of his colleagues was not obtainable. Moreover, it was uncertain then as to what the United States Senate would do.

PARENTS GET TEN YEARS EACH

For Brutally Treating Their Little Daughter for Not Doing Impossible Work.

Montreal, July 27.—Cheers and enthusiastic hand clapping greeted the words of Judge Choquet this morning in the Sessions Court when he pronounced sentence on Mr. and Mrs. Dasautels for cruelty to their little daughter, Blanche Hamelin, sending them to the penitentiary for ten years each. The girl was nearly beaten to death by the parents because she could not do the impossible amount of work they tried to impose upon her. For several weeks she has hovered between life and death, and to-day she was still in such a weak condition that she nearly fainted in the witness box, and the case had to be stopped while she was revived.

FALSE HUNGER.

A Symptom of Stomach Trouble Corrected by Good Food.

There is, with some forms of stomach trouble, an abnormal craving for food which is frequently mistaken for a "good appetite." A lady teacher writes from Carthage, Mo., to explain how with good food she dealt with this sort of hurtful hunger.

"I have taught school for fifteen years, and up to nine years ago had good, average health. Nine years ago, however, my health began to fail, and continued to grow worse steadily, in spite of doctor's prescriptions, and everything I could do. During all this time my appetite continued good, only the more I ate the more I wanted to eat—I was always hungry.

"The first symptoms of my breakdown were a distressing nervousness and a lost of flesh. The nervousness grew so bad that finally it amounted to actual prostration. Then came stomach troubles, which were very painful, constipation which brought on piles, dyspepsia and severe nervous headaches.

"The doctors seemed powerless to help me, said I was overworked, and at last urged me to give up teaching if I wished to save my life.

"But this I could not do. I kept on at it as well as I could, each day growing more wretched, my will-power alone keeping me up, till at last a good angel suggested that I try a diet of Grape-Nuts food, and from that day to this I have found it delicious always appetizing and satisfying.

"I owe my restoration to health to Grape-Nuts. My weight has returned and for more than two years I have been free from the nervousness, constipation, piles, headaches, and all the ailments that used to punish me so, and have been able to work freely and easily." Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ontario.

Aged Inmate of House of Refuge Had Runaway Habit.

Lindsay, July 27.—On July 12 an aged inmate of the House of Refuge named Miller decamped and was located by Constable Thornbury, yesterday near Omemee. While being brought home in the buggy Miller suddenly expired. Coroner Blanchard was summoned, but decided an inquest was unnecessary, death having resulted from natural causes. Miller frequently ran away from the home.

COUNTY POLICE COURT.

Man Who Flourished Revolver Faces Magistrate Edmison.

A man named Silas Nicholls was arrested at Bobcaygeon on Wednesday on a charge of flourishing a revolver in the face of another man of that place. He was arraigned before Magistrate Edmison but pleaded not guilty, and was remanded until next Tuesday, when he will again appear.

Edward Fountain has laid a charge against William Whitefield of non-payment of a balance of wages due him. A similar charge has been laid against George McGowan. The two cases were compromised and settled out of court.

WILL BUILD FINE DOCK.

Mr. George W. Hatton's Lake Front Property Expropriated.

The Hon. J. R. Stratton, as before noted in The Times, succeeded in securing a substantial appropriation for the construction of a dock in this city. The site selected is immediately below the Matthews property on George street, and in order to arrive at a price, the land and water front was expropriated by the government.

His Honor Judge Huycke, Mr. Wm. Langford and Mr. Joseph McClelland have been appointed to take evidence as to the value of the property. As soon as the evidence is taken the committee will report to the Government what they consider a fair price, after which it is expected the work of building the dock will proceed. It is said that the new dock will be a very fine one, and will cost about $75,000.

MOROCCAN QUESTION IS STILL THE SUBJECT OF REAL ANXIETY

EVENTS WHICH LED UP TO THE PRESENT EUROPEAN CRISIS.

Following are the points leading to the European crisis in the Moroccan situation, which is a battle of commercial interests of four nations—France, Germany, Spain, England.

Spain owns a narrow fringe along the Moroccan coast. France nominally, is mistress of all the territory east and south of Morocco. The keenest rivalry exists in extending their respective "spheres of influence."

1903—France loaned the Sultan 7,500,000 francs.

1904—French Government arranges for a French syndicate to make a big loan to Morocco. Spain and France signed the agreement not to extend the "spheres of influence."

1905—Sultan rejected the French demand for permission to establish more military posts, and for French officers to command the Sultan's troops.

1905—Germany demand that the "open door" be maintained in Morocco. Germany extended her commercial influence, and offered a big loan. This was resented by Spain and France. The crisis was very acute then, and the Algeciras convention of the powers was called. Emperor William strung an army along the Rhine, presumably engaged in manoeuvres. Insisted upon German attitude, and forced retirement of M. Delcasse, the French Foreign Minister. The agreement was signed.

1911—Spain and France extend their military lines. The Moors resent the aggression and the tribes revolt. Germany sends the gunboat Panther to Agadir to "protect her interests." France resents. England backs up France.

London, July 27.—The Moroccan question is still the subject of real anxiety and the attention of the British Cabinet is turned to it almost to the exclusion for the moment of home politics.

The promised statement of Sir Edward Grey in the House of Commons this evening is awaited with the keenest interest, for the Secretary of Foreign Affairs is expected to appeal for the united support of all parties in the defence of what they concede to be Great Britain's best interests.

ANOTHER CONFERENCE.

Brussels, July 27.—La Chronique says that it hears that Emperor William favors another international conference to settle the Moroccan embroglio.

BRITAIN NOT A PARTY.

London, July 27.—Mr. Asquith said in the House of Commons to day that Great Britain was not a party to the conversations proceeding between France and Germany, but earnestly and sincerely desired to see them result in an arrangement honorable and satisfactory to all parties. He appealed to them not to seek to enter into the details of the situation at the present moment. The Premier said that the Government thought it right from the beginning to make it clear that failing a satisfactory settlement, Great Britain must become an active party to a discussion of the situation.

BRISTLES WITH DIFFICULTIES.

A too close analysis now of the causes of the present incident might provoke recriminations, which, the Minister said, it was desirable to avoid.

The question of Morocco bristled with difficulties. The government claimed no predominant position there, and any statement that they had prejudiced the negotiations between France and Germany was a mischievous invention.

It would, however, he said, be a grave mistake to let the situation drift until an assertion of British interests might cause surprise and resentment.

Germany's interests in Morocco and her motive for endeavoring to make good her footing there are both strategic and economic. Agadir is undoubtedly of considerable importance as a naval base and coaling station, and its establishment as such would be a formidable menace, such as Great Britain cannot be expected to acquiesce in, to British interests. It would permit Germany in the event of a war with Great Britain to block the British trade routes to India, South Africa, and America. Moreover in her recent action, Germany has been prompted at least as much by an economic as by a strategic motive. Enormous tracts of the American, Asian, and African continents speak English, Spanish, French, or Russian, or are subject to those Governments, while even the small kingdom of Holland and the weak republic of Portugal have considerable colonial possessions. Not so with the Germans. Only in recent years have they been able to bring under their sceptre a few fragments of small extent and value. Consequently, Morocco with its Atlantic ports, and its rich hinterland, and particularly as affording an out let permitting Germany to escape from being permanently enclosed by its continental frontiers, is worth a great deal to that empire. Had it not been for the entente cordiale between England and France—Which alone made French policy in Morocco effective—Germany would never have permitted without war the latter country to assert her political supremacy in Morocco, and even with British backing war was only narrowly averted. Germany may even yet consider that Morocco is worth a European war. The German idea that her action was necessary to protect her interests is but a flimsy pretext to cloak a policy of aggrandisement. And the argument that Spain, with her landing at Larache a few months ago, was the cause of German intervention, although specious is not, in all probability, of one genuine validity, for there is only too good reason to believe that collusion exists between those two powers on the matter. The tension of the situation must in the next few days either relax or reach a breaking point, but that the situation is at present very strained there can be no doubt, and it is further complicated by the fact that the interests of France, to which country Great Britain is bound by treaty, are not identical with those of Great Britain and Morocco, and consequently although an agreement might be arrived at between Germany and France such an agreement might not comply with the requirements of the British Government, without whose sanction France could not formally enter into it.

JUNK DEALERS IN TROUBLE.

Complaints Charging Them With Keeping Unsanitary Premises.

Abram Lowes, junk dealer on Bethune street, appeared at the Police Court yesterday on a charge of keeping a place that is a nuisance. Dr. Amy's, whose property adjoins Lowes gave strong testimony against the defendant, which was corroborated by Dr. McPherson, Medical Health Officer and Chief Thompson.

Mr. G. N. Gordon, who appeared for the defence, asked for a remand, so the case was accordingly remanded for two weeks, when action will be taken against the other junk men also.

The Magistrate thought that there had been just cause for complaint, and that it had not been made any too soon.

OUR GOOD (?) CITY ROADS.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I notice that City Solicitor Hall says that the roads in this city are better than the average roads. Of course, I think they are better than places like Lindsay, Oshawa and localities where clayey mud exists. Peterborough should, by reason of its gravel formation, have the best of roads. Engineer Hay or no other man could create good roads in Peterborough under present conditions. The streets are being constantly dug up, and big, high ridges left. If the Council would insist on having those who dig up the streets, refill the excavations and pound the fill ng down so that it would not present the appearance of a newly-made grave, there might be some hope that good, level roads might be secured.

MR. TED CAVANAGH'S LICENSE.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I have been informed that when Mr. Ted Cavanaugh's hotel license was cut off by the Commissioners that he had several months to run before the date for which the license was paid for expired. That he asked for a refund, but the Board refused to grant him anything. I heard the matter discussed by a number of men at a certain hotel, and the consensus of opinion was that Mr. Cavanaugh was badly treated. Surely Mr. Cavanaugh is entitled to have that portion of his money for which the license had to run after it was cancelled, returned to him. Don't you think so, Mr. Editor?

Fair Play.

Reply—The Times interviewed Dr. Morrison, Chairman of the Board of License Commissioners, in regard to the above, and was informed that instead of withholding the money referred to, the Board asked that it be refunded to Mr. Cavanaugh by the License Department in Toronto. This was flatly refused, on the ground that it was contrary to law, and to do so would open the door for others in a similar position.—Ed. Times.

IS GERMANY ONLY BLUFFING?

Paris, July 27.—The Matin to-day devotes an article to what it styles "The German Bluff," claiming that no one in Germany would think of daring the risk of a struggle against the triple entente. The paper adds: "The Agadir incident demonstrates that Emperor William's efforts to obtain better relations with Great Britain were pure hypocrisy. The real aim was to separate England and France."

SEXSMITH AND THOMPSON AGAIN CHOSEN CANDIDATES

One of the largest and most representative conventions ever held in Norwood took place yesterday, when the Conservatives met to select candidates for the House of Commons and the Ontario Legislature. There were 138 delegates present, every district in the riding being represented. The usual complimentary and patriotic resolutions were adopted without debate after which the following nominations were made for the House of Commons:

J. A. Sexsmith, M.P.
Mr. Welkins, Havelock.

Mr. Sexsmith was chosen on the first ballot and acknowledged the honor done him in a few words of thanks.

Nominations for the Ontario Legislature were next in order, the following gentlemen being proposed:

Jas. Thompson, M.P.P.
Joshua Smithson,
David Johnston,
S. Joyce,
Mr. Andrews.

Mr. Thompson was chosen on the first ballot, securing about 90 out of 138 votes.

KING GEORGE V. MAY COME TO CANADA

When H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught becomes Governor-General of Canada it is likely that his nephew, King George V., will come over here to visit him. A Canadian Associated Press cable this morning credits The Birmingham Daily Post with a statement that His Majesty may come to Canada during the Connaught Governorship. The cable says it will be remembered that the Canadian Associated Press was authorized to deny rumors that the King would visit here after the Durbar in India. It says further that the Prince of Wales and his young brother, Albert, will certainly come while following his father's footsteps making a tour of the Empire, and it intimates that they will come to Canada first.

GOVERNMENT CANNOT ACT IN THE "NE TEMERE"

Ottawa, July 27.—Sir Allan Aylesworth has given the view of the justice department on the mixed marriage problem. George Taylor of Leeds asked the following questions.

"Has the Parliament of Canada the power to legalize or validate any or every marriage solemnized in Canada?

"Does the Government consider it desirable that steps should be taken to prevent cruelty and injustice by reason of marriages contracted in good faith before a duly ordained clergyman, but afterwards declared invalid?

"Does the Government propose to take any steps for this purpose or in this connection?"

AYLESWORTH'S ANSWERS.

The answer given by the Minister of Justice to the first part of the question is:

"The question calls for an opinion upon a matter of law, in regard to which the Government would desire to be advised if necessity arose."

NO POWER TO ACT.

To the second and third parts Sir Allan said:

"The Government is of opinion that it has no power or jurisdiction in the premises."

VERDICT OF MANSLAUGHTER

Charlottetown, P.E.I., July 27.—The case against William Molyneaux, charged with the murder of his wife, was concluded before the Supreme Court at Georgetown yesterday when the jury came in for the third time and rendered a verdict of manslaughter with a strong recommendation for mercy. The jury disagreed on the two previous occasions.

His counsel has applied for a new trial. Molyneaux's wife's body was found hanging in a closet at his home in Milltown Cross on the night of May 5th last. Marks found about the neck led to the suspicion that Molyneaux had strangled her in a quarrel and then hung the body in the closet. The prisoner on the stand declared positively that he did not cause the death of his wife, and stated that she was subject to strange spells every few weeks, and before he left home that evening she said she would soon be with a neighbor who had died a few days previously.

Vancouver's Great Bridge Project.

Characteristic with the great development of the city of Vancouver and the surrounding municipalities is the new bridge projected over the second narrows of Burrard Inlet which will connect the cities of Vancouver and North Vancouver, much the same as New York is connected with Brooklyn. The Second Narrows Bridge Project is now well under way, the necessary assistance having been secured from the Dominion and Provincial governments as well as from the cities and municipalities benefitted by the bridge to assure the financing of its construction and the engineers are completing the plans prior to soliciting bids for the actual construction. It is stated that the work on the structure will be started well within the present year. The importance of this bridge to the city of Vancouver and the great effect it will have on the realty values of the North Vancouver side will be understood when it is remembered that the site of the city of Vancouver proper is decidedly limited in area lying as it does between the waters of English Bay, Burrard Inlet and False Creek. The North shore presents one of the finest city sites on the Pacific Coast, with a large water frontage back from which the ground slopes so as to afford admirable drainage as well as easy street grades.

Prepare for Lumbago!

If You Have "Nerviline" Handy One Rubbing Will Cure the Pain.

THOUSANDS USE "NERVILINE."

The "strike" of lumbago is like a bolt of lightning—you never know when it is coming or where it is going to strike. Probably the one certain thing about lumbago is the fact that it can be cured by Nerviline—the only liniment that penetrates deeply enough to reach the congested chords and muscles.

LETTER NO. 4875. "Years ago I strained my back and suffered considerably with weakness over the spine," writes Darius P. Millns, a well-known farmer residing near Kingsville. "Then lumbago attacked the weak spot, and for days at a time I would have to lie up in bed, unable to move or turn. Liniments, poultices and hot applications failed to bring the desired relief, and I was in despair of ever getting really well again. I at last decided to test 'Nerviline.' I got five bottles from the drug store and had it rubbed on three times a day. The stiffness and pain left my back quickly, and by continuing Nerviline I was completely cured of Lumbago."

This is similar testimony to that of nearly five thousand Canadians who have written unstinted words of praise to the manufacturers of Nerviline. For the cure of lumbago, sciatica, neuralgia and rheumatism there is no liniment with one-fifth the pain relieving power of Nerviline.

Refuse any substitute. Large 25c. bottles of Nerviline, or five for $1.00 at all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

Rung himself to Death.

Extraordinary circumstances attended the suicide of a church sexton at the Hungarian village of Koros-Bajany recently. The inhabitants were alarmed by the violent ringing of their church bell, and thought a fire must have broken out. As, however, none could be seen, some of them went to the belfry to discover the reason, and there found the body of the sexton dangling from the bell-rope, with which he had hanged himself.

The Sixth Sense!

It is frequently the case that we meet people who antogonize us the moment a glance or a handshake is exchanged, while our inner consciousness offers no explanation for that reasonless antipathy. On the other hand Fate brings us in contact with personalities which at once appeal to a sixth sense which is indefinable, but which seems to comprehend more than the combined educated and trained sensibilities. What is that sixth sense?

A Record in Book Publishing.

The first (Canadian) edition of 5000 copies of Dr Stephen Leacock's latest book "Nonsense Novels" which was published on June 12th, by Publishers Press was completely sold out in the record time of three days, and a second edition is almost sold.

John Lane, the great English publisher recently said that Canadians were the biggest buyers in the world of new books.

New York, July 25.—There was a stampede in Flatbush court when James Crawford, an orderly at Kings County Hospital, had announced that he had come from the cholera ward. It was cholera morbus.

His Wife's Tact.

"I'll give my wife credit for not causing me to be swamped by big hat bills of hers," declared the husband boastfully, in the presence of his wife's lady guests. "All the hat bills I get are small ones, which, however, come in very, very often, although I haven't observed a new bonnet on her since Easter."

"I'm so glad you're pleased," rejoined his wife, coming unexpectedly into the room. "The fact is, you're still paying for that last Easter bonnet, the bill for which the milliner is sending to you in installments."

The Eucalypus of Australia.

While the eucalyptus, or Australian blue gum tree, destroys malaria and keeps off mosquitoes in marshy soil, it has no such effect on dry soil. The difference is ascribed by a German scientist to the fact that the tree is constructed to act as an evaporating machine, and only does its work in marshy land. A feature of the tree is its daptability to different climates, it being now grow in almost every civilised country where frosts do not occur.

Don't Talk Too Much.

When we are in the company of sensible men, we ought to be doubly cautious of talking too much, lest we lose two good things — their good opinion and our own improvement; for what we have to say we know, but what they have to say we know not.

New York, July 26.—Peter Paulson lived eleven days at St. Vincent hospital with a piece of gauze stuffed in his heart to stop the leakage of blood resulting from a stab wound. He was recovering when blood poisoning developed.

AN ORIENTAL REBUKE

Must Have a Waterfall to Wash Out a Graft Proposal.

Inscriptions upon Oriental ware, vases, jars, fans, and textiles are often examined with an amused but baffled curiosity. What can they mean? It is certain that they mean something. Even on the cheap halfpenny fans there are curious and grotesque faces which could not have been painted for their beauty. Only the initiated can read their story, and even among the Japanese themselves probably these specimens of pictorial rebus require classical knowledge for their interpretation. History and fable and myth must be understood and a Japanese who can understand must be equal in imagination to a commentator of Shakspeare. A recent traveller in Japan gives the story of one of these riddles. It is as good as any Egyptian hieroglyph. A Japanese of historic renown is represented as washing his ear in a water-fall. No basin would answer and no placid stream suffice. He must have the full force of a cataract to cleanse the ear into which an improper proposal had been spoken. At a pool below the fall a cow is drinking, but her owner, standing near her, glowers with anger at the ear-washer who is contaminating the stream. If individually people took to cleansing their ears from scandal and other unpleasant inpourings, no "waterworks" would suffice. Lady Macbeth's query would be in order—"Will all great Neptune's ocean do it?"

ORIGINALITY IN THE INDIVIDUAL

Competition Too Keen for Ordinary Business Methods.

Competition gets keener every year, and this means that the difficulty of the customer in selecting a firm to do business with becomes proportionately greater. His custom in the end must eventually go to the house which, by originality and difference from its competitors, simplifies this selection for him. The rapid and brilliant success of many of our great businesses to-day may all be attributed to this originality as the first cause.

If this is true with regard to a business it is equally so with regard to the individual. The man who differs from his fellows is the man who is noticed and, if his originality is backed by other good qualities, cannot but come to the front. Merit usually tells, of course, but my point is that merit is best recognised when it is advertised, as it were, by originality.

WHAT IS LIFE?

The Pursuit of the Good the Proper Solution.

You will find existence full of sweet savour if you do not expect from it what it cannot give. When people complain of life, it is almost always because they have asked impossible things from it. Upon this believe wholly the teaching of the wisest. There is but one foundation for a happy life — the pursuit of the good and of the true. You will be well pleased with existence if you make fair use of it, and if you abide well pleased with yourselves. A noble sentence is that which says, "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you."

FARM AND FIELD

STOCK RAISING IN SIBERIA.

The Mongols Make the Best of Land Horse in Siberia.

The most important occupation in the Province of Transbaikal is stock raising. Cattle, horses and sheep predominate, altho a limited number of camels, deer, goats and swine are raised. The horses average between twelve and thirteen hands high, and can draw a load of over one thousand pounds, and if driven in a troika (three horses harnessed abreast) they can cover thirty to forty miles a day. Journeys of thousands of miles at an average rate of forty miles a day have been made by riding these animals. The horses are kept in the open throughout the year, and in winter find their food under the snow. Some improvement has been made in breeding these horses, and only recently Arab blood was introduced.

The cattle are of Mongolian origin and are inferior and very small. They live in the same manner as the horses, and it is remarkable how they can withstand the severe climate and lack of food. Experiments have been made to improve the stock, but the results are noticed only in the first and second generation, the probable reason being that they are given so little care. These cattle produce little milk or beef. The camel is also of Mongolian origin, and the sheep are a little over two feet in height, the tail varying in weight from two to ten pounds. The wool is coarse, thick and of medium length.

BEE HIVES.

Successful Farmers Have Their Section Boxes Ready for Swarming.

The wideawake farmer does not wait until his bees have swarmed and are clustered on a treetop before he thinks of preparing a hive for them. All preparatory work, such as making and painting hives, wiring brood frames and getting the section boxes ready for the anticipated honey crop, should be done at leisure times during winter and early spring, before the rush of other work takes place. How easy it will be to manage a dozen or more colonies of bees next summer if everything is set in readiness now. For instance, if a swarm issues it will only be the work of a few minutes to take a hive from the barn and hive the swarm into it. If a honey flow bursts forth suddenly, what satisfaction it will give you to know that you have on hand a few hundred section boxes ready to set on the hives at once. If this work is put off until summer time, it is more than probable it will not be done at all. When feeding the bees be careful and not spill any of the sweets about the apiary, for robbing is often started in this way.

WHY ARE THE LARGE INVESTORS ALL OVER CANADA AND THE UNITED STATES BUYING MONTREAL REAL ESTATE?

If Western land or speculative stocks were considered better,--is it reasonable to suppose that these careful financiers whose knowledge of Canadian conditions is beyond a doubt-would buy Montreal Real Estate ?

To the men of good judgment,--these questions do not require an answer.

YOU KNOW Montreal is the largest city in the Dominion.

YOU KNOW that the population is increasing yearly at the rate of about 50,000.

YOU KNOW these people have to have homes.

Taking the above facts into consideration, what do you consider, looking in the most conservative way possible, ANGUS PARK LOTS will be worth in four years' time ?

Taking the past advances in MONTREAL REAL ESTATE as an example, these lots will be worth over a hundred per cent. (100 per cent.) more in that time.

We have a limited number of lots situated on ANGUS PARK BOULEVARD, which we can offer you at to-day's low prices, and on terms that will not cripple your finances, and by the time your lots are fully paid for you will have saved not only the cost of the land but the increase in value, thereby making your investment many hundred per cent. (100 per cent.) better than a Savings Bank account and much safer.

Do not delay till this opportunity has escaped you, but call in and see us, or drop us a line and we will send you full particulars together with our application forms. The prices range from $100 per lot upwards and the terms 10 per cent. cash, and the balance 10 per cent. every three months without interest.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast ? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere ; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

Port Au Prince, Hayti, July 27.—The situation of the Government is desperate. With the exception of the capital the whole Republic is in revolt.

The departure of President Simon cannot be long delayed, and there is fear of trouble when he leaves. The army of revolutionists in the north is marching rapidly on this city. The United States Cruiser Des Moines arrived here to-day. The German cruiser Bremen is expected from Montreal.

Happiest Girl in Lincoln.

A Lincoln, Neb., girl writes, "I had been ailing for some time with chronic constipation and stomach trouble. I began taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and in three days I was able to be up and got better right along. I am the proudest girl in Lincoln to find such a good medicine." KING EDWARD VACUM CLEANER

You cannot clean carpets, rugs and furniture by beating. If you think you have, just try a KING EDWARD VACUUM CLEANER and you will find the article full of dust, which breeds disease.

The KING EDWARD HAND MACHINE has no equal as compared with other hand machines. It is lighter to operate and its suction is much stronger. Its suction is stronger than many of the power machines, and the dusting is done away with. On account of the short stroke one person can operate it on carpets and rugs equally as well as two, and it is about half the weight of other hand machines to carry up and down stairs or from one room to another. It is sold for less money than any of the hand machines. All machines are guaranteed.
